lb. let Oil] Mudge in his Notes after the LXX has, let not the Unguent of the Wicked perfume my Head, which he ſays would carry an eaſy Senſe. But is that ſufficient to make the Scripture ſo, when it is not? And how is it to be done! By turning רֹאשׁ into רָשָׁע and יָגִי into יָגִיחַ which is changing, tranſpoſing, and adding even the Letters: as if by the former one ſhould make fall to be fail, Iſa. xl. 30. 2 Pet. i. 10. flayed ſlayed, 2 Chron. xxxv. 11. fet ſet, 2 King xi. 4. hand land, Mic. v. 12. found ſound, Hoſ. xiv. 8. feller ſeller, Iſa. xiv. 8. fight ſight, Heb. x. 32. and on the contrary ſound found, Tit. i. 13. & ii. 2. favour favour, 2 Cor. ii. 15, 16. with light ſight, Prov. xv. 30. bands hands, Pſa. ii. 3. Act. xvi. 26. bear hear, Joh. xvi. 12. and contrarily hear bear, Ch. vi. 60. ſkirt ſhirt, Deut. xxvii. 20, hunt hurt, Ezek. xiii. 18, 20. breaches, breeches, Judg. v. 17. both doth, 2 Cor. ix. 10. liver river, Ezek. xxi. 21. fine find, Job. xxviii. 1, ſeaſon, reaſon, 1 Pet. i. 6. naughtineſs haughtineſs, 1 Sam. xvii. 28. corner cornet, Zech. x. 4. require requite, 2 Chron. xxiv. 22. Pſa. x. 13. pretending only that a Letter was altered a little, as it would then make ſome Senſe: ſo by other ſmall Variation hand head, Zeph. ii, 15. ſet ſent, Zech. viii. 10 ſent ſet, 1 Pet. ii. 14. bought brought, 2 Pet. ii. 1. ſtraits ſtairs, Lam. i. 3. led held, Jer. ii. 17. devoured: coals to be devouring coals, Pſa. xviii. 8. and Myſtery Miſtreſs, Rev. xvii. 2. it ſhall he take, be taken away, Lev. iii. 15. death dearth, 2 King. ii. 21. not fear what man can, Pſa. cxviii. 6. taught tare, Judg. xvi. 8. palaces places, Ezek. xix. 7. ſpirit of falſhood, Mic. ii. 11. Now our New Tranſlator coming off with no better Succeſs, notwithſtanding his Diligence in muſtering up thoſe few Places (tho' ready done for him by Bythner and Hare) to ſhew that the Seventy had the Scripture in Heb. different from us (for how elſe could they read it ſo, as he ſays?) What is to be candidly thought of it upon the Whole, as there are numerous more Places wherein the Verſion of the Seventy is ſo wide from the Heb. that it is not, indeed cannot, be owing to the Variation of ſimilar or ſingle Letters? Did the Seventy always tranſlate literally and exactly? How can it be with ſo many Additions, &c? If they differed much in ſome Places from the Heb. why might they not a little in others, without imagining the Original was changed in the latter? And this is the Point to be inſiſted on; anſwer it, him that can. Why all ſuch Pains and Pother about Letters and Points, to make Pretence that the Heb. is altered, when there are ſo many Words and Expreſſions, wherein the old Tranſlators vary from it, and from one another? And how, but by their wide tranſlating? So that the Original, notwithſtanding any Thing in thoſe Verſions, might be the ſame then as now; and is much ſafer to be depended upon, as an Original ſhould. Nay I have here pretty largely ſhewn, in various Inſtances, ſufficient to judge of the reſt, how the LXX made their Miſtakes from the preſent Reading; as was moſt ſuitable for this Book, where they are followed by the Vulg. &c. which was done by conſidering and ſearching the Heb. without Bythner, yet compared with him ſince, and ſome added. But I found it otherwiſe with the Targum, where the Variations from the Heb. are generally mere Paraphraſe or Additions, not Grammatical Faults; and therefore lay out of my Way, as not belonging to cloſe Tranſlation. The farther Service of theſe Lucubrations will appear by the 24th Critical Canon in Wetſten's Nov. Teſt. which has, Cognita origine variantis Lectionis, perit plerumque varians Lectio: the Riſe of a various Reading being known, it moſtly becomes none.

lb. the Head] the ſame Noun that follows with my.

lb. Adverſities] With the LXX pleaſant Things: it appears they ſtumbled at the Letter y which they took as v tho' to Byth. otherwiſe, from the Matter.

Ver. 6. Their Judges] The LXX here in a gloſſing Humour have, Their ſtrong ones are devoured cloſe by the Rocks, inferior to the Original.

Ver. 7. cuts, and cleaves] which L. de Dieu ſays the Chald. and Syr. underſtand better of ploughing, than cleaving Wood, and on might as well be rendered in; yet on Conſideration that the ſcattering of Bones rather reſembles the Pieces of Wood, I prefer the latter Meaning, but would not add it to the Text: the com. Met. has both,

As he that heweth wood, or he that diggeth up the ground.

The LXX have, As the Thickneſs of the Ground is broke aſunder; by which it is clear, tho' I ſuppoſe unnoticed before, that ו and paſſed with them for י in the fut. Tenſe, as poleah the Participle did for the Noun ſignifying a Piece, whence they ſtrained Thickneſs or Cruſt.

aſunder on the Ground, our Bones are ſcattered at the Grave's Mouth.

8. For my Eyes are to thee, O Sovereign Lord: I truſt in thee; do not let my Soul be made bare.

9. Preſerve me from the Power of the Gin which they have laid for me, and the Snares of the Workers of Iniquity.

10. Let the Wicked fall each into his own Nets, whilſt I withal paſs over.

PSALM CXLII.

AN inſtructing Poem of David, being a Prayer when he was in the Cave.

I cry to the Lord with my Voice, make ſupplication with my Voice to the Lord.

2. I pour out my Meditation before him, declare before him my Diſtreſs.

3. When my Spirit is overwhelmed in me, thou knoweſt my Path: they hiding a Gin for me, in that Way which I walk.

4. To look at the right Hand, and ſee, there is even none acknowledges me, Refuge is periſhed from me: none enquires for my Soul.

5. I cry to thee, O Lord: I ſay, Thou art my Shelter, my Portion in the Country of the Living.

6. Hearken to my Cry, for I am impoveriſhed exceedingly: deliver me from my Perſecutors, for they are too ſtrong for me.

7. Bring my Soul out of Priſon, to give thanks to thy Name: let the Righteous compaſs me, becauſe thou art bountiful to me.

PSALM CXLIII.

A PSALM of David.

O Lord, hear my Prayer, give ear to my Supplications: in thy Faithfulneſs anſwer me, in thy Righteouſneſs.

2. And do not enter into Judgment with thy Servant; ſince no one living will be juſtified before thee.

3. For the Enemy perſecutes my Soul, bruiſes my Life to the Earth, cauſes me to dwell in dark Places, like thoſe that have been dead long ago.

4. And my Spirit is overwhelmed in me, my Heart is within me deſolate.

5. I remember the Days of old Time, meditate on all thy Work, muſe on the Doing of thy Hands.

6. I ſpread forth my Hands to thee: my Soul is to thee as a faint Country. A Pauſe.

7. Anſwer me ſpeedily, O Lord; my Spirit fails: hide not thy Face from me, leſt I ſhould become like thoſe who go down to the Pit.

8. Cauſe me to hear thy Kindneſs in the Morning, for I truſt in thee: let me know that Way which I ſhould go, for to thee I lift up my Soul.

9. Deliver me from my Enemies, O Lord: I hide with thee.

10. Teach me to do thy Will, for thou art my God, whoſe Spirit is good: lead me into a Country of Uprightneſs.

11. For thy Name's ſake, O Lord, keep me alive: in thy Righteouſneſs bring my Soul out of Diſtreſs.

12. In thy Kindneſs too cut off my Enemies, and make all the Adverſaries of my Soul periſh: for I am thy Servant.

Ver. 10. his own Nets] Which Beza in Paraph. the Pronoun being ſing. calls the Nets of God, as if becauſe he had ordained them.

Ver. 1. Cave] of Adullam, 1 Sam. xxii. 1. as ſeems moſt ſuitable, and to diſtinguiſh the Place, Time, and Occaſion of this Pſalm, from thoſe of the 57th. Wither has a notable Prayer on it, applied to Jeſus.

Ib. cry] This and the following Verbs are of the future Tenſe in the Heb. and by Jun. and Trem. with Caſtal. rendered in the preſent, as that Heb. Tenſe denotes for Want of the preſent; beſides that it appears David was praying now, not telling he had prayed.

Ver. 5. Shelter] Shrunk to hope in the Pſalter.

Ver. 7. compaſs] Sept. will wait for, from the Chald.

Ib. becauſe] How unſuitable for thou ſhalt! And how looſely is this Particle turned by which thing if in the Pſalt.

Ver. 1. The Matter of this Pſalm ſhews it was compoſed before David's Deliverance out of his Troubles: the Gr. ſays when Abſalom purſued him; but as that is of no Authority, the laſt Verſe alſo ſeems inconſiſtent with David's Care and Concern for that rebellious Son, 2 Sam. xviii. 5, 33.

Ib. A Pſalm of David] which Mudge puts as throughout, A Pſalm; One of David: leſs oddly, if it be conſidered that a Part is to accord with the Whole.

Ver. 6. a faint Country] So the great Linguiſt, as well as Hiſtorian, Livy writes, Lib. xl. 35. Otioſam Provinciam Coſſ. habuerunt, the Conſuls had an idle Province, where they had Little or Nothing to do. Payne inſtead of mending (which he had made his Buſineſs) follows a corrupt Copy of the old Metre with, as doth the thirſty lands.

The LXX give it an ingenious Turn, but ſuch are to have no Place in the Sacred Text, as Earth (ſo thoſe of Doway, &c. render, tho' better, Land or Ground) without Water.

Ver. 9. I hide] the Heb. Verb being of the 1ſt Perſon, as in Buxt. Conc. and not the infin. Mood and a Prepoſ. beſides which there is Nothing in the Original for I flee.

Ver. 10. good] where the Heb. grand Partition of the Verſe is.

Ib. a Country of Uprightneſs] Where the People loved Honeſty and Juſtice, and he might live at Peace from his Enemies, Patr. and Auth. of Holy David clear'd.

Ver. 11. in] not for—ſake as before.

PSALM CXLIV.

BY David.
Bleſſed is the Lord my Rock, who teaches my Hands Battle, my Fingers War;

2. Being my Kindneſs, and Fortification, my high Place, and a Deliverer to me, my Shield, in whom I truſt: he makes my People ſubject under me.

3. O Lord, what is Man that thou acknowledgeſt him; the Son of Man, that thou thinkeſt of him?

4. Man is as it were Vanity, his Days are like a Shadow which paſſes away.

5. O Lord, bend thy Heaven, and come down: touch the Mountains, ſo that they may ſmoak.

6. Lighten with Lightning, and ſcatter them: ſend thy Arrows, and rout them.

7. Stretch forth thy Hand from on high, deliver me, and reſcue me from much Water, from the Power of ſtrange People;

8. Whoſe Mouth ſpeaks Vanity, and their right Hand is a falſe one.

9. O God, I will ſing a new Song to thee: with the Lute, the ten ſtringed Inſtrument, will I ſing to thee melodiouſly:

10. Who gives Salvation to Kings, delivers his Servant David from the bad Sword.

11. Deliver me, and reſcue me from the Power of ſtrange People; whoſe Mouth ſpeaks Vanity, and their right Hand is a falſe one:

12. That our Sons may be as Plants grown up in their Youth, our Daughters as the carved Corners of the Building of a Palace;

13. Our Store-houſes full producing of each Kind, our Sheep becoming Thouſands, ten Thouſands in our Grounds;

14. Our Oxen bearing the Yoke, with no Breach, no going forth, nor yet crying out in our Streets.

15. The People are bleſſed to whom it is thus; the People being bleſſed whoſe God is the Lord.

PSALM CXLV.

A PRAISE of David.
א I will extol thee, my God O King, and bleſs thy Name for ever and evermore.

2. ב I will bleſs thee every Day, and praiſe thy Name for ever and evermore.

3. ג The Lord is great, and highly to be praiſed; nay there is no ſearching out of his Greatneſs.

4. ד One Generation praiſes thy Works to another, and declares thy powerful Things.

5. ה I diſcourſe of the glorious Honour of thy Majeſty, and thy wonderful Matters.

6. ו As ſome ſpeak of the Strength of thy terrible Things, I alſo tell of thy Greatneſs it ſelf.

7. ז They utter forth the Remembrance of thy large Goodneſs, and ſing of thy Righteouſneſs.

8. ח The Lord is gracious and merciful, forbearing of Anger, and of great Kindneſs.

Ver. 1. It is ſuppoſed this was made a little after David came to the Crown; and probably before Pſa. xviii. in which two there is a Reſemblance: the Gr. indeed adds περὸς τον γολιάθ, againſt Goliath; but the Plurals, Ver. 7, 11. and my People, Ver. 2. indicate otherwiſe.

Ver. 2. Kindneſs] Litur. hope, as it was thought I ſuppoſe the other was improper: but the Penman of H. Dav. clear'd would make it up by ſaying, Hope ſignifies the thing hoped for; while the Heb. Word means no more of hoped than hope, nor does it ſignify his covenanted Mercy that I know of.

Ib. my People] who otherwiſe might be diſaffected and rebellious. By adding ם my would be taken away, which Mudge ſuppoſes rather to be right; if we are diſpoſed to new make the Scripture.

Ver. 8. right Hand] given in Treaty, which it ſeems they broke.

Ver. 12. That our Sons] Sep. Whoſe Sons, and ſo their Daughters, with the reſt throughout the 2 next Verſes; the Variation beſides the Points is ו and ם however the laſt Verſe ſpoils it all, ſo that there is added in the Vulg. they have ſaid.

Ib. Building] Much more conſonant to the Root, that ſignifies to build, than ſimilitude; the latter alſo requiring כ according to.

Ver. 13. Store-houſes] Sax. horderna.

Ib. of each Kind] Sept. out of this into that, ſuppoſing ו for ן

Ver. 14. bearing] as the Heb. is; the Gr. thick, and others alſo widely, as Patr. expounds it Cows great with young.

Ib. going forth] Pſalt. leading into captivitie, which may be the Meaning of it.

Ver. 1. The Verſes of this Pſalm, made I ſuppoſe in David's Proſperity, are Alphabetical, only the 14th Heb. Letter נ is omitted; for which is added in the Greek, The Lord is faithful in his Words, and holy in all his Works, which in Heb. might begin on that Letter: whereon Grotius ſeems to triumph, as if this was loſt there, ſaying, How will they anſwer to this, who bid us ſtand in all Things by the Decrees of the Maſorites? But could this learned Man be ignorant, that there is ſuch Defect too in other Places, and not ſupplied in the Gr. as in Pſa. xxv, and xxxiv, and xxxvii? for which ſee my Notes; and what Anſwer would he have made to thoſe? He might have ſaid God's Spirit is not confined to Man's Alphabet; as the Stars do not ſtand in Ranks, nor in the Shape of our Conſtellations, &c. which Anſwer would ſerve for this; nay is it not manifeſt, that this is added with a little Alteration from the 17th Verſe? See likewiſe Buxtorf's Anſwer to Capellus, Vindic. p. 437, 438.

Ib. for ever and evermore] aptly and exactly to the Heb. but the Dow. Verſ. has here, with Ver. next and laſt, for ever, and for ever and ever.

Ver. 6. I] Sept. they, which the Heb. does not countenance at all.

Ver. 8. forbearing] by Wither,

How prone to pitty, and to Wrath how ſlowe;

who has ſubjoined to this Pſalm a zealous Prayer againſt decreed Reprobation.

9. ט The

9. ט The Lord is good to all, and his Mercies are upon all his Works.

10. י All thy Works give thanks to thee, O Lord; and thy pious ones bleſs thee.

11. כ They ſpeak of the Glory of thy Kingdom and talk of thy Power:

12. ל To make known his powerful Things to Mankind, and the honourable Glory of his Kingdom.

13. מ Thine is a Kingdom of all Ages, and thy Dominion is in every particular Generation.

14. נ The Lord upholds all who are falling, and raiſes up all who are bowed down.

15. ס The Eyes of all wait for thee, and thou giveſt them their Food in its Seaſon.

16. פ Thou openeſt thy Hand, and ſatisfieſt the Will of every living one.

17. צ The Lord is righteous in all his Ways, and kind in all his Works.

18. ק The Lord is near to all that call upon him, to all who do it truly.

19. ר He accompliſhes the Will of ſuch as fear him; both hears their Cry, and ſaves them.

20. ש The Lord preſerves all who love him; but will deſtroy all the Wicked.

21. ת My Mouth ſhall talk of the Lord's Praiſe; and all Fleſh will bleſs his holy Name for ever and evermore.

PSALM CXLVI.

PRAISE the Lord, praiſe him, O my Soul.

2. I will praiſe the Lord while I live, will ſing melodiouſly to my God as long as I have a Being.

3. Do not truſt in Princes, in the Son of Man of whom there is no Safety.

4. His Breath goes forth, he returns to his Ground, on which Day his Thoughts periſh.

5. He is bleſſed that has the God of Jacob for his Help, whoſe Expectation is upon the Lord his God;

6. Who made the Heaven and the Earth, the Sea and all that is in them: who keeps Truth for ever;

7. Who executes Judgment for the Oppreſſed, gives Food to the Hungry: the Lord lets looſe the Priſoners.

8. The Lord opens the Blind, the Lord raiſes up ſuch as are bowed down, the Lord loves the Righteous.

9. The Lord preſerves the Strangers, ſupports the Fatherleſs and Widow; but overthrows the Way of the Wicked.

10. The Lord will reign for ever, thy God, O Zion, to all Ages. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CXLVII.

PRAISE the Lord; for it is good to ſing melodiouſly to our God; nay pleaſant, Praiſe being comely.

2. The Lord builds up Jeruſalem, gathers together thoſe who are driven away of Iſrael.

3. He heals ſuch as are of a broken Heart, and binds up their Sores.

4. He reckons up the Number of the Stars, calling them all by Names.

5. Our Lord is great, and of much Might: his Underſtanding is infinite.

6. The Lord ſupports the Meek, humbles the Wicked to the Earth.

7. Sing to the Lord with Thankſgiving, ſing melodiouſly to our God with the Harp:

8. Who covers the Heaven with thick Clouds, prepares Rain for the Earth, makes the Graſs ſprout forth on the Mountains.

Ver. 9. upon] as more proper than over.

Ver. 12. honourable] not a contemptible, vain, or falſe Glory: by Tranſpoſition of the two Words, Ver. 5. being there the Honour of Glory, here the Glory of Honour; but the latter of two Subſtantives in Heb. often anſwers to an Adjective of ours.

Ver. 13. Dominion] Sax. klafordſcipe for Lordſhip.

Ver. 14. upholds] ſo that they do not fall: for if they fall, how does he uphold them?

Ver. 17. is] K. James,

The Lord, in every Way of his,
he righteous doth remaine;

where he is redundant, and not allowable even in Poetry, but ſuch Inſtances are too frequent to mention in him and others, as here alſo Ver. 3, 14.

Ver. 1. All theſe Pſalms to the End of the Book, may I ſuppoſe be aſcribed to David, after he was King over all Iſrael; notwithſtanding the com. Gr. and Lat. aſcribe this to Haggai and Zechariah.

Ver. 8. loves] Pſalt. tareth for, with too much Liberty.

Ver. 1. comely] This the LXX Tranſlators ſkipt over, or more favourably miſtook it for the Verb-ſubſtantive הוה in Niph. as there is to היה with א for its Kindred-letter ה they rendering, Praiſe is ſweet to our God.

Ver. 2. Of this Grotius ſays, It ſuits beſt to the Times of Nehemiah: but with due Deference to the Opinion of ſo great a Man and his Followers, this building up of Jeruſalem might have been in the Time of David, as it ſeems by 2 Sam. v. 9. and likewiſe the gathering together, &c. from 1 Sam. xxxi. 7. whereas the other was of Judah as a Nation, and not Iſrael; and as the Nation is called by this Name again, with Jacob, Ver. 19. and that ſignified to be one Nation, Ver. 20. I muſt remain in the ſame Mind as at the Entrance of the foregoing Pſalm.

Ver. 8. makes the Graſs, &c.] by Sandys, that fine Decypherer of Nature,

With Graſs he cloaths the pregnant Hills,
And hungry Beaſts with Herbage fills.
He feeds the Ravens croaking Brood,

and by Jonſt.

Gramine qui montes operit; pecorique miniſtrat
Pabula, quæſitas et tibi; corve! dapes;

which in the Pref. Diſc. is remarked to be worthy of great Attention, for the fine Mixture of Singulars and Plurals;

9. He gives to the Beaſt its Food, to the young Ravens that call.

10. He takes no Pleaſure in the Power of a Horſe, does not delight in the Legs of a Man.

11. The Lord delights in thoſe who fear him, in thoſe who wait for his Kindneſs.

12. Give thanks to the Lord, O Jeruſalem: praiſe thy God, O Zion.

13. For he ſtrengthens the Bars of thy Gates, bleſſes thy Children within thee,

14. Makes peace in thy Bounds, ſatisfies thee with the beſt of the Wheat.

15. He ſends forth his Speech on the Earth: his Word runs very ſpeedily.

16. He gives Snow comparable to Wool, diſperſes the white Froſt like Aſhes,

17. Caſts his Ice as if in Bits: who can ſtand before his Cold?

18. He ſends forth his Word, and melts them: making his Wind blow, the Water flows.

19. He declares his Word to Jacob, his Ordinances and Judgments to Iſrael.

20. He does not deal ſo with any Nation; as for the Judgments, they do not know them. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CXLVIII.

PRAISE the Lord, praiſe the Lord from Heaven, praiſe him in the Heights.

2. Praiſe him, all his Angels: praiſe him, all his Armies.

3. Praiſe him, Sun and Moon: praiſe him, all you Stars of Light.

4. Praiſe him, O Heaven of Heavens, and Water which is above the Heavens.

5. Let them praiſe the Name of the Lord: for when he commanded, they were created.

6. And he makes them remain perpetually for ever: he gave an Ordinance, which ſhall not paſs away.

7. Praiſe the Lord from the Earth, O Whales, and all Depths,

8. Fire and Hail, Snow and Smoak, tempeſtuous Wind performing his Word,

9. Mountains and all Hills, Fruit-trees and all Cedars,

10. Beaſts and all Cattle, creeping Things and winged Fowls,

11. Kings of the Earth and all Nations, Princes and all Judges of the Earth,

12. Young Men and alſo Virgins, old Men with Children.

13. Let them praiſe the Name of the Lord; ſince his Name alone is high, his Majeſty above the Earth and the Heaven.

14. And he exalts the Horn of his People, is the Praiſe of all his pious ones, of the Iſraelites a People near to him. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CXLIX.

PRAISE the Lord, ſing to the Lord a new Song, his Praiſe in the Congregation of the pious ones.

2. Let Iſrael be glad through his Maker, the Children of Zion rejoice through their King.

3. Let them praiſe his Name with Dancing, ſing to him melodiouſly with the Timbrel and Harp.

4. For the Lord delights in his People, he adorns the Meek with Salvation.

5. Let the Pious triumph gloriouſly, ſing aloud upon their Beds.

6. Let there be Extollings of God in their Throat, and a Sword with Edges in their Hand; in Eng. thus, Who covers the Mountains with Graſs; as alſo to the Herd affords Proviſions, and the Sacrifice-feaſts that are aſked for to thee, O Raven.

Ib. Mountains] The Gr. proceeds with (whence our Pſalt.) and Herb for the Service of Men, as Pſa. civ. 14. for ſo the LXX borrow, chop and change.

Ver. 9. Ravens] So one Cambridge Sax. Copy has hrefn, but another crawan, and Spelman's broca, being Birds not much unlike.

Ver. 10. does not delight in the Legs of a Man] Non curat celeres curſores, Cares not for ſwift Runners, Grot.

Ver. 16. Snow comparable to Wool] As at the Time when I write this; with a ſtriking Reſemblance, ſeveral Flakes ſeeming about an Inch long.

Ib. Wool] Sax. wulle.

Ver. 4. Water which is above the Heavens] the Air below being alſo called Heaven, as Grotius obſerves.

Ver. 5. for] Here the LXX thruſt in, he ſpoke, and they were made; from whom the vulg. Lat. and Litur. have theirs.

Ib. when he commanded] The Pſalt. having before it, he ſpake the Word, and they were made, from the Gr. or Lat. is but a different Rendering of the ſame Heb. Words, like that in Pſa. xxix. 1. as the Author of the State of the Pr. Heb. obſerves, p. 505.

Ver. 7. Earth] including the whole Globe, and even its Atmoſphere; ſince Hail, Snow, Wind and Fowls are comprehended, as well as Whales.

Ib. Whales] So Jun. and Trem. with Caſt. have it cete, agreeing beſt with Depths.

Ver. 14. is] with what Advantage is eaſily ſeen.

Ib. near to] Litur. that ſerveth.

Ver. 1. Song] Sax. lofſang, which ſounds like Lovſong, and might be taken ſo in other Places of the Pſalms; but is not, for the Sax. lof is Praiſe, as it follows in this Verſe.

Ver. 3. Timbrel] By the E. of Dartf. drum.

Ver. 4. adorns the Meek with Salvation] For this the Lit. has helpeth the meek-hearted; which puts the great Defender hard to it for a Plea, with help importing all manner of Divine Favours, &c. The Sept. have exalts; how does not appear, otherwiſe than looſely from the right Verb.

Ver. 5. glorioufly] ב with Nouns being uſed in Heb. for Adverbs, Buxt. Gram. Lib. ii. Cap. 20. whereas Mudge turns it in their Heart, taking Glory for Heart inſtead of Tongue, Pſa. xvi. 9.

Ver. 6. Sword] by which they were evidently to do

7. To execute Vengeance among the Gentiles, Rebukes in the Nations;
8. To bind their Kings with Chains, and their honourable ones with iron Fetters;
9. To execute among them the Judgment that is written: it being the Honour of all his pious ones. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CL.

PRAISE the Lord, praiſe God in his holy Place, praiſe him in the Firmament of his Strength.

2. Praiſe him in his powerful Things, praiſe him according to the Abundance of his Greatneſs.
3. Praiſe him with the Sound of the Trumpet, praiſe him with the Lute and Harp.
4. Praiſe him with the Timbrel and Dancing, praiſe him with the ſtringed Inſtruments and Organ.
5. Praiſe him with the loud Cymbals, praiſe him with the ſounding ones.
6. Let the whole Breath praiſe the Lord. Praiſe you the Lord.

Ver. 1. holy Place] Litur. holineſſe, unintelligible. The Dowayiſts gravely inſtruct their Readers in the Fooleries of Auguſtine (for his being ever ſo great a Doctor or Father will not make them otherwiſe) as that 150, the Number of the Pſalms, ſignifies the Concord of the two Teſtaments: for in the old the Sabbath, which is the ſeventh Day, in the new ours, that is the eight (it ſhould be eighth to be Senſe, but it is the firſt) making fifteen (the 7th Day and 1ſt or 8th Day make but two) multiplied by ten, the Commandments, riſe unto 150. Again 7 multiplied by 7 (for the old Sabbath, which was only one, not 7) whereto one, the 8th (tho' it was 8 before) being added make 50, which multiplied by 3, *ſignifying the B. I conclude this Book with my Remarks, that I found the following Pſalms, by reaſon of their Sublimity, difficult to tranſlate, viz. liii, lviii, lxviii, lxxiii, lxxiv, lxxvi, lxxxiv, lxxxvii, xc, xcv, cx, cxxxix, cxl, cxli; and ſo in a leſs Degree, the iv, x, xxii, lxxv, xciii, cvii; but the xlvii, lxvii, xcvi, xcvii, xcviii, xcix, c, cxxxvi, and cxlv, plain and eaſy.

NOTES upon the PROVERBS.

CHAP I.

THE Proverbs of Solomon the Son of David, King of Iſrael:

2. To know Wiſdom and Inſtruction, to underſtand the Sayings of Prudence;

3. To receive the Inſtruction of Underſtanding, Righteouſneſs, and Judgment, and Uprightneſs;

4. To give the Simple Direction, the Youth Knowledge and Sagacity;

5. (Even the Wiſe ſhall hear, and proceed in Doctrine, and the Prudent get Policy;)

6. To underſtand a Proverb and the Interpretation, the Words of the Wiſe, and their obſcure Speeches.

7. The Fear of the Lord is the Beginning of Knowledge: Fools deſpiſe Wiſdom and Inſtruction.

8. My Son, hear the Inſtruction of thy Father, and forſake not the Law of thy Mother.

9. For they will be a graceful Dreſs to thy Head, and Chains to thy Neck.

10. My Son, if Sinners entice thee, do not conſent.

11. If they ſay; Come with us, let us lie in wait for Blood, hide for the Innocent undeſervedly;

12. Let us ſwallow them up alive like the Grave, and whole as thoſe who go down to the Pit;

13. Let us find all the precious Subſtance, fill our Houſes with Spoil:

14. Caſt thy Lot amongſt us, let us all have one Purſe.

15. My Son, go not in the Way with them, with-hold thy Foot from their Path;

16. Since their Feet run to Miſchief, and they make haſte to ſhed Blood.

Ver. 1. King] namely Solomon; not David, which it is parted from by a Heb. Point: our Tranſlation, ſays Croſs, is wrong, making but one Propoſition of the Verſe, and making David King when Solomon wrote, or leaving it doubtful who, Tagh. Art. p. 180. publ. 1698, and patronized by the Archbp. of Cant.

Ver. 2. Prudence] See L. de Dieu Anim. and Ch. ii. 3.

Ver. 3. Underſtanding] different from that in Ver. 2.

Ib. Righteouſneſs] as uſually rendered in the com. Tranſ. and Ch. ii. 9. where theſe Words are: this, according to Grotius, ſignifies what belongs to Bonitas, Goodneſs; the next to Right (and ſo that might be called Juſtice) and the 3d whatever belongs to any other Virtue.

Ver. 6. their obſcure Speeches] Diogenes Laertius ſpeaks in his Preface, of the Gymnoſophiſts and Druids, even among the Barbarians, delivering their Philoſophy in Ænigmas and obſcure Problems, while they exhorted Men to worſhip God, to do Nothing that was evil, and to practiſe Fortitude.

Ver. 7. Beginning] For ſays Diogenes Appoloniates, in the Entrance of his Treatiſe, preſerved by Diog. Laert. He that undertakes to teach any Thing, ſhould in my Opinion lay down a certain Beginning, and, adds he, uſe plain and proper Speech: both which Solomon may be obſerved to do.

Ver. 9. graceful] which of grace muſt mean, if it means with Propriety.

Ver. 16. they make] the ſame as in Iſa. lix. 7. and we are not to ſuppoſe the feet ſhed Blood.

17. For in vain is the Net ſpread in the Sight of any that has Wings.

18. Nay they lie in wait for their own Blood, hide for their own Lives.

19. So are the Paths of every one who is given to Gain; which takes away the Life of the Owners of it.

20. Wiſdom cries out abroad, gives forth its Voice in the Streets.

21. It calls at the Head of the Croud, at the Enterings of the Gates; in the City it declares its Sayings:

22. How long, ſimple ones, will you love Simplicity, Deriders deſire for themſelves Deriſion, and Fools hate Knowledge?

23. Return at my Reproof: behold I would utter my Mind to you, would let you know my Words.

24. Becauſe I call, and you refuſe, ſtretch out my Hand, and none attends;

25. But you reject all my Counſel, and conſent not to my Reproof:

26. I alſo will ſmile at your Calamity, will mock when your Dread comes.

27. When your Dread comes as Waſting, and your Calamity approaches like a Whirlwind, when Diſtreſs and Streightneſs come upon you;

28. Then may they call upon me, but I will not anſwer, may ſeek me early, but ſhall not find me:

29. Foraſmuch as they hated Knowledge, and did not chooſe the Fear of the Lord.

30. They conſented not to my Counſel, contemned all my Reproof.

31. So they ſhall eat of the Fruit of their own Way, and be filled from their own Counſels.

32. For the turning away of the Simple will ſlay them, and the Quietneſs of Fools make them periſh.

33. Whereas he who hearkens to me ſhall dwell ſecurely, and be quiet from the Dread of Harm.

CHAP. II.

MY Son, if thou receiveſt my Sayings, and layeſt up my Commandments with thee;

2. Cauſing thy Ears to attend to Wiſdom, inclineſt thy Heart to Underſtanding:

3. Nay if thou calleſt for Prudence, giveſt forth thy Voice for Underſtanding;

4. If thou ſeekeſt for her as Silver, and ſearcheſt for her as Treaſures:

5. Then wilt thou underſtand the Fear of the Lord, and find the Knowledge of God.

6. For the Lord gives Wiſdom, from his Mouth is Knowledge and Underſtanding.

7. He lays up ſubſtantial Matter for the Upright, is a Shield to ſuch as walk with Integrity;

8. Keeping the Paths of Judgment, and preſerves the Way of his pious ones.

9. Then wilt thou underſtand Righteouſneſs, and Judgment, and Uprightneſs, every good Way.

10 For Wiſdom will come into thy Heart, and Knowledge be pleaſant to thy Soul.

11. Sagacity will preſerve thee, Underſtanding keep thee:

12. Reſcuing thee from the Way of Evil, from the Man that ſpeaks Frowardneſs:

13. Thoſe who leave the Paths of Virtue, to go in the Ways of Darkneſs;

14. Who are glad to do Evil, rejoice in the Frowardneſs of it;

15. Whoſe Paths are perverſe, and they are froward in their Roads:

16. Reſcuing thee from the ſtrange Woman, from the unknown one that flatters with her Sayings;

17. Who leaves the Guide of her Youth, and forgets the Covenant of her God.

18. For her Houſe bends down to Death, and her Ways to the deceaſed.

19. Not any who come to her return, nor reach the Paths of Life.

Ver. 17. For] Thou mayeſt eaſily ſhun their Way, when it is now ſhewn to thee, as the winged Species do. It is the ſame Conjunction (denoting the Reaſon of a Thing) that begins the preceding Verſe.

Ib. in vain] which Patrick to expound contradicts, Be not as the ſilly Birds, who uſe to run into the Net, which they ſee the Fowler lay before their Eyes.

Ver. 18. Nay] not only ſhewing that their wicked Proceeding would be in vain, excepting on the weak and ſimple, Ver. 17. but alſo the Miſchief of it to themſelves, as ſtrong Arguments of Diſſuaſion. How variouſly this Place is underſtood, ſee in De Dieu's Lat. Animadverſions on the Old Teſtament, curiouſly printed at Leyden by Elzevir, 1648.

Ib. for their own] This Patrick ſays is like the Fowler's catching the Birds, when it is quite contrary.

Ver. 22. Somebody ſaying to Diogenes, I am not fit for Philoſophy; he anſwered, Τί ἂν ζῇς, εἰ τῷ καλῶς ζῆν μὴ μέλει σοι; Why doſt thou live then, if thou haſt no care to live well? Diog. Laert. in his Life.

Ver. 32. turning away] To this is put in the Eng. Marg. or eaſe; which ſhould belong to proſperity, as Gell. obſerves, Eſſay, p. 437. though of the ſimple be added to it; and that ought to have been omitted when in the Text, if eaſe was referred hither.

Ver. 3. Prudence] Here is the ſame Heb. Word as in Ch. i. 2. and that for Knowledge is another, Ver. 5, 6, 10.

Ib. giveſt forth] the ſame Verb as in Chap. i. 20. which abundantly is uſed for give.

Ver. 10. For] the ſame Particle that begins Ver. 6, 18, 21.

Ver. 17. the Guide] her Huſband: but Grotius ſays God; whereas if that had been the Meaning, his Covenant would have been proper, and it would intimate as if Adultereſſes in general had God for their Guide when young.

20. That thou mayeſt go in the Way of the Good, and obſerve the Paths of the Righteous.

21. For the Upright will dwell in the Country, and the Perfect remain in it.

22. But the Wicked will be cut off from the Earth, and the Treacherous be plucked away from it.

CHAP. III.

MY Son, forget not my Law, but let thy Heart keep my Commandments.

2. For Length of Days, Years of Life, and Peace ſhall they add to thee.

3. Let not Kindneſs and Truth leave thee; tie them upon thy Neck, write them upon the Table of thy Heart.

4. So find Favour and good Underſtanding, in the Sight of God and Man.

5. Truſt on the Lord with thy whole Heart, and do not depend on thy own Prudence.

6. Acknowledge him in all thy Ways; and he will make thy Paths right.

7. Do not think thy ſelf wiſe: fear the Lord, and depart from Evil;

8. Which will be healing to thy Navel, and watering to thy Bones.

9. Honour the Lord with thy Subſtance, and with the Firſt-fruits of all thy Increaſe.

10. Thus will thy Barns be filled with Sufficiency, and thy Wine-preſſes burſt with new Wine.

11. The Inſtruction of the Lord, my Son, do not deſpiſe, nor be weary of his Reproof.

12. For whom the Lord loves he reproves, even as a Father the Son he delights in.

13. Happy is the Man who finds Wiſdom, and the Man who obtains Underſtanding.

14. For its Merchandiſe is better than that of Silver, and the Increaſe of it than Gold.

15. It is more precious than Pearls, and all the Things of thy Deſire are not equal with it.

16. Long Life is in its right Hand, in its left Riches and Honour.

17. The Ways of it are pleaſant ones, and all its Paths peaceable.

18. It is a Tree of Life to thoſe who hold it faſt, and he is happy that retains it.

19. The Lord founded the Earth by Wiſdom, eſtabliſhed the Heaven by Underſtanding.

20. By his Knowledge the Depths were cleaved, and the Skies diſtil the Dew.

21. My Son, let them not depart from thy Sight, keep ſubſtantial Matter and Sagacity.

22. Theſe will be Life to thy Soul, and Embelliſhment to thy Neck.

23. Then wilt thou walk ſecurely in thy Way, and thy Foot not ſtumble.

24. When thou lieſt down, thou wilt not be in dread; nay thou wilt lie down, and thy Sleep will be ſweet.

25. Be not in fear of Dread ſuddenly, nor of the Waſting of the Wicked, though it comes;

26. Since the Lord will be for thy Hope, and will preſerve thy Foot from being taken.

27. Do not with-hold Good from the Owners of it, when it is in the Power of thy Hand to do it.

28. Do not ſay to thy Neighbour, Go and return, and to Morrow I will give; when it is with thee.

29. Contrive not Harm againſt thy Neighbour, when he dwells ſecurely with thee.

30. Do not contend with a Man undeſervedly, if he has requited thee no Ill.

31. Envy not a violent Man, nor chooſe any of his Ways.

32. For the Froward is an Abomination to the Lord; but his Secret is with the Upright.

33. The Curſe of the Lord is in the Houſe of the Wicked; whereas he bleſſes the Habitation of the righteous ones.

34. Though he derides the Deriders, yet he gives Grace to the Meek.

35. The Wiſe will poſſeſs Honour; but the exalting of Fools will be Baſeneſs.

Ver. 4. find] imperative.

Ver. 7. not—wiſe] It was an Obſervation of Zeno, that nothing is ſo unbecoming as Haughtineſs or Self-conceit, eſpecially in young People, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 8. Navel] as being the middle of the Body, I ſuppoſe; ſince it is not ſpoken to Infants in the Womb.

Ver. 11. Inſtruction] So Jun. and Trem. render it eruditionem, Caſt. and the Vulg. Lat. Tranſ. diſciplinam; as παιδείας alſo Heb. xii. 5. ſignifies more than chaſtening.

Ver. 12. reproves] the Heb. Verb not ſignifying correcteth.

Ver. 13. Happy] Hippodamus Thurius the Pythagorean Philoſopher ſays in his Book Of Happineſs, Εὐδαιμονία ἐκ ἄτερθεν ἀρετας, There cannot be Happineſs without Virtue; and Theagus in his Of Virtues, Ἀρχὰ καὶ αἰτία καὶ κανών ἐντι τᾶς ἀνθρωπίνας εὐδαιμοσύνας, ἃ τῶν θειών καὶ τιμιωτάτων ἐπίγνωσας, The Beginning, Cauſe, and Rule of human Happineſs, is the Knowledge of divine and very excellent Things.

Ib. Underſtanding] Of which may be ſaid with Diogenes, that it is Sobriety to the Young, Comfort to the Old, Riches to the Poor, and an Ornament to the Rich, Laert. in Vit.

Ver. 15. It] as in the Ver. before.

Ib. Pearls] See Bochart's Hierozicon de Sacr. Animal. Lib. 5, 6.

Ver. 28. Do not ſay] Thus Marcus Aurelius Antoninus in the firſt Book of his Meditations obſerves, one ſhould not put off the Duties that are due to Friends and Acquaintance, under Pretence of other Buſineſs.

Ver. 34. Though] and not Surely.

CHAP.

CHAP. IV.

HEAR, O Sons, the Inſtruction of a Father, and hearken to know Underſtanding.

2. For I give you good Doctrine: forſake not my Law.

3. Since I being the Son of my Father, the tender and only one before my Mother;

4. He taught me, and ſaid to me, Let thy Heart retain my Words; obſerve my Commandments, and live.

5. Get Wiſdom, get Underſtanding: do not forget, nor turn away from the Sayings of my Mouth.

6. Forſake it not, and it will preſerve thee: love it, and it will keep thee.

7. Wiſdom is the chief Thing, get Wiſdom, and with all thy Getting get Underſtanding.

8. Extol it, and it will exalt thee: it will dignify thee, becauſe thou embraceſt it.

9. It will give a graceful Dreſs to thy Head, a Crown of Glory will it deliver to thee.

10. Hear, my Son, and receive my Sayings; ſo the Years of Life will be many to thee.

11. I teach thee in the Way of Wiſdom, cauſe thee to go in the Roads of Virtue.

12. When thou walkeſt, thy Step will not be ſtreightened; and if thou runneſt, thou wilt not ſtumble.

13. Hold faſt Inſtruction, leave not off: keep it, for it is thy Life.

14. Do not enter into the Path of the Wicked, nor go in the Way of the evil ones.

15. Withdraw from it, paſs not in it: turn aſide from it, and paſs away.

16. Since they ſleep not, unleſs they do evil; and their Sleep is taken away, if they cauſe not to fall.

17. For they eat the Bread of Wickedneſs, and drink the Wine of Violence.

18. But the Path of the Righteous is like the ſhining Light, that goes on in being Light to the eſtabliſhed Day.

19. The Way of the Wicked is like Darkneſs, they know not what they ſtumble at.

20. My Son, hearken to my Words, incline thy Ear to my Sayings.

21. Do not cauſe them to depart from thy Sight, preſerve them within thy Heart.

22. For they are Life to thoſe who find them, and Healing to all the Fleſh of each:

23. Keep thy Heart more than any Charge: for from it are the goings forth of Life.

24. Put away from thee the Perverſeneſs of the Mouth, and the Frowardneſs of the Lips remove far from thee.

25. Let thy Eyes look ſtraight forward, and thy Eye-lids be right before thee.

26. Conſider the Road of thy Foot, ſo that all thy Ways may be eſtabliſhed.

27. Incline neither to the right Hand nor left, put away thy Foot from Evil.

CHAP. V.

MY Son, hearken to my Wiſdom, incline thy Ear to my Underſtanding;

2. To obſerve ſagacious Things, and that thy Lips may keep Knowledge.

3. For the Lips of a ſtrange Woman drop as a Honey-comb, and her Mouth is ſmoother than Oil.

4. But the End of her is bitter like Wormwood, ſharp like a Sword with Edges.

5. Her Feet go down to Death, her Steps take hold of Hell.

6. That thou mayeſt not conſider the Path of Life, her Roads are removed thou doſt not know how.

7. And now, O Sons, hear me, and depart not from the Sayings of my Mouth.

8. Remove thy Way far from her, and do not come near the Door of her Houſe:

Ver. 4. ſaid to me] which Patrick extends to Ver. 10. and may be, as he ſays, to the End of the Chap. but I do not think Solomon would either remember or repeat ſo many of his Father's Words once ſpoken, or that David uſed a Form in ſpeaking to him; and rather ſuppoſe they are limited by this Verſe, as being adapted and ſufficient to inforce what was ſaid, Ver. 1, 2.

Ver. 5. do not forget] the Sayings following; it being parted from the foregoing in Heb. as here in Eng.

Ver. 6. it] as added in the com. Tranſ though wrong, in the preceding Verſe.

Ver. 7. get Wiſdom] So wiſe Bias adviſed, Ἐφόδιον ἀπὸ νεότητος εἰς γήρας ἀναλάμβανε σοφίαν, Take Wiſdom for Proviſion in the Journey from Youth to old Age, Diog. Laer.

Ib. get Underſtanding] or Learning, as diſtinct from the other: which, as Metrocles taught, is not to be purchaſed with Money, like a Houſe, but with Time and Diligence, Id. Diog. in ejus Vit. The ſame Author tells us of Hipparchia the Woman-Philoſopher, that being flouted at by Diodorus the Atheiſt, for coming from her Weaving, which was then Women's Work; aſked him whether he really thought ſhe had done Ill for her ſelf, by ſpending her Time in Learning, inſtead of the Loom?

Ver. 16. is taken away] Lat. rapitur, as in Clement's and ſome Copies of the Vulg. in others non capitur, is not taken.

Ver. 18. to the eſtabliſhed Day] Duport in Gr. Metre, till the Sun goes round to the Middle of the Heaven.

Ἕως ἠέλιος μέσον οὐρανὸν ἀμφιβέβηκε,

Ver. 21. Do not cauſe them to depart from thy Sight] Mind them often, as Ch. iii. 21. but the Verb is in the Conj. Hiphil here.

Ver. 23. more than] So our Tranſlators own in the Marg. the Heb. is above, which Gell. approves of, Eſſay, p. 635. and likewiſe Trem. and Jun. render it ſupra.

Ib. goings forth of Life] to the Soul, as to the Body.

Ver. 25. look ſtraight forward] in the Way of Providence, minding thy own Concern.

9. Leſt

9. Leſt thou ſhouldeſt give thy Reputation to others, and thy Years to a cruel one;

10. Leſt Strangers ſhould be filled with thy Ability, and thy Labours be in the Houſe of one unknown;

11. And thou groan in the End, when thy Fleſh and Body are conſumed;

12. And ſay; How have I hated Inſtruction, and my Heart contemned Reproof!

13. I have neither hearkened to the Voice of my Inſtructors, nor inclined my Ear to my Teachers;

14. Being almoſt in all Evil, within the Congregation and Aſſembly.

15. Drink of the Water from thy own Ciſtern, and of the Brooks from within thy Well.

16. Let thy own Springs be diſperſed abroad, Streams of Water in the Streets.

17. Let them be thy own alone, and not Strangers with thee.

18. Let thy Fountain be bleſt, and be glad through the Wife of thy Youth;

19. As a Hind much beloved, and a favoured She-goat, let her Breaſts intoxicate thee at all Times, and go aſtray continually in her Love.

20. And why wilt thou go aſtray, my Son, with a Stranger, and embrace the Boſom of one unknown?

21. For the Ways of a Man are before the Eyes of the Lord, and he conſiders all his Roads.

22. As for the Wicked, his Iniquities will take him, and he will be held with the Cords of his Sin:

23. He will die without Inſtruction, and go aſtray in the Multitude of his Folly.

CHAP. VI.

MY Son, if thou art engaged for thy Neighbour, haſt ſtruck thy Hand to a Stranger;

2. Thou art inſnared with the Sayings of thy Mouth, art taken with the Sayings of thy own Mouth.

3. Do this now, my Son, and get free, ſince thou art come into thy Neighbour's Power; go, ſubject thy ſelf, and be earneſt with thy Neighbour:

4. Give no Sleep to thy Eyes, nor Slumber to thy Eye-lids;

5. Reſcue thy ſelf as a Roe out of the Power, and as a Bird out of that of the Fowler.

6. Go to the Ant, O Slothful, ſee her Ways, and be wiſe;

7. Who having no Leader, Officer, or Governor,

8 Prepares her Food in the Summer, gets together her Meat in the Harveſt.

9. How long wilt thou lie down, O Slothful? When wilt thou riſe up from thy Sleep?

10. As there is a little Sleep, a little Slumber, a little folding of the Hands to lie down;

11. Poverty will ſtride along as it were to thee, and Want as a Man with a Shield.

12. A Perſon of Naughtineſs, a Man of Iniquity, goes with a perverſe Mouth.

13. He winks with his Eyes, talks with his Feet, teaches with his Fingers.

14. There is Frowardneſs in his Heart, he contrives Miſchief at all Times, ſends forth Contentions.

Ver. 9. Reputation] Lowth in his Commentary on Dan. x. 8. ſays of this Word here, 'it ſhould be tranſlated 'Strength or Vigour, as appears by comparing that Verſe 'with the parallel Text, Prov. xxxi. 3.' Whereas in the other Place the Heb. Word tranſlated Strength, is different both in the Meaning and in every Letter. At this modern Faſhion of commenting, what may not the Scripture be turned to? Nay the Texts are ſo far from being parallel, that others here is maſculine, and therefore not the ſame as Women there.

Ib. thy Years] by being killed or inſlaved.

Ib. a cruel one] her Huſband.

Ver. 14. within] even publickly.

Ver. 15. Drink of the Water] Quench thy Thirſt, or ſatisfy thy Deſire.

Ib. Ciſtern] Wife, Vatab. De Dieu and Mercer.

Ver. 16. own Springs] a Man's own Children by his own Wife, according to the next Ver. and not the ſame as Ver. 18. This will alſo take off the Cavil of the Author of the Preſent State of the Printed Hebrew Text, p. 551. that not and nor are omitted in this Verſe.

Ver. 18. Fountain] Fruitfulneſs by the Wife, from whence the Springs, Ver. 16.

Ver. 19. As a Hind] Be as loving to thy Wife, as a Buck and He-goat remarkably are, to their beloved favourite Females, which notable Compariſon our Tranſlators have ſpoiled, eſpecially the firſt Part, by turning it contrary.

Ib. much beloved] Heb. of Loves.

Ib. She-goat] as in the other Gender every where, viz. 2 Sam. xxiv. 2. Job xxxix. 1. Pſa. civ. 18.

Ib. go aſtray] the ſame Verb that there is in Ver. 23. The Septuagint having, going about with her in her Love, thou wilt be many, Grotius ſays, it appears that they read this Heb. Verb differently, ſo that it ſignified to multiply; whereas it is evident, it was the following Heb. Word for continually, which they took in a different Senſe. If any Reader ſhould underſtand that the Jewiſh Rabbins interpret it to go aſtray in other Things, I would have him conſider the Text ſays, it is in her Love.

Ver. 3. be earneſt] Heb. be ſtrong, to get releaſed.

Ver. 10. As] the Heb. Conjunction at the Beginning of the next Verſe which ſignifies this as much as So; and how imperfect is it in the com. Tranſ. thus in Ch. xxv. 3, 25, &c.

Ver. 11. as a Man with] who is not to be deſtroyed as he approaches.

Ver. 13. Feet] by treading on the Toes, to give intimation of Something.

Ib. Fingers] by making Signs with them.

15. Therefore his Calamity will come ſuddenly; he will be broken at an inſtant, and without Healing.

16. The Lord hates theſe ſix Things, and ſeven are an Abomination to his Soul;

17. Lofty Eyes, a falſe Tongue, and Hands that ſhed innocent Blood,

18. A Heart which contrives Devices of Iniquity, Feet that make haſte to run to Evil,

19. A falſe Witneſs who utters Lyes, and he that ſends forth Contentions between Brethren.

20. Keep, my Son, the Commandment of thy Father, and forſake not the Law of thy Mother.

21. Bind them upon thy Heart continually, tie them upon thy Neck.

22. When thou walkeſt about, it will lead thee; preſerve thee when thou lieſt down; and when thou awakeſt, it will converſe with thee.

23. For the Commandment is a Lamp, the Law a Light, and the Reproofs of Inſtruction are the Way of Life;

24. To preſerve thee from the evil Woman, from the Flattery of the Tongue of one unknown.

25. Do not deſire her Beauty in thy Heart, nor let her take thee with her Eye-lids.

26. For by a Woman who is a Whore thou wilt be reduced to a Piece of Bread, and a Man's Wife will hunt for the precious Life.

27. May a Man receive Fire into his Boſom, and his Garments not be burnt?

28. Can a Man walk upon burning Coals, and his Feet be not ſcorched?

29. So is he that goes in to the Wife of his Neighbour: there will not any who meddles with her be innocent.

30. People do not deſpiſe a Thief, when he ſteals to fill his Appetite, becauſe he is hungry:

31. Yet being found he muſt pay ſeyenfold, muſt give all the Subſtance of his Houſe.

32. But he who commits Adultery with a Woman wants Senſe, he that does it deſtroys his Soul.

33. He will find a Stroke and Vileneſs, and his Reproach will not be wiped off.

34. For Jealouſy is the Wrath of a Man, and he will not ſpare in the Day of Vengeance.

35. He will not accept of any Ranſom, nor acquieſce though thou multiplieſt Gifts.

CHAP. VII.

MY Son, obſerve my Sayings, and lay up my Commandments with thee.

2. Obſerve my Commandments and live, and my Law as the Apple of thy Eyes.

3. Bind them upon thy Fingers, write them upon the Table of thy Heart.

4. Say to Wiſdom, Thou art my Siſter; and call Underſtanding a Kinſwoman:

5. To preſerve thee from the ſtrange Woman, from the unknown who flatters with her Sayings.

6. For at the Window of my Houſe, looking out at my Caſement;

7. I ſaw among the Simple, conſidered among the Sons, a young Man wanting Senſe;

8. Who paſſed through the Lane by her Corner, and went on the Way to her Houſe;

9. In the Twilight, in the Evening of the Day, in the black Night and Darkneſs.

10. When behold a Woman met him with the Dreſs of a Whore, and of a cloſe Heart;

11. (Who is noiſy and obſtinate, her Feet not ſtaying at home;

12. Being one time in the Court, another time in the Streets, and lies in wait by every Corner)

13. And ſhe took hold of him, kiſſing him; hardened her Face, and ſaid to him:

14. There are Peace-offerings with me, to Day have I performed my Vows.

15. Therefore am I come forth to meet thee, to ſeek thy Face early, that I might find thee.

16. I have furniſhed my Couch with Tapeſtries, carved Things, Linen of Egypt.

17. I have perfumed my Bed with Myrrh, Aloes and Cinnamon.

Ver. 19. ſends forth] ſoweth being from the vulg. Lat. whence the old Eng. was firſt tranſlated, and ſo continued; and it appears that ſow was in the Lat. (which is not in the Gr.) made comparatively from ſend forth, ſince seminat could ſcarce be corrupted from immittit, which ſeems the neareſt in either of the three Languages.

Ver. 21. Bind them] as it were.

Ver. 22. converſe] One aſking Antiſthenes what he got by Philoſophy? He anſwered, Τὸ δύνασθαι ἑαυτῷ ὁμιλεῖν, To be able to converſe with myſelf, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 31. ſevenfold] ſeven being uſed in the Scripture-language for divers; ſee the real Law for it Exod. xxii. 1.

Ib. all] as might be commonly the Caſe with ſuch a poor Thief as is here deſcribed, who ſtole for Hunger.

Ver. 4, &c. turned into Verſe by Ward;

Let all thy homage be to wiſdom paid,
Seek her protection, and implore her Aid;
That ſhe may keep thy Soul from harm ſecure,
And turn thy footſteps from the harlot's door;
Who with curs'd charms lures the unwary in,
And ſooths with flattery their ſouls to ſin.
Once from my window as I caſt my eye
On thoſe that paſs'd in giddy Numbers by,
A youth among the fooliſh youths I ſpy'd,
Who took not ſacred Wiſdom for his guide.

Ver. 13. ſaid] which Solomon may be ſuppoſed to overhear.

Ver. 14. performed] Vulg. payed, yet I find it right paid in 1613, and one late Oxf. Edit.

18. Come,

18. Come, let us be intoxicated with beloved Things till the Morning, let us rejoice our ſelves in Love.

19. For the Huſband is not at home, he is gone a long Way off.

20. He took a Bag of Money with him, will come home at the Day appointed.

21. She made him turn aſide by a great deal of her Inſtruction, and compelled him with the Flattery of her Lips.

22. He walks after her preſently, as an Ox goes to the Slaughter, and as one fettered to the Correction of the Fooliſh;

23. Till an Arrow cuts his Liver aſunder, like a Bird which makes haſte to the Snare, being ignorant that it is for his Life.

24. And now, O Sons, hear me, and hearken to the Sayings of my Mouth.

25. Let not thy Heart decline to her Ways, go not aſtray in her Paths.

26. For ſhe cauſes many pierced to fall, and numerous ones are all her ſlain.

27. Her Houſe is the Ways to the Grave, that go down to the Chambers of Death.

CHAP. VIII.

DOES not Wiſdom call, and Underſtanding give forth its Voice?

2. In the Head of the high Places upon the Way, at the Houſe of the Paths does it ſtand.

3. At the Side of the Gates, at the Paſſage into the City, the Entrance of the Doors, it cries:

4. To you, O Men, I call, and my Voice is to the Sons of Man.

5. Underſtand, O ſimple ones, Diſcretion; and, ye Fools, underſtand with the Heart.

6. Hear, for I will ſpeak like the Rulers, and the opening of my Lips ſhall be with upright Things.

7. For my Mouth ſhall diſcourſe Truth, Wickedneſs being an Abomination to my Lips.

8. All the Sayings of my Mouth are in Righteouſneſs, there is nothing froward or perverſe in them.

9. All of them are right to him that underſtands, and upright to thoſe who find Knowledge.

10. Receive my Inſtruction, and not Silver, and Knowledge rather than choice Gold.

11. For Wiſdom is better than Pearls, and all deſirable Things are not equal to it.

12. I Wiſdom dwell with Diſcretion, and find out the Knowledge of ſagacious Things.

13. The Fear of the Lord being to hate Evil; Haughtineſs, Pride, the evil Way, and the froward Mouth I hate.

14. Of me are Counſel and ſubſtantial Matter: I am Prudence, to me belongs Power.

15. By me Kings reign, and Princes decree Juſtice.

16. By me Princes have the Sovereignty, and Nobles, all the Judges of the Earth.

17. I will love thoſe that love me; and they who ſeek me early ſhall find me.

18. Riches and Honour are with me, durable Subſtance and Righteouſneſs.

19. My Fruit is better than Gold, nay than pure Gold, and my Increaſe than choice Silver.

20. I cauſe to walk in the Path of Righteouſneſs, within the Foot-paths of Judgment;

21. To make them that love me poſſeſs what there is, whoſe Treaſures I fill.

22. The Lord poſſeſſed me at the Beginning of his Way, before his Works from that Time.

23. I have been anointed from everlaſting, from the Beginning, from before the moſt ancient Times of the Earth.

24. When there were no Depths I was

Ver. 21. by the ſame Ward,

Th' unguarded youth in ſilken fetters ty'd
Reſign'd his Reaſon, and with eaſe comply'd.

Ib. turn aſide] to her Houſe.

Ver. 23. Arrow] ſhot by her Huſband.

Ver. 26. numerous] Since the Heb. Word has this Meaning, and the next is all, not many, it is requiſite here; becauſe the ſtrong all would not be true, though in the Gen. Verſ. ſo Jun. and Trem. have numeroſi.

Ver. 3. it cries] Jun. and Trem. tranſlate the Verb plurally, recantant, they chant over; ſapientia nimirum & intelligentia; ut ſupra i. 20. namely Wiſdom and Underſtanding (Ver. 1.) as before Ch. i. 20. ſay they in a Note; though there they render this very ſame Word ſingularly, and here thoſe in Ver. 2, 4, &c. and though not only the Spelling of the Word ſhews it to be ſingular, but alſo the great Buxtorf ſen. produces it for ſuch in his Heb. Gram. Lib. i. cap. 19. having קֹרֵאת clamitat, (it cries) Prover. i. 20. yet Buxtorf's Son following them, puts it for cantant in the Concordance: for which one Thing may be ſaid, that Wiſdom Ch. i. 20. is plural; but ſo it is Ch. ix. 1, &c. with ſingular Verbs and Pronouns, and may therefore be taken for conſummate Wiſdom, as Jun. and Trem. have their ſumma ſapientia.

Ver. 13. to hate] Jun. and Trem. turn it odium, Hatred, and join it to the foregoing Verſe; whereas that in Heb. is ſinath, but this ſenoth, an infinitive Verb; nor are here Conjunctions ſo to join it, nor would it be ſuitable: ſo that thoſe great Men were not infallible.

Ver. 20. I cauſe] So Juvenal writes, Sat. 13.

——————Plurima felix
Paulatim vitia, atque errores exuit omnes
Prima docens rectum Sapientia——————

Which Creech having ſkipt over in his Tranſlation, is, Happy Wiſdom that firſt teaches what is right, by degrees ſtrips off the many Vices, and all Errors.

Ver. 22. at the Beginning] The very ancient and famous Poet Linus begins his Poem of the Creation thus,

Ἦν ποτέ τοι χρόνος ὅτε ἐν ᾧ ἅμα πάντ' ἐτετύκτο.

There was a Time in which all Things were created together.

Ver. 23. anointed] Nothing of ſet up.

brought forth, when no Fountains repleniſhed with Water:

25. So was I before the Mountains were ſettled, antecedent to the Hills;

26. While he had not made the Earth, or the Lawns, or the Top of the Mould of the habitable World.

27. When he prepared the Heaven I was there, when he appointed a Compaſs upon the Surface of the Deep,

28. When he fortified the Skies above, when he ſtrengthened the Fountains of the Deep,

29. When he ſet the Sea its Appointment, that the Waters ſhould not paſs his Command, when he appointed the Foundations of the Earth.

30. Nay I was nouriſhed with him, and was delightful Day by Day, ſmiling before him at all Times:

31. Smiling in the habitable Part of his Earth, and my Delights were with the Sons of Man.

32. And now, O Sons, hear me; ſince they are bleſſed who obſerve my Ways.

33. Hear Inſtruction, and be wiſe, and do not reject.

34. The Man is bleſſed who hears me, watching at my Gates Day by Day, obſerving at the Poſts of my Doors.

35. For he who finds me, finds Life, and ſhall obtain Favour from the Lord.

36. But he that ſins againſt me, does Violence to his Soul; all who hate me, love Death.

CHAP. IX.

WISDOM builds its Houſe, cuts out its ſeven Pillars;

2. Slays what it has to be ſlain, mixes its Wine, furniſhes alſo its Table;

3. Sends forth its Maids, calls upon the high Battlements of the City,

4. Whoever is ſimple, let him turn aſide hither: to him that wants Senſe ſhe ſays;

5. Come, eat of my Bread, and drink of the Wine I have mixed.

6. Forſake the Simple, and live, and go in the Way of Underſtanding.

7. He who corrects a Scorner, receives Baſeneſs himſelf; and he who reproves the Wicked, his Blemiſh.

8. Do not reprove a Scorner, leſt he ſhould hate thee: reprove the Wiſe, and he will love thee.

9. Give to the Wiſe, and he will be wiſe the more: make known to the Righteous, and he will proceed in Doctrine.

10. The Beginning of Wiſdom is the Fear of the Lord, and the Perception of the holy ones is Underſtanding.

11. For by me thy Days ſhall be many, and Years of Life ſhall be added to thee.

12. If thou art wiſe, thou wilt be wiſe for thy ſelf; or doſt deride, thy ſelf alone wilt bear.

13. A fooliſh Woman is noiſy, ſimple, and does not know what.

14. Such a one ſits at the Door of her Houſe, upon a Seat at the high Places of the City;

15. To call to thoſe who paſs along the Way, that are right in their Paths,

16. Whoever is ſimple, let him turn aſide hither: as for him that wants Senſe, ſhe alſo ſays to him,

17. Liquor ſtolen is ſweet, and Victuals in private Places is pleaſant.

18. Whereas he does not know that the Deceaſed are there, her Gueſts in the Depths of the Grave.

CHAP. X.

THE Proverbs of Solomon. A wiſe Child makes the Father glad; but a fooliſh one is the Sorrow of its Mother.

2. Treaſures of Wickedneſs are unprofitable; whereas Righteouſneſs delivers from Death.

3. The Lord will not let the Stomach of the Righteous be hungry, but will drive away the Subſtance of the Wicked.

4. He will be poor who works with a deceitful Hand; but the Hand of the Diligent will make rich.

5. He that gets together in the Summer

Ver. 30. ſmiling] Since the Heb. Word does not ſignify rejoycing, as may be ſeen by comparing other Places, by Buxt. &c. this ſeems more ſuitable than either laughing or playing.

Ver. 33. Inſtruction] Demophilus ſays in his Similitudes, Ἡ παιδεία ὁμοία ἐστὶ χρυσῷ στεφάνῳ· καὶ γὰρ τιμὴν ἔχει καὶ τὸ λυσιτέλες. To be well inſtructed is like a golden Crown; for it is both honourable and profitable.

Ib. reject] Our Tranſlators might take [it] from the old Lat. but not from the Heb. unleſs by miſtaking the laſt Letter of the Verb for a Prepoſition, which ſeems to be the Caſe.

Ver. 1. its Houſe] Grotius ſays Corpus humanum, the Body of Man; and interprets the ſeven Pillars to be the five Senſes, with the Voice and Memory.

Ver. 3. Battlements] Heb. Wings.

Ver. 4. deceitful] that ſpoiling the Work, and being diſhoneſt is unproſperous; ſee Annot. of Jun. and Trem. there being Nothing of ſlack in the Heb.

Ib. diligent] La diligenza, ſays the Italian Proverb, è madre de la buona ſorté, Diligence is the Mother of good Fortune.

is a Son who conſiders: he who is faſt aſleep in the Harveſt, is one that makes aſhamed.

6. Bleſſings are on the Head of the Righteous; but Violence covers the Mouth of the Wicked.

7. The Remembrance of the Righteous is for a Bleſſing; but the Name of the Wicked will rot.

8. He that is of a wiſe Heart will receive the Commandments; but a fooliſh Talker will be diſquieted.

9. He who walks in Integrity goes ſecurely: but he that perverts his Way will be made known.

10. He who winks with the Eye gives Grief; and a fooliſh Talker will be diſquieted.

11. The Mouth of the Righteous is a Spring of Life; but Violence covers the Mouth of the Wicked.

12. Hatred ſtirs up Contentions; but Love covers over all Tranſgreſſions.

13. Wiſdom is found in the Lips of the Prudent; but a Stick is for the Back of him who wants Senſe.

14. The Wiſe lay up Knowledge; but the Mouth of the Fooliſh is near Calamity.

15. The Wealth of the Rich is his ſtrong City; the Calamity of the Poor is their Poverty.

16. The Work of the Righteous is for Life; the Increaſe of the Wicked for Sin.

17. The Path to Life is of him who keeps Inſtruction; but he that leaves Reproof cauſes to go aſtray.

18. He who covers Hatred with falſe Lips, and brings forth an ill Report, is a Fool.

19. Tranſgreſſion does not ceaſe in a Multitude of Words; but he who reſtrains his Lips conſiders.

20. The Tongue of the Righteous is as choice Silver; the Heart of the Wicked is of little Value.

21. The Lips of the Righteous feed many; but the Fooliſh die for want of Senſe.

22. The Bleſſing of the Lord is what makes rich; and he adds no Grief with it.

23. It is as Sport to a Fool to do Miſchief; but a Man of Underſtanding has Wiſdom.

24. The very Dread of the Wicked that will come on him; whereas the Deſire of the Righteous will be given.

25. As the Whirlwind paſſes away, thus the Wicked is gone; but the Righteous is founded for ever,

26. As Vinegar to the Teeth, and as Smoak to the Eyes, ſo is the Slothful to thoſe who ſend him.

27. The Fear of the Lord adds Days; but the Years of the Wicked will be ſhortened.

28. The Hope of the Righteous is Gladneſs; but the Expectation of the Wicked periſhes.

29. The Way of the Lord is Strength to the Perfect; but Calamity is for the Workers of Iniquity.

30. The Righteous will never be moved; but the Wicked ſhall not inhabit the Earth.

31. The Mouth of the Righteous is fruitful with Wiſdom; but a froward Tongue will be cut off.

32. The Lips of the Righteous know Favour, but the Mouth of the Wicked Frowardneſs.

CHAP. XI.

DECEITFUL Scales are Abomination to the Lord; but a perfect Weight is to his liking.

2. Pride coming, Baſeneſs will come; but Wiſdom is with the Modeſt.

3. The Integrity of the Upright will lead them; as the Perverſeneſs of the Treacherous will waſte theſe.

4. Wealth will be unprofitable in the Day of Wrath; but Righteouſneſs will deliver from Death.

5. The Righteouſneſs of the Perfect will make his Way right; whereas the Wicked will fall in his Wickedneſs.

Ver. 6. Violence, &c.] his own violent Dealing ſtops him from ſpeaking; ſee Ver. 11. where the Oppoſition of the Sentences is clearer.

Ver. 8. diſquieted] as the two famous Jewiſh Writers Sol. Jar. and Levi expound it, as Jun. and Trem. tranſlate, and Buxt. has it in his Lexic. and Concord. It is paſſive in the Original as here.

Ver. 10. and] For Vice, as Mercer and Poole write, is not here oppoſed to Virtue, but one Vice is compared to another; and the Repetition from Ver. 8. need not be wondered at, if we conſider the Frequency of them in the Scripture and other Books too. Yet two or three of the old Tranſlators ſtumbling at it, have but he that reproves with Freedom makes Peace; which the Author of the Preſent State of the Printed Hebrew Text lays hold of, and ſtruggles to make the Heb. appear mistranſcribed from Ver. 8. but we are not to part with the Original for Imaginations, nor yet for Tranſlations, ſo few too, following one another; when he did not find his Amendment in any of the 70 MS Copies, with which he would correct the printed ones.

Ver. 15. Calamity] not deſtruction.

Ver. 17. leaves] and not refuſes in the Orig. and the following Verb is in the Conjug. which ſignifies to cauſe or make ſome other do Something; whence we may conclude, with De Dieu, this is ſpoken of ſuch as are to give, not receive Reproof, as likewiſe the former Part.

Ver. 1. Scales] Don't ſtep, ſaid Pythagoras, over the Beam of the Scales, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 5. Righteouſneſs] Plato, according to Diog. Laertius in his Life, made perfect Virtue to conſiſt in four Things, φρόνησις, δικαιοσύνη, ἀνδρεία, σωφροσύνη; Prudence, Juſtice, Fortitude and Temperance. And Metopus in his Book Of Virtue writes, Ἀρετὰ ἐντὶ ἀνθρώπω τελειότας φύσι ἀνθρώπω, Man's Virtue is the Perfection of human Nature.

Ib. will make his Way right] How ineſtimable is this divine Sentence!

6. The Righteouſneſs of the Upright will deliver them; but the Treacherous will be taken in Frowardneſs.

7. When a wicked Man dies, Expectation periſhes, as does alſo the Hope of Power.

8. The Righteous is delivered from Diſtreſs, and the Wicked comes in his room.

14. Without Policy a People falls; whereas there is Safety in the Multitude of Counſellors.

15. He will be utterly broke that is engaged for a Stranger; but he who hates ſtriking Hands is ſecure.

16. A Woman of Grace holds Honour, as terrible Men do Riches.

17. A kind Man is bountiful to his Soul; but the cruel troubles his own Fleſh.

18. The Wicked does the Work of Falſehood; but for him who ſows Righteouſneſs is the Reward of Truth.

19. Righteouſneſs is right for Life; and he that purſues Evil for his Death.

20. Thoſe of perverſe Heart are Abomination to the Lord; but thoſe of perfect Way are to his liking.

21. With Hand to Hand, the Evil will not be quit; but the Offspring of the Righteous will be delivered.

22. As a Jewel of Gold in a Hog's Noſe, is a Woman who is fair, and void of Reaſon.

23. The Deſire of the Righteous has only Good: the Expectation of the Wicked has Wrath.

24. There is he who diſperſes, and there is ſtill Increaſe; and he who keeps back more than is right, only to be in Want.

25. The Perſon that bleſſes will be made fat; as for him who waters, he will alſo be watered.

26. Him that with-holds Wheat, the Nation will curſe; but a Bleſſing will be on the Head of him who ſells.

27. He who enquires early for Good, aſks for Favour; and he that ſeeks for Evil, it will come to him.

28. He will fall who truſts in his Riches; but the Righteous will flouriſh as a Leaf.

29. He that diſturbs his Family will poſſeſs the Wind, and the Fool will be Servant to him of a wiſe Heart.

30. The Fruit of the Righteous is a Tree of Life, and he who gains Souls is wiſe.

31. Behold the Righteous is recompenſed on the Earth, much more the Wicked and Sinner.

CHAP. XII.

HE who loves Inſtruction, loves Knowledge; but he that hates Reproof is brutiſh.

2. The Good obtains Favour from the Lord; but a Man of heinous Things he will condemn.

3. Mankind is not eſtabliſhed in Wickedneſs; but the Root of the Righteous will not be moved.

4. A Woman of Ability is a Crown to her Huſband; whereas ſhe who makes aſhamed is like Rottenneſs in his Bones.

Ver. 7. Power] as the Word indiſputably ſignifies, and Mercer comments: accordingly Mont. tranſlates it roborum, the ſtrong; Jun. and Trem. have ſpes valentiſſima, the moſt powerful Hope.

Ver. 13. a Secret] Chilo being aſked what was difficult? anſwered notably, Τὸ τὰ ἀπόῤῥητα σιωπῆσαι, καὶ σχολὴν εὖ διαθέσθαι, καὶ ἀδικούμενον δύνασθαι φέρειν. Not to divulge Secrets, to diſpoſe of one's Leiſure-time well, and to be able to bear Injuries, Diog. Laert. in Vit.

Ver. 16. Honour] The Gr. has thruſt in here, but the Woman who hates Righteouſneſs is a Throne of Diſgrace. Slothful ones with Riches become needy; which ſeems to have been an additional Paraphraſe, and ſo brought into that Text, and from thence to the Syr. and Arab.

Ver. 17. bountiful] not niggardly, as Miſers.

Ib. Fleſh] brings Puniſhment on his own Body, as well as Soul.

Ver. 18. The Wicked does the Work] but the Righteous has the Reward, and how different! according to what follows; which might be finely unfolded and expatiated on, but too large for me here, and ſpoiled in the com. Tranſ.

Ver. 19. right] This otherwiſe ſignifies ſo, though not as, but has a wrong Poſition in the Heb. for that.

Ver. 21. Hand] Upon which, writes Patrick, there are as many Gloſſes almoſt as Interpreters: I take it with him to mean Confederacy with others.

Ver. 23. has] or as Jun. and Trem. render, To the Deſire of the Righteous comes to paſs only Good.

Ib. Wrath] of God: as if he had ſaid, A virtuous Perſon will have what he deſires, with a Bleſſing; and a wicked one not what he properly deſires at all, but what he looks for, with a Curſe, that is generally.

Ver. 29. diſturbs his Family] ſtulta adminiſtratione ſua, by his own ſilly Management, Jun. and Trem. as Grot. expounds it to be one, qui neque ordinem neque modum ſervat in adminiſtratione rei familiaris, who keeps neither Order nor Meaſure in managing his houſhold Affairs.

Ib. poſſeſs the Wind] have but little Subſtance left to poſſeſs.

Ver. 31. recompenſed] for doing Ill, agreeable to 1 Pet. iv. 17, with Jun. Merc. and Patr.

5. The Thoughts of the Righteous are Judgment, the Policies of the Wicked Deceit.

6. The Words of the Wicked are to lie in wait for Blood; but the Mouth of the Upright will deliver them.

26. The Righteous is more excellent than his Neighbour; but the Way of the Wicked cauſes them to go aſtray.

27. The Deceitful does not roaſt what he catches by hunting; but the Subſtance of an induſtrious Man is precious.

28. In the Path of Righteouſneſs is Life, and at the Way of the Foot-path no Death.

CHAP. XIII.

A WISE Son hears the Inſtruction of a Father, but a Derider not Rebuke.

2. A Man from the Fruit of his Mouth will eat Good, but the Soul of the Treacherous Violence.

3. He who keeps his Mouth, preſerves his Life: he that puts open his Lips, has Calamity.

4. The Stomach of the Slothful deſires, and there is Nothing; but the Stomach of the Induſtrious will be made fat.

Ver. 6. them] for whoſe Blood the Wicked lie in wait, which is to be underſtood.

Ver. 10. Deſire] or Appetite; and knows, as the Heb. Verb is, how his Beaſt is fed.

Ib. cruel] attended with Cruelty, ſo as to be cruel rather than compaſſionate; which plain Meaning, it may be wondered, any ſhould expound away.

Ver. 11. things] as Jun. and Trem. render, and ſhew, and which ſeems a fitter Oppoſite to tilling Ground than Perſons.

Ver. 12. Fortification] matzud, as Job xix. 6. from tzud, to hunt, being a Net; not matzod, as here, from metzad, a Fort: ſo Jun. and Trem. render it præſidium.

Ver. 16. Diſcreet] I have obſerved that this Heb. Adjective, which oftenеſt occurs, with the Subſtantive and Verb, are all ſtill uſed in a good Signification throughout this Book, or by Solomon, but every where elſe in the Scripture with a bad Meaning of crafty, &c.. If it is of any Uſe to inform the Reader, I may add, that there is another Word for Prudent, as Ch. xviii. 15.

Ver. 18. pronounces] By Theodotion, is confident, as if בוטח had been בוטח

Ver. 19. is but for a Moment] As the Truth will ſoon be diſcovered.

Ver. 25. cauſes—makes] according to the Heb.

Ver 27. Deceitful] So the Word is here and Ver. 24. not ſlothful; it being ſhewn that a deceitful Perſon, who is not truſty in Buſineſs, will be kept under, and not enjoy what he gets.

Ver. 28. no] By taking אַל for אֶל have been produced the following Interpretations: with the Seventy, ὁδοὶ δὲ μνησικάκων εἰς θάνατον, but the Ways of thoſe who are mindful of Injuries are to Death; in the Targum, וְאוֹרַח דְּיַוְתָנָא לְמוֹתָא and the Way of a perverſe one is to Death; vulg. Lat. iter autem devium ducit ad mortem, but the byway (as the College of Doway render that into Eng.) leadeth to death; ſo Caſtal. has, via devia ducit ad mortem; and the Tigur. Verſ. both Senſes thus, et hæc ipſa ad mortem nequaquam ducet, and this it ſelf will not at all lead to Death. But if thoſe Tranſlators had kept as ſtrictly to the reſt of the Heb. Words as אל they would not have coined ſuch foreign Meanings.

5. The Righteous hates a falſe Word; but the Wicked cauſes to ſtink, and makes aſhamed.

6. Righteouſneſs keeps him of a perfect Way; but Wickedneſs perverts the Sinner.

7. There is he who feigns himſelf rich without any Thing, he who feigns himſelf poor with much Subſtance.

8. The Ranſom of a Perſon's Life are his Riches; but the Poor does not hear Rebuke.

9. The Light of the Righteous will be glad; but the Lamp of the Wicked be extinguiſhed.

10. By Pride is given only Contention; but with thoſe who take counſel is Wiſdom.

11. Subſtance by Vanity will become little; but of him who gathers together by the Hand it will be much.

12. Hope delayed makes the Heart ſick; but the Deſire coming is a Tree of Life.

7. Go at a diſtance from a fooliſh Man, when thou knoweſt there are not the Lips of Knowledge.

8. The Wiſdom of the Diſcreet is to underſtand his Way, but the Folly of the Fooliſh Deceit.

9. Fools deride Guilt; but Favour is among the Upright.

10. The Heart knows the Bitterneſs of it ſelf; and a Stranger does not mix himſelf with its Gladneſs.

11. The Houſe of the Wicked will be deſtroyed; but the Tent of the Upright will flouriſh.

Ver. 5. makes] Theſe two Verbs are in the Conjug. Hiphil, which is active in the ſtrongeſt Degree; and thus Kimhi takes it.

Ver. 7. feigns] as Words of this peculiar Conjugation are rendered in the com. Tranſ. 2 Sam. xiv. 2. 1 King. xiv. 6. and as is evidently meant here.

Ver. 8. but] A poor Man eſcapes Reproof, in Caſes where the Life of the rich is in danger, as in publick Affairs.

Ver. 15. gives Favour] to thoſe themſelves who have good Underſtanding.

Ver. 17. Meſſenger] The Septuag. ſay King, miſtaking מלאך for, or rather interpreting it by מלך

Ver. 20. become evil] Jun. and Trem. efficietur pejor, will be made worſe; Caſt. malo afficietur, will be made bad, and the Tig. Verſ. the like.

Ver. 22. is laid up for the Righteous] Since the Sinner or Miſer who lays it up, does no Good with it, but perverts the Uſe of it; Money, as our Engliſh Solomon, Sir Fran. Bacon ſays, being like Muck or Dung, not good except it be ſpread, Eſſay 15.

Ver. 23. a great deal] viz. by their Induſtry.

Ib. new-broke Ground] as the Farmers call it, and according to the Heb. with Jer. iv. 3. Hoſ. x. 12. theſe being all the Places where it is.

Ver. 1. own] without which with her Hands might be no more neceſſary than to the firſt Part.

Ver. 7. at a diſtance from] Look towards the End of the Pref. for the various Ways of turning this in the com. Tranſ. from whence Patrick imagining the Heb. alſo ſignifies before, expounds it too in that Senſe by, Obſerve a Fool: whereas if that Meaning had any Foundation, it would be overturned here by what follows.

Ver. 8. Deceit] viz. to underſtand it, which makes good Senſe, and is Deceit ſcarce any: thus alſo Jun. as I obſerved after.

12. There is a Way that is right before a Man, but the End of it is the Avenues of Death.

13. Even in Laughter the Heart may grieve, and the End of Joy it ſelf may be Sorrow.

14. He who is turned away in Heart, will be filled from his own Ways; but a good Man from above himſelf.

34. Virtue advances a Nation; whereas Sin is a Reproach to ſeveral.

35. The Favour of the King is for an underſtanding Servant; but his Indignation for him who makes aſhamed.

CHAP. XV.

A Soft Anſwer turns away Wrath; but a grievous Word brings up Anger.

2. The Tongue of the Wiſe uſes Knowledge well; but the Mouth of the Fooliſh utters forth Folly.

3. The Eyes of the Lord are in every Place, watching the Evil and the Good.

4. The Healing of the Tongue is a Tree of Life; but Perverſeneſs in it is a Breaking to the Spirit.

5. A Fool contemns the Correction of his Father; but he who obſerves Reproof is diſcreet.

Ver. 14. from his own Ways] viz. from the ill Effects of them.

Ib. a good Man] who is not turned away; like the other, from Good.

Ib. from above himſelf] from Something divine, as Chap. xv. 24. which being exactly literal from the Heb. as Montan. has it deſuper, makes a good Antitheſis, or ſuitable Oppoſite to the foregoing Member; but in the com. Bib. contrary Perſons are made much the ſame.

Ver. 16. fears, and departs] Cleanthes was reproached for being fearful; But therefore, ſaid he, I ſeldom do amiſs, Diog. Laert. in Vit.

Ib. Evil] When Antiſthenes was aſked what Learning was moſt neceſſary? He anſwered, ſays Diog. Laert. Τὸ κακὰ ἀπομαθεῖν, To unlearn what is evil.

Ib. is in a Wrath] Chald. Targ. מִתְחַלַּט בְּסַכְלוּתָא mingles himſelf with Fooliſhneſs, which laſt Word is neither in Buxtorf's great Chal. Lexicon, nor in Caſtellus's; and the LXX have μίγνυται ἀνόμῳ, mingles with the Unrighteous: both taking, as Schindler notes in his Lex. the Heb. Word מִתְעַבֵּר from עִרְבֵּב inſtead of עִבֵּר by Metatheſis or Tranſpoſition of two Letters, Faults which they are divers times guilty of.

Ver. 18. compaſs] active, and even in the Conjug. Hiphil.

Ver. 23. Talk] Zeno, when he was aſked why we have two Ears, and but one Mouth, ſaid, Becauſe we ſhould hear more than we ſpeak, as Diog. Laert. writes in his Life.

Ver. 24. moſt fooliſh] as Heb. Words may ſignify ſuperlatively.

Ver. 26. his] who fears the Lord, underſtood from the Foregoing.

Ver. 30. Mind] For the Heart is Fleſh it ſelf.

Ib. Envy] As Iron by the Ruſt, ſaid Antiſthenes, ſo are envious Perſons conſumed by Envy, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 34. ſeveral] Being here plural, and of the ſame Meaning as Nation before.

Ver. 3. watching] Diocles the Magneſian in his Excurſion of the Philoſophers, quoted by Diog. Laertius in the Life of Zeno, ſays that according to the Stoics, the Apprehenſion of ſome Things is by Senſe, as white and black, rough and ſmooth (which the Lat. and Eng. Tranſ. have differently tranſpoſed) of others by Λόγος, the Intelligence of the Mind, as that there is a God, and that he takes care of this World; which admit of Demonſtration.

Ver. 4. Perverſeneſs in it is a Breaking to the Spirit] But the Sept. he that preſerves it will be filled in Spirit: for which Simon ſays, Crit. Hiſt. B. ii. Ch. 5. he thinks συντηρῶν was before φθείρων; a ſtrange Corruption indeed! I will attempt at a likelier, I ſuppoſe then שבר was miſtaken for שכר and that סלף being ſcarce, and ſo more uncertain, was accommodated thus to the other.

Ver. 5. Correction] as rendered Ver. 10. and by Pagn. Munſt. Leo Jud. and Merc. which may anſwer better to Reproof, and well to Father.

6. There is much Store in the Houſe of the Righteous; whereas it is troubled by the Increaſe of the Wicked.

7. The Lips of the Wiſe ſcatter about Knowledge, but the Heart of the Fooliſh not ſo.

8. The Sacrifice of the Wicked is Abomination to the Lord; but the Prayer of the Upright is to his liking.

9. An Abomination to the Lord is the Way of the Wicked; but him who purſues after Righteouſneſs he loves.

10. Correction is ill to him who forſakes the Path, he that hates Reproof ſhall die.

11. Hell and Perdition are before the Lord, much more the Hearts of Mankind.

12. A Derider does not love one who reproves him, he will not go to the Wiſe.

13. A glad Heart makes the Face look well; but by Grief of the Heart is a bruiſed Spirit.

14. An underſtanding Heart ſeeks Knowledge; but the Mouth of the Fooliſh feeds on Folly.

15. All the Days of the Afflicted are ill; but a chearful Heart is a continual Feaſt.

16. A Little with the Fear of the Lord, is better than much Treaſure, and Vexation with it.

17. Proviſion of Pot-herbs, and Love there, is better than a fatted Ox, and Hatred with it.

18. A Man of Wrath mixes Contention; but he who is delaying of Anger pacifies Strife.

19. The Way of the Slothful is like a Hedge of Briers; but the Path of the Upright is caſt up.

20. A wiſe Son makes the Father glad; but the Fooliſh among Men deſpiſes his Mother.

21. Folly is Gladneſs to him who wants Senſe; but a Man of Underſtanding cauſes to go right.

22. Thoughts are each made void without Counſel; whereas by the Multitude of Counſellors it ſtands.

23. A Man has Gladneſs by the Anſwer of his Mouth; and how good a Word is in its Time!

24. The Path of Life is above for him who conſiders, that he may depart from Hell below.

25. The Lord will pluck away the Houſe of the Proud; but will ſet up the Bounds of the Widow.

26. The Thoughts of the Evil are Abomination to the Lord; but of the Pure are pleaſant Sayings.

27. He troubles his Family that is wholly given to Gain; but he who hates Gifts will live.

28. The Heart of the Righteous meditates how to anſwer; but the Mouth of the Wicked utters forth evil Things.

29. The Lord is far off from the Wicked; but he hears the Prayer of the Righteous.

30. The Light of the Eyes makes the Heart glad, good News makes the Bones fat.

31. The Ear that hears the Reproof of Life, will abide among the Wiſe.

32. He that rejects Inſtruction, deſpiſes his own Soul; but he who hears Reproof, gets Senſe.

33. The Fear of the Lord is the Inſtruction of Wiſdom; and Humility is before Honour.

CHAP. XVI.

OF Men are the Diſpoſitions of the Heart; but the Anſwer of the Tongue is from the Lord.

2. All the Ways of a Man are pure in his own Sight; but the Lord conſiders the Spirits.

3. Commit thy Deeds to the Lord, and thy Thoughts will be eſtabliſhed.

4. The Lord works all Things for his own ſake; and even the Wicked is for the Day of Ill.

Ver. 6. it is troubled) viz. a Houſe, according to the Jewiſh Rab. Levi and others, as Mercer relates; for thus the Heb. is, being a paſſive Verb.

Ver. 7. ſcatter about] Symmachus turned it φυλάσσουσιν keep, which was as if the Letter zain in the Heb. Word had been zade, that being like s ſoft, this like a hard z.

Ver. 8. Abomination] Bias being once on a Voyage with ſome wicked Perſons in a Tempeſt, when they called upon God, Σιγᾶτε (ἔφη) μὴ αἴσθωνται ὑμᾶς ἐνθάδε πλέοντας, Hold your tongues (ſaid he) leſt he ſhould take notice you are ſailing here, Diog. Laert. in his Life.

Ver. 15. chearful] but merry ſeems much to debaſe it; nor is this the ſame as in Ver. 13.

Ver. 16. Vexation] For according to the Italian Proverb, Alta Fortuna alto Travaglio apporto, Great Fortune brings great Misfortune.

Ver. 19. Briers] denoting Difficulties and Perplexities, by reaſon of Sloth.

Ver. 30. Light] for Sight.

Ib. glad] by ſeeing delightful Things.

Ver. 1. Diſpoſitions] So Mont. has diſpoſitiones, Caſt. compoſitio, Leo Jud. eſt diſponere, it is to diſpoſe, and the vulg. Lat. eſt præparare.

Ib. but] Thus Jun. and Trem. Munſt. Caſtal. Leo Jud. Mercer, and the Geneva Bib. agreeable to Ver. 9. and Ch. xix. 21. and Patrick ſays, our Tranſlation ſeems to have miſſed the Senſe, by aſcribing both to the Lord.

Ver. 4. works] which this Heb. Word properly ſignifies, and others commonly made.

Ib. is] this latter Part of the Verſe being ſeparated from the other by a great Point, and ſo unlikely to belong to the Verb there, eſpecially as the Verb-ſubſtantive is frequently underſtood, or implied, in Heb.

Ib. for the Day of Ill] to be puniſhed for the ſake of God's Juſtice; ſee alſo Grotius's Letter 91.

5. Every

5. Every one of a lofty Heart is an Abomination to the Lord, with Hand to Hand he will not be quit.

6. Iniquity is purged away by Kindneſs and Truth, and there is departing from Evil by the Fear of the Lord.

7. When the Lord is pleaſed with the Ways of a Man, he makes even his Enemies have peace with him.

8. A little with Honeſty, is better than Abundance of Increaſe without Right.

9. The Heart of Man contrives his own Way; but the Lord eſtabliſhes his Step.

10. There is an Oracle in the Lips of a King, his Mouth does not plead falſely in Judgment.

11. The Balance and Scales of Judgment are of the Lord, all the Weights of the Bag are his Work.

12. It is Abomination for Kings to do Wickedneſs; becauſe the Throne is eſtabliſhed by Righteouſneſs.

13. The Will of Kings is the Lips of Righteouſneſs, and each loves the Speaker of upright Things.

14. The Wrath of the King is Meſſengers of Death; but a wiſe Man pacifies it.

15. In the Light of the King's Countenance is Life, and his Favour is as a thick Cloud of the latter Rain.

16. How good it is to get Wiſdom rather than Gold! And to get Underſtanding is to be choſen more than Silver.

17. The High-way of the Upright is to depart from Evil: he who keeps his Way, preſerves his Soul.

18. Pride is before Breaking, and a lofty Spirit before a Fall.

19. One of a humble Spirit with the Afflicted, is better than he that divides the Spoil with the Proud.

20. He who conſiders of a Thing finds Good; and he who truſts in the Lord is bleſſed.

21. A Perſon of a wiſe Heart will be called prudent; and the Sweetneſs of the Lips adds Doctrine.

22. Underſtanding is a Fountain of Life to the Owners of it; but the Inſtruction of Fools is Folly.

23. The Heart of the Wiſe inſtructs his Mouth, and adds Doctrine to his Lips.

24. Pleaſant Sayings are as a Honey-comb, ſweet to the Soul, and healing to the Bones.

25. There is a Way that is right before a Man, but the End of it is the Avenues of Death.

26. A troubleſome Perſon troubles himſelf; for his Mouth turns back upon him.

27. An ungodly Man digs up Evil, and in his Lips there is like burning Fire.

28. A froward Man ſends forth Contention; and a Whiſperer ſeparates a Leader.

29. A violent Man entices his Neighbour, and cauſes him to go in a Way not good:

30. He winks his Eyes to contrive Frowardneſs, wagging his Lips he accompliſhes Evil.

31. A Crown of Glory is grey Hair that is found in the Way of Righteouſneſs.

32. He who is delaying of Anger, is better than the Powerful; and he who has dominion over his Temper, than he that takes a City.

33. The Lot is caſt into the Boſom, but all the Judgment of it is from the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

A DRY Bit, and Quietneſs with it, is better than a Houſe full of Sacrifices with Strife.

2. An underſtanding Servant will have dominion over a Son who makes aſhamed, and will divide the Poſſeſſion among the Brethren.

3. The trying Veſſel is for Silver, and the Furnace for Gold; but the Prover of Hearts is the Lord.

4. An Evil-doer hearkens to the Lip of Iniquity: a falſe one gives ear to the Tongue of Frowardneſs.

5. He that ſcoffs at the Poor, reproaches

Ver. 5. Hand] See Ch. xi. 21.

Ver. 6. by the Fear] So Henry Lord, in his little Treatiſe ſo much eſteemed, intitled, The Religion of the Perſees, pr. at Lond. in quarto 1630, gives it as one of their Rules of Living for every one, To have ſuch a Fear of God always preſent with them, as not to commit Sin.

Ver. 15. In the Light] when he looks pleaſed.

Ver. 26. turns back] as the Heb. Verb ſignifies, not craveth; in which Manner Munſt. with Jun. and Trem. tranſlate the Verſe: but this latter Part is done ſtrangely by the Sept. and forces his own Deſtruction; but he that is perverſe in his Mouth brings Deſtruction; perhaps they tranſlated it twice, for fear once ſhould not be right.

Ver. 27. there is like] Septuag. he treaſures up; which Maldonate the Jeſuit, as quoted by Patr. confirms by the Spaniſh Inquiſition, whereby he that ſpeaks raſhly againſt the Faith, is deſervedly delivered up to the Fire, which, adds he, I wiſh were done every where: yet I find his great Skill in expounding the Scripture (in his Commentaries) is much extolled, particularly by Jackſon on the Creed, Lib. iii. Cap. 13, 15.

Ver. 28. ſeparates a Leader] from thoſe whom he leads; the Heb. Word being ſingular, and ſignifying thus.

Ver. 31. that is found] Non cani, non rugæ repente auctoritatem arripere poſſunt; ſed honeſte acta ſuperior ætas fructus capit auctoritatis extremos:

Not from gray Hairs Authority doth flow,
Nor from bald Heads, nor from a wrinkled Brow;
But our paſt Life, when virtuouſly ſpent,
Muſt to our Age thoſe happy Fruits preſent.

his Maker: he who is glad at Calamity, will not be quit.

6. The Crown of the Ancient are Children's Children; and the Ornament of Children are their Fathers.

7. The Lip of Excellency is not comely to a vile Perſon, much leſs the Lip of Falſehood to a Noble.

8. A Gift is a Stone of Favour in the Sight of him who has it, whitherſoever it turns, it proſpers.

9. He who covers Traſgreſſion, ſeeks Love, but he that repeats a Thing, ſeparates a Leader.

10. A Rebuke goes down into him who underſtands, more than a hundred Strokes into the Fooliſh.

11. The Evil ſeeks only Rebellion, ſo a cruel Meſſenger will be ſent againſt him.

12. A Bear deprived of its Young may meet a Man, but not the Fooliſh in his Folly.

13. He that returns Evil for Good, Evil will not depart from his Houſe.

14. The Beginning of Contention is like one letting out Water, ſo leave Strife before it is meddled with.

15. He that juſtifies the Wicked, and he that condemns the Righteous, are even both of them Abomination to the Lord.

16. Why is the Pay with the Fooliſh, to get Wiſdom, when there is no Senſe?

17. A Friend loves at all Times, and a Brother is born for Diſtreſs.

18. A Man that wants Senſe ſtrikes the Hand, entering into an Engagement before his Friend.

19. He who loves Debate, loves Tranſgreſſion: he that exalts his Gate, ſeeks Breaking.

20. One of a perverſe Heart does not find Good; and he who is changeable with his Tongue, falls into Evil.

21. He that begets the Fooliſh it is to his Sorrow, and the Father of a vile Perſon is not glad.

22. A glad Heart makes a good Medicine; but a bruiſed Spirit dries up the Bones.

23. The Wicked takes a Gift from the Boſom, to turn aſide the Paths of Judgment.

24. Wiſdom is in the Countenance of him who underſtands; but the Eyes of the Fooliſh are at the End of the Earth.

25. A fooliſh Son is Indignation to his Father, and Bitterneſs to her who bore him.

26. Even to puniſh the Righteous is not well, to ſmite Nobles for Right.

27. He who is acquainted with Knowledge reſtrains his Sayings: a Man of Underſtanding is of a precious Spirit.

28. Even a Fool who holds his peace is eſteemed wiſe, he that ſhuts his Lips prudent.

CHAP. XVIII.

HE who with Deſire ſeeks being ſeparated, meddles with all ſubſtantial Matter.

2. The Fooliſh does not delight in Underſtanding, but for his Heart to diſcover it ſelf.

3. When the Wicked comes, there comes alſo Contempt, and with Vileneſs Reproach.

4. The Words of a Man's Mouth are

Ὑψηλὰς ἐπέθηκεν, ὃ ὄἴζεται αἰπὺν ὄλεθρον, and he who for Pride puts a lofty Gate to his Houſe, ſeeks heavy Ruin: for the literal Senſe may claim the Preference.

Ver. 26. puniſh] for Something amiſs, when he is otherwiſe righteous; ſince his Righteouſneſs will correct him.

Ib. well] Theſe being Matters of Prudence, rather than Virtue.

Ib. for Right] to have one's Right; as that may occaſion him to do more Wrong.

Ver. 27. reſtrains] One of the wiſe Sayings of Thales, as given by Diogenes Laertius in his Life, is, Οὔ τι τὰ πολλὰ ἔπη φρονίμην ἀπεφήνατο δοξάν. Which the Eng. Tranſlation, from the Lat. one, Non multa Verba prudentis animi Indicium ſunt, inſtead of the Original, has, Few Words are the Sign of a prudent Judgment. Whereas it ſhould be, Not to have many Words ſhews a prudent Reputation, or a Perſon in Credit: for ſuch as are not in Reputation commonly endeavour to talk themſelves into it, as the imprudent are apt to talk themſelves out of it.

Ver. 28. holds his peace] Theophraſtus obſerving a Man ſilent in Company, ſaid to him, If thou art a Fool, thou actſt wiſely; but if a wiſe Man, fooliſhly, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 1. He] Moſt Interpreters taking this for the Fooliſh in the next Ver. expound accordingly; but to me with Deſire ſeeks and does not delight in the ſame, are too inconſiſtent for the ſame Perſon.

Ib. ſeparated] Somebody that blamed Chryſippus, for not keeping Company with others: at another Philoſopher's Houſe, was anſwered by him, If I ſhould mind much Company, I ſhall not be a right Philoſopher, Laertius in Vit.

Ver. 2. diſcover it ſelf] i. e. ſhew its Folly and Diſpoſition.

deep Water, the Fountain of Wiſdom is a ſpringing Flood.

5. To reſpect the Face of the Wicked is not good, to turn aſide the Righteous in Judgment.

6. The Lips of the Fooliſh enter into Strife, and his Mouth calls for Blows.

7. The Mouth of the Fooliſh is Calamity to him, and his Lips are the Snare of his Soul.

8. The Words of a Whiſperer are like thoſe who beat, and they go down to the inner Parts of the Body.

9. Even he that is negligent in his Work, is Brother to a Maſter of Deſtruction.

10. The Name of the Lord is a ſtrong Tower; the Righteous runs into it, and becomes high.

11. The Subſtance of the Rich is his ſtrong Town, and as a high Wall in his Imagination.

12. The Mind of a Man is lofty before Breaking; and Humility is before Honour.

13. To him who returns Word before he hears it out, that is Folly and Shame.

14. The Spirit of a man may ſuſtain his Diſeaſe; but as for a bruiſed Spirit, who can bear it?

15. The Heart of the Prudent gets Knowledge, and the Ear of the Wiſe ſeeks for the ſame.

16. The Gift of a Man makes way for him, and leads him before the Great.

17. He that is firſt in his Cauſe is juſt; but his Neighbour comes and ſearches him out.

18. The Lot cauſes Contentions to ceaſe, and parts between the Strong.

19. A Brother treſpaſſed againſt is more than a ſtrong Town, and the Contentions are as the Bar of a Caſtle.

20. By the Fruit of a Man's Mouth will his Belly be ſatisfied: he will be ſatisfied with the Increaſe of his Lips.

21. Death and Life are in the Power of the Tongue; and they that love it, will eat the Fruit of it.

22. He who finds a Wife finds Good, and obtains Favour from the Lord.

23. The Poor ſpeaks with Supplications; but the Rich anſwers with hard Things.

24. A Man with Friends is to make himſelf friendly; and there is a Lover who cleaves faſter than a Brother.

CHAP. XIX.

THE Poor who walks in his Integrity, is better than he that is perverſe with his Lips, and fooliſh.

2. Both for the Soul to be without Knowledge is not good, and he who is haſty with the Feet does amiſs.

3. The Folly of Man perverts his Way, and then he repines in his Heart at the Lord.

4. Subſtance adds many Friends; but the Decayed is ſeparated from his one.

5. A Witneſs of Falſehoods will not be quit, nor he that utters Lyes eſcape.

6. Many make ſupplication before a Noble, and every one is Friend to a Man of Gifts.

7. All the Brothers of the Poor flight him, much more are his Friends far off from him; though he follows with Words, they are Nought.

8. He who gets Senſe, loves his own Soul: he who keeps Underſtanding, finds Good.

9. A Witneſs of Falſehoods will not be quit, and he that utters Lyes will periſh.

10. Delight is not comely for the Fooliſh, much leſs for a Servant to have dominion over Princes.

Ver. 4. a ſpringing Flood] that has continual freſh Supplies.

Ver. 5. of the Wicked] The Vulg. adds to it in Judgment.

Ver. 6. calls for Blows] Sets People from Quarrelling to Fighting.

Ver. 11. high] Watts has Something like this in his Lyric Poem of Falſe Greatneſs,

So might the Plough-Boy climb a Tree,
When Cræſus mounts his Throne,
And both ſtand up, and ſmile to ſee
How long their Shadow's grown.
Alas! how vain their Fancies be
To think that Shape their own!

Ver. 14. Spirit] An Ailment of the Body is far more tolerable, than a troubled Conſcience or Mind.

Ver. 21. Tongue] Diog. Laertius relates it was inſcribed on the Statues of Anacharſis, Γλώσσης, γαστρὸς, αἰδοίων κρατεῖν, The Tongue, Belly, and ſecret Parts are to be reſtrained.

Ib. love it] the Tongue; that is love to talk.

Ver. 22. a Wife] To one who enquired of Menedemus, whether a good Man ſhould marry? (not a wiſe Man as in the Lat. Tranſ. nor whether he himſelf ſhould marry, as in the Eng. but σπουδαῖον a good Man) the Philoſopher ſaid, Doſt thou think me ſuch a one? which the Man allowing; Then, replied he, I am married, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 24. friendly] Cleobulus, as writes Diog. Laertius in his Life, ſays, Φυλάσσεσθαι τῶν μὲν φίλων, τὸν ψόγον· τῶν δὲ ἐχθρῶν, τὴν ἐπιβουλήν, One ſhould take care of being blamed by Friends, and of being inſnared by Foes:

Ver. 1. Lips, and fooliſh] Syr. Ways, and rich, to make an exact Antitheſis, which Solomon might not intend; and neither the Ver. before nor the two following have. The Pains taken by the Author of the Preſent State of the Printed Hebrew Text ſeem therefore ſuperfluous.

Ver. 2. Both] Ignorance and Hurry are both cautioned againſt, as being generally wrong.

Ver. 3. Folly] by want of Knowledge and by hurrying, as before.

Ver 4. one] Friend, as juſt before; and with how great Advantage!

Ver. 7. Nought] while our Engliſh turn it, as Amama takes notice, as if there was לא לו when לו to him is only put in the Marg. for לא Antibarb. Bib. p. 473.

11. The Underſtanding of Man delays his Anger, and it is his Glory to paſs over Tranſgreſſion.

12. The Indignation of a King is like the Roaring of a young Lion, but his Favour as the Dew upon the Graſs.

13. A fooliſh Son is the Calamity of his Father; and the Contentions of a Wife are a continual Dropping.

14. The Poſſeſſion of Fathers is a Houſe and Subſtance; but a prudent Wife is from the Lord.

15. Slothfulneſs cauſes to fall into a ſound Sleep; and the deceitful Perſon will be hungry.

16. He who keeps the Commandment, keeps his own Soul: he that deſpiſes his own Ways, will die.

17. He who ſhews Favour to the Decayed, lends to the Lord, who will pay him that which he beſtows.

18. Correct thy Son, when there is Hope; and let not thy Affection excuſe to the letting him die.

19. He that is of great Wrath will ſuffer Puniſhment; nay if thou delivereſt, thou muſt alſo do it again.

20. Hear Counſel, and receive Inſtruction, that thou mayeſt be wiſe at thy End.

21. There are many Thoughts in the Heart of a Man, but the Counſel of the Lord that will ſtand.

22. The Deſire of Mankind is his Kindneſs; and the Poor is better than a Man of Lyes.

23. The Fear of the Lord is for Life, and he who ſhall abide full of it, will not be viſited with Evil.

24. The Slothful hides his Hand in the Boſom, he will not even bring it back to his Mouth.

25. Smite the Scorner, ſo the Simple will be diſcreet; and reprove him that has Underſtanding, who will underſtand Knowledge.

26. He that waſtes a Father, that cauſes a Mother to flee, is a Son who makes aſhamed, and brings to Confuſion.

27. Leave off hearing Inſtruction, my Son, to err from the Sayings of Knowledge.

28. An ungodly Witneſs derides Judgment; and the Mouth of the Wicked ſwallows down Iniquity.

29. Judgments are prepared for Scorners, and Strokes for the Back of the Fooliſh.

CHAP. XX.

WINE is ſcornful, ſtrong Drink tumultuous; and any one who errs by it is unwiſe.

2. The Terror of the King is like the Roaring of a young Lion; he that puts him in a Wrath, offends againſt his own Life.

3. Ceaſing from Strife is Glory to a Man; but every Novice will be tampering.

4. The Slothful not ploughing becauſe of the Winter, begs at Harveſt, and there is Nothing.

5. Counſel in the Heart of a Man is as deep Water; but a Man of Underſtanding draws it up.

6. A Multitude of Men proclaim their reſpective Kindneſs; but a faithful Man who can find?

7. The Righteous going on continually in his Integrity, his Children are bleſſed after him.

8. The King ſitting upon the Throne of Judgment, ſcatters away all Evil with his Eyes.

Ver. 12. like—as] ſuitable to the different Matter, of terrible and mild.

Ver. 14. prudent Wife] Daughters ought to be married, ſays the wiſe Cleobulus, being Virgins in Age, and Women in Prudence: δεῖν συνοικίζειν τὰς θυγατέρας, παρθένους μὲν τὴν ἡλικίαν, τὸ φρονεῖν δὲ γυναῖκας, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 15. deceitful] not idle, the ſame as before.

Ib. be hungry] Becauſe People will not employ him, or deal with him.

Ver. 16. own] which is neceſſary, that it may be known whoſe his is, but is not neceſſary to Soul.

Ver. 18. to the letting or making him die] ſince by correcting him he will not die, Chap. xxiii. 13. that is in Hell, as the next Ver. ſhews; there being ſuch Likeneſs between divers of the Proverbs in diſtant Places: in this Senſe it is taken by the Septuagint, the Targummiſt, the vulg. Lat. Tranſlator, Pagnine, Jun. and Trem. Leo Judæ, Caſtalio, Grotius and Mercer; and there is no Proof of any ſuch Noun made from המה to ſignify crying.

Ver. 19. nay if] See on Jer. xxxvii. 10.

Ver. 22. Deſire] Good-will.

Ib. Poor] who can do no Kindneſs beſides wiſhing well.

Ib. Lyes] falſe Promiſes. In this Senſe the Terms, like the primary and ſecondary Planets, enlighten one another; and this I dare truſt for the right and beſt, though I know no other Interpreter that has it.

Ver. 25. Smite—reprove] Neither of theſe are imperative in Heb. but of that beautiful Expreſſion deſcribed at Hag. ii. 16. and with Variety here, the former being the 2d, the latter the 3d Perſon.

Ver. 2. Terror] for fear is improper, and ſcarce ſignified by the Heb. Word, which properly denotes this.

Ver. 5. draws it up] The Lord Bacon, as Patrick produces him, gives ſix Ways of knowing Men, by their Countenances, Words, Deeds, Nature, Ends, and the Relations of others; with this Obſervation among the reſt, that the weakeſt and ſimpleſt Sort of Perſons are beſt known by their Natures (or Inclinations) but the wiſeſt and moſt reſerved by their Ends and Aims, Advanc. of Learn. Lib. viii. 7.

Ver. 6. Kindneſs] which the Heb. Word properly ſignifies, ſcarce goodneſs at all in any other Senſe; and thus it is connective with the following, and the whole perſpicuous.

Ver. 8. ſcatters] Plato being aſked, what was the Duty of one that would govern well? anſwered in this Manner, To make the Condition of his Subjects better, Olympiodorus in his Life.

9. Who

9. Who can ſay, I have purified my Heart, I am clean from my Sin?

10. Different Weights, different Meaſures are even both of them Abomination to the Lord.

11. Even a Child makes himſelf known by his Doings, whether his Work is pure, and whether right.

12. The Ear for hearing, and Eye for ſeeing, were even both of them made by the Lord.

13. Do not love Sleep, leſt thou ſhouldeſt become poor: open thy Eyes, have Victuals enough.

14. It is bad, bad, ſays the Buyer; but being gone away, then he brags.

15. There is Gold, and a Multitude of Pearls, but the Lips of Knowledge are a precious Inſtrument.

16. Take his Garment, when one is engaged for a Stranger; and of him who is for an unknown Woman, receive it in pawn.

17. Food of Falſehood is ſweet to a Man, but afterwards his Mouth is full of Gravel.

18. Thoughts are reſpectively eſtabliſhed by Counſel, and by Policies make War.

19. He reveals a Secret who goes about backbiting; and mix not thy ſelf with him that is ſo ſimple with his Lips.

20. He who curſes his Father or Mother, ſhall have his Lamp extinguiſhed in black Darkneſs.

21. A Poſſeſſion may be hurried up at firſt, but the End of it will not be bleſſed.

22. Do not ſay, I will reward Evil; wait for the Lord, and he will ſave thee.

23. Different Weights are an Abomination to the Lord, and Scales of Deceit are not good.

24. The Steps of a Perſon are from the Lord; how then ſhall Man underſtand his own Way?

25. It is a Snare for Man to ſwallow down a holy Thing, and after vows to enquire.

26. A wiſe King diſperſes the Wicked, and cauſes the Wheel to return over them.

27. The Spirit of Man is the Lamp of the Lord, ſearching all the inner Parts of the Body.

28. Kindneſs and Truth keep the King, and he ſupports his Throne by Kindneſs.

29. The Ornament of young Men is their Strength, the Comelineſs of old Men is grey Hair.

30. Corrupt Matter of a Wound is a Cleanſing for Ill, and Strokes for the inner Parts of the Body.

CHAP. XXI.

THE Heart of the King is as Streams of Water in the Hand of the Lord, he turns it aſide whitherſoever he pleaſes.

2. Every Way of a Man is right in his own Sight; but the Lord conſiders the Hearts.

3. To do Righteouſneſs and Judgment, is choſen by the Lord more than Sacrifice.

4. The Height of the Eyes, and the Largeneſs of the Heart, being the Lamp of the Wicked, are Sin.

Ver. 13. Sleep] There is a Proverb of the Italians, Chi dorme groſſe mattinata, va mendicando la giornatia: he who ſleeps all the Morning, may go a begging all the Day after.

Ver. 14. The Italian Proverb is very ingenious, Chi biaſima vuol comprare, he that finds fault intends to buy.

Ver. 16. who is for] What do I ſee in the com. Bible? Or what is the Meaning of it? Is take a Pledge of him for a ſtrange Woman, to let out a Proſtitute on pawn? Or is it to give the Pledge to her? Or was [for] to mean [by reaſon of,] viz. becauſe it was a ſtrange Woman, as badly expreſſed in the Biſh. Bib. for the unknowne ſake? The firſt would be wicked, but though the plaineſt to the Words, was ſurely not intended; the ſecond would be ridiculous, therefore doubtleſs not deſigned; and the laſt is very obſcure and ill phraſed for that Senſe, which perhaps the Heb. Word has not, and the ſtrongeſt Inſtance for it ſeems to be in Jer. xi. 14. for their trouble, but that may ſignify for Help in it, or Deliverance from it; beſides this latter Part of the Verſe would then depend on the former, and ſo ſtrange woman to be the ſame with ſtranger maſc. would be abſurd.

Ib. an unknown Woman] Marginal to be as in Ch. xxvii. 13. but textual, unknown Men.

Ver. 17. Falſehood] ſo, and not deceit, the original Word ſignifies.

Ver. 19. ſimple] not flattereth, nor yet enticeth as in the Eng. Marg. the firſt being alſo almoſt oppoſite to Backbiting or a Backbiter, as the other Heb. Word means (not merely a tale-bearer) and enticeth very different from it.

Ver. 25. ſwallow down] Inſtead of devorare the chief Editions of the vulg. Lat. have devotare, and all ſanctos Saints.

Ib. to enquire] how his Vows may be performed, which ſhould be enquired before, that he might not vow what he could not do. I chooſe this Meaning that is ſo literal, and alſo mild, which Snare ſeems rather to denote, than enquiring how to make the Vows void, according to the Aſſembly's Annot. Patrick, &c. which would be more than a Snare.

Ver. 26. the Wheel] Some think it means to threſh them as it were, according to Iſa. xxviii. 28. but this is another Heb. Word for Wheel, and ſo may ſeem another Sort of Wheel; beſides threſhing is done before winnowing: for they would alſo have winnows inſtead of diſperſes. The literal Senſe may be moſt juſtifiable.

Ver. 30. Corrupt Matter] from the Root to aſſociate together; whence blueneſs muſt be diſcarded, as well as from Surgery and Truth too.

Ib. inner Parts] the Heart.

Ver. 4. Height] for Pride, as Eyes for Look; and both ſhould be literal or metaphorical.

Ib. Largeneſs] for Ambition, and ſo Heart for Mind.

Ib. being] or which are, as Mercer expounds it, both in his Commentary and on Pagnine's Lexicon, and as Caſt. tranſlates; here being alſo no Conjunction, and the Advantage of Senſe may ſhew the ſame.

Ib. Lamp] according to the Gr. Chald. vulg. Lat. and Genev. Tranſlations, with Caſtal. as likewiſe Elias in his Animadverſions added to Kimhi's Book of Roots; nay the Heb. Bibles of Plantine and Stephens, the Lexic. too of

5. The

5. The Thoughts of the Diligent are only for Advantage, but of every one who is haſty only for Want.

6. The getting of Treaſures by a falſe Tongue, is a driven Vanity of thoſe that ſeek Death.

7. The Waſting of the Wicked will cut them aſunder, becauſe they refuſe to do Judgment.

8. The Way of a Man is turning and ſtrange; but as for the Pure, his Work is right.

9. It is better to dwell upon a Corner of the Roof, than with a Woman of Contentions, and in a Houſe of Company.

10. The Soul of the Wicked deſires Evil, his Neighbour is not in Favour with him.

11. When the Scorner is puniſhed, the Simple becomes wiſe; and when the Wiſe conſiders, he takes Knowledge.

12. The Righteous conſiders the Family of the Wicked, that it perverts the wicked ones to Evil.

13. He who ſtops his Ear at the Cry of the Decayed, will call alſo himſelf, and none will anſwer.

14. A Gift in ſecret ſuppreſſes Anger, and a Bribe in the Boſom ſtrong Wrath.

15. It is Gladneſs to the Righteous to do Judgment; but there is Calamity for the Workers of Iniquity.

16. A Man who goes aſtray from the Way of Underſtanding, will reſt in the Congregation of the Deceaſed.

17. He will be a Perſon of Want, who loves Mirth: ſuch a one as loves Wine and Oil, will not be rich.

18. The Wicked will be a Ranſom for the Righteous, and the Treacherous in the room of the Upright.

19. It is better to dwell in the Country of the Wilderneſs, than with a Woman of Contentions and Indignation.

20. There is a deſirable Treaſure, with Oil, in the Habitation of the Wiſe; but the Fooliſh among Mankind ſwallows it up.

21. He who follows after Righteouſneſs, and Kindneſs, will find Life, Righteouſneſs and Glory.

22. The Wiſe climbs up the City of the Powerful, and caſts down the Strength of its Confidence,

23. He that keeps his Mouth and Tongue, keeps his Mind from Diſtreſſes.

24. Proud, haughty, ſcornful may be his Name, who acts with Wrath in Pride.

25. The Wiſh of the Slothful cauſes him to die, becauſe his Hands refuſe to work.

26. Every Day he wiſhes for what is deſirable; while the Righteous can give without keeping back.

27. The Sacrifice of the Wicked is Abomination, much more on bringing it heinouſly.

28. A Witneſs of Lyes will periſh; but a Man can always ſpeak what he heard.

29. A wicked Man hardens his Face; but as for the Upright, he conſiders his Way.

30. There is no Wiſdom, no Underſtanding, nor any Counſel before the Lord.

31. The Horſe is prepared for the Day of Battle, but Safety is of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

RENOWN is to be choſen more than much Riches; Favour is better than Silver, or than Gold.

2. The Rich and Poor are met; the Lord is the Maker of them all.

3. The Diſcreet ſees Harm, and hides; but the Simple go on, and are puniſhed.

4. The Reward of Meckneſs, of the Fear of the Lord, is Riches, Honour and Life.

5. Prickles, Snares are in the Way of the Perverſe; he who keeps his Soul, will be far off from them.

Buxtorf the Father, and Vindic. of the Son, p. 515, 516; for which perhaps more might be ſaid from the Heb. beſides its making far better Senſe, as it ſeems to me. than taking the Word the other Way, in which it would ſignify fallow ground, that lies ſtill after it has been plowed, not plowing, as in Jer. iv. 3. Hoſ. x. 12. where it cannot be plowing; and fallow ground would be abſurd here, if plowing is not.

Ver. 6. The getting of] Sept. he that gets. Vulg. gathers; taking the Heb. Noun for a Participle.

Ib. is a driven Vanity of thoſe that ſeek Death] Sept. follows vain Things in the Snares of Death, Vulg. is vain and ſenſeleſs, and ſhall ſtumble at the Snares of Death: ſuppoſing מבקשי to be מוקשי would make Snares, wherein they hold together againſt the Original; ſtumble, and ſome more, is added, &c.

Ver. 12. it perverts] of which Mercer writes, מסלף pervertit 'ad dominum referri non poteſt, cujus non eſt 'facta mentio,' i. e. meſalleph, it perverts, cannot be referred to God, of whom there is no Mention made. It is thus rendered in our vulg. Tranſ. Ch. xix. 3. Exod. xxiii. 8. Deut. xvi. 19. and the Noun from it perverſeneſs, Ch. xi. 3. & xv. 4. and the Family might properly be ſaid to pervert, by the Proſperity of it, like Job xxi. 7, 8, 9, 14. Pſa. lv. 19. beſides their perverting perſonally.

Ver. 25. Wiſh] being continued, as Ver. 26. by not obtaining it.

Ver. 28. heard] to be diſtinguiſhed from heard of.

Ver. 31. Safety is of the Lord] Thus in Pope's Homer, B. 3.

Whoſe Arms ſhall conquer, and what Prince ſhall fall
Heav'n only knows, for Heav'n diſpoſes all.

Ver. 1. better] ſo the Heb. and not the ſame as before.

Ver. 2. are met] by the Diſpoſal of divine Providence, that they may be uſeful to each other.

Ver. 4. Reward] Thus Jun. and Trem. have it præmium, the Tig. Verſ. and Caſt. the ſame; and ſo Mercer expounds it.

6. Put a Child at firſt into the Entrance of his Way, and even when he is old he will not depart from it.

7. The Rich has dominion over the poor ones; and he that borrows is a Servant to the Man who lends.

8. He that ſows Iniquity will reap Vanity, and the Rod of his Fury will fail.

9. He who is of a good Eye will be bleſſed, becauſe he gives ſome of his Victuals to the Poor.

10. Drive out the Derider, and Contention will go forth; nay Strife, and Baſeneſs will ceaſe.

11. He who loves to be of a pure Heart, by the Favour of his Lips will the King be his Friend.

12. The Eyes of the Lord preſerve Knowledge; but he overthrows the Words of the Treacherous.

13. The Slothful ſays, There is a Lion abroad, I ſhall be ſlain within the Streets.

14. The Mouth of ſtrange Women is a deep Pit, he that is abhorred of the Lord will fall in there.

15. Folly being bound in the Heart of a Child, the Rod of Correction will cauſe it to be far from him.

16. He who oppreſſes the Poor to multiply to himſelf, he who gives to the Rich, each verily tends to Want.

17. Incline thy Ear, and hear the Words of the Wiſe, and ſet thy Heart to my Knowledge:

18. For it is pleaſant when thou preſerveſt them in thy Inſide, when they are prepared together in thy Lips.

19. For thy Truſt to be in the Lord I make known this Day, even to thee thy ſelf.

20. Do not I write to thee principal Things, in Counſels and Knowledge;

21. To make known to thee the Verity of the Sayings of Truth, for thee to bring them back to thoſe who ſend thee?

22. Do not rob the Poor, becauſe he is poor, nor bruiſe the Afflicted at the Gate:

23. For the Lord will plead their Cauſe, and ſpoil the Soul of thoſe that ſpoil them.

24. Do not join thy ſelf in Fellowſhip with one given to Anger, nor go in with a wrathful Man;

25. Leſt thou ſhouldeſt learn his Ways, and receive a Snare to thy Soul.

26. Be not among them who ſtrike the Hand, among ſuch as are engaged for Debts:

27. If thou haſt Nothing to pay, why ſhould he take thy Bed from under thee?

28. Remove not the old Bounds, which thy Fathers made.

29. Shouldeſt thou ſee a Man ready at his Work, he will ſtand before Kings; will not ſtand before the Obſcure.

CHAP. XXIII.

WHEN thou ſitteſt to eat with a Governor, conſider throughly what is before thee:

2. For thou wilt put a Knife to thy Throat, if thou art a Man of Appetite.

3. Deſire not his Dainties; for each is very falſe Food.

4. Do not labour to be rich, refrain from thy own Prudence.

5. Wilt thou cauſe thy Eyes to fly to it, ſince it will not be? For it will throughly make it ſelf Wings, will fly away as an Eagle in the Air.

6. Do not eat the Victuals of a Man with an evil Eye, nor deſire his Dainties:

7. For as he judges in his Mind, ſo that is: Eat and drink, he ſays to thee; but his Heart is not with thee.

8. Thy Bit that thou eateſt thou wilt vomit up, and loſe thy pleaſant Words.

Ver. 6. Put a Child] When Ariſtippus was aſked, what it was Children ſhould learn? He anſwered, ſays Diog. Laertius, Οἷς ἄνδρες γενόμενοι χρήσονται, Thoſe Things that they are to practiſe when they are Men. And to the 35th Queſtion, propoſed by Ptolemy Philadelphus King of Egypt, to the Greek Tranſlators, What is the greateſt Neglect in the World? as related by Ariſteus, it was anſwered, Not to regard our Children, and take care of their Education.

Ver. 8. The Sept. have additionally at the End, God bleſſes (the Complut. Edit. The Lord loves) the chearful and the Giver, &c. which Wall on 2 Cor. ix. 7. ſays is cited there (but more truly alluded to) and by St. Paul's citing it is right here; which is a non ſequitur or inconcluſive, and the 70 took great Liberty.

Ver. 11. pure] ſincere, an Adj.

Ib. the Favour of his Lips] his making petition.

Ver. 12. Knowledge] metonymical for thoſe who do according to Knowledge.

Ver. 17. Patrick makes this the Beginning of another Part, having a new Form of Speech; and the Vulg. begins it with My Son.

Ver. 21. Sayings of Truth] There being, as Parmenides obſerves in Diog. Laert. which the Lat. Tranſlator has omitted, ſome Doctrine according to Truth, and ſome according to Opinion.

Ver. 22. at the Gate] where judicial Cauſes were tried.

Ver. 29. Shouldeſt] not a Queſtion, but as If, like Ch. xxiv. 10. ſee Nold. at כִּי

Ib. ready] not diligent, but better.

Ver. 2. wilt put] the Heb. being not imperative, and the Senſe harſh that Way: ſo Pagn. and Mont. have pones, the Tig. Bib. intentabis, both in the fut. Tenſe; Jun. and Trem. render alioquin inderes, otherwiſe thou wouldeſt put; and in this Manner Mercer explains it.

Ver. 3. Dainties] Diogenes ſeeing a young Man going to Supper with ſome great Perſons, took him away home to his Friends, and bid them take care of him, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 4. Prudence] in labouring to be rich.

Ver. 5. it] the being rich.

Ver. 7. judges] from the Noun Gate, where they judged.

Ib. Mind] heart in our Tranſ. might be taken by Miſtake from the following.

9. Do not ſpeak in the Hearing of the Fooliſh: for he will deſpiſe the Senſe of thy Speeches.

10. Remove not the old Bounds, nor enter into the Fields of the Fatherleſs:

11. For their Redeemer is ſtrong, he will plead their Cauſe with thee.

12. Bring thy Heart to Inſtruction, and thy Ears to the Sayings of Knowledge.

13. Do not with-hold Correction from a Child: for ſmiting him with a Rod, he ſhall not die.

14. Thou ſhalt ſmite him with a Rod, and deliver his Soul from Hell.

15. My Son, if thy Heart is wiſe, my own Heart it ſelf ſhall be glad;

16. And my Reins ſhall triumph, when thy Lips ſpeak upright Things.

17. Let not thy Heart envy Sinners, but be in the Fear of the Lord every Day:

18. Foraſmuch as there is a Remainder, and thy Expectation will not be cut off.

19. Hear thou, my Son, and be wiſe; and guide thy Heart in the Way.

20. Be not among the Drinkers of Wine, among thoſe who glut themſelves with Fleſh:

21. For the Drunkard and Glutton will be poor, and Slumbering will cloath with Rags.

22. Hearken to this thy Father who begot thee, and do not deſpiſe thy Mother when ſhe is old.

23. Buy the Truth, and ſell not; ſo Wiſdom, Inſtruction and Prudence.

24. The Father of the Righteous will throughly rejoice; and having begot a wiſe one, will be glad of him:

25. Thy Father and Mother will be glad, particularly ſhe who bore thee will rejoice.

26. Give me thy Heart, my Son, and let thy Eyes keep my Ways:

27. For a Whore is a deep Pit, and an unknown Woman a narrow Well;

28. She alſo lies in wait as for a Prey, and adds to the Treacherous among Mankind.

29. To whom is Wo? To whom Alas? To whom Contentions? To whom Prating? To whom Wounds without Cauſe? To whom Redneſs of Eyes?

30. To them that ſtay at the Wine, to ſuch as go in to ſearch for the Mixture.

31. Do not look on the Wine, though it be red, though it give its Colour in the Cup, ſparkling very rightly.

32. At its End it will bite like a Serpent, and ſting as a Cockatrice.

33. Thy Eyes will ſee ſtrange Things, and thy Heart ſpeak perverſe ones.

34. Nay thou wilt be as he who lies in the middle of the Sea, or like one lying on the Top of the Maſt.

35. Yet ſayeſt, They ſmiting me, I was not ill, beating me, I did not know; when ſhall I awake? I will ſeek it yet again.

CHAP. XXIV.

BE neither envious againſt evil Men, nor deſire to be with them:

2. For their Heart meditates Waſting, and their Lips ſpeak Trouble.

3. By Wiſdom a Houſe is built, and by Underſtanding eſtabliſhed;

4. Nay by Knowledge the Chambers are filled with all precious and pleaſant Subſtance.

5. A wiſe Man is in Strength, and a Perſon of Knowledge ſtrengthens Ability:

6. For by Policies thou ſhouldeſt make war for thy ſelf; and Safety is in the Multitude of Counſellors.

7. Wiſe Things are high to a Fool; he does not open his Mouth at the Gate.

8. Him who contrives to do Evil, will they call a very heinous Man.

9. Sin is the Heinouſneſs of Folly; and a Scorner is an Abomination to Mankind.

10. Shouldeſt thou be negligent on the Day of Narrowneſs, thy Strength will be narrow.

11. If thou with-holdeſt delivering thoſe

Ib. that] Jun. the Meat; but it may be rather the eating, ſo Mont. hoc; and it may be hard to make Senſe with he.

Ver. 13. die] as ſaid on Ch. xix. 18. not that triſling Senſe, Beating wont kill or hurt him, which too it might do.

Ver. 23. Truth] D. Laertius in the Life of Plato quotes him ſaying in his Laws. Καλὸν μὲν ἡ ἀλήθεια, καὶ μόνιμον· ἔοικε δὲ ἃ ῥάδιον πείθειν. Excellent is Truth and ſtedfaſt, but it does not ſeem eaſy to perſuade to it.

Ib. ſell not] In Reflections on Languages, publiſhed by Stackhouſe, p. 115. it is ſaid the Senſe of this is, to communicate it to others freely.

Ver. 29. To whom Alas?] In the vulg. Lat. To whoſe Father Wo? Either by taking אבוי to be two Words, as has been ſuppoſed, (or which ſeems likelier) the Fore-part of it for Father.

Ver. 33. ſtrange Things] as after perverſe things, the Heb. being alike, without Women: ſo Grotius expounds the Matter, Res miras videre tibi videberis, thou wilt ſeem to ſee ſtrange Things, as drunken People do; and Mercer, Thou wilt ſee ſtrange Sights.

Ver. 6. for thy ſelf] id eſt, bono tuo, that is, for thy Good, ſay Trem. and Jun.

Ver. 10. on the Day] This Jun. and Trem. with Merc. join to the following, which the Accents do not allow of.

Ib. will be] If People do not exert themſelves in Diſtreſs, they will be weakened, and ſuffer.

Ver. 9. Heinouſneſs] as the Word frequently ſignifies, ſcarce ever thought: ſo Jun. and Trem. have ſcelus, the Tig. Verſ. facinus. It may be taken for the worſt Degree of Folly.

who are taken away to Death, and removed to the Slaughter;

12. Since thou ſayeſt, Behold we did not know it: does not he underſtand who conſiders the Hearts, and he know who keeps thy Soul, and will render to Man according to his Work?

13. Eat Honey, my Son, for it is good; and the Honey-comb that is ſweet to thy Palate:

14. So will the Knowledge of Wiſdom be to thy Soul, if thou findeſt it, and there is the Conſequence; thus thy Expectation will not be cut off.

15. Do not lay wait, O Wicked, at the Habitation of the Righteous: do not waſte his Lodging-place.

16. Though the Righteous falls ſeven times, yet he riſes up; but the Wicked fall down into Evil.

17. When thy Enemy falls, do not be glad; and when he ſtumbles, let not thy Heart rejoice:

18. Leſt the Lord looking, ſhould be diſpleaſed with it, and he turn away his Anger from him.

19. Be not exaſperated againſt Evil-doers: be not envious againſt the Wicked:

20. For there will be no Remainder to the Evil, the Lamp of the Wicked will be extinguiſhed.

21. Fear the Lord, my Son, and the King: mix not thy ſelf with thoſe who change:

22. For their Calamity will riſe up ſuddenly; and who knows the Oppreſſion of their Years?

23. Theſe Things are peculiarly for the Wiſe: to take notice of the Face in Judgment is not good:

24. He that ſays to the Wicked, Thou art righteous, People will curſe him, Nations will abhor him;

25. But to thoſe who reprove, it will be pleaſant, and the Bleſſing of Good will come upon them.

26. A Man will kiſs the Lips of him who returns right Words.

27. Fit thy Work without, and prepare it for thee in the Field; afterwards alſo build thy Houſe.

28. Be not a Witneſs againſt thy Neighbour undeſervedly, when thou haſt ſeduced with thy Lips.

29. Do not ſay, According as he has done to me, ſo will I do to him; I will render to the Man according to his Work.

30. I paſſed over the Field of the ſlothful Perſon, and over the Vineyard of the Man wanting Senſe;

31. And behold on all of it came up Thiſtles, Nettles covered the Surface of it, and its Stone-fence was thrown down.

32. And looking, I took notice; ſeeing, I received Inſtruction:

33. As there is a little Sleep, a little Slumber, a little folding of the Hands to lie down;

34. Poverty will ſtride on to thee apace, and manifold Want as a Man with a Shield.

CHAP. XXV.

THESE alſo are the Proverbs of Solomon, which the Men of Hezekiah King of Judah copied out.

2. It is the Glory of God to conceal a Thing, and the Glory of Kings to ſearch a Thing out.

3. As the Heaven is for Height, and the

Ver. 14. Conſequence] ſo the Heb. and its great Stop is here.

Ve. 16. falls] in afflictiones ſcilicet, that is to ſay, into Afflictions, Jun. and Trem. as alſo Grotius writes, Cave de peccatis hæc accipias, Beware of taking this as belonging to Sin; nay Patrick ſays, The Word fall never ſignifies falling into Sin, as Abundance of learned Men have obſerved: beſides there being Nothing of day in the Text, how groſsly wrong are theſe Words in The Complaint of a Sinner, bound up at the End of Bibles?

The Scripture plain tells me,
The righteous man offendeth
Seven times a day 'gainſt thee,
Whereon thy Wrath dependeth.

Ver. 19. againſt—be not] as Pſa. xxxvii. 1.

Ver. 21. Fear] Διδάσκειν δεῖ τοὺς νέους ἐξ ἀρχῆς τὰν τε θεῶν τιμὰν καὶ τὰν τῶν νόμων, Young Men ſhould be taught to reverence God and the Laws, writes Clinias the Pythagorean.

Ver. 22. their Years] for ſo the Heb. may be, and the very ſame is, Job xxxvi. 11. which ſeems to agree far beſt to the Context, denoting the future Trouble, or Continuance of it anſwerable to ſuddenly, for thoſe that make Changes in Government; whereas both has not proper Antecedents anſwerable to it, nor a Prepoſit. before it to denote them; ſee alſo De Dieu.

Ver. 23. for the Wiſe] as the next for a Judge, and the following for a Miniſter of State, People, like Nations, ſignifying in the Original thoſe of different Countries; but what are Theſe Things in the preſ. Tranſ. with a full Point at the End of the Verſe?

Ver. 27. prepare] It is reported that Anacharſis enquiring of the Oracle, whether there was any one wiſer than himſelf, received for Anſwer that one Myſo was; upon this he went to the Village where he lived, and found him fitting up a Plough, which being in the Summer, he ſaid, O Myſo, it is not the Time now for ploughing; But, ſaid the other, It is to prepare for it, Diog. Laert. in the Life of Myſo.

Ver. 28. when thou haſt] the Heb. having no not, nor being here imperative, but in the preterperfect Tenſe; and thus makes a good and concurrent Leſſon of Dehortation.

Ver. 32. Inſtruction] The Vulgate ſubjoins here Ch. vi. 9. only with the latter Part, How long art thou riſing up from Sleep?

Ver. 34. manifold Want] plur. here, &c. ſee Ch. vi. 10, 11.

Ver. 1. copied] From the Death of Solomon to the Commencement of Hezekiah's Reign being two hundred and ſixty Years, and this was probably done from the Prototype or firſt Exemplar.

Earth

Earth for Depth, there is no ſearching out the Heart of Kings.

4. Take away the Droſs from the Silver, and there will come forth a Veſſel for the Founder:

5. Take away the Wicked before the King, and his Throne will be eſtabliſhed in Righteouſneſs.

6. Do not honour thy ſelf before the King, nor ſtand in the Place of the Great:

7. For it is better to be ſaid to thee, Come up hither; than for thee to be put down before the Prince, whom thy Eyes have ſeen.

8. Go not forth to contend ſpeedily, leſt there ſhould be what thou muſt do at the End of it, when thy Neighbour puts thee to Confuſion.

9. Plead thy Cauſe with thy Neighbour, and do not diſcloſe the Secret to another;

10. Leſt he who hears ſhould put thee to reproach, and the ill Report of thee not turn away.

11. As Apples of Gold in Pictures of Silver, is a Word ſpoken in its Turn.

12. As an Ear-ring of Gold, and a Jewel of famous Gold, is a wiſe Reprover upon an attentive Ear.

13. Like the Cold of Snow in the Time of Harveſt, is a faithful Ambaſſador to thoſe who ſend him; and he reſtores the Soul of his Maſter.

14. As Clouds and Wind, with no Rain, is the Man that boaſts of a falſe Gift.

15. In delaying of Anger a Leader is perſuaded, and a ſoft Tongue breaks the Bone.

16. Having found Honey, eat but thy Sufficiency; leſt thou ſhouldeſt be glutted with it, and vomit it up.

17. Let thy Foot be rare at thy Neighbour's Houſe: leſt he ſhould be cloyed with thee, and hate thee.

18. As a Hammer, a Sword, and an Arrow ſharpened, is the Man who gives Evidence againſt his Neighbour being a falſe Witneſs.

19. As a broken Tooth, and a Foot out of Joint, is Confidence in the Treacherous at the Time of Diſtreſs.

20. As he that takes away a Garment in a cold Day, and Vinegar to Salt-petre, is he alſo who ſings Songs to a ſad Heart.

21. If he who hates thee is hungry, cauſe him to eat Victuals; and if he is thirſty, make him drink ſome Liquor:

22. For thou wilt receive Coals upon his Head, and the Lord will recompenſe thee.

23. The north Wind diſturbs the Rain, and an angry Look a lurking Tongue.

24. It is better to dwell upon a Corner of the Roof, than with a Woman of Contentions, and in a Houſe of Company.

25. Like cold Water to the faint Soul, is good News from a Country far off.

26. As a Fountain trampled, and a Spring corrupted, is the Righteous who is moved before the Wicked.

27. To eat much Honey is not good, nor is it Honour for any to ſearch out their own Honour.

28. As a City broke down with no Wall, is the Man in whom there is no Reſtraint to his Temper.

CHAP. XXVI.

LIKE Snow in Summer, and like Rain in Harveſt; ſo Honour is not comely for the Fooliſh.

2. As a Bird in wandering, as the Swallow in flying; ſo a Curſe will not come undeſervedly.

3. A Whip is for a Horſe, a Bridle for an Aſs, and a Stick for the Back of the Fooliſh.

Ver. 6. nor ſtand] Lacydes, it is ſaid, being ſent for to King Attalus, returned anſwer that Images ſhould be viewed at a diſtance; as in his Life by Diog. Laert.

Ver. 11. As Apples] The Order of the Heb. being thus, here and in Ver. 14, 18, 19, 26, 28, as at Ver. 12, 13, 20, 25.

Ver. 14. a falſe Gift] which he falſely pretends he will give.

Ver. 15. Bone] Inveterateneſs or Stiffneſs.

Ver. 16. eat] enjoy Proſperity with Moderation; which I cannot but think is better, than with others to underſtand it of Wiſdom, Friendſhip or Pleaſure.

Ver. 17. rare] or precious, according to the Heb.

Ver. 20. After this Verſe follows in the Vulg. Lat. As a Moth the Garment, and a Worm the Wood, ſo the Grief of a Man hurts the Heart; as likewiſe in the Gr. with, in a Garment, &c. and the Chald. not much different: but marked for additional by Origen, as Patrick ſays from Jerome on Iſa.

Ver. 22. receive] as the Word is, and never heap, but that taken from Rom. xii. 20. and Coals may well denote divine Vengeance, ſuppoſing he who hates ſtill continues to do ſo. Thus this uncertain Text in the com. Tranſ. has a determinate Meaning.

Ver. 23. diſturbs] as I have particularly obſerved this Day; ſo truly does the Scripture repreſent Nature. The Heb. Word ſignifies ſtrictly makes to be in labour (as a Woman) or in anguiſh, &c. not driveth away; nor here beget, as Jun. and Trem. render, for which they are forced to tranſpoſe the Words of the next Member, which the Heb. muſt be very uncertain to allow of in ſuch a comparative Sentence; and the Wind is ſtrangely made to repreſent a (ſimulantis) diſſembling Tongue, rather than an angry Look; beſides being contrary to Job xxxvii. 22.

Ver. 24. Quite left out of the Bible of Pope Sixtus, though not ſo in others of the Vulgate.

Ver. 26. moved] which anſwers both to the Heb. and the Compariſons, falling down to neither; ſo that we need not be at a ſtand with Patrick, &c. to know whether it is falling into Sin or Calamity: but moved may ſignify any being diſturbed or troubled.

Ver. 2. in wandering] i. e. goes away in the Air without alighting; ſo the Curſe will.

Ib. not come] Duport in his Gr. Verſe, when he leaves

4. Do not anſwer the Fooliſh according to his Folly; leſt thou alſo ſhouldeſt be on a level with him:

5. Anſwer the Fooliſh according to his Folly; leſt he ſhould think himſelf wiſe.

6. He cuts off the Feet, drinks down Injury, who ſends a Meſſage by the Miniſtry of the Fooliſh.

7. The Legs of the lame are contracted, and a Proverb in the Mouth of the Fooliſh.

8. Like the tying up of a Stone in a Sling, ſo is the giving Honour to a Fool.

9. As a Thorn going up into the Hand of a Drunkard, is a Proverb in the Mouth of the Fooliſh.

10. The great Former of all both rewards the Fooliſh, and rewards Tranſgreſſors.

11. As a Dog returns to his Vomit, the Fooliſh does to his Folly.

12. Shouldeſt thou ſee a Man who thinks himſelf wiſe, there is more Hope of the Fooliſh, than of him.

13. The Slothful ſays, There is a fierce Lion in the Way, a Lion within the Streets.

14. A Door turns about upon its Hinge, and the Slothful upon his Bed.

15. The Slothful hides his Hand in the Boſom, it is weariſome to bring it back to his Mouth.

16. The Slothful thinks himſelf wiſer than ſeven who render Reaſon.

17. As one that takes hold of a Dog's Ears, is he who paſſing by is in a Wrath about Strife which does not belong to him.

18. Like a Madman who throws Sparks, Arrows and Death;

19. So is the Man that cheats his Neighbour, and ſays, Am not I in jeſt?

20. By want of Wood the Fire is quenched, and by there being no Whiſperer Contention is ſtill.

21. As Coal to burning Coals, and Wood to Fire, is a Man of Contentions to kindle Strife.

22. The Words of a Whiſperer are like thoſe who beat, and they go down to the inner Parts of the Body.

23. As Silver Droſs covering over an earthen Veſſel, are perſecuting Lips, and an evil Heart.

24. He that hates ſhews himſelf otherwiſe with his Lips, but lays up Deceit within him:

25. Though he be gracious with his Voice, do not believe him; for there are ſeven Abominations in his Heart.

26. The Evil of him, whoſe Hatred covers it ſelf with Deception, will be diſcloſed in the Congregation.

27. He that digs a Pit will fall into it; and to him who rolls a Stone, it will return.

28. A falſe Tongue hates thoſe it has bruiſed, and a flattering Mouth makes driving away.

CHAP. XXVII.

DO not boaſt of the next Day; for thou doſt not know what a Day will bring forth.

2. Let a Stranger praiſe thee, and not thy own Mouth; the unknown, and not thy own Lips.

3. A Stone has Heavineſs, and Sand Weight; but the Indignation of a Fool is heavier than both of them.

4. Wrath is Cruelty, and Anger a Flood; but who can ſtand before Envy?

the com. Tranſ. is apt to do it by frigid Additions, as here he ſubjoins, after it has fled the Hedge of the Teeth, the Wind carries it away, nor is the Word ſtedfaſt.

Ver. 4. Do not anſwer] Diog. Laertius acquaints us, that a young Man talking inſolently, Arceſilaus ſaid, Is there Nobody will go to play with this Boy? In Vit.

Ver. 4, 5. Do not anſwer—Anſwer] How can theſe be conſiſtent? Thus, Do not anſwer the Fooliſh, unleſs (thou thinkeſt) thy not doing it will make him ſelf-conceited.

Ver. 8. tying up] which is thereby made uſeleſs in ſlinging, which ſeems to me the beſt Meaning: for why tying up elſe, inſtead of putting in?

Ver. 9. into the Hand] As a Drunkard pricks himſelf by meddling with Thorns, ſo the Fooliſh expoſes himſelf by uſing a Proverb.

Ver. 12. Shouldeſt] Like Ch. xxii. 29. and again Ch. xxix. 20.

Ver. 23. perſecuting Lips] of a wicked Zealot, or any one who ſpeaks ſeverely againſt others for being bad, and is bad himſelf. This Interpretation indeed I have laboured for, becauſe I found none to ſatisfy me: for how can perſecuting or burning denote flattering? And how can angry Language merely be compared to a tinſel Covering? Buxtorf too quotes Sol. Jarhi on Pſa. vii. for the Heb. Word always to ſignify perſecuting.

Ver. 25. Like this are thoſe ancient Greek Verſes of Solon in Diog. Laert.

Πεφυλαγμένῳ ἄνδρα, &c.

Beware, for wicked Man muſt ſtill be watch'd,
Leſt ſecret Miſchief in his Heart be hatch'd;
When ſmooth he ſpeaks, and with a Smile as fair
As new-blown Flow'rs exhaling fragrant Air:
Man's double Tongue can flatter, or can howl,
When prompted by a black corrupted Soul.

Ver. 28. hates] according to the ingenious foreign Proverb, The Injurer bears a ſpite to him that he has injured.

Ib. flattering] Antiſthenes, as Diog. Laert. writes from Hecato, ſaid it was better to fall among coracas, Ravens, than colacas, Flatterers; becauſe thoſe devoured the Dead, but theſe the Living.

Ver. 1. will bring forth] on which Duport adds,

Ἄλλοτε μητρυιὴ πέλει ἡμέρη, ἄλλοτε μήτηρ,

Sometimes a Day is a Step-mother, ſometimes a Mother; but not quite ingeniouſly, ſince a Step-mother does not bring forth whom ſhe is ſuch to.

Ver. 3. both of them] If not combined with the Genitive, it ſhould be they both, viz. are.

Ver. 4. Anger] Diog. Laertius relates concerning Plato, that he ſaid to Xenocrates, Beat this Boy: for I can't my ſelf, becauſe I am angry; and to a Servant, I would beat thee, if I was not angry.

5. Reproof publiſhed is better than Love that is hid.

6. The Wounds of him who loves are faithful; but the Kiſſes of him that hates ſhould be intreated.

7. A full Perſon treads upon the Honey-comb: but to a hungry Perſon every bitter Thing is ſweet.

8. As a Bird that wanders from its Neſt, ſo is a Man who wanders from his Place.

9. Ointment and Perfuming make the Heart glad, and the Sweetneſs of its Friend by the Counſel of the Soul.

10. Do not leave thy Friend and thy Father's Friend, nor come to thy Brother's Houſe at the Time of thy Calamity; a near Dweller being better than a Brother far off.

11. Be wiſe, my Son, and make my Heart glad, that I may return him Word who reproaches me.

12. The Diſcreet ſeeing the evil, becomes hid; the ſimple paſſing on, are puniſhed.

13. Take his Garment, when one is engaged for a Stranger; and of him who is for an unknown Woman, receive it in pawn.

14. He that bleſſes his Friend aloud, riſing early in the Morning, it will be reckoned a Curſe to him.

15. A continual Dropping in a ſhowery Day, and a Wife of Contentions are alike:

16. One of thoſe who hide her, may hide the Wind, and the Ointment of his right Hand that will be publiſhed.

17. Iron ſharpens Iron, and a Man makes ſharp the Face of his Friend.

18. He who keeps the Fig-tree, will eat the Fruit of it; and he who obſerves his Maſter, will be honoured.

19. As in Water Face is to Face, ſo is the Heart of Man to Man.

20. The Grave and Perdition are not ſatisfied, nor are the Eyes of Man.

21. The trying Veſſel is for Silver, and the Furnace for Gold, and a Man for the Mouth to praiſe him.

22. If thou ſhouldeſt pound a Fool in a Mortar, among ground Corn with a Peſtle, his Folly would not depart from him.

23. Know fully the Sight of thy Flock, take notice of thy Herds:

24. For Store is not for ever; and is the Crown to every Generation?

25. The Graſs diſcovers it ſelf, the Herbage appears, and the Herbs of the Mountains are to be gathered;

26. The Lambs are for thy cloathing, and the He-goats the Price of the Field;

27. And there is Milk enough of the She-goats for thy own Food, for that of thy Family, and for thy Maids to live on.

CHAP. XXVIII.

THE Wicked is one of them who flee when none purſues; but the righteous ones are each as bold as a young Lion.

2. By the Tranſgreſſion of a Country the Princes of it are many; but by an underſtanding, knowing Man, the Settlement is prolonged.

3. A Man poor, and oppreſſing the Decayed, is like Rain which ſweeps away, ſo that there is no Food.

4. They that forſake the Law, praiſe the Wicked; but thoſe who obſerve the Law, contend with them.

5. Evil Men do not underſtand Judgment; but ſuch as ſeek the Lord, underſtand all Things.

Ver. 5. publiſhed] which thereby may cauſe Amendment.

Ib. hid] without ſhewing any Effect of it, as in Jam. ii. 16. and this rightly, with no ſtrained and improbable Diſtinction of effeminate Friendſhip, &c.

Ver. 6. ſhould be intreated] not admitted without ſuch Intreaty or Deſire, as may ſhew the Hatred gone; the Heb. Word ſignifying Nothing of deceitful.

Ver. 10. Friend] One of Solon's Precepts, as given by Diog. Laertius from Apollodorus, is, φίλως μὴ ταχὺ κτῶ· ὃς δ' ἂν κτήσῃ μὴ ἀποδοκίμαζε. Do not get Friends quickly; but when they are got, do not caſt them off.

Ib. Dweller] properly, and more ſuitable than neighbour with near.

Ver. 11. I] Pope Clem. has it in the 2d Perſ.

Ver. 14. riſing early] being very forward to do it.

Ib. a Curſe to him] He who is extolled at ſuch a Rate, will be thought the worſe for it, as Obſervation ſhews.

Ver. 19. ſo is the Heart] A Man's Mind is like his Behaviour generally, though he may alter it ſometimes. Patrick makes great Difficulty of this Verſe, which by keeping ſtrictly to the Words as elſewhere may be got over: it is not Heart to Heart, nor Man to Man, &c.

Ver. 21. the Mouth] which reſembles a Veſſel and Furnace; and ſo the Heb. is.

Ib. to praiſe him] Heb. of his Praiſe. As Silver and Gold ſhould be purified, ſo ſhould a Man behave that he may be praiſed.

Ver. 24. is not for ever] does not laſt without taking care of it.

Ver. 26. Price] Value of it, according to the Number kept there.

Ver. 1. Wicked is one] being a Noun ſing. to a Verb plur.

Ib. when none purſues] By reaſon of the Terrors of his own Conſcience. To this Purpoſe Juvenal begins his 13th Satyr; tranſlated by Creech,

He that commits a Sin, ſhall quickly find
The preſſing Guilt lie heavy on his Mind;
Though Bribes or Favour ſhall aſſert his Cauſe,
Pronounce him guiltleſs, and elude the Laws:
None quits himſelf; his own impartial Thought
Will damn, and Conſcience will record the Fault.

Ib. righteous ones are each] A Noun plur. by a beautiful Contraſt, to a Verb ſing. of which Nothing appears in the com. Verſ.

Ver. 3. ſo that there is] But the Heb. has here Nothing that ſignifies leaveth; which was Italick in the Geneva Tranſ. ſuch Careleſsneſs has there been in the preſent.

6. The

6. The poor who goes in his Integrity, is better than he that is perverſe with two Ways, though he is rich.

7. He who keeps the Law is an underſtanding Son; but he that aſſociates with Gluttons, puts his Father to Confuſion.

8. He that increaſes his Subſtance by Uſury and Intereſt, gathers it together for him who ſhews pity to the Decayed.

9. He that turns away his Ear from hearing the Law, even his Prayer is an Abomination.

10. He who cauſes the upright to err in an evil Way, will fall himſelf into his own Pit; but the perfect will poſſeſs Good.

11. The rich Man thinks himſelf wiſe; yet the underſtanding decayed one ſearches him out.

12. When the Righteous triumph, there is great Glory; but when the Wicked riſe up, Man is to be ſearched for.

13. He that covers his Tranſgreſſions, will not proſper; but he who confeſſes and forſakes, will obtain Mercy.

14. The Man is bleſſed who fears continually; whereas he that hardens his Heart, will fall into Evil.

15. As a Lion roaring, and a Bear running to and fro, is a wicked Governor over a decayed People.

16. When a Nobleman wants Underſtanding, there are great Oppreſſions; by hating Covetouſneſs, he prolongs Life.

17. A Man who is ſeized for the Murder of a Perſon, ſhould go away to the Pit, let none hold him.

18. He who goes with Integrity, will be ſaved; but he that is become perverſe with two Ways, will fall in one.

19. He who tills his Ground, will be filled with Victuals; but he that purſues after vain Things, will be filled with Poverty.

20. A Man of Faithfulneſs is of great Bleſſings; but he that is haſty to be rich will not be innocent.

21. To acknowledge the Face is not well, ſince a Man will tranſgreſs for a Bit of Bread.

22. He that hurries on to Wealth is a Man of an evil Eye, and does not know that Want will come to him.

23. He who reproves a Man will afterwards find Favour, more than he that flatters with the Tongue.

24. He who robs his Father or Mother, and ſays, It is no Tranſgreſſion, is himſelf a Companion to a Man of Deſtruction.

25. He that is puffed up in Mind, makes Contention; but he who truſts upon the Lord, will be made fat.

26. He that truſts in his own Heart is fooliſh; but he that walks in Wiſdom, will deliver himſelf.

27. He who gives to the Poor, will not want; whereas he that hides his Eyes, will have large Curſes.

28. When the Wicked riſe up, Man is hid; but when they periſh, the Righteous multiply.

CHAP. XXIX.

THE Man that being much reproved hardens the Neck, will be broke at an Inſtant, and there will be no Healing.

2. When the Righteous multiply, the People are glad; but when the Wicked has dominion, the People ſigh.

3. The Man who loves Wiſdom, makes his Father glad; but he that aſſociates with Whores, cauſes Subſtance to periſh.

4. The King makes the Country ſtand faſt by Judgment; but a Perſon of Preſents deſtroys it.

5. A Man that flatters his Friend, ſpreads a Net for his Goings.

6. In the Tranſgreſſion of an evil Perſon is a Snare; but the Righteous ſings, and is glad.

7. The Righteous knows the Cauſe of the Poor; the Wicked does not underſtand the Knowledge.

8. Men of Deriſion inſnare a Town; but the Wiſe turn back Anger.

9. A wiſe Man comes to Judgment with a fooliſh one; but he is moved, or laughs, and there is no Reſt.

Ver. 12. is to be ſearched for] ſo, and not as at Ver. 28.

Ver. 17. ſeized] paſſively, ſo that he ſhould not be reſcued from the Hand of Juſtice.

Ver. 18. ſaved] Lat. Vulgate praiſed.

Ib. with two Ways, will fall in one] as the Heb. is, the Word for Ways being the dual Number; ſee the like Ver. 6. and Mercer there.

Ver. 19. Things] ſee Ch. xii. 11.

Ib. filled with Poverty] according to the Heb. and our Genev. and as before with Bread; but enough ſeems ludicrous.

Ver. 23. flatters] ſo Maximus Tyrius the Philoſopher has his 4th Diſſertation intituled, Τίσι χωριστέον τὸν κόλακα τῆ φίλᾳ λόγῳ, How a Friend ſhould be diſtinguiſhed from a Flatterer; which let the Curious conſult.

Ver. 26. he that walks] as he that truſts in Heb. and whoſo is obſolete.

Ver. 1. hardens the Neck] Alluding to Oxen in the Yoke, according to Bochart, De Sacr. Animal. Lib. iii. Cap. 41.

Ver. 2. multiply] as in Ch. xxviii. ult.

Ver. 4. Preſents] Heb. Lifted-offerings, Preſents being made of ſuch.

Ver. 6. is a Snare] to himſelf.

Ver. 8. Deriſion inſnare] The Juſtneſs of which ſee in the Lord Bacon's Advanc. of Learn. B. viii. Ch. 2. or as quoted by Patrick.

Ver. 9. but he is moved, or laughs] which I think ſuits the fooliſh more than the wiſe, and makes a better Saying: accordingly Munſt. ſays, Senſus eſt, quando ſapiens lo-

10. Men

10. Bloody Men hate the Perfect; but the Upright enquire after his Soul.

11. The Fooliſh brings forth all his Mind, but the Wiſe reſtrains it back.

12. A Governor hearkening to the Word of Falſehood, all his Miniſters will be wicked.

13. The Poor and the Man of Frauds meet, the Lord enlightens the Eyes of them both.

14. The King who judges the Decayed in Truth, his Throne will be eſtabliſhed for evermore.

15. The Rod of Reproof gives Wiſdom; but a Child let go makes his Mother aſhamed.

16. When the Wicked increaſe, Tranſgreſſion increaſes; but the Righteous ſee their Fall.

17. Correct thy Son, and he will cauſe thee to reſt, and will give Delights to thy Soul.

18. When there is no Viſion, the People become bare; but he who obſerves the Law is bleſſed.

19. A Servant will not be corrected by Words; though he underſtands, yet he will not anſwer.

20. Shouldeſt thou ſee a Man haſty in his Words, there is hope of the Fooliſh more than of him.

21. One breeding up his Servant delicately from his Childhood, he will become a Son at his End.

22. A Man of Anger makes Contention, and a Maſter of Wrath has much Tranſgreſſion.

23. The Pride of Man will humble him; but Honour will uphold him of a humble Spirit.

24. He that divides with a Thief, hates his own Soul; he that hears Curſing, and does not tell it.

25. By Fearfulneſs Man puts a Snare; but he who truſts in the Lord will be exalted.

26. Many ſeek the Face of the Governor; but the Judgment of a Man is from the Lord.

27. The Abomination of the righteous ones is the Man of Iniquity; and the Abomination of the Wicked is he of an upright Way.

CHAP. XXX.

THE Words of Agur the Son of Jakeh, the Burden that the Man expreſſed to Ithiel, not only to him but alſo Ucal.

2. Becauſe I am more ſtupid than a Man, and have not the Underſtanding of Mankind;

3. Having neither learned Wiſdom, nor am acquainted with the Knowledge of holy Perſons;

4. Who goes up to Heaven, and comes down? Who gathers up the Wind in his double Hand? Who binds up the Waters in a Cloth? Who eſtabliſhes all the Limits of the Earth? What is his Name? And what is the Name of his Son, that thou knoweſt?

5. Every Saying of God is pure: he is a Shield to thoſe that truſt in him.

6. Do not add to his Words; leſt he ſhould reprove thee, and thou be a Liar.

7. I aſk two Things of thee; do not withhold from me before I die.

8. Remove far from me Vanity, and lying Words: do not give me Poverty nor Riches, nouriſh me with the Bread of my Allowance; quitur, ſtultus vel ridet, vel furit: the Meaning is, when one who is wiſe ſpeaks, the fooliſh either laughs, or is in a fury.

Ver. 10. enquire after his Soul] to ſave it, as Pſa. cxlii. 4. which may determine this.

Ver. 12. will be wicked] See the Lord Bacon's Advancement of Learning, B. VIII. Ch. ii. Parab. 13.

Ver. 13. the Lord enlightens the Eyes of them both] agreeable to Ch. xxii. 2. and Mat. v. 45. as Mercer well obſerves; which Places I think unfold this.

Ib. them both] one not to be impoveriſhed, and the other not to impoveriſh him by Frauds. He that can find a better Interpretation, let him.

Ver. 15. gives Wiſdom] Lyco, as writes Diog. Laertius, ſaid, δεῖν παρεζεῦχθαι τοῖς παισὶ τὴν αἰδῶ καὶ φιλοτιμίαν, ὡς τοῖς ἵπποις μυώπα καὶ καλινόν· Shame and Emulation were as neceſſary for Children, as a Bridle and Spur for Horſes.

Ib. a Child let go] Ariſtippus the Philoſopher demanding 500 Drachmas of a Man to teach his Son, the other ſaid he could buy a Slave for that; to which he replied, Πριῶ, καὶ ἕξεις δύο, Do, and then thou wilt have two, Diog. Laert. in Vit.

Ib. Mother] The Italian Proverb is, La buona madre non dice, volete? The good Mother does not ſay, Will you?

Ver. 18. When] more ſuitable to the Heb. than where.

Ib. obſerves the Law] For, as Archytas ſpeaks in his Book Concerning the Doctrine of Manners, ἡ ἀ κτῆσις τᾶς ἀρετᾶς εὐδαιμονία ἦν, ἀλλὰ χρᾶσις, Bleſſedneſs does not conſiſt in poſſeſſing Virtue, but in making uſe of it.

Ver. 21. Where ſee the great Sir Fran. Bacon Ld. Verulam again.

Ver. 25. Man puts] for Man, and not the foregoing Word, belongs to the Verb, as the Heb. Genders ſhew.

Ib. exalted] the Heb. Word not ſignifying ſafe.

Ver. 1. Burden] It being difficult for an unlearned Man, as Agur deſcribes himſelf, to make a Speech to the Learned, which the others probably were; as it was for the Prophets to deliver their minatory Commiſſions to the unbelieving perſecuting Rulers; whence prophecy, but ſo inconſiſtently and abſurdly here, by our Tranſlators.

Ver. 2. Becauſe] How good a Connection this (which the Heb. Conjunction, not Adverb, ſignifies, inſtead of Surely) makes of the 4th Ver. to the 3d, and without which the 4th is a detached, disjointed, incoherent Matter, need not be remarked.

Ver. 4. that thou knoweſt] as De Dieu would have it rendered, and Mont. does it literally; it being not if.

Ver. 8. do not give] Τὸ γὰρ ἄπαξ ὑπὲρ τὸ μέτρον ὀρ-

9. Leſt

9. Leſt I ſhould be filled, and lye, and ſay, Who is the Lord? or leſt I ſhould be poor, and ſteal, and take hold of the Name of my God.

10. Do not talk againſt a Servant to his Maſter, leſt he ſhould curſe thee, and thou be guilty.

11. There is a Generation that curſes its Father, and does not bleſs its Mother.

12. There is a Generation that thinks it ſelf clean, yet is not waſhed from its Filthineſs.

13. There is a Generation, how lofty are its Eyes, and its Eye-lids lifted up!

14. There is a Generation whoſe Teeth are Swords, and its Eye-teeth Knives; to conſume the Poor from the Earth, and the Needy from Mankind.

15. The Horſe-leach has two Daughters ſaying, Give, give; theſe three Things are not filled, four do not ſay, Here is Plenty;

16. The Grave, and the barren Womb, the Earth that is not filled with Water, and the Fire which does not ſay, Here is Fuel.

17. The Eye which ſcoffs at a Father, and deſpiſes the gathering of a Mother, that the Ravens of the Valley will pick out, and the young Eagles eat.

18. Thoſe three Things are too wonderful for me, nay four which I do not know;

19. The Way of an Eagle in the Air, the Way of a Serpent upon a Rock, the Way of a Ship in the middle of the Sea, and the Way of a Man with a Maid.

20. So is the Way of a Woman who is an Adultereſs, that eats, and wipes her Mouth; and ſays, I have done no Iniquity.

21. Under three Things is the Earth diſturbed, nay under four, which it cannot bear;

22. Under a Servant when he reigns, and a vile one when he is filled with Food,

23. Under a hateful Woman when ſhe is married, and a Handmaid when ſhe is the Heireſs of her Miſtreſs.

24. Thoſe four Things are little on the Earth, but they are the wiſeſt of the wiſe ones:

25. The Ants that are a People not ſtrong, but prepare their Food in the Summer;

26. The Rabbets that are a People not ſtout, but make their Houſe in the Rock;

27. The Locuſt that has no King, but goes forth every one of them deſtroying;

28. The Spider that takes hold with the Hands, and is it ſelf in the Palaces of the King.

29. Thoſe three Things do march well, or four go well along:

30. An old Lion that is powerful among the Beaſts, and does not turn away from the Face of any;

31. He that is girded on the Loins, or a He-goat, and a King with whom there is no riſing up.

32. If thou haſt fallen by ſetting thy ſelf up, or if by heinous Things, let the Hand be to the Mouth.

33. For the preſſing of Milk brings forth Butter, as the preſſing of the Noſe does Blood; and the preſſing of Anger brings forth Contention.

ἀδείς ἐστιν, For there is no Bounds to what is once above Meaſure, ſays Epictetus, Ch. 61. And Horace, Od. Lib. iii. 16.

——Bene eſt cui Deus obtulit
Parca quod ſatis eſt manu:

Which Creech tranſlates,

Happy, to whom indulgent Heav'n
Enough, and ſparingly hath giv'n.

Ib. nor Riches] Demophilus in his Greek Similitudes ſays, Immoderate Riches are a Hindrance to the Mind, as long Garments are to the Body.

Ib. nouriſh me] Having Food and Raiment, ſays the Apoſtle, let us be therewith content, 1 Tim. vi. 8. and the Author of Night Thoughts,

Man wants but little, nor that little long.

Ver. 9. take hold of] as Exod. xx. 7. Deut. v. 11.

Ver. 11, 12, 13, 14. He here brands the Undutiful, the Hypocrites, the Proud, and the Oppreſſors, as ſuch perhaps who eſcaped the Law.

Ver. 15. two Daughters] theſe Annotators interpret to be its forked Tongue.

Ib. Plenty] Heb. Subſtance.

Ver. 17. ſcoffs] looks ſcornfully.

Ib. pick out] The Body being left unburied after ſome unnatural Death.

Ver. 18. Thoſe] which the Heb. has, and ſo at Ver. 24, 29.

Ver. 19. with a Maid] I am aſhamed of the Obſcenity that is fillily thrown upon this Paſſage by Expoſitors! while Way according to the Meaning of it in all the three foregoing Caſes is where a Man and Maid go, that is in uncertain By-places at the Time of Courtſhip.

Ver. 20. So] to wit unknown likewiſe.

Ib. eats] as it were.

Ver. 27. deſtroying] Heb. cutting off, which in that Tongue is uſed for deſtroying; or it may be taken ſtrictly cutting or biting off, that is the Vegetables, as in Buxt. and Pagn. Lexicons, and as rendered in the com. Tranſ. Job xxi. 21. ſee alſo De Dieu's Explication; who ſays that by bands is from mere Conjecture, ſince the Verb has not ſuch a Meaning elſewhere, nor any Noun derived from it.

Ver. 31. He that is girded on the Loins] namely a Horſe, not a Grey-hound, as may be eaſily underſtood: ſo Jun. and Trem. render accinctus lumbis equus, a Horſe girt on the Loins.

Ib. or a He-goat] The worſt of them, and properly the laſt, making up the three or four, but joined with the Beaſts, as being one: for the Heb. Particle is or, never ſignifying alſo nor and. This, no Commentator that I know of, meddles with to unfold, not even the curious Mercer, though he mentions it; but being in the Scripture, it claims ſome Notice, and would not have been ſo overlooked in one of the heathen Claſſics.

Ver. 32. fallen] very aptly; and I don't obſerve this Verb elſewhere ſignifies to do fooliſhly; though that was ſtarted by Ab. Ezra, one fond, like ſome Moderns, of new Meanings.

CHAP. XXXI.

THE Words of King Lemuel, the Burden in which his Mother inſtructed him.

2. What, my Son? And what, O Son of my Womb? And what, thou Son of my Vows?

3. Give not thy Strength to Women, nor thy Ways to that which deſtroys Kings.

4. It is not for Kings, O Lemuel, it is not for Kings to drink Wine; nor is the Deſire of ſtrong Drink for Princes;

5. Leſt by drinking, he ſhould forget what is decreed, and change the Cauſe of any of thoſe that are afflicted.

6. Give ye ſtrong Drink to him who is periſhing, and Wine to them of a bitter Soul.

7. Let him drink, and forget his Poverty, remembring his Labour no more.

8. Open thy Mouth for the Dumb, in the Cauſe of all thoſe that are paſſing away.

9. Open thy Mouth, judge with Righteouſneſs; and plead for the Afflicted and Needy.

10. א Who finds a Wife of Ability? for her Price is far more than Pearls.

11. ב The Heart of her Huſband truſts in her, and does not want Spoil.

12. ג She recompenſes him with Good, and not Evil, all the Days of her Life.

13. ד She ſeeks for Wool and Flax, and works willingly with her Hands.

14. ה She is like the Merchants Ships, ſhe fetches her Victuals far off.

15. ו And ſhe riſes up while it is Night, giving Food to her Family, and the Allowance to her Maids.

16. ז She thinks of a Field, and takes it: with the Fruit of her Hands ſhe plants a Vineyard.

17. ח She girds her Loins with Strength, and makes her Arms ſtrong.

18. ט She taſtes that her Merchandice is good: her Candle is not put out at Night.

19. י She ſtretches out her Hands to the Spinning-wheel, and the Palms of them hold the Spindle.

20. כ She ſpreads forth the Palm of her Hand to the Afflicted, and ſtretches out her Hands to the Needy.

21. ל She does not fear for her Family, becauſe of the Snow: for they are all cloathed with Scarlet.

22. מ She makes her ſelf Tapeſtries: her Cloathing is fine Linen and Purple.

23. נ Her Huſband is known at the Gates, when he ſits with the Elders of the Country.

24. ס She makes Lawn, and ſells; and gives the Girdle to the Dealer.

25. ע Strength and Honour is her Cloathing; and ſhe will ſmile at the laſt Day.

26. פ She opens her Mouth with Wiſdom, and the Law of Kindneſs is upon her Tongue.

27. צ She watches the Goings of her Family, and does not eat the Bread of Slothfulneſs.

28. ק Her Children riſe up, and call her bleſſed; her Huſband, and he praiſes her.

29. ר Many Daughters act with Ability, but thou aſcendeſt above them all.

30. ש Favour is Falſehood, and Beauty is Vanity: that Woman who fears the Lord will glory.

31. ת Give her of the Fruit of her Hands, and let her Doings praiſe her at the Gates.

Ver. 1. his Mother] So the virtuous and admired Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius, Meditat. Lib. 1. relates, that he learned of his Mother to be religious and generous, not to do, nor even intend any Thing evil, to be contented with moderate Diet, and to ſhun the Exceſs that Wealth and Grandeur is liable to: in which there is a Reſemblance to Ver. 4, 9. particularly.

Ib. Burden] Being Self-denial, Ver. 3, 4. and Nothing of prophecy.

Ver. 4. to drink Wine] So on the other hand Prince Hector, in Homer, to his Mother-Queen,

Inflaming Wine, pernicious to Mankind,
Unnerves the Limbs, and dulls the noble Mind.
Let Chiefs abſtain———— Il. B. 6.

And it may be obſerved, that Samſon the ſtrongeſt Man, as being a Nazarite, drank no ſtrong Liquor from his Birth, as probably alſo Methuſelah the longeſt Liver, and Solomon the wiſeſt Man is here forbid it on the Authority of a Parent.

Ib. nor] as it is in the preceding Verſe: for the Vulgate renders this ſtrangely indeed, becauſe there is no Secret where Drunkenneſs reigns; and the Septuag. in the Copies that have it, Princes will be angry, let them not drink Wine; which take only for a Taſte.

Ib. Deſire] The Word in the Text being אן appears to come from אוה which ſignifies to deſire, by only leaving out the laſt Letter; rather than to be put for אין not or rather none, which though of frequent Uſe, is no where elſe contracted ſo, nor even to אי with the ſame Vowel, and not each time before is denoted by אל beſides the Place of its ſtanding may determine this Matter, being next before that for ſtrong Drink: accordingly Trem. and Jun. render it deſyderium.

Ver. 8. paſſing away] thus the Verb ſignifies, but there is no Proof that it ever does to cut off, and that it ſignifies to deſtroy ſimply is not pretended.

Ver. 10. The Verſes begin here, and continue to the End, alphabetical in Heb. as the Letters are prefixed.

Ib. Wife] as the following ſhews, and as rendered Ch. xviii. 22. where it is with the ſame Verb.

Ib. Ability] according both to the Heb. Word, and the Deſcription.

Ver. 21. Scarlet] for an additional Garment, or warm one.

NOTES upon the BOOK of ECCLESIASTES.

CHAP. I.

SAYINGS of the Preacher, the Son of David, King at Jeruſalem.

2. Every Thing is Vanity, ſays he, very and utterly vain.

3. What Profit has Man of all his Labour, which he does under the Sun?

4. One Generation goes away, and another comes; though the Earth remains continually.

5. The Sun both riſes and ſets; and haſtening to his Place, he riſes there again.

6. The Wind goes to the South, and turns round to the North, fetching a Compaſs about, and returning in its Circuits.

7. All the Rivers run into the Sea, and yet it is not full: to the Place from whence they came, thither they return to come afreſh.

8. All Things are ſo laborious one cannot tell it: the Eye is neither ſatisfied by ſeeing, nor the Ear filled with hearing.

9. What is, the ſame has been; that which is done, is ſuch as has been done: for there is Nothing new under the Sun.

10. Of what Matter can it be ſaid, See, this is new? It has been already in Ages that were before us.

11. There is no Remembrance of former Things; neither will there be any of them that are later, nor of thoſe which ſhall be after.

12. I the Preacher, being King over Iſrael at Jeruſalem,

13. Gave my Heart to ſeek, and ſearch out by Wiſdom, concerning all that is done under Heaven; which is a grievous Exerciſe that God has given Mankind to be afflicted with.

14. I conſidered all the Works which are done under the Sun, and behold all are Vanity and Vexation of Mind.

15. That which is confuſed cannot be put in order, nor what is wanting be numbered up.

16. I ſaid thus to my ſelf; Lo I am great, and have more Wiſdom than any who has been before me in Jeruſalem, and my Heart is acquainted with much Wiſdom and Knowledge:

17. I having applied it to underſtand Wiſdom, as alſo the Knowledge of Madneſs and Folly; yet know withal that it is Vexation of Mind.

18. For in Abundance of Wiſdom there is much Diſpleaſure: and he who increaſes Knowledge does increaſe Grief.

CHAP. II.

COME now, thought I in my ſelf, I will try thee with Mirth, and mind Pleaſure; but doubtleſs that alſo was Vanity.

2. Of Laughter, I concluded it was a mad Thing; and of Mirth, what would that avail?

3. I ſought in my Heart, whilſt I guided it with Wiſdom, to attract my Fleſh with Wine, that I might take hold of Folly, till I

Ver. 2. very and utterly vain] to be proper and intelligible, as the Tranſlation ought, when the Meaning of the Original is plain: Jun. and Trem. repeat vanitas vaniſſima, very vain Vanity, and ſo Bibliander in the Tigur. Bib. inanitas extrema, our Tyndal al is but playne vanite.

Ver. 4. One Generation] Homer has it under a fine Similitude;

Οἵη περ φύλλων γενεὴ, τοιήδε καὶ ἀνδρων.
Φύλλα τὰ μὲν τ' ἄνεμος χαμάδις χέει, ἄλλα δὲ θ' ὕλη
Τηλεθόωσα φύει, ἔαρος δ' ἐπιγίγνεται ὥρη·
Ὣς ἀνδρῶν γενεὴ, ἡ μὲν φύει, ἡ δ' ἀπολήγει. Il. Z.

Like Leaves on Trees the Race of Man is found,
Now green in Youth, now with'ring on the Ground;
Another Race the following Spring ſupplies,
They fall ſucceſſive, and ſucceſſive riſe;
So Generations in their Courſe decay,
So flouriſh theſe, when thoſe are paſt away.

And the Son of Sirach the ſame in the ſame Tongue, Ὡς φύλλον θάλλον ἐπὶ δένδρου δασέος· τὰ μὲν καταβάλλει, ἄλλα δὲ φύει, οὕτως καὶ γενεὰ σαρκὸς καὶ αἵματος, ἡ μὲν τελευτᾷ, ἑτέρα δὲ γεννᾶται. Ecclus. xiv. 18.

Ver. 5. haſtening] Heb. panting, being a Participle. The old Lat. has returns, as Symmachus and Theodotion had runs back: it is poſſible ſhoeph was ſuppoſed to have the Meaning of ſhabh from ſhubh.

Ver. 7. not full] the Water being carried up in Vapours by the Heat of the Sun. Of which Dr. Halley has a curious Diſcourſe in the Philoſophical Tranſactions, Num. 189. applied to the Mediterranean Sea, which flows on the Country of Iſrael, and to which theſe Words may be ſuppoſed moſt particularly relative; concluding that much more Water is expended that Way, than the nine great Rivers, the Iberus, Rhone, Tiber, Po, Danube, Neiſter, Boryſthenes, Tanais and Nile, with all the little ones that run into it, ſupply; which however does not empty the Sea, as it falls back in Rain and Dew; ſee alſo Martin's Philoſoph. Gram. Part IV. Chap. iii. p. 272.

Ib. full] whereby the Rivers might ceaſe running.

Ver. 8. laborious] Having firſt ſhewed that ſome of the principal Things in Nature are ſo, Ver. 4, 5, 6, 7.

Ver. 15. That which] in human Affairs, as done under the Sun.

Ib. cannot] by the Ability of Man, Chap. vii. 13.

Ib. numbered up] made up in Number; a Senſe wanting in Commentators, whom I do not find ſpeaking any Thing to the Purpoſe; and Jerome at the Head of them tranſlates, the Number of Fools is infinite.

Ver. 1. thought I] Inſtead of ego, I, the vulg. Lat. has ergo, therefore; an Erratum, one may think, of the Scribes.

ſhould

ſhould ſee what was beſt for Mankind, to do under Heaven, as long as they live.

4. I did great Matters: built me Houſes, planted me Vineyards,

5. Made me Gardens, and Orchards in which I planted Fruit-trees of all Sorts,

6. Making me Pools of Water, to water Nurſeries for young Trees;

7. I got Servant-men and Maids, and had Children of the Family, beſides more Poſſeſſion of Herds and Flocks, than any who were before me in Jeruſalem;

8. I alſo gathered me Silver, and Gold, with the Rarities of Kings and Provinces; prepared me Singing-men and Women, as well as Concerts of Muſick, the Delights of Mankind.

9. Thus was I greater, and increaſed more than any who was in Jeruſalem before me, my Wiſdom too remaining with me.

10. Whatever my Eyes ſought I did not keep from them, nor with-hold my Heart from any Joy: for this belonged to me out of all my Labour, that my Heart ſhould be joyful by it.

11. Then looking on all the Deeds that my Hands had done, and on what I had laboured to do; behold all was Vanity, and Vexation of Mind, and there was no Profit under the Sun.

12. Beſides I looked to ſee Wiſdom, Madneſs and Folly: for what can the Man do who ſhall come after the King, but that which they have done already?

13. However I ſaw that there is more Profit of Wiſdom than Folly, the ſame as of Light more than Darkneſs:

14. The Eyes of the Wiſe are in his Head, but the Fool goes in Darkneſs; yet I knew alſo that the ſame Event falls out to them all.

15. Therefore I ſaid in my Heart, Since it falls out to me even as it does to the Fooliſh, why am I any wiſer? Hence I concluded in my ſelf, that this too was Vanity.

16. For there is no Remembrance of the wiſe Man nor fooliſh for ever, ſince that which is already will all be forgotten in Time to come; and the Wiſe dies in the ſame manner with the Fooliſh.

17. So I hated Life, becauſe the Work which is done under the Sun was grievous to me: for all is Vanity, and Vexation of Mind.

18. I likewiſe hated all my Labour that I had performed there, which I muſt leave to the Man who ſhall ſucceed me:

19. And who knows whether he will be wiſe, or fooliſh? Yet will he rule over all this in which I have laboured and been wiſe under the Sun: which is alſo Vanity.

20. Upon this I turned about to make my Heart deſpair, of all my Labour which I had done there.

21. For one whoſe Labour has been with Wiſdom, Knowledge and Equity, gives it to another for his Part, who does not labour in that Manner: this is alſo Vanity, and a great Evil.

22. And what has a Man by all his Labour that he does under the Sun, and the Vexation of his Heart;

23. When all his Days are ſorrowful, his Exerciſe diſpleaſing, and his Mind does not lie ſtill even at Night? this is likewiſe Vanity.

24. There is Nothing better for Man, than to eat, and drink, and let his Soul enjoy the Good of his Labour; which I ſaw is from the Hand of God:

25. (For who can eat, or do ſo faſter than I?)

26. Becauſe he gives Wiſdom, Knowledge and Gladneſs, to the Man who is good in his Sight; and to the Sinner Exerciſe, in gathering and getting together, to give him who is good before God: this is Vanity too, and Vexation of Mind.

CHAP. III.

FOR every Thing there is a Seaſon, and a Time for every Affair under Heaven.

Ver. 11. Then looking] Prior paraphraſes thus,

My full Deſign with vaſt Expence atchiev'd,
I came, beheld, admir'd, afflicted, griev'd.
I chid the Folly of my thoughtleſs Haſte:
For, the Work perfected, the Joy was paſt,
Solomon on the Vanities of the World, B. 2.

Ib. Vexation] So of the Perſons of Pleaſure Young writes, Inſtead of rejoicing in tribulation (of which few amongſt us ever heard) we ſorrow in delight: for to ſpeak the truth (tho' we would not have it divulg'd) we tread this eternal round of vanities, leſs for the pleaſure it brings, than for the pain it ſuſpends, Cent. not Fab. Let. 2.

Ver. 12. the King] Solomon himſelf.

Ib. they have done] who were before him.

Ver. 20. turned about] Vulg. Lat. ceaſed, and; there being ſome Likeneſs between the Heb. Words for turn about and ceaſe, with [and] ſupplied to make the latter Senſe.

Ver. 24. enjoy the Good] live contentedly as Providence diſpoſes of him, which he cannot otherwiſe.

Ver. 26. who is good—and to the Sinner] So that our Great Young does not now ſtick to aſſert, 'Heaven and 'Hell, how diſtant ſoever ſome think them, are really, though not fully, on Earth, The Centaur not Fabul. Let. 4.

Ver. 1. a Time for every Affair] On the other Hand Theophraſtus, who ſucceeded Ariſtotle over the School of the Peripatetick Philoſophers, has in his Treatiſe called Characters of the Gentiles, a Chapter, viz. 13. of doing Things untimely, or out of Seaſon.

Ib. Affair] tranſlated in the com. Bible, Matter, Ch. v. 8. never ſignifying purpoſe that I find.

2. There

2. There is a Time to be born, and a Time to die; a Time to plant, and a Time to root up what is planted;

3. A Time to kill, and a Time to cure; a Time to break down, and a Time to build up;

4. A Time to weep, and a Time to laugh; a Time to lament, and a Time to dance;

5. A Time to caſt away Stones, and a Time to gather them together; a Time to embrace, and a Time to be far from it;

6. A Time to ſeek, and a Time to loſe; a Time to keep, and a Time to throw away;

7. A Time to tear, and a Time to ſew up; a Time to be ſilent, and a Time to ſpeak;

8. A Time to love, and a Time to hate; a Time of War, and a Time of Peace.

9. What Profit has the Doer in that which he labours in?

10. I have ſeen the Exerciſe which God has given to Mankind to be afflicted with.

11. He makes every Thing beautiful in its Time; he alſo puts Eternity into their Hearts, without which Men would not find out the Work that God does, from the Beginning to the End.

12. I know that there is Nothing good for them, but to be chearful, and to do well in their Lives;

13. And alſo that every Man ſhould eat, drink, and enjoy the Good of all his Labour: it is the Gift of God.

14. All which he does, I know, muſt ſtill be; Nothing can be added to it, nor taken from it: thus God does that they may ſtand in awe before him.

15. That which is, or ſhall be, has been already; and God requires what is to follow.

16. Seeing further under the Sun, that in the Place both of Judgment and Righteouſneſs, Wickedneſs was there;

17. I ſaid in my Heart, that God would judge the Righteous and Wicked; ſince there is a Time for every Affair, and for every Work there.

18. I ſaid in like manner concerning the State of Mankind, that God would manifeſt them, and they ſhould ſee that they themſelves are as Beaſts.

19. For the Event of Men and Beaſts is the very ſame, both dying alike, all having the ſame Breath; ſo that Man has no more Excellency than a Beaſt, ſince all are Vanity.

20. All go to one Place: all are of Earth, and all turn to it again.

21. Who knows the Spirit of Man that goes upward, and the Spirit of the Beaſt that goes downward to the Ground?

22. So I ſaw that there is Nothing better than that a Man ſhould be chearful in his Doings, ſince this belongs to him: for who can bring him to ſee what will be after him?

CHAP. IV.

AS I was ſeeing again all the Oppreſſions which were done under the Sun, behold the Tears of the Oppreſſed, who had no Comforter at all, while there was Power on the Side of their Oppreſſors.

2. Upon which I praiſed thoſe that are already dead, above them who are yet living:

3. And he that has not yet been is better than both of them, who has not ſeen the evil Work which is done under the Sun.

4. I alſo ſaw in all Labour, that one is envied by another for every right Work: which is likewiſe Vanity, and Vexation of Mind.

5. A Fool folds his Hands together, and eats his own Fleſh.

6. A Handful with Quietneſs, is better than both the Hands full with Labour, and Vexation of Mind.

7. Moreover I ſaw Vanity again under the Sun.

Ver. 4. Time to laugh] Myſo one of the ancient wiſe Heathens, was found laughing to himſelf, and being aſked why he laughed when there was Nobody preſent? Anſwered, Δι' ἀυτὸ τῦτο, For this very Reaſon I do; ſignifying that he ſhould not have laughed in Company, Ariſtoxenus Var. Hiſt. in Diog. Laert.

Ver. 11. beautiful] So Thales who lived in the Time of Cræſus King of Lydia, whom Cyrus of Perſia conquered, and was one of the ſeven wiſe Men of that Age, had to ſay, κολλίσον κόσμ☉, ποίημα γὰρ Θεῦ· the World is the moſt beautiful Thing, ſince it is the Work of God, Diog. Laert. in Thalet.

Ib. puts—into their Hearts] makes them ſenſible, or convinces them, of it.

Ib. Eternity] aptly anſwering to Time before, and according to the frequent Signification of the Heb. Word, which is never World that I find; as Ab. Ezr. ſays it always ſignifies in Scripture a long Time or Eternity.

Ib. without which] literally from the Heb. the former Word being rendered thus in the com. Tranſ. Job vi. 6. & xxiv. 7. having no Signification of ſo, and the latter is the ſame that follows in this Verſe, whereas the two thats in the com. Tranſ. are of very different Meaning. It may alſo be aſked with Noldius in his Concord. Not. 1569. How does Man not find out what is ſet in his Heart? The farther Refutation of wrong tranſlating this Verſe ſee in De Dieu.

Ver. 12. Sandys in his Paraphraſe,

What other Good can Man from theſe produce,
But to take pleaſure in their preſent Uſe?

Ib. to be chearful] as fitter than to rejoice; and for this, and againſt Sadneſs, may be read Hermas's Shepherd, B. ii. 10.

Ib. to do well] referring the unknown Event to Providence, according to the preceding Verſe; and as Crateſiclea the Mother of Cleomenes King of Sparta wiſely ſaid to him, Our Actions are all that are in our own Power, and Events wholly belong to Providence.

Ver. 15. follow] viz. the Event or Reward: the Heb. not paſt, nor yet driven away as the Eng. Marg. ſays.

Ver. 17. for every Work there] under the Sun, Ver. 16. as Ver. 1. otherwiſe it is referred to the Place, and to God.

8. There was one without a ſecond, having no Child nor Brother, and yet there was no End to all his Labour, neither was his Eye ſatisfied with Riches, nor did he ſay, For whom do I labour, and let my ſelf want what is good? this alſo is Vanity, and a grievous Exerciſe.

9. Two are better than one, becauſe they have a better Reward for their Labour.

10. Nay if they fall, one will help up the other: but wo is to him that falls alone, and there is not another to help him up.

11. Beſides if two lie together, they are warm: but how can it be warm to one?

12. In caſe one alſo prevails over another, two will ſtand before him, and a threefold Cord is not ſoon broke aſunder.

13. A poor and wiſe Child, is better than an old and fooliſh King, who does not know what Advice to take further:

14. Since he came out of Priſon to reign, and the other being born in his Kingdom is poor.

15. I conſidered all the Living who go about under the Sun, with the next Child that ſhall ſtand in his room:

16. There is no End to all the People, nor was to all who were before them; they alſo that ſhall be after will not be glad of him: for this too will be Vanity, and Vexation of Mind.

CHAP. V.

TAKE care of thy Foot when thou goeſt to the Houſe of God, and be nigher to hear than to give the Sacrifice of Fools: for they know not that they do evil.

2. Be not in a hurry with thy Mouth, nor let thy Heart be haſty to utter any Thing before God: for he is in Heaven, and thou art on the Earth; therefore let thy Words be few.

3. For as a Dream comes with a Multitude of Exerciſe, a Fool's Voice is with a Multitude of Words.

4. When thou makeſt a Vow to God, do not delay to perform what thou haſt vowed; for he has no Delight in Fools.

5. It is better for thee not to vow, than to vow without performing.

6. Do not ſuffer thy Mouth to make thy ſelf ſin, nor ſpeak before the Angel, that it may be an Error: why ſhould God be in a Wrath at thy Voice, and deſtroy the Work of thy Hands?

7. For as there are Vanities in a Multitude of Dreams, ſo in many Words; but do thou fear God.

8. If thou ſeeſt Oppreſſion of the Poor, and Spoil of Judgment and Juſtice in a Province, wonder not at the Affair: for the high One from above the high obſerves, there being high ones above thoſe.

9. As to the Profit of the Ground, that is for all, the King is ſerved of the Field.

10. He who loves Money will not be ſatisfied with it, nor he that loves Abundance with Increaſe: this alſo is Vanity.

11. When there is much Subſtance, there are many to conſume it; and what Advantage has its Owner, excepting the Sight of his Eyes?

Ver. 8. Eye] which is well mentioned, according to Grotius, becauſe that alone enjoys Riches with the Covetous.

Ver. 9. Sandys,

Two better are than one, of more Regard:
Their Labour leſs, and greater their Reward.

Ver. 13. fooliſh King] The Philoſopher Sphærus was charged with denying Ptolemy Philopater to be a King; But, ſaid he, if Ptolemy be ſuch a manner of Perſon (as a King ought) I ſay he is a King, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 14. he] How much more proper and unforced is it to underſtand this of the neareſt antecedent King, than of the fartheſt Child! If we conſider alſo the Unlikelineſs of the Child's being in Priſon; and how unſuitable it is to apply born to the old King, as ſome do, inſtead of the Child. Beſides how inſignificant would it be to mention the King's being born in his own Kingdom! And he could not in the Child's.

Ib. is poor] becauſe a fooliſh King does not promote his wiſe Subjects, but by bad Government keeps or makes them poor.

Ver. 16. no End] of ill Government, as the Context both before and after ſhews; though others would have it the fickle Humour of the People.

Ib. to all the] So the Heb. indicates in the moſt expreſs Manner; and all may denote thoſe in the foregoing Verſe, who were then living.

Ver. 1. the Sacrifice of Fools] Thus Perſius at the End of his 2d Satyr,

Quin damus id ſuperis, de magna quod dare lance
Non poſſit magni Meſſalæ lippa propago?
Compoſitum jus, faſque animi, ſanctaſque receſſus
Mentis, & incoctum generoſo pectus honeſto.

Rendered by Dryden,

But let us for the Gods a Gift prepare,
Which the Great Man's great Charges cannot bear:
A Soul, where Laws both Human and Divine,
In Practice more than Speculation ſhine:
A genuine Virtue, of a vig'rous kind,
Pure in the laſt Receſſes of the Mind.

Ver. 6. nor ſpeak] Or nor ſay any Thing before the Angel, that may be an Error; which agrees with the Context.

Ib. before the Angel] at the Place of Divine Worſhip, as Ver. 1, 2.

Ver. 7. ſo in many Words] This being after Vanities in Heb.

Ver. 9. In the vulg. Lat. thus, And moreover the King of the whole Earth rules over him that ſerves: among other very obvious Miſtakes, the Tranſlator appears to me to have taken לשדה of the Field, for לשרה to be like a Prince, wrongly ſuppoſing that was infinitive, which ſo ſhould be לשרות not to mention the Points; as alſo to have turned יתרון inſuper, moreover, like יתר the reſt, inſtead of Profit.

12. The

12. The Sleep of him who works is ſweet, whether he eats little or much: but the Fulneſs of the Rich will not let him ſleep.

13. There is a ſore Evil that I have ſeen under the Sun; Riches kept for the Owner of them to his Hurt.

14. Which Riches periſh in grievous Exerciſe, ſo that the Child whom he begets has Nothing in his Cuſtody.

15. As he came naked out of his Mother's Womb, ſo he goes away again; and there is Nothing of his Labour which he carries with him.

16. This alſo is a ſore Evil, that he muſt go altogether ſo as he came: for what Profit has he who labours for the Wind?

17. Nay all his Days he eats in Darkneſs, with much Diſpleaſure, Diſeaſes that he has, and Wrath.

18. Behold what I have ſeen to be good, what comely, is to eat, and to drink, and for a Man to enjoy the Good of all his Labour which he does under the Sun, the whole Time of his Life which God gives him: for it is what belongs to him.

19. Even every Man to whom God gives Riches, and Subſtance, and lets him have Power to eat of the ſame, to take his Part, and to be glad in his Labour, this is the Gift of God.

20. For he does not much remember the Days of his Life, becauſe God anſwers to the Gladneſs of his Heart.

CHAP. VI.

THERE is an Evil that I have ſeen under the Sun, which is much among Men;

2. A Perſon to whom God gives Riches, Subſtance and Honour, and he wants Nothing for his Mind of all that he deſires, yet God does not let him have Power to eat of it, but a ſtrange Perſon eats it: this is Vanity, and a grievous Diſeaſe.

3. If a Man begets a hundred Children, and lives many Years, ſo that he is of a great Age, yet his Mind is not ſatisfied with Good, and he alſo has no Burial; I ſay, an untimely Birth is better than he.

4. For he comes into Vanity, and goes away into Darkneſs, with which his Name is covered.

5. That having neither ſeen nor known the Sun, has more Reſt than this;

6. Even if he ſhould live twice a thouſand Years, and ſee no Good: do not all go to one Place?

7. All the Labour of Man is for his Mouth, and yet the Appetite is not filled.

8. For what has the Wiſe more than the Fooliſh? What has the Poor who knows how to walk before the Living?

9. The Sight of the Eyes is better than the Wandering of the Mind: this alſo is Vanity, and Vexation of Mind.

10. That which is, has been called by its Name already, and it is known what Man himſelf is; who cannot debate with him that is ſtronger than he.

11. Since there are many Things that increaſe Vanity, what has Man more?

12. For who knows what is good for Man while he lives, the whole Time of his vain Life, which he paſſes away as a Shadow? Becauſe who can tell a Man, what will be after him under the Sun?

CHAP. VII.

REPUTATION is better than the beſt Ointment, and the Day of Death than that of one's Birth.

2. It is better to go into a Houſe of Mourning than one of Feaſting, becauſe that is the End of all Men; which he who is living ſhould mind.

3. Diſpleaſure is better than Laughter: for in the Sadneſs of the Countenance the Heart becomes better.

Ver. 13. Riches] One of Chilo's Sayings was, Ἐν λιθίναις ἀκόναις ὁ χρύσος ἐξετάζεται, διδοὺς Βάσανον φανερὰν· ἐν δὲ χρυσῷ ανδρῶν ἀγαθῶν τε καὶῶν τε νοῖς ἔδωκε ἔλεγχον. Gold is tried on Touch-ſtones, which make manifeſt what it is; and the Minds both of good and bad Men the ſame on Gold.

Ver. 18. what] literal from the Heb. which has the Relative twice as here it ſtands, the latter rendered by our Tranſlators and.

Ver. 4. he] the ſame as at the Concluſion of the foregoing Verſe, and in Ver. 6. not the untimely birth, as our Tranſlators intimate by beginning the next Verſe with Moreover he, and then Poole ſo expounds it.

Ver. 8. What has the Poor] What does ſuch a one get, though he is a Perſon of Underſtanding? This Interpretation ariſes eaſily from the Words, notwithſtanding Patrick's great Difficulty, which I cannot but think he makes greater, and that neither of his Meanings are ſuitable, I may ſay at all, to the Matter.

Ver. 9. Wandering] To one who ſaid it was the greateſt Good for every one to enjoy what he deſired, Menedemus made anſwer, It is much greater to deſire what he ought, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 10. what Man himſelf is] which the Heb. points out ſo directly, that it may be wondered why our Tranſlators and ſome others ſhould make ſo little Senſe of it! But the Septuagint like this: for the firſt Word is much more the Relative, than a Conjunction. The Targ. widely, from the Day that there was Man firſt.

Ib. him that is ſtronger] God.

Ver. 12. good for Man] in the Affairs of this Life.

Ib. after him] viz. the Event of what he has or does, eſpecially after his Deceaſe.

Ver. 1. Reputation] ſo Jun. and Trem. render it fama.

Ver. 2. is the End] The Houſe of dying being the Houſe of Mourning.

4. The

4. The Heart of the Wife is in the Houſe of Mourning, but the Heart of the Fooliſh in the Houſe of Mirth.

5. It is better to hear the Rebuke of the Wiſe, than for a Man to hear the Song of Fools.

6. For a Fool's Laughter is no other than as the Noiſe of Thorns under a Pot: this alſo is Vanity.

7. Since Oppreſſion makes the Wiſe mad, and a Gift deſtroys the Heart;

8. The End of an Affair is better than the Beginning of it, a forbearing Spirit better than a haughty one.

9. Be not quickly paſſionate in thy Mind: for Paſſion reſts in the Boſom of Fools.

10. Do not ſay, How was it that the former Days were better than theſe? For thou doſt not aſk wiſely concerning this.

11. Wiſdom is good with a Poſſeſſion, and profitable to thoſe who ſee the Sun.

12. For Wiſdom is for Shelter, as well as Money; and the Profit of Knowledge is, that Wiſdom keeps the Owners of it alive.

13. Conſider the Work of God: for who can put in order, what he has brought to confuſion?

14. In the Time of Proſperity remain in it, and in the Time of Adverſity conſider: God has alſo made one over againſt the other, to the end that Man may not find out any Thing after it.

15. I have ſeen all in the Days of my Vanity: there is a righteous one periſhes in his Righteouſneſs, and a wicked one continues in his Evil.

16. Be not exceſſively righteous, nor make thy ſelf too wiſe; why ſhouldeſt thou become deſolate?

17. Be not exceſſively wicked, nor be fooliſh; why ſhouldeſt thou die before thy Time?

18. It is good for thee to take hold of this, and not let it go with thy Hand: for he who fears God will come out of all thoſe Things.

19. Wiſdom ſtrengthens the Wiſe, more than ten Governors who might be in the City.

20. For there is no righteous Man on the Earth, who does good, and ſins not.

21. Do not mind even all Words that are ſpoken, leſt thou ſhouldeſt hear thy own Servant curſe thee;

22. Eſpecially when thou knoweſt in thy Heart, that thou haſt likewiſe curſed others many times.

23. All this have I proved by Wiſdom; thinking I would be wiſe, but it was far from me.

24. For who can find out what is far diſtant, and very deep?

25. I turned about with my Heart, to know, ſearch out, and ſeek for Wiſdom, and Contrivance; as alſo to know the Wickedneſs of Folly, and the Fooliſhneſs of Madneſs.

26. And I find the Woman more bitter than Death, who is like Fortifications, her Heart Nets, her Hands Bonds: he that is good before God will eſcape from her, but the Sinner will be taken by her.

27. See, I have found this, ſays the Preacher, by each one, doing it by Contrivance.

28. Whom my Mind ſtill ſeeks for, without finding: though I find one Man out of a thouſand, yet not a Woman among all theſe.

Ver. 7. Since] Since Oppreſſion and Bribery may prevail in going to law, &c. it is better to ſee a Matter ended, and to bear Things. So Jun. and Trem. have Cum, and likewiſe join this Verſe to the following.

Ver. 8. better] Becauſe the Trouble and Fatigue of it is then over.

Ver. 12. Shelter] Heb. Shadow, as Pſa. xci. 1. It may alſo be taken for Comfort or Refreſhment, Shadow in that hot Country being as Sun-ſhine in our cold one.

Ib. Profit] thus tranſlated Ch. i. 3. & ii. 11. & iii. 9. & v. 9, 16. & x. 10.

Ib. Wiſdom] Diog. Laertius, on the Authority of Demetrius Magneſius, writes of Crates the Philoſopher, that he delivered his Money to a Banker, to be kept for his Children, if they ſhould be ſilly; but if wiſe Men or Philoſophers, to be given to the Poor, as they would not then want it.

Ib. alive] wiſe Men lengthening (or not ſhortening) their Lives by Piety, Temperance, Moderation, Caution and Underſtanding.

Ver. 14. Time] Φαμὶ δὴ τὸν ἀγαθὸν ἄνδρα, τῦτον ἥμεν τῶν πράγμασι μεγάλοις καὶ καιροῖς καλῶς χρεόμενον. ἔτος δέ κε εἴη ὁ ἐυτυχίαν τε δυνάμενο& καλῶς φέρειν καὶ πάλιν ἀτυχιαν. I ſay he is a good Man, who uſes Things and Times of great Moment well, who can indeed bear both Proſperity and Adverſity rightly, Archytas, Concerning a good and happy Man.

Ib. remain] The Verb-ſubſtantive be.

Ib. one over againſt the other] as if Man paſſed between them, ſo that he could not tell which would come upon him next.

Ib. after it] the preſent Time; by which the Meaning is both plain and proper, but neither appears by him, nor who the him belongs to.

Ver. 20. For] Becauſe every one's Imperfections require Wiſdom; and ſo the Verſes are properly joined together by this Particle.

Ver. 22. Eſpecially] which to render For, ſhews Solomon only ſpeaking to Curſers.

Ver. 26. Fortifications] the very ſame Word as in Chap. ix. 14. of which ſee Prov. xii. 12.

Ver. 27. Contrivance] according to that in Ver. 25, 29. & Ch. ix. 10.

Ver. 28. Whom] This may ſeem to be the good one before God, Ver. 26. and not to be [Which] for Ver. 27. to make the direct Contradiction, this have I found—— but I find not.

Ib. one Man] Empedocles telling Xenophanes it was difficult to find a wiſe Man; that is likely, ſaid he, becauſe he who does it muſt be wiſe himſelf, D. Laertius.

29. This

29. This only have I found, that God has made Man upright, but they have ſought many Contrivances.

CHAP. VIII.

WHO is like the Wiſe, and him that knows the Meaning of a Matter? A Man's Wiſdom enlightens his Countenance, ſo that the Boldneſs of it is altered.

2. As to me, obſerve the King's Command; and as to the High One, the Matter of the Oath of God.

3. Do not go troubled from his Preſence, nor ſtand in an evil Matter: for he does all that he pleaſes.

4. There is Authority in what the Word of a King is: and who will ſay to him, What art thou doing?

5. He that obſerves the Commandment, will know no evil Thing: and the Mind of the Wiſe knows the Time and Manner.

6. For there is a Time and Manner for every Affair; becauſe the Adverſity of Man is much upon him:

7. Since he does not know what will come to paſs; for who can tell him how it will be?

8. No Man is Ruler over the Spirit to with-hold it, and there is no Authority at the Time of Death, nor any Artillery in that Battle; neither will Wickedneſs deliver the Owners of it.

9. I have ſeen all this, and given my Mind to every Work that is done under the Sun. There is a Time in which one Man rules over another to his own Hurt.

10. And thus have I ſeen the Wicked buried, who came, being gone from the holy Place, and are forgot in the City where they did ſo: this alſo is Vanity.

11. Becauſe the Decree is not executed on an evil Deed ſpeedily, therefore the Hearts of Men in them are full of doing Evil;

12. By which a Sinner may do Evil a hundred times, and it may be prolonged to him: though I know too that it will be well with them that fear God, who ſtand in awe of his Preſence.

13. But it will not be well with the Wicked, nor will his Time be long, which is like a Shadow; becauſe he does not ſtand in awe before God.

14. There is a Vanity which is done upon the Earth, that there are righteous Perſons to whom it falls out according to the Work of the Wicked, and wicked ones to whom it falls out according to the Work of the Righteous; which I thought was Vanity.

Ver. 29. Man] or Men, as tranſlated elſewhere: the Heb. Word, ſays Gell, is appellative, not proper; God made thee, and me, and every Perſon upright; as appears by the Oppoſition following, Eſſay tow. Amendm. p. 244. ſee likewiſe p. 601.

Ver. 1. altered] to which Duport adds by way of Paraphraſe in Gr. Verſe, He is neither ſo much with a downcaſt Look, nor impudent, as he was before, when he did not know ſo many Things of Advice; but is very aweful, and a grave Brightneſs ſhines upon, as alſo Boldneſs, mix'd with Meekneſs on, his Countenance.

Ver. 2. As to me] This is directly in the Heb. Manner of Expreſſion, and has an Accent that makes a Stop.

Ib. High One] Where is great Zakeph another Stop, nor is this joined to the next Word by Makkaph, as in Ch. iii. 18. & vii. 14. for which it has been taken; but being thus doubly ſeparated, is to be ſuppoſed this Noun, extant alſo in Hoſ. vii. 16. & xi. 7. 2 Sam. xxiii. 1. and according to Ch. v. 8. the ſame eaſy Senſe, ſays Croſs, with Prov. xxiv. 21. 1 Pet. ii. 17. whoſe Tagh. Art ſee, p. 99, 100.

Ver. 3. troubled] for it will be in vain to be diſcontented at what he orders, which may alſo gain his Diſpleaſure; and thus the Verb commonly ſignifies.

Ver. 5. knows the Time] Accordingly Pittacus adviſes, Καιρὸν γνῶθι, Know the Time, Diog. Laert. in Vita ejus.

Ver. 6. becauſe] Here is the ſame Heb. Particle as at the Beginning of the Ver. ſignifying for or becauſe, but not therefore; ſo Pagn. and Merc. have this quia, Munſt. eò quod, and Caſt. quoniam: beſides therefore ſpoils the Senſe; for Becauſe there is, as in the com. Tranſ. a time to every purpoſe, why therefore is the miſery of man great? That would rather leſſen it, by giving him Hope, which often exceeds the Enjoyment of earthly Things, that he ſhall ſome time obtain his Purpoſe.

Ver. 7. what will come to paſs] In the com. Lat. the Things that are paſt, wrong both in Tenſe and Number.

Ib. how] Heb. according as; but when in the com. Tranſ. directly oppoſite to what is juſt before, ſuppoſes man does know that which ſhall be, only not the Time of it.

Ver. 8. to with-hold it] from his giving up the Ghoſt, as the Expreſſion is plain for, and the reſt of the Verſe concerning Death: yet the Paraphraſts twiſt it, as Patrick, that no Prince can hinder Men from thinking what they pleaſe; or as others, that no Subject can ſave himſelf againſt the King's Authority. But when I look back upon thoſe Meanings to the Words, I can't ſee the Reſemblance that ſhould be in them, nor why they muſt be ſpoken of Kings and their Subjects.

Ib. Artillery] no offenſive Weapons to ſend at the Enemy; as the Word ſeems to import, and agrees beſt with the foregoing: ſo Broughton renders it armour; Jun. and Trem. miſſile, Dart; Bibliander in the Tig. Verſ. (telorum) emiſſionem, throwing darts, and Merc. the like.

Ver. 10. the Wicked buried] whoſe ruling had procured their Death, this Verſe being neceſſarily connected to the former by thus; and Solomon ſeems to have mentioned buried, becauſe he had ſeen that himſelf.

Ib. being gone] before they came to the City, where they perpetrated their Wickedneſs.

Ib. the holy Place] which may denote their having been religious.

Ib. forgot] Sept. and vulg. Tranſlations, were praiſed; which only counting כ to be ב might make: ſo the Jewiſh Rabbies play with this and other Words, but in theſe Verſions it was rather a Miſtake.

Ib. where they did ſo] The Author of the vulg. Lat. to help out his foregoing; turns it, as if they were of juſt Deeds; and here the prefixing but of כ to אשר might bring it to the ſame Senſe, viz. as they who had done rightly, which Capellus it ſeems overlooked.

15. And I praiſed Chearfulneſs, becauſe Man has no Good under the Sun, but to eat, drink, and be chearful: for that of his Labour will cleave to him, the Days of his Life which God gives him there.

16. As I was giving my Mind to know Wiſdom, and to ſee the Buſineſs which is done upon the Earth, that there is he who does not even ſee Sleep Day nor Night with his Eyes;

17. I ſaw that of all the Work of God, Man cannot find out that which is done under the Sun; for the ſake of which ſhould a Man labour to ſeek, he could not find it; nay not if the Wiſe ſhould think to know it.

CHAP. IX.

FOR I applied all this to my Mind, to manifeſt it all, that the Righteous, and the Wiſe, with their Services, are in the Hand of God: Men know neither his Love nor Hatred, by all that is before them.

2. All Things are alike to all; there is the ſame Event to the Righteous, and the Wicked; to the Good and Clean, and the Unclean; both to him who ſacrifices, and him who does not: the Good and the Sinner are alike; he that ſwears, is as he that fears an Oath.

3. This is a grievous Thing among all which is done under the Sun, that there is the ſame Event to all; ſo that even Men's Hearts are full of Evil, and Madneſs is in them while they live, though after that they muſt be with the Dead.

4. Becauſe there is ſome Truſt for him who is joined to all the Living; for a living Dog himſelf is better than a dead Lion.

5. Though the Living know that they ſhall die; but the Dead know nothing, nor have they a Reward any more, ſince the Remembrance of them is forgot.

6. Both their Love and Hatred, with their Envy is now periſhed; and they have no Part any more for ever of all that is done under the Sun.

7. Go, eat thy Food with Gladneſs, and drink thy Wine with a good Heart: for now God is pleaſed with thy Deeds.

8. Let thy Cloaths be white at all times, and let not Oil be wanting on thy Head.

9. Enjoy Life with the Wife whom thou loveſt, all the Days of thy vain Life, and of thy Vanity, which are given thee under the Sun: for that is what belongs to thee of Life, and of thy Labour which thou doeſt there.

10. Do all that thy Hand finds to do, with thy Might: for there is no Work, Contrivance, Knowledge, nor Wiſdom in the Grave whither thou art going.

11. I ſaw again under the Sun, that the Race is not for the Swift, nor the Battle for the Strong, neither Food for the Wiſe, nor yet Riches for Men of Underſtanding, nay nor Favour for thoſe who have Knowledge; becauſe Time, and Caſualty falls out to them all.

12. For even Man does not know his Time, like the Fiſhes which are taken in an ill Net, and as the Birds that are ſo in a Snare: like them are Men inſnared at an ill Time, when it falls ſuddenly upon them.

13. However I ſaw this Wiſdom under the Sun, which was great to me:

14. There was a little City, and few Men in it, to which a great King came, incloſed it about, and built great Ramparts againſt it;

15. And there was a poor wiſe Man found in it, who delivered the City by his Wiſdom: yet the People did not remember that poor Man.

16. Upon which I ſaid, Wiſdom is better than Strength: though the Wiſdom of a poor Perſon is deſpiſed, and his Words not hearkened to.

17. The Words of the Wiſe are hearkened to in Quietneſs, more than the Cry of him who has dominion among Fools.

Ver. 15. Chearfulneſs] better than Mirth, Chap. vii. 4. and though the Heb. Word is the ſame there, that might have a more extenſive and different Meaning.

Ver. 1. in the Hand of God] as if concealed, as well as preſerved there.

Ib. know neither his Love] God's Love or Hatred is not known by the outward View of Things, Proſperity or Adverſity; and his ſeems neceſſarily and plainly to be underſtood from God expreſſed juſt before.

Ver. 2. to the Good] The Sept. and vulg. Lat. Tranſ. add and to the Bad; but Unclean may be oppoſite both to Good and Clean, according to Ab. Ezra, eſpecially as there is [and] between them.

Ver. 3. ſo that] which is connective, and agreeable to Chap. viii. 11.

Ib. though] alike connective and well; but [and] makes it weak.

Ver. 4. Becauſe there is ſome Truſt] Becauſe they have a Dependance on this Life; which I think clears up the Difficulty of underſtanding the Drift of this Verſe well.

Ver. 5. Reward any more] He ſpeaks in Regard to the Things of this Life only, as the following Words ſhew.

Ver. 7. for now God] Where Sandys,

Why ſhould unfruitful Cares our Souls moleſt?
Pleaſe thou thy God, and in his Favour reſt.

Ver. 10. Do] Pittacus being aſked, What is beſt? Made anſwer, Τὸ παρὼν εὖ ποιεῖν, To do well what is preſent, Diog. Laert. in Vit. Accordingly the famous Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius Antoninus ſays ingeniouſly, in his Meditations, B. viii. 38. Τοῦτον ἰδὲ τὸν χρόνον σεαυτῷ χάρισαι, Know how to beſtow the preſent Time upon thy ſelf.

18. Wiſdom is better than Weapons of War; but one Sinner deſtroys much Good.

CHAP. X.

DEAD Flies make the Apothecary's Ointment ſend forth a Stink, ſo a little Folly does him who is valued for Wiſdom and Honour.

2. The Heart of the Wiſe is at his right Hand, but a Fool's Heart at his left.

3. And even when the Fooliſh goes along the Way his Heart fails, and he declares to all that he is fooliſh.

4. If the Spirit of the Governor get up againſt thee, leave not thy Place: for Healing pacifies great Faults.

5. There is an Evil I have ſeen under the Sun, as an Error which comes forth from before the Ruler:

6. Folly is put in many high Places, and the Rich ſit in a low one.

7. I have ſeen Servants upon Horſes, and Princes walking like Servants upon the Ground.

8. He who digs a Ditch, will fall into it; and him that breaks down a Hedge, a Serpent will bite:

9. He that removes Stones will be in pain by them; he who cleaves Wood, will be in danger by that.

10. If one has made the Iron blunt, and does not whet the Edge, he muſt increaſe the Force; but Wiſdom is an Advantage to direct.

11. If a Serpent bites out of the Charming, he who charms with the Tongue has no Advantage.

12. The Words of a wiſe Man's Mouth are a Favour, but a Fool's Lips devour himſelf.

13. The Beginning of the Words of his Mouth is Folly, and the End of the ſame grievous Madneſs.

14. The Fooliſh has alſo much Talk; a Man does not know what it is, and who can tell him what will be after it?

15. The Labour of Fools tires each of them, becauſe he knows not how to go to the City.

16. Wo is to thee, O Country, whoſe King is a Child, and thy Princes eat in the Morning.

17. Happy art thou, O Country, whoſe King is a Son of the Nobility; and thy Princes eat in Seaſon, for Strength, and not for Feaſting.

18. By much Slothfulneſs a Building decays, and by the Slackneſs of the Hands a Houſe drops down.

19. Some dreſs Victuals for Mirth, and Wine makes the Living chearful; but Money anſwers all Things.

20. Do not curſe the King, even in thy Mind, nor the Rich in thy Bed-chamber: for a Bird of the Air will carry the Voice, and that which has Wings will tell the Matter.

CHAP. XI.

CAST thy Breaſt atop of the Water; for thou wilt find it in many Days.

2. Give a Part to ſeven, and even to eight: for thou doſt not know what Adverſity may be on the Earth.

Ver. 18. better]
Great Actions leſs from Courage, Strength and Speed,
Than from wiſe Counſels and Commands proceed,
Denham's Tranſ. of Cicero's Treatiſe of old Age.

Ver. 3. declares to all] Ariſtippus being aſked, what Difference there was between a wiſe and a fooliſh Man; made anſwer, Send them both naked to thoſe who are unacquainted with them, and thou wilt know, Diog. Laert.

Ver. 4. pacifies] Not to provoke the Indignation of Superiors, Pythagoras expreſſed by, Do not ſtir up the Fire with a Sword, D. Laert. in Pythag.

Ver 11. If] So the Heb. is, not ſurely.

Ib. out of] or when there is not Charming, viz. bites before or after it; ſo that the right Time ſhould be minded as well as the Matter, according to Chap. viii. 5. and without may have a double and oppoſite Meaning.

Ib. Charming] See Jer. viii. 17. Pſa. lviii. 5.

Ib. Advantage] the ſame Word as in the foregoing Verſe. This may be brought for an Inſtance of the Benefit of Wiſdom to direct. Jun. and Trem. have nullum emolumentum incantationis, no Advantage of charming; thus alſo the learned Dieu expounds it; and Sandys turns the whole Verſe,

If Serpents bite before the Charm be ſung,
What then avails th' Inchanter's babbling Tongue?

Ver. 12. Lips] by indiſcreet talking with them.

Ib. devour] as the Lips do Food; but to ſwallow is the Office of the Throat.

Ver. 14. after it] See Jun. and Ch. vii. 14. but after him ſeems to ſtand out of joint.

Ver. 15. to the City] in the moſt plain Road.

Ver. 18. Slothfulneſs] Οὐδὲν καλὸν ὑπὸ ῥᾳθώμης γίγνεται, No Good comes of Sloth or Idleneſs, writes Max. Tyrius, Diſſert. 34.

Ver. 19. Some dreſs] act. and plur.

Ib. Victuals] not a feaſt.

Ver. 20. for] Sandys,
For Birds will bear thy Whiſp'rings on their Wings,
To the wide Ears of death-inflicting Kings.

Ver. 1. Caſt] If the Bread thou giveſt to the Poor, ſeems as much loſt as if thou ſhouldeſt throw it on the Water; yet thou mayeſt conſider, that even the Water in Time being drawn up into the Air, will fall upon the Ground, and make the Corn grow, whereby thou wilt have thy Bread again. The Meaning of this Verſe is explained by the next; but ſee alſo Patrick's Par.

Ib. the Water] wet faces in the Biſhops Bible, by which one would think thoſe who weep, but their marginal Note is, Be liberal to the poore, although it ſeme to be caſt into the Sea, yet it ſhal profit thee at the laſt. Matthews's Bible has, Sende thy vittailes over the waters.

Ver. 2. Adverſity] when thou mayeſt want Help thy ſelf.

3. If the Clouds are full of Rain, they empty themſelves on the Ground; and a Tree will be in the Place where it falls, whether it is to the South, or the North.

4. He who obſerves the Wind, will not ſow; nor will he that minds the Clouds, reap.

5. As thou knoweſt not what is the Way of the Spirit, nor of the Bones in the pregnant Womb; ſo doſt thou not know the Work of God who makes all Things.

6. Sow thy Seed in the Morning, and ceaſe not thy Hand at the Evening: for thou doſt not know which will be right, this or that, or whether both of them will be alike good.

7. The Light indeed is ſweet, and it is good for the Eyes to ſee the Sun:

8. But when a Man lives many Years, being merry in them all; let him remember the Days of Darkneſs, for they will be many. All that comes is Vanity.

9. Be merry, young Man, in thy Youth, and let thy Mind make thee chearful in thy youthful Days, go in the Ways of thy own Heart, and by the Sight of thy Eyes; but know that God will bring thee into Judgment for all theſe Things.

10. Therefore put away what diſpleaſes from thy Mind, and remove that which is evil from thy Fleſh: for Youth and early Time are Vanity.

CHAP. XII.

AND remember thy Creator in the Days of thy Youth; while the bad Days are not come, nor the Years approached, of which thou wilt acknowledge, thou haſt no Delight in them;

2. Whilſt the Sun, with the Light, as alſo the Moon and Stars, are not become dark, nor the Clouds return after the Rain:

3. The Time in which the Keepers of the Houſe will tremble, the ſtout ones overthrow themſelves, the Grinders ceaſe, as being become few, and thoſe that look out at the Windows will be darkened;

4. When the Doors will be ſhut in the Street with the low Noiſe of the Grinding, he will riſe up at the Voice of the Bird, and all the Daughters of Singing will be brought down;

5. They will alſo be afraid of being high, there will be Terrors in the Way, the Almond-tree will bloſſom, the Graſhopper be burdenſome, and Deſire pine away; becauſe Man is going to his everlaſting Home, and the Mourners go about in the Street:

Ver. 3. Clouds] which ſhould be imitated in being charitable: for as a Man lives and dies, like a Tree that inclines and falls one Way, ſo it will be with him after.

Ver. 4. He &c.] Intimating by theſe beautiful and ſtriking Allegories, that we ſhould not refrain from Charity or doing Good, by every Thing that we hear (like the Wind) or ſee (as the Clouds) to the contrary; nor loſe the Seaſon or Opportunity for it, as more obſcurely hinted by Seed-time and Harveſt.

Ver. 5. the Work of God] his Providence according to its preſent Circumſtances; yet, as in the next Verſe, we are to continue doing well.

Ver. 8. But] which the two Heb. Particles unitedly ſignify, as I here render them.

Ver. 9. Be merry] Said ironically, according to almoſt all Interpreters, and the plain Purport of the Expreſſions; which need not be mentioned, but that Bp. Patrick takes it for a Permiſſion to do theſe Things.

Ver. 10. what diſpleaſes] viz. God, who will bring to Account for it; ſo Jun. &c. but ſorrow, which I do not find the Heb. Word ever ſignifies, leads quite away from it, though forced back again by its Expoſitors.

Ver. 2. An allegorical Deſcription of the gloomy State of old Age.

Ib. as alſo] Our Tranſlators ſeem ſimply to have uſed [or] becauſe the Heb. Verb is ſing. as ſuppoſing it belonged to the Nouns ſeverally; which it would not to Stars, and ſurely Solomon did not mean it would be one only, without the other. Whereas it is a beautiful Figure of Speech, and not uncommon, to make Verbs agree with their neareſt Subject, as here in the Original the Sun.

Ib. the Clouds return] to bring more Rain.

Ver. 3. Keepers] namely the Hands.

Ib. ſtout ones] the Legs.

Ib. overthrow] The Heb. Word not ſignifying bow.

Ib. themſelves] one another, by their ſtriking together through Weakneſs.

Ib. Grinders] the Teeth.

Ib. thoſe that look] the Eyes.

Ver. 4. Doors] the Lips.

Ib. in the Street] comparatively without, or as Doors are in the Street; the Heb. being not Streets, as if real or proper ones, though ſo perhaps properly expounded.

Ib. with the low] low being an Adjective; not when—is low, as if a Verb.

Ib. low Noiſe] viz. Mumbling, as by ancient People.

Ib. at the Voice] early when the Birds begin ſinging, for want of Sleep.

Ib. Daughters of Singing] the Inſtruments of Speech, by which Singing is produced; not all the Daughters of Muſick.

Ver. 5. afraid of being high] leſt they ſhould fall, through Weakneſs and Giddineſs, belonging to old Age; and ſo Mercer explains it, timent loca alta conſcendere, they are afraid to get up high Places.

Ib. Almond-tree] The Head will yield white Hairs. Though this Tree does not ſeem to be mentioned rather than any other for the Colour of its Bloſſoms, ſince they are reddiſh; but for blooming before Winter is over, which is an Emblem of old Age. This Interpretation however new, may ſtand faireſt for what Solomon himſelf, who is not to be thought uſing an unmeaning Expreſſion, intended.

Ib. the Graſhopper] which an aged Perſon, withered, lean, and with the Bones ſticking out, may be thought to reſemble the moſt of any Thing, as the Poets feigned old Tithon to be turned into a Graſhopper; and this Interpretion Lyra gives, and Poole ſeems to like beſt. One may illuſtrate it by remarking, that the nimble ſprightly Graſhopper becomes burdenſome to himſelf at the End of Summer.

Ib. the Mourners] thoſe who viſit the Sick; rather than the Funeral Mourners, ſince a Perſon is here ſpoken of as not yet dead, nor is go about ſo apt to the latter.

6. While

6. While the ſilver Cord is not become diſtant, the golden Bowl cracked, the Pitcher broken at the Spring, nor the Wheel cracked at the Ciſtern;

7. When Earth will return to the Ground as it was, and the Spirit to God who gave it.

8. Every Thing is Vanity, ſays the Preacher, very vain.

9. Which is the more certain becauſe the Preacher was wiſe; who ſtill teaches the People Knowledge, has been attentive, ſearched, and put in order many Proverbs.

10. He endeavoured to find agreeable Words; however what is written is right, the Words of Truth.

11. The Words of the Wiſe are like Goads, and like Stakes ſet in, that keep the Cattle together; which are put by the ſame Shepherd.

12. So be the more admoniſhed by them, my Son; there being no End of making many Books, and much Study being a Labour to the Fleſh.

13. Let us hear the Concluſion of the whole Matter: Fear God; and obſerve his Commandments, for this is all that is for Man.

14. For God will bring every Work into Judgment, even every hidden Thing, whether it be good or evil.

Ver 6. ſilver Cord] the Marrow of the Back, according to Grotius, Poole, Patrick, the Geneva Notes, &c.

Ib. become diſtant] ſhrunk away from the Vertebræ or Bones: thus the Heb. Verb ſignifies, not looſed.

Ib. golden Bowl] the Dura Mater, or the Membrane that covers the Brain, Poole, Patr. and Gen. Not.

Ib. Pitcher] the Vena Cava, on the right Side of the Heart, carrying the Blood like a Pitcher.

Ib. Spring] the right Ventricle or Cell of the Heart, according to Poole and Patrick; rather than the Bladder after Grotius.

Ib. Wheel] the Vena Pulmonalis, and may be called the Wheel by reaſon of the Circulation of the Blood, in Alluſion to the drawing Water with a Wheel.

Ib. Ciſtern] the left Ventricle of the Heart, it having two which hold the Blood; but Grotius would have this the Belly.

Ver. 10. by Sandys, worthy to be tranſcribed for the Poetry,

He found out Matter to delight the Mind;
And every Word he writ, by Truth was ſign'd.

Ver. 11. Stakes] differing from Nails in one Heb. Letter.

Ib. ſet in] Heb. planted; Stakes being ſet in a Row, and at about an equal Diſtance, as Plants are.

Ib. that keep the Cattle together] Broughton tranſlates it in the ſheep-folds; Jun. and Trem. ad caulas, at the Folds; and thus it is coherent with Shepherd. But Hyde in Not. 15. on Chap. xiv. of Itin. Mund. ſays it is in the Eng. Bib. ſenſu plane nullo, i. e. evidently without any Senſe: for, adds he, it is hard to divine, who are the maſters of aſſemblies; and harder to believe, that it belonged to them, to drive and faſten nails with a hammer, as Smiths or Carpenters.

Ver. 12. Labour] To omit other Inſtances, Diog. Laertius tells concerning Carneades, that he was intent at his Study, till his Sight was ſo affected he could not ſee; and then ordering the Boy to bring a Candle, bid him read, as if it was Night.

Ver. 14. every Work] As Plutarch, writing About ſuch as are puniſhed ſlowly by the Deity, ſays, Ἀγωνίζεσθαι ὥσπερ ἀθλητὰς κατὰ τον βίον, ὅταν δὲ διαγωνίσησθαι τότε τυγχάνει τῶν προσηκόντων, In this Life there is to be ſtriving like Wreſtlers, and when it is lived out, then the Reward belonging to it is received.

NOTES upon The POEM of SOLOMON.

CHAP. I.

THE chief of Solomon's Poems.

SHE.

2. Let him give me ſome Kiſſes with his Mouth, whoſe Love, which is thy own, is better than Wine.

3. According to the Smell of thy excellent Ointments, thy Name is like Ointment poured out: therefore do the Virgins love thee.

4. O pull me! and we will run after thee; the King who brought me into his Parlours: we will be glad and rejoice through thee, will remember thy Love more than Wine: the Sincere cannot but love thee.

5. Though brown, I am beautiful, Daughters of Jeruſalem, like the Tents of Kedar, like Solomon's Curtains.

6. Look not at me however, ſince I am brown, becauſe I am ſun-burnt: for my Mother's Children diſpleaſed with me, made me keep the Vineyards, and yet I kept not my own.

7. Tell me, thou whom my very Soul loves, where thou feedeſt thy Flock, where thou letteſt it lie down at Noon: for why ſhould I be concealed as it were by thoſe of thy Companions?

HE.

8. If thou doſt not know, O faireſt of the fair Sex, come forth in the Tracks of the Flock, and keep thy Kids by the Shepherds Huts.

9. I compare thee, my dear one, to the Horſes in Pharaoh's Chariots:

Ver. 1. Poem] Song being of profane Uſe, perhaps as much as Ballet formerly, when it was called in the Old Engliſh Bible, The Ballet of Balletes, nay in the Biſhops Tranſ. made but in Q. Elizabeth's Reign, and was therefore altered.

Ib. She] which with [he] and [they] I annex throughout this Book, as neceſſary to make it plainer, ſince it is a Dialogue: which Manner of writing was much uſed in very ancient Times, as appears by Diogenes Laertius, who in his Lives of the Philoſophers, mentions ſucceſſively Stilpo writing 9 Dialogues, Crito, 17, Simo 33, Glauco 9, Simmias 23, Cebes 3; and the Speakers are diſtinguiſhed in Matthewe's Bib. 1537.

Ver. 2. give me] as we ſay.

Ib. In the ſpiritual, which is the principal Senſe, Solomon ſeems to begin as with the ſaving Work of Regeneration; where tho' the Soul firſt expreſſes her Love, yet it is in Conſequence of the Divine Love firſt acting in a previous and powerfull Call, according to 1 John iv. 19. and as the Bridegroom compoſed this by Ver. 1. notwithſtanding the Bride firſt ſpeaks.

Ib. Kiſſes] the common Sign of Love.

Ib. than Wine] The Soul ſoon becomes ſenſible, that the Love of God exceeds any earthly Enjoyment, which urges her on to obtain it.

Ver. 3. According to] Beſides this, which is ſeveral times the Meaning of the Heb. Prepoſition, as any one may be ſatisfied by the Plenty of Inſtances produced by Noldius, I don't know any that makes agreeable Senſe; however not the poor Compliment, that the Virgins loved Solomon becauſe of the Smell of his Ointments, much leſs that his very Name was as Ointment becauſe of that Smell.

Ver. 4. O pull me!] feeling, as the yet feeble Soul does, her owh Sluggiſhneſs, while ſcarce or but juſt riſen from the Earth.

Ib. we will run] I with others who do.

Ib. who brought] The Soul does not arrive to ſuch holy Deſire, till it has had ſome Experience of the Preſence and Favour of its Saviour, as it was with Jacob, Gen. xxviii. 16, &c.

Ib. Parlours] the beſt Rooms of Entertainment, where ſhe was treated with Wine, but minded and remembred his Love more than that, according to what follows: better Senſe, I preſume, than is to be made of Chambers; however being not a ſingle one, the Libertine may eaſe himſelf of his looſe Thoughts. The Word is rendered by our preſent Tranſlaters in 1 Chr. xxviii. 11. parlours, tho' belonging to the Temple, and I turn it ſo, Judg. iii. 24. where it is diſtinguiſhed from Chamber, as I do alſo in 2 King. ix. 2.

Ver. 5. beautiful] Although I make a poor Appearance of my being religious, I am ſincere and hearty in it, which is truly beautiful.

Ver. 5, 6.] Nothing perhaps in all the celebrated ancient and modern Paſtorals comes up to theſe two Verſes, even excluſive of their divine Signification, in the rural Ingenuity, and beautiful Simplicity, of the Thoughts; which to repeat in another Manner for Illuſtration, might be only to leſſen.

Ver. 6. ſun-burnt] not with the ſame Verb as before.

Ib. my Mother's Children] The mean Show I make is owing to the ill Profeſſors of my Church, who inſtead of helping have hurt me.

Ib. made me] Having Power over her, it may be ſuppoſed, by her being younger, and alſo Envy to her for her being fairer, ſo forced her out to work, and be tanned in the Sun.

Ver. 7. Tell me] The Soul in Love with the Lord, wants to follow him; and ignorant how to do it rightly, ſeeks it properly by Prayer from himſelf.

Ib. why, &c.] which I have in manuſcript Verſe, deſignedly plain and cloſe,

Why ſhould thy Shepherdeſs, as hid, repine
At others Company, and want of thine?

Ib. concealed as it were] concealing her ſelf from the other Shepherds, while ſhe did not ſeem to do it, leſt ſhe ſhould be taken notice of: the Caſe of thoſe who are among falſe Teachers, and ſuch a Church, ſeeking for the true one. It is undeniable that it is covered or concealed, but ſeems to have been altered becauſe Tranſlators did not underſtand the Meaning of it; and thus it ſuits with come forth in the next Verſe.

Ver. 8. keep thy Kids] as an inferior Shepherdeſs.

Ib. by the Shepherds Huts] whither they would be ſure to come.

Ver. 9. dear one] The Hebrew Word might perhaps be rendered moſt naturally Friend, or in Latin Amica: but this ſeems not ſufficiently endearing, as belonging to Friendſhip rather than to connubial Love. My Dear, though tender, is trite; and I recollect not at preſent any Word in our Language more juſtly expreſſive of the Original.

Ib. the Horſes] that ſeem by what follows to have had fine Collars on their Necks, and Rows (as is denoted in

12. While the King is in his Circle, my Spikenard gives a good Scent.

13. My Love is to me like a Bundle of Myrrh, lying all the Night long between my Breaſts:

14. My Beloved is to me as a Bunch of Camphire, the Growth of the ſcented Grounds at Engedi.

HE.

15. Behold, thou art fair, my dear one, thou thy ſelf exceeding fair: thy Eyes, to name no more, are like Doves.

SHE.

16. Lo not fair alone art thou, my Love, but good-tempered too; agreeable to our Bed being green,

17. The Rafters of our Houſes Cedar, our Gallery Cypreſs.

3. As an Apple-tree amongſt the Trees of the Wood, ſo is my Love among the Sons; in whoſe Shade I ſhould like to ſit, and his Fruit would be pleaſant to my Palate.

4. He introduced me into the Banqueting-houſe, the Sign of which over me was Love.

5. Support me with Cordials, ſtrew Choice of Apples for me; becauſe I am ſick with Love.

6. Let his left Hand be laid under my Head, and his right put round my Waiſt:

7. I ſtrictly charge you, Daughters of Jeruſalem, who are among the wild Roes or Hinds, not any how to make his Love be ſtirred up, till it would.

8. That is the Voice of my Beloved! look yonder he comes! leaping upon the Mountains, ſkipping over the Hills;

9. My Love, even not unlike a Roe, or youthful Deer. Lo already he ſtands but behind our Wall, looks through the Windows, appears plainly at the Caſement,

10. And pleaſantly thus beſpeaks me: Get ready, my dear one, my fair one, and come along.

11. For ſee the Winter is fled away, the rainy Seaſon is quite gone.

12. Earth's Lap diſplays her infant Flowers, the warbling Spring is welcomed in, and hark how the Turtle-dove cooes in our Clime.

13. The Parent-tree produces its green Figs, and the Vines teeming with Grapes afford a pleaſant Smell. Get ready, my dear one, my fair one, and come along.

Ver. 12. Circle] ſurrounded by his Courtiers; the Manner in which they uſed to ſit.

Ver. 13. lying] as here is not he in the Heb. that ſeems too immodeſt at the beſt. Nay thus the beſt Tranſlators have rendered it; and to put Myrrh into the Boſom, ſays Patrick, was the Manner in thoſe Countries.

Ver. 14. Grounds] Incloſures or Plats, more ſuitable than Vineyards for Camphire.

Ver. 15. like Doves] looking pretty and innocent; ſee Chap. iv. 1. & v. 12. ſo Sandys,

In either Eye there ſits a Dove;
So mild, ſo full of artleſs Love.

Ver. 17. Houſes] The Pleaſure-houſes ſeem to be intended, where the Rafters and Gallery were in Sight.

Ib. Gallery] as Chap. vii. 5.

Ver. 2. Lilly among Thorns] ſurpaſſingly beautiful.

Ver. 5. ſtrew] or ſpread, as the Heb. Word ſignifies, and is rendered Job xli. 30.

Ver. 6. Let] The Verb here is in the direct Form for the Imperative or let, which in the 3d Perſon is the ſame with the fut. Tenſe.

Ver. 7. I ſtrictly charge you] being concerned leſt the young Women abroad in the Country, from whence ſhe was expecting him to come, according to the next Verſe, ſhould endeavour to gain his Affection before he got to her; but ſhe ſignifies it would be in vain. It ſeems a lively Image of the Jealouſy, the Fear, and yet the Confidence of a Lover.

Ib. who are among] at their Country-ſeats, Hunting, &c.

Ib. among] for how profane would it have been in Solomon to make Swearing by ſuch Creatures? Ainſw. ſays, 'here may be underſtood, yee that are by the Roes, or 'abide with the Roes;' Jun. and Trem. have imperatively, emanete cum capreis, remain out with the Roes.

Ib. it would] The Verb belonging to Love, and not to him.

Ver. 8. leaping] Biſh. hoppyng.

Ver. 9. through] not forth, he being repreſented as without, which behind, and his coming thither from the Hills ſhew.

Ib. appears plainly] Heb. flouriſhing: diſcovering himſelf gradually, as it is done divinely.

Ver. 13. teeming] The pleaſant Smell being while the Vines are in Bloſſom.

Ver. 14. ſteep Place] Stairs in a Houſe does not ſuit very well, either with Rock abroad, or with Dove.

let me ſee thy Countenance, hear thy Voice: for this is pleaſant, and that is beautiful.

15. Catch the Foxes for us, the little Foxes that ſpoil the Vineyards; for ours have young Grapes.

16. I have a Love of my own, and I am his, who feeds his Flock amidſt the Lillies.

17. Againſt the Day dawns, and the ſable Shades flee faſt away, turn about my Love, reſemble the Roe, in Swiftneſs the Fawn, upon the boaſted Mountains of Bether.

CHAP. III.

I CONSIDERED where to find him, whom my Soul loved, on my Bed in the Night; but conſidered alas in vain.

2. I will get up now, thought I, and go about in the City, through the Lanes and Streets, to ſeek for him, with a Lover's Fondneſs; but ſought, and could not find him.

3. The Watchmen who went about there meeting with me, I ſaid, Did you ſee ſuch a one, to whom my Affection is engaged?

4. From them was I gone but a little, before I found him out: I caught hold of him, and held him faſt, till I had led him along to my Mother's Houſe, and into the very Parlour of her who conceived me.

5. I ſtrictly charge you, Daughters of Jeruſalem, who are among the wild Roes or Hinds, not any how to make his Love be ſtirred up, till it would.

THEY.

6. Who is this comes up out of the Wilderneſs like Pillars of Smoak, perfumed with Myrrh and Frankincenſe, more than any Powder of the Merchants?

SHE.

7. Behold there are threeſcore ſtout Men, round about his Bed, namely Solomon's, ſome of the ſtouteſt in Iſrael:

8. All of them can handle a Weapon, being inſtructed in War; and each have their Swords on their Thighs, by reaſon of Danger dreaded in the Night.

9. King Solomon made him a Marriage-bed of the Wood of Lebanon:

10. To which he put the Poſts of Silver, the Covering of Gold, the Canopy of Purple; the Middle of it being ſpread for Love by the Daughters of Jeruſalem.

11. Go forth, you Daughters of Zion, and ſee King Solomon with the Crown which his Mother crowned him with, on the Day of his Marriage-contract, on the Day of his Heart's Rejoicing.

Ver. 15.] ending the Speech of the Beloved that began Ver. 10. as in Barton's Hymns, p. 727. which I prefer to Patrick's making the foregoing Verſe and this, a Reply of his to the other, as unapt and confuſed.

Ver. 16. I have a Love of my own] That in the com. Tranſ. being Nothing, and I hope it won't be pretended the Original is ſo; on the contrary what is there turned my is properly I have.

Ib. feeds] the Flock, as Ch. i. 7. Gen. xxxvii. 13, 16.

Ver. 17. Day dawns] The heavenly Mind craves for the Coming of her new admired one ſoon. The Progreſs of Regeneration may be ſeen, notably as well as experimentally deſcribed, in Bromley's Sabbath of Reſt.

Ib. reſemble the Roe] to make haſte in coming to her, as Ver. 8, 9. Chap. viii. 14. and as עד ſignifies againſt as well as till, Gen. xliii. 25. it is more likely to be meant by Day than by Night; ſee alſo Ch. iv. 6. He ſhould get ready to come away ſpeedily as ſoon as ever he had the Morning-Light for it. Turn about may ſignify her Fear that he was not then coming towards her.

Ib. Bether] Vulg. Lat. Bethel, where uncommon Names are divers times changed for more common ones.

Ver. 1. Bed.] The Emblem of Sloth or Negligence, by being in which as a Bed, the Soul's Beloved is loſt, according as at Ch. v. 2, 3.

Ver. 2. get up] He being ſought without Effect in a State of Negligence, a good Reſolution of Diligence well proſecuted, and perſevered in, was proper and neceſſary.

Ver. 3. Watchmen] whom Quarles in a Note on his Verſe of this Book expounds to be The Miniſters of the Word, and Patrick the like.

Ib. Did you] The Perſon divinely reached, and afterwards coming to a Loſs, is upon the Enquiry from the Watchmen; but finds Chriſt again, after ſeeking there in vain.

Ver. 4. gone but a little] When ſhe turned from them, ſhe ſoon found her Love. A Sarcaſm, it may be doubted whether more ſharp or juſt.

Ib. held him faſt] The Favour of God being regained, great Care is taken not to loſe it again.

Ib. very Parlour] the beſt Room in the Houſe, and that for Entertainment; look to Ch. i. 3.

Ver. 6. this] viz. ſhe, as Ch. viii. 5. which the Heb. Verb and Participle here ſhew.

Ib. more than] not with as before.

Ver. 8. inſtructed in] the ſame as in 1 Chr. xxv. 7.

Ver. 9. Marriage-bed] which the two foregoing Verſes, and the following one, as well as the Root ſhew: ſo Jun. and Trem. have it Thoro for Toro, noting it to be that mentioned Ch. i. 16. Matthewe's Bib. bedſteade; but the Biſh. and Gen. pallace.

Ver. 10. Covering] or Counterpane, or Coverlet, were not the firſt too little known, and the latter too vulgar. Heb. Spreading.

Ib. ſpread for Love] made well for the Wedding-night. Others make this Part of it not real, but imaginary: an unſuitable Compound.

Ib. Love] Patrick, &c. lovely Figures, rather Figures of Love; and if ſo, on the Covering.

Ib. by] Thus have it Montan. Jun. and Patr. ſeveral Tranſlators by reaſon of, ſeveral others only genit. of, the Heb. ſcarce allows of the latter, leſs of for.

Ib. Daughters of Jeruſalem] thoſe whom Solomon had married.

Ver. 1. as Doves] Beſides Doves Eyes being unapt of it ſelf, as may further appear by Ch. v. 12. ſuch a leſſening Simile does not ſeem to agree with the following.

of Goats that brouſe on the Side of Mount Gilead;

2. Thy Teeth are like a Flock to be ſhorn, that come up from Waſhing, which all bring forth Twins to Perfection;

3. Thy Lips are like a ſcarlet Line, and thy Speech graceful; as a Piece of Pomegranate are thy Temples by thy Locks;

4. Thy Neck is like the Tower of David built for an Arſenal of Arms, on which there hang a thouſand Bucklers, being all the Shields of valiant Warriors;

5. Thy two Breaſts are like two young Twin-Roes, that graze among the Lillies.

6. Againſt the Day dawns, and the ſable Shades flee faſt away, I will take a Tour to the Mountain of Myrrh, and to the Hill of Frankinceniſe.

7. Thou art all over beautiful, my dear one, there is no Blemiſh in thee.

8. Thou ſhalt come with me from Lebanon, O Spouſe, along with me from Lebanon; ſhalt look from the Top of Amanah, from the Summit of Shenir and Hermon, from the Lions Dens, from the Mountains of Leopards.

9. Thou haſt tranſported my Heart, my Siſter-Spouſe; thou haſt tranſported my very Heart with one of thy Eyes, with one Chain of thy Neck.

10. How comely is it to love thee! my Siſter-Spouſe: how much better this than Wine! and the Smell of thy Ointments than any Aromaticks!

11. Thy Lips, thou Spouſe, with the Honey-comb drop Sweetneſs: Honey and Milk flow from thy Tongue, and thy Garments ſmell like Lebanon.

12. Thou art as a Garden that is barred, my Siſter-Spouſe, like a Spring bolted, a Fountain locked up;

13. Whoſe Product is an Orchard of Pomegranates, and other precious Fruits, Camphire together with Spikenard-trees,

14. Spikenard it ſelf and Saffron, ſweet Cane and Cinnamon, nay every Sort of Trees bearing Frankincenſe, Myrrh and Aloes, as likewiſe all the principal Spices:

15. There being a Garden-fountain, a Well of Spring-water, and Brooks from Lebanon.

SHE.

16. Rouze up, O North-wind, and come, thou South, blow alternately on my Garden, that its fragrant Spices may flow forth: then let my Love come into the Garden, no more mine, but his own, and eat his precious Fruits.

Nay if the Eyes are to be underſtood as compared to Doves Eyes, ſo might the Hair to Goats Hair, and the Teeth to Sheep's Teeth.

Ib. brouſe] for which may be ſeen only Jun. and Trem. with Buxt.

Ver. 2. to be ſhorn] for Sheep are waſhed firſt, to cleanſe their Wool fit for Shearing; and as to the Word even in the com. Tranſ. which is turned Italick by wrong Printing, I ſee no Foundation for it in the Original, the Verb ſignifying to cut, as in 2 King. vi. 6.

Ib. that come up] as they are waſhed one after another in a Rank, as Teeth ſtand.

Ver. 3. ſcarlet Line] roſe coloured rybond, Tynd.

Ib. Temples] where the fine Veins appear.

Ver. 4. the Shields of valiant Warriors] of ſuch noted Warriors as had been ſlain by Iſraelites, according to the Cuſtom of other Nations, of which I ſuppoſe Goliath's the chief, and moſt ſuitable for that Place, 1 Sam. xvii. 54. the Strength of whoſe Armour of Defence might beſt ſhew the Valour of thoſe who overcame them. If they had been the Iſraelites Arms, their offenſive Weapons, as Swords, &c. would have been more proper; beſides a thouſand ſeem too few of theirs, 1 Chron. 12.

Ib. valiant Warriors] Mat. and Biſh. the gyauntes.

Ver. 6. Againſt] to be there early in the Morning, to gather the Myrrh and Frankincenſe. I cannot make Senſe of until, and the Heb. Particle denoting both, I choſe the other, as Ch. ii. 17. There is the ſame Word in the ſame Senſe, Exod. xxii. 26.

Ver. 8. ſhalt come] He promiſes to fetch her from the deſolate and dangerous Places.

Ib. Spouſe] called but dear one before.

Ib. Shenir] ſo Part of Mount Hermon ſeems to be called from its ancient Name, Deut. iii. 9.

Ver. 9. tranſported] with the Biſhops bewitched.

Ib. Siſter-Spouſe] Like Mother-Church, Parent-Plant, nay Siſter-Plaintiff by Dryden, and Siſter-Fruits by Pope; and my being omitted to the latter, points it out here. Otherwiſe I ſhould prefer and added in, before my.

Ib. one of thy Eyes, with one Chain] The Conjunction and being elegantly left out, Patrick from Alcuinus, more fruitful in inventing than exact in comparing, paraphraſes both to be, that lovely unity which I ſee between thy Paſtors, and between the People that live in holy obedience to them: for how did the Eye obey the Chain? Was not the former preferable to the latter? &c.

Ver. 11. with] But the New-Eng. Meetre has,

My Spouſe thy lips drop honey-comb,
both Honey and milk are on;

honey being for one Syl. and on inſtead of under: as in the next Ver. there is ſhut and up for Rhime, and Ver. 15. 'live (for alive, inſtead of living) Waters.

Ver. 12. barred] The righteous Spouſe is preſerved from the World.

Ib. Spring] Inſtead of this the Gr. and old Lat. have Garden again, as tho' their Authors took the Heb. gal. for gan.

Ib. Spring—Fountain] Thoſe which Solomon is thought to allude to, being about an Hour and a quarter diſtant from Bethlehem ſouthward, have no Paſſage to them but by a little Hole about four Yards directly down, where in two vaulted Rooms (that might be this Spring and Fountain) the Water riſes in four Places, and is from thence convey'd under Ground into Pools, and ſo into a Valley (ſuppoſed to be the Garden) incloſ'd on both Sides with high Mountains, Maundr. Jour. to Jeruſ. p. 87, 88.

Ver. 15. There being] which is neceſſary to connect what follows, and make it intelligible; this belonging to the Speech of the Bridegroom or Beloved before, according to Mercer; though ſome would have it ſaid by the Bride or Spouſe; but ſurely the Matter ſuits beſt with the foregoing, and may eaſier be joined to it.

Ib. Brooks from Lebanon] which, as Rauwolff relates, have pleaſant Groves by them, and ariſe from Springs making a ſweet Noiſe, Travels, Pt. 2. Ch. 12.

CHAP. V.

HE.

I AM come into this my Garden, my Sister-Spouse; I gather my Myrrh with my Spice, I eat my Honey-comb with my Honey, I drink my Wine with my Milk: eat Friends; drink, and carouse, ye my Favourites.

SHE.

2. I was asleep, but my Mind awake, when the Voice of my Love knocking was, Let me in, my Sister, my dear one, my Dove, my most exquisite one; because my Head is full of Dew, my Hair of the Drops by Night.

3. I have undressed my self, said I, how can I dress me again? I have washed my Feet, how can I daub them so?

4. But yet my Beloved reaching his Hand through the Hole, my Bowels yerned for him.

5. So I got up to let him in, my Hands dropping Myrrh, and my Fingers liquid Myrrh, upon the Handles of the Bolt.

6. When I had opened for my Love, he was withdrawn, gone away: my Soul was departing for the Speech of him; I sought after him, but could not find him; I called him, but he did not answer me.

7. The Watchmen who went about in the City meeting with me, beat me, wounded me; the Watchmen of the Walls pulled off my Veil from me.

8. I strictly charge you, Daughters of Jerusalem, if you find my Beloved, that you tell him I am sick with Love.

THEY.

9. What is thy Beloved more than another, O fairest of the fair Sex? What is thine above any other, that thou chargest us in such a Manner?

SHE.

10. My Beloved is white and red, like a Standard set up over ten thousand Men:

11. His Head is like a Piece of the finest Gold; his Hair is curled, and as black as a Raven;

12. His Eyes are like Doves at the Channels of Water, washing themselves milk-white, and sitting plump;

13. His Cheeks are like a Bed of Spice, and Heaps of Ointments; his Lips as Lillies dropping liquid Myrrh;

14. His Hands are like Rings of Gold set with Beryl; his Belly like bright Ivory covered with Sapphires;

15. His Legs as Pillars of Marble set on Bases of solid Gold; his Countenance is like Lebanon, as excellent as the Cedars;

16. His Mouth is very sweet; and he is all over desirable. This is my Beloved, and this is my dear one, O Daughters of Jerusalem.

Ver. 3. dress me again] Mat. and Bish. do it on agayne.

Ib. daub] Mat. fele, Bish. fyle, for defile, it seems.

Ver. 4. reaching] or putting forth, as the Heb. Word signifies, from him: which according to my understanding it, was to open the Door; but Patrick says, in a threatning manner to punish her; incoherent with the next, because that would have raised her Fear instead of Affection.

Ver. 5. dropping Myrrh] which she might have for Perfume or Ointment, according to Chap. i. 13. & 36. Est. ii. 12. and in her Haste, and Commotion of Mind, not put out of her Hands, or cleanse them from.

Ver. 6. for the Speech of him] wanting him to speak to her; not when he spake, since she says not only that he was gone, but also did not answer her; and it seems quite overstrained and improper, to be referred to his speaking before, Ver. 2. when, as it appears too, she was not much affected with his Words, but at his putting his Hand through.

Ver. 7. Watchmen] whom Patrick says he takes in a good Sense, i. e. for Priests, and what they did to her to be out of love and charity: but it was wrong of her then to complain of them; and if such was the Effect of Love, would not Hatred have been better, as producing the contrary?

Ib. beat me] Those appointed for religious Watchmen are apt to treat the tender Seekers hardly.

Ib. Veil] Mat. garment, Bish. kercheffe.

Ver. 10. white and red] particularly in the Face, as a Standard in the Colour displayed at the Top of it.

Ver. 11. curled] as the Gen. but Mat. and the Bish. bushed, whence the present bushy.

Ib. as black as a Raven] in Mat. Bib. browne as the evenynge: Bish. for Raven, crowe.

Ver. 12. like Doves] What Excellency or Difference have the Eyes of Doves when they are by the Waters? On the other hand, the Sparkling of the Eyes has a pretty Resemblance to the fluttering of Doves in washing, and their Stillness to the sitting. So Patrick writes, washed and sitting do not refer unto the Eyes, but unto Doves.

Ib. milk-white] as the washing is active, it must belong to the Doves; and that it should be with Milk seems quite inconsistent, especially at the Water: ב before a Noun is not only used for a Preposition, but to shew the Manner of a Verb, as here of washing.

Ib. plump] Heb. in or with Fulness. In Mat. Bib. the last Member is, and remaining in a plenteous Place, in the Gen. and remaine by the vessels, Bish. and are set like pearles in gold.

Ver. 13. a Bed] in a Garden, parted into two by a Path.

Ib. Heaps] Heb. Towers.

Ib. Ointments] from whence our Translators made sweet.

Ver. 14. Belly] But Patr. widely fancies the Habit of the High Priest is here represented, and in the next worse; it being as much as that of a Priestess at Ch. vii. 2.

Ib. Beryl] The Nails set in the roundish Compass of the Hand, when viewed on the Backside, may be denoted by this.

Ver. 15. Bases] which is the proper Meaning of the Heb. Word, tho' used also for Sockets; but it appears that these were the Feet, on which the Legs stand, much like Pillars on their Bases; whereas Sockets are hollow to receive Something into, not have it upon them.

CHAP. VI.

THEY.

WHITHER is thy Beloved gone, O faireſt of the fair Sex? Whither is he turned away, that we may ſeek for him with thee?

SHE.

2. My Beloved is gone down into his Garden, to the ſpicy Parterres; to eat Fruit in the Walks there, and to gather Flowers.

3. My Love has me for his own, and he is mine, who feeds his Flock amidſt the Lillies.

HE.

4. Thou art beautiful, my dear one, with Tirzah it ſelf, magnificently fine like our Jeruſalem, aweful as ſtately Standards erected.

5. Turn about thy Eyes, over againſt me; that they may ſtrengthen me: thy Hair is like a Herd of Goats that brouſe on the Side of Gilead;

6. Thy Teeth are like a Flock of Sheep, that come up from Waſhing, which all bring forth Twins to Perfection;

7. As a Piece of Pomegranate are thy Temples by thy Locks.

8. Among the threeſcore Queens, fourſcore Concubines, and Virgins without Number;

9. That one is my Dove, my exquiſite one, ſhe who is her Mother's only Child, and the pure one of her that ſhe was born of: whom the Maidens bleſs, when they behold, the very Queens and Concubines extol.

10. Who is this appears as if it were the Morning, as fair as the Moon, clear like the Sun, with the dread Preſence of a Banner diſplayed?

11. As I went down into the Garden that is pruned, to view the green Fruits of the Valley, to ſee whether the Vine budded, and the Pomegranates bloſſomed;

12. My Mind made me, I did not know how, like the Chariots of my free People.

13. Return, return, O Shulammiteſs, come back again, that we may ſee thee. What will you ſee in the Shulammiteſs? As it were the Company of Mahanaim.

CHAP. VII.

HOW handſome thy Feet are in the Shoes, O Prince's Daughter! The Joints of thy Thighs are like Jewels, when wrought by a Jeweller's Hands;

2. Thy Navel is like a round Bowl that holds choice Liquor, thy Belly like a Heap of Wheat, incloſed about with Lillies;

3. Thy two Breaſts are like two young Roes that are Twins;

Ver. 2. Parterres] If ſuch Words are thought not common enough for Paſtoral, let it be remembred that this is between a King, and a Prince's Daughter, Chap. vii. 1. whom we are not to imagine unacquainted with the politeſt Terms, eſpecially in a Garden their frequent Reſort.

Ib. eat Fruit] conſentaneouſly to Ch. v. 1. while feed is doubtful, whether tranſitive or intranſitive; by which the Tranſlators might mean either, or neither.

Ver. 5. over againſt] as rendered in the com. Tranſ. Gen. xxi. 16. Neh. iii. 19, 25, 27. and cannot ſignify merely from; but is not in 1 Cor. xii. 23. as Patr. refers.

Ib. that] the Heb. never ſignifying for.

Ib. ſtrengthen] not overcome, the Verb not having that Signification: ſo Jun. and Trem. render, Adverte oculos tuos ex adverſo mei, ut illi efferant me, Turn thy Eyes over-againſt me, that they may exalt me; Ainſworth, Turne-about thine eyes over-againſt me: for they haue lifted me up; which Senſe he pleads for in his Annotations: and no Wonder ſince her Eyes were ſo pleaſing to this her Beloved, Chap. iv. 9. But Matthewe has make me to proude; the Biſhops have ſet me on fyre.

Ib. thy Hair] as before, Ch. iv. 1. to aſſure her that he had ſtill the ſame Eſteem of her, notwithſtanding what had happened, Patr.

Ver. 7.] The Sept. have the whole 3d Verſe of the 4th Chap.

Ver. 8. threeſcore Queens, fourſcore Concubines] Solomon having married ſo many, as it ſeems, when he wrote this, being not yet turned from the Lord; which he was as he afterwards increaſed the Number to a thouſand, 1 King. xi. iii. where I ſince find Grotius ſpeaking in the ſame manner, as likewiſe Bochart.

Ver. 11. Garden that is pruned] Heb. Garden of Pruning: גנת being from נזז to cut or prune, as אשכול from שכל and others of like Sort. Beſides Nuts is plural, and not agreeable to what follows. The beſt Tranſ. Jun. and Trem. have hortos putatos, pruned Gardens; but the Heb. Words are both ſing.

Ver. 12.] Patrick aukwardly puts this Verſe as ſpoken by the Spouſe. It is ſtrangely in Matthewe's Bible, Then the charettes of the Prince of my people made me ſodenly afrayed.

Ib. made me] Solomon having in the Ver. before repreſented himſelf going into the Garden, to divert the Thoughts of her whom he was then in Love with being gone, ſhews here the Tranſport of Love that broke through thoſe Amuſements, even to the talking incoherently to himſelf, as in the next Verſe. For an Emblem ſhould be natural or congruous, and perhaps he could not have choſen a fitter Subject than the Love of the Sexes, to ſhadow the Divine Love between God and the Soul; and particularly here that holy Enthuſiaſm of the latter, to be felt, but not deſcribed, though by Change of the Parties, ſuch as muſt be allowed to Similies.

Ib. like the Chariots] tranſported, elevated, unconfined, from the low, mean View of a Garden, in Compariſon of exalted noble Love. And how vaſtly will this be enhanced, by taking it in a religious Senſe, on the Contraſt of heavenly with earthly Things.

Ib. my free People] which is the Engliſh of ammi nadib two diſtinct Heb. Words, and not a proper Name either of Perſon or Place.

Ver. 13. Shulammiteſs] Com. Lat. Sunamite, Biſh. the firſt time, thou perfect one.

Ib. Company of Mahanaim] the Angels who were there, Gen. xxxii. 1, 2. Mat. has more than when ſhe daunceth amonge the men of warre, the Biſh. She is lyke men of war ſinging in a companie; both very vulgar.

Ver. 1. like Jewels] for the Symmetry, and her good Gait in Walking.

4. Thy Neck is like an ivory Tower; thy Eyes as the Fiſh-ponds in Heſhbon, at the Gate of Bath-rabbim; thy Noſe is like the Tower of Lebanon looking towards Damaſcus:

5. Thy Head is like Carmel upon thee; and the curled Hair of it as Purple: thus the King is confined in the Galleries.

6. How fair and how pleaſant thou art, O Love, with Delights!

7. This Height of thine may be compared to the Palm-tree, and thy Breaſts to the Bunches.

8. I thought I would climb up the Palm-tree, taking hold of its Branches; ſince now thy Breaſts are like the Bunches on the Vine, and the Smell of thy Noſe like Apples;

9. Thy Mouth alſo is like the beſt Wine, which ſparkles very rightly for my Beloved, making the Lips of thoſe who are aſleep to ſpeak.

SHE.

10. I have a Love of my own, and his Affection is towards me.

11. Come, my Love, let us walk forth into the Field, and lodge in the Villages.

12. Let us riſe early to go into the Vineyards, that we may ſee if the Vine is budded, the young Grapes appear, and the Pomegranates are in bloom: there will I grant thee my Love.

13. The Mandrakes emit a ſweet Smell, and at our Doors are all manner of fine Fruits, new and old; which I have laid up for thee, my beloved one.

CHAP. VIII.

OH that thou wert as my own Brother, who ſucked the Breaſts of my Mother! that meeting with thee abroad, I might kiſs thee, and not be deſpiſed.

2. I would lead thee along into my Mother's Houſe, who ſhould teach me: I would make thee drink ſome fine flavoured Wine, the Juice of my own Pomegranates.

3. His left Hand ſhould be laid under my Head, and his right put round my Waiſt.

4. I ſtrictly charge you, Daughters of Jeruſalem, that ye will not any how make his Love be ſtirred up, till it would.

THEY.

5. Who is this comes up out of the Wilderneſs, leaning upon her Beloved? [SHE.] I that rouſed thee up under the Apple-tree; where thy Mother brought thee forth, where ſhe was delivered who bore thee.

6. Put me as a Seal upon thy Heart, as a Signet on thy Arm: for Love is ſtrong like Death, Jealouſy as rigid as the Grave; the former burning like Coals of Fire, with a divine Flame.

7. Much Water cannot quench Love, nor can even Floods drown it: if a Man would give all the Subſtance he has for Love, that all would be utterly contemned.

Ver. 4. towards] Lebanon being on the weſt Side of Damaſcus.

Ver. 5. Carmel] Gen. Verſ. ſcarlet, which might be thought a Blunder of the Printer, if but in one Edition.

Ib. in the Galleries] by looking there at her; the Galleries being for Sight of Things. Gen. tied in the rafters; the Biſh. have and lyke a king dwelling among many water conduites, and Mat. with the foregoing the heare of thy heade is lyke the Kynges purple folden up in plates.

Ver. 7. Bunches] The Fruit of the Palm-tree, or Dates, which grow in Bunches or Cluſters.

Ver. 8. the Palm-tree] viz. the Spouſe, whoſe Height he compared to it.

Ib. Smell of thy Noſe] having a ſweet Breath, very proper to be deſcribed; though the Ignorant may laugh, as is not uncommon, at their own Ignorance.

Ver. 9. ſparkles very rightly] as Prov. xxiii. 31. where are the like Words, and both of Solomon; nor has the Heb. here any Meaning of ſweetly.

Ib. my Beloved] the Bridegroom's Friend. What other Interpretations I have met with, as in Mercer, &c. that the Spouſe, or the Daughters of Jeruſalem ſpoke this, or the Beloved of himſelf, are each ſo ſtrained and improper, that I cannot be ſatisfied either of them was intended.

Ib. making the Lips, &c.] Duport in Gr. Verſe,

Καὶ τόμ' ἄνοιξε βροτῶν, τὰς κεν γλυκὺς ὕπνος ἔχῃσιν, and opens the Mouth of Mortals, who are held in ſweet Sleep. Let it not be wondered why I have ſo ſeldom quoted ſuch a learned, curious, and copious Performance of our own Countryman on this and the four foregoing Books; ſince he is a ſtrict Follower of the com. Eng. Tranſ. and my Notes are generally upon my leaving it. With the Vulg. Lat. there is in the Place of this, and for his Lips and Teeth to chew over, but the Sept. have turned it, fit for my Lips and Teeth; both as if the firſt Letter ו in jeſhenim had been ו &c.

Ver. 13. at our Doors] Fruit, as Apples, &c. being put in Heaps when gathered, without or within, where there is great Plenty; but the old ſeem plainly in the Houſe, where they are alſo laid in the ſame Manner, ſo not at the Gates, but Doors.

Ver. 1. as my own Brother] a very natural and ſtriking Wiſh! which with the reſt may exhibit the ſuperior Senſe Solomon was endued with.

Ver. 5. thee up] namely the Bridegroom; for this, with thy and thee that follow, are maſc. in Heb. therefore Poole's Interpretation, making theſe the Bridegroom's Words, and expounding this, 'When thou wert dead in 'Treſpaſſes, I revived thee,' &c. muſt be quite wrong.

Ib. Apple-tree] which might ſpread over the Houſe or Tent.

Ib. brought thee forth] But the Vulg. Lat. is, was corrupted, and for delivered, defloured, as in the Doway Engliſh of it: whereas it is the ſacred Text that is thus corrupted, and abhorrent of thoſe Words, with the Omiſſion of thee; notwithſtanding the Canon or Decree in the 4th Seſſion of the Council of Trent, Apr. 8, 1546, Si quis libros ipſos integros cum omnibus ſuis partibus, prout in veteri vulgata latina editione habentur, pro ſacris & canonicis non ſuſceperit, anathema ſit: Whoever ſhall not receive all the Scripture for holy and canonical, entirely as it is throughout the vulgar Latin Bible, let him be accurſed.

Ver. 6. upon thy Heart — on thy Arm] firſt ſecretly, then openly.

Ib. a divine Flame] Thus Trem. and Jun. have flammæ divinæ, as the Heb. properly is.

8. We

8. We have a little Sister, whose Breasts are not grown; what shall we do for her, at the Time that she shall be spoken for?

9. If she was a Wall, we might build a Palace of Silver upon it; and if she were a Door, we might inclose it about with Planks of Cedar.

10. I was as a Wall, and my Breasts like Towers; then was I as if agreeable to him.

11. Solomon having a Vineyard at Baal-hamon, which he let to Farmers, the Man bringing for its Fruit a thousand Shekels of Silver;

12. The Vineyard being mine, that I have before me, there are not only a thousand for thee, Solomon, but two hundred for those who keep the Vintage of it.

HE.

13. Let me hear thee who sittest in the Gardens, with thy Associates listening to what thou sayest.

SHE.

14. Come away then, my Love, as swift as a Roe, or a Fawn upon the famous Mountains of Spices.

Ver. 9. was a Wall] The Advantage here is apparent: if she was, not be or is, only Part of a House, that might receive a proper advantageous Addition.

Ib. upon it] as a Wall, not upon her as a Girl.

Ib. Planks] for the Lintels and Posts.

Ver. 10. I was] viz. the Spouse her self; as at Chap. vii. 8. not the little Sister, as has been thought.

Ib. agreeable] or well, which the Heb. Word frequently signifies, not favour.

Ver. 12. The Vineyard] spoken of Chap. i. 6. for that this and the foregoing Verse are Part of the Spouse's Speech, not only the Matter and Manner of Expression shew, but likewise Ainsw. and Mercer at the End of his Comment on it.

Ib. The Vineyard being mine] Otherwise I desire the Interpreters to give me any tolerable Account of it.

Ib. two hundred] shewing her commendable Generosity, and the Advantage of the Vineyard being in her Occupation.

Ver. 13. sittest] fem. in Heb. as it were, thou Woman or Spouse who sittest.

Ib. what thou sayest] The holy Lore that so spontaneously flows from the consecrated Lips of one newly espoused to Christ, who as a Child delights to tutor the lesser Children. Since an experienced Child of God must know the exceeding Suitableness of this, and the few other Things of the same Kind here remarked; I have thought over and over, that the present Poem represents principally, if not only, the reciprocal Love and Regard of Christ Jesus, and the Soul, at the Season of its first Conversion, or during its being initiated into the State of Renovation.

NOTES upon the BOOK of ISAIAH.

CHAP. I.

THE Viſion of Iſaiah the Son of Amoz, which he ſaw concerning Judah and Jeruſalem, in the Time of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, Kings of Judah.

2. Hear, O Heaven, and liſten, thou Earth, for the Lord ſpeaks: I bred up and advanced Children, and they themſelves have rebelled againſt me.

3. The Ox knowing his Owner, and the Aſs his Maſter's Rack; Iſrael does not know, my People do not underſtand.

4. Ah, it is a ſinful Nation, a People heavy with Iniquity, an Offspring of Evil-doers, Children that corrupt themſelves! they have forſaken the Lord, contemned the holy One of Iſrael, are turned backward in Alienation.

5. Why will you be ſmitten any more, by proceeding in Apoſtacy? The whole Head is diſeaſed, and the whole Heart languiſhing.

6. From the Sole of the Foot to the Head, there is no Soundneſs in it; Wounds, and Swellings, and corrupted Sores; that have neither been ſqueezed, bound up, nor ſoftened with Ointment.

7. Your Country is deſolate, your Cities are burnt with Fire: your very Ground Strangers conſume before you, and it is deſolate as with an Overthrow by Strangers.

8. And the Daughter of Zion is left as a Booth in a Vineyard, as a Tent in a Cucumber-garden, like a beſieged City.

9. Unleſs the Lord of Armies had left us ſome little Remainder, we ſhould have been as Sodom, ſhould have been like Gomorrah.

10. Hear the Lord's Commiſſion, you Leaders of Sodom: give ear to the Law of our God, O People of Gomorrah.

11. For what is the Multitude of your Sacrifices to me? ſays the Lord: I am cloyed with the Burnt-offerings of Rams, and the Fat of fat Cattle; and do not delight in the Blood of Bullocks; Sheep, and He-goats.

12. When ye come to appear before me, who requires this of you, to trample my Courts?

13. Bring an Offering no more in vain,

Ver. 1. Iſaiah] Heb. Jeſhahyahu, not Jeſaihahi as is ſaid in Henry's Expoſition.

In the Courſe of my tranſlating this Prophet, I obſerved that he is very ſublime, with various Elegancies of Language, to Chap. xxxvi. as is alſo Hezekiah's Prayer; and on to Chap. lvii. in a good moderate Style, not without ſome Flights of the former Kind; then to the End more ſublime. Which three Sorts of Writing are obſerved in the Prince of the Latin Poets, but, to add my own Obſervations, with much Diſadvantage: for inſtead of that copious and beautiful Variety of Expreſſion in Iſaiah, one might almoſt think Virgil compoſed his Æneids, like a School-boy, by a Phraſe-book. Next Iſaiah has doubtleſs ranged thoſe three Kinds in the beſt Order; firſt engaging, and poſſeſſing himſelf of, his Reader's Attention and Admiration (I ſpeak as to Language) whom he pleaſantly leads on, and leaves with freſh Endearments; like the Impetuoſity and Roaring of a mighty Flood from the Mountain; which then runs ſmoothly through the Plain, and becomes deep and ſpacious as it approaches the Sea: ſo is the Prophet in his Style, engaging and pleaſing in this Manner from the Beginning to the End; the Hiſtorical Part being as a Reſt to the wanting Auditor, accommodated with a peculiar Agreeableneſs, becauſe it is the fulfilling of what was juſt before predicted. Thus we ſee Iſaiah's Abilities from the very Entrance; unlike Virgil, who ſeems to have commenced Author premature, and written his Eclogues as uncapable of the Georgics, and theſe as of the Æneids.

Ib. of Uzziah] Look at Chap. vi. 1.

Ver. 2. bred up and advanced] So Jun. and Trem. tranſlate, educavi & extuli, and the Heb. Words ſignify, from making great and lifting up; the firſt not nouriſhed or fed, nor the other brought or bred up.

Ver. 3. underſtand] which is the proper Meaning, and agrees with the Compariſon.

Ver. 4. heavy] as we ſay with Sleep, the Heb. Word being ſo.

Ib. contemned] Caſtal. deſpicati ſunt, Jun. and Trem. to look in no more, ſpreverunt, i. e. deſpiſed, as the Verb ſignifies, and is rendered in this Book, Chap. v. 24. & lx. 14.

Ib. turned] Heb. alienated backward, paſſive of a Verb to alienate or be ſtrange. Pagn. & Montan. alienaverunt ſe.

Ver. 6. ſqueezed] to get out what the Surgeons call Pus, the corrupt Matter: ſo the Deſcription is proper to the dreſſing Ulcers.

Ver. 7. conſume] that is, the Product of it.

Ver. 9. Unleſs] as this was ſpoken concerning the Kingdom of Judah by Ver. 8, 11, 21, &c. which was proſperous both under Uzziah and Jotham, 2 Chron. xxvi, & xxvii. and as Iſaiah is thought to be ſawed aſunder by Manaſſeh, Heb. xi. 37. between whoſe Reign and Uzziah's were 58 Years, he could ſcarce begin propheſying till the latter End of Uzziah, who reigning 52 Years, hinders this from reſpecting the Time before; it was conſequently in the Reign of Ahaz, when we find it ſo to a great Degree, 2 Chron. xxviii. 5, 6, 7, 8, 17, 18, 19, 20. This particular Declamation might be put firſt for the Excellence of it; and ſeveral in Jeremiah are apparently diſplaced.

Ib. ſome] by turning back thoſe who were going into Captivity, 2 Chon. xxviii. 8,—15.

Ver. 10. of Sodom] which they came up to in Sin, though they had eſcaped its Puniſhment.

Ver. 12. requires] Wm. Tyndal in his Prologue to Geneſ. ſays, To ſow a Shoe at the Commandment of God, to do thy Neighbour Service withal, is much better than to build an Abbey of thine own Imagination. What God commandeth not, getteth no Reward with God; how agreeable and illuſtrative to this Paſſage of Holy Writ!

Incenſe

Incenſe it ſelf is an Abomination to me: of the New-moon and Sabbath, the Calling of the Convocation, I cannot bear with the Iniquity, and of the ſolemn Day.

14. My Soul hates your New-moons, and appointed Times: they are a Fatigue to me, which I am weary of bearing.

15. And when you ſpread forth your Hands, I will hide my Eyes from you; even though you make many Prayers, I will not hear: your Hands being full of Blood.

16. Waſh, purify your ſelves, put away the Evil of your Deeds from before my Eyes, leave off doing evil:

17. Learn to do good, ſeek Judgment, direct the Oppreſſed, judge the Fatherleſs, plead for the Widow.

18. Come now, and let us reaſon, ſays the Lord: if your Sins are as it were Scarlet, they ſhall be as white as Snow; if they are as red as Crimſon, they ſhall be like Wool.

19. If you are willing, and be obedient, you ſhall eat the Good of the Country;

20. But if you refuſe, and rebel, you ſhall be conſumed with the Sword: for it is the Mouth of the Lord ſpeaks.

21. How is the faithful Town become a Harlot! it was full of Judgment, Righteouſneſs lodged in it, but now Murderers.

22. Thy Silver is become Droſs, thy Wine is mixed with Water.

23. Thy Princes are obſtinate, and Companions of Thieves; every one loves a Bribe, and follows after Recompences: they do not judge for the Fatherleſs, nor does the Cauſe of the Widow come to them.

24. Therefore ſays the Sovereign Lord of Armies, the ſtrong One of Iſrael: Ah, I will be comforted for my Adverſaries, and revenged on my Enemies.

25. However I will turn back my Hand upon thee, and having refined out thy Droſs as it were purely, and put away all thy Tin;

26. I will reſtore thy Judges as at firſt, and thy Counſellors as in the Beginning: afterwards thou ſhalt be called, The righteous City, the faithful Town.

27. Zion ſhall be redeemed with Judgment, and thoſe who return of her with Righteouſneſs.

28. Whereas the Breaking of the Rebellious and Sinners ſhall be together; and ſuch as forſake the Lord ſhall be conſumed.

29. For they ſhall be aſhamed, becauſe of the Oaks which you have deſired; and you ſhall be in Confuſion, by reaſon of the Gardens that you have choſen.

30. Since you ſhall be like an Oak whoſe Leaf is withered, and as a Garden which has no Water.

31. The Strong alſo ſhall become Tow, and his Work a Spark; both of them burning together, and none quenching.

CHAP. II.

THE Matter which Iſaiah the Son of Amoz ſaw concerning Judah and Jeruſalem.

2. In the latter Days, will the Mountain of the Lord's Houſe be eſtabliſhed on the Top of the Mountains, and raiſed up above the Hills: and all Nations will aſſemble together to it.

3. Nay many People will go, and ſay, Come, and let us go up to the Mountain of the Lord, to the Houſe of the God of Jacob; that he may teach us of his Ways, and we may walk in his Paths: for the Law ſhall go forth from Zion, and the Word of the Lord from Jeruſalem.

4. He will alſo judge between the Nations, and determine for many People: ſo that they

Ver. 13. bear] Johnſon in his great Dictionary ſays, Perhaps cannot away with may mean cannot travel with: if ſo, it ſuits not well here; and if its Meaning is uncertain, it is alſo unfit.

Ib. the Iniquity] being the Object of the Verb before, by the Heb. Accents and Lat. Tranſlators.

Ib. ſolemn Day] properly the laſt Day of a Feſtival, Buxtorf. Lex. See Lev. xxiii. 36. Deut. xvi. 8. Neh. viii. 18. John vii. 37. Jun. and Trem. have interdicti die.

Ver. 17. direct] ſo it ſignifies, Chap. iii. 12. Prov. xxiii. 19. never relieve.

Ver. 26. reſtore] In the next Reſtoration under Hezekiah, 2 Chron. Chap. xxix, & xxx, & xxxi. which I apply it to, much rather than by miſſing this and another under Joſiah, to interpret it as Lowth does in his Commentary of that after the 70 Years Captivity, to which it alſo leaſt agrees.

Ver. 27. return] not only they that were left in the Country, but thoſe who ſhould return from Captivity, 2 Chron. xxxix. 9.

Ver. 29. Oaks—Gardens] where after the heathen Manner they worſhipped Idols, Ezek. vi. 13. Chap. lxv. 3. and at this Time, 2 King. xvi. 4.

Ver. 31. become] or be for, not as.

Ib. Work] The ſingle Word might be either Work or Worker, not Maker, and the beſt Tranſlators as well as the Context make it the former.

Ib. a Spark] His own wicked Work ſhould conſume him. A fine Simile!

Ver. 2. latter Days] of the Goſpel.

Ib. Mountain] Chriſt on whom the Goſpel Temple or Church is built, Eph. ii. 20, 21, 22. 1 Cor. iii. 11, 16. 1 Pet. ii. 5.

Ib. raiſed up] Its natural Situation being ſomething lower; for the Knowledge of which fine Alluſion I am beholden to Perry's Account as on Pſa. cxxv.

Ver. 3. from Jeruſalem] as Luk. xxiv. 47, 49. Acts i. 4.

Ver. 4. determine] which Buxtorf. ſays is the Meaning of this Word when it has a Dative as here; and the Senſe requires it.

Ib. Nations] thoſe of them who receive and obey the Goſpel, as deſcribed Ver. 3, 5. See Chap. xi. 9.

will

will beat their Swords into Spades, and their Spears into Pruning-hooks; one Nation will not lift up the Sword againſt another, nor will they learn War any more.

5. O Family of Jacob, come, and let us go in the Light of the Lord.

6. For thou haſt forſaken thy People, the Family of Jacob; becauſe they are filled from the Eaſt, are Soothſayers like the Philiſtines, and clap Hands for the Race of Strangers.

7. As their Country is full of Silver and Gold, and there is no End of their Treaſures; as it is full of Horſes, and there is no End of their Chariots:

8. Their Country is likewiſe full of Idols; they bow down to the Work of their own Hands, to that which their Fingers have made.

9. Since the Men therefore are bowed down, and each one is low; do not thou lift them up.

10. Enter into the Rock, and hide in the Mould, by reaſon of the Dread of the Lord, and for his excellent Majeſty.

11. The lofty Eyes of Men will be humbled, and the Height of Mortals bowed down; while the Lord alone will be exalted at that Time.

12. For the Lord of Armies will have a Time againſt every one that is proud and high, and againſt every one who is lifted up, ſo that he ſhall be humbled;

13. And againſt all the Cedars of Lebanon, which are high and mounted up, and againſt all the Oaks of Baſhan,

14. And againſt all the high Mountains, and againſt all the Hills that are raiſed up,

15. And againſt every lofty Tower, and againſt every fortified Wall,

16. And againſt all the Ships of Tarſhiſh, and againſt all the deſirable Images.

17. Thus the Loftineſs of Men will be bowed down, and the Height of Mortals humbled; while the Lord alone will be exalted at that Time.

18. And he will wholly make the Idols paſs away.

19. So they ſhall enter into the Caves of the Rocks, and into the Caverns of the Ground, by reaſon of the Dread of the Lord, and for his excellent Majeſty, when he riſes up to ſhake the Country violently.

20. At that Time Men will throw their ſilver Idols, and their golden ones, which they have made them to bow down to, both to the Moles and Bats;

21. To enter into the Holes of the Rocks, and into the Crags of the Quarries, by reaſon of the Dread of the Lord, and for his excellent Majeſty, when he riſes up to ſhake the Country violently.

22. Refrain your ſelves from Man, whoſe Breath is in his Noſtrils: for wherein is he to be regarded?

CHAP. III.

FOR behold the Sovereign Lord of Armies will take away from Jeruſalem and Judah, the Staff of both Kinds, the whole Staff of Victuals, and the whole Staff of Drink,

2. The ſtout Man and the Warrior, the Judge and the Prophet, with the Diviner and the Elder,

3. The Captain of Fifty, and him who is of a reſpected Face, as alſo the Counſellor, the ſkilful Artificer, and him who underſtands Eloquence.

4. And I will make Boys their Princes, and Children ſhall rule over them.

5. The People too ſhall be exacted upon, one by another, and a Man by his Neighbour: they ſhall be haughty, the Boy againſt the Elder, and the Baſe againſt the Honourable.

6. Though a Man takes hold of his own Brother, of his Father's Family, ſaying, Thou haſt Cloaths, thou ſhalt be our Leader, that this Diſaſter may be under thy Hand:

Ver. 5. let us go] that what is foretold in the preceding Verſe may be fulfilled.

Ver. 6. For] So there was need of the Exhortation in the foregoing Verſe, that the Lord who had forſaken them, might return to them again. The Heb. Particle is no more therefore, than the Connection or Senſe of the Paſſage is.

Ib. filled] with Idols, as Ver. 8.

9. The Impudence of their Face teſtifies againſt them, and they declare their Sin like Sodom, they do not conceal it: wo is to their Soul, for they recompenſe Evil to themſelves.

10. Say to the Righteous, that it will be well: for they ſhall eat the Fruit of their Doings.

11. Wo is to the Wicked, it will be ill: for the Recompence of his Hands ſhall be done to him.

12. As for my People, Children are Exacters on them, and Women rule over them: my People, thoſe who direct thee cauſe to go aſtray, and devour the Way of thy Paths.

13. The Lord ſtands to plead, and ſtands up to judge the People.

14. The Lord will enter into Judgment with the Elders of his People, and the Princes of them: for you feed on the Vineyard, the Spoil of the Poor is in your Houſes.

15. What Buſineſs have you to bruiſe my People, and grind the Faces of the Poor? ſays the Sovereign Lord of Armies.

16. And the Lord ſays, becauſe the Daughters of Zion are lofty, and go ſtretching out the Neck, and winking with the Eyes, walking along mincing as they go, and wear Fetters on their Feet;

17. That he will make the Crown of the Daughters of Zion ſcabbed, and the Lord will make naked their ſecret Parts.

5. The Lord too will create upon every Settlement of Mount Zion, and upon the Convocations of it, a Cloud by Day with Smoak, and the Shining of a flaming Fire at Night: for there will be a Protection over all the Glory.

6. And there will be a Tabernacle for a Shadow by Day, from the Heat; as alſo for a Shelter and a Covert, from the overflowing Storm and Rain.

CHAP. V.

I WILL ſing now of my Beloved, my beloved One's Song concerning his Vineyard. My Beloved has a Vineyard in a very plentiful Place:

2. Which he fenced about, gathered the Stones out of it, planted it with a choice Vine, built a Tower within it, and alſo cut out a Wine-preſs therein; but when he expected it ſhould yield Grapes, it yielded rotten ones.

3. And now, O Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and Men of Judah, I would have you judge between me and my Vineyard.

4. What was there more to be done to my Vineyard, that I did not do in it? Why when I expected it ſhould yield Grapes, did it yield rotten ones?

5. Now therefore I would let you know, what I will do to my Vineyard: I will take away its Hedge, and it ſhall be fed on; break down its Fence, and it ſhall be trampled upon.

6. Nay I will make it deſolate, it ſhall neither be pruned, nor weeded, but the Briers and Brambles ſhall come up; and I will command the Clouds to rain down no Rain upon it.

7. For the Family of Iſrael is the Vineyard of the Lord of Armies, and the Men of Judah are the Plant of his Delight: ſo he expects Judgment, but there is Banding together; Juſtice, but there is Clamour.

8. Wo be to thoſe who join Houſe to Houſe, who put Field to Field, till there is no Place left; that you alone may be ſettled within the Country.

9. In my Hearing the Lord of Armies ſaid, that many Houſes ſhould become deſolate, great and good ones, without Inhabitant.

10. For ten Acres of Vineyard ſhall yield but one Bath, and a Homer of Seed ſhall yield but an Ephah.

11. Wo be to thoſe who riſing early in the Morning, follow ſtrong Drink, after which in the Evening Wine inflames them;

12. And there is the Harp and Lute, Timbrel and Pipe, as well as Wine at their Entertainments: but they do not mind the Work of the Lord, nor conſider the Doing of his Hands.

13. Therefore my People go away captive, by being without Knowledge; and thoſe of their Glory are hungry Perſons, and their Multitude are dried up with Thirſt.

15. So Man will be bowed down, each one be low, and the Eyes of the Lofty be humbled.

16. And the Lord of Armies will be lofty in Judgment, and the holy God ſanctified in Juſtice.

17. Then will the Sheep feed as their Manner is, and Strangers eat the waſte Places of the fat ones.

18. Wo be to them that draw Iniquity with Cords of Vanity, and Sin as with Cart-ropes:

19. Who ſay, Let him make ſpeed, let him haſten his Doing, that we may ſee it; and let the Counſel of the Holy One of Iſrael approach, and come, for us to know it.

20. Wo be to thoſe who call Evil Good, and Good Evil; who put Darkneſs for Light, and Light for Darkneſs; put bitter for ſweet, and ſweet for bitter.

21. Wo be to thoſe who are wiſe in their own Sight, and of Underſtanding before their own Face.

22. Wo be to thoſe who are powerful to drink Wine, and valiant Men to mix ſtrong Drink:

24. Therefore as a Flake of Fire conſumes the Stubble, and the Flame makes the Litter ceaſe; their Root will be as Corruption, and their Flower will fly up like the Duſt: for they reject the Law of the Lord of Armies, and contemn the Sayings of the Holy One of Iſrael.

25. For this Cauſe the Lord is angry with his People, and he ſtretches out his Hand againſt them, and ſmites them; ſo that the Mountains are moved, and their dead Bodies are as the Sweepings within the Streets: for all this his Anger does not turn back, but his Hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

26. And he will lift up a Standard for the Nations far off, and whiſtle for it from the utmoſt Part of the Earth; that will behold come with Speed ſwiftly.

27. None will be weary, nor yet ſtumble among them, they will not ſlumber nor ſleep; neither will the Girdle of their Loins be let looſe, nor the Latchet of their Shoes be broken aſunder.

28. Whoſe Arrows are ſharpened, and all their Bows bended: the Hoofs of their Horſes are counted like the Rock, and their Wheels like the Whirlwind.

29. The Roaring of them will be as of a ſtout Lion, and they will roar like young Lions; nay rage, lay hold of the Prey, take away, and none will deliver.

30. They will even rage againſt them at that Time, like the Raging of the Sea: and when one looks at the Country, there will be Darkneſs, Diſtreſs, and the Light will be darkened in the Ruins of it.

CHAP. VI.

IN the Year that King Uzziah died, I ſaw the Lord ſitting upon a Throne high and raiſed up, and his Skirts filled the Temple.

2. There ſtood Seraphs above it, having each ſix Wings: with two he covered his Face, with two his Feet, and with two he flew.

3. And one cried thus to another, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Armies, the whole Earth is full of his Glory.

4. The Poſts of the Door then moved at the Voice of him who cried, and the Houſe was filled with Smoak.

AND in the Time of Ahaz, the Son of Jotham, the Son of Uzziah, King of Judah, Rezin King of Syria, and Pekah the Son of Remaliah King of Iſrael, came up to Jeruſalem to war againſt it; but could not overcome it.

2. However when it was told the Family of David, that Syria reſted upon Ephraim, the Heart of it was moved, and that of its People, as the Trees of the Wood are by means of the Wind.

3. Upon this the Lord ſaid to Iſaiah: Go forth now to meet Ahaz, with thy Son Shear-jaſhub, to the End of the Conduit of the upper Fiſh-pond, at the Highway of the Fuller's Field.

4. To whom thou ſhalt ſay; Take care to be quiet, be not afraid, nor let thy Heart be diſcouraged at the two Tails of theſe ſmoaking Firebrands, for the Heat of the Anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the Son of Remaliah;

THE Lord ſaid to me further, Take thee a great Volume, and write in it with a Man's Pen, concerning Maher-ſhalal-haſh-baz.

2. And I had faithful Witneſſes to teſtify for me, Uriah the Prieſt, and Zechariah the Son of Jeberechiah.

3. Having gone to the Propheteſs, who had conceived, and born a Son: and the Lord ſaid unto me; Call his Name Maher-ſhalal-haſh-baz.

4. For before the Child ſhall know how to call, My Father, and My Mother; the Wealth of Damaſcus, and the Spoil of Samaria, ſhall be carried away before the King of Aſſyria.

5. And the Lord proceeded to ſpeak to me again as follows:

6. Becauſe this People reject the Water of Shiloah that runs gently; and there is Joy with Rezin, and the Son of Remaliah:

7. Now therefore behold the Lord will bring up over them, the Waters of the River ſtrong and many, even the King of Aſſyria and all his Glory; that ſhall come up over all its Channels, and run over all its Banks.

8. It ſhall alſo paſs through Judah, overflow, and go over, reaching to the Neck; and the Stretching out of his Wings ſhall fill the Wideneſs of the Country, O Immanu-el.

9. Join in Confederacy, O People, yet you ſhall be broke in pieces; and give ear, all who are of the remote Places of the Earth: gird your ſelves, yet ye ſhall be broke in pieces; gird your ſelves, yet you ſhall be broke in pieces.

10. Take counſel, yet it ſhall become void; ſpeak the Word, yet it ſhall not ſtand: for it is Immanu-el.

11. For thus ſpoke the Lord to me with a ſtrong Hand, and inſtructed me from going in the Way of this People thus:

12. You ſhall not ſay, a Confederacy, of any of whom this People ſay, a Confederacy; neither ſhall you fear as they do, nor be in Dread.

13. Sanctify the Lord of Armies himſelf; and let him be whom you fear, and whom you dread.

14. So will he become a Sanctuary; but a tripping Stone, and a ſtumbling Rock to the two Families of Iſrael, a Gin and a Snare to the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

15. Among whom many will ſtumble, fall, be broke, inſnared, and taken.

16. Bind up the Teſtimony, ſeal up the Law among my Scholars.

17. And I will tarry for the Lord, who hides his Face from the Family of Jacob, and will wait for him.

18. Behold I and the Children that the Lord has given, are Signs, and Tokens in Iſrael, from the Lord of Armies who dwells on Mount Zion.

19. And though they ſay to you, Seek to ſuch as have familiar Spirits, and to Sorcerers that chirp and mutter; Should not the People ſeek to their God? What to the Dead for the Living?

20. It ſhould be to the Law, and to the Teſtimony; if they do not ſpeak according to this Word, it is not Morning with them.

7. Of the Abundance of Principality and Peace there will be no End, he being upon the Throne of David, and in his Kingdom, to eſtabliſh it, and ſupport it, with Judgment and Righteouſneſs: henceforth even for ever, the Zeal of the Lord of Armies will do this.

8. The Lord has ſent the Word into Jacob, and it has fallen in Iſrael.

Ib. The Wonderful One] Since Poole, whoſe Annotations are noted and frequent, pretty ingeniouſly pleads that the Words may beſt be taken jointly, Wonderful Counſellor, and conſequently it might be thought I ſhould have rendered them ſo: to obviate this, the Reader may be informed, that the Heb. does not admit of that Conſtruction; a Subſtantive, as Buxtorf aſſerts, is always put before its Adjective, Theſ. Gram. Lib. ii. Chap. 1. Reg. 2. for which reaſon Wonderful is not an Adjective to Counſellor, but has another Subſtantive underſtood. viz. Perſon or one; ſo that if the Words are joined, the latter muſt be the Genitive of the firſt, and will then read, The wonderful (one) of Counſellor, which is abſurd. There are indeed divers Inſtances, where ſuch an Adjective is followed by a Subſtantive not Perſonal, or denoting a Perſon, as in Pſa. xcvii. 11. the upright (ones) of Heart; and ſo it may by a Perſonal Subſtantive that is plural, an Example of which occurs Dan. iv. 17. the loweſt of Men, that is among Men: but, as it may now clearly appear, a ſingular Subſtantive of the latter Kind cannot be thus connected. Nor will this Criticiſm I preſume be uſeleſs, beſides its Application to thoſe Words in the Text. Next as for the Senſe of them, Poole's Propoſal reſtricts Chriſt's being wonderful only to Counſel, and alſo makes him a Counſellor only wonderful; whereas he was wonderful in all Accompliſhments, and a Counſellor in all reſpects.

12. Syria being before, and the Philiſtines behind, they ſhall eat up Iſrael with the whole Mouth: for all this his Anger does not turn back, but his Hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

13. Since the People do not return to him who ſmites them, nor ſeek the Lord of Armies.

14. So the Lord will cut off from Iſrael, the Head and Tail, the Branch and Ruſh, at one Time.

15. The Elder, who is of a reſpected Face, he is the Head; and the Prophet that teaches Falſehood, he is the Tail.

16. Even thoſe who guide this People cauſe to go aſtray, and ſuch as are guided by them are devoured.

17. Therefore the Lord will not be glad for their young Men, nor have Mercy upon their Fatherleſs and Widows; ſince every one of them is a Hypocrite, and an Evildoer, and every Mouth ſpeaks Vileneſs: for all this his Anger does not turn back, but his Hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

18. For Wickedneſs burns like Fire, it will conſume the Briers and Brambles; and kindle in the Brakes of the Wood, ſo that they will mount up in lofty Smoak.

19. Through the Wrath of the Lord of Armies is the Country darkened; and the People will be as the Fuel of Fire, they will not ſpare one another.

20. And they will cut on the right Hand, yet be hungry; and eat on the left, yet be not ſatisfied: they will eat each one the Fleſh of his Arm;

CHAP. X.

WO be to thoſe who make Decrees of Iniquity, and write ſuch grievous Things as they do:

2. To turn aſide the Poor from Judgment, and to take away by force the Right of the Afflicted of my People; for Widows to be their Spoil, and that they may prey upon the Fatherleſs.

3. And what will you do at the Time of Viſitation, and at the Waſting that ſhall come far off? To whom will you flee for Help? and where will you leave your Glory?

4. Without me they will bow down in the Place of Priſoners, and fall in the Place of the Slain: for all this his Anger does not turn back, but his Hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

5. Wo be to Aſſyria the Rod of my Anger, in whoſe Hand my Indignation is a Staff.

6. Whom I ſend into a hypocritical Nation, and command againſt the People of my Wrath; to take the Effects for Spoil, and what there is for Plunder, nay to make it be trod on as the Dirt of the Streets.

7. But he does not imagine ſo, nor his Heart think ſo: for it is in his Heart to deſtroy, and cut off Nations not a few.

8. For he ſays; are not my Princes together Kings?

9. Is not Calno like Carchemiſh? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria like Damaſcus?

10. According as my Hand found the idolatrous Kingdoms, whoſe carved Images were above both thoſe of Jeruſalem, and thoſe of Samaria;

11. Shall not I, as I have done to Samaria and its Idols, ſo do to Jeruſalem and its Images?

12. Therefore when the Lord has accompliſhed all his Work on Mount Zion, and Jeruſalem; I will puniſh the Fruit of the Greatneſs of the King of Aſſyria's Heart, and the Glory of his lofty Eyes.

13. For he boaſts; By the Power of my Hand have I done it, and by my Wiſdom; becauſe I am prudent: ſo I have taken away the Bounds of the People, plundered their prepared Things, and caſt down the Inhabitants like a ſtrong one.

Beſides what Converſion was there of the reſt of the Jews, who eſcaped the Deſtruction by the Romans under Veſpaſian? Though many were converted before, that does not agree with this Term the reſt, Reſidue, or Remainder. Ver. 6. Wolf] This Union and Familiarity of the Creatures, who may repreſent People of different Natures, ſeems to mean no more than the Peace and Unity of the true Chriſtians; ſee Chap. ii. 4. or according to Maimonides, being no longer like ſuch Beaſts, More Nevoch. Pt. ii. Ch. 29.

Ver. 9. Mountain] That is Chriſt, as in Chap. ii. 2, 3. and here obſerve a Diſtinction between Mountain and Earth: the Knowledge of Chriſt would be much in the Earth, but they would be ſuch as were really on him, who would not hurt nor deſtroy, according to Chap. ii. 2, 3, 4.

Ver. 11. At which Time] By this and the foregoing Expreſſions, with Ver. 12. it appears that all which follows in this Chapter was to be after the Coming of Chriſt, and as theſe Words with the great Goſpel Converſion ſhew, about that Time; which Grotius forcibly ſtrains to Hezekiah's.

Ib. again] as he did before from Egypt, Ver. 16. again relating to People, not to Reſidue.

Ver. 12. gather] to Chriſt, purſuant to Ver. 9. and eſpecially Gen. xlix. 10. whereas other Expoſitors thinking they were to make a real Journey to Jeruſalem, interpret it yet to be fulfilled: if ſo it muſt be the material Mount Zion in Ver. 9. and that Mountain muſt actually be raiſed up above others, if not be removed and placed upon them, to fulfil Ch. ii. 2. According to their Expoſition the Breath Ver. 4. is to be underſtood in the ſame Manner, and as the Jews underſtand it; one of whom blowing with his Mouth, ſaid to me, ſo Chriſt would do when he comes, and kill the Wicked. On the contrary this Prophecy muſt begin figuratively, Ver. 1. and muſt be ſo interpreted further, if it is conſiſtently applied to the true Jeſus Chriſt and Chriſtianity.

Ver. 13. Diſtreſſings] which is evident and elegant, by conſidering the Verſe together, ſince the Heb. Word ſignifies this as well as Adverſaries.

CHAP. XII.

AT which Time thou wilt ſay; I will praiſe thee, O Lord; though thou haſt been angry with me, thy Anger is turned away, and thou doſt comfort me.

2. Behold God is my Salvation; I will truſt, and not be afraid: for the Lord Jehovah is my Strength and Pſalm, and is become Salvation to me.

3. You will alſo draw Water with Joy out of the Wells of Salvation.

4. And will ſay at that Time; Praiſe the Lord, call on his Name, cauſe his Deeds to be known among the People, make mention that his Name is exalted.

5. Sing melodiouſly to the Lord, for he does what is excellent: this is made known in the whole Earth.

6. Shout joyfully, and ſing, O Inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Iſrael within thee.

CHAP. XIII.

THE Burden of Babylon, which Iſaiah the Son of Amoz ſaw.

2. Lift up a Standard upon the eminent Mountain, elevate the Voice to them, ſhake the Hand, that they may enter the Gates of the Nobles.

3. I have commanded my Sanctified, have alſo called my powerful ones for my Anger, thoſe who triumph in my Excellency.

4. There is the Noiſe of a Multitude on the Mountains, the Likeneſs of a great People, a tumultuous Noiſe of the heathen Kingdoms gathered together; the Lord of Armies muſtering the Army for War.

5. They come from a Country far off, from the End of the Heaven; even the Lord, and the Weapons of his Indignation, to ſpoil the whole Country.

6. Lament, for the Day of the Lord is near; it will come as Waſting from the Almighty.

7. Therefore all Hands will be ſlack, and every Heart of Man melt.

8. And they will be troubled, Pains and Torments will take hold, they will be in Anguiſh as a Woman in Labour; will be aſtoniſhed one at another, their Faces being in a Flame.

9. Behold the Day of the Lord is coming, fierce, and with Wrath, and fervent Anger, to make the Country deſolate; and he will deſtroy its Sinners out of it.

10. For the Stars of Heaven, and its Conſtellations, will not cauſe their Light to glitter: the Sun will be darkened when it goes forth, and the Moon not make its Light ſhine.

11. Then will I puniſh the World for Vice, and the Wicked for their Iniquity; as alſo make the Pride of the Lofty ceaſe, and will humble the Haughtineſs of the Violent.

12. I will cauſe a Man to be more precious than pure Gold, and Mankind than the famous Gold of Ophir.

13. Therefore will I move the Heaven, and the Earth ſhall remove from its Place, in the Wrath of the Lord of Armies, and at the Time of his fervent Anger.

14. So that as a Roe driven away, and as a Flock when none gathers together, they ſhall turn to their reſpective People, and flee to their ſeveral Countries.

15. Every one who is found ſhall be run through, and every one who is added fall by the Sword.

16. Their Children alſo ſhall be daſhed to pieces before their Eyes, their Houſes be plundered, and their Wives raviſhed.

17. Behold I will ſtir up the Medes againſt them; who will not eſteem Silver, nor delight in Gold it ſelf.

18. And the Bows will daſh the Youths to pieces; as they will ſhew no Compaſſion to the Fruit of the Womb, their Eye will not ſpare the Sons.

19. Thus Babylon the Glory of the Kingdoms, the Ornament of the Chaldeans Excellency, will be as God's Overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah.

20. It will never be inhabited, nor dwelt in to all Ages; the Arabian will neither there pitch a Tent, nor the Shepherds cauſe to lie down there.

22. Nay the wild Creatures of the Iſlands will cry out in their deſtitute Places, and the Dragons in the delicate Palaces: its Time being near to come, and its Days will not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIV.

FOR the Lord will ſhew Jacob compaſſion, and yet chooſe Iſrael, placing them in their own Country: the Strangers will alſo be joined to them, and gathered to the Family of Jacob.

2. Whom the People will take, and introduce them to their Place, ſo that the Family of Iſrael will take poſſeſſion of them in the Lord's Country, for Servant-men and Maids; nay they will take thoſe Priſoners who took them ſo, and rule over their Exacters.

3. And at the Time the Lord cauſes thee to reſt from thy Grief, Diſturbance, and the hard Service which thou haſt done;

4. Then ſhalt thou take up this Proverb concerning the King of Babylon that follows: How the Exacter is ceaſed! the golden one ceaſed!

5. The Lord has broke the Staff of the Wicked, the Rod of the Governors.

6. He who ſmote the People in Wrath with a continual Stroke, he who ruled the Nations in Anger is perſecuted, none reſtraining.

7. The whole Earth reſts, is quiet: they break out into Singing.

8. The Fir-trees alſo are glad for thee, the Cedars of Lebanon, ſaying, Since thou haſt been laid down, there is no Feller come up againſt us.

9. The Grave from below is moved for thee, to meet thee coming, it ſtirs up the Deceaſed for thee, all the Chief of the Earth, raiſes up all the Kings of the Nations from their Thrones.

10. All of them will ſpeak to thee in this Manner, Thou art alſo made as weak as we, thou art become like us.

11. Thy Pride, the Noiſe of thy Lutes, is brought down to the Grave: the Worms are ſpread under thee, and the Earth-worms cover thee.

12. How thou art fallen from Heaven, O Day-ſtar, the Offspring of the Morning, cut down to the Ground, become more feeble than the Nations!

13. Though thou ſayeſt in thy Heart, I will get up to Heaven, will make my Throne high above the Stars of God, and ſit on the Mountain of the ſolemn Aſſembly, at the north Sides:

14. I will get up above the high Places of the Clouds, will be like the Higheſt One;

15. Yet thou wilt be brought down to the Grave, to the Sides of the Pit.

16. Thoſe that ſee thee will take a View of thee, look at thee, ſaying, Is this the Man who moved the Earth, who ſhook the Kingdoms;

17. Who made the World like a Wilderneſs, and demoliſhed the Cities of it, who did not releaſe his Priſoners home?

18. All the Kings of the Nations do univerſally lie in Glory, in their ſeveral Houſes.

19. But thou art caſt out of thy Sepulchre as an abominable Shoot, the Cloaths of thoſe who are ſlain, being thruſt through with the Sword, that go down to the Stones of the Pit, like a dead Body which is trod upon.

20. Thou wilt not be united with them in Burial, becauſe thou haſt deſtroyed thy Country, ſlain thy People: the Poſterity of Evil-doers will never be renowned.

21. Prepare Slaughter for his Sons, for the Iniquity of their Fathers; that they may not riſe up, and inherit the Earth, and fill the Surface of the World with Cities.

22. Nay I will riſe up againſt them, ſays the Lord of Armies; and will cut off from Babylon the Name and Reſidue, even Son and Grandſon, ſays the Lord.

23. And I will make it the Inheritance of the Bittern, and Pools of Water, as alſo ſweep it with the Beſom of Deſtruction, ſays the Lord of Armies.

24. The Lord of Armies has ſworn thus; As I have intended, ſo ſhall it come to paſs, and as I have taken counſel, it ſhall be confirmed;

25. To break Aſſyria in my Country, and that I will tread him down upon my Mountains, that his Yoke ſhall be taken off from them, and his Burden taken off from the Shoulder of each.

26. This Counſel is taken againſt the whole Earth, and this Hand is ſtretched out againſt all the Nations.

27. For the Lord of Armies takes counſel, and who ſhall make void? And his Hand is ſtretched out, then who ſhall turn it back?

28. In the Year that King Ahaz died, there was this Burden.

29. Be not glad, O Philiſtia all of thee, though the Rod that ſmote thee is broken: for there will come forth a Cockatrice from the Serpent's Root, whoſe Fruit will be a flying fiery Serpent.

30. Whereas the Firſt-born of the Poor ſhall feed, and the Needy lie down ſecurely; but I will cauſe thy Root to die with Famine, and he ſhall ſlay the Remainder of thee.

31. Lament, O Gate, cry, O City; all of thee, Philiſtia, ſhall be diſſolved: for there comes a Smoak from the North, and none is alone of his Companies.

32. And what ſhall be anſwered to the Ambaſſadors of the Nation? That the Lord has founded Zion, and the Afflicted of his People will truſt in it.

THE Burden of Moab. Becauſe in the Night Ar of Moab is waſted, periſhed, becauſe in the Night Kir of Moab is waſted, periſhed;

2. It goes up to Baïth and Dibon the high Places, with Weeping: Moab will lament for Nebo, and for Medeba; on all the Heads of it will be Baldneſs, every Beard be cut off.

3. In its Courts they will be girded with Sackcloth; upon her Roofs and in her Streets every one of it will lament, going down with Weeping.

4. Both Heſhbon and Elaleh will cry,

Ver. 25. Aſſyria] One great and general Fault I have frequently obſerved in our Scripture-Expoſitors, is making their Interpretations from the com. Eng. Bible, and laying Streſs upon Words there which the Original does not ſupport: an Inſtance of this Kind is here in Lowth's Commentary, he imagining then to imply the final Deliverance of God's People at that Time, rejects the plain Meaning of their Deliverance by the Deſtruction of Sennacherib's Army, and conceits that by the Aſſyrian may be meant ſome remarkable Enemies, particularly Gog and Magog; though the Heb. has no Adverb of Time for it, but only a mere Conjunction to couple the Parts of the Sentence together.

Ib. his Burden] Sept. their Glory, doubtleſs by miſtaking סבל to ſignify Glory as well as Burden, like כבד as Hammond remarks at Mark xiii. and then changing his into their.

5. My Heart ſhall cry for Moab, for its Barriers to Zoar, as an Heifer of the third Year: for at the Aſcent of Luhith it will go up into it with Weeping, and at the Way of Horonaim will they ſtir up a Cry of Ruin;

6. For the Water of Nimrim will be deſolate, and the Graſs will be dried up, the Herbs conſumed, there will be no green Thing.

7. Therefore the Reſidue that it has got, and thoſe Things which they have put up, will be carried into the Valley of Willows.

8. For the Cry will go about the Brder of Moab, her Lamentation to Eglaim, and the ſame to Beer-elim.

9. For the Water of Dimon ſhall be full of Blood, and I will put more Things upon Dimon; a Lion to thoſe who are eſcaped of Moab, and to the Remainder of the Country.

CHAP. XVI.

SEND the Governor of the Country's Sheep, that are from the Rock even to the Wilderneſs, to the Mountain of the Daughter of Zion.

2. For the Daughters of Moab will be as a wandering Bird ſent out of the Neſt, at the Paſſages of Arnon.

3. Bring Counſel, manage with Judgment, make thy Shadow like Night at the very Noon, hide the expelled ones, do not diſcover the Wanderer.

4. Let my expelled ones ſojourn in thee; O Moab, be a Hiding-place to them from the Face of him who waſtes: for the Preſſer will have an end, the Waſter will fail, thoſe that tread down be conſumed out of the Country.

5. And the Throne will be eſtabliſhed with Kindneſs, upon which he will ſit with Truth, in the Tent of David, judging and ſeeking Judgment, and being ready in Juſtice.

6. We have heard of the Pride of Moab, that is very proud, of his Haughtineſs, Pride, and Wrath; his falſe Deviſings will not be ſo.

7. By reaſon of which Moab will lament for it ſelf, every one of it will wail: for the Foundations of Kir-hareſheth will you muſe, they being ſurely bruiſed.

8. For the Fields of Heſhbon are a languiſhing Place, the Vine of Sibmah, the Lords of the Nations beat down the choice Branches of it; they reach to Jazer, ſtray in the Wilderneſs; the Shoots of it are ſpread abroad, they paſs over the Sea.

12. And when it is ſeen that Moab is become weary upon the high Place, and comes to his Sanctuary to pray, he will not prevail.

13. This is the Matter which the Lord has ſpoken concerning Moab hitherto.

14. And now he ſpeaks as follows, In three Years as the Years of one hired, the Glory of Moab ſhall be baſe, in all the great Multitude; and the Reſidue being very little, ſhall not be ſtout.

CHAP. XVII.

THE Burden of Damaſcus. Behold Damaſcus is taken away from being a City, and is become a Heap of Ruin.

2. The Cities of Aroer are forſaken: they ſhall be for Flocks, which ſhall lie down, and none make afraid.

3. Both the ſtrong Hold ſhall be aboliſhed from Ephraim, and the Kingdom of Damaſcus with the Reſidue of Syria; which ſhall be like the Glory of the Iſraelites, ſays the Lord of Armies.

4. At which Time the Glory of Jacob ſhall be impoveriſhed, and the Fatneſs of his Fleſh become lean.

5. And it ſhall be like a Reaper's gathering together the ſtanding Corn, that he may reap the Ears with his Arm: it ſhall even be as one gathers the Ears in the Giants Vale.

6. But there ſhall be Gleaning-grapes left in it, as at the Bruſhing of an Olive-tree, two or three Berries in the Top of the uppermoſt Branch, four or five in the fruitful Branches of it, ſays the Lord God of Iſrael.

7. At that Time Man will have regard to his Maker, and his Eyes will look to the Holy One of Iſrael.

8. And he will not have regard to the Altars, the Work of his own Hands; nor look to that which his own Fingers have made, whether Groves or ſun-burnt Images.

9. His ſtrong Cities at that Time will be as a forſaken Bough and an uppermoſt Branch, which will be left, by reaſon of the Iſraelites; though there will be Deſolation.

10. For thou haſt forgot the God of thy Salvation, and not remembred the Rock of thy Strength: therefore thou having planted pleaſant Plants, and ſet it with a ſtrange Slip;

11. Making thy Plant grow in the Day, and cauſing thy Seed to flouriſh in the Morning; the Harveſt will be a Heap, at the Time of Sickneſs and mortal Pain.

12. Wo be to the many noiſy People, who make a Noiſe like that of the Seas; and to the tumultuous Nations, which are in a Tumult like that of ſtrong Waters.

13. The Nations are in a Tumult like that of many Waters, but he will rebuke them, ſo that they ſhall flee far off; being purſued like the Chaff of the Mountains before the Wind, and like whirling Stuff before the Whirlwind.

14 At the Evening-time alſo there will be Trouble, before the Morning he will not be: this will be the Share of thoſe who plunder us, and the Lot of them that prey upon us.

Ver. 14. three] from the Year in which Ahaz died, Ch. xiv. 28. at whoſe Death Hezekiah being in the firſt Year of his Reign, as by the Table of the Kings, conſequently this ſeems accompliſhed upon Moab in his 4th Year, by the King of Aſſyria, before he began his War againſt Samaria, 2 King. xviii. 9.

Ib. as the Years] barely fulfilled, without any Overplus; but muſt be full Years for ſuch, as Chap. xxi. 16. whereas Uſher makes it but two.

Ib. by reaſon of] Through God's Favour remaining to his People, their ſtrong Cities ſhall not be deſtroyed, 2 Chron. xxxii. 1.

Ver. 10. pleaſant] In the vulg. Lat. faithful; neither ſuitable to the Context, nor true, ע being miſtaken for נ but in the Gr. worſe unfaithful, by imagining that was more ſuitable perhaps.

Ver. 11. Sickneſs] The Verb ſignifying to be ſick, and not to grieve. Beſides Sickneſs and ſuch Pain hinder People from getting in their Harveſt, ſo that it lies in Heaps, and is ſpoiled.

Ver. 12. noiſy] being a Noun from the Verb that follows repeatedly.

Ver. 14. Morning] How exactly this came to paſs on the Aſſyrian Army! Chap. xxxvii. 36.

CHAP. XVIII.

WO be to the Country ſhady with Wings, which is on the ſide of the Rivers of Ethiopia;

2. That ſends Ambaſſadors on the Sea, and in Veſſels of Ruſhes atop of the Water, Go, O ſwift Meſſengers, to the Nation drawn out and made bare, to the People terrible not only where they are but further, the Nation meaſuring by a Line, and treading down, whoſe Country the Rivers have preyed upon.

3. All Inhabitants of the World, and Dwellers on the Earth, when the Standard is lifted up at the Mountains, ſee; and when the Trumpet is ſounded, hear.

4. For thus ſaid the Lord to me; I will be quiet and look in my Settlement, as the clear Heat in the Sun-ſhine, like a Cloud of Dew in the Heat of Harveſt.

5. For before Harveſt, while the Bud is whole, and the green Grape ripening with a Flower; he will both cut off the Suckers with Pruning-hooks, and remove, cut away the Sprouts.

6. They ſhall be left together for the Fowls of the Mountains, and for the Beaſts of the Earth: inſomuch that the Fowls ſhall ſummer upon them, and all the Beaſts of the Earth winter upon them.

7. At that Time a Preſent will be brought to the Lord of Armies, by the People drawn out and made bare, and from the People terrible not only where they are but further, the Nation meaſuring by a Line, and treading down, whoſe Country the Rivers have preyed upon; to the Place of the Name of the Lord of Armies, the Mountain of Zion.

CHAP. XIX.

THE Burden of Egypt. Behold the Lord will ride on a ſwift Cloud, and come to Egypt; at whoſe Preſence the Idols of Egypt will be moved, and its Heart melt within it.

2. And I will mingle Egypt with it ſelf, ſo that they ſhall fight each with his Brother, and each with his Neighbour, City with City, Kingdom with Kingdom.

3. For the Spirit of Egypt ſhall be emptied within it, and I will devour its Counſel: when they will ſeek to the Idols, the Charmers, thoſe that have familiar Spirits, and the Sorcerers.

4. I will alſo ſhut up Egypt in the Power of hard Lords, and a fierce King ſhall rule over them, ſays the Sovereign Lord of Armies.

5. The Water too ſhall fail from the Sea, and the River waſte away, and dry up.

Ver. 1. Wings] large Mountains, according to Strabo's Deſcription, Lib. ult. not the Sails of Ships, which did not make the Country ſhady.

Ib. on the ſide of] as Num. xxi. 1. 1 Sam. xiv. 4. for which ſee Grot. with Jun. and Trem. Annot. What Violence is done to the Text, by expounding the Country to be Egypt, undeſerving a particular Confutation!

Ver. 2. That ſends] or ſending, it being a Participle to Country or Ethiopia: ſo not God ſends, according to the Senſe Lowth prefers; nor is it probable the Aſſyrians went againſt Ethiopia by Sea, but through Egypt. In Support of his Opinion, he interprets that Time, Ver. 7. not to mean the ſame Time.

Ib. ſends] to Sennacherib King of Aſſyria, Chap. xxxvii. 9. Sevechus the 2d of the Ethiopian Line being then King of Egypt, with whom Sennacherib was at War, and beſieging Peluſium, the Fear of Tirhakah King of Ethiopia drove him from thence, Joſephus Antiq. Lib. x. 1.

Ib. Sea] the Red Sea, at the farther End of which from Ethiopia Peluſium lay.

Ib. drawn out] the Aſſyrian Army being come from Home, and alſo diſperſed in ſeveral Places, Chap. xxxvi. 2. & xxxvii. 8.

Ib. made bare] either for want of Riches to carry on ſo much War, or by the Multitude of People taken out of their Country for that Purpoſe.

Ib. meaſuring] making new Provinces and Colonies; of which look Grotius's excellent Note.

Ib. preyed] This ſeems to me as if the Aſſyrians under the Pretence that their Country was overflowed or ſtreightened by the Tigris, &c. went to war with their Neighbours.

Ver. 3. when] at the Time the deciſive Battle was to be fought between Sennacherib and Tirhakah, in which the latter was defeated, Ch. xx. 4.

Ver. 4. quiet] as though Providence would not much interfere in it, the Ethiopians and Aſſyrians being both wicked, and ſhould ſhortly be puniſhed, as the latter were ſoon after, Chap. xxxvii. 36.

Ib. clear Heat] which is ſeen to ſparkle in a hot Summer's Day, continuing in the ſame Place.

Ib. Sun-ſhine] Heb. Light frequently; and is not pretended to be Herbs that I know of elſewhere, though another Noun from the ſame Root is in Chap. xxvi. 19. 2 King. iv. 39.

Ib. Cloud] which in the ſtill hot Weather ſcarce moves.

Ver. 5. before] Signifying hereby the Nearneſs of their Deſtruction.

Ver. 6. They] thoſe who are ſlain of their Armies.

Ver. 7. a Preſent] of what was left by the great Slaughter of the Aſſyrians, 2 King. xix. 35.

Ver. 2. fight] After the Death of Setho or Tirhakah, the Succeſſor of Sevechus, in whoſe Reign Sennacherib invaded Egypt, Chap. xx. 1. the Country was two Years without any ſettled Government, in Confuſion and Contention, Diodorus Siculus, Lib. 1.

Ver. 4. hard] Heb. as it were Lords each hard.

Ib. Lords] After the two Years of Anarchy, twelve Noblemen ſeized the Kingdom, and parted it between them 15 Years, Herodotus, Lib. 2. Diod. Sicul. ib.

Ib. King] Next reigned Pſammitichus one of them whom the reſt firſt expelled, but he returning with an Army of Robbers, Pirates, &c. overcame them all, and was King many Years, Herod. and Diod. Sic. ib.

Ver. 5. fail] by turning it out of the Nile at that Time, into the Lake Mareotis or Marea 100 Miles in Circumference, on the weſt Side of the River, before it reached the Levant or Mediterranean Sea, Herodotus in Euterpe; and thus all theſe Things might not be figurative, as Grotius ſays they are. In which View read to Ver. 11.

6. And

6. And the Rivers ſhall go off, the Streams of Fortification be drawn out, and waſte away; the Reeds and the Flags ſhall wither.

7. The Paper-reeds at the Stream, at the Mouth of it, and every ſown Thing of the Stream ſhall dry up, be driven away, and not be.

8. And the Fiſhermen ſhall ſorrow, all that caſt Hooks into the Stream mourn, and ſuch as ſpread Caſting-nets atop of the Waters languiſh.

9. Thoſe likewiſe ſhall be aſhamed who work the fine Threads of Flax, with them that knit the Nets.

10. And all who make the Lake, Ponds of Pleaſure, ſhall be bruiſed in the Purpoſes of it.

11. Certainly the Princes of Zoan are Fools, the Counſel of Pharaoh's wiſe Counſellors is become ſenſeleſs: how can you ſay of Pharaoh, I am the Son of the wiſe ones, the Son of the ancient Kings?

12. Where be they that are thy wiſe ones now? For let them tell thee, I pray, and make known, what Counſel the Lord of Armies has taken againſt Egypt.

13. The Princes of Zoan are become fooliſh, the Princes of Noph are deceived: thoſe make Egypt go aſtray, who are the Corner of its Tribes.

14. The Lord has mixed a Spirit of perverſe Things within it; and they make Egypt go aſtray in every Work of it, as a Drunkard does in his Vomit.

15. So that Egypt will have no Work, which the Head or Tail, Branch or Ruſh can do.

16. At that Time Egypt will be like Women: as it will be afraid, and in dread; by reaſon of the Shaking of the Hand of the Lord of Armies, which he ſhakes againſt it.

17. And the Country of Judah will be a Staggering to Egypt, every one who brings it to his Remembrance will be in dread; by reaſon of the Counſel of the Lord of Armies, which he takes againſt it.

18. At the ſame Time there will be five Cities in the Country of Egypt, that ſpeak the Language of Canaan, and ſwear to the Lord of Armies; one will be called The City of Deſtruction.

19. There will be an Altar to the Lord at that Time in the Middle of the Country of Egypt, and a Statue at the Border of it to the Lord.

Ver. 7. Paper-reeds] the Reeds of which Paper was firſt made growing at the Sides of the Nile, with a triangular Stalk about fifteen Feet high, and a Foot and a half in Compaſs, having ſeveral Rinds one within another, Pliny, Lib. xii. 13.

Ib. Mouth] of the Nile at the Mediterranean Sea. Pſammitichus retiring into the Fens by the Sea-ſide, as the Hiſtory relates, might be a ſecond Occaſion to that mentioned on Ver. 5. of ſpoiling the Buſineſs done there, according to theſe Verſes.

Ver. 10. the Lake] properly from the Heb. Root to ſhut up: a Place, as Buxtorf ſays in Lexic. wherein Water is ſhut up; ſee Ver. 5.

Ib. Pleaſure] for which that great Work was at leaſt partly performed. Heb. the Soul or Deſire, by which is not likely to be meant Fiſh. Thus Jun. and Trem. tranſlate ſtagna voluptaria.

Ib. bruiſed] as Ver. 4.

Ver. 11. of Pharaoh] that is by perſonating him, or introducing him to ſay ſo of himſelf, as uſed both in Diſcourſe and Writing; and unto muſt needs be leſs, if at all proper.

Ib. ancient Kings] the Line of whom ſhould fail, Ver. 2, 4.

Ver. 12. now] This Word is very different from the firſt, of which ſee Hoſ. xiii. 10. and that [where are they] is not a Queſtion by it ſelf appears by the Accent Kadma, which is no Point of Diviſion.

Ib. I pray] which is very frequent.

Ver. 13. become fooliſh] a Verb, as that in Ver. 11. was a Noun.

Ver. 14. they] the perverſe Things, which is plural in the Heb.

Ver. 17. Judah] which lying between Egypt and the King of Aſſyria's Dominions, was in the Time here propheſied of conquered by that King, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11. at which the Egyptians might well be afraid.

Ver. 18. Cities] by the fleeing thither, I ſuppoſe, of ſome of the Inhabitants of Judah, when the King of Aſſyria made that Conqueſt of it in the Reign of Manaſſeh: thus it is properly joined with the foregoing Verſe, and agrees with the 20th, which ſtrongly hints this Meaning. Thoſe People might not improbably be allowed five Cities in Egypt, as that was in Alliance with Judah, Ch. xxx. 6, 9. So David and his Men had Ziklag from Achiſh, 1 Sam. xxvii. 6.

Ib. one] which the Aſſyrians might carry their Conqueſts ſo far as to deſtroy. The Aſſembly's Annotation ſeems notably abſurd, each of them ſhall be called a Citie, ſaved from Deſtruction.

Ver. 19. Altar] Through Providence the better Sort might get thither, partly for the Idolatry at Home, 2 Chron. xxxiii. and that ſuch might be ſaved; who then ſerved God there. The Objection that they were blamed for going into Egypt, loſes its Force, becauſe it was on other different Occaſions: at Sennacherib's Invaſion, they ſent ſome to Egypt for Help, Chap. xxxi. 1. when the Lord would wonderfully deliver them himſelf, and not be deprived of that Honour, and the good Effects of it, by the Egyptians; after the Captivity by Nebuchadnezzar, God would have preſerved the Reſidue in their own Country, and Egypt was to be deſtroyed, Jer. xlii. thoſe were cogent Reaſons for their not going then, neither of all which operated, when Judah was conquered in the Reign of Manaſſeh. If the Prohibition to go into Egypt or live there was perpetual, this Prophecy muſt never be fulfilled; ſee Chap. xxvii. 12, 13. It may not be amiſs to mention, that in the Time of the Maccabees one Onias being diſappointed of the high Prieſthood, went into Egypt where there was a conſiderable Number of the Jews, and getting into the King's Favour, built a Temple in the Diſtrict of the City Heliopolis, became the high Prieſt of it himſelf, and Sacrifices were offered there as at Jeruſalem, Joſephus, Antiq. Lib. xiii. 6. & xx. 8. which continued till a little after the laſt Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, when that too was deſtroyed by the ſame Emperor Veſpaſian, Joſephus, De Bello Judaico, Lib. vii. 30. Onias perſuaded the Jews there to join with him in it, by pretending it was here propheſied of; but at that Time ſhews it was fulfilled when the other Things before were.

20. And it will be for a Sign and a Witneſs to the Lord of Armies, in that Country: for when they cry to the Lord becauſe of the Oppreſſors, he will ſend them a Saviour, and a great one, who will deliver them.

21. Thus the Lord will not be unknown to the Egyptians, who will know him at that Time, and ſerve with Sacrifice and Offering, as alſo make Vows to the Lord, and perform.

22. So the Lord will ſmite Egypt, and having ſmitten, heal; ſince they will return to the Lord, who will be intreated by them, as heal them.

23. At that Time there will be a Highway from Egypt to Aſſyria, ſo that the Aſſyrian will go into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Aſſyria; nay the Egyptians will ſerve with the Aſſyrians.

24. At the ſame Time will Iſrael be the third to Egypt and Aſſyria, a Bleſſing in the midſt of the Country:

25. Whom the Lord of Armies will bleſs, ſaying, Bleſſed is Egypt my People, Aſſyria the Work of my Hands, and Iſrael my Poſſeſſion.

CHAP. XX.

IN the Year of Thartan's coming to Aſhdod, when Sargon King of Aſſyria ſent him, and fighting againſt Aſhdod, he took it;

2. At that Time the Lord ſpoke by the Miniſtry of Iſaiah, the Son of Amoz, as follows, Go, and undo the Sackcloth from thy Loins, and pull off thy Shoe from thy Foot; and he did ſo, walking naked and barefooted.

3. According as my Servant Iſaiah, continued the Lord, walks naked and bare-

Ver. 20. Witneſs] of the true Religion in that Heathen Country.

Ib. a Saviour] Eliakim, as Ch. xxii. 20 to 25. to whom it appears very agreeable, though overlooked by the Annotators.

Ver. 22. heal] Since the Egyptians not only permitted the true Service of God in their Country, but joined in it, and repented; he would heal their Troubles and Diviſions, which they had while they were without a King: as he did by reſtoring Monarchical Government to them, a few Years after the Conqueſt of Judah, and as appears about the Time of the Settlement of that Kingdom under Eliakim's Adminiſtration.

Ver. 23. Aſſyria] which was alſo in Agreement with Judah, by Manaſſeh's returning from Captivity, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 13.

Ver. 25. Work] As ſome of the Aſſyrians might be converted to the true God in that Captivity, as well as the Egyptians, this will amply account for the whole. We find Eſar-haddon the King then reigning, ſent a Prieſt to teach his Colony in Iſrael the Fear of the Lord, that they might be preſerved from the Lions, 2 King. xvii. 27. which ſhews ſome Belief in the true God, and Acknowledgment of his Power; ſee Ch. lvi. 3, 6, 7, 8.

Ver. 1. Year] Prideaux expounds this to follow the coming of Sennacherib, here called Sargon, againſt Judah, in the 14th Year of Hezekiah's Reign, 2 King. xviii. 13. that he afterwards made war on Aſhdod, next on Egypt and Ethiopia three Years, Connect. An. 713. and then came againſt Judah the ſecond time, ſo that his Army was deſtroyed, and he went home in the 18th Year of Hezekiah, having twice beſieged Lachiſh, Connect. An. 710. But to me it appears otherwiſe; namely that Sargon (which I take to be the Name of this King of Aſſyria while he reigned with his Father Shalmaneſer, or till he began reigning at his Father's Death, which by the Times of the Kings of Aſſyria and Judah at the End of Dan. 23. was at the 12th, but according to Prideaux the 14th Year of Hezekiah, Iſaiah himſelf calling him Sennacherib afterwards, Ch. xxxvi. 1. & xxxvii. 37.) did firſt ſend Tartan a principal Man, 2 King. xviii. 17. through the Country of Iſrael, then an Aſſyrian Province, to Aſhdod in the Way to Egypt, which being taken, he went the firſt Year into Edom and Arabia, Pſa. xxi. 11, 13, 16. next haraſſed Egypt and Ethiopia three Years, Ver. 3, 4. but that while he or his Army was there, the Egyptians roſe up againſt him behind, and upon returning to ſubdue them, thoſe Inſurgents fortified themſelves in Peluſium, at the eaſtermoſt Mouth of the Nile, which he beſieged, but could not take, and retreated from thence for Fear of Tirhakah King of Ethiopia, who had raiſed an Army in the mean Time, and was coming againſt him, Joſephus, Antiq. Lib. x. 1. that now he came up againſt the Cities of Judah, Chap. xxxvi. 1. intending to conquer them for himſelf, 2 Chron. xxxii. 1. and Lachiſh lying towards Egypt, he inveſted that; whither Hezekiah ſent, and paid what Sennacherib appointed, 2 King. xviii. 14, 15, 16. who notwithſtanding ſent Rabſhakeh with Part of his Army forward to Jeruſalem, after he had got the Money, Chap. xxxvi. 2. 2 King. xviii. 17. 2 Chron. xxxii. 9. to have it delivered up to him, 2 King. xviii. 31. and to join with him, Ver. 23. or upon Hezekiah's Refuſal (which ſeems to be meant by the Charge of his rebelling, 2 King. 18, 20. 2 Chron. xxxii. 10. together with his preparing for the Defence of the City, 2 Chron. xxxii. 2—6.) to beſiege it with the Forces ſent; which Sennacherib might think he could then ſpare, ſince he was gone out of the Egyptian Territories; but Tirhakah making uſe of the Advantage, with the others Flight before, purſued him; upon which he decamped from Lachiſh, 2 King. xix. 8. 9. that the Inhabitants might not iſſue out upon him in the Battle, and going to meet the Ethiopian Army, overthrew it, Chap. xviii. 6. after which Time his own Army before Jeruſalem was deſtroyed, Chap. xxxvii. 36. & xviii. 7. finally that having defeated Tirhakah, he made great Havock in Edom, Ch. xxxiv. as being near, and againſt him; then laid ſiege to Libnah a City thereabouts, not belonging then to Judah, 2 King. viii. 22. but when Rabſhakeh returned to him with the News of his Loſs, he went home, 2 King. xix. 8. 36. According to this Order the Sabbatical and Jubilee Years fall together as computed at the End of Dan. and thoſe Days 2 King. xx. 1. referring to the laſt, muſt be in the 14th Year of Hezekiah, as ſhewn there.

Now as to the other, how unlikely it is that Sennacherib ſhould go firſt to Lachiſh from Home, as that lay beyond Jeruſalem from Aſſyria! but in the Way to it from Egypt. Nor is there any Intimation at the Beginning of 2 King. xviii. 17. that it was three or four Years after what is related in the foregoing Verſe, as would ſeem neceſſary if it were ſo: on the contrary we find the King of Aſſyria at Lachiſh as he was before, 2 King. xviii. 14. Again, what Appearance or Probabiliy is there of ſo much Space of Time between Ver. 1, and 2, of Iſa. xxxvi? Bedford however more ſtrangely puts the Siege of Libnah, and coming of Tirhakah againſt Sennacherib, when the latter was marching into Egypt, Scrip. Chr. B. vi. 3. 14. with other Inconſiſtencies there and in Table 46.

Ib. Thartan's] the firſt Letter here being an Aſpirate, not as in 2 King. xviii. 17.

footed; for a three Years Sign and Token, againſt Egypt and Ethiopia:

4. So ſhall the King of Aſſyria lead away the Captives of Egypt, and the Exiles of Ethiopia, young Men and old, naked and bare-footed; even with the Breech uncovered, the Nakedneſs of Egypt.

5. Daunted and aſhamed at this, of Ethiopia their Expectation, and of Egypt their Glory;

6. The Inhabitants of this Iſle will ſay at that Time, Behold ſuch is our Expectation, whither we flee for Help, to be delivered from the Face of the King of Aſſyria; and how ſhall we eſcape?

CHAP. XXI.

THE Burden of the Wilderneſs of the Sea. Like Whirlwinds in the South paſſing through, it comes from the Wilderneſs, from a terrible Country.

2. There is a hard Viſion declared to me: the treacherous one deals treacherouſly, and the Waſter waſtes (go up, Elam, beſiege, O Media; all its Sighing I have cauſed to ceaſe)

3. Therefore my Loins are full of Diſeaſe, Pains ſeize me like thoſe of a Woman in Labour; I am diſtorted by hearing, troubled by ſeeing.

4. My Heart pants, Horror terrifies me: the Twilight that I deſire is made fearful to me.

5. In providing the Table, keeping the Watch, eating, drinking; get ready, O Princes, anoint the Shield.

6. For thus ſaid the Lord to me, Go, cauſe a Watchman to ſtand, who may tell what he ſees.

7. And he ſaw a Chariot, a Couple of Horſemen, a Chariot with Aſſes, a Chariot with Camels; having hearkened diligently with much Attention.

8. Upon this he cried out like a Lion; While I have ſtood upon the Watch-tower, my Lord, continually by Day, and have been placed upon my Ward all Night;

Ver. 3. three Years Sign] Trem. and Jun. have tertii anni ſignum, a Sign of the third Year. The Point Athnah for the main Partition of the Verſe is at bare-footed. And with the Incredibility of Iſaiah's going ſo three Years, the Affair being alſo foreign; it may be obſerved there was not three nor two Years Space for the Prophet to do it, before it was fulfilled: ſo that to denote the three Years, it might be done three Days or Times.

Ib. Token] rather than Wonder, as the Word ſignifies either; ſee Chap. viii. 18.

Ver. 6. this Iſle] to which Iſaiah himſelf belonged, Chap. xxxi. & xxxvii. 9. and ſeems to be ſpoken in reſpect to the People, rather than the Country, the Iſraelites being ſeparated from the reſt of the World: for would the Aſhdodites ſay, How ſhall we eſcape? when they were already taken.

Ver. 1. Wilderneſs] as what it would be.

Ib. Sea] Babylon which is here ſpoken of, Ver. 9. having much Water about it, Jer. li. 13.

Ib. Whirlwinds] which in the Deſarts of Arabia and Lybia blow up the Sand terribly, ſo that People are ſuffocated and buried in it, in which Manner Cambyſes the Son of Cyrus King of Perſia loſt an Army.

Ver. 2. hard] Lowth writes here in his Commentary; "The Words may be thus tranſlated more agreeably "both to Grammar and Senſe: A grievous Viſion: there "is made known (or declared) to me an Oppreſſor of (or "for) the Oppreſſor, and Spoiler for the Spoiler;" Poole alſo in his Annotations to the ſame Purpoſe, and before them Lightfoot, Harm. of Old Teſt. Whereas Lowth has altered the Pointing from the Heb. according to which the Colon ſhould be after me, nor does the Word ſignify an Oppreſſor, beſides the repeated Words for that Meaning ſhould have ל prefixed; and as to the Senſe, let it be conſidered what was the Prophet ſo troubled at, Ver. iii. 4. but for the Hardſhips which he foreſaw his own People would ſuffer by Babylon? Was it becauſe Babylon ſhould be waſted, and the Sighing of Judah ceaſe?

Ib. Elam] See Jer. xlix. 34, 39.

Ib. its] Judah's; of which Kind ſee Inſtances in Pſa. lxxxvii. 1. Jer. xxxiii. 2.

Ver. 4. Twilight] as the Word ſignifies, not Night, and very apt to Deut. xxviii. 67. Yet Poole, in the Manner of our Eng. Annotators. infers from night in the com-Tranſ. that this Viſion was in the Night, and that it ſignified the Deſtruction of Babylon at that Time; and ſo Lightfoot.

Ver. 5. In providing] while the Table is providing with the different Courſes of Dainties; the Completion of this ſee Dan. v. Theſe four Verbs are infinitive, not imperative like the two next.

Ib. Princes] Several take it for the chief of the Enemies who ſhould ſurprize the City, but by the Shield, a defenſive Weapon, it was rather the Babylonians themſelves.

Ver. 6. to ſtand] as if it were to watch for the Viſion, Ver. 2.

Ver. 7. a Chariot with] Perhaps it might be truly rendered, but that I would not be too bold with the Original Scripture, thus, the Chariot (before mentioned) both with Aſſes and Camels; however literal as it is, it may be ſo underſtood; and will then agree, as it ſhould, with the Relation of it in Ver. 9. from whence it appears Iſaiah had the Account, ſince he did not ſee that Appearance himſelf; which may ſeem to be, one Chariot drawn with Aſſes and Camels, having Men in it, attended by two Horſemen. But ſeveral Interpreters would have it Horſes inſtead of Horſemen, with which it is pretended the firſt Chariot was drawn, and for which Signification of the Word 1 Sam. viii. 11. 2 Sam. i. 6. are cited, to no Purpoſe, nor is ſuch an invented, unknown, and unlikely Meaning of the Word to be allowed, which is the Way to endleſs Uncertainty, how much ſoever patronized by great Names. Suppoſing now there were three Chariots, what is the Meaning that one is deſcribed without Beaſts, the other with nothing in them? It is evident the firſt and foremoſt was not ſtanding ſtill, and as for the other being Carriages, that is not very ſuitable to Chariots; and would not Foot-ſoldiers rather than ſuch be mentioned, if an Army was to be repreſented?

Ib. Aſſes] as the two Horſemen might typify Darius and Cyrus, who conquered Babylon and its Empire, ſo might the two Kinds of Beaſts the Medes and Perſians.

Ver. 8. like a Lion] following herein the beſt Expoſitors: for the Particle of Compariſon is frequently underſtood, and the Watchman to begin his Speech with, A Lion, ſeems very odd, and unſuitable to the reſt.

Ib. all] he conſequently ſaw all that came, and ſo his was a certain Account.

9. Behold

9. Behold this is come, a Chariot of Men, a Couple of Horſemen, who ſpeak in this manner, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and he has broke down all the carved Images of her gods to the Ground.

10. This is what I have threſhed, and the Product of my Floor: that which I hear from the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, I declare to you.

11. The Burden of Dumah. He calls to me from Seir, Watchman, what of the Night? Watchman, what of the Night?

12. The Watchman ſays, The Morning comes, as well as the Night: if you will enquire, do, turn back, come.

13. The Burden of Arabia. In the Wood of Arabia will you lodge, O travelling Companies of Dedanim.

14. Come with Water to meet the Thirſty, you Inhabitants of the Country of Teman, prevent him who flees with Bread for him.

15. For they flee by reaſon of the Swords, of the extended Sword, as alſo by reaſon of the bended Bow, and of the Weight of the Battle.

16. For thus ſaid the Lord to me; within a Year, as the Years of one who is hired, all the Glory of Kedar ſhall fail.

17. And the Reſidue of the Number with the Bow, the powerful ones of the Race of Kedar ſhall be few: for the Lord God of Iſrael has ſpoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

THE Burden of the Valley of Viſion. What is the Matter with thee now, that thou art gone up all of thee to the Roofs?

2. Full of Acclamations! a noiſy City! a triumphing Town! thy Slain are not ſlain with the Sword, nor dead by Battle.

3. All thy Leaders who fled together from the Bow are bound: all that are found of thee are bound together, who have run away far off.

4. Therefore I ſay, Turn away from me, that I may make bitter Weeping; be not urgent to comfort me, for the Waſting of the Daughter of my People.

5. For it is a Time of Vexation, treading down and Perplexity, by the Sovereign Lord of Armies, in the Valley of Viſion; of deſtroying the Wall, and crying out to the Mountain.

6. Since Elam carries the Quiver with Chariots of Men, with Horſemen, and Kir makes bare the Shield.

7. So that the choiceſt of thy Vales are full of Chariots, and the Horſemen are fully put at the Gate.

8. He alſo uncovers the Covering of Judah, and thou lookeſt at the ſame Time to the Armour of the Houſe of the Wood.

Ver. 10. This is what] to wit this Viſion or Matter; ſo this is underſtood Jer. xxiii. 26. &c.

Ib. have threſhed] obtained by careful conſtant Watching according to Ver. 7, 8. as alſo with great Pain and Trouble, Ver. 3, 4. In the other Way, my Threſhing is thought to mean the Babylonians; which is incoherent, becauſe Iſaiah did not declare it to them, as appears both by the Diſtance of Time and Place, as it is likewiſe to [my:] or otherwiſe the Iſraelites; but to them the Prophecy did not belong, and to either threſhed ones in that Senſe would ſeem more proper than Threſhing.

Ib. Product] the Heb. being Son.

Ib. of my Floor] the ſame repeated in other Words, which ſeems unapplicable to People.

Ver. 11. from Seir] at a Diſtance as he is running away.

Ver. 12. as well as] q. d. Why doſt thou aſk ſo much of the Night? Stay till the Morning: but if thou wilt enquire, turn back, and come to hear what there is. Thus he ſeems to repreſent the Edomites ſo haſty in fleeing by Night, that they would enquire of Things at a Diſtance, and not ſtay for an Anſwer, Lowth ſays, "This Verſe "hath puzzled all the Commentators;" it was well he did not except himſelf, who expounds it nearly like others.

Ver. 14. Come] the two Verbs being imperative as here rendered.

Ver. 1. Valley] ſtrictly I ſuppoſe the lower Part of Jeruſalem, where it is probable Sennacherib's Army beſieged it, Ver. 7. and where it was deſtroyed, Chap. xxx. 33. and from thence the City it ſelf as compaſſed with Mountains, Pſal. cxxv. 2.

Ib. Viſion] particularly becauſe this Viſion belonged to it, and more generally as being the principal Place for divine Viſions.

Ib. now] This ſeems to have been uttered or written in the very Time of the Aſſyrian Invaſion, which Obſervation will give conſiderable Light to the whole: not before, becauſe the Prophet complains of their Sin done at that Time, Ver. xi. 13. and Ver. 9, 10, 11. eſpecially are not like a Prophecy; not after, becauſe it is inconſiſtent with now here, nor is there any Mention of the remarkable Deliverance, which would have been the principal Thing to have aggravated their Sin, beſides to what Purpoſe ſhould ſuch a Narrative as this to the 15th Verſe be?

Ib, Roofs] to ſee what the Enemy was doing: for though ſome lamented there, yet not all, Chap. xv. 3. Jer. xlviii. 38.

Ver. 2. triumphing] He calls it as it had been, not was then; which latter in the Eng. Tranſ. is inconſiſtent with what follows.

Ib. by Battle] but by the Executioner, as it appears to me from the next Verſe, as in Jer. lii. 10, 27. Lowth has it, are dead with Fear; but I think it is a Trope too much ſtrained for thoſe who are afraid to be called Slain; and is it not expreſſive in the Text, that they were ſuch Slain as the Sword and Battle makes?

Ver. 3. fled together from the Bow are bound] which is not only quite literal, but the very Order of the original Words; concurring with the next Part, and Ch. xxi. 15. whereas bound by the Archers ſeems an odd Thing, if the Words would bear to be ſo rendered, which I think they will not.

Ib. all that] Lowth would have it rendered, all that are found in thee—have fled; not conſidering perhaps there would then be none left in the City.

Ib. far off] as Chap. xxiii. 7. & lvii. 9.

Ver. 6. Elam] See Jer. xlix. 34, 35.

Ver. 8. uncovers] diſmantled the frontier Places.

9. And

9. And you ſee the Breaches of the City of David, as being many: and gather together the Water of the lower Fiſh-pond.

10. Nay you number the Houſes of Jeruſalem, and break down Houſes to fortify the Wall.

11. And have made a Pool between the two Walls, for the Water of the old Fiſh-pond; but do not look to the Maker of it, nor mind him who formed it long ago.

12. And the Sovereign Lord of Armies calls at the ſame Time to Weeping, Lamentation, Baldneſs, and girding with Sackcloth.

13. When behold there is Joy and Gladneſs, killing Oxen and ſlaying Sheep, eating Fleſh and drinking Wine; with Let us eat and drink, though we die to Morrow.

14. But it was revealed in my Hearing by the Lord of Armies, This Iniquity ſhall not be purged away from you, till ye do die, ſays the Sovereign Lord of Armies.

15. Thus ſaid the Sovereign Lord of Armies: Go, get thee in to this Treaſurer Shebna, the Steward of the Houſe, ſaying,

16. What haſt thou here? And whom haſt thou here, that thou haſt cut thee out here a Sepulchre? like one cutting out his Sepulchre on high, carving him a Dwelling-place in the Rock.

17. Behold the Lord who covers thee with a Man's Covering, and throughly cloaths thee;

18. Will roll thee along as a Ball rolls, to a Country of large Space: there thou ſhalt die, and there ſhall the Chariots of thy Glory be for the Baſeneſs of thy Maſter's Houſe.

19. So will I drive thee from thy Station, and he ſhall throw thee down from thy State.

20. Moreover at that Time I will call my Servant Eliakim, the Son of Hilkiah.

21. Whom I will cloath with thy Coat, ſtrengthen with thy Belt, and give thy Government into his Hand: inſomuch that he ſhall be a Father both to the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and the Family of Judah.

22. And I will put the Key of David's Family upon his Shoulder: ſo that he ſhall open, and none ſhut; as likewiſe ſhut, and none open.

23. I will fix him a Pin too in a firm Place; and he ſhall be a Throne of Glory to the Family of his Father.

24. Upon whom they ſhall hang all the Glory of his Father's Family, of the Offſpring and Iſſue, all the little Veſſels, from thoſe of Bowls to all thoſe of Pitchers.

25. At that Time, ſays the Lord of Armies, ſhall the Pin that is fixed in a firm Place be removed, cut down, and fall, nay the Weight which is upon it ſhall be cut off; for the Lord has ſpoken it.

Ver. 9. Breaches] See 2 Chron. xxxii. 5.

Ver. 11. made] 2 Chron. xxxii. 3, 4.

Ver. 15. this Treaſurer] With the Vulgate, him who dwells in the Tabernacle: by the Infrequency of Sochen, it is ſcarce to be doubted but the Author ſought the Meaning of it in Shochen, and put the reſt at Will.

Ver. 17. covers] or the Lord covering thee, the Heb. being a Participle מְטַלְטֶלְךָ by doubling the firſt radical Letter ט as ל the other is. Belonging thus to the Root טלל it has indiſputably this Signification; and ſo other Verbs of this Kind have Inſtances alſo of the firſt Letter repeated, as גלל Jer. li. 25. מרר Dan. viii. 7. & xi. 11. חרד Prov. xxvi. 21. קלל Eccleſ. x. 10. Ezek. xxi. 21. להה Prov. xxvi. 18. כרר 2 Sam. vi. 14. which agrees well with the next Verb, and the whole, particularly Ver. 2. and is thus tranſlated by Trem. and Jun.

Ib. Man's] as the Heb. is, by which may be meant one in high Station.

Ib. Covering] טַלְטֵלָה is a Noun from the ſame Root by Duplication of the firſt Letter as before; which Manner of Words ſee in the Lexicons, from all the following ſimilar Roots, חרר, זול, דרר, גרר, גלל, ברר, בקק, קלל, קדד, צנן, צלל, צחח, סלל, כרר, כדד, חתת, תלל. But how little can be ſaid for thoſe two Words being derived from טול? which alſo ſignifies to caſt or throw, inſtead of carry into Captivity.

Ver. 18. Country] whither he was carried with King Manaſſeh into Captivity, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11.

Ib. Baſeneſs] being Matter of Reproach.

Ver. 20. that Time] when Manaſſeh was reſtored to his Kingdom, Eliakim being then, as it appears, prime Miniſter of State, if not alſo high Prieſt, Prideaux, Connect. Anno 677.

Ver. 23. a Pin] to hang Things on againſt a Wall, &c.

Ver. 24. of the] The Offspring and Iſſue being the Family, it was the Glory of them, and not they themſelves, were to hang upon him. The whole Family ſhould contribute to honour him, and derive their Honour from him. To avoid this, as it ſeems, which our Eng. Tranſlators have taken to, others have rendered the Words out of their Meaning: thus Jerome, or he who paſſes for him, has turned both Words, vaſorum diverſa genera, ſeveral Sorts of Veſſels; Jun. and Trem. proventus ejus & reditus ejus, his Income and his Revenue; the Septuagint more widely, including the next Words, ἀπὸ μικρῦ ἕως μεγάλου, from the ſmall to the great. Both which Inconveniencies are ſhunned by putting thoſe two Words in the Genitive Caſe, as governed of Glory, and not being the ſame with it, but with the Family.

Ib. Offspring and Iſſue] Kimhi in his Commentaries expounds it, הבני והבנות Sons and Daughters, ſo he does in his Book of Roots, with whom agrees Aben Ezra, as indeed the latter Word is fem. and herein Eliakim might be a Type of Chriſt, in whom Male and Female are one, Gal. iii. 28. But the Chald. Targum of Jonathan Ben Uzziel, which Sol. Jarhi follows, has בְּנַיָּא וּבְנֵי בְנַיָּא Sons and Grandſons, and the male Sex were more likely to be concerned with a prime Miniſter. However as there appears no more Authority for either than the Opinion of its Votaries, both ſeem too particular; and ſince the firſt Word is uſed with Seed or Poſterity in a general Manner, Ch. xliv. 3. & xlviii. 19. Job xxi. 8. it may be rather ſo here, and the latter Word for Iſſue of the like Meaning with that for Poſterity in thoſe Places.

CHAP. XXIII.

THE Burden of Tyre. Lament, O Ships of Tarſhiſh, becauſe it is waſted from having Houſe, or Entrance; thoſe that it is diſcovered to from the Country of Chittim.

2. Be ſilent, you Inhabitants of the Iſle, which the Merchants of Zidon, who paſs the Sea, have filled.

3. And the Seed of Shihor, the Harveſt of the River at great Waters is her Crop; and ſhe is the Market of the Nations.

4. Be aſhamed, O Zidon; for the Sea ſpeaks, the Fortreſs of the Sea thus, I am neither in Labour, nor bear, nor breed up young Men, advance Virgins.

5. As at the News concerning Egypt, they will be in Anguiſh at that of Tyre.

6. Paſs to Tarſhiſh, lament, you Inhabitants of the Iſle.

7. Is this your triumphing one! whoſe Feet ſhall carry her away, from her old State of ancient Time, to ſojourn far off?

8. Who has conſulted this againſt crowning Tyre, whoſe Merchants are Princes, her Dealers the Honourable of the Earth?

9. The Lord of Armies has conſulted it, to pollute the Pride of all the Glory, to make all the Honourable of the Earth baſe.

10. Paſs through thy Country like a River, Daughter of Tarſhiſh: there is no Girdle any more.

11. He has ſtretched out his Hand over the Sea, has moved the Kingdoms; the Lord has commanded concerning the Dealer, to deſtroy her Fortreſſes.

12. And he ſays, Thou ſhalt triumph no more: O oppreſſed Virgin, Daughter of Zidon, riſe up, paſs to Chittim; there alſo will be no Reſt for thee.

13. Behold the Country of the Chaldeans, this being not a People, the Aſſyrian founded it for thoſe of the deſart Places: they having ſet up his Towers, raiſed up its Palaces, he made it a Ruin.

14. Lament, O Ships of Tarſhiſh, becauſe your Fortreſs is waſted.

Ver. 1. Chittim] It being called thus ſomewhere, or rather any where on the north Coaſt of the Mediterranean Sea, the News of the Siege of Tyre would go readily to the Ports there, and ſo be communicated to the Ships. Yet what a Pother Interpreters make about it!

Ver. 2. Iſle] namely Tyre; Places at the Sea being called by the Name here uſed.

Ver. 3. of Shihor] viz. beyond it, that being the Boundary of Egypt towards Tyre; ſee Gen. xv. 18. Poole and Lowth plead for this River to be the Nile running through the Middle of Egypt, to whom Joſh. xiii. 3. is ſufficient Anſwer.

Ib. the River] Nile, by whoſe overflowing Egypt produced great Plenty of Corn.

Ver. 4. Fortreſs] Tyre it ſelf, as Ver. 14. ſee the like Word Ver. 11.

Ver. 5. concerning Egypt] See Exod. xv. 14, 15, 16. Joſh. ii. 9, 10. In the vulg. Lat. &c. it is tranſlated to a different Meaning, but with ſuch Impropriety both of the original and pretended Words, that inſtead of juſtifying it with Poole, I do not count it worth refuting.

Ver. 7. triumphing] Elulæus King of Tyre making war upon Gath, the Inhabitants called Shalmaneſer King of Aſſyria to their Aſſiſtance, with whom ſeveral Ports of Phenicia joined, but the Tyrian Fleet of twelve Ships defeated the others of ſixty; then the Aſſyrians beſieging the City, it was freed five Years after by the Death of Shalmaneſer, Joſephus from Menander, Antiq. Lib. ix. 14. and againſt Apion Lib. i. Now the latter falling out according to my Tables at the 12th Year of Hezekiah, it ſeems evident that this Prophecy againſt Tyre was made at, or ſoon after, the Time of triumphing for the Deliverance above mentioned; comp. Chap. xx, 1, 2.

Ib. ancient] See Joſh. xix. 29. Strabo the Greek Geographer writes, Lib. xvi. that Tyre was the moſt ancient Phenician City next to Sidon; of which there is read Gen. x. 19.

Ib. far off] I refer this to the Time of Alexander's beſieging Tyre, when many of its Inhabitants, before it was taken, went to Carthage in Africa, Juſtin, Lib. xi. 10. Quin. Curtius, Lib. iv. 3, 4. for their Removal at the Siege of Nebuchadnezzar was but about half a Mile, Ver. 10.

Ver. 10. River] a very apt Similitude: for the Tyrians invaded by Nebuchadnezzar, at laſt left their Country, and betook themſelves to an Iſland in the Sea, as obſerved on Ezek. xxix. 17, 18.

Ib. Tarſhiſh] Tyre having a deal of Merchandice from thence, Ver. 14. Grot. ſays it is in Heb. to the Daughter; but there is Nothing between River and Daughter.

Ib. Girdle] as this Word is rendered in the other Place where it is found, Pſa. cix. 19. and here may ſignify the Fortreſſes, Ver. 11. or all that the Principality of Tyre had for Defence on its Frontiers; which being deſtroyed, it was adviſed to leave that Country, as the foregoing Expreſſion is.

Ver. 12. Zidon] The Phœnicians frightened by an Earthquake left their Country, and at length built Zidon; where being conquered after ſeveral Years by the Philiſtines of Aſkalon, divers of them eſcaped in their Ships, and built Tyre, Juſtin, Lib. xviii. 3. agreeable to Ver. 2. two hundred and forty Years before the building of Solomon's Temple, according to Joſephus, Antiq. Lib. viii. 2. but it was much longer by the Note on Ver. 7.

Ver. 13. Behold] what a greater known Ruin the Lord had wrought long ago, ſo might now well deſtroy Tyre.

Ib. the Aſſyrian] Nimrod who might be ſo called, becauſe he firſt brought a Colony into Aſſyria, and built Cities there, Gen. x. 11, 12.

Ib. founded] As this muſt be the firſt Settlement of the Chaldeans in their Country, by building as the following Words ſhew, it neceſſarily leads us to the building of Babylon there, and the Kingdom which Nimrod had, Gen. x. 10. & xi. 2, 5. Marſham's Interpretation in Can. Chron. p. 478. that it was Nabonaſſar's late beginning a new Monarchy at Babylon, ſeems ſhort of the Matter; as it does not appear that he built the Towers, &c. or that it was done for ſuch People, the Kingdom of Babylon being a Part of the Aſſyrian Empire which was then divided into two; nor does the future referring the Ruin to the Conqueſt of Cyrus, ſuit with the Scope of enforcing the Prophecy againſt Tyre, by an Example of the Chaldeans.

Ib. deſart] who travelled or wandered in Places yet uninhabited, Gen. xi. 2.

Ib. his—its] The Pronouns being different.

Ib. he] the Lord, as continued from Ver. 11, 12. ſee Gen. xi. 8. Eſar-haddon King of Aſſyria obtaining the Kingdom of Babylon at a Time of Interregnum there, does not ſeem to anſwer well to Ruin, and appears to be divers Years after Iſaiah's Death.

15. At

15. At which Time Tyre will be forgot ſeventy Years, as the Time of one King: at the End of the ſeventy Years Tyre will be like a Harlot who ſings.

16. Take a Harp, go round about the City, O forgotten Harlot; play well, ſing much, that thou mayeſt be remembred.

17. For at the End of the ſeventy Years the Lord will viſit Tyre, and ſhe will return to her Hire, and go a whoring with all the Kingdoms of the Earth, upon the Surface of the Ground.

18. Both her Merchandice and Hire will be holy to the Lord; it will not be treaſured, nor ſtored up: for her Merchandice will be for thoſe who dwell before the Lord, to eat ſufficiently, and for durable Covering.

CHAP. XXIV.

BEHOLD the Lord will empty the Earth, and make it void, as alſo turn its Surface upſide-down, ſcattering the Inhabitants of it.

2. And it will be as with the People ſo with the Prieſt, as with the Servant ſo with his Maſter, as with the Maid ſo with her Miſtreſs, as with the Buyer ſo with the Seller, as with the Lender ſo with the Borrower, as with the Uſurer juſt ſo with the Giver of Uſury to him.

3. The Country will be quite emptied, and throughly preyed upon: for the Lord has ſpoken this Thing.

4. The Earth mourns, it fades; the World languiſhes, it fades: the high People of the Earth languiſh.

5. And the Earth is polluted under the Inhabitants of it: for they tranſgreſs the Law, change the Ordinance, break the everlaſting Covenant.

6. Therefore the Curſe conſumes the Earth, and the Inhabitants on it are deſolate: therefore the Inhabitants of the Earth are burnt up, and few Men left.

7. The new Wine mourns, the Vine languiſhes, all who were of a glad Heart ſigh.

8. The Joy of the Timbrels is ceaſed, the Noiſe of Triumphings is ended, the Joy of the Harp is ceaſed.

9. They do not drink Wine with Singing, ſtrong Drink is bitter to thoſe who drink it.

10. The empty Town is broke down, every Houſe is ſhut up from Entrance.

11. There is a crying out for Wine in the Streets: all Gladneſs is obſcured, the Joy of the Earth is removed away.

12. Deſolation is left in the City, and the Gate is battered with Waſting.

13. When it is thus in the midſt of the Earth, among the People; there will be as at the Bruſhing of an Olive-tree, like the Gleaning-grapes when the Vintage is finiſhed.

14. They will raiſe up their Voice, will ſing: through the Excellency of the Lord will they ſhout joyfully from the Sea.

15. Therefore honour the Lord in the Fires, the Name of the Lord God of Iſrael in the Iſles of the Sea.

16. We hear Pſalms from the Coaſt of the Earth, Glory to the Righteous One; but I ſay, I have Leanneſs, I have Leanneſs, wo is to me; the Treacherous deal treacherouſly, even treacherous ones deal perfidiouſly with Treachery.

17. Dread, a Pit, and a Snare are for thee, O Inhabitant of the Earth.

18. So that he who flees from the Sound of the Dread, will fall into the Pit; and he who gets up from within the Pit, will be taken in the Snare: for the Flood-gates will be opened from on high, and the Foundations of the Earth will ſhake.

19. The Earth will be throughly bruiſed, the Earth will be throughly broke, the Earth will be throughly moved;

20. The Earth will throughly ſtagger like one drunk, and be removed about like a Tent: 'nay its Tranſgreſſion will be ſo heavy upon it, that it will fall, and not riſe up again.

Ver. 15. forgot ſeventy] from the Beginning of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign, till the Babylonians who kept it down were ſubdued by Cyrus. Though Tyre was not conquered at firſt, yet doubtleſs its Commerce, for which it was ſo noted, Ezek. xxvii. was ſpoiled by Nebuchadnezzar's ſubduing and plundering the neighbouring Countries, and beſieging it ſelf; ſo that Tyre, which was much minded for its Merchandice and Wares, was at that Time ſtrictly forgot ſeventy Years; ſee Ezek. xxix. 17, 18.

Ib. the ſeventy] that is thoſe ſeventy already mentioned.

Ver. 17. return to her Hire, &c.] Accordingly it appears that in the Time of the Perſian Empire, Tyre had the Trade of the Red Sea from the ſouth and eaſt Countries, viz. Arabia, Africa, Perſia, and the Eaſt Indies, through the Port of Elath on that Sea, and of Rhinocorura on the Mediterranean, which is diſperſed to the weſt and north Countries, Strabo, Lib. xvi.

Ver. 18. holy] See Ezr. iii. 7. Others apply it to the Goſpel, Act. xxi. 3, 4.

Ver. 1. Earth] Having before propheſied diſtinctly againſt particular Countries, he ſeems now to ſpeak of the whole together: this appears not only by mentioning none particularly, but by the World, Ver. 4. People being plural in the Heb. Ver. 13. the Iſles, Ver. 15. and the Kings, Ver. 21.

Ver. 2. as] becauſe they would be deſtroyed, or ſtript of all they had, according to the next Verſe.

Ver. 5. Law] Rom. ii. 14, 15.

Ver. 5. everlaſting Covenant] properly this was not confined to the Jews; ſee Heb. viii. 8. to the End, Chap. lix. 21.

Ver. 10. Town] The ſingular collectively for the plural Number is frequent, as Ver. 12, 17.

Ver. 11. for Wine] by reaſon of the People's fainting.

Ver. 15. Fires] Afflictions and Puniſhments.

Ver. 17. Dread] In Heb. pahad, pahath and pah, with a Similitude of Sound, as obſerved on Chap. v. 7.

21. At

21. At which Time the Lord will puniſh the Army of the high one on high, as well as the Kings of the Ground upon the Ground.

22. Who will be gathered as Priſoners are into a Pit, and ſhut up in a Priſon; but will be viſited a great while after.

23. And the Moon will bluſh, and the Sun be aſhamed; when the Lord of Armies reigns on Mount Zion, in Jeruſalem, and before his Elders with Glory.

CHAP. XXV.

O Lord, thou art my God, I will extol thee, will praiſe thy Name: for thou doeſt Wonders, the Counſels long ago were faithful and true.

2. For thou makeſt of a City a Heap, a fortified Town Ruin, of a City that will never be built up a Palace of Strangers.

3. Therefore will the ſtrong People honour thee, the Town of the terrible Nations fear thee.

4. For thou art a Fortreſs to the Poor, a Fortreſs to the Needy in his Diſtreſs, a Shelter from the overflowing Storm, a Shadow from the Heat; when the Wind of the Terrible is as an overflowing Storm at the Wall.

5. Thou wilt bring down the Noiſe of the Strangers, as the Heat it ſelf in a dry Place is by the Shadow of a thick Cloud: the Singing of the Terrible will be humbled.

6. And the Lord of Armies will make for all People, on this Mountain, an Entertainment of fat Things, an Entertainment of Wine from the Lees, of fat Things full of Marrow, of Wine from the Lees refined.

7. And he will devour on this Mountain the Sight of the Wrapping that is wrapt over all People, and the Covering that covers over all Nations.

8. He will devour Death eternally, and the Sovereign Lord will wipe off the Tears from all Faces, and take away the Reproach of his People from the whole Earth; for the Lord has ſpoken it.

9. At which Time it will be ſaid, Behold this is our God, for whom we have waited, and he will ſave us: this is the Lord, for whom we have waited; we will rejoice, and be glad in his Salvation.

10. For the Hand of the Lord will reſt on this Mountain, and Moab will be trod under him, as Straw is for the Dunghil.

11. And he will ſpread forth his Hands within it, as a Swimmer does to ſwim, humbling its Haughtineſs along with the Floodgates of his Hands.

Ver. 21. high one] the King of Babylon, Dan. v. 23. the Heb. Word being ſingular.

Ib. Kings] the inferior ones. Thus it notably accords with Jer. xxv. 26.

Ver. 22. after] when the Empire of Babylon ſhould be diſſolved.

Ver. 23. aſhamed] of their inferior Light, Chap. lx. 19. Rev. xxi. 23. but eſpecially that they had been worſhipped, Deut. iv. 19. and xvii. 3. Job. xxxi. 26, 27.

Ib. when] after the Babylonian Captivity, when the Temple and Jeruſalem were rebuilt.

Ib. his Elders] his ancient People the Iſraelites: firſt effected at the Reſtoration from the Babylonian Captivity, and afterwards in the Time of Chriſt.

Ver. 2. of a City] the ſame both times.

Ib. Palace] When a City was deſtroyed by Strangers, they might keep there a Sort of Palace or Manor-houſe, or the Word may be rendered Caſtle. The Eng. Bib. has a very remote Senſe, if any.

Ver. 4. at the Wall] when the Aſſyrian Army was without the City of Jeruſalem beſieging it, Chap. xxxvi. 2, 3. to whoſe Invaſion and Deliverance from it, this and the ten next Chapters ſeem to have Reference, with other Things annexed; ſee Chap. xxxii. 1.

Ver. 5. Singing] which is explicative of, or accords with, Noiſe; and the Word being uſed but once more in Scripture, is thus tranſlated, Cant. ii. 12.

Ver. 6. this Mountain] Mount Zion; but ſpiritually, Chriſt, as Chap. ii. 2. & xi. 9.

Ib. Entertainment] ſuch as was made after the Overthrow of Sennacherib's Army; in the Evangelical Senſe the Bleſſings that are received from Chriſt.

Ver. 7. the Wrapping that is wrapt] Symmachus, the Ruler who rules; Jonathan the Targumiſt, the Prince, the Prince; Aquila, Darkneſs twice, and Theodotion once: the former might underſtand חלום by שלם being more uſed.

Ib. Wrapping—Covering] the Sorrow and Mourning for which they were covered; but as relating to the Goſpel Ignorance, Act. xvii. 30. 2 Cor. iii. 14.

Ib. all] As the Aſſyrian Power and Conqueſts ſpread a general Conſternation and Sorrow, their Deſtruction would be the means of removing it; however the Work of Chriſtianity was more extenſive.

Ver. 8. eternally] which is the obvious Meaning of the Word by other Places; Paul taking in Victory, 1 Cor. xv. 54. from the Septuagint, tho' differently expreſs'd, of which ſee on Gen. xlvii. 31. Amama ſays this Heb. never ſignifies in Victory, and that the Greek ſignifies for ever or eternally there in Cor. Anti-barb. Bibl. in Prov. viii. 22. p. 580.

Ib. Reproach] I am at a Loſs to know from whence rebuke came into our Eng. Tranſlations, ſince neither from the Hebrew, Chaldee, Greek nor vulgar Latin.

Ver. 10. Moab] Look Chap. xvi. 14. which may ſettle the Time when this Prophecy was delivered, as early as the Beginning of Hezekiah's Reign, and to this Chap. xxviii. 1, 2, 3. is a Confirmation. I cannot be of the Belief, that Moab is put here for the Enemies of the Church in general; how general ſoever that Expoſition is, eſpecially as it agrees ſo aptly with that Country.

Ver. 11. Swimmer] God would afflict Moab, as one who ſwims daſhes and ſtrikes the Water about.

Ib. Haughtineſs] Look how this agrees to Moab in particular, Ch. xvi. 6.

Ib. along with] depreſſing Moab's Pride, when he plunges down his Hands in ſwimming.

Ib. Flood-gates] which the Hands as ſpread in ſwimming reſemble, and might alſo be ſo called as being repreſented to be in the Water: theſe might be mentioned, becauſe with them a Perſon who ſwims beats the Water moſt forcibly; which may ſignify that God would powerfully puniſh Moab. See this Signification of its Kindred-noun, Chap. xxiv. 18. Gen. vii. 11. & viii. 2. 2 King. vii. 19. Mal. iii. 10. and it is rendered cataractis by Jun. and Trem. ſpoils is a mere invented Word of our laſt Tranſlators.

12. The ſtrong Hold, the high Place of thy Walls, will he alſo lay proſtrate, humble, bring to the Ground, to the Duſt.

CHAP. XXVI.

AT that Time this Poem will be ſung in the Country of Judah: We have a ſtrong City, Salvation is put for Walls and Forts.

2. Open the Gates that the virtuous Nation, obſerving faithful Things, may enter in.

3. Thou keepeſt the ſupported Mind in conſtant Peace; becauſe it truſts in thee.

4. Truſt in the Lord for evermore: for in the Lord Jehovah is everlaſting Strength.

5. For he will lay proſtrate thoſe who dwell on high, the exalted Town: he will humble it, humble it to the Ground, will bring it to the Duſt.

6. The Foot ſhall tread it down, the Feet of the Afflicted, the Steps of the Poor.

7. The Path of the Righteous is Uprightneſs: O Upright One, thou doſt make level the Road of the Righteous.

8. Even in the Path of thy Judgments, O Lord, we wait for thee; to thy Name and Remembrance, is the Deſire of the Soul.

9. With my Soul I deſire thee in the Night, even with my Spirit within me I ſeek thee early: for when thy Judgments are on the Earth, the Inhabitants of the World learn Righteouſneſs.

10. Let Favour be ſhewn to the Wicked, he will not learn Righteouſneſs; he will do unjuſtly in the Country of Equity, and not ſee the Excellency of the Lord.

11. O Lord, thy Hand being lifted up, they do not behold: let them behold, and be aſhamed of the Envy at the People, nay let the Fire for thy Adverſaries conſume them.

12. O Lord, thou diſpoſeſt Peace for us; ſince thou even performeſt for us all our Works.

13. O Lord our God, Maſters beſides thee having born rule over us, through thee alone we make mention of thy Name.

14. The Dead will not live, the Deceaſed will not riſe up: therefore doſt thou viſit and deſtroy them, and cauſeſt the whole Remembrance of them to periſh.

15. Thou addeſt to the Nation, O Lord, thou addeſt to the Nation, art honoured; who didſt remove far off to all the Ends of the Earth.

16. O Lord, they viſit thee in Diſtreſs; pour forth Prayer, thy Correction being upon them.

17. As a Woman that is pregnant, who draws near to bring forth, is in Anguiſh, cries out in her Pangs; ſo have we been at thy Preſence, O Lord.

18. We have been pregnant, been in Anguiſh, as it were brought forth Wind: we made no Safety on the Earth, nor did the Inhabitants of the World fall.

19. Thy Dead will live, with my Corpſe will they riſe up: awake, and ſing, ye who dwell in the Mould; for thy Dew is the Dew of Herbs, and the Earth ſhall caſt out the Deceaſed.

Ver. 2. Open the Gates] after the Siege was over; though more largely reſpecting the Converſion under the Goſpel.

Ver. 3. conſtant Peace] It is the ſame as Chap. lvii. 19. Jer. vi. 14. the Word for Peace being repeated; and had one of them been in the conſtructed Form to be Peace of Peace, it would have been nearer the preſ. Tranſ. but now is rather thus; rendered by Jun. and Trem. continuam pacem.

Ver. 5. the exalted Town] Nineveh the Metropolis of the Aſſyrian Empire, Chap. xxxvii. 37.

Ver. 7. Uprightneſs] or very even, only it would not be proper to render the next Word in that Manner.

Ib. level] as the Beam or Scales are made in weighing, agreeable to Chap. xl. 4. and the former Part of this Verſe; in which Senſe ſee this Word Pſa. lxxviii. 50.

Ver. 10. Wicked] A Complaint upon ſuch as were among themſelves, continued in the next Verſe.

Ver. 11. let] which I cannot but prefer to ſhall.

Ver. 12. for us] both Times the ſame; and ſo the latter Part has ſuch an Agreement with the former, as the connective for requires. I might add, all our Works are not in us.

Ib. Works] Thoſe ſtrictly intended here, ſeem to be ſuch as God did for his People, and upon that Account called theirs: for they could not be univerſal, ſince evil Works muſt be excluded.

Ver. 13. Maſters] thoſe recorded 2 Chron. xxviii. in the Time of Ahaz.

Ib. make] Thou haſt ſtill preſerved us a People to praiſe thee.

Ver. 14. The Dead] in particular thoſe who were deſtroyed of Sennacherib's Army, Chap. xxxvii. 36.

Ib. therefore] thou deſtroyeſt them with the Intent, that they ſhall not live again.

Ver. 15. addeſt] by bringing home the Captives, and thoſe that fled away for Fear.

Ver. 18. made] neither kept themſelves ſafe, nor deſtroyed their Enemies. This Verſe may be counted the Concluſion of the Poem begun Ver. 1.

Ib. Inhabitants of the World] the Enemies of Judah, perhaps called thus for their great Number, and being of divers Nations, 2 Chron. xxviii.

Ver. 19. Thy dead] the People of Judah or Jeruſalem, who were appointed to Death by the Enemy: for the Condition which Rabſhakeh offered was Captivity, if they went out to him, Chap. xxxvi. 16, 17. ſo that it may be ſuppoſed no leſs than Death was their Doom, as they kept the City againſt him.

Ib. my Corpſe] Iſaiah himſelf being one among them. Lowth's Commentary has it remarkably, he ſays it is God's Anſwer, and thy dead are the Church's dead, and my dead God's or Chriſt's dead, both being the ſame, which he applies to the laſt Reſurrection: whereas that is to be both of the Juſt and Unjuſt, Act. xxiv. 15.

Ib. caſt out] The Simile of dead Bodies being continued. This laſt Member of the Verſe is indeed rendered in other very different Meanings, which I have conſidered, and prefer that in our Eng. Bible.

20. Go, my People, enter into thy Chambers, and ſhut thy Door upon thee: hide as it were a little Moment, till the Indignation is paſſed over.

21. For behold the Lord will come out of his Place, to puniſh the Inhabitants of the Earth for their Iniquity; and the Earth ſhall diſcover its Blood, and cover over the Slain of it no longer.

CHAP. XXVII.

AT that Time the Lord will puniſh, with his hard, great, and powerful Sword, Leviathan the ſtretching Serpent, even Leviathan the crooked Serpent; and will ſlay the Whale which is in the Sea.

2. At the ſame Time ſing of it, There is a Vineyard of red Wine.

3. I the Lord will keep it, will water it every Inſtant: leſt any ſhould hurt it, I will keep it Night and Day.

4. I having no Wrath, who would put againſt me Briers and Brambles in Battle? which I would march through, burning them up together.

5. Otherwiſe by taking hold of my Strength, that he might make peace with me, he ſhould make it.

6. He will cauſe thoſe who come of Jacob to take root; Iſrael ſhall bloſſom, and bud forth: and they ſhall fill the Surface of the World with Fruit.

7. Does he ſmite it, as the Smiter of it is ſmitten? Is it ſlain according to the Slaughter of his ſlain ones?

8. When it ſhoots forth, thou wilt contend with it in Meaſure: he will take away with his hard Wind, at the Time of the Eaſt-wind.

9. Therefore by this will the Iniquity of Jacob be purged away, and this is all Fruit to put away his Sin: when he makes all the Stones of the Altar as Chalk-ſtones ſcattered about, the Groves and Sun-burnt Images will not ſtand up.

10. For the fortified City will be ſolitary, the Habitation removed, and it will be left like the Wilderneſs: there the Calf will feed, and there he will lie down, and conſume the Branches of it.

11. When its Bough is withered, they will be broke off, the Women coming will light them: ſince they are a People of no Underſtanding, therefore he who made them will not have mercy upon them, nor he who formed them be gracious to them.

12. At which Time the Lord will beat off from the Flood of the River to the Stream of Egypt; and you will be gathered up one by one, O Iſraelites.

13. At the ſame Time the great Trumpet will be ſounded, and they will come who

Ver. 20. Door] doors appears to be by miſunderſtanding the ' which as Buxt. ſays, and the Heb. Keri ſhews, is redundant.

Ib. Moment] the ſmall Time of the Aſſyrian Invaſion, or Siege of Jeruſalem; but may be occaſionally applied to many other Things, publick and private.

Ver. 21. puniſh] as it ſeems particularly by the Aſſyrian Conqueſts and Slaughters, which were very great for ſeveral Years after the Time this was propheſied, as Chap. xxv. 10. Thoſe who conſult the Commentators, may often obſerve how they trifle in general Meanings.

Ib. diſcover] through the Multitude of thoſe who are ſlain, and the few left to bury them.

Ib. no longer] as dead Bodies uſed to be buried after Battles, &c.

Ver. 1. hard] I ſee no Reaſon why this Epithet alone ſhould be turned out of its proper Meaning. The LXX have holy, as if with ק added.

Ib. Leviathan] Aſſyria, or Sennacherib its King, as ſtinted by at that Time: yet myſtically it may denote Antichriſt; not Satan, which Rev. xii. 9. & xx. 2. are cited to prove in the Aſſembly's Annotations; for he was caſt out and bound, not ſlain.

Ib. ſtretching] ſtraight like a Bar, according to the Etymology of the Word, as well as turning crooked, the two Properties of a Serpent here deſcribed. Buxt. extenſus.

Ib. Whale] the ſame, as being at the great River Tigris, &c.

Ver. 2. ſing of it] of Judah, an Antecedent underſtood, as in Pſa. lxxxvii. 1.

Ib. red Wine] being the beſt Sort, Prov. xxiii. 31.

Ver. 7. Does he ſmite it] does God ſmite Judah.

Ib. the Smiter] the Aſſyrian Nation or King.

Ib. his] the Lord's, Chap. xxxvii. 36. which otherwiſe ſhould be its; whereas him in the com. Tranſ. would rather belong to the latter he, and be the ſame him as the other, wrong.

Ver. 8. take away] ſome of the Leaves, &c. not blow the Tree down. ſtayeth in the preſ. Tranſ. is without any Foundation in the Heb. and I believe in all other Verſions whatever, the Prepoſition for with being alſo left out; yet Lowth expounds by it, as the certain Senſe.

Ver. 9. this is all Fruit] viz. all the fore-mentioned Chaſtiſement, which the before Fruit ſpoils.

Ib. Chalk-ſtones] when the Stones of the idolatrous Altars of Manaſſeh, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 3, 4, 5. or of that in particular which K. Ahaz had made, 2 King. xvi. were ſcattered about (for the Verb does not ſignify beaten in ſunder) like Chalk-ſtones, which lie neglected as unfit for building.

Ver. 10. For] conſonant to the two foregoing Verſes, and the proper Meaning of the Heb. Particle.

Ib. City] Jeruſalem; which our Tranſlators ſeem to have taken for ſome Heathen City, and ſo turned the foregoing Heb. Particle out of its proper Meaning for, into yet.

Ib. ſolitary] at the Captivity of Manaſſeh, 2 King. xxi. 13. 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11,

Ib. removed] Heb. ſent away.

Ver. 11. Bough] on which the Branches grow, being ſing. and might mean the King. He deſcribes the Deſolation of the City under the Similitude of a Tree.

Ver. 12. beat off] as Fruit from the Tree where it hung, Ver. 11. & Ch. xvii. 6. not as Corn is threſhed, by which ſome expound it; for that ſignified Puniſhment, and does not ſuit with being gathered up one by one.

Ib. the River] Euphrates at Aſſyria.

CHAP. XXVIII.

WO be to the Crown of Pride, to the Drunkards of Ephraim, whoſe fine Glory will be a fading Flower; which is at the Head of the Valley of the fat ones, who are knocked down with Wine.

2. Behold a powerful and ſtrong one of the Lord, like an overflowing Storm of Hail, a Tempeſt of Deſtruction, like an overflowing Storm of mighty Water that runs over, will lay to the Ground with the Hand.

3. The Crown of Pride, the Drunkards of Ephraim, will be trod down with the Feet.

4. And his fine Glory, which is at the Head of the Valley of the fat ones, will be a fading Flower; like the Firſt-fruit before the Summer-fruit, which as he who ſees is looking on, while it is yet in his Hand, he is devouring it.

5. At that Time will the Lord of Armies be for a Crown of Glory, and for a fine Diadem to the Reſidue of his People;

6. As alſo for a Spirit of Judgment to him that ſits in Judgment, and for Power to them who turn back the Battle to the Gate.

7. Since theſe likewiſe err with Wine, and go aſtray with ſtrong Drink; the Prieſt and Prophet err with ſtrong Drink, are ſwallowed up by Wine, go aſtray by ſtrong Drink; they err in ſeeing, ſtagger in judging.

8. For all Tables are full of Vomit, of Filthineſs, without any Room.

9. Whom ſhall he teach Knowledge? And whom ſhall he cauſe to underſtand the Report? Such as are juſt weaned from the Milk, taken from the Breaſts?

10. For there is Precept to Precept, Precept to Precept, Line to Line, Line to Line, here a little, there a little.

11. For with mimicking Lips, and with another Tongue he ſpeaks to this People.

12. To whom he ſays, Make this a Reſt for the tired one to reſt, and this a Quietneſs; yet they will by no means hearken.

13. So the Lord's Commiſſion will be to them, Precept to Precept, Precept to Precept, Line to Line, Line to Line, here a little, there a little; that they may go, and fall backward, as alſo be broke, inſnared and taken.

14. Therefore hear the Lord's Commiſſion, O ſcornful Men, that rule this People who are in Jeruſalem.

15. Becauſe you declare, We have made a Covenant with Death, and made Proviſion againſt the Grave: though the overflowing Scourge paſſes on, it will not come to us; for we have put Lying for our Shelter, and hid our ſelves in Falſehood.

16. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I will found a Stone in Zion, a proved Stone, a precious Corner of a Foundation laid: he who believes will not be in haſte.

Ver. 13. in the Country] Lat. Vulg. from the Country both times.

Ver. 1. Ephraim] This appears not to be another Diſcourſe, only a Digreſſion concerning the Country of Iſrael, to Ver. 5.

Ib. Head] Samaria, as being the Metropolis, and ſituate on a Hill, 1 King. xvi. 24.

Ib. Valley] the Heb. Word for which is ſing. and that for fat ones plur. as this is alſo fem. and that maſc.

Ver. 2. one] Shalmaneſer King of Aſſyria, 2 King. xviii. 9, 10, 11.

Ib. a Tempeſt] De Dieu obſerves that according to the Point in the Heb. Word it ſignifies Gate, and by adding to it ſtrains it to that Meaning; but in Buxtorf's Concordance the Pointing is for this.

Ver. 3. The Crown of Pride] The Verb being fem. and plur. Lewis de Dieu argues for it to be the Crown, the Pride, both which are alſo fem. in Heb. but it cannot be ſo, becauſe Crown is there in the conſtructed Form for Crown of, as in Ver. 5. as well as Ver. 1. and the Verb might be put fem. as being nearer to Crown in the Heb. than to Drunkards, or for the neut. Gender.

Ver. 4. devouring] having a greedy Deſire for it, as the Aſſyrians for Samaria.

Ver. 5. Reſidue] the other two Tribes, with whom the true Worſhip of God then was, 2 Chron. xxix, & xxx, & xxxi.

Ver. 6. Battle] 2 King. xviii. 7, 8.

Ib. to the Gate] beating, and driving the Enemies thither.

Ver. 9. weaned] Shall he teach thoſe who are as ſilly as Children?

Ver. 11. mimicking] as Parents and Nurſes ſpeak, when they mimick the Child's Talk: whereas ſtammering is different both to the Meaning of the Word and Matter, ſince the next Verſe and [For] in this ſhew it not to be a future puniſhing them by a ſtrange People, as commonly interpreted.

Ver. 12. make] the Verb being imperative.

Ib. this a Reſt] Hearken to the preſent Inſtruction mentioned in the three preceding Verſes, that there may be Reſt from ſuch Labour.

Ib. tired one] Iſaiah, if not God himſelf, tired of inſtructing them ſo much to no Purpoſe.

Ver. 13. So] Since they would not hearken, it would be to their Condemnation.

Ver. 15. made] by the Agreement with Sennacherib, 2 King. xviii. 14, 15, 16. while others apply it to Nothing.

Ib. made Proviſion] as in Buxt. Lex. or acted with Sight or Foreſight, from the Verb to ſee.

Ib. though] notwithſtanding the Aſſyrians go on conquering.

Ib. Lying] Probably many of them did not intend to fulfil the Treaty with Sennacherib, only for the Preſent till he was gone, whatever Hezekiah did.

Ver. 16. Therefore] agreeable to Ch. vii. 14.

Ib. not be in haſte] to ſee it done before the Time,

17. And

17. And I will put Judgment to the Line, and Righteouſneſs to the Plummet; then ſhall the Hail remove away the Shelter of Lying, and the Waters overflow the Hiding-place.

18. Your Covenant too with Death ſhall be aboliſhed, and your Proviſion againſt the Grave ſhall not ſtand: when the overflowing Scourge paſſes on, you ſhall be trod down by it.

19. At its paſſing on it ſhall take you; for Morning by Morning it ſhall paſs on, both in the Day and Night; and it will be Nothing but Diſturbance to underſtand the News.

20. For the Bed is too ſhort for one to ſtretch himſelf out, and the Covering narrow when he crouches together.

21. For the Lord will riſe up as at Mount Perazim, will be moved as at the Vale of Gibeon; to do his Deed, his ſtrange Deed, and to work his Work, his unknown Work.

22. And now do not deride, leſt your Bonds ſhould become ſtrong: for a Conſuming, and that determined, have I heard from the Sovereign Lord of Armies upon the whole Country.

23 Give ear, and hear my Voice: hearken, and hear my Speech.

24. Does the Ploughman plough all Day to ſow? Does he open and harrow his Ground?

25. Does he not, when he has made the Surface of it level, ſcatter the Coriander, ſprinkle about the Cummin, put the principal Wheat, the remarkable Barley, and the Rye in its Bounds?

26. Since his God inſtructs him in what is right, he teaches him.

27. For the Coriander is not threſhed with the Threſhing-inſtrument, nor the Wheel of the Cart turned about upon the Cummin; but the Coriander is beat out with a Staff, and the Cummin with a Stick.

28. Bread-corn is bruiſed, though he will not threſh it perpetually; and he breaks with the Wheel of his Cart, what he does not bruiſe with his Horſemen.

29. This alſo comes forth from the Lord of Armies, who performs Counſel wonderfully, does great Matters.

CHAP. XXIX.

WO be to Ariel, to Ariel the Town where David encamped: add Year to Year, the Feaſts ſhall be cut off.

2. And I will ſtrengthen Ariel, ſo that there ſhall be Sorrow and Sorrowing; and it ſhall be as Ariel to me.

3. And I will encamp againſt thee with a Battalion, laying ſiege againſt thee with a Camp, and will raiſe up Forts againſt thee.

Ver. 20. Bed] ſignifying the Agreement with Sennacherib as before.

Ib. when] So this Prefix ſignifies, which does not make a comparative Degree.

Ib. crouches together] Heb. gathers himſelf together; not wrap himſelf, which it appears might be done when he was ſtretched out.

Ver. 22. Country] See the like Chap. x. 23. and that it is particular is confirmed by Ver. 14.

Ver. 24. Does] The Meaning intended appears to be, that God who teaches the Huſbandman to do thus, Ver. 26. will not himſelf always correct, as this Verſe may denote, but withal beſtow Grace and Favour, according to the next; however their preſent Wickedneſs might cauſe it to be concealed from them by ſuch a Similitude; ſee Mat. xiii. 13.

Ver. 25. Coriander] or Gith, a ſort of Cockle; the Seed of which as Kimbi writes in the Book of Roots is black, and adds Ab. Ezra, leſs than Cummin. The Septuagint who might beſt know ſuch a Word have it μελάνθιον, and ſo Jun. and Trem. melanthium, in Eng. Coriander.

Ver. 27. beat out] in a milder Manner, as the Lord ſometimes corrects his People.

Ver. 28. bruiſed] Though the Puniſhment of the Lord's People may upon other Occaſions be ſharp, it will not always continue like that of the Wicked. By the Huſbandman's ſowing thoſe ſeveral Kinds, Ver. 25. as likewiſe by the farther Uſe made of them in this and the foregoing Verſe, it appears that the Whole was to repreſent the Iſraelites.

Ib. and he breaks] This Member of the Sentence is affirmative, not negative.

Ib. cut off] which is the allowed Signification of the Word; and not only the Targumiſt tranſlates בזמן יבטלון when the Feaſts ſhall ceaſe, but Ab. Ezra expounds it in the ſame Manner, and in the Tigurin Verſion is feſti dies evertentur, the feaſt days ſhall be overthrown, as there is in the vulg. Lat. ſolenitates evolutæ ſunt.

Ver. 2. Sorrow and Sorrowing] like the Heb. Words taaniyah and aniyah of the ſame Meaning, and Affinity in Sound.

Ib. as Ariel to me] by dealing with it roughly as with a ſtrong Lion.

Ver. 3. encamp] by the Aſſyrian Army, according to Lowth and White, in their Commentaries; which God cauſed or permitted to come, to humble that City, Ver. 4. Others have underſtood it of the Chaldeans in Zedekiah's Reign, which is not only out of the Courſe of the Prophecy, but appears not to be meant, becauſe here is

4. Thus

4. Thus ſhalt thou be brought down, mutter from the Ground, and thy Speech ſhall be whiſpering from the Duſt: thy Voice ſhall be even from the Ground like one that has a familiar Spirit, and thy Speech chirp from the Duſt.

5. Moreover the Multitude of thy Strangers ſhall be like ſmall Duſt, as ſhall the Multitude of the Terrible be like Chaff that paſſes away; nay it ſhall be at an Inſtant ſuddenly.

6. Thou ſhalt be viſited from the Lord of Armies with Thunder, and with an Earthquake, and a great Noiſe, a Whirlwind, and Tempeſt, and the Flame of a conſuming Fire.

7. And like a Dream, a Viſion of the Night, will be the Multitude of all the Nations that come to war againſt Ariel, even all that are at war with it and its Fortification, and ſtreighten it.

8. For it will be as when a hungry Man dreams plainly that he eats, but he awakes, and his Stomach is empty; and as when a thirſty Man dreams plainly that he drinks, but awakes, and behold he is faint, and his Stomach longing: ſo will be the Multitude of all the Nations that come to war againſt Mount Zion.

9. Stay, and be aſtoniſhed; be amazed, and cry out: they are drunk, but not with Wine; they ſtagger, but not with ſtrong Drink.

10. For the Lord has poured out the Spirit of ſound Sleep upon you, and cloſed up your Eyes: the Prophets, and your chief ones, the Seers has he covered.

11. And the Viſion of all is to you like the Words of a ſealed Book, which ſome give to one that is a Scholar, ſaying, Do read this; and he anſwers, I cannot, becauſe it is ſealed:

12. On the other hand the Book being given to one who is not a Scholar, ſaying, Do read this; he anſwers, I am no Scholar.

13. The Lord having ſaid; Becauſe this People come nigh with their Mouth, and honour me with their Lips, but remove their Heart far from me, and their Fear to me is taught by the Commandment of Men:

14. Therefore behold I will proceed to do wonderfully to this People, what is wonderful and a Wonder; ſo that the Wiſdom of their wiſe Men ſhall periſh, and the Underſtanding of their learned ones be hid.

15. Wo be to thoſe that get deep to hide Counſel from the Lord, whoſe Works are in Darkneſs; and they queſtion, Who ſees us? And who knows us?

16. Will not your turning upſide down, be counted like the Potter's Clay, when the Work ſhould ſay of him who made it, He did not make me; or the Thing formed ſay of him who formed it, He did not underſtand?

17. Shall not Lebanon within a very little while be turned into arable Land, and the arable Land be counted a Wood?

18. At which Time the Deaf will hear no Mention of the City being taken, which would ſcarce have been omitted for leſſer Circumſtances, nay the contrary is plain, Chap. xxx. 19. and if Particulars agree as well, nay better, to the former, there need be no Heſitation of applying it to that, as coming to paſs alſo next after the Prediction; ſee Chap. xxx. 31. which the LXX by great Miſtake have as David.

Ib. Battalion] the Part of the main Army that was ſent before, Chap. xxxvi. 2. It is not an Adverb, but a Noun, Buxt. Lex.

Ib. a Camp] as the like Nouns ſignify a Garriſon, 1 Sam. xiv. 1, 12. this Jun. and Trem. accordingly render ſtativis.

Ver. 5. thy Strangers] the Ethiopian and Egyptian Army, Chap. xxxvii. 9. Joſephus, Antiq. Lib. x. 1. This ſeems ill applied to the Aſſyrians, nor does it appear that their Overthrow is ſpoken of till the latter Part of the following Chapter.

Ver. 6. with] as with.

Ib. Whirlwind] thus rendered Ch. v. 28. & xvii. 13. & xxi. 1. and commonly, in particular at Nah. i. 3. where what our Eng. Tranſlators have turned here ſtorm and tempeſt, is whirlwind and ſtorm; the two Words Storm and Tempeſt denoting the ſame Thing.

Ver 7. like a Dream] how the next Verſe ſhews.

Ib. a Viſion] by Appoſition, as Grammarians ſpeak, not by Government.

Ib. Multitude] not of Nations, but of the People of them.

Ib. Nations] there being divers under the Aſſyrian Empire, as well as afterwards under the Babylonian or Chaldean.

Ver. 8. but] though they receive large Preſents, as we read 2 King. xviii. 14, 15, 16. and ſeem to be ſatisfied like the Dreamer, yet they will be as craving as before; accordingly it was demanded afterwards that the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem ſhould yield themſelves up to the King of Aſſyria, 2 King. xviii. 31, 32.

Ver. 9. be amazed] For Buxtorf puts the Meaning of שׁעו in Hithpahel, Stupere, Obſtupeſcere, as in Chap. xli. 10, 23. which ſeems to ſuit beſt with the Context, and the Verb has no ſuch Signification as to cry out; cry out and cry being alſo ſo unrhetorical, as to be an Anticlimax.

Ver. 13. and their Fear to me is taught by the Commandment of Men] The Sept. tranſlate after the Manner of Mat. xv. 9. which is cited from them; and this I confeſs appears to be in the Manner Hammond ſpeaks of on Heb. viii. but not as he ſays, that the Heb. was otherwiſe read, when they ſo rendered it; is being in vain by taking ' for ו and taught may be teaching with different Vowels.

Ver. 14. to do wonderfully] which is an infinite Verb in Heb. and the like Words are here tripled after the Manner in Ver. 2.

Ver. 16. Will not] הֲלֹא is uſed in aſking a Queſtion, as Jun. and Trem. here tranſlate, though not negatively; which both the Senſe requires, and the Particle has that Uſe frequently.

Ib. when] Thus Jun. and Trem. turn it quum, the known Meaning; nor is there any Thing here to make it interrogative. And if we attend to the Senſe, ſhall the Work ſay is as though it was the Work of Clay does not ſay; which makes it unlike what thoſe People did, while it is compared to that.

the Words of the Book, and the Eyes of the Blind will ſee out of Dimneſs and Darkneſs.

19. The Meek will alſo increaſe Gladneſs through the Lord, and the Needy among Men rejoice through the Holy One of Iſrael.

20. For the Terrible ſhall have an End, the Derider fail, and all who watch for Iniquity be cut off;

21. Thoſe that make a Man an Offender for a Word, lay a Snare for him who reproves at the Gate, and turn aſide the Righteous with an empty Pretence.

22. Therefore thus ſays the Lord concerning the Family of Jacob, who redeemed Abraham; Jacob now ſhall not be aſhamed, nor ſhall his Face be pale.

23. For when he ſees his Children, the Work of my Hands within him, they will ſacredly reverence my Name, as they will the Holy One of Jacob, and be in fear of the God of Iſrael.

24. Such too as err in Spirit will know Underſtanding, and the Murmurers learn Doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

WO be to the Perſons who are rebellious, ſays the Lord, to perform Counſel, but not from me, and to cover with a Covering, but not of my Spirit; that they may add Sin to Sin;

2. Who go to get down to Egypt, without aſking of my Mouth, to be ſtrengthened with the Strength of Pharaoh, and to truſt in the Shelter of Egypt.

3. So the Strength of Pharaoh ſhall become Shame to you, and the Truſt in the Shelter of Egypt Confuſion.

4. Though his Princes are at Zoan, and his Ambaſſadors come to Hanes:

5. Every one ſhall be aſhamed of a People that do not profit them, that are neither Help, nor Profit; but Shame, and alſo Reproach.

6. The Burden of the Beaſts of the South: Into a Country of Diſtreſs and Streightneſs, from whence are the ſtout Lion and the old one, the Viper and flying fiery Serpent, they carry their Wealth upon the Shoulders of Aſs-colts, and their Treaſures upon the Bunches of Camels, to a People that will not profit.

7. As the Egyptians will help in vain, and to no Purpoſe; therefore do I call concerning this, The Strength of them is to ſit ſtill.

8. Now come, write it upon a Table to them, and deſcribe it in a Book, that it may be for the future Time, perpetually for evermore.

9. For it is a rebellious People, lying Perſons, Perſons that are not willing to hear the Law of the Lord:

10. Who intimate to the Lookers, Do not look; and to the Seers, Do not ſee right Things for us, ſpeak to us Flatteries, ſee Deluſions:

11. Depart from the Way, turn aſide from the Path, cauſe the Holy One of Iſrael to ceaſe from our Preſence.

12. Therefore thus ſays the Holy One of Iſrael; Becauſe you deſpiſe this Word, and truſt in Oppreſſion and Frowardneſs, depending upon it:

13. This Iniquity ſhall therefore be to you like a falling Breach, ſwelling out in a high Wall: whoſe Breaking comes ſuddenly at an Inſtant.

14. And he will break it as a Potter's Pitcher is broke, beating in pieces without ſparing; inſomuch that there will not be found, when it is beat in pieces, a Sherd to take Fire from the Hearth, or to take Water out of the Lake.

15. For thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, the Holy One of Iſrael; In returning and Reſt you ſhall be ſaved, in Quietneſs and Truſt ſhall be your Power; but you will not.

16. On the contrary you vaunt, No, for we will flee upon Horſes; for this cauſe you ſhall flee: and we will ride upon the Swift; for this cauſe thoſe who purſue you ſhall be ſwift.

17. One thouſand from before the Rebuke of one, from before the Rebuke of five ſhall you flee; till you are left like a Pole upon the Top of a Mountain, and like a Standard upon a Hill.

Ver. 20. Terrible] the three Sorts mentioned in this Verſe ſeem to point out the Wicked among themſelves, and this the higher Rank ſpoken of in the next Verſe.

Ver. 21. who reproves] the Prophets eſpecially.

Ib. at the Gate] where the great Men uſed to ſit, to tranſact the publick Affairs.

Ver. 2. to Egypt] That this was in the Time of Hezekiah, not of Zedekiah as ſome expound it, the three laſt Verſes ſhew, as alſo the next Chap. Ver. 1, 5, 8. See too Ch. xxxvi. 6, 9. and Grot. on Ver. 1.

Ver. 4. Though] which the Sentence that follows does ſhew.

Ver. 6. South] the Beaſts which carried the Preſents that Way to Egypt, according to the following Expreſſions.

Ib. Serpent] according as the Wilderneſs between Judea and Egypt is deſcribed, Deut. viii. 15.

Ver. 11. Holy One] The Prophet notwithſtanding immediately delivers his Meſſage in that Name.

Ver. 14. he will break it] God would break their high Wall or Defence; not break the Iniquity, as in Poole's and the Aſſembly's Annotations it is weakly interpreted.

Ver. 15. the Holy One] not in the Vulg. Lat.

Ver. 17. from before] as commonly rendered in the preſ. Tranſ. eſpecially with this Verb.

18. And

18. And therefore will the Lord wait to be gracious to you, and therefore will he be exalted to have mercy upon you: for the Lord is a God of Judgment, all who wait for him are bleſſed.

19. For the People will abide at Zion in Jeruſalem: thou wilt not weep at all, he will be exceeding gracious to thee at the Voice of thy Cry; as ſoon as he hears it, he will anſwer thee.

20. And though the Lord gives you the Bread of Diſtreſs, and the Water of Oppreſſion; thy Teachers will fly away no more, but thy Eyes will ſee them.

21. And thy Ears will hear a Word following thee ſay, This is the Way, walk in it; when you are going either to the right Hand, or the left.

22. Then will you defile the Covering of the carved Images of Silver, and the Surplice of thy molten Image of Gold: thou wilt ſeparate them like her who has the Infirmity; wilt ſay to it, Get thee out.

23. And he will give Rain for thy Seed, with which thou ſhalt ſow the Ground, and Bread of the Crop of the Ground, that will be fat and groſs: thy Cattle, at that Time, will feed on an enlarged Paſture.

24. Both the Oxen and the Aſs-colts that till the Ground, ſhall eat grown Provender, which is winnowed with the Fan, and the Winnowing-inſtrument.

25. There will alſo be Streams, Rivers of Water upon every high Mountain, and upon every Hill that is raiſed up, at the Time of the great Slaughter, when the Towers fall.

26. Moreover the Light of the Moon will be like that of the Sun, and the Light of the Sun will be ſevenfold, like that of ſeven Days, on the Day the Lord binds up the Breaking of his People, and heals the Stroke of their Wound.

27. Behold the Name of the Lord comes far off, burning with his Anger, and the Burden is heavy: his Lips are full of Indignation, and his Tongue is as a conſuming Fire.

28. His Breath too like an overflowing Flood will be up to the middle of the Neck, to ſhake the Nations with the Shaking of Vanity; and there will be a Bridle upon the Jaws of the People, cauſing to go aſtray.

29. You will have a Poem as at the Night the Feaſt is ſanctified, and Gladneſs of Heart as when one walks with a Pipe, to come to the Mountain of the Lord, to the Rock of Iſrael.

30. And the Lord will make the Majeſty of his Voice be heard, and cauſe the coming down of his Arm to be ſeen, in the Wrath of Anger, and the Flame of conſuming Fire; by ſcattering, with an overflowing Storm, and Hail-ſtones.

31. For by the Voice of the Lord will Aſſyria be broke in pieces, that ſmites with a Rod.

32. And every Paſſing of the founded Staff, which the Lord will cauſe to reſt upon him, will be with Timbrels and Harps; and with Battles of Shaking will he fight againſt it.

even for the King was it prepared; he has made it deep and large; its Bon-fire is Fire and much Wood, the Breath of the Lord like a Flood of Brimſtone kindles it.

CHAP. XXXI.

WO be to thoſe who go down to Egypt for Help, depending upon Horſes, and truſting upon Chariots, becauſe they are many, as alſo upon Horſemen, becauſe they are very numerous; and have no Regard to the Holy One of Iſrael, nor ſeek the Lord.

2. Whereas he being wiſe, will bring Adverſity, and not put away his Words; but will riſe up againſt the Houſe of the Evil-doers, and againſt the Help of the Workers of Iniquity.

3. The Egyptians on the contrary are Men, and not God; as their Horſes are Fleſh, and not Spirit: and the Lord will ſtretch out his Hand, ſo that the Helper ſhall ſtumble, and he who is helped fall, all of them failing together.

4. For thus ſaid the Lord to me; As a Lion roaring, even a young Lion for his Prey, againſt whom a Multitude of Shepherds is called, that is not daunted at their Voice, nor humbled at their Noiſe; ſo will the Lord of Armies come down to make war for the Mountain of Zion, and for the Hill of it.

5. As Birds flying, ſo will the Lord of Armies protect Jeruſalem; protecting he will reſcue, paſſing over will deliver.

6. Return to him, from whom the Iſraelites have made deep Apoſtacy.

7. For at that Time ſhall each one reject his ſilver Idols, and his golden ones, which your Hands have made you for Sin.

8. Then ſhall Aſſyria fall by the Sword of no Perſon, and the Sword of no Man ſhall conſume him; but he ſhall flee from the Preſence of the Sword, and his choſen ones be for Tribute.

9. So he ſhall paſs on to his Rock for Dread, and his Princes ſhall be daunted at the Standard, ſays the Lord, whoſe Fire is at Zion, and his Oven at Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XXXII.

BEHOLD the King will reign with Righteouſneſs, and as for the Princes, they will rule with Judgment.

2. A Man will alſo be like a Hiding-place from the Wind, and a Covert from the overflowing Storm, like Streams of Water in a dry Place, as the Shadow of a huge Rock in a faint Country.

3. Then will the Eyes of the Seers not be dim, and the Ears of the Hearers will hearken.

4. The Heart too of the Haſty will underſtand Knowledge, and the Tongue of thoſe who ſtammer ſoon ſpeak plain Things.

5. The Vile will no more be called noble, nor the Niggard be ſaid to be liberal.

6. For the Vile ſpeaks Vileneſs, and his Heart commits Iniquity; to act Hypocriſy, and ſpeak to the Lord erroneouſly, to make the Stomach of the Hungry empty, and the Drink of the Thirſty to be wanting.

7. And the Inſtruments of the Niggard

Ver. 1. the King] Hezekiah. From the Beginning of Chap. xxv. to the End of Chap. xxxv. appears to be one Prophecy, chiefly concerning Sennacherib's Expedition againſt Judah and Jeruſalem, the Accompliſhment of which immediately follows: only there is a Prediction of the Deſtruction of Edom, Chap. xxxiv. being made by Sennacherib at the ſame Time, and the Captivity and Return of Judah under Manaſſeh, being ſoon after, in Ch. xxvii. as alſo Addreſſes to God and the People, with Goſpel Prophecies intermix'd, according to the Manner of thoſe Writings, Iſaiah's eſpecially, and a Digreſſion concerning Iſrael in Chap. xxviii. and that at Ver. 15. It further appears that this was propheſied in Hezekiah's Reign, and at the Beginning of it by Chap. xxv. 10. becauſe the People are blamed for ſeeking Help from Egypt, Ch. xxx, & xxxi. with which there might be an early Alliance, or the Speech prophetical; whereas in the Time of Ahaz they applied for Aid to Aſſyria, 2 King. xvi. againſt which Hezekiah rebelled, 2 King. xviii. 7. and as the Heb. Word ſignifies either the (preſent) King, or a (future) King, and the like may be ſaid of the Princes; I do not ſee Cauſe to think with any, that this Chapter was compoſed before the preceding ones, and in a former Reign.

10. Days above a Year will you be moved, O confident ones; for the Vintage will fail, the Gathering not come.

11. Tremble, you who are at eaſe, be moved, O confident ones, pulling off, and making naked, then girding Sackcloth upon the Loins.

12. They will be making Lamentation for the Teats, for the deſirable Fields, for the fruitful Vine.

13. Upon the Ground of my People the Thorns, the Briers will come up; Burning will be upon all the joyful Houſes of the triumphing Town.

14. For the Palace will be forſaken, the Tumult of the City left; the Aſcent and Tower will be for Dens a long Time; the Joy of wild Aſſes, the Paſture of Flocks:

15. Till the Spirit is poured out upon us from on high, and the Wilderneſs becomes arable Land, and the arable Land is reckoned a Wood;

16. And Judgment dwells in the Wilderneſs, and Righteouſneſs inhabits the arable Land;

17. And the Work of Righteouſneſs is Peace, and the Service of Righteouſneſs Quietneſs and Security, a long Time;

18. And my People dwell in a peaceable Habitation, in ſecure Dwellings, and in quiet Reſting-places.

19. Though it hails coming down on the Wood, and the City is humbled with Humiliation;

20. You will be bleſſed who ſow by all Waters, ſending forth the Foot of the Ox and the Aſs.

CHAP. XXXIII.

WO be to thee that waſteſt, and thou art not waſted; and that art treacherous, and People are not treacherous to thee: when thou finiſheſt waſting, thou ſhalt be waſted; when thou makeſt an end of being treacherous, they will be treacherous to thee.

Ver. 8. conſults] So excellently in the late noble Poem called Night-Thoughts, Night 2.

Ver. 10. Days above a Year] Theſe being the literal Words, ſeem to be thus fulfilled: the 14th and 15th Years of Hezekiah, as computed in the Chronology at the End of Dan. were one a Sabbatical Year, and the other a Year of Jubilee, which began in Autumn, Lev. xxv. 9. when they were not to ſow Corn, nor prune the Vines, but live on the old Stock, Lev. xxv. 4, 11, 21. and the King of Aſſyria came againſt Judah in the 14th Year, Chap. xxxvi. 1. which according to the uſual Time of warlike Expeditions, was probably before the Seaſon for Harveſt and Vintage, which his Troops deſtroying in ſome Places, and hindering the People from gathering in at others, muſt make a Scarcity for the next whole Year, though the Aſſyrians did not ſtay ſo long; in which Manner thoſe Words in the Text appear to be exactly accompliſhed.

Ib. Tower] of which ſee Neh. iii. 26, 27. Thoſe Words in the Heb. are both ſingular.

Ib. a long Time] Thoſe Places might be ſpoiled by the Aſſyrians, eſpecially as they were by Topheth, where their chief Camp was, Chap. xxx. 33. and ſo lay waſte till Manaſſeh's Return from Captivity, who rebuilt them, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 14. till ſhews it could not be for ever.

Ver. 15. Till] When could this and the three next Verſes be better fulfilled, than in the latter good Part of Manaſſeh's Reign and the whole of Joſiah's? The only happy Times the Kingdom of Judah enjoyed after Hezekiah, and doubtleſs the beſt that People have known ever ſince: in which Amon's two Years Reign, eſpecially as he was young, could make no great Interruption.

Ver. 17. Quietneſs] The End, ſaid Democritus in Diog. Laert. is a quiet Mind, not the ſame as Pleaſure, but that by which the Soul is bleſs'd with Tranquillity and Conſtancy, not diſturbed by Fear, Superſtition, nor any other Paſſion.

Ver. 17. a long Time] viz. that Peace, &c. ſhould be ſo.

Ver. 19. hails] Though it is bad Weather (as we ſay) and you hear a Storm coming, by the Hail rattling on the adjacent Wood where you are ſowing; it will be well for you not to leave off, after ſuch a Time of Scarcity: According to De Dieu, this Place is ſo very difficult, that he deſerves to be praiſed, who endeavours to explain it.

Ib. humbled] by the Famine which the Aſſyrians made, ſo that they could leſs ſpare Corn for ſowing.

Ib. Ox and] with which they ploughed their Ground, Deut. xxii. 10. Chap. xxx. 24.

Ib. Aſs] Though Aſſes were not ſo frequently employed in this Work, it would be well to uſe them now, to ſow the more Land.

Ver. 1. thee] the King of Aſſyria.

Ib. art treacherous] as we read, 2 King. xviii. 14, 17.

2. O Lord, be gracious to us, we wait for thee: be thou the Arm of theſe every Morning, our Safety alſo in the Time of Diſtreſs.

3. By the Sound of the Tumult the People flee, by thy being high the Nations are diſperſed.

4. And your Spoil is gathered as the Caterpillar gathers: as Graſhoppers run to and fro, he does upon it,

5. The Lord is exalted, for he dwells on high; he fills Zion with Judgment and Righteouſneſs.

6. And the Stedfaſtneſs of thy Time, the Strength of Safety, will be Wiſdom and Knowledge; the Fear of the Lord that will be his Treaſure.

7. Behold their mighty ones cry abroad, the Ambaſſadors of Peace weep bitterly.

8. The Highways are deſolate, he who paſſed in the Path is ceaſed: he breaks the Covenant, deſpiſes the Cities, regards no Man.

9. The Country mourns, it languiſhes; Lebanon is aſhamed, it withers; Sharon is like a Deſart; Baſhan alſo ſhakes off, and Carmel.

10. Now will I riſe up, ſays the Lord, now will I make my ſelf high, now will I be lifted up.

11. You conceive Litter, bring forth Stubble: your Breath is a Fire that conſumes you.

12. And the People are like the Burnings of Lime, Thorns cut down that are burnt in the Fire.

13. Hear, you who are far off, what I do; and acknowledge my Power, you who are near.

14. The Sinners in Zion are afraid, Trembling ſeizes the Hypocrites: Which of us can lodge in conſuming Fire? Which of us can lodge in everlaſting Hearths?

15. He who goes on in righteous Matters, and ſpeaks upright Things, who rejects the Gain of Oppreſſions, ſhakes his Hands from holding a Bribe, ſtops his Ear from hearing Blood, and cloſes up his Eyes from ſeeing Evil;

16. Such a one will dwell in the Heights, the Fortifications of the Rocks will be his high Place: his Victuals will be given, his Drink ſure.

17. Thy Eyes will look on the King in his Beauty, they will ſee the Country in remote Places.

18. Thy Heart will meditate Terror: Where is the Secretary? Where is the Paymaſter? Where is the Counter of the Towers?

19. Thou wilt not ſee a People who are ſtrong, a People of too deep Things in Language for the Hearing, of a mimicking Tongue unintelligible to thee.

20. Look on Zion the Town of our ſolemn Aſſemblies; let thy Eyes ſee Jeruſalem, a quiet Habitation, a Tent that will not be pulled down; none of its Pins will be removed perpetually, nor any of its Cords be broke aſunder.

21. But there will the Lord be magnificent to us, a Place of Rivers, Streams of a very large Space; in which a Fleet with Oars cannot go, nor a ſtately Ship paſs it.

22. For the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Law-giver, the Lord is our King, he will ſave us.

23. Thy Cords being ſtretched out, will not ſtrengthen their Maſt right, will not ſpread the Sail: then will the Plunder of the large Spoil be divided, the Lame will take what there is for Prey.

Ib. Cords] So the Original undeniably ſignifies, agreeable to the Context, but never Tacklings that I know of.

Ib. ſtretched out] by becoming ſlack, and ſo weak; or elſe to do what follows, which they were inſufficient for: the Word has this Meaning, but I think not that of looſed; which if they had been, they might eaſily have been tied again.

Ib. the Lame] as having but a little Way to go.

24. And

24. And the Inhabitant will not complain, I am ill: the Iniquity of the People who dwell in it will be forgiven.

CHAP. XXXIV.

COME near, you Nations, to hear; and hearken, O People: let the Earth hear, and what it is filled with; the World, and all its Offspring.

2. For the Fury of the Lord is againſt all the Nations, and Wrath againſt all their Army: he will utterly deſtroy them, deliver them to the Slaughter.

3. So that their Wounded ſhall be caſt down, their Stink come up from their dead Bodies, and the Mountains be diſſolved by their Blood.

4. As alſo the whole Army of the Heaven will waſte away, the Heaven will be rolled up like a Book; and all its Army fall like a Leaf falling from the Vine, and as it does from the Fig-tree.

5. For my Sword ſhall be ſoaked in Heaven; behold it ſhall come down againſt Edom, and againſt the People of my Curſe to Judgment.

6. The Sword of the Lord will be filled with Blood, fattened with Fat, with the Blood of Lambs and He-goats, with the Fat of the Kidneys of Rams: for there will be a Sacrifice of the Lord in Bozrah, and a great Slaughter in the Country of Edom.

7. Nay the Unicorns will come down with them, and the Bullocks with the Bulls; inſomuch that their Country will be ſoaked with Blood, and their Mould fattened with Fat.

8. For it will be the Day of the Lord's Vengeance, the Year of Recompences for the Contention of Zion.

9. The Brooks of it will alſo be turned into Pitch, the Mould of it into Brimſtone, and its Land will be burning Pitch.

10. It will not be quenched by Night nor Day, the Smoak of it will go up for ever: it will be waſte from Age to Age, none will paſs through it to all Eternity.

11. But the Pelican and Bittern will inherit it, as likewiſe the Owl and Raven dwell therein: he will alſo ſtretch out upon it the Line of Emptineſs, and the Stones of Vacancy.

12. They will call for the Nobles of it in the Kingdom, but none will be there; and all its Princes will be Nought.

13. Thorns too will come up in the Palaces of it, the Thiſtle and Bramble in its ſtrong Holds; and it will be a Habitation of Dragons, a Court for young Oſtriches.

14. And the wild Creatures of the Deſarts will meet thoſe of the Iſlands, and the Satyr call to his Companion; the Screech-owl will certainly be quiet there, and find Reſt for her ſelf.

15. There the great Owl will make a Neſt, lay, hatch, and put together in her Shadow; the Kites will certainly be gathered there one to another.

16. Seek from the Book of the Lord, and read; there will not one of theſe be lacking, they will not want one another: for it is my Mouth commands, and it is his Spirit gathers them.

17. Moreover he caſts the Lot for them, and his Hand divides it to them by Line: they will inherit it for ever, dwell in it to all Ages.

Ver. 24. the Iniquity] for which the Aſſyrians would be ſuffered to afflict Judah.

Ver. 2. all the Nations] thoſe in general of that Part of the Earth, whom the Aſſyrians over-ran.

Ver. 4. Army] like that which was foretold of Babylon, Chap. xiii. 10. and of Egypt, Ezek. xxxii. 7, 8. as this is of Edom, Ver. 5, 6.

Then ſhall the Market and the Pleading-place,
Be choak'd with Brambles, and o'ergrown with Graſs.
The Serpents through thy Streets ſhall rowl,
And in thy lower Rooms the Wolves ſhall howl,
And thy gilt Chambers lodge the Raven and the Owl.

CHAP. XXXV.

THE Wilderneſs and dry Place will be joyful at them, nay the Deſart will rejoice, and flouriſh like a Roſe.

2. It will flouriſh exceedingly, and rejoice even with Joy and Singing; the Glory of Lebanon will be given to it, the Comelineſs of Carmel and Sharon: they will ſee the Glory of the Lord, the Comelineſs of our God.

3. Strengthen the weak Hands, and make the ſtaggering Knees ſtout.

4. Say to thoſe who are of a haſty Mind; Be ſtrong, do not fear: behold your God will come with Vengeance, God with a Recompence; he will come, and ſave you.

5. Then will the Eyes of the Blind be opened, and ſo will the Ears of the Deaf.

6. Then the Lame will leap like a Stag, and the Tongue of the Dumb ſing: for Waters will break out in the Wilderneſs, and Floods in the Deſart.

7. The parched Place will likewiſe become a Pond, and the thirſty one Springs of Water: in the Habitation of Dragons, at the Place of lying down in it, there will be Graſs, with Reeds and Ruſhes.

8. And a Road will be there, even a Way which will be called The holy Way; the Unclean will not paſs along it, but it will be for thoſe: ſuch as walk in the Way, even the Simple, will not go aſtray.

9. No Lion will be there, nor Beaſt that breaks through go up it, they will not be found there; where the Ranſomed will walk.

10. And the Redeemed of the Lord will return, and come to Zion with Singing, and laſting Gladneſs upon their Head: they will obtain Joy and Gladneſs, whereas Sorrow and Sighing will flee away.

CHAP. XXXVI.

AND it came to paſs in the fourteenth Year of King Hezekiah, that Sennacherib King of Aſſyria came up againſt all the fortified Cities of Judah, that he might take them.

2. The King of Aſſyria alſo ſent Rabſhakeh from Lachiſh to Jeruſalem, againſt King Hezekiah with a huge Army; and he ſtood at the Conduit of the uppermoſt Fiſh-pond, in the High-way of the Fuller's Field.

3. And there went out to him Eliakim the Son of Hilkiah, who was Steward of the Houſe, Shebna the Scribe, and Joah the Son of Aſaph the Recorder.

4. To whom Rabſhakeh ſaid: Tell now Hezekiah; thus ſays the great King, the King of Aſſyria; What Truſt is it wherein thou truſteſt?

5. Is it, I ſay (but ſayeſt in vain) There is Counſel and Power for War? Now upon whom doſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

6. Behold thou truſteſt upon the Staff of this bruiſed Reed Egypt; which a Man leaning upon, it will enter into his Hand, and pierce it: ſo will Pharaoh King of Egypt be to all that truſt upon him.

7. And though thou ſayeſt to me, We truſt on the Lord our God; is it not he whoſe Chapels and Altars Hezekiah has taken away, and ſaid to Judah and Jeruſalem, You ſhall worſhip before this Altar.

8. Therefore now engage thy ſelf, I pray,

Ver. 1. Wilderneſs] of Judah, adjacent to Edom, Pſa. lxiii. 1. whoſe Verdure was heretofore conſumed by the Idumean Cattle.

Ver. 2.] On which Pope in his Poem intitled Meſſiah,

See Nature haſtes her earlieſt Wreaths to bring,
With all the Incenſe of the breathing Spring:
See lofty Lebanon his Head advance,
See nodding Foreſts on the Mountains dance,
See ſpicy Clouds from lowly Sharon riſe,
And Carmel's flow'ry Top perfume the Skies!

And farther on Ver. 1, 7.

The Swain in barren Deſarts with Surprize
Sees Lillies ſpring, and ſudden Verdure riſe;
And ſtarts, amidſt the thirſty Wilds, to hear
New Falls of Water murm'ring in his Ear:
On rifted Rocks, the Dragon's late Abodes,
The green Reed trembles, and the Bulruſh nods.

Ib. given] meaning it would be like Lebanon in Fruitfulneſs. Finely expreſs'd!

Ib. ſee] as being frequented by the People of Judah, not of Edom.

Ver. 4. come] this being notably accompliſhed on Sennacherib's Army.

Ver. 5. will] metaphorically fulfilled then, Chap. xxxiii. 24. but ultimately under the Goſpel, to the End of the Chapter.

Ib. and ſo will] the Verb being repeated.

Ver. 6. Waters] that were ſtopped, as Chap. xxxiii. 21.

Ver. 7. it] the Heb. having a ſing. fem. Pronoun, anſwerable to Habitation; whereas the Word for Dragons is plur. and maſc.

Ver. 8. holy] as leading to the holy City, or as Grotius ſays to the Temple.

Ib. paſs] paſs over is as if it were going acroſs the Way, which does not appear to be the Meaning, and there is no Particle for over.

Ib. thoſe] mentioned in Verſe, 5, 6.

Ib. the Simple] it will be ſo plain, and eaſy to find.

Ver. 10. return] having been driven, or kept away by the Siege.

Ib. to Zion] to bring their Offerings, and worſhip God there.

Ver. 1. it came to paſs] This is not in the ſame Narration beginning 2 King. xviii. 13. which is however moſtly in the ſame Words, ſo far as the Matter is alike; whither I refer the Reader for Notes. This Piece of Hiſtory is very properly inſerted, not only to ſhew the fulfilling of the foregoing Prophecy, but to illuſtrate the obſcure Paſſages, and is a Confirmation of the general Expoſition given to the preceding Chapters.

Ver. 5. Is it] very aptly from the foregoing.

to my Maſter the King of Aſſyria; and I will give thee two thouſand Horſes, if thou art able to put thee Riders upon them.

9. How then wilt thou turn back the Face of one Captain, of the leaſt of my Maſter's Servants; and put thy Truſt upon Egypt, for Chariots and Horſemen?

10. And am I now come up without the Lord againſt this Country, to deſtroy it? The Lord ſaid to me, Go up to this Country, and deſtroy it.

11. Then ſaid Eliakim, Shebna and Joah, to Rabſhakeh, Speak, we pray, to thy Servants in Syriack, for we underſtand it; and do not talk to us in the Jewiſh Language, in the Hearing of the People who are upon the Wall.

12. But Rabſhakeh replied, Has my Maſter ſent me to thine and thee, to ſpeak theſe Words? Was it not to the Men who ſit upon the Wall, to eat their Dung and drink their Piſs with you?

13. So Rabſhakeh ſtood, and called aloud in the Jewiſh Language as follows: Hear the Words of the great King, the King of Aſſyria.

14. Thus ſays the King, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he is not able to deliver you.

15. Nor let Hezekiah make you truſt on the Lord by ſaying, The Lord will throughly deliver us, this City ſhall not be given into the Power of the King of Aſſyria.

16. Do not hearken to him: for thus ſays the King of Aſſyria; Make a Bleſſing for me, and come out to me; then eat each one of his own Vine, and each one of his own Fig-tree, as alſo drink each the Water of his Ciſtern:

17. Till I come, and fetch you away to a Country like your own, a Country of Corn and Wine, a Country of Bread and Vineyards:

18. Leſt Hezekiah ſhould perſuade you thus, The Lord will deliver us. Have the gods of the Nations delivered their reſpective Lands, from the Power of the King of Aſſyria?

19. Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? For have they alſo delivered Samaria from my Power?

20. Which are they among all the gods of theſe Countries, who have delivered their Country from my Power, that the Lord ſhould deliver Jeruſalem from it?

21. They however held their Peace, and did not anſwer him a Word: for this was the King's Commandment, Do not anſwer him.

22. Next Eliakim the Son of Hilkiah who was the Steward of the Houſe, Shebna the Scribe, and Joah the Son of Aſaph the Recorder, went to Hezekiah with the Cloaths torn; and told him the Words of Rabſhakeh.

CHAP XXXVII.

WHICH when King Hezekiah heard, he tore his Cloaths, covered himſelf with Sackcloth, and went to the Houſe of the Lord.

2. He alſo ſent Eliakim who was the Steward of the Houſe, Shebna the Scribe, and the Elders of the Prieſts, having covered themſelves with Sackcloth, to Iſaiah the Son of Amoz the Prophet.

3. To whom they ſaid; Thus ſays Hezekiah, This Day is a Day of Diſtreſs, Rebuke and Contempt: for the Children are come to the Birth, and there is no Might to bring forth.

4. Perhaps the Lord thy God will hear the Words of Rabſhakeh, whom the King of Aſſyria his Maſter has ſent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the Words which the Lord thy God has heard: therefore put up a Prayer for the Reſidue that is found.

5. Accordingly the Servants of King Hezekiah went to Iſaiah.

6. And he ſaid to them; So ſhall you tell your Maſter; Thus ſays the Lord, Be not afraid by reaſon of the Words that thou haſt heard, with which the young Men of the King of Aſſyria have blaſphemed me.

7. Behold I will put ſuch a Spirit into him, and he ſhall hear ſuch News, that he ſhall return to his own Country: in which I will cauſe him to fall by the Sword.

8. And Rabſhakeh returned, and found the King of Aſſyria fighting againſt Libnah: for he had heard that he was marched from Lachiſh.

9. Who heard ſay concerning Tirhakah King of Ethiopia, He is come forth to fight with thee; and when he heard it, he ſent Meſſengers to Hezekiah with Orders:

10. Thus ſhall you make a Speech to Hezekiah King of Judah; Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou truſteſt, by ſaying, Jeruſalem ſhall not be given up into the Power of the King of Aſſyria.

11. Behold thou haſt heard what the Kings of Aſſyria have done to all Countries, to deſtroy them utterly; and ſhalt thou be delivered?

12. Did the gods of the Nations deliver them whom my Fathers deſtroyed, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the Edenites who were in Thelaſſar?

13. Where is the King of Hamath, the King of Arpad, and the King of the City of Sepharvaim, of Hena and Ivah?

14. And when Hezekiah had received the Letter from the Hands of the Meſſengers, and read it; he went up to the Houſe of the Lord, and ſpread it before him.

15. To whom he prayed, ſaying:

16. O Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, who inhabiteſt the Cherubs, thou thy ſelf art God, alone, of all the Kingdoms of the Earth: thou having made the Heaven, and the Earth.

17. Incline thy Ear, O Lord, and hear; open thy Eyes, O Lord, and ſee: even hear all the Words of Sennacherib, who has ſent to reproach the living God.

18. Indeed, O Lord, the Kings of Aſſyria have laid waſte all the Countries, and their Land;

19. And he put their gods into the Fire: for they were not gods, but the Work of Men's Hands, Wood and Stone; ſo they deſtroyed them.

20. Now therefore, O Lord our God, ſave us from his Power; for all the Kingdoms of the Earth to know, that thou art the Lord alone.

21. Then Iſaiah the Son of Amoz ſent Word to Hezekiah: Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, of what thou haſt prayed to me concerning Sennacherib King of Aſſyria;

22. This is the Matter that the Lord ſpeaks againſt him; The Virgin, the Daughter of Zion deſpiſes thee, mocks thee, the Daughter of Jeruſalem ſhakes the Head after thee.

23. Whom haſt thou reproached, and blaſphemed? And againſt whom haſt thou raiſed the Voice, and looked up on high? At the Holy One of Iſrael?

24. Thou haſt reproached the Lord by the Miniſtry of thy Servants, and ſaid; I will go up to the Height of the Mountains, to the Sides of Lebanon, with the Multitude of my Chariots: where I will cut down his tall Cedars, the choiceſt of his Fir-trees; and come to the Height of his Border, to the Wood of his Carmel.

25. I have dug, and drunk Waters; and dried up all the Streams of the Siege with the Soles of my Feet.

26. Haſt not thou heard long ago I made it? From Days of old Time that I formed it? Now have I brought it to paſs, that thou ſhouldſt be to lay waſte fortified Cities to ruinous Heaps.

27. Therefore were their Inhabitants ſhort-handed, were daunted, and aſhamed: they were like the Herb of the Field, and the tender Pot-herb, Graſs of the Roofs, and a Field of Corn blaſted before it is grown up.

28. And I know thy Dwelling, going out and coming in, as alſo thy being moved againſt me.

29. Becauſe thy being moved againſt me, and thy Tumult is come up into my Ears, therefore will I put my Hook into thy Noſe, and my Bridle into thy Lips, and make thee return in the Way wherein thou cameſt.

30. And this ſhall be a Sign to thee; the eating this Year that which grows of it ſelf, and in the ſecond Year what grows up again (then in the third Year ſow you, and reap, and likewiſe plant Vineyards, and eat the Fruit of them)

31. That a Remnant eſcaped of the Family of Judah which is left, ſhall again take root below, and yield Fruit above.

32. For a Reſidue ſhall go forth from Jeruſalem, and a Remnant eſcaped from Mount Zion: the Zeal of the Lord of Armies will do this.

33. Therefore thus ſays the Lord concerning the King of Aſſyria; He ſhall not come to this City, nor ſhoot an Arrow there, nor come before it with a Shield, nor make a Rampart againſt it.

34. In the ſame Way wherein he came, ſhall he return, and not come to this City, ſays the Lord.

35. But I will defend this City to ſave it, for my own ſake, and for the ſake of my Servant David.

36. And the Angel of the Lord went out, and ſlew a hundred eighty and five thouſand in the Camp of Aſſyria; ſo that when they roſe early in the Morning, behold all of them were dead Corpſes.

37. So Sennacherib King of Aſſyria marched, and going back again, dwelt at Nineveh.

38. And as he was worſhipping in the Houſe of Niſroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer his Sons ſlew him with the Sword; who eſcaped to the Country of Ararat: and Eſar-haddon his Son reigned in his room.

Ver. 18. Countries] The Author of State of the Heb. p. 510. ſays, The true Engliſh is, which he puts in Capitals, ALL THE LANDS AND THEIR LAND, then aſks, Can we doubt of a Miſtake here? adding The other Copy in 2 King. xix. 17. reads Nations. From which who would not think it was Lands he takes offence at? But the Correction he propoſes is Lands, as he rendered it before, inſtead of Land, to be the Lands and their Lands; but is not this worſe inſtead of better!

Ver. 21, of what] it being a Relative in Heb. as it is alſo tranſlated in the com. Bib. 2 King. xix. 20.

Ver. 27. a Field of Corn blaſted] the Heb. Word, a little different from that in 2 King. xix. 26. thus ſignifying, Burt.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

IN thoſe Days Hezekiah was ſick likely to die, to whom Iſaiah the Son of Amoz the Prophet came, and ſaid unto him; Thus ſays the Lord, Make thy Will, for thou wilt die, and not live.

2. Upon this Hezekiah turned about his Face to the Wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3. And ſaid, I beſeech thee, O Lord, remember now, how I have walked continually before thee in Truth, and with a perfect Heart, and have done what thou waſt pleaſed with; and Hezekiah wept a great deal.

4. Then Iſaiah had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows;

5. Go, and tell Hezekiah; Thus ſays the Lord God of thy Father David, I have heard thy Prayer, ſeen thy Tears; behold I will add to thy Time fifteen Years:

6. As alſo deliver thee and this City from the Power of the King of Aſſyria; and will defend this City.

7. And this ſhall be a Sign to thee from the Lord, that he will do this Thing which he has ſpoken.

8. Behold I will cauſe the Shadow of the Degrees, that is gone down upon thoſe of Ahaz on the Sun-dial, to return backward ten Degrees. So the Sun returned ten Degrees, upon thoſe which it was gone down.

9. The Writing of Hezekiah King of Judah, when he had been ſick, and was recovered from his Sickneſs.

10. I ſaid in the cutting off of my Days, I ſhall go to the Gates of the Grave, ſhall want the reſt of my Years.

11. I ſaid; I ſhall not ſee the Lord, the Lord in the Country of the Living; I ſhall behold Man no more with the Inhabitants of the World.

12. My Age is removed, and carried away from me, like a Shepherd's Tent: I cut off my Life like a Weaver, he cuts me from the Thrums: both Day and Night thou art making an end of me.

13. I propoſe that againſt the Morning, like a Lion, ſo he will break all my Bones: both Day and Night thou art making an end of me.

14. Like a Crane, a Swallow, ſo I chirp; I make moan like a Dove: my Eyes are drawn out on high; O Lord, it oppreſſes me, engage for me.

15. What ſhall I ſay? He has both ſaid it to me, and done: I ſhall go gently along all my Years, for the Bitterneſs of my Soul.

16. O Lord, in theſe Things People live, and among all in thoſe is the Life of my Spirit: as thou haſt made me recover, and kept me alive.

17. Behold for Peace I had continual Bitterneſs: but thou hadſt a love for my Soul, to be out of the Ditch of Conſumption; for thou didſt caſt all my Sins behind thy Back.

18. For the Grave will not give Thanks to thee, Death will not praiſe thee: thoſe who go down to the Pit will not wait for thy Truth.

19. The living one himſelf will give thanks to thee, like me this Day: the Father to the Children will make known thy Truth.

20. There was the Lord to ſave me: therefore we will play on my ſtriking Inſtruments all the Days of our Life, in the Houſe of the Lord.

21. Iſaiah had alſo ſaid, Let them take a Bunch of Figs, and bruiſe upon the Boil, and he ſhall recover.

22. Hezekiah too ſaid, What ſhall be the Sign that I ſhall go up to the Houſe of the Lord?

CHAP. XXXIX.

AT that Time Merodach-baladan, the Son of Baladan, King of Babylon ſent a Letter, and a Preſent to Hezekiah; becauſe he heard that he had been ſick, and was got well.

2. And Hezekiah was glad of them, ſhewing them the Houſe of his Odour, the Silver, Gold, Spices, the good Oil, the whole Houſe of his Veſſels, and all that was found in his Treaſures: there was Nothing, which he did not ſhew them, in his Houſe, and in all his Dominion.

3. Afterwards Iſaiah the Prophet came to King Hezekiah, and ſaid to him, What did

Ver. 9. The Writing] H. Dod, who made the Pſalms into Verſe, and ſeems to have been a Man of religious Experience, has in the Contents to this, "The worthieſt of "all the elect are ſubject to the greateſt torments of this lyfe, "both in body and mynde."

Ver. 12. from the Thrums] whence a Piece of Cloth is cut off, when it is weaved. So Jun. and Trem. render a peniculis, and ſuitable to this the Word is tranſlated Hair, Cant. vii. 5.

theſe Men ſay? And from whence did they come to thee? And he anſwered, They came to me from a Country far off, from Babylon.

4. And upon his enquiring, What did they ſee in thy Houſe? Hezekiah acknowledged, They ſaw all that was in it; there was Nothing which I did not ſhew them, in my Treaſures.

5. Then ſaid Iſaiah to him; Hear the Commiſſion of the Lord of Armies,

6. Behold the Days are coming, when all that is in thy Houſe, and what thy Fathers have treaſured up to this Day, ſhall be carried away to Babylon; there ſhall be Nothing left, ſays the Lord.

7. Nay they ſhall take of thy Sons who ſhall proceed out from thee, whom thou ſhalt beget; and they ſhall be Officers in the Palace of the King of Babylon.

8. Whereupon Hezekiah ſaid to him, The Lord's Commiſſion that thou ſpeakeſt is good: becauſe, as he ſaid, there will be Peace and Truth in my Days.

CHAP. XL.

COMFORT, comfort my People, ſays your God.

2. Speak kindly to Jeruſalem, and cry to it, that its War is fulfilled, and its Iniquity is finiſhed, that it has received double from the Hand of the Lord for all its Sins.

3. There is the Voice of one crying in the Wilderneſs, Prepare the Way of the Lord, make a ſtraight Road in the Deſart for our God.

4. Every Valley ſhall be raiſed up, and every Mountain and Hill be put down; the crooked ſhall become ſtraight, and the uneven Places a Plain.

5. Since the Glory of the Lord will be revealed, and all Fleſh will ſee it together: for the Mouth of the Lord has ſpoken it.

6. The Voice ſays, Cry; and he aſks, What ſhall I cry? All Fleſh is Graſs, and all the Kindneſs of it like the Flower of the Field.

7. The Graſs withers, the Flower fades, becauſe the Wind of the Lord blows on it: ſurely the People are Graſs.

8. The Graſs withers, the Flower fades; but the Word of our God will ſtand for ever.

9. Get you up on the high Mountain, O Zion Preachers; elevate your Voice with Strength, O Jeruſalem Preachers: elevate, do not fear; ſay to the Cities of Judah, Behold your God!

10. Lo the Sovereign Lord will come with Power, and his Arm will rule for him: behold his Reward will be with him, and his Work before him.

11. He will feed his Flock like a Shepherd, will gather together the Lambs in his Arm, and carry them in his Boſom; will lead thoſe gently that are with Young.

12. Who is it meaſures the Waters by his Handful, computes the Heavens by a Span, contains the Duſt of the Earth in a Cup, weighs the Mountains on a Balance, and the Hills in Scales?

13. Who diſpoſes the Spirit of the Lord, or is a Man of his Counſel that informs him?

14. With whom is there counſel taken, that cauſes him to underſtand, inſtructs him in the Path of Judgmont, teaches him Knowledge, and makes known to him the Way of Underſtanding?

15. Behold the Nations are as a Drop from the Bucket, and are counted like the ſmall Duſt of the Scales: lo he can take up the Iſles as a little Thing.

Ver. 1. Comfort] The Babylonian Captivity being foretold in Ver. 6. of the foregoing Chapter, Iſaiah goes on to ſpeak of the Deliverance and Return from it, as we ſee very expreſly, Chap. xliii. 14. & xliv. 28. & xlv. 1. nevertheleſs the Holy Spirit ſeems to intend it more largely of the Goſpel, whatever the Prophet did, 1 Pet. i. 10, 11, 12.

Ver. 2. War] Malitia, malice, being erroneouſly got into the vulg. Lat.

Ib. double] not double what they deſerved, but what was or would have been the Puniſhment of others, becauſe they had received far greater Knowledge and Bleſſings, Dan. ix. 12. Am. iii. 2.

Ver. 3. Way] This is incongruouſly expounded of the Return from Captivity, eſpecially by thoſe who are for referring ſuch prophetical Paſſages to the Goſpel Times, to be underſtood in ſome ſecondary Senſe, as they apprehend, not in their primary one; ſince the Way is that of the Lord, and for God, i. e. Chriſt, as the Evangeliſts directly interpret it, Mat. iii. 3. Mark. i. 1, 2, 3. beſides it is all Fleſh that is ſpoken of, Ver. 5.

Ver. 3, 4. On theſe Pope as follows,

Hark! a glad Voice the lonely Deſart chears,
Prepare the Way; a God, a God appears:
A God, a God! the vocal Hills reply;
The Rocks proclaim th' approaching Deity.
Lo Earth receives him from the bending Skies;
Sink down ye Mountains, and ye Vallies riſe:
With Heads declin'd, ye Cedars, Homage pay;
Be ſmooth ye Rocks, ye rapid Floods give way.

Ver. 6. Kindneſs] So the Heb. not goodlineſs.

Ver. 9. Preachers] The original Word is ſingular and feminine to agree with the City; but that the Place it ſelf is not meant, get up upon the Mountain ſhews. It agrees notably well with the firſt Preachers of the Goſpel, who received their Commiſſion there, Luk. xxiv. 49. Act. i. 8, 12. & ii. 4.

Ver. 11. carry in his Boſom] This fine Expreſſion is dropped in the Gr. Sept. Verſ. ſee alſo on Chap. li. 18.

Ver. 12. by his Handful] the Waters being all but one Handful of his, and ſo of the reſt; whereby his containing the Duſt in a Cup or Meaſure agrees with them, otherwiſe not.

Ver. 15. can take] rather than does do it. Hervey in his very late Meditations, Vol. ii. p. 130. ſpeaks of a ſolid Correction of tranſlating this Paſſage by Vitringa, the Iſles are as ſome light thing which flies about; when the Verb does not ſignify to fly of any Kind, nor in any Lan-

16. And

16. And Lebanon is not ſufficient to burn, nor are the Beaſts of it ſufficient for a Burnt-ſacrifice.

17. All Nations are as Nothing before him, they are counted with him to be of nought and Emptineſs.

18. To whom therefore will you liken God? And what Likeneſs will you compare to him?

19. The Artificer covers the carved Image, and the Goldſmith ſpreads it over with Gold, and caſts Chains of Silver.

20. He who is poor for Offering chooſes a Tree that will not rot; he ſeeks him a ſkilful Artificer, to prepare a carved Image that ſhall not be moved.

21. Do not ye know? Do ye not hear? Has it not been told you from the Beginning? Have not ye underſtood from the Foundations of the Earth?

22. That he ſits upon the Compaſs of the Earth, and the Inhabitants of it are as Graſhoppers; that he ſtretches out the Heavens like a Canopy, and extends them like a Tent to dwell in?

23. That he cauſes Princes to be Nothing, makes the Judges of the Earth as Emptineſs?

24. They are alſo not planted, alſo not ſown, their Stem alſo does not take root in the Earth: and he too blows on them, ſo that they wither; and the Tempeſt carries them away as Stubble.

25. To whom then will you liken me, and am I equal? ſays the Holy One.

26. Look up on high, and ſee who created theſe, that brings forth their Army by Number: he calls them all by Name; by the Abundance of Might and ſtrong Power, there is not one lacking.

27. Why doſt thou ſay, Jacob, and ſpeak, Iſrael, My Way is hid from the Lord, and my Judgment paſſed from my God?

28. Doſt not thou know? Doſt thou not hear? that the everlaſting God, the Lord, the Creator of the Ends of the Earth, is neither faint, nor weary? There is no ſearching out of his Underſtanding.

29. He gives Power to the Faint, and makes Strength abound to him that is of no Might.

30. The Youths will be both faint and weary, and the young Men will ſtumble down.

31. But thoſe who wait for the Lord will renew Power, they will mount up with the Wing like Eagles, will run, and not be weary; will go, and not be faint.

CHAP. XLI.

BE ſilent to me, O Iſles, and let the People renew Power: let them come nigh, then let them ſpeak; let us draw near together to Judgment.

2. Who ſtirs up the righteous one from the Eaſt, will call him to his Foot, deliver up the Nations before him, and cauſe him to rule Kings; will make them as Duſt by his Sword, as driven Stubble by his Bow?

3. He ſhall purſue them, ſhall paſs peaceably, in the Way that he has not come with his Feet.

4. Who did work, and perform, calling the Generations from the Beginning? I the Lord, the firſt and laſt, it was I.

5. The Iſles ſee, and fear; the Ends of the Earth are afraid, draw near, and come.

6. Each one helps his Neighbour, and ſays to his Brother, Be ſtrong.

7. And the Artificer ſtrengthens the Goldſmith, he that makes ſmooth with the Hammer him who ſmites on the Anvil: he ſays of the Joint, It is good; and ſtrengthens it with Nails, that it may not be moved.

guage, neither has it any Relative which before it, nor is the Noun a light thing. And I am perſuaded that Hervey himſelf, who writes ſo honourably of the Holy Scripture, would not have the Truth of it give way even to his own ſublime Eloquence.

Ver. 17. to be of Nought] as the Heb. very well ſignifies; and all Nations cannot be counted leſs than nothing.

Ver. 19. covers] as carved or graven Things are cut, not melted: ſo Jun. tegit.

Ver. 21. from] Our Tranſlators may ſeem to have miſtaken the firſt Letter of the Heb. to Foundations for this, by not marking it Italick as an Addition to the Original.

Ver. 22. That] ה

Ver. 29. Strength abound] making it to abound, where it did not ſo much as exiſt, Hervey, Ib. p. 150. but not properly increaſeth.

Ver. 2. the righteous one] The Annotators are here put to it, to know whether this was Abraham or Cyrus: my Reaſons for the latter are, 1. though the Heb. preterperfect Tenſe is frequently uſed in the Prophets for the Time to come, yet not the future Tenſe without a Conjunction for the Time paſt, and all the Verbs in this and the next Verſe are future, excepting the firſt; 2. Abraham's Victory Gen. xiv. 15. is unlikely to be called ruling Kings; 3. this Speech is directed to the Iſles, Ver. 1, 5. not to the Iſraelites. As for this agreeing to Cyrus, ſee Chap. xlv. 1, 13. & xlvi. 11. & xiii. 3. and De Dieu, Animad.

Ver. 3. ſhall purſue] Lowth writes in his Commentary, "The Preterperfect Tenſe is here put for the Future." What Preterperfect Tenſe? That of the com. Eng. Bible? For the Heb. Verbs are in the Future Tenſe. This Way of commenting I have complained of before. As for the Eng. Tranſlators, they evidently put it ſo becauſe they underſtood it of Abraham, as the marginal Note to Q. Elizabeth's Bible expreſſes it.

Ver. 5. draw near] as the remote Nations towards Europe by the Seas, did to aſſiſt Nerigliſſar King of Babylon againſt Cyrus, and afterwards to help Cræſus, the famous Auxiliary of Belſhazzar the laſt King of Babylon, Xenoph. Cyroped.

Ver. 7. Joint] This Word occurs but twice beſides, in the plur. Num. and is there rendered joynts, 1 King. xxii. 34. 2 Chr. xviii. 33.

Ib. good] as the Heb. is, and not ready.

8. But thou art Iſrael my Servant, Jacob whom I have choſen, the Offspring of Abraham one who loved me:

9. Whom I took hold of from the Ends of the Earth, and called thee from the Nobles of it, ſaying to thee, Thou art my Servant, I have choſen thee, and not rejected thee.

10. Do not fear, for I am with thee; be not amazed, for I am thy God: I will ſtrengthen thee, alſo help thee, alſo uphold thee with the right Hand of my Righteouſneſs.

11. Lo all who are incenſed againſt thee ſhall be aſhamed, and put to confuſion: they ſhall be as Nothing, and the Men that ſtrive with thee ſhall periſh.

12. When thou ſeekeſt them, thou ſhalt not find thoſe Men who contend with thee: the Men that are at war with thee ſhall be as Nought, even like Nothing at all.

13. For I the Lord thy God hold thy right Hand faſt, ſaying to thee, Do not fear, I will help thee.

14. Do not fear, worm Jacob, O Men of Iſrael; I will help thee, ſays the Lord, even thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Iſrael.

15. Behold I will put thee for a Flail, a new Threſhing-inſtrument that has Edges: thou ſhalt threſh the Mountains, beat ſmall, and make the Hills like Chaff.

16. Thou ſhalt winnow them, and the Wind ſhall carry them away, and the Whirlwind ſcatter them: whereas thou ſhalt rejoice through the Lord, ſhalt glory through the Holy One of Iſrael.

17. The Afflicted and Needy ſeek for Water, and there is none, their Tongue fails with Thirſt: I the Lord anſwer them, the God of Iſrael do not leave them.

18. I open Rivers upon the high Places, and Fountains within the Vales; I make the Wilderneſs a Pond of Water, and a dry Country Springs of Water.

19. I put in the Wilderneſs the Cedar, the beſt Cedar, with the Myrtle, and the Tree of Oil; I place in the Deſart the Fir, Pine, and Box together;

20. In order for them to ſee, know, apply and conſider together; that the Hand of the Lord has done this, and the Holy One of Iſrael created it.

21. Draw near with your Cauſe, ſays the Lord: bring nigh your ſtrong Matters, ſays the King of Jacob.

22. Let them bring nigh, and declare to us what Things will come to paſs: let them declare of the former Things what they are; that we may apply our Mind, and know their End; or let them publiſh to us the Things that will come.

23. Declare the Things which will arrive hereafter; for us to know that you are gods: do both Good and Hurt; that we may be amazed and ſee together.

24. Lo you are of nothing, and your Work is of the Viper: he that chooſes you is abominable.

25. I have ſtirred up one from the North, who ſhall arrive, from the Riſing of the Sun ſhall he call on my Name; and he ſhall come to the Rulers as to Mortar, as the Potter treads the Clay.

26. Who has declared from the Beginning, that we may know? And aforetime, that we may ſay, He is righteous? Even none declares, even none cauſes to hear, even none hears your Sayings.

27. I the firſt ſay to Zion, Behold, behold them; and I give a Preacher to Jeruſalem.

28. Well I ſee that there is no Man, and of theſe that there is no Counſellor, when I aſk them, who does return Word.

29. Lo all of them are Vanity, their Deeds nought; their molten Images are Wind and Emptineſs.

Ver. 9. Ends of the Earth] from Egypt, as I think Jun. and Trem. with Grot. beſt explain it; rather than the future bringing them from Captivity, or Abraham from Chaldea, as others interpret it; which ſeems doing Violence to the Context.

Ver. 15. a Flail] this being the general Name, and the other particular, as Buxt. ſays under חרץ and is turned threſhing-inſtruments in the other Places, 2 Sam. xxiv. 22. 1 Chr. xxi. 23. having no Meaning at all of ſharp.

Ib. Threſhing-inſtrument] Varro deſcribes one, fit e tabulâ lapidibus aut ferro exaſperatâ, quæ impoſito auriga, aut pondere grandi, trahitur jumentis junctis, ut diſcutiat e ſpica grana; made of a Board ſtudded with Stones or Iron, which is drawn by Cattle harneſſed together, with either the Driver himſelf or ſome great Weight on it, that it may ſhake the Corn out of the Ear, De Re Ruſt. Lib. i. 52. agreeing with Buxtorf's Account from the Jews at this Word: and what Smith ſays of the Turks illuſtrates this and the next Ver. well, viz. They tread out their Corn with Oxen, drawing a ſquare Plank-board, about a Foot and half or two Feet over, ſtudded with Flints; and winnow it upon their Threſhing-floors in the open Air, the Wind blowing away the Chaff, Ray's Collect. of Trav. Tom. 2.

Ver. 20. apply] or put, as Ver. 22.

Ver. 21. nigh] not forth by the Heb.

Ver. 22. come to paſs] which I prefer before happen.

Ib. former Things] which though done, are yet unknown.

Ib. our Mind] not them, which our Tranſlators add, and ſhorten the other.

Ver. 24. Viper] the like Word being ſo, Chap. xxx. 6. & lix. 5. Job xx. 16. in which Places only they are found. Thus Jun. and Trem. render it viperæ, and Grot. viperino.

CHAP. XLII.

LO my Servant whom I uphold, my choſen one that my Soul is pleaſed with; I have put my Spirit upon him, he ſhall bring forth Judgment to the Nations.

2. He ſhall neither cry out, raiſe up, nor make his Voice be heard in the Street.

3. A ſhaken Reed ſhall he not break, nor quench the dim Flax, he ſhall bring forth Judgment to Truth.

4. He ſhall not be dim, nor ſhake, till he has put Judgment on the Earth; and the Iſles ſhall wait for his Law.

5. Thus ſays God the Lord, who created the Heaven, and ſtretched it out, ſpread forth the Earth and its Offspring, gave Breath to the People upon it, and Spirit to them that go thereon;

6. I the Lord call thee in Righteouſneſs, take hold of thy Hand, keep thee, and make thee the Covenant of the People, the Light of the Nations:

7. To open the Eyes of the Blind, to bring the Priſoner out of the Priſon, thoſe who ſit in Darkneſs out of the Houſe of Reſtraint.

8. I am the Lord, that is my Name; and I will not give my Glory to another, nor my Praiſe to carved Images.

9. The former Things behold they are come, and I declare new ones; before they ſpring forth, I publiſh them to you.

10. Sing a new Poem to the Lord, his Praiſe from the End of the Earth, you who go down to the Sea, and what it is filled with, the Iſles and their Inhabitants.

11. Let the Wilderneſs and the Cities of it chant up, the Villages which Kedar inhabits: let the Inhabitants of the Rock ſing aloud, let them cry out from the Top of the Mountains.

12. Let them render Glory to the Lord, and declare his Praiſe in the Iſlands.

13. The Lord will go forth as a ſtrong one, will ſtir up Zeal like a Warrior: he will ſhout, nay cry; will ſtrengthen himſelf againſt his Enemies, ſaying:

14. I have held my Peace long ago, have been ſilent, reſtrained my ſelf: like a Woman in labour I will cry out, I will make deſolate and ſwallow up together.

15. I will cauſe the Mountains and Hills to be waſte, and dry up all their Graſs; as alſo make the Rivers Iſles, and dry up the Ponds.

16. And I will make the Blind go in a Way they know not, will cauſe them to tread in Paths they are ignorant of; I will make Darkneſs Light before them, and crooked Things ſtraight: theſe Things will I do for them, and not leave them.

17. They ſhall be turned back, be confounded with Shame, that truſt in a carved Image, who ſay to a molten Image, You are our gods.

18. O Deaf, hear; and you Blind, look that you may ſee.

19. Who is blind unleſs my Servant is; and ſo deaf as my Meſſenger that I ſend? Who is ſo blind as the Perfect; and ſo blind as the Servant of the Lord?

20. Seeing many Things, yet thou doſt not obſerve: he opens the Ears, but does not hear.

21. The Lord is delighted by reaſon of his Righteouſneſs: he will make the Law great, and magnificent.

22. Whereas this is a People preyed upon, and plundered, the choſen ones all of them being inſnared, and hid in Houſes of Reſtraint: they are a Prey, and none delivers; for Plundering, and none ſays, Reſtore.

23. Who among you will give ear to this; will hearken, and hear what is behind?

24. Who gave Jacob for Plundering, and Iſrael to thoſe that take the Prey? Did not the Lord? It is he whom we have ſinned againſt; and they were not willing to go in his Ways, nor hearkened to his Law.

25. So he poured out the Wrath of his Anger upon him, and the Strength of War: and it ſet him on fire round about, yet he did not underſtand; and burnt him, but he did not lay it to Heart.

Ver. 3. dim] an Adjective from the Verb in the next Verſe; ſmoaking being made from the Sept. Tranſ. and not from the Original.

Ver. 4. be dim] id eſt, ignorantia falletur, that is, be miſtaken through Ignorance, Grot. thus rendered Gen. xxvii. 1. Deut. xxxiv. 7. (as it ſhould Job xvii. 5.) and darkned, Zech. xi. 17.

Ver. 5. Heaven] being repreſented as one Thing by ſtretching, and the View of it; which its being only plural in the Heb. is not to make ſo here.

Ver. 11. chant up] according to that both before and after; and if active, the Poem or Praiſe, Ver. 10.

Ib. Kedar] See Chap. lx. 7.

Ver. 19. unleſs my Servant is] which is evidently the Meaning; and but not right, as Noldius obſerves on it in his Concord. Since there were others blind; as indeed the latter Part of the Verſe ſhews, which this muſt not contradict. By my Servant underſtand Iſrael as a People.

Ver. 22. People] a Deſcription of them as they would be in the Time of the Babylonian Captivity.

Ib. the choſen ones] The Heb. Word bahurim ſignifies either this or young men, and is rendered the latter in the com. Lat. and Tig. Bibles, as alſo by Jun. and Trem. but the other ſeems more ſuitable. In holes is with the Heb. bahorim.

CHAP. XLIII.

HOWEVER now thus ſays the Lord thy Creator, O Jacob, and the Former of thee, O Iſrael; Do not fear, for I have redeemed thee, have called thee by Name, thou art mine.

2. Though thou paſſeſt through the Waters, I will be with thee; and through the Rivers, they ſhall not overflow thee: though thou goeſt through the Fire, thou ſhalt not be ſcorched, nor ſhall the Flame burn thee.

3. For I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Iſrael, thy Saviour: I give Egypt for thy Ranſom, Cuſh and Seba inſtead of thee;

4. Than whom thou art more precious in my Sight, art honourable, and I love thee: ſo I give Men inſtead of thee, and People inſtead of thy Life.

5. Do not fear, for I will be with thee: I will bring thy Offspring from the Eaſt, and gather thee from the Weſt.

6. I will ſay to the North, Deliver up; and to the South, Do not reſtrain; bring my Sons from far off, and my Daughters from the End of the Earth:

7. Every one that is called by my Name, and whom I have created for my Glory, whom I have formed, even whom I have made.

8. Bring forth the blind People that has Eyes, and the deaf ones to whom are Ears;

9. All the Nations being gathered together, and the People aſſembled; who among them ſhall declare this, and publiſh to us former Things? Let them produce their Witneſſes, that they may be juſtified; or let them hear, and ſay, It is Truth.

10. You are my Witneſſes, ſays the Lord, and my Servant whom I have choſen; that you know, and believe me, and underſtand that I am he: there was no God formed before me, nor ſhall there be after me.

11. I my ſelf am the Lord, and there is no Saviour beſides me.

12. I declared, ſaved, and cauſed to hear, when there was no ſtrange one among you; and you are my Witneſſes, ſays the Lord, that I was God.

13. From that Time alſo I am he, and none delivers from my Power: I work, and who ſhall turn it back?

14. Thus ſays the Lord your Redeemer, the Holy One of Iſrael; For your ſake I ſend to Babylon, and bring down the Bars all of them, with the Chaldeans, their Noiſe in the Ships.

15. I am the Lord your Holy One, the Creator of Iſrael your King.

16. Thus ſays the Lord, who made a Way in the Sea, a Path in the ſtrong Waters;

17. Who brought forth the Chariot and Horſe, the Force and Strength: they lay down together, did not riſe up; were extinguiſhed, were quenched like Flax:

18. Do not remember former Things, nor conſider old Times.

19. Behold I will do a new Thing; now it ſhall ſpring forth, ſhall you not know it? I will even make a Way in the Wilderneſs, Rivers in the Deſart.

20. The Beaſt of the Field ſhall honour me, the Dragons and young Oſtriches; becauſe I give Waters in the Wilderneſs, Rivers in the Deſart, to make my People, my Choſen drink.

21. I have formed this People for my ſelf, they ſhall declare my Praiſe.

Ver. 3. give Egypt] The latter Part of the following Verſe evidently means the ſame, therefore both are to be conſidered together. Next Seba is known or allowed to be in Arabia, where we are to look for the other Country as adjacent, of which ſee Gen. ii. 13. By the Agreement of thoſe very Names, and the Matter ſpoken of, this appears to be the ſame with that in Chap. xlv. 14. which was plainly by the foregoing Verſe there about the Time of the Return from the Babylonian Captivity; conſequently this was too; nay do not the 5, 6, & 14 Verſes of this Chapter confirm it? Others interpret it of Sennacherib's invading thoſe Countries, and Judah's eſcaping by that means: but I imagine they did not conſider the laſt-mentioned Particulars, as pointing out a more coherent Senſe; beſides there is no Mention of that King's Wars with Cuſh and Seba, nor did his other Wars hinder him from going againſt Judah, which was alſo delivered in another Manner.

Ver. 4. Than] Since ſeems made to juſtify another Interpretation of the foregoing Ver.

Ver. 8. People] the Idols.

Ib. that has] This being ſing. in the Heb. and the Difference of Expreſſion very fine.

Ver. 9. former] See Chap. xli. 22.

Ver. 10. Servant] as I think Cyrus.

Ver. 13. From] the ſame as in Ver. 5, 6. not ſignifying before.

Ver. 14. Noiſe] It ſignifies rather Singing than Crying, from the Root to ſing, and may denote the Greatneſs of their Buſineſs and Jollity there. Poole interprets it by outcries as they flee away from the Perſians in Ships; whereas Cyrus turned the Water out of the River at Babylon, and got into the City at the Channel, as ſhewn on Jer. li. 36. ſo that he might have ſeized the Ships firſt if there had been Occaſion. The Aſſembly in their Annotations, being aware that the River was turned away, repreſent the Cry to be while they ſeek to flie away by ſhipping; but as they certainly would not get into the Ships for that Purpoſe, when they ſaw the Water gone, their Cry would be out of them. Such as this comes of commenting upon a Tranſlation, inſtead of the Original.

Ver. 16. a Way in the Sea] By there being no Sea at Babylon, nor Chariots and Horſes brought forth when it was taken, this appears not to be then; but a Commemoration of what God did at the Red Sea, which it particularly ſuits, as alſo with Ver. 18, 19. following: ſo is not, with the next or intermediate Verſe, to be rendered in the preſent and future Tenſe.

Ver. 19. a Way in the Wilderneſs] inſtead of that before in the Sea, Ver. 16.

Ver. 21. this People] the Chriſtians.

22. Whereas thou haſt not called upon me, O Jacob; for thou haſt been weary of me, O Iſrael.

23. Thou haſt not brought me the ſmall Cattle of thy Burnt-offerings, nor honoured me with thy Sacrifices: I have not cauſed thee to ſerve with a Preſent, nor made thee weary with Frankincenſe.

24. Thou haſt not bought me ſweet Cane with Money, nor filled me abundantly with the Fat of thy Sacrifices; but haſt cauſed me to ſerve with thy Sins, haſt made me weary with thy Iniquities,

25. I my ſelf am he who will blot out thy Tranſgreſſions for my own ſake, and not remember thy Sins.

26. Cauſe me to remember, let us come together to Judgment: do thou declare, that thou mayeſt be juſtified.

27. Thy firſt Father ſinned, and thy Interpreters tranſgreſſed againſt me.

28. So I profaned the Princes of the holy Place, and made Jacob a Curſe, and Iſrael Revilings.

CHAP. XLIV.

BUT now hear, Jacob my Servant, and Iſrael whom I have choſen.

2. Thus ſays the Lord thy Maker, and the Former of thee from the Womb, who will help thee: Do not fear, my Servant Jacob, and Jeſhurun whom I have choſen.

3. For I will pour forth Waters upon the Thirſty, and Brooks upon the dry Ground: I will pour forth my Spirit upon thy Poſterity, and my Bleſſing upon thy Offspring.

4. And they ſhall ſpring forth amongſt the Graſs, as Willows by the Rivers of Water.

5. One ſhall ſay, I am the Lord's, another call himſelf by the Name of Jacob, and another ſhall write with his Hand, The Lord's, and ſurname himſelf by the Name of Iſrael.

6. Thus ſays the Lord the King of Iſrael, and his Redeemer the Lord of Armies; I am the firſt, and I am the laſt, and there is no God beſides me.

7. Moreover who, like me, can call, declare, and ſet in order to me, ſince I placed the ancient People? And let thoſe declare to them the Things that approach, and ſuch as ſhall come.

8. Be you not in dread, nor afraid; have not I publiſhed to thee, and declared from that Time? And you are my Witneſſes: is there a God beſides me? There is even no Rock, I know none.

9. The Formers of a carved Image are all of them Emptineſs, and their deſirable Things do not profit: nay they are their own Witneſſes, that they do not ſee, nor know, that they may be aſhamed.

10. Whoever forms a god, and covers a carved Image, it is profitable for Nought.

11. Lo all his Companions ſhall be aſhamed, and the Artificers themſelves more than other Men: all of them ſhall gather themſelves, ſtand up, be in dread, be aſhamed together.

12. The Smith for the Ax, both works with the Coal, and forms it with the Hammers; as alſo works it with his ſtrong Arm, being even hungry, and of no Strength, drinking no Liquor, and being faint:

13. (The Carpenter ſtretches forth the Line, marks it out by the Rule, makes it with the Chiſels, marks it out with the Compaſſes; and makes it like the Shape of a Perſon, according to the Comelineſs of Man, to abide in the Houſe)

14. That he may cut him down Cedars; and he takes the Cypreſs and Oak, and fortifies himſelf with the Trees of the Wood: he plants an Aſh, and the Rain makes it grow up.

15. Then it is for Men to burn, and he takes ſome of them, and is warm; he even kindles it, and bakes Bread: he alſo makes a god, and bows down to it; makes it a carved Image, and worſhips them.

16. Half of it he burns in the Fire, upon half of it he eats Fleſh; he roaſts Meat, and is ſatisfied; he is alſo warm, and ſays, Ha, I am warm, I ſee the Fire.

Ver. 27. firſt Father] Adam.

Ver. 7. People] the Iſraelites, not Mankind at the Creation, the Heb. Word being ſingular, whereas it is frequently plural for People in general; and you are my Witneſſes from that Time in the next Verſe confirms it: yet Poole and Lowth both have it doubtful which is meant; and the Aſſembly expound them to be the Elect, as if they were more ancient than others.

Ib. thoſe] the pretended gods.

Ver. 8. Rock] no other god that is ſo.

Ver. 10. Whoever] or Who indefinite, which muſt appear preferable to Who interrogative, the Heb. ſignifying either.

Ib. covers] as Chap. xl. 19.

Ver. 11. more than] thus Jun. and Trem. render magis quam, and Grot. præ cæteris, more than others.

Ver. 12. Ax] according to Pagn. Mont. Munſt. and Grot. nay as in Jer. x. iii. where this Word only is beſides; and the Image here deſcribed a wooden one.

Ver. 13. Line] which may be ſtretched out, rather than a Rule; ſee alſo Grot. So this Word is tranſlated in the com. Bibl. Chap. xxviii. 10, 13, 17. & xxxiv. 11, 17. and joined with the ſame Verb, Job xxxviii. 5, Lam. ii. 8. Zech. i. 16. nor is it turned rule any where elſe. The other Word is found but this once.

Ver. 14. That he may cut] or to cut; for ſo the Heb. is, and thus agrees with Ax in Ver. 12.

17. And the Reſidue of it he makes a god, his carved Image: he worſhips it, bows down to it, prays to it, and ſays, Deliver me, for thou art my god.

18. They do not know, nor underſtand: for it covers over their Eyes from ſeeing, their Hearts from conſidering.

19. And he does not recall to Mind, neither is there Knowledge, nor Underſtanding to ſay, Half of it have I burnt in the Fire, and have alſo baked Bread upon the Coals of it, I have roaſted Fleſh, and eat; and I make the reſt of it an Abomination, worſhip the Growth of a Tree.

20. He feeds on Aſhes, a deluded Heart turns him aſide; ſo that he does not deliver his Soul, nor ſay, Is there not Falſehood in my right Hand?

21. Remember theſe Things, O Jacob and Iſrael, for thou art my Servant: I have formed thee, thou art a Servant to me, O Iſrael, thou ſhalt not be forgot by me.

22. I aboliſh thy Tranſgreſſions as a thick Cloud, and thy Sins like a common one: return to me, for I redeem thee.

23. Sing, O Heavens, for the Lord does it; ſhout you lower Places of the Earth; break out, O Mountains, into Singing, the Wood and every Tree in it: for the Lord redeems Jacob, and glorifies himſelf in Iſrael.

24. Thus ſays the Lord thy Redeemer, and the Former of thee from the Womb; I am the Lord, who made all Things, ſtretched out the Heaven alone, ſpread forth the Earth of my ſelf;

25. He who fruſtrates the Signs of the falſe Deviſers, and makes the Diviners mad, turns the Wiſe back, and cauſes their Knowledge to be fooliſh;

26. Who makes the Word of his Servant ſtand, and will perform the Counſel of his Meſſengers; who ſays to Jeruſalem, Thou ſhalt be inhabited; and to the Cities of Judah, You ſhall be built up, and I will raiſe up the waſte Places of it;

27. Who ſays to the Depth, Be waſted away, and I will dry up thy Rivers;

28. Who ſays of Cyrus, He is my Shepherd, and ſhall perform all my Will; even ſaying to Jeruſalem, Thou ſhalt be built up; and to the Temple, Thou ſhalt be founded.

CHAP. XLV.

THUS ſays the Lord to his anointed one, namely Cyrus, whoſe right Hand I take hold of, to ſubdue the Nations before him, and that I may let looſe the Loins of Kings; to open the Doors before him, and that the Gates may not be ſhut up:

2. I will go before thee, and make the crooked Places ſtraight; will break the Doors of Braſs, and cut off the Bars of Iron.

3. So will I give thee the Treaſures of Darkneſs, and the Things laid up in hidden Places; in order for thee to know that I the Lord, who call thee by Name, am the God of Iſrael.

4. For the ſake of my Servant Jacob, and Iſrael my choſen one, I even call thee by thy Name, I ſurname thee, though thou doſt not know me;

5. I am the Lord, and there is none elſe, there is no God excepting my ſelf: I will gird thee, though thou doſt not know me;

6. In order that they may know from the Riſing of the Sun, and from the Weſt, that there is none beſides me: I am the Lord, and there is none elſe.

7. The Former of Light, and Creator of Darkneſs, the Maker of Peace, and Creator of Harm; I the Lord am the Doer of all theſe.

8. Diſtil, O Heavens, from above, and let the Skies flow down with Righteouſneſs; let the Earth open, and let them be fruitful with Salvation, and let Righteouſneſs ſpring forth together: I the Lord have created it.

9. Wo be to him that contends with the Former of himſelf; let an earthen Veſſel with the earthen Veſſels of the Ground: ſhall the Clay ſay to the Former of it, What doſt thou make? or thy Work, He has no Hands.

10. Wo be to him that ſays to a Father, What haſt thou begot? Or to the Woman, What haſt thou brought forth?

11. Thus ſays the Lord, the Holy One of Iſrael, and his Former; Aſk of me Things

Ver. 17. a god] It is related that one Phidias having made a Statue or Image of Minerva, Stilpo the Philoſopher aſked whether Minerva the Daughter of Jupiter was a goddeſs? And being told Yes; made Reply, But that is not the Daughter of Jupiter, but of Phidias, therefore no goddeſs, Diog. Laert. in his Life. A noble Teſtimony for a Heathen, againſt the Religion of his own Country!

Ver. 18. it] Idolatry as before deſcribed; not [he] to wit God, as our Tranſ. render, and Poole expounds it.

Ver. 22. Tranſgreſſions] greater than common Sins, Pſa. xix. 13. & xxxii. 1. & lix. 3. xxxvi. 1.

Ib. as a thick Cloud] which, notwithſtanding its Appearance, ſoon evaporates away; but does not ſuit well with blotted out. This I preſer of the ſeveral Interpretations put on it.

Ver. 26. his Servant] Iſaiah himſelf.

Ver. 27. dry up] See Jer. li. 36.

Ver. 1. let looſe the Loins of Kings] diſrobe them; the Apparel of thoſe Times and Countries being faſtened on with Girdles, Lev. viii. 7. Job. xii. 18.

Ver. 2. Braſs] the City of Babylon having a hundred ſuch Gates; ſee the Note on Dan. iv. 30.

Ver. 7. Harm] Puniſhment for Sin.

to come, concerning my Children and the Work of my Hands command me.

12. I made the Earth, and created Man upon it: I, even my Hands, ſtretched out the Heaven, and I commanded all that belonged to it.

13. I will ſtir one up in Righteouſneſs, and make all his Ways right: he ſhall build up my City, and ſend away my Captives, not for Price nor Gift, ſays the Lord of Armies.

14. Thus ſays the Lord; The Labour of Egypt, and Merchandice of Cuſh and the Sebaïtes, huge Perſons, ſhall paſs to thee; and they ſhall be thine, ſhall go after thee, ſhall paſs in Chains: nay they ſhall bow down to thee, make ſupplication to thee, ſaying, Certainly God is in thee, and there is none elſe, no other God.

15. Surely thou waſt a God who hiddeſt thy ſelf, O God of Iſrael, the Saviour.

16. They will be aſhamed, and alſo put to confuſion all of them: the Artificers of the painful Idols will go to confuſion together.

17. Iſrael will be ſaved through the Lord, with the Salvation of Ages: they will not be aſhamed, nor put to confuſion for eternal Ages.

18. For thus ſays the Lord, the Creator of the Heaven, God himſelf the Former of the Earth and Maker of it, he who eſtabliſhed it, did not create it in vain, formed it to be inhabited; I am the Lord, and there is none elſe.

19. I have not ſpoken in Secret, in a dark Place of the Earth, have not ſaid to the Offſpring of Jacob in vain, Seek me: I the Lord ſpeak Righteouſneſs, declare upright Things.

20. Gather, and come, and get your ſelves nigh together, you who are eſcaped of the Nations: thoſe do not know who lift up the Wood of their carved Image, and pray to a god that cannot ſave.

21. Declare, and bring nigh, let them alſo take counſel together: who has publiſhed this from old Time, has declared it from then? Have not I the Lord? And there is no God beſides me, a righteous God, and a Saviour, there is none excepting my ſelf.

22. Look to me, and be ſaved, all you Limits of the Earth: for I am God, and there is none elſe.

23. I have ſworn by my ſelf, the Word is gone out of my Mouth in Righteouſneſs, and ſhall not come back; that to me every Knee ſhall bow, every Tongue ſwear.

24. Certainly through the Lord, ſhall it be aſſerted, have I Righteouſneſs and Strength: to him ſhall there be coming, and all that are incenſed againſt him ſhall be aſhamed.

25. Through the Lord ſhall the whole Offſpring of Iſrael be juſtified, and ſhall glory.

CHAP. XLVI.

BELL bends, Nebo ſtoops; their Images are on the Beaſts and Cattle: your Things that are carried, are loaded up, are a Burden to the tired one.

2. They ſtoop, they bend together, they cannot deliver the Burden; but go themſelves into Captivity.

3. Hearken to me, O Family of Jacob, and all the Reſidue of the Family of Iſrael, that are loaded up from the Belly, carried from the Womb.

4. To old Age alſo I am he, and to grey Hairs I bear: I make, and I carry, as likewiſe I bear and deliver.

5. To whom will you liken me, make equal, and compare me, that we may be alike?

6. They ſquander Gold out of the Bag, and weigh Silver on the Balance: they hire a Goldſmith, and he makes it a god: they worſhip, even bow down.

7. They carry him upon the Shoulder, bear him, and cauſe him to reſt in his Seat; and he ſtands, without removing from his Place: each of them alſo cries to him, but he does not anſwer, ſaves him not from his Diſtreſs.

8. Remember this, and ſhew your ſelves Men; bring it again to Mind, O Tranſgreſſors.

9. Remember the former Things long ago: for I am God, and there is none elſe; the God, and there is none like me:

Ver. 14. The Labour of Egypt] the Product of the Egyptians Labour. As the preceding Verſe ſhews to what Period of Time this belongs, thoſe Places and People were within a few Years of it conquered by the Perſians, who freed the Jews from Captivity; and the latter perhaps not only aſſiſted the Perſians in the Conqueſt of thoſe Countries, but had a Superiority over them afterwards, as alſo a Tribute from thence according to Ezr. i. 4. & vi. 8, 9. & vii. 21, 22. and ſome might be proſelyted to the Belief of the true God and Religion; all which might contribute to the fulfilling of this Verſe. Yet it may be allowed a final Accompliſhment by the Goſpel Converſion.

ginning, and the Things which are not done from old Time; who ſay, My Counſel ſhall ſtand, and I will do all my Will;

11. Who call a Bird from the Eaſt, the Man of my Counſel from a Country far off: I have both ſpoken, and will bring it to paſs; I have formed, I will alſo do it.

12. Hearken to me, you Stout-hearted, who are far off from Righteouſneſs.

13. I have brought my Righteouſneſs near, it ſhall not be far off, nor ſhall my Salvation ſtay; and I will put Salvation in Zion, for Iſrael my Glory.

CHAP. XLVII.

COME down, and ſit in the Duſt, O Virgin Daughter of Babylon, ſit on the Ground; there is no Throne, O Daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou ſhalt no more have People call thee tender and delicate.

2. Take the Mill, and grind Meal; uncover thy Locks, make the Path bare, uncover the Leg, paſs through the Rivers.

3. Thy Nakedneſs ſhall be uncovered, thy Reproach alſo be ſeen: I will take vengeance, and not meet like Man;

4. Even our Redeemer, whoſe Name is the Lord of Armies, the Holy One of Iſrael.

5. Sit ſilent, and enter into Darkneſs, O Daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou ſhalt no more have People call thee the Miſtreſs of Kingdoms.

6. I was in a Wrath againſt my People, made profane my Poſſeſſion, and delivered them into thy Power; who didſt ſhew no compaſſions to them, madeſt thy Yoke very heavy upon the Ancient.

7. Nay thou haſt boaſted, I ſhall be Miſtreſs for ever; while thou didſt not lay theſe Things to thy Heart, didſt not remember the End of it.

8. Now therefore hear this, that art ſhe who dwells ſecurely with Pleaſure, who ſays in her Heart, I am, and there is none elſe but me; I ſhall not ſit a Widow, nor know Loſs of Children.

9. Whereas theſe two Things ſhall come to thee at an Inſtant in one Day, Loſs of Children and Widowhood: according to their Perfection ſhall they come upon thee, for the Multitude of thy Witchcrafts, for the Strength of thy Enchantments ſo much.

10. For thou haſt truſted in thy Wickedneſs, haſt fancied none ſees thee; thy Wiſdom and Knowledge it ſelf turned thee away: and thou haſt ſaid in thy Heart, I am, and there is none elſe but I.

11. Therefore ſhall Evil come upon thee, which thou knoweſt not the Riſe of; and Calamity fall upon thee, which thou canſt not pacify; nay Waſting ſhall come upon thee ſuddenly, that thou knoweſt not of.

12. Stand up now in thy Enchantments, and in the Multitude of thy Witchcrafts, wherein thou haſt laboured from thy Youth; if perhaps thou canſt profit, if perhaps thou ſhalt be terrible.

13. Thou art wearied in the Multitude of thy Counſels: let the Obſervers of the Heaven, the Lookers on the Stars, thoſe that make known concerning the Months ſtand up now, and ſave thee from the Things which ſhall come upon thee.

14. Behold they ſhall be like Stubble, the Fire ſhall burn them, they ſhall not deliver themſelves from the Power of the Flame: there ſhall not be a Coal to warm, a Fire to ſit before it.

15. So ſhall they be to thee with whom thou haſt laboured: thy Merchants from thy Youth ſhall ſtray to their ſeveral Paſſages, none ſhall ſave thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

HEAR this, O Family of Jacob, who are called by the Name of Iſrael, and came forth from the Waters of Judah; who ſwear by the Name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Iſrael, neither in Truth nor Righteouſneſs:

2. Though they are called thoſe of the holy City, and lean upon the God of Iſrael; whoſe Name is the Lord of Armies.

Ver. 11. a Bird] Cyrus, who ſhould come ſwiftly and eaſily; and ravenous does not ſeem a proper Epithet to add. Pope Sixtus in his Bibles has, the juſt one, but arbitrarily.

3. I declared the former Things at that Time, they came out of my Mouth, and I publiſhed them; I did them ſuddenly, and they came to paſs:

4. By reaſon I know that thou waſt ſtubborn, thy Neck being like a Sinew of Iron, and thy Forehead Braſs.

5. So I declared to thee at that Time, publiſhed to thee before it came; leſt thou ſhouldeſt pretend, My idol did them, and my carved and molten Image commanded them.

6. Thou haſt heard, look on all of it; and will you not declare it? I publiſh to thee at preſent Things new and kept, which thou haſt not known.

7. They are created now, and not at that Time, or before this Day, and thou haſt not heard them; leſt thou ſhouldeſt ſay, Behold I knew them.

8. Thou haſt even not heard, even not known, even thy Ear was not opened at that Time: for I know that thou art throughly treacherous, and haſt been called a Tranſgreſſor from the Womb.

9. For the ſake of my Name I will delay my Anger, and for my Praiſe will I cloſe up towards thee; without cutting thee off.

10. I try thee indeed, but not with Silver: I chooſe thee in the Furnace of Affliction.

11. For my own ſake, my very own ſake I do it; for how ſhould it be profaned? And I will not give my Glory to another.

12. Hearken to me, O Jacob, and Iſrael my called one; I am he, I am the firſt, I alſo am the laſt.

13. My Hand too founded the Earth, and my right Hand palmed the Heaven: I calling to them, they ſtood up together.

14. Be gathered together, all of you, and hear; who among them has declared theſe Things? The Lord loves one that ſhall do his Will on Babylon, and his Arm will be on the Chaldeans.

15. I my ſelf ſpeak, do alſo call him, bring him, and he ſhall make his Way proſperous.

16. Come near to me, hear this; I have not ſpoken in Secret from the Beginning, I have been there from the Time that it was: and now the Sovereign Lord and his Spirit ſends me.

17. Thus ſays the Lord thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Iſrael; I the Lord thy God make thee learn to profit, cauſe thee to go in the Way thou ſhouldeſt walk.

18. Oh that thou wouldeſt hearken to my Commandments! then ſhould thy Peace be like a River, and thy Righteouſneſs like the Waves of the Sea:

19. Nay thy Poſterity ſhould be like the Sand, and the Offspring of thy Bowels like the Gravel of it; its Name ſhould not be cut off, nor deſtroyed from before me.

20. Go out of Babylon, flee from the Chaldeans with the Voice of Singing; declare, publiſh this, make it go forth to the End of the Earth: ſay, The Lord has redeemed his Servant Jacob.

21. And they were not thirſty in the waſte Places in which he cauſed them to walk, he made the Water flow to them from the Rock; cleaving the Rock, ſo that the Water guſhed out.

22. The Wicked, ſays the Lord, have no Peace.

CHAP. XLIX.

HEARKEN to me, O Iſles, and liſten, O People far off; the Lord called me from the Womb, made mention of my Name from my Mother's Bowels.

2. And he made my Mouth like a ſharp Sword, he hid me in the Shelter of his Hand; and made me a bright Arrow, concealed me in his Quiver.

3. Moreover he ſaid to me, Thou art my Servant, an Iſraelite by whom I will be glorified.

4. To which I anſwered, I having laboured in vain, conſumed my Might for Emptineſs and Vanity; ſurely my Judgment is with the Lord, and my Work with my God.

5. And now ſays the Lord, who formed me from the Womb for a Servant of his, to bring back Jacob to him, and Iſrael that is not gathered; ſo ſhall I be honoured in the Sight of the Lord, and my God will be my Strength;

Ver. 3. that Time] Heb. then; the ſame as in Ver. 8. and different from that in Ver. 16.

Ver. 6. will you not] Grotius following the vulg. Lat. which has [not] left out, and putting can inſtead of will, aſcribes it to the Idolaters; in which Manner any Thing may be made to have a quite contrary Meaning: as here the Power of performing the Deed, is aſcribed to the People (if not other People) as Idolaters; when it ſhould be the Will or Deed it ſelf, to them as Iſraelites, Ver. 1.

Ver. 14. one] Cyrus, as Chap. xlv. 13.

Ver. 16. I] namely, the Lord, as Ver. 3, 5. Ch. xlv. 19.

Ib. ſends me] Iſaiah himſelf.

Ver. 19. its] thy Poſterity's.

Ver. 1. me] Jeſus Chriſt, whom Iſaiah perſonates.

Ver. 3. an Iſraelite] for it is evident not to be ſpoken to the People Iſrael, Ver. 5, 6.

Ver. 5. and Iſrael] as the Connection is between Jacob and this in the next Verſe; and which the great Heb. Partition being at gathered, and not at him, favours: thus Caſtal. renders, et Iſraelitas ei allegendos, and to gather the Iſraelites to him; and De Dieu I find ſince juſt as I do, et Iſraelem qui non colligitur.

6. He even ſays, It is too light for thee to be a Servant to me, to raiſe up the Tribes of Jacob, and bring back the preſerved of Iſrael; ſo I will put thee for the Light of the Nations, and to be my Salvation to the End of the Earth.

7. Thus ſays the Lord the Redeemer of Iſrael, the Holy One of it, to him whom Perſons deſpiſe, the Nation abhors, a Servant of Governors; Kings ſhall ſee, and riſe up, Princes, and ſhall bow down; by reaſon of the Lord that is faithful, the Holy One of Iſrael, who will chooſe thee.

8. Thus ſays the Lord; I anſwer thee in the Time of Favour, and help thee on the Day of Salvation: nay I will keep thee, and put thee for the Covenant of the People, to eſtabliſh the Earth, to cauſe to poſſeſs the deſolate Poſſeſſions;

9. To ſay to the Priſoners, Come forth; to thoſe who are in Darkneſs, Diſcover your ſelves: they ſhall feed on the Ways, and their Paſture ſhall be in all high Places.

10. They ſhall not be hungry nor thirſty, neither ſhall the Heat nor Sun ſmite them: for he who has compaſſion upon them will guide them, and lead them gently by the Springs of Water.

11. Beſides I will make all my Mountains a Way, and my High-ways ſhall be exalted.

12. Behold ſome ſhall come from far, behold ſome from the North and the Sea, and others from the Country of the Sinites.

13. Sing, O Heaven, rejoice, O Earth, and break out, you Mountains, in ſinging; becauſe the Lord has comforted his People, and had compaſſion upon his afflicted ones.

14. Notwithſtanding Zion ſays, The Lord has forſaken me, and my Lord forgot me:

15. Does a Woman forget her Babe, not to have compaſſion upon the Child of her Womb? Even forget as theſe may, I will not forget thee.

16. Lo I have engraved thee upon the Palms of my Hands; thy Walls are before me continually.

17. Thy Children ſhall make haſte; thoſe who deſtroy thee, and cauſe thee to be waſte, ſhall go out of thee.

18. Look up round about, and ſee; all of them are gathered together, they are coming to thee: By my living, ſays the Lord, thou ſhalt put them all on like an Ornament, and tie them on as a Bride does.

19. Though there have been thy waſte and deſolate Places, and the Country of thy Deſtruction; yet now thou ſhalt be too narrow for the Inhabitants, and they ſhall be far off who devoured thee.

20. The Children when thou haſt been deſtitute, ſhall yet ſay in thy Hearing, The Place is narrow for me, make me Room that I may inhabit.

21. And thou ſhalt ſay in thy Heart, Who begot me theſe, I being deprived of Children, and ſolitary? I was a Captive, and one gone away, who then bred up theſe? Lo I being left alone, theſe where were they?

22. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I will lift up my Hand to the Nations, and raiſe my Standard to the People: at which they ſhall bring thy Sons in the Arms, and thy Daughters ſhall be lifted up on the Shoulders.

23. Nay Kings ſhall be thy Nouriſhers, and their Princeſſes thy Nurſes; they ſhall bow down to thee with the Face to the Ground, and lick up the Duſt of thy Feet: thus ſhalt thou know that I am the Lord; for whom they that wait ſhall not be aſhamed.

24. May the Prey be taken from the Powerful? Or will the juſt Captivity be delivered?

25, Yet thus ſays the Lord; Even the Captivity of the Powerful ſhall be taken, and the Prey of the Violent be delivered: for I will contend with him who contends with thee, and will ſave thy Children.

26. Making thy Oppreſſors eat their own Fleſh, and they ſhall be drunk with their own Blood as with new Wine: ſo all Fleſh ſhall know that I am the Lord thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the Strong One of Jacob.

CHAP. L.

THUS ſays the Lord; Where is the Writing of your Mother's Divorce, whom I have ſent away; Or which of my Creditors is it to whom I have ſold you? Lo ye were ſold by your own Iniquities, and your Mother was ſent away by your own Tranſgreſſions.

Ver. 6. too—for] which ב here ſignifies.

Ver. 7. to him] Chriſt Jeſus.

Ib. a Servant] to wit a Subject, inſtead of being a Governor himſelf; which Expreſſion De Dieu ſeemed to think did not agree to Chriſt.

Ver. 15. Does] for Can ſignifies ſhe cannot, contrary to may which follows.

Ver. 20. yet] rather than again, as Poole obſerves.

Ib. narrow] as too was left out Ver. 6. ſo it is here put in wrongly in the vulg. Tranſ.

Ver. 23. for whom] for which ſee L. de Dieu's Animad. and certainly it ſhould not be turned for, the caſual Conjunction.

Ver. 24. May] Can ſuch great Deliverance be wrought?

2. Why

2. Why when I came, was there no Man? When I called, did none anſwer? Is my Hand at all diminiſhed from redeeming? And is there not Strength in me to deliver? Behold with my Rebuke I dry up the Sea, I make the Rivers a Wilderneſs; their Fiſh ſtinks, and dies with Thirſt, becauſe there is no Water.

3. I cloath the Heaven with Gloomineſs, and make Sackcloth its Covering.

4. The Sovereign Lord gives me the Tongue of Scholars, to know how to ſpeak a Word ſeaſonably to the Faint: he awakes Morning by Morning, awakes my Ear to hear like Scholars.

5. The Sovereign Lord opens my Ear, and I do not rebel; am not turned back.

6. I give my Body to thoſe who ſmite, and my Cheeks to ſuch as pluck off the Hair: I do not hide my Face from Confuſion, and Spitting.

7. However the Sovereign Lord helps me, therefore I am not put to confuſion; therefore I ſet my Face like a Flint, and know that I ſhall not be aſhamed.

8. He that juſtifies me is near; Who will contend with me? Let us ſtand up together: Who has a Trial with me? Let him approach to me.

9. Behold the Sovereign Lord helps me; who is it ſhall condemn me? Lo all of them will decay like a Garment, the Moth will eat them.

10. Whoever among you fears the Lord, hearkens to what his Servant ſays; who walks in Darkneſs, and to whom there is no Shining: let him truſt in the Name of the Lord, and depend on his God.

11. Lo all of you who light a Fire, who ſurround the Sparks; Go by the Burning of your Fire, and by the Sparks ye kindle: from my Miniſtry here is this for you, that ye ſhall lie down with Grief.

CHAP. LI.

HEARKEN to me, you who follow Righteouſneſs, who ſeek the Lord; look to the Rock you were cut from, and to the Cavity of the Pit you were dug out of.

2. Look to Abraham your Father, and to Sarah who bore you: for I called him alone, bleſſed him, and multiplied him.

3. For the Lord will comfort Zion, will comfort all its waſte Places, and make its Wilderneſs like Eden, and its Deſart like the Garden of the Lord: Joy and Gladneſs ſhall be found in it, Thankſgiving and the Voice of a Pſalm.

4. Attend to me, my People; and, my Nation, give ear to me: for a Law ſhall go forth from me, and I will cauſe my Judgment to reſt for the Light of the People.

5. My Righteouſneſs is near, my Salvation goes forth, and my Arms ſhall judge the People: the Iſles ſhall wait for me, and hope for my Arm.

6. Look up to the Heaven, and behold on the Earth that is under; though the Heaven ſhall vaniſh away like Smoak, the Earth decay like a Garment, and thoſe who inhabit it die even ſo; yet my Salvation ſhall be for ever, and my Righteouſneſs not be broken.

7. Hearken to me, you that know Righteouſneſs, the People in whoſe Heart is my Law: do not fear the Reproach of Man, nor be daunted by their Revilings.

8. For the Moth ſhall eat them like a Garment, as ſhall the Worm like Wool; whereas my Righteouſneſs ſhall be for ever, and my Salvation to the lateſt Age.

9. Awake, awake, put on Strength, O Arm of the Lord: awake as in Days of old Time, the Ages long ago: art not thou the ſame that cut Rahab, that made the Dragon in Anguiſh?

10. Art not thou the ſame that dried up the Sea, the Waters of the great Gulf? That made the Depths of the Sea a Way for the Ranſomed to paſs?

11. So the Redeemed of the Lord ſhall return, and come to Zion with Singing, and everlaſting Gladneſs upon their Head: they ſhall obtain Joy and Gladneſs, Sorrow and Sighing ſhall flee away.

12. I my ſelf am he who will comfort you: who art thou, that thou ſhouldeſt be in fear of Man who ſhall die, and of the Son of Man who ſhall be made like Graſs;

13. And ſhouldeſt forget the Lord thy Maker, the Stretcher out of the Heaven, and Founder of the Earth; and be in dread continually every Day by reaſon of the Wrath of him that ſtreightens, according as he is prepared to deſtroy? And where is the Wrath of him that ſtreightens?

14. The Ranger makes haſte to be releaſed, that he may not die in the Pit, nor want his Bread.

15. But I am the Lord thy God, who cleaved the Sea, when the Waves of it were

Ver. 7. However] For being improper here, as well as leſs ſignified by the Heb. Conjunction.

Ver. 11. ſurround the Sparks] for People uſe to get round a Fire, and not have a Fire round them.

Ver. 9. Awake, awake] So we repeat the Imperative, as Come, come, &c.

Ver. 13. to deſtroy?] being a ſingle Queſtion, by Jun. and Trem. to look no further, with who art, &c. in the foregoing Verſe, which may vindicate itſelf.

tumultuous;

tumultuous; whoſe Name is the Lord of Armies.

16. And I will put my Words into thy Mouth, and cover thee in the Shelter of my Hand; to plant the Heaven, and found the Earth, and ſay to Zion, Thou art my People.

17. Awake thy ſelf, awake thy ſelf, riſe up, O Jeruſalem, who drinkeſt from the Hand of the Lord the Cup of his Wrath, that drinkeſt the Dregs of the Cup of Horror, wringing them out.

18. There is no Leader for her of all the Sons whom ſhe bore, and none who takes hold of her Hand of all the Sons that ſhe bred up.

19. Thoſe two Things are befallen thee; who bemoans thee? Waſting and Breaking, even Famine and Sword; By whom ſhall I comfort thee?

20. Thy Sons are fainted, they lie in the Top of all the Streets, like a wild Bull in a Net: they are filled with the Wrath of the Lord, the Rebuke of thy God.

21. Therefore now hear this, O afflicted, and drunken one, but not with Wine.

22. Thus ſays thy Sovereign Lord, and thy God, who contends for his People; Behold I will take the Cup of Horror out of thy Hand, the Dregs of the Cup of my Wrath, thou ſhalt drink it again no more.

23. And I will put it into the Hand of thoſe that make thee ſorrowful, who ſay to thee thy ſelf, Bow down, that we may go over; then thou layeſt thy Body as the Ground, and like the Street to them who paſs over.

CHAP. LII.

AWAKE, awake, put on thy Strength, O Zion; put on the Garments of thy Glory, O Jeruſalem the holy City: for the Uncircumciſed and Unclean ſhall come into thee again no more.

2. Shake thy ſelf from the Duſt, ariſe, ſit up, O Jeruſalem: releaſe thy ſelf from the Bonds of thy Neck, O captive Daughter of Zion.

3. For thus ſays the Lord, You are ſold for Nothing, and you ſhall be redeemed without Money.

4. For thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, My People went down to Egypt, formerly to ſojourn there, and Aſſyria has oppreſſed them, for Nought.

5. And now what have I here? ſays the Lord, for my People are taken for Nothing: their Governors cauſe to lament, ſays the Lord, and continually every Day is my Name contemned.

6. Therefore my People ſhall know my Name, even at the ſame Time that I am he who ſpeak, behold I my ſelf.

7. How beautiful upon the Mountains will be the Feet of him who preaches, who publiſhes Peace, preaches Good, publiſhes Salvation, who ſays to Zion, Thy God reigns!

8. Thy Watchmen will raiſe up the Voice, with the Voice will ſing together: for they will ſee Eye to Eye, when the Lord brings back Zion.

9. Break out, ſing together, you waſte Places of Jeruſalem: for the Lord will comfort his People, will redeem Jeruſalem.

10. The Lord will make bare his holy Arm, in the Sight of all the Nations; and all the Limits of the Earth ſhall ſee the Salvation of our God.

11. Depart, depart, go forth from thence, do not touch the Unclean: go forth from within it, be pure, you who carry the Lord's Things.

12. For you ſhall not go forth in Haſte, nor go in Flight; ſince the Lord will go before you, and the God of Iſrael be your Rearguard.

13. Behold my Servant ſhall proſper: he ſhall be exalted, advanced, and be very high.

Ver. 17. Awake thy ſelf] as the Heb. is here.

Ver. 18. Leader] By the Septuag. Symmachus, and Targum, Comforter, wrong interpreting נחל by נחם as the former of the three alſo do, in Chap. xl. 11. Exod. xv. 13.

Ver. 19. even] being waſted by Famine, and deſtroyed by the Sword, the two Things here mentioned; whereas in the com. Tranſ. there are four. And thus I ſince find Grotius expounding it, viz. Hæc duo ſunt fames & cædes; ſed utrumque bis nominat: idem enim ſunt vaſtitas & fames; item contritio & gladius. Theſe two Things are Famine and Slaughter; but he names each of them twice: for Waſting and Famine are the ſame, as alſo Deſtruction and the Sword. But Jun. and Trem. put them tranſverſely. Inſtead of even, Pagn. has ſeu, or; and Munſt. hoc eſt, that is.

Ver. 20. Net] made probably, to catch ſuch wild Beaſts as would not gnaw it aſunder, of Ropes; as now of Twine for Rabbits in Warrens.

Ver. 23. ſelf] as undoubtedly the Meaning is; and how does ſoul ſort with body, nay be the ſame?

Ver. 2. ſit up] from lying in the Duſt; and concordant with ariſe.

Ver. 4. Nought] God had or got Nothing of either of thoſe Nations for this. Thus the Heb. ſignifies, and is rendered by Pagn. with Jun. and Trem. pro nihilo; which the latter expound ſine pretio, without Price.

Ver. 5. here] He had no more of the Chaldeans for his People, than he had of the others, even Nothing at all, and beſides was contemned by them; therefore he would bring them back from Captivity, Ver. 6, 8. The [therefore] and [that] in the com. Tranſ. of this Verſe, ſeem each of them to ſpoil the Senſe.

Ver. 10. make bare] as the right Arm was for War or other Buſineſs, by turning up the Veſt, according to the Figure of Heroes in the ancient Medals and Statues.

Ver. 12. in Haſte] as they did from Egypt, Exod. xii. 33, 39.

Ver. 13. my Servant] Jeſus Chriſt.

Ib. advanced] extolled, being praiſed or celebrated, this Heb. Word, though very much uſed, I preſume never ſignifies.

14. As many are aſtoniſhed at thee, ſo disfigured is his Appearance more than a Man, and his Form more than Mankind;

15. So ſhall he ſprinkle many Nations, the Kings ſhall ſhut up their Mouth at him: for that which has not been told them they ſhall ſee, and what they have not heard ſhall they underſtand.

CHAP. LIII.

WHO believes our Report? And to whom is the Arm of the Lord revealed?

2. For he grows up before him as a Sprout, and like a Root out of dry Ground; he has neither Shape nor Comelineſs: and when we ſee him, there is no Appearance that we ſhould deſire him.

3. He is one deſpiſed and ſhunned of Men, a Man of Griefs, and who knows Illneſs; and as it were hiding of the Face by us, being deſpiſed, and we not eſteeming him.

4. Surely he carries our Illneſs, and bears our very Griefs; yet we eſteem him ſtriken, ſmitten of God, and afflicted.

5. Whereas he is pierced for our Tranſgreſſions, bruiſed for our Iniquities: the Correction of our Peace is upon him, and by his Sore are we healed.

6. All of us have ſtrayed like Sheep, we have turned each one to his own Way; and the Lord cauſes the Iniquity of us all to meet on him.

7. Exacted upon, and afflicted as he is, he does not open his Mouth: like a Lamb is he brought to the Slaughter, and is dumb as a Sheep before her Shearers, without opening his Mouth.

8. He is taken from Reſtraint and Judgment; yet who can tell his Generation, though he is cut off from the Country of the Living, being ſtriken for the Tranſgreſſion of my People?

9. Moreover he makes his Grave with the Wicked, and with the Rich at his Death: for no Wrong that he does, nor Deceit being in his Mouth.

10. But the Lord is pleaſed to bruiſe him, he cauſes him to be ill: though thou makeſt his Life a Sacrifice for Guilt, he will ſee an Offspring, will have the Time long, and the Pleaſure of the Lord will proſper in his Hand.

11. From the Labour of his Soul that he ſees he will be ſatisfied: my righteous Servant will make many righteous by his Knowledge; as he will bear their Iniquities.

12. Therefore will I divide to him for many, and he ſhall divide the Spoil with the Strong; foraſmuch as he pours out his Soul to Death, and is numbered with Tranſgreſſors: for he carries the Sin of many, and interceeds for the Tranſgreſſors.

CHAP. LIV.

SING, O barren one, who doſt not bear; break out in Singing and ſhout joyfully, thou that doſt not bring forth: for the Children of the Deſolate ſhall be more than thoſe of the married one, ſays the Lord.

2. Enlarge the Place of thy Tent, and let them ſtretch out the Curtains of thy Tabernacles, do not with-hold: lengthen thy Cords, and make thy Pins ſtrong.

3. For thou ſhalt break out at the right Hand and the left; thy Offspring inheriting the Nations, and they ſhall make the deſolate Cities be inhabited.

4. Do not fear, ſince thou ſhalt not be aſhamed; and be not confounded, ſince thou ſhalt not bluſh: for thou ſhalt forget the Shame of thy Youth, and remember the Reproach of thy Widowhood no more.

5. For thy Maker is thy Huſband, whoſe Name is the Lord of Armies; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Iſrael, who is ſtyled the God of the whole Earth.

6. For the Lord calls thee, as a Wife left and grieved in Spirit, and a Wife of Youth who haſt been rejected, ſays thy God.

Ver. 3. Illneſs] Affliction of Body or Mind, Mat. iv. 1, 2. & viii. 20. Joh. xi. 33, 35. Mat. xxvi. 38. Luk. xxii. 44. Mat. xxvii. 46. the Heb. Word more ſtrictly denotes Sickneſs or Diſeaſe.

Ver. 3, 4. eſteem] This Word here nicely anſwers to the Heb. one in the double Meaning of value or regard, and think or count.

Ver. 4. he] See the fulfilling of this, Mat. viii. 16, 17.

Ver. 8. Reſtraint] while he was had to Annas, Caiaphas, Pilate, Herod, and back to Pilate again, who ſentenced him to Death, Joh. xviii 13, 24, 28, 29. Luk. xxiii. 7, 11, 24.

Ib. Rich] Joſeph of Arimathea, Mat. xxvii. 57, 60. Accordingly the Heb. Word for Rich is ſingular, as that for Wicked is plural.

Ib. Death] The Original is Deaths; Jeſus being both crucified, and pierced to the Heart with a Spear, from whence the Water came, Joh. xix. 18, 34.

Ib. for no] agreeable with the ſame Conjunction of thoſe Hebrew Particles, Job xvi. 17. and in divers other Places עַל ſignifies for, but not becauſe, which alſo ſpoils the Senſe. What Confuſion and Impertinence have been made of theſe two Verſes!

Ver. 12. for many] The Heb. Prepoſition here rendered for is different from that which follows for with; on the other hand many is the ſame here as further in the Verſe: ſo Jun. and Trem. tranſlate pro multis.

7. I left thee for a little Moment, but will gather thee with great Compaſſions.

8. In an Inſtant of Wrath I hid my Face a Moment from thee; but with everlaſting Kindneſs will I have compaſſion upon thee, ſays the Lord thy Redeemer.

9. For this is as the Waters of Noah to me, who ſware thoſe Waters ſhould paſs over the Earth no more: ſo have I ſworn I would not be in a Wrath againſt thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 Though the Mountains ſhould depart, and the Hills be removed; yet my Kindneſs ſhall not depart from thee, nor the Covenant of my Peace be removed, ſays the Lord who has compaſſion upon thee.

11. O afflicted one, driven tempeſtuouſly, not comforted; behold I will cauſe thy Stones to lie with Paint, and will lay thy Foundation with Sapphires.

12. I will alſo make thy Caſements of Pyropus, thy Gates of Carbuncle Stones, and all thy Bounds with Stones of Delight.

13. Nay all thy Children ſhall be taught by the Lord, and their Peace ſhall be much.

14. Thou ſhalt be eſtabliſhed in Righteouſneſs: ſhalt be far from Oppreſſion, for thou ſhalt not fear; and from Calamity, for it ſhall not come near thee.

15. Behold none ſhall come together at all from me; whoever comes together againſt thee, ſhall fall for thy ſake.

16. Lo I created the Smith who blows the Coal in the Fire, and brings forth the Inſtrument for his Work; and I created the Deſtroyer to ſpoil.

17. Every Inſtrument which is formed againſt thee ſhall have no Succeſs, and thou ſhalt condemn every Tongue that riſes up againſt thee to Judgment: this ſhall be the Poſſeſſion of the Servants of the Lord, and their Righteouſneſs ſhall be from me, ſays the Lord.

CHAP. LV.

HO every one that is thirſty, come you to the Waters, and he who has no Money; come, buy, and eat; even come, buy Wine and Milk, without either Money or Price.

2. Why do you ſpend Money for what is not Bread, and your Labour for what does not ſatisfy? Hearken attentively to me, and eat that which is good, and let your Soul delight it ſelf in Fatneſs.

3. Incline your Ear, and come to me; hear, and your Soul ſhall live: and I will make with you an everlaſting Covenant, the ſure Favours of David.

4. Behold I give him for a Witneſs to the People, a Ruler and Commander to them.

5. Lo thou ſhalt call a Nation thou didſt not know, and a Nation that did not know thee ſhall run to thee; for the ſake of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Iſrael, becauſe he makes thee glorious.

6. Seek the Lord when he is to be found, call upon him when he is near.

7. Let the Wicked leave his Way, and the Man of Iniquity his Thoughts: and let him return to the Lord, who will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

8. For your Thoughts are not mine, nor my Ways yours, ſays the Lord.

9. Since as the Heaven is high above the Earth; ſo are my Ways high above yours, and my Thoughts above yours.

10. For according as the Rain comes down, and the Snow from the Heaven, and does not return thither, but waters the Earth, makes it bear, and cauſes it to ſpring forth; yielding Seed to the Sower, and Bread to the Eater:

11. So ſhall my Word be which goes out of my Mouth, it ſhall not return to me empty; but ſhall do what I deſire, and have Succeſs in that for which I ſend it.

12. For you ſhall go out with Gladneſs, and be had forth with Peace: the Mountains and Hills ſhall break out into Singing before you, and all the Trees of the Field clap Hands.

13. The Fir-tree ſhall come up in the room of the Thorn, the Myrtle-tree ſhall in that of the Bramble; and it ſhall be to the Lord for a Name, for an everlaſting Sign which ſhall not be cut off.

CHAP. LVI.

THUS ſays the Lord; Keep Judgment, and do Righteouſneſs: for my Salvation is near to come, and my Righteouſneſs to be revealed.

2. The Man is bleſſed who does this, and the Son of Man who takes hold of it; that keeps the Sabbath from profaning it, and keeps his Hand from doing any Evil.

3. And let not the Son of a Stranger who is joined to the Lord ſpeak thus, The Lord has quite put me apart from his People; nor let the Eunuch ſay, Lo I am a dry Tree.

4. For thus ſays the Lord concerning the Eunuchs who keep my Sabbaths, chooſe that which I deſire, and take hold of my Covenant;

5. Even to them will I give in my Houſe, and within my Walls a Space, and a Name better than of Sons or Daughters: I will give each of them an everlaſting Name, which ſhall not be cut off.

6. And the Sons of a Stranger who are joined to the Lord, to miniſter to him, and to love the Name of the Lord, to be Servants to him; every one that keeps the Sabbath from profaning it, and thoſe who take hold of my Covenant;

7. Even them will I bring to my holy Mountain, and make them glad in the Houſe of my Prayer; their Burnt-offerings and Sacrifices ſhall be with Favour upon my Altar: for my Houſe ſhall be called the Houſe of Prayer for all People.

8. Says the Sovereign Lord who gathers thoſe that are driven away of Iſrael, I will yet gather to him, with ſuch as are his gathered ones.

9. Every Beaſt of the Field, come to eat, every Beaſt in the Wood.

10. His Watchmen are blind, all of them ignorant, all dumb Dogs, they cannot bark: they ſnore, lie down, they love to ſlumber.

11. Nay Dogs of a ſtrong Appetite that know not when there is enough, and Shepherds are they unknowing how to underſtand: all of them look to their own Way, each one to his Gain from his very Border.

12. Come, ſay they, I will fetch Wine, and let us ſwallow the Liquor; and there will be to Morrow as there is this Day, a very great deal.

CHAP. LVII.

THE Righteous periſhes, and no Man regards: and pious Men are taken away, none underſtanding that the Righteous is taken away by reaſon of the Evil.

2. Going in his Uprightneſs, he comes to Peace, they reſt upon their Beds.

3. But draw near hither, you Sons of the Soothſayereſs, the Offspring of the Adulterer and her that commits Fornication.

4. At whom do you delight your ſelves? At whom do you enlarge the Mouth, thruſt out the Tongue? Are not you Children of Tranſgreſſion, an Offspring of Falſehood?

5. That were inflamed among the Oaks, under every green Tree; that killed the Children in the Vallies, under the Crags of the Rocks?

6. Thy Part was among the ſmooth Stones of the Valley, they, they were thy Lot; to them likewiſe didſt thou pour out the Offering, offer up Oblation: ſhall I have Comfort in theſe Things?

7. Thou didſt put thy Bed upon a Mountain, high and raiſed up; thither alſo thou wenteſt up to offer Sacrifice.

8. And didſt put thy Remembrance behind the Door, and the Poſt: for thou diſcoveredſt thy ſelf away from me, and wenteſt up; didſt enlarge thy Bed, and cut it out for thee by reaſon of them; thou lovedſt their Bed, beheldeſt the Space.

9. Moreover thou didſt obſerve the King with Oil, multiply thy Ointments, ſend thy Ambaſſadors even far off, and humble thy ſelf to Hell.

10. Being weary in the Greatneſs of thy Way, thou didſt not ſay, It is paſt Hope: thou foundeſt the Life of thy Hand, therefore thou waſt not ſick.

11. And for whom art thou troubled, and doſt fear; that thou lyeſt, and doſt not remember me, regardeſt not? Have not I held my peace, even long ago, ſo that thou doſt not fear me?

12. I will declare thy Righteouſneſs, and Deeds; which ſhall not profit thee.

13. When thou crieſt, let thy Companions deliver thee; but all of them the Wind ſhall carry away, Vanity ſhall take; whereas he who truſts in me ſhall poſſeſs the Country, and inherit my holy Mountain.

14. And he ſhall ſay, Caſt up, Caſt up, make the Way ready: take up the Stumbling-block out of the Way of my People.

15. For thus ſays he who is high and raiſed up, dwelling in Eternity, whoſe Name is holy; I dwell in the high and holy Place, and with him that is of a mortified and humble Spirit, to revive the Spirit of the Humble, and to revive the Heart of the mortified ones.

16. For I will not contend for ever, nor be in a Wrath eternally; ſince the Spirit would be overwhelmed from before me, and the Souls I have made.

17. For the Iniquity of his Gain I was in a Wrath, and ſmote him; hiding while I was in a Wrath: as he went away deſerting, in the Way of his own Heart.

18. I ſee his Ways, yet I will heal him; nay will lead him, and render Comforts to him and his Mourners:

19. Creating the Fruit of the Lips; he that is far off and he who is near ſhall have conſtant Peace, ſays the Lord, and I will heal him.

20. But the Wicked are like the Sea driven out, when it cannot be ſtill, and its Waters drive out Mire and Dirt.

21. There is no Peace, ſays my God, to the Wicked.

CHAP. LVIII.

CALL with the Throat, do not reſtrain, elevate thy Voice like a Trumpet; declaring to my People their Tranſgreſſion, and to the Family of Jacob their Sin:

2. Notwithſtanding they ſeek me Day by Day, and delight to know my Ways; like a Nation that does Righteouſneſs, and forſakes not the Judgment of its God: they aſk of me righteous Judgments, delight in coming near to God.

3. Why when we faſt, ſay they, doſt not thou ſee; when we afflict our Soul, doſt not thou know? Behold you find Delight on the Day of your Faſt, and exact all your Labours.

4. Lo you faſt for Strife and Contention, and to ſtrike with a wicked Fiſt: you ſhould not faſt as at preſent, to make your Voice be heard on high.

5. Is it a Faſt like this which I chooſe, for Man to afflict his Soul a Day? Is it to bow down his Head like a Ruſh, and ſpread Sackcloth and Aſhes? Doſt thou call this a Faſt, and a Day of the Lord's Favour?

6. Is not this the Faſt which I chooſe, to let looſe the Bonds of Wickedneſs, to undo the Packs of the Yoke; as alſo to let the Oppreſſed go free, and that you ſhould break every Yoke aſunder.

7. Is it not to divide thy Bread to the Hungry, and that thou ſhouldeſt bring the afflicted, the lamenting ones home? When thou ſeeſt the Naked that thou ſhouldeſt co-

Ver. 10. the Life of thy Hand] the Delight of thy Endeavour: which by the foregoing Verſes and the 13th appears to be foreign Favour and Alliance, accompanied with Idolatry; a Complaint of the ſame Kind as that in Chap. ii. 6, 8.

Ver. 15. with him] The laſt of Demophilus's Sentences is, Ψυχῆς ἁγνῆς τόπον οἰκειότερον ἐπὶ γῆς ἐκ ἔχει Θεός, God has no Place on the Earth where he dwells more, than in a pure Mind. And Young in his famed Night-Thoughts writes, N. 8.

Th' Almighty from his Throne, on Earth ſurveys
Nought Greater, than an Honeſt, Humble Heart;
An Humble Heart, His Reſidence! pronounc'd
His ſecond Seat; and Rival to the Skies.

Ver. 19. conſtant] See Chap. xxvi. 3.

Ver. 20. cannot be ſtill] Hipparchus writes in his Book Concerning Quietneſs of Mind, Πάντα τὰ κατὰ τον βίον ἄθεσμα, κακὰ, παράνομα, καὶ ἀσέβηματα, ἐκ τῶν κατὰ τὰν ψυχὰν παθημάτων ἐντί. All the Miſchief, Wickedneſs, Crimes, and Profaneneſs of human Life, are from the Paſſions of the Mind.

Ver. 3. exact all your Labours] their oppreſſive ones from their Servants, Ver. 6.

Ver. 4. to ſtrike with a wicked Fiſt] Sept. you ſtrike the Poor with the Fiſts, whoſe Copy therefore, it is ſaid in *Crit. Ib. Voice] in Prayer.

Ver. 5. Ruſh] The Author of *Crit. But if he himſelf miſtook a Ruſh for a Reed, and if no ſuch Meaning of the Heb. Word can be proved as circle, I fancy theſe two Things will not be potent enough to require the third, a Change of the Original.

ver them, and not hide thy ſelf from thy own Fleſh?

8. Then ſhall thy Light break out like the Morning, and thy Health ſpring forth ſpeedily; thy Righteouſneſs too ſhall go before thee, the Glory of the Lord ſhall be thy Rear-guard.

9. Then ſhalt thou call, and the Lord will anſwer; thou ſhalt cry out, and he will ſay, Here am I: if thou wilt put away from within thee the Yoke, the putting out of the Finger, and ſpeaking Vanity;

10. And wilt let forth thy Affection to the Hungry, and ſatisfy the afflicted Soul: thus ſhall thy Light riſe in Darkneſs, and thy Dimneſs be like Noon.

11. Nay the Lord will lead thee continually, ſatisfy thy ſoul in Droughts, and deliver thy Bones; ſo that thou wilt be like a watered Garden, and like a Spring of Water whoſe Water does not fail.

12. And thoſe of thee ſhall build up the ancient waſte Places, thou ſhalt raiſe up the Foundations of ſeveral Generations; and ſhalt be called the Fencer up of the Breach, the Reſtorer of Paths to abide in.

13. If thou wilt turn back thy Foot from the Sabbath, the doing thy own Delight on my holy Day; and wilt call the Sabbath delicate, to be holy to the Lord, honourable; and wilt honour him from doing thy own Ways, from finding thy Delight, and talking of ſuch a Thing:

14. Then ſhalt thou be delicate with the Lord, and I will make thee ride upon the high Places of the Earth, and cauſe thee to eat of the Poſſeſſion of thy Father Jacob: for the Mouth of the Lord has ſpoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

BEHOLD the Hand of the Lord is not diminiſhed from ſaving, nor his Ear heavy from hearing.

2. But your Iniquities do make ſeparation between you and your God; and your Sins hide his Face from hearing you.

3. For your Hands are polluted with Blood, and your Fingers with Iniquity: your Lips tell Lyes, your Tongue diſcourſes what is unjuſt.

4. None calls for Righteouſneſs, nor yet comes to Judgment with Truth: truſting upon Emptineſs, and ſpeaking vain Things; conceiving Trouble, and bringing forth Vanity.

5. They break open Cockatrices Eggs, and weave Spiders Webs: he who eats of their Eggs dies, and that which is ſqueezed breaks open with a Viper.

6. Their Webs will not become a Garment, nor will they cover themſelves with their Deeds: their Deeds are vain ones, and the Work of Violence is in their Hands.

7. Their Feet run to Evil, and they make haſte to ſhed innocent Blood: their Thoughts are vain ones, Waſting and Breaking are in their High-ways.

8. They are unacquainted with the Way of Peace, and there is no Judgment in their Roads: they pervert their Paths for themſelves, none who treads therein knows Peace.

9. Therefore Judgment is far from us, and Righteouſneſs does not reach us: waiting for Light, there is Darkneſs; for Shining, we walk in Dimneſs.

10. We feel for the Wall like the Blind, grope about as it were without Eyes: we ſtumble at Noon as at the Twilight, are in deſolate Places like the Dead.

11. We make a Noiſe like Bears all of us, make moan ſadly like Doves: we wait for Judgment, but none is; for Salvation, which is far from us.

12. For our Tranſgreſſions are become many before thee, and our Sins teſtify againſt us; becauſe they are with us, and we are ſenſible of our Iniquities?

13. Tranſgreſſing, and lying againſt the Lord, as alſo turning back from after our God; ſpeaking Oppreſſion and Apoſtacy, conceiving and diſcourſing Words of Falſehood from the Heart.

14. Inſomuch that Judgment is turned backward, and Righteouſneſs ſtands far off: for Truth ſtumbles in the Street, and Uprightneſs cannot enter in.

15. Nay Truth is lacking, and he who departs from Evil makes himſelf a Spoil: which the Lord ſees, and it diſpleaſes him, becauſe there is no Judgment.

16. And as he ſees that there is no Man, and is aſtoniſhed that there is no Interceſſor; his own Arm works Salvation for him, and his Righteouſneſs that upholds him.

17. He even wears Righteouſneſs as a Breaſt-plate, and a Helmet of Salvation on his Head: he wears likewiſe the Garments of Vengeance for Cloathing, and puts on Zeal as a Cloak.

Ib. thy own Fleſh] the Needy being of the ſame Fleſh with thy ſelf.

Ver. 13. turn back thy Foot from the Sabbath] not go about on that Day, in Buſineſs or Pleaſure.

Ver. 14. Then] at that Time, as the Heb. Particle denotes, and not as after other Ifs in the preſ. Eng. Bib.

Ib. ride] See Deut. xxxii. 13.

Ver. 4. Vanity] the ſame Word rendered thus in the like Expreſſion, Job xv. 35.

Ver. 9. from us] the Prophet here perſonating the People he before ſpoke of; yet the Vulg. Lat. is from you, but not all Copies.

Ver. 15. ſees] to agree with the foregoing, as alſo better with the future Tenſe, Ver. 18.

18. Juſt according as the Recompences ſhould be will he render Wrath to his Adverſaries, Recompence to his Enemies: to the Iſles will he render Recompence.

19. Thus will they fear the Name of the Lord from the Weſt, and his Glory from the Riſing of the Sun: when the Adverſary comes as a Flood, the Spirit of the Lord will ſet up a Standard againſt him.

20. And the Redeemer ſhall come to Zion, even to thoſe who return from Tranſgreſſion in Jacob, ſays the Lord.

21. As for me, this ſhall be my Covenant with them, ſays the Lord, my Spirit that is upon thee, and my Words which I put in thy Mouth, ſhall not depart out of it, nor out of the Mouth of thy Offspring, nor out of that of their Offspring, ſays the Lord, henceforth even for ever.

CHAP. LX.

GET ready, ſhine; for thy Light is come, and the Glory of the Lord is riſen upon thee.

2. Though behold Darkneſs covers the Earth, and Dimneſs the People; yet upon thee will the Lord riſe, and his Glory appear upon thee,

3. So that the Nations will go to thy Light, and the Kings to the Brightneſs of thy Riſing.

4. Look up, round about, and ſee; all of them will be gathered together, will come to thee: thy Sons will come from far, and thy Daughters be nurſed at the Side.

5. Then wilt thou ſee, and aſſemble together; nay thy Heart will fear, and be enlarged: for the Multitude of the Sea will be turned to thee, the Forces of the Nations come to thee.

6. Abundance of Camels will cover thee, the Dromedaries of Midian and Ephah, all of them coming from Sheba: they will carry Gold and Frankincenſe, and declare the Praiſes of the Lord.

7. All the Sheep of Kedar ſhall be gathered together to thee, the Rams of Nebajoth miniſter to thee: they ſhall aſcend my Altar in Favour, and I will adorn the Houſe of my Comelineſs.

8. Who are theſe that fly like a Cloud, and as Doves to their Windows?

9. For the Iſles ſhall wait for me, and the Ships of Tarſhiſh firſt, to bring thy Sons from far, their Silver and Gold with them, to the Name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy One of Iſrael, becauſe he adorns thee.

10. The Sons of the Stranger ſhall alſo build up thy Walls, and their Kings miniſter to thee: though I ſmote thee in my Wrath, yet I have compaſſion upon thee in my Favour.

11. And thy Gates ſhall be open continually, they ſhall not be ſhut Day or Night; to bring the Forces of the Nations to thee, and that their Kings may be introduced.

12. For the Nation and Kingdom that will not ſerve thee ſhall periſh, and the Nations ſhall be quite waſted.

13. The Glory of Lebanon ſhall come to thee, the Fir, Pine, and Box together; to adorn the Place of my Sanctuary, and that I may glorify the Place of my Feet.

14. Nay the Sons of them who afflict thee ſhall go to thee bowing, and all that contemn thee ſhall bow down at the Soles of thy Feet; and ſhall call thee, The City of the Lord, the Zion of the Holy One of Iſrael.

15. Inſtead of thy being forſaken and hated, and none paſſing through; I will make thee an everlaſting Excellency, the Joy of all Ages.

16. And thou ſhalt ſuck the Milk of the Nations, as thou ſhalt even the Breaſt of Kings: ſo thou ſhalt know that I the Lord am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer the Strong One of Jacob.

17. Inſtead of Braſs I will bring Gold, as I will inſtead of Iron Silver, inſtead of Wood Braſs, and inſtead of Stones Iron; beſides I will make thy Officers peaceable, and thy Exacters righteous.

Ver. 1. ſhine] by being illuminated with the Glory of the Lord, not by ariſing as the Sun, which the Heb. Verb ſhews; but the Lord and his Glory ſhould riſe ſo. This being the principal Chapter from whence Alexander Pope Eſq. extracted his fine Poem the Meſſiah, hear him once more:

Riſe, crown'd with Light, imperial Salem riſe! Ver. 1.
Exalt thy tow'ry Head, and lift thy Eyes!
See a long Race thy ſpacious Courts adorn; Ver. 4.
See future Sons and Daughters yet unborn,
In crouding Ranks on ev'ry Side ariſe,
Demanding Life, impatient for the Skies!
See barbarous Nations at thy Gates attend, Ver. 3.
Walk in thy Light, and in thy Temple bend!
See thy bright Altars throng'd with proſtrate Kings,
And heap'd with Products of Sabean Springs! Ver. 6.
For thee Idume's ſpicy Foreſts blow,
And Seeds of Gold in Ophyr's Mountains glow.
See Heav'n its ſparkling Portals wide diſplay,
And break upon thee in a Flood of Day!
No more the riſing Sun ſhall gild the Morn, Ver. 19, 20.
Nor Ev'ning Cynthia fill her ſilver Horn;
But loſt, diſſolv'd in thy ſuperior Rays,
One Tide of Glory, one unclouded Blaze
O'erflow thy Courts: The Light himſelf ſhall ſhine
Reveal'd, and God's eternal Day be thine.

Ver. 4. be nurſed at the Side] Jerome in his Commentarys ſuck Milk; but how, unleſs he took zad, the Side, for ſhad, the Breaſt? And the Vulg. riſe from the Side, how but by ſurgent, riſe, being a Corruption from ſugent, ſuck?

Ver. 9. For] the Heb. rational Conjunction.

Ver. 15. Inſtead of] the ſame as Ver. 17.

18. Violence

18. Violence ſhall be heard no more in thy Country, Waſting or Breaking in thy Bounds; on the contrary thou ſhalt call thy Walls Safety, and thy Gates Praiſe.

19. The Sun ſhall be for a Light to thee no more by Day, nor for Brightneſs the Moon give thee light; but the Lord will be for an everlaſting Light to thee, and thy God for thy Adorning.

20. Thy Sun ſhall ſet no more, nor thy Moon withdraw: for the Lord will be for an everlaſting Light to thee, and the Days of thy Mourning ſhall be finiſhed.

21. And thy People ſhall all of them be righteous, for ever ſhall they inherit the Country: the Shoot of his Plants ſhall be the Work of my Hands, to adorn my ſelf.

22. A little one ſhall become a thouſand, and a ſmall one a numerous Nation: I the Lord will haſten it at its Time.

CHAP. LXI.

THE Spirit of the Sovereign Lord is upon me, becauſe the Lord has anointed me to preach to the Meek; has ſent me to bind up thoſe who are of a broken Heart, to proclaim Liberty to the Captives, and the opening of the Priſon to ſuch as are bound;

2. To proclaim the Year of Favour with the Lord, and the Day of Vengeance with our God, to comfort all the Mourners;

3. To put for the Mourners of Zion, to give them Adorning inſtead of Aſhes, the Oil of Joy inſtead of Mourning, the Raiment of Praiſe inſtead of a melancholy Mind: and they ſhall be called Oaks of Righteouſneſs, the Plant of the Lord, to adorn himſelf.

4. And they ſhall build up the ancient waſte Places, ſhall raiſe up the former Deſolations; repairing the waſte Cities, the Deſolations of ſeveral Ages.

5. Even the Strangers ſhall ſtand, and feed your Sheep; and the Sons of the Foreigner be your Huſbandmen and Vine-dreſſers.

6. And you ſhall be called the Prieſts of the Lord, they ſhall ſay of you, The Miniſters of our God; you ſhall eat the Wealth of the Nations, and boaſt your ſelves in their Glory.

7. Inſtead of your double Shame and Confuſion, they ſhall ſing with their Part; therefore ſhall they inherit double in their Country; they ſhall have everlaſting Gladneſs.

8. For I the Lord love Judgment, hate Spoil for Burnt-ſacrifice; and I will make their Work be in Truth, and confirm with them a laſting Covenant.

9. Their Poſterity ſhall alſo be known in the Nations, and their Offspring among the People: all who ſee them ſhall acknowledge that they are the Poſterity whom the Lord has bleſſed.

10. I will be exceeding joyful through the Lord, my Soul ſhall rejoice through my God: for he has cloathed me with the Garments of Salvation, has put on me the Robe of Righteouſneſs; as a Bridegroom becomes like a Prieſt with Adorning, as a Bride decks her ſelf with her Things.

11. For as the Earth brings out its Sprout, and as a Garden cauſes its ſown Seed to ſprout forth; ſo will the Sovereign Lord cauſe Righteouſneſs and Praiſe, to ſprout forth before all Nations.

CHAP. LXII.

FOR the ſake of Zion I will not hold my peace, nor for Jeruſalem's ſake be ſtill; till its Righteouſneſs go forth as Brightneſs, and the Salvation of it like a Lamp that burns.

2. Then will the Nations ſee thy Righteouſneſs, and all the Kings thy Glory; and thou wilt be called by a new Name, which the Mouth of the Lord will fix upon.

Ver. 21. his Plants] after the Heb. Text, which Munſt. and L. Jud. follow, and both Grot. and De Dieu prefer; my being marginal. And the Verſe in the Original is parted as here, not as in the com. Engliſh.

Ver. 1. Sovereign Lord] The Author of the State of Pr. Heb. all alert, writes, We have here a Confirmation, of what he had before ſuppos'd (only ſuppos'd it ſeems before, which may be Anſwer enough to that) that Adonai was ſometimes inſerted before Jehovah, to prevent the pronunciation of the latter. For, adds he, will any one ſay, that theſe words were both originally in this verſe? Why not? Becauſe St. Luke tells us, ch. iv. 18. Jeſus found the Place where it was written the Lord, with which agree the Gr. &c. p. 510. If it was the Gr. Tranſ. then which Jeſus had, as appears by all underſtanding it, Ver. 22. this only proves it was the Lord there, becauſe it was the Lord there; nay were it the Heb. we are to ſuppoſe Luke made this Quotation, like others, from that Tranſ.

Ver. 3. put for] namely the Adorning &c. following.

Ver. 7. double Shame] as De Dieu would, and Jun. and Trem. with Caſt. and the vulg. Lat. have it; which the Heb. having Nothing for you ſhall have and for, is a Plea in the behalf of; and therefore that follows another, ſince it has now its proper Force, but with the Addition in the com. Tranſ. is in a manner made inſignificant; and the like might be ſaid of double.

Ver. 10. becomes like a Prieſt] which is ſtrictly to the Heb. and not decketh.

Ver. 1. I] Iſaiah, as that which follows does manifeſt, but eſpecially Ver. 10. of the laſt Chap. and therefore not God, after the Interpretation of Grotius.

Ver. 2. wilt be] Vulg. Lat. haſt been, by the Change only of a homogeneous Letter b for v in Lat.

Ib. a new Name] expreſſed, Ver. 4.

3. Thou wilt alſo be a fine Crown in the Lord's Hand, and a royal Diadem in the Hand of thy God.

4. Thou wilt no more be termed Forſaken, nor will thy Country any more be ſtyled Deſolate: for thou wilt be called My Delight in it, and thy Country Married; becauſe the Lord will delight in thee, and thy Country will be married.

5. For as a young Man marries a Virgin, thy Sons will marry for thee; and with the Joy of the Bridegroom becauſe of the Bride, will thy God be joyful by reaſon of thee.

6. I have appointed Keepers upon thy Walls, O Jeruſalem, who ſhall not hold their peace all Day and all Night continually: you that make mention of the Lord have no Silence;

7. And give him no Silence, till he eſtabliſh, and till he make Jeruſalem Praiſe on the Earth.

8. The Lord has ſworn by his right Hand, and by his ſtrong Arm, I will no more give thy Corn for Food to thy Enemies, nor ſhall the Sons of the Foreigner drink thy Wine, for which thou haſt laboured.

9. But thoſe who gather it up ſhall eat it, and praiſe the Lord: and ſuch as gather it together ſhall drink it in my holy Courts.

10. Paſs through, paſs through the Gates, make ready the Way of the People: caſt up, caſt up a High-way, make clear from Stones, lift up a Standard for the People.

11. Behold the Lord publiſhes to the End of the Earth; Say to the Daughter of Zion, Behold thy Salvation is coming; lo his Reward is with him, and his Work before him.

12. And they will be called The holy People, The Redeemed of the Lord; as thou wilt be Sought for, A City not forſaken.

CHAP. LXIII.

WHO is this comes from Edom, with Garments dyed from Bozrah; this who is glorious in his Cloathing, ranging in the Greatneſs of his Might? I who ſpeak in Righteouſneſs, great to ſave.

2. Why art thou red with thy Cloathing, and thy Garments like one who treads at the Wine-preſs?

3. I have trod the Preſs alone, and there was no Man of the People with me; I even trod them in my Anger, and trampled them in my Wrath: ſo that the Strength of them was ſprinkled upon my Garments, and I ſtained all my Cloaths.

4. For the Day of Vengeance is in my Heart, and the Year of my Redeemed is come.

5. And I beheld that there was no Helper, and was aſtoniſhed that there was no Upholder; ſo my own Arm wrought Salvation for me, and my Wrath that upheld me.

6. Thus have I trod down the People in my Anger, and made them drunk in my Wrath; bringing down their Strength to the Ground.

7. I will make mention of the Lord's Favours, the Praiſes of the Lord, according to all which he himſelf beſtows on us; and the great Good to the Family of Iſrael, which he beſtows on them, according both to his Compaſſions, and the Multitude of his Favours.

8. And he ſays, Certainly they are my People, Sons that will not act falſely; ſo he is a Saviour to them.

9. In all their Diſtreſs was not he diſtreſſed? And the Angel of his Preſence ſaved them, in his Love and Compaſſion he redeemed them; nay he took them up, and carried them at all Times long ago.

10. Yet they rebelled, and grieved his Holy Spirit; upon which being turned to be an Enemy towards them, he fought againſt them.

11. Nevertheleſs he remembers the ancient Times of Moſes, of his People: Where is he who brought them up out of the Sea, with the Shepherd of his Flock? Where is he who put his Holy Spirit within him?

12. Who being at the right Hand of Moſes, cauſed them to go with his glorious Arm?

Ver. 5. for thee] So Trem. and Jun. tibi, as likewiſe Leo Jud. it being improbable, as Poole writes, that the Spirit of God ſhould carry on ſo ſacred a Prophecy by a Similitude ſo abhorrent to Nature, the Sons ſhould marry the Mother.

Ver. 1. from Edom] from the Slaughter the Lord made there, as deſcribed Chap. xxxiv. 5, 6. which is a clear unforced Solution of the great Difficulty Expoſitors have found in it.

Ver. 3. Strength] and not blood from the Heb. being indeed the ſame Word as in Ver. 6. and here including Brains, with all the Juices of the Body.

Ver. 6. made them drunk in my Wrath] That is, according to Kimhi, אשקם כוס חמתי עד שישכרו I will make them drink the Cup of my Wrath, till they are drunk. The Sept. leave out this Part; and the Chald. has tread down here, and for that before kill: for thoſe old Tranſlators were often very inaccurate; though we are obliged to accept of their Help ſometimes for Want of better. As for the preterite Tenſe which I uſe here and in Ver. 3. I not only follow Jun. and Trem. the very beſt and moſt accurate Tranſlators, with the ingenious Caſt. and the Tig. Verſ. but to me it appears indicated by the antecedent Verbs; which according to Elias Lev. in Habbachur, Orat. i. Sect. 5. are to direct the Time, whether paſt or future, of the ſubſequent ones.

Ver. 9. was not he] The textual Reading being not as in Chap. ix. 3. & xlix. 5. where our Tranſlators follow it, but theirs here is marginal.

Ver. 12. being at] thus with Tre. and Jun. is ad exiſtens; the Heb. Prefix much rather denoting at than by; ſee alſo De Dieu.

Who

Who cleaved the Water from their Face, to make himſelf an everlaſting Name?

13. Who cauſed them to go through the Depths, like a Horſe through the Wilderneſs, they not ſtumbling?

14. As a Beaſt that goes down into the Valley, the Spirit of the Lord cauſed him to reſt: ſo didſt thou guide thy People, to make thy ſelf a glorious Name.

15. Behold from Heaven, and ſee from thy holy and glorious Dwelling: Where is thy Zeal and Power, the Yearning of thy Bowels, and thy Compaſſions to me, that are reſtrained?

16. For thou art our Father, though Abraham does not know us, nor Iſrael acknowledge us; thou, O Lord, art our Father, our Redeemer, thy Name is from everlaſting.

17. Why doſt thou let us ſtray from thy Ways, O Lord, letting our Heart be hardened from thy Fear? Return for the ſake of thy Servants, the Tribes of thy Poſſeſſion.

18. The People of thy Holineſs having inherited for a little while; our Adverſaries tread down thy Sanctuary.

19. It is us, thou didſt never rule over them, they have not been called by thy Name.

CHAP. LXIV.

OH that rending the Heaven, thou wouldeſt deſcend, that the Mountains would flow down at thy Preſence;

2. As the Fire burns the Things that are melted, the Fire cauſes the Water to bubble up; to make thy Name known to thy Adverſaries, that the Nations may be moved at thy Preſence:

3. When thou ſhalt do terrible Things which we do not expect, ſhalt deſcend, the Mountains flowing down at thy Preſence.

4. They have even never heard, have not perceived by the Ear; the Eye has not ſeen, O God, beſides thee, what he does for him who waits for him.

5. Thou meeteſt him that is joyful in doing Righteouſneſs, thoſe who remember thee in thy Ways: lo thou art in a Wrath when we ſin; being in them for ever, we are ſaved.

6. But we are all of us as an unclean Thing, and all our own Righteouſneſs is as a Garment caſt away; nay we all wither like a Leaf, and our Iniquities carry us away like the Wind.

7. There being none who calls on thy Name, who ſtirs up himſelf to take hold of thee: for thou hideſt thy Face from us, and diſſolveſt us by means of our Iniquities.

8. Yet now, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the Clay, and thou art our Potter; and all of us are the Work of thy Hand.

9. Be not in a Wrath, O Lord, very much, nor remember Iniquity for evermore: behold look, we beſeech thee, all of us are thy People.

10. Thy holy Cities are a Wilderneſs: Zion is a Wilderneſs, Jeruſalem deſolate.

11. Our holy and glorious Houſe, in which our Fathers praiſed thee, is burnt with Fire; and all our deſirable Things are become waſte.

12. Wilt thou in theſe Things reſtrain thy ſelf, O Lord, hold thy peace, and afflict us very much?

CHAP. LXV.

I AM ſought out by thoſe that did not enquire, and found by them who did not aſk for me: I ſay, Here, here am I, to a Nation not called by my Name.

2. I ſpread forth my Hands every Day to a rebellious People, who go in a Way that is not good, after their own Thoughts:

3. A People who provoke me to my Face continually; who ſacrifice in Gardens, and burn incenſe upon Bricks.

4. Who ſit among the Graves, and ſtay all Night among thoſe that are kept; who eat the Fleſh of the Hog, and the Piece of Abominations from their Veſſels;

Ver. 13. like a Horſe] eaſily and ſafely like him.

Ver. 14. into the Valley] to reſt there in the Shadow by the Water.

Ib. ſo] for the People to go on eaſily, as a Beaſt does down a Deſcent.

Ver. 17. let] For a Proof of this way of rendering it, if required, ſee the Note on Exod. vii. 3. and Lowth's Commentary here. So Jun. and Trem. tranſlate it, Quare ſineres aberrare nos.

Ver. 2. the Things that are melted] the Heb. being plural, and not an Adject. or Particip. to Fire. The Septuag. have tranſlated, As Wax is melted by the Preſence of the Fire, and the Fire will burn the Adverſaries; the Targummiſt more widely and wildly, When thou didſt ſend thy Anger like Fire in the Days of Elijah, the Sea was diſſolved, alluding to 1 King. viii. 38.

Ver. 4. never] Heb. from ever not.

Ver. 5. is joyful in doing] or joyfully does; as the Verb for return means, and is tranſlated, again.

Ib. being] for is makes void the Senſe; conſult the beſt Tranſlators, and Noldius under ו 60.

Ib. in them] in thy Ways.

Ver. 7. by means] as tranſlated Jer. v. 3. Heb. by the Hand, and ſo cannot mean becauſe. The Targ. delivereſt us into the Hand.

Ver. 2. every Day] the ſame is frequent in the Pſalms.

Ib. is not good] was unſuitably.

Ver. 4. among thoſe that are kept] which is literal whatever it ſignifies. Jun. and Trem. rendering cuſtodita, things kept, explain it thus in their Comment, nempe Idola; quæ per contemptum vocantur, propterea quod ipſa non cuſtodiunt Cultores ſuos, ſed Cuſtodibus habent opus: that is they were Idols, and called ſo in Contempt, becauſe they could

5. Who ſay, Approach to thy own, come not nigh me, for I am holier than thou: theſe are a Smoak in my Noſe, a Fire burning every Day.

6. Lo it is written before me, I will not hold my peace: but will reward, even reward into their own Boſom,

7. Your Iniquities and thoſe of your Fathers together, ſays the Lord, who burn incenſe upon the Mountains, and reproach me upon the Hills: ſo I will meaſure their former Work into their own Boſom.

8. Thus ſays the Lord; As the new Wine is found in a Bunch of Grapes, and one ſays, Do not deſtroy it, becauſe there is a Bleſſing in it: ſo will I do for the ſake of my Servants, not to deſtroy them all.

9. For I will bring an Offspring out of Jacob, and an Inheritor of my Mountains out of Judah; this which my choſen ones ſhall inherit, and my Servants dwell there.

10. Then ſhall Sharon be for a Fold of Flocks, and the Vale of Achor for the Herds to lie down, for my People who ſeek me.

11. Whereas you are Forſakers of the Lord, forgetting my holy Mountain, providing the Table for the Troop, and filling the Mixture for the Number.

12. So I will number you to the Sword, and all of you ſhall bow down to the Slaughter; becauſe I have called, and you would not anſwer, have ſpoken, and you would not hearken: but you have done what I was diſpleaſed with, and choſen that in which I did not delight.

13. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: Behold my Servants ſhall eat, but you ſhall be hungry; behold my Servants ſhall drink, but you ſhall be thirſty; behold my Servants ſhall be glad, but you ſhall be aſhamed;

14. Behold my Servants ſhall ſing for Chearfulneſs of Heart; but you ſhall cry for Grief of it, and lament for the Breaking of Spirit.

15. And you ſhall leave your Name for a Curſe to my choſen ones, and the Sovereign Lord will cauſe thee to die; and will call his Servants by another Name.

16. He who bleſſes himſelf on the Earth, ſhall do it by the God of Truth; and he who ſwears on the Earth, ſhall do that by the ſame God; becauſe the former Diſtreſſes ſhall be forgot, and becauſe they ſhall be hid from my Eyes.

17. For behold I will create new Heavens, and a new Earth; and the former ſhall not be remembred, nor come into Mind.

18. But be you joyful, and rejoice for evermore, in that which I create: for behold I will create Jeruſalem a Rejoicing, and his People a Joy.

19. Nay I will rejoice for Jeruſalem, and be joyful for my People; and there ſhall no more be heard in it the Voice of Weeping, or that of Crying.

20. There ſhall thenceforth be no more either a Babe in Age, or an old Man who has not filled his Days, but the Child ſhall die in his hundredth Year; yet the Sinner being ſo old ſhall be curſed.

21. They ſhall alſo build Houſes, and inhabit; as likewiſe plant Vineyards, and eat the Fruit of them.

22. They ſhall not build, and another inhabit; they ſhall not plant and another eat: for the Days of my People ſhall be like thoſe of a Tree, and my choſen ones ſhall become old in the Work of their Hands.

23. They ſhall not labour for Vanity, nor bring forth for Trouble: for they are the Poſterity of the Bleſſed of the Lord, and their Offspring with them.

24. Moreover before they call, I will anſwer; while they are ſpeaking, I will hear.

25. The Wolf and Lamb ſhall feed as one, and the Lion eat Straw like the Ox; as for the Serpent, Duſt ſhall be his Meat: they ſhall do no Hurt, nor deſtroy on all my holy Mountain, ſays the Lord.

not keep thoſe who worſhipped them, but muſt be kept themſelves. But perhaps it was rather the dead Bodies of ſuch as were deified, or elſe kept for Necromancy or ſome Superſtition, and this is more coherent with the Expreſſion juſt before.

Ib. Piece] indiſputably according to the Text, with Jun. and Trem. as alſo Grot. broth, being a marginal Reading.

Ver. 5. Approach to thy own] according to the Original, with Jun. and Trem. not meaning ſtand.

Ver. 9. this which] Judah; but the [it] obſcure in the com. Tranſ. if ſo expounded, otherwiſe more ſo.

Ver. 11. Forſakers of] or forſaking, like thoſe that follow, being Participles in Heb. which are of the 2d as well as 3d Perſon, and the Speech is continued in the 2d.

Ver. 15. your Name] of Idolaters, agreeable to Ver. 11, 16.

Ib. another Name] as Chap. lxii. 2.

Ver. 16. by the God of Truth] For after the Babylonian Captivity, the Jews never fell into Idolatry, as they had done before.

Ib. my] Com. Lat. our.

Ver. 20. not filled] There muſt needs be both infants and old men before their time was filled, but they ſhould not die ſuch.

Ver. 24. before they call] Some pious Reader may poſſibly allow me the Liberty, without thinking it impertinent, of juſt mentioning as an Inſtance; that a few Days before penning this, after waiting and longing for the Accompliſhment of the Work here exhibited, my Soul was drawn into deep Supplication for it to the Lord; while the unknown Letter, to crown my Hopes, was written, and coming.

CHAP.

CHAP. LXVI.

THUS ſays the Lord: Heaven is my Throne, and the Earth my Footſtool; Where is this Houſe which you build for me? And where is this Place of my Reſt?

2. For my Hand made all theſe, whereby all theſe have been, ſays the Lord: but to him will I look that is afflicted, and ſmitten in Spirit, and trembles at my Word.

3. Killing an Ox is like ſlaying a Man, ſacrificing a Lamb like cutting off a Dog's Head, offering up an Oblation like the Blood of a Hog, perfuming with Frankincenſe like bleſſing an Idol: they even chooſe their own Ways, and their Soul delights in their Abominations.

4. I will alſo chooſe their Mockings, and bring their Fears to them; becauſe I called, and none anſwered, ſpoke, and they did not hearken: but they did what I was diſpleaſed with, and choſe that which I did not delight in.

5. Hear the Word of the Lord, you who tremble at his Word; Your Brethren that hated you, that drove you far off for my Name's ſake ſaid, Let the Lord be glorified; whereas he will appear to your Gladneſs, and they will be aſhamed.

6. There is a Voice of Tumult from the City, a Voice from the Temple; the Voice of the Lord who renders a Recompence to his Enemies.

7. Before ſhe is in labour, ſhe brings forth: before the Pangs come on her, ſhe is even delivered of a Male.

8. Who has heard the Like of this? Who has ſeen the Like of theſe Things? Is the Earth made to be in labour in one Day? Is a Nation brought forth at one Time? For ſo Zion is in labour, moreover brings forth her Sons.

9. Shall I break open, and not cauſe to bring forth? ſays the Lord: Shall I cauſe to bring forth, and yet ſhut up? ſays the Lord.

10. Be glad with Jeruſalem, and rejoice with her, all who love her; be joyful with her in Joy, all who mourn for her:

11. That you may ſuck, and be ſatisfied with the Breaſt of her Comforts; that you may ſqueeze out, and delight your ſelves by the Splendor of her Glory.

12. For thus ſays the Lord; Behold I will extend Peace to her like a River, and the Glory of the Nations like an overflowing Flood, and you ſhall ſuck; you ſhall be carried at the Side, and be delighted upon the Knees.

13. As one whom his Mother comforts, ſo will I comfort you, and you ſhall be comforted in Jeruſalem.

14. Which ſeeing, your Heart ſhall be joyful, and your Bones flouriſh like an Herb; ſince the Hand of the Lord will be known with his Servants, and Indignation with his Enemies.

15. For behold the Lord will come with Fire, and his Chariots like a Whirlwind; to render his Anger in Wrath, and his Rebuke in Flames of Fire.

16. For by Fire will the Lord come to Judgment, and by his Sword, with all Fleſh; and the Slain of the Lord will be many.

17. Thoſe who conſecrate and cleanſe themſelves at the Gardens, behind one within, eating the Fleſh of the Hog, that which is abominable, and the Mouſe, ſhall be conſumed together, ſays the Lord.

18. And it ſhall come about for me, by their Doings and Thoughts, to gather together thoſe of all Nations and Tongues; that they may come, and ſee my Glory.

19. Among whom I put a Sign, and ſend ſuch as eſcape of them, to the Nations of Tarſhiſh, Pul and Lud that draw the Bow, Tubal and Greece; to the Iſles far off, which have not heard my Fame, nor ſeen my Glory: and they ſhall declare my Glory in the Nations.

20. Beſides they ſhall bring all your Brethren from all the Nations, for a Preſent to the Lord, on Horſes, in Chariots, in tilted Wagons, on Mules and ſwift Beaſts, to my holy Mountain Jeruſalem, ſays the Lord; as the Iſraelites bring a preſent in a clean Veſſel to the Lord's Houſe.

Ver. 2. whereby] as I had tranſlated before I ſaw the frivolous Objection in Crit. Notes, p. 76. of a flat tautology, chargeable only on Tranſlation, not on the Original; which notwithſtanding the Author would have removed by altering the Heb. יהיו into לי היו to make and all theſe things are mine. 'Tis only the inſertion of one letter, he ſays, a little Matter with our modern Antihebræoli; but it is alſo parting one Word into two.

Ib. afflicted] rather than poor, both in regard to the Heb. Word, and the Context.

Ver. 8. the Earth] the Women of the whole Earth.

Ib. moreover] So the Heb. Particle ſtanding here ſignifies, and not as ſoon as; which alſo ſpoils the ſenſe, becauſe travailed and brought forth are the ſame.

Ver. 17. one] the Idol placed there I ſuppoſe, as more likely than a tree.

Ver. 18. to gather] to receive the Gentiles, by reaſon of the Sins of the Jews.

21. And

21. And I will take of them alſo for Prieſts, for Levites, ſays the Lord.

22. For as the new Heaven and new Earth, which I will make, ſhall remain before me, ſays the Lord; ſo ſhall your Offspring and Name remain.

23. And from one New-moon to the other, as alſo from one Sabbath to the other, all Fleſh ſhall come to worſhip before me, ſays the Lord.

24. Moreover they ſhall go forth, and ſee the dead Bodies of thoſe Men who have tranſgreſſed againſt me: for their Worm ſhall not die, nor their Fire be quenched; but they ſhall be loathſome to all Fleſh.

NOTES upon the BOOK of JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

THE Words of Jeremiah the Son of Hilkiah, one of the Prieſts that were at Anathoth in the Country of Benjamin.

2. Who had the Lord's Commiſſion in the Time of Joſiah the Son of Amon King of Judah, in the thirteenth Year of his Reign;

3. As alſo in the Time of Jehoiakim, till the ending of the eleventh Year of Zedekiah, the Sons of Joſiah, Kings of Judah, till thoſe of Jeruſalem were carried away in the fifth Month.

4. Firſt I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows,

5. I knew thee before I formed thee in the Belly, and before thou cameſt out of the Womb I conſecrated thee, making thee a Prophet to the Nations.

6. But I ſaid, Alas, Sovereign Lord! behold I know not how to ſpeak: for I am a Child.

7. Upon this the Lord replied to me; Do not ſay, I am a Child: for thou ſhalt go to all whom I ſend thee to, and ſpeak all that I command thee.

8. Be not afraid of their Preſence: for I will be with thee, to deliver thee, ſays the Lord.

9. Beſides the Lord put forth his Hand, and touched my Mouth, ſaying to me himſelf; Behold I put my Words in thy Mouth.

10. See, I ſet thee this Day over Nations and Kingdoms; to root up, break down, deſtroy and demoliſh, to build and to plant.

11. I had further the Lord's Commiſſion thus, What doſt thou ſee, Jeremiah? And upon my ſaying, I ſaw a Stick of an Almond-tree;

12. Thou ſeeſt well, replied the Lord to me, as I am haſtening about my Commiſſion to do it.

13. Having the Lord's Commiſſion again as follows, What doſt thou ſee? I anſwered, that it was a Pot to which the Fire was blown, with its Mouth from the north Part.

14. The Lord then ſaid to me: Adverſity ſhall be opened from the North againſt all the Inhabitants of the Country.

15. For behold I will call all the Families of the northern Kingdoms, ſays the Lord, who ſhall come, and put their ſeveral Thrones at the Entrance of the Gates of Jeruſalem, and at all the Walls of it on every Side, as likewiſe at all the Cities of Judah.

16. Thus will I pronounce my Judgments to them for all their Wickedneſs; who have forſaken me, burnt incenſe to other gods, and bowed down to the Works of their own Hands.

17. Do thou therefore gird thy Loins, get ready, and ſpeak to them all that I command thee: be not daunted at their Preſence, leſt I ſhould daunt thee in it.

18. And lo I put thee to Day for a fortified City, an iron Pillar, and braſen Walls againſt the whole Country; to the Kings of Judah, its Princes, Prieſts, and the People of the Country:

19. Who though they fight againſt thee, ſhall not prevail over thee; ſince I will be with thee, ſays the Lord, to deliver thee.

CHAP. II.

I HAD then the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. Go and proclaim in the Hearing of thoſe of Jeruſalem, that the Lord ſays thus; I remember thee, the Kindneſs of thy Youth, the Love of thy Eſpouſals, at thy going after me in the Wilderneſs, in a Country that was not ſown;

3. Iſrael being holy to the Lord, the Firſt-fruits of his Increaſe: all who offending would conſume him, Adverſity came on them, ſays the Lord.

4. Hear the Lord's Commiſſion, you Houſe of Jacob, even all the Families of the Houſe of Iſrael,

5. Who ſays thus; What Injuſtice did your Fathers find in me, that they got far

---

Ver. 4. I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows] to be a little moderniz'd to the Genius of our Language, as the Heb. Verb too does not ſignify came. The Expreſſion is to be underſtood, ſays Caryl, that the Lord did ſecretly reveal himſelf to the Spirits of his Prophets, and not by any external audible Voice: it was an inward, not an outward Word, Expoſit. on Job. Vol. I. Ch. i. p. 86.

Ver. 6. know not how] Heb.

Ver. 13. from] as if coming from the North with open Mouth ſouthward, Ver. 14. to take in Fleſh, as the Babylonians did againſt Judah; and מ certainly ſignifies from, not towards; ſee likewiſe Gell's Eſſay, p. 513.

Ver. 3. came] in the Preterperfect Tenſe, according to the Senſe of the Place, and Lowth in his Commentary, with Grot. Leo Jud. Jun. and Trem.

from me, and went after Vanity, becoming vain?

6. And did not ſay, Where is the Lord who brought us up from the Country of Egypt, conducting us through the Wilderneſs, through a deſart Country with Pits, through a dry Country of the Shadow of Death, through a Country where no Man paſſed, nor Men dwelt there?

7. Beſides I brought you into a Country of arable Ground, to eat the Fruit and Goodneſs of it; yet being come in, you have defiled my Country, and made my Poſſeſſion abominable.

8. The Prieſts do not enquire, Where is the Lord? But thoſe who handle the Law are ignorant of me, even the Shepherds tranſgreſs againſt me, and the Prophets propheſy by Baal, going after Things which do not profit.

9. Therefore will I ſtill contend with you, ſays the Lord, and even with your Children's Children.

10. For paſs to the Iſles of Chittim, and ſee, ſend alſo to Kedar, and underſtand thoroughly, even ſee whether there is ſuch a Thing as this:

11. Whether a Nation has changed gods, though they are not gods? Yet my People have changed their Glory, for that which does not profit.

12. Be aſtoniſhed, O Heavens, at this, nay be horribly afraid, and very waſte, ſays the Lord.

13. Becauſe my People have done two bad Things: forſaken me the Fountain of ſpring Water, to hew them out Ciſterns, broken ones which will hold no Water.

14. Is Iſrael a Servant? Was he born a Slave? Wherefore is he become a Prey?

15. The young Lions have roared at him, uttering their Voice, and made his Country deſolate: his Cities are burnt down, being without Inhabitant.

16. Even the Race of Noph and Tahapanes have fed on thee at the Crown of the Head.

17. Haſt not thou done this to thy ſelf, by thy forſaking the Lord thy God, at the Time when he conducted thee in the Way?

18. And now what Buſineſs haſt thou in the Way to Egypt, to drink the Water of Shihor? Or what Buſineſs haſt thou in the Way to Aſſyria, to drink the Water of that River?

19. Thy own Wickedneſs corrects thee, and thy Turnings away reprove thee: know therefore and ſee, that thy forſaking the Lord thy God is an evil and bitter Thing; not having my Fear, ſays the ſovereign Lord of Armies.

20. Though long ago I broke thy Yoke, burſt thy Bonds, and thou ſaideſt, I will not tranſgreſs; when upon every high Hill, and under every green Tree thou art ranging about, committing Whoredom.

21. Whereas I planted thee a choice Vine, all of it true Seed; how then art thou turned into the ſtraggling Branches of a ſtrange Vine to me?

22. For if thou ſhouldeſt waſh thy ſelf with Nitre, and have much Soap, thy Iniquity is marked before me, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

23. How canſt thou plead, I am not defiled, I have not gone after Baalim? See thy Way in the Valley, know what thou haſt done; like a ſwift Dromedary traverſing her Ways:

24. Like a wild Aſs uſed to a Wilderneſs, that ſnuffs up the Wind at her own Deſire; at her Occaſion who can turn her back? Any who ſeek her need not be tired, in her Month they may find her.

25. With-hold thy Foot from being bare, and thy Throat from Thirſt; but thou ſayeſt, It is paſt Hope, it cannot be; for I love Strangers, and ſhall go after them.

26. As a Thief is aſhamed when he is found, ſo are the Family of Iſrael themſelves aſhamed, their Kings, Princes, and Prieſts, and Prophets;

27. Who ſay to the Wood, Thou art my Father; and to the Stone, Thou haſt brought me forth; for they turn to me the Back, and not the Face: yet in the Time of their Adverſity they will ſay; O riſe up, and ſave us.

28. Then where will be thy gods that thou haſt made thee? Let them riſe up, if they can ſave thee in the Time of thy Adverſity: for thou haſt as many gods as thou haſt Cities, Judah.

29. What would you plead with me for? Who have all rebelled againſt me, ſays the Lord.

30. I have ſtriken your Poſterity in vain,

Ver. 13. ſpring Water] or Water of Life; but tho' that is the Meaning, Life or living does not agree with the reſt of the Simile, and we might in the ſame Manner put the Meaning of Fountain, Water, &c.

Ver. 17. done this to thy ſelf] So in one Line of Pythagoras's Golden Verſes, Γνώσῃ δ' ἀνθρώπους αὐθαίρετα πήματ' ἔχοντας.

Thou mayeſt know that Men have Deſtruction of their own Accord.

Ver. 22. much Soap] For this, it ſeems, was plentiful there; being the only Commodity now that Country affords, ſeveral Ship-loads of which are yearly exported into Turky and Egypt, and is made of the Aſhes of certain fat Turf, Corten's Trav. in 1738.

Ver. 25. from being bare] by wearing out the Shoes, in going after Idols and Idolaters.

they

they would not receive Correction: your own Sword has conſumed your Prophets, like a deſtroying Lion.

31. You Generation, ſee the Lord's Commiſſion: have I been a Wilderneſs to Iſrael? a Country of divine Darkneſs? Wherefore do my People ſay, We govern, we will come to thee no more.

32. Does a Virgin forget her Ornaments, a Bride her Ribbands? Whereas my People have forgot me Days out of Number.

33. Why doſt thou make thy Way in ſeeking Love good? For which Reaſon thou alſo teacheſt the evil ones thy Ways.

34. In thy Skirts is further found the Blood of the Lives of the needy innocent ones: I have not found it by digging, for it is upon all theſe.

35. Nevertheleſs thou ſayeſt, Becauſe I am innocent, certainly his Anger will turn away from me: behold I will come to judgment with thee for ſaying, I have not ſinned.

36. Why doſt thou go away ſo much to alter thy Way? Thou ſhalt be aſhamed of Egypt too, as thou haſt been of Aſſyria.

37. Thou ſhalt alſo come out of it with thy Hands upon thy Head: for the Lord rejects thy Securities, and thou ſhalt not proſper in them.

CHAP. III.

TO proceed; Behold ſhould a Man ſend away his Wife, and when ſhe is gone from him ſhe ſhould become another Man's, might he return to her any more? Would not that Country be quite polluted? Yet committed Whoredom as thou haſt with many Neighbours, do thou return to me, ſays the Lord.

2. Look up to the high Places, and ſee where thou haſt not been lain with: thou haſt ſate for them in the Ways, like an Arabian in the Wilderneſs, and polluted the Country with thy Whoredoms and Wickedneſs.

3. Therefore have the Showers been withheld; and there has been no latter Rain; yet haſt thou the Forehead of a Woman that is a Whore, thou refuſeſt to be aſhamed.

4. Wilt not thou henceforth call to me; My Father, thou art the Guide of my Youth?

5. Will he retain Anger for ever? Will he keep it perpetually? Though indeed thou haſt ſpoken and done as evil Things as thou couldeſt.

6. The Lord alſo ſaid to me in the Time of King Joſiah: Haſt thou ſeen that which deſerting Iſrael did? She went upon every high Mountain, and under every green Tree, and there committed Whoredom.

7. Yet I ſaid after ſhe had done all theſe Things, Return to me; but ſhe would not: and her treacherous Siſter Judah ſaw it.

8. However I ſaw, when by reaſon of all in which deſerting Iſrael had committed Adultery, I ſent her away, and gave her a Writing of Divorce; that treacherous Judah her Siſter did not fear, but went, and committed Whoredom likewiſe her ſelf.

9. And through the Lightneſs of her Whoredom ſhe polluted the Country, committing Adultery with Stone and Wood.

10. Nay for all this too her treacherous Siſter Judah has not returned to me with her whole Heart, but falſely, ſays the Lord.

11. Therefore continued the Lord to me: Deſerting Iſrael having juſtified her ſelf more than treacherous Judah.

12. Go, and proclaim theſe following Words northward; Return, deſerting Iſrael, ſays the Lord, I will not make my Countenance lour againſt you: for I am kind, adds he, I will not retain Anger for ever.

13. Only acknowledge thy Iniquity, that thou haſt tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord thy God; diſperſing thy Ways to Strangers under every green Tree, and you have not hearkened to what I ſaid, ſays the Lord.

14. Return, deſerting Poſterity, ſays he, for I am married to you; whom I will take one of a City, and two of a Family, bringing you to Zion.

15. And will give you Shepherds according to my own Heart, who ſhall feed you with Knowledge and Underſtanding.

16. In thoſe Days alſo when you are increaſed, and become fruitful in the Country, ſays the Lord, it will no more be ſaid, The Ark of the Lord's Covenant; nor will it come into the Mind: they will neither remember it, nor count, which will be done no more.

17. At that Time Jeruſalem ſhall be called

Ver. 31. divine Darkneſs] Heb. Darkneſs of Jah or the Lord.

Ver. 16. count] This being after the Babylonian Capti-

The Throne of the Lord, to which all Nations will be gathered, to the Name of the Lord at Jeruſalem; and they will go no more after the Imagination of their evil Heart.

18. The Family of Judah ſhall go with that of Iſrael in thoſe Days, and they ſhall come out of the north Country, to this which I made your Forefathers poſſeſs.

19. When I ſay; How ſhall I put thee among the Sons, and give thee the deſirable Country, the glorious Poſſeſſion of the Armies of the Nations? I ſay withal; Thou ſhalt call me, My Father, and not turn away from following me.

20. Surely as a Wife is treacherous to her Companion, ſo have you been treacherous againſt me, O Family of Iſrael, ſays the Lord.

21. There was a Voice of Weeping heard upon the high Places, the Supplications of the Iſraelites: for they had made their Way crooked, they had forgot the Lord their God.

22. Return, deſerting Poſterity, I will heal your Turnings away: ſay, Behold we are come to thee, becauſe thou art the Lord our God.

23. Surely in vain from the Hills, the Multitude of Mountains, ſurely by the Lord our God is the Salvation of Iſrael.

24. Shame having conſumed the Labour of our Fathers from our Youth, their Flocks and Herds, Sons and Daughters.

25. We lie down in our Shame, and our Confuſion covers us; becauſe we our ſelves have ſinned againſt the Lord our God, as well as our Fathers, from our Youth to this Time, and not hearkened to what he ſaid.

CHAP. IV.

IF thou wilt return, O Iſrael, ſays the Lord, thou mayeſt return to me: and if thou wilt take away thy Abominations from my Face, thou ſhalt not remove.

2. But ſhalt ſwear, By the Lord's living; truly, juſtly and righteouſly: through whom the Gentiles ſhall be bleſſed, and glory through him.

3. For thus ſays the Lord to the Men of Judah and Jeruſalem: Break up for your ſelves the fallow Ground, and do not ſow in the Thorns.

4. Be circumciſed to the Lord, taking away the Foreſkins of your Hearts, O Men of Judah, and Inhabitants of Jeruſalem; leſt my Wrath ſhould come forth like Fire, and burn, ſo that none can quench it, by reaſon of the Wickedneſs of your Deeds.

5. Declare in Judah, and publiſh in Jeruſalem, ſaying; Sound the Trumpet in the Country, proclaim fully as follows, Get together, and let us go into the fortified Cities.

6. Lift up the Standard towards Zion, gather together, do not ſtay: for I will bring Adverſity from the North, and a great Breach.

7. The Lion comes up from his Thicket, and the Deſtroyer of the Nations marches on, coming out of his Place; to make thy Country deſolate that thy Cities may be waſte, having no Inhabitant.

8. For this gird your ſelves with Sackcloth, cry, and lament; becauſe the Lord's fervent Anger is not turned back from us.

9. On that Day, ſays the Lord, ſhall the Courage of the King periſh, as alſo that of the Princes, the Prieſts too ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and the Prophets wonder.

10. Upon this I ſaid; Alas, Sovereign Lord, ſurely thou haſt quite deceived this People, and Jeruſalem, in ſaying, You ſhall have Peace; whereas the Sword reaches to the very Life.

11. At that Time it ſhall be ſaid to this People, and Jeruſalem; There is a clear Wind of the high Places in the Wilderneſs, at the Way to the Daughter of my People, neither to winnow, nor to purify.

12. A full Wind from thoſe Places ſhall come for me: even now I pronounce the Judgments to them.

13. Behold he will come up like the Clouds, and his Chariots will be like a Whirlwind, his Horſes ſwifter than Eagles: wo is to us, for we are waſted.

14. Waſh thy Heart from Wickedneſs, Jeruſalem, that thou mayeſt be ſaved; how long ſhall thy vain Thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a Voice declares from Dan, and publiſhes the Vanity from Mount Ephraim.

16. Make mention to the Nations, lo publiſh concerning Jeruſalem, that Keepers are coming from a far Country, who utter their Voice againſt the Cities of Judah.

---

vity, when the Ark never returned to Jeruſalem, nor the Country of Judah, but was probably deſtroyed, viſit ſeems not the Meaning; ſo Jun. and Trem. render by recenſeo.

Ver. 5. fully] Heb. fulfil, not gather together; and the Heb. Verbs do ſometimes thus ſerve for Adverbs.

Ver. 6. gather] as rendered every where elſe by our Tranſlators, viz. Ch. vi. 1. Exod. ix. 19. Iſa. x. 31.

Ver. 11. Wind] See Chap. li. 1.

Ver. 16. Keepers] to keep in Cuſtody as they do Priſoners: for this in the Chald. is, an Army of People plundering as Grape-gatherers; notzerim being rendered as botzerim, and the reſt added in.

17. Like

17. Like thoſe who look after a Field are they againſt her on every Side, becauſe ſhe has rebelled againſt me, ſays the Lord.

18. Thy own Way and Deeds have cauſed theſe Things to thee: this is of thy own Wickedneſs, that it is bitter, that it reaches to thy Heart.

19. O my Bowels, my Bowels, I am in Anguiſh at the Sides of my Heart, which is diſturbed in me, I cannot be ſilent; becauſe thou heareſt, my Soul, the Sound of the Trumpet, the Noiſe of War.

20. Breach upon Breach is to be proclaimed, as the whole Country is to be waſted: my Tents are waſted preſently, my Curtains in an Inſtant.

21. How long ſhall I ſee the Standard, ſhall I hear the Sound of the Trumpet?

22. For my People are fooliſh, not knowing me, they are ſilly Children, and they do not underſtand: they are wiſe to do ill, but know not how to do well.

23. I ſaw the Earth, and behold it was vacant and void; as alſo the Heaven, and it had no Light.

24. I ſaw the Mountains, and behold they ſhook; as likewiſe all the Hills, which were moved ſwiftly.

25. I ſaw that behold there were no Men, and all the Fowls of the Air were fled.

26. I ſaw that behold the arable Ground was a Wilderneſs, and all its Cities were deſtroyed by reaſon of the Lord, that is of his fervent Anger.

27. For thus ſays the Lord: All the Country ſhall be deſolate, though I will not make an entire End.

28. The Earth will mourn for this, and the Heaven above be gloomy; becauſe I have ſpoken, I have purpoſed, and will not repent, nor turn back from it.

29. At the Sound of the Horſemen and Archers ſhall the whole City flee, they ſhall go into the Thickets, and get up on the Rocks: every City ſhall be forſaken, and no Perſon dwell in them.

30. When thou art waſted, what wilt thou do? Though thou art cloathed with Scarlet, though thou art decked with Ornaments of Gold, though thou teareſt thy Eyes with Paint, in vain doſt thou make thy ſelf handſome: the Doters deſpiſe thee, they will ſeek thy Life.

31. For I have heard a Voice like a Woman's in labour, Anguiſh like hers who firſt brings forth, the Voice of the Daughter of Zion panting, ſpreading out her Hands; Wo is to me now, becauſe my Life is tired with Slayers.

CHAP V.

GO about in the Streets of Jeruſalem, look now, know, and ſeek in the broad Ways of it; if you can find a Perſon, if there is one who executes Judgment, ſeeks the Truth, I will pardon it.

2. Therefore they ſwear falſely, even though they ſay, By the Lord's living.

3. O Lord, are not thy Eyes on the Truth? Thou haſt ſmitten them, yet they did not grieve; having conſumed them, the reſt refuſed to receive Correction: they made their Faces harder than a Rock, refuſing to return.

4. Upon which I ſaid; Certainly thoſe are poor, they are fooliſh, becauſe they do not know the Way of the Lord, the Judgment of their God;

5. I will get me to the great ones, and ſpeak to them, ſince theſe know the Way of the Lord, the Judgment of their God: whereas the latter broke the Yoke together, burſt the Bonds.

6. The Lion therefore from the Wood will ſlay them, the evening Wolf will waſte them, the Leopard watch over their Cities, out of which every one who goes will be torn in pieces; becauſe their Tranſgreſſions are multiplied, their Turnings away become numerous.

7. Where ſhall I pardon thee at this Place? Thy Sons have forſaken me, and ſwear by thoſe that are not gods: though I have filled them, yet they commit Adultery, and go together by Troops at the Harlot's Houſe.

8. They are like Horſes that are fed early, neighing each one for his Neighbour's Wife.

9. Shall not I puniſh for theſe Things? ſays the Lord; and ſhall not my Soul be revenged on ſuch a Nation as this?

10. Get up on its Walls, and deſtroy, but do not make an entire End: take away its Breaſtworks, becauſe they are not the Lord's.

11. For the Family of Iſrael, and that of Judah, are quite treacherous againſt me, ſays the Lord.

12. They lye againſt the Lord, in this manner; It will not be, for Adverſity will not come upon us, we ſhall ſee neither Sword nor Famine.

Ver. 18. that it] viz. this is the Effect of thy Wickedneſs; made improper and obſcure by becauſe.

Ver. 30. Eyes] not face. Stibium, or Antimony pulverized, is ſaid to have been uſed by the Ancients to make the Eyes and Eyebrows look black and large.

Ver. 2. By the Lord's living] This being the Form of ſwearing, Hoſ. iv. 15. ſee Gen. xlii. 15, 16.

Ver. 4. thoſe] the common People of the City, Ver. 1.

Ver. 7. Where] as the Heb. ſignifies, not How. It may ſhew the Wickedneſs was too great to be pardoned, in all Parts of the City, as Ver. 1. ſee Jun. &c.

13. But the Prophets will become Wind, and there is no Commiſſion in them; it will be done thus to themſelves.

14. Therefore thus ſays the Lord God of Armies: Becauſe you ſpeak this Thing, behold I will make my Words in thy Mouth Fire, and this People Wood, and the former ſhall conſume the latter.

15. Behold I will bring againſt you a Nation from a Place far off, O Family of Iſrael, ſays the Lord; which is a ſtrong Nation, one that was of old Time, a Nation whoſe Language thou doſt not know, nor underſtand what they ſpeak.

16. Their Quiver is like an open Grave, all of them are ſtout Men.

17. And they will eat thy Harveſt and Bread, which thy Sons and Daughters ſhould eat, as they will alſo thy Flocks and Herds, they will eat of thy Vines and Fig-trees; they will impoveriſh thy fortified Cities, in which thou doſt truſt, with the Sword.

18. But yet in thoſe Days, ſays the Lord, I will not make an intire End of you.

19. And when you ſay, What does the Lord our God do all theſe Things to us for? thou ſhalt anſwer them, according as you have forſaken me, and ſerved ſtrange gods, in your own Country, ſo ſhall you ſerve Strangers in a Country that is not yours.

20. Declare this which follows in the Family of Jacob, and publiſh it in Judah:

21. Hear this now, you ſilly People, with no Senſe; who have Eyes, but do not ſee, who have Ears, but do not hear:

22. Will not you fear me? ſays the Lord; will you not be afraid of my Preſence? who have put the Sand the Bounds to the Sea, by an everlaſting Statute, which it cannot paſs: and though its Waves are moved, yet they cannot prevail; nor paſs it, though they are boiſterous.

23. But this People have an unruly and rebellious Heart: they are departed, and gone away.

24. Nor do they ſay in their Heart, Let us now fear the Lord our God, who gives the Rain, both the firſt and latter Rain in their Seaſon; he keeps for us the appointed Weeks of Harveſt.

25. Your Iniquities have turned away theſe Things, and your Sins with-held that which is good from you.

26. For there are found among my People wicked Men, who obſerve as the Fowlers ſet Snares, they ſet a deſtroying Thing, catch Perſons.

27. As a Cage is full of Birds, ſo are their Houſes full of Deceit; by reaſon of which they are become great, and rich.

28. They are fat, are bright, they even ſurpaſs the evil Things: the Cauſe which is of the Fatherleſs they do not plead, yet proſper, nor do they judge the Right of the needy ones.

29. Shall not I puniſh for theſe Things? ſays the Lord? ſhall not my Soul be revenged on ſuch a Nation as this?

30. An aſtoniſhing, and horrible Thing, is brought to paſs in the Country:

31. The Prophets propheſy falſely, and the Prieſts rule by their means, my People loving it ſhould be ſo; but what will you do at the End of it?

CHAP. VI.

GATHER together, you Benjaminites, from within Jeruſalem, ſound the Trumpet in Tekoa, and put up the Token at Beth-hackerem: for Adverſity appears from the North, and a great Breach.

2. To a Paſture, and delicate Place, do I compare the Daughter of Zion.

3. To which Shepherds come with their Flocks, pitch Tents by it round about, feed in their ſeveral Places, ſaying;

4. Prepare War againſt it; ariſe, and let us go up at Noon: wo is to us, for the Day is turned about, and the Shadows of the Evening are ſtretched forth.

5. Ariſe, let us go up then by Night, and deſtroy its Palaces.

6. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies; Cut down Wood, and make a Rampart againſt Jeruſalem; that is the City to be viſited, all that is within it being Oppreſſion.

7. As a Spring ſends out its Water, ſo does that its Wickedneſs: Violence and Waſting are heard in it, before me there is continually Sickneſs and Wounds.

8. Be inſtructed, Jeruſalem, leſt my Soul ſhould hang looſe from thee, leſt I ſhould make thee deſolate, a Country uninhabited.

Ver. 17. eat of] I preſume not eat up.

Ver. 26. Fowlers] which the Heb. Noun ſignifies, not ſnares, the Verb ſignifying to ſet ſnares.

Ver. 1. together] to flee added in the Eng.

Ver. 2. Paſture] The Heb. Word has properly this Meaning, which the next Verſe abundantly confirms; whereas to ſignify comely there muſt be ſuppoſed a Change of the Letter ס into ן beſides the Inconſiſtency it produces; ſee Lowth's Commentary, with Grot.

Ver. 3. ſaying] ſeveral times added thus in the com. Tranſ. as Ver. 17.

Ver. 8. hang looſe] ſtrictly to the Meaning of the Heb. Word, and in an Idiom of our own.

9. Thus adds the Lord of Armies, They ſhall throughly glean the Remainder of Iſrael as a Vine: put thou back thy Hand like a Grape-gatherer into the Baſkets.

10. To whom ſhall I ſpeak, and teſtify, that they may hear? Behold their Ear is uncircumciſed, ſo that they cannot hearken: behold the Lord's Commiſſion is a Reproach to them, they are not pleaſed with it.

11. I am therefore filled with the Lord's Wrath, am weary of containing; I will pour it out upon the Children in the Street, and upon the young Men conſulting together: for both the Huſbands with the Wives will be taken, and the Old with ſuch as are full of Days.

12. Their Houſes will alſo be turned to others, the Fields and Women together: for I will ſtretch forth my Hand againſt all the Inhabitants of the Country, ſays the Lord.

13. Becauſe from the leaſt of them to the very greateſt, every one is covetous; and from the Prophet even to the Prieſt, every one deals falſely.

14. And they heal the Breach of my People lightly, ſaying, Conſtant Peace; when there is none.

15. Are they aſhamed, becauſe they do Abomination? They are even not at all aſhamed, nor do they know how to bluſh: therefore ſhall they fall among thoſe who fall, at the Time that I viſit them they ſhall ſtumble, ſays the Lord.

16. Who expreſſed himſelf thus; Stand by the Ways, and look, and aſk for the ancient Paths, where the good Way is, and go in it; ſo ſhall you find reſt for your Souls; but they ſaid, We will not go there.

17. I further ſet up Watchmen over them, ſaying, Hearken to the Sound of the Trumpet; but they ſaid, We will not.

18. Therefore hear, you Nations, and know, you Aſſembly, what ſhall be upon them.

19. Hear, O Earth, behold I will bring Adverſity on this People, the Fruit of their own Thoughts; becauſe they have not hearkened to my Words, nor my Law, but rejected it.

20. Wherefore is Frankincenſe brought to me from Sheba, and the beſt ſweet Cane from a Country far off? Your Burnt-offerings are not acceptable, nor your Sacrifices ſweet to me.

21. For which Reaſon the Lord ſays thus: Behold I will put Stumbling-blocks to this People, and the Fathers and Sons ſhall ſtumble on them together, the Inhabitant and his Neighbour periſh.

22. Lo, continues the Lord, a People ſhall come from the north Country, and a great Nation ſhall be ſtirred up from the Sides of the Earth.

23. Who will take hold of Bow and Spear, they are cruel, and have no compaſſion, their Voice makes a Noiſe like the Sea, and they ride upon Horſes, each ſet in order like a Warrior againſt thee, O Daughter of Zion.

24. We having heard the News of it, our Hands are ſlack, Diſtreſs has taken hold of us, Anguiſh as of a Woman in labour.

25. Go not forth into the Field, nor walk in the Way: for the Sword of the Enemy, Dread is round about.

26. O Daughter of my People, gird thee with Sackcloth, and roll thy ſelf in Aſhes, make thee Mourning as for an only Child, very bitter Lamentation; ſince the Waſter will ſuddenly come againſt us.

27. I have made thee a Tower, a Fortreſs among my People; that thou mayeſt know, and try their Way.

28. All of them are moſt unruly, they go about backbiting, are like Braſs and Iron: they are all of them Corrupters.

29. The Bellows are burnt, the Lead is conſumed by the Fire, one ſtill caſts in vain, the Wicked being not pulled away.

30. Rejected Silver they ſhall call them, becauſe the Lord has rejected them.

CHAP. VII.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord was as follows:

2. Stand at the Gate of the Lord's Houſe, and proclaim there this following Commiſſion: Hear the Commiſſion of the Lord, all Judah, who come in at theſe Gates to worſhip him.

3. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Let your Ways and Deeds be good, and I will cauſe you to dwell in this Place.

4. Truſt ye not on falſe Things, ſaying

Ver. 9. put thou back thy Hand] to take out what is left.
Ver. 10. I] Jeremiah himſelf.
Ver. 14. of my People] of the daughter ſeems added unſuitably, as the People are ſpoken of plurally both before and after.
Ver. 24. We] ſpoken by the Prophet in the Name of his People.
Ver. 27. I] ſays God, to be underſtood.
Ver. 29. the Lead] uſed in caſting.
Ib. ſtill] it being not a Noun, but the Verb repeated.
Ver. 4. falſe Things] ſo Caſtal. has falſis rebus, as Jun. and Trem. have rebus falſis; and by comparing the ſame Ver. 8. with Ver. 10. it appears that the coming and ſtanding before God there, were thoſe Things which would be falſe to truſt on by ſuch as were wicked People; ſee the latter Word thus rendered Ver. 23.
Ib. they are of] to make it Senſe, and agreeable to Ver. 10. as Jun. and Trem. likewiſe tranſlate.

they

they are of the Lord's Temple, over and over again.

5. But let your Ways and Deeds be throughly good: if you throughly do Juſtice between one and another,

6. If you do not oppreſs the Stranger, Fatherleſs or Widow, neither ſhed innocent Blood in this Place, nor go after other gods to your own Hurt;

7. Then will I cauſe you to dwell in this Place, in the Country which I gave to your Forefathers from Age to Age.

8. Behold you truſt upon falſe Things, which do not profit.

9. Will you ſteal, murder, commit Adultery, ſwear falſely, burn incenſe to Baal, and go after other gods whom you do not know;

10. Then come, and ſtand before me in this Houſe which is called by my Name, and ſay, We are delivered, in order to do all theſe Abominations?

11. Is this Houſe, which is called by my Name, become a Cave of Robbers in your Sight? Even I indeed ſee it, ſays the Lord.

12. But go now to my Place which was at Shilo, where I made my Name remain at firſt, and ſee what I did to it by reaſon of the Wickedneſs of my People Iſrael.

13. And now becauſe ye have done all theſe Works, ſays the Lord, when I ſpoke to you, and that early, but ye would not hearken, and called you, but ye would not anſwer;

14. I will therefore do to the Houſe that is called by my Name, on which you truſt, and to the Place which I gave you and your Forefathers, according as I did to Shilo.

15. And I will caſt you from before me, as I have caſt all your Brethren, the whole Offspring of Ephraim.

16. So do not thou pray for this People, neither put up Cry or Prayer for them, nor interceed with me: for I will not hearken to thee.

17. Doſt not thou ſee what they do, both in the Cities of Judah, and Streets of Jeruſalem?

18. The Sons pick up Wood, the Fathers make a Fire, and the Women knead Dough; to make Cakes for the Work of Heaven, and pour out Drink-offerings to other gods, that they may provoke me.

19. Do they provoke me? ſays the Lord: Is it not themſelves, by reaſon of the Shame of their own Faces?

20. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: Behold my Anger and Wrath ſhall be poured forth at this Place, upon Men, Beaſts, the Trees of the Field, and the Fruit of the Ground; which ſhall burn, and not be quenched.

21. Add your own Burnt-offerings to your Sacrifices, as the Lord of Armies the God of Iſrael ſays, and eat Fleſh.

22. For I did not ſpeak to your Forefathers, nor command them at the Time that I brought them out of the Country of Egypt, concerning the Things of Burnt-offering or Sacrifice.

23. But this is the Thing I commanded them, Hearken to what I ſay, ſo will I be a God to you, as you ſhall a People to me; and you muſt go in every Way which I command you, that it may be well for you.

24. Nevertheleſs they would not hearken, nor incline their Ear; but went in the Counſels, in the Imagination of their own evil Heart, ſo were backwarder, and not forwarder.

25. Even from the Time when your Forefathers came out of the Country of Egypt to this Time, I have ſent you all my Servants the Prophets, and that daily riſing early.

26. Yet they would not hearken to me, nor incline their Ear; but made their Neck ſtiff, doing worſe than their Fathers.

27. So thou ſhalt ſpeak all theſe Words to them, though they will not hearken to thee; and call to them, though they will not anſwer thee.

28. Upon which thou ſhalt ſay to them, This is a Nation that will not hearken to what the Lord its God ſays, nor receive Correction: the Truth being periſhed, and cut off from their Mouth.

29. Shave thy Hair off, and throw it away, as alſo take up a Lamentation upon the high Places; becauſe the Lord has rejected, and forſaken the Generation of his Wrath.

30. For the Poſterity of Judah have done what I was diſpleaſed with, ſays the Lord, having put their deteſtable Things in the Houſe which is called by my Name, to defile it;

31. And have built the Chapels of Topheth, which are in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, to burn their Sons and Daughters in the Fire; which I did not command, nor did it come into my Mind.

32. Therefore behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when it ſhall no more be called Topheth, or the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter: for they ſhall bury in Topheth, till there is no Room.

33. And the dead Bodies of this People ſhall become Food, both to the Fowls of the Air, and the Beaſts of the Earth, none frightening away.

34. Thus will I cauſe to ceaſe, as well from the Cities of Judah as the Streets of Jeruſalem, the Voice of Joy and that of Mirth, the Voice of the Bridegroom and that of the Bride; ſince the Country ſhall become waſte.

CHAP. VIII.

AT that Time, ſays the Lord, they ſhall bring the Bones of the Kings of Judah, with thoſe of its Princes, as likewiſe of the Prieſts, Prophets, and Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, out of their Graves.

2. And they ſhall ſpread them to the Sun, Moon, and all the Army of Heaven that they loved, and ſerved, after which they went, which they ſought and bowed down to: they ſhall not be gathered up, nor buried, they ſhall become Dung upon the Surface of the Ground.

3. Death ſhall alſo be choſen rather than Life, by the whole Reſidue who are left of this wicked Family, and that in all Places whither I have expelled them, ſays the Lord of Armies.

4. Beſides thou ſhalt tell them, the Lord ſays thus: Do Men fall, and not get up? Does a Man turn away, and not return?

5. Why is this People of Jeruſalem turned away, with a perpetual Turning away? They hold faſt Deceit, they refuſe to return.

6. I hearken, and hear, that they do not ſpeak right; no Man repents for his Wickedneſs, ſaying, What have I done? Every one of them returns to their own Courſe, as a Horſe ruſhes into the Battle.

7. Even the Stork in the Air knows its appointed Time, as alſo the Turtle-dove, the Crane and Swallow, obſerve the Time of their coming; whereas my People do not know the Judgment of the Lord.

8. How can you ſay, We are wiſe, and the Law of the Lord is with us? Lo ſurely he made it in vain, the Pen of the Scribes was vain.

9. Thoſe wiſe ones are aſhamed, daunted, and taken: behold they reject the Lord's Commiſſion, and what Wiſdom have they?

10. Therefore I will give their Wives to others, their Fields to thoſe who ſhall have poſſeſſion: for from the leaſt to the very greateſt, every one is covetous, from the Prophet even to the Prieſt, every one deals falſely.

11. And they heal the Breach of the Daughter of my People lightly, ſaying, Conſtant Peace; when there is none.

12. Are they aſhamed, becauſe they do Abomination? They are even not at all aſhamed, nor do they know how to bluſh: therefore ſhall they fall among thoſe who fall, at the Time of their Viſitation they ſhall ſtumble, ſays the Lord.

13. I will quite take them away, adds he: there ſhall be no Grapes on the Vine, nor yet Figs on the Fig-tree, even the Leaf ſhall wither, and the Things which I have given them paſs from them.

14. What do we ſit ſtill for? Gather together, and let us go into the fortified Cities, and be ſilent there; ſince the Lord our God has made us ſilent, and given us Water of Gall to drink, becauſe we ſinned againſt the Lord.

15. We wait for Peace, but there is no Good; for a Time of Healing, but lo it is Diſturbance.

16. The Snorting of his Horſes is heard from Dan, at the Sound of the Neighings of his ſtrong ones the whole Country ſhakes: as they are come, and conſume the Country with what it is full of, the City and thoſe who dwell therein.

17. For behold I will ſend Serpents, Cockatrices among you, which will have no Charming; and they ſhall bite you, ſays the Lord.

18. I would get refreſhment againſt Sorrow, my Heart languiſhing in me.

19. Lo the Voice of the Cry from the Daughter of my People, is by reaſon of the remote Places of the Earth; Is not the Lord in Zion? Is not its King in it, ſaying, Why do they provoke me by their carved Images, by the Vanities of Strangers?

20. The Harveſt is paſt, the Summer ended, yet we are not ſaved.

21. For the Breach of the Daughter of my People am I broken; I am gloomy, Aſtoniſhment takes hold of me.

22. Is there no Balſam in Gilead, no Phyſician there? For why is not the Health of the Daughter of my People recovered?

Ver. 4. Do Men] Heb. Verbs do ſo comprehend this Subject, like Adjectives the ſame Subſtantive in Lat. and ſometimes Eng. as the righteous, wicked, &c. ſee Chap. xvi. 6.

Ib. Does a Man] as before; thus the Senſe is clear.

Ver. 8. in vain] The Lord made his Law in vain for them, ſince they did not practiſe it, though they had it.

Ver. 13. quite take them away] This being parallel to that in Zeph. i. 2. may be referred thither; where it is thoroughly diſcuſſed.

CHAP. IX.

OH that my Head was Water, and my Eyes were a Fountain of Tears; that I might weep Day and Night, for the Slain of the Daughter of my People!

2. Oh that I had in the Wilderneſs a Lodging-place of Travellers, that I might leave my People, and go from them! for they are all Adulterers, treacherous on the ſolemn Day.

3. And they bend their Tongue like their Bow with Falſehood, but are not ſtrong for the Truth on the Earth: for they go forth from one Wickedneſs to another, and do not know me, ſays the Lord.

4. Take heed each of his Neighbour, and do not truſt on any Brother; becauſe every Brother throughly defrauds, and every Neighbour goes about backbiting.

5. They alſo delude their reſpective Neighbours, and do not ſpeak truly: they teach their Tongue to tell Lyes, they are tired by doing perverſely.

6. Thy Dwelling is in the midſt of Deceit; through Deceit they refuſe to know me, ſays the Lord.

7. Therefore thus ſays the Lord of Armies: Behold I will try, and prove them; for how ſhall I do by reaſon of the Daughter of my People?

8. Their Tongue is like an Arrow hammered out, it ſpeaks Deceit: when one ſpeaks peaceably to his Neighbour with his Mouth, in his Mind he appoints his lying in wait.

9. Shall not I puniſh them for theſe Things? ſays the Lord; ſhall not my Soul be revenged on ſuch a Nation as this?

10. I will take up Weeping and Mourning for the Mountains, and a Lamentation for the Paſtures of the Wilderneſs, becauſe they are burnt up, without a Man paſſing through, nor can they hear the Voice of Cattle: both the Fowls of the Air, and the Beaſts are fled, gone away.

11. And I will make Jeruſalem Heaps, a Habitation of Dragons; as alſo cauſe the Cities of Judah to be deſolate, without Inhabitant.

12. Who is a wiſe Man, that he may underſtand this; and to whom the Mouth of the Lord has ſpoken, that he may declare it? For what does the Country periſh, being burnt up like a Wilderneſs, without any paſſing through?

13. For their forſaking my Law, ſays the Lord, which I put before them, and not hearkening to what I ſaid, nor walking in it;

14. But going after the Imagination of their own Heart, and after Baalim, what their Fathers taught them.

15. Thus therefore ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael: Lo I will make this very People eat Wormwood, and give them Water of Gall to drink.

16. I will diſperſe them too among the Gentiles, whom neither they nor their Fathers knew; and will ſend the Sword after them, till they are conſumed.

17. Conſider, as the Sovereign Lord adds, and call for lamenting Women to come, and ſend for wiſe ones to come.

18. Let them alſo make haſte, and take up Mourning for us: let our own Eyes alſo cauſe the Tears to run down, and our Eyelids the Water to flow.

19. For a Voice of Mourning is heard from Zion; How we are waſted! we are exceedingly aſhamed, becauſe we have left the Country, becauſe our Dwellings have caſt us out.

20. For hear the Lord's Commiſſion, you Women, and let your Ear receive that of his Mouth; that you ſhould teach your Daughters Mourning, and one another Lamentation.

21. Becauſe Death is come up into our Windows, is entered into our Palaces; to cut off the Children from being abroad, the young Men from the Streets.

22. Pronounce; Thus ſays the Lord, Even Men's dead Bodies ſhall fall like Dung out in the Field, and like the Handfuls behind a Reaper, none gathering up.

23. Let not the wiſe Man, as the Lord ſays, glory in his Wiſdom, nor the ſtrong in his Strength, let not the rich one glory in his Riches.

24. But let him who glories, do it in this; that he underſtands, and knows me; that I am the Lord doing Kindneſs, Juſtice and Righteouſneſs on the Earth: for I delight in theſe Things, ſays the Lord.

25. Behold the Days are coming, continues he, when I will puniſh every one who is circumciſed with the uncircumciſed;

Ver. 2. ſolemn Day] The Word ſignifying thus, as has been noted elſewhere: Jun. and Trem. accordingly tranſlate, interdicti die perfidè agunt, they act treacherouſly on the holy Day.

26. Egypt, Judah, Edom, the Ammonites, Moab, and all that are ſeparated at a Corner, dwelling in the Wilderneſs: for as all other Nations are uncircumciſed, the whole Family of Iſrael are in Heart.

CHAP. X.

HEAR the Commiſſion which the Lord ſpeaks for you, O Family of Iſrael;

2. Who ſays thus: Do not learn the Way of the Gentiles, nor be daunted at the Signs of the Heaven, though the Gentiles are daunted at them.

3. For the Ordinances of thoſe People are Vanity it ſelf: becauſe one cuts down a Tree at the Wood, the Work of an Artificer's Hands, with an Ax;

4. Which he makes beautiful with Silver and Gold, they faſten the Parts with Nails and Hammers, that it may not ſtir.

5. They are ſolid like a Palm-tree, and cannot ſpeak; are carried entirely, becauſe they cannot go: be not afraid of them; for they can do no hurt, and on the contrary there is Nothing in them to do good:

6. By reaſon that there is none like thee, O Lord; who art great, as is alſo thy Name, in Power.

7. Who would not fear thee, O King of Nations? For it is ſuitable to thee; ſince among all the wiſe Men of the Nations, and in all their Kingdoms, there is none like thee.

8. Whereas thoſe are ſenſeleſs, and ignorant together: that Wood is very vain Inſtruction.

9. Silver beat out is brought from Tarſhiſh, and Gold from Uphaz, the Work of an Artificer, and of a Founder's Hands: their Cloathing is blue and purple, they are all the Work of ſkilful Men.

10. But the Lord is the true God, he is a living God, and an everlaſting King: at his Wrath the Earth ſhakes, and the Nations cannot bear his Indignation.

11. You may reaſon with them after this manner, The gods who did not make the Heaven and the Earth, will periſh both from the Ground and under this Heaven.

12. When he, who made the Earth by his Power, eſtabliſhed the World by his Wiſdom, and by his Underſtanding ſtretched out the Heaven,

13. Utters his Voice, there is Abundance of Water in the Heaven, he cauſing the Vapours to aſcend from the Border of the Earth; he makes the Lightnings with the Rain, and brings the Wind out of his Treaſuries.

14. Every Man is too ſenſeleſs to know, every Founder is aſhamed through the carved Image: for his molten Image is Falſehood, and there is no Breath in them.

15. They are Vanity, the Work of Errors; in the Time of their Viſitation they will periſh.

16. The Share of Jacob is not like theſe; for he is the Former of all Things, and Iſrael is the Tribe of his Poſſeſſion; his Name being the Lord of Armies.

17. Gather up thy Commodity out of the Country, thou who abideſt in the Fortification.

18. For thus ſays the Lord, Behold I will ſling away the Inhabitants of the Country at this Time, and diſtreſs them, that they may find it.

19. Wo is to me through my Ruin, my Blow being grievous; yet I ſay, Certainly though this is a Diſeaſe, I muſt bear it.

20. My Tent is waſted, and all my Cords are broke aſunder: my Children are gone out of me, and are not; there is none to ſtretch out my Tent any more, or put up my Curtains.

21. For the Shepherds are become ſenſeleſs, and do not ſeek the Lord: therefore they will not proſper, and all that are grazing of them will be diſperſed.

22. The Noiſe of the Report behold is come, even of a great Stirring out of the north Country, to make the Cities of Judah deſolate, a Habitation of Dragons.

Ver. 26. Edom] See Ezek. xxv. 13.

Ib. Ammonites] See Ezek. xxv. 3.

Ib. other] It is clear that all theſe Nations were not uncircumciſed, as in the com. Tranſ. if it were only becauſe Judah was not; whereas it is well known the Egyptians were circumciſed (ſee on Gen. xvii. 26.) under whom the Ethiopians might be here comprehended, &c. the Moabites, ſays the Univerſal Hiſtory, uſed Circumciſion, Book I. iv. 1. and the Ammonites were circumciſed, Id. I. iv. 2. which can ſcarcely be doubted of the Edomites, being Deſcendants of Abraham. Ver. 5. ſolid] rendered in the com. Tranſ. beaten work, Exod. xxv. 18, 31, 36, &c. coming from the Verb to be hard, without any Meaning of upright in either. The Idols had no Capacity of Speech or Motion, aocording to the following Words, but were like a ſolid inanimate Tree: Jun. and Trem. explain it, ut ſtipites rigent, they are as ſtiff as ſtakes.

Ver. 11. This Verſe, as a Direction to the People when in Captivity, is in the Chaldee Tongue.

Ver. 14. too] ב

23. I am ſenſible, O Lord, that Man's Way is not of himſelf, it is not of the Perſon who goes to order his own Steps.

24. Correct me, O Lord, but in Judgment; not in thy Anger, leſt thou ſhouldeſt make me little.

25. Pour out thy Wrath upon the Gentiles who do not know thee, and upon the Families that call not on thy Name; becauſe they have been conſuming Jacob, and that ſo as to make an end of him, and have made his Habitation deſolate.

CHAP. XI.

A Commission which Jeremiah had from the Lord was as follows:

2. Hear you the Words of this Covenant, and ſpeak to the Men of Judah, with the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

3. To whom thou ſhalt declare, that the Lord God of Iſrael ſays thus; The Man is curſed who will not hearken to the Words of this Covenant,

4. Which I commanded your Forefathers at the Time I brought them out of the Country of Egypt, from the iron Furnace, as follow, Hearken to what I ſay, and do them, entirely as I command you; ſo ſhall you be a People to me, as I will a God to you.

5. That I may confirm the Oath which I ſware to your Forefathers, to give them a Country flowing with Milk and Honey; as it is this Day. To which I made anſwer, So let it be, O Lord.

6. Proclaim all theſe following Words, added the Lord to me, both in the Cities of Judah, and the Streets of Jeruſalem; Hear you the Words of this Covenant, and do them.

7. For I have fully teſtified to your Fathers, at the Time I brought them up from the Country of Egypt, and till this Time, and that early, that they ſhould hearken to what I ſay.

8. Nevertheleſs they would not hearken, nor incline their Ear, but went each in the Imagination of their own evil Heart: I will therefore bring upon them all the Words of this Covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they would not.

9. The Lord ſaid to me further; There is a Conſpiracy found among the Men of Judah, and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

10. They are turned back to the Iniquities of their former Fathers, who refuſed to hearken to my Words, and went themſelves after other gods to ſerve them: the Family of Iſrael, and that of Judah, have broke my Covenant which I made with their Forefathers.

11. Therefore, as the Lord ſays, behold I will bring Adverſity on them, which they ſhall not be able to get out of; and though they cry to me, yet I will not hearken to them.

12. The Cities of Judah and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem may then go, and cry to the gods to whom they burn incenſe; but they ſhall not ſave them at all in the Time of their Adverſity.

13. For thou haſt as many gods as thou haſt Cities, Judah; and you have made as many Altars to the Shame, thoſe to burn incenſe to Baal, as there are Streets in Jeruſalem.

14. So do not thou pray for this People, nor put up Cry or Prayer for them; becauſe I will not hearken at the Time they call to me for their Adverſity.

15. What has my Beloved to do in my Houſe, ſhe having done very heinouſly with many, and the holy Fleſh being gone from thee? When thou haſt Wickedneſs, then thou rejoiceſt.

16. The Lord called thy Name a green fair Olive-tree, with handſome Fruit, upon which he has kindled a Fire with the Sound of a great Noiſe, and they have broke the Sprouts of it.

17. And the Lord of Armies who planted thee, has pronounced Evil againſt thee, by reaſon of the Evil of the Family of Iſrael, and that of Judah, which they did of themſelves, to provoke me by burning incenſe to Baal.

18. Which the Lord let me know, and I did: thou then ſhewedſt me their Deeds.

Ver. 25. Pour &c.] from Pſa. lxxix. 6, 7.

Ib. that ſo] The ſame Verb being repeated, to ſet it forth ſtrongly, as elſewhere, and in the ſame Tenſe; tho' the Author of State of the Pr. Heb. ſaying, it makes the Sentence abſurd, turns it future, that it may be ſo; and adds, We may conclude it occaſion'd by the Verb ſing. juſt before, and to be inſerted by a Tranſcriber, who, reſolving to have the true reading, inſerted both, p. 505. whereas the Verb before is not ſing. but plur. like this; whither is the Zeal without Judgment then, that he reflects with, to be returned? Nor is this all of it, for he counts this Verb a various Reading of the next after it, and that a true and original Word, yet ſays, neither of them are neceſſary to the Senſe, and perhaps both added by Tranſcribers.

Ver. 2. you] Jeremiah and the other Prophets.

Ver. 12. may] In Poole's Annotations it is ſaid, 'Shall '(in the com. Tranſ.) here ſignifieth Will, and might as 'well have been ſo tranſlated;' but that may is better than either will eaſily appear, on comparing each with the Matter of the Context.

Ver. 15. This Verſe being what the Lord ſaid, like the foregoing, my Beloved will be his People, as Chap. xii. 7. and the next Verſe begins the Prophet's Words.

Ib. holy Fleſh being gone] The Fleſh of their Sacrifices being not holy, as it had been, by reaſon of the People's Wickedneſs.

Ver. 18. then] deficient in the Lat. Vulg.

19. But

19. But I was like a Sheep or an Ox brought to the Slaughter, not knowing that they deviſed Devices thus againſt me, Let us deſtroy the Tree with the Food of it, even cut him off from the Country of the Living, and let his Name be remembred no more.

20. So, O Lord of Armies, who judgeſt righteouſly, trying the Reins and Heart, let me ſee thy Vengeance on them; for I diſcover my Cauſe to thee.

21. Therefore thus ſays the Lord concerning the Men of Anathoth who ſeek thy Life, ſaying, Do not propheſy in the Name of the Lord, that thou mayeſt not die by our Hands;

22. Even the Lord of Armies ſays thus; Behold I will puniſh them, the young Men ſhall die by the Sword, their Sons and Daughters ſhall die by Famine;

23. And there ſhall be no Remainder of them: for I will bring Adverſity on the Men of Anathoth, the Year of their Viſitation.

CHAP. XII.

THOU art righteous, O Lord, though I ſhould plead with thee, yet let me ſpeak of the Judgments to thee: Why does the Way of the Wicked proſper? All thoſe are quiet who deal treacherouſly.

2. Thou haſt planted them, they have alſo taken root; they grow, nay they yield Fruit; in whoſe Mouth thou art near, but far from their Reins.

3. However thou knoweſt me, O Lord, ſeeſt me, and trieſt my Heart to thee: pull them out like Sheep for the Slaughter, and prepare them for the Day of ſlaying.

4. How long ſhall the Country mourn, and the Graſs of every Field wither? By reaſon of the Wickedneſs of thoſe who dwell in it, the Beaſts and Fowls are deſtroyed, though they ſay, He will not ſee our End.

5. If thou runneſt with Footmen, and they tire thee, how wilt thou be amongſt Horſes? And that in a peaceable Country on which thou truſteſt, how wilt thou do in the Height of Jordan?

6. For thy very Brothers, and thy Father's Family, themſelves have been treacherous to thee, even they have called a Multitude after thee: do not believe them, though they ſpeak good Things to thee.

7. I have forſaken my Houſe, have left my Poſſeſſion, delivered the Beloved of my Soul into the Power of her Enemies.

8. My Poſſeſſion is to me like a Lion in the Wood, it utters its Voice againſt me; for which reaſon I hate it.

9. As a ravenous Bird of a different Colour is my Poſſeſſion to me, which the others round about are againſt: come, gather together, all you wild Beaſts, approach to devour.

10. Many Shepherds deſtroy my Vineyard, tread down my Plat, cauſe my deſirable Plat to be a deſolate Wilderneſs.

11. Each is making it deſolate, it mourns being deſolate to me: the whole Country is become ſo, becauſe no Man regards.

12. The Waters are come upon all the high Places in the Wilderneſs, for the Sword of the Lord conſumes from one End of the Country to the other: there is no Peace to any Fleſh.

13. They have ſown Wheat, but reap Thorns, they are become ſick without profiting, and are aſhamed of your Crops, by reaſon of the Lord's fervent Anger.

14. Thus ſays the Lord however concerning all my evil Neighbours, who meddle with the Poſſeſſion which I made my People Iſrael poſſeſs; Behold I will pluck them from their Country, as I will alſo the Family of Judah from among them.

15. And after I have plucked them out, I will return, and have compaſſion upon them, bringing them again to their ſeveral Poſſeſſions, and to their own Country.

16. If they will then at all learn the Ways of my People, to ſwear by my Name, By the Lord's living, according as they taught my People to ſwear by Baal, they ſhall be built up amongſt my People.

17. But if they will not hearken, I will pluck out that Nation, by plucking out and deſtroying, ſays the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

THE Lord ſaid thus to me, Go, and get thee a linen Girdle, and put it upon thy Loins, without letting it come into Water.

2. So I got a Girdle according to the Lord's Commiſſion, and put upon my Loins.

3. And I had the Lord's Commiſſion again as follows,

4. Take the Girdle which thou haſt got, that is upon thy Loins, and getting ready, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a Hole of the Rock.

5. Accordingly I went, and hid it at Euphrates, as the Lord commanded me.

6. And a great while after the Lord ſaid to me, Get ready, go to Euphrates, and take the Girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7. With that I went to Euphrates, and digging, took the Girdle out of the Place where I had hid it; and behold the Girdle was ſpoiled, it was not fit for any Thing.

8. Then I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

9. Thus ſays the Lord, After this Manner will I ſpoil the Pride of Judah, and the great Pride of Jeruſalem.

10. This wicked People who refuſe to hearken to my Words, that walk in the Imagination of their own Heart, and go after other gods, to ſerve and worſhip them, ſhall be like this Girdle, which is not fit for any Thing.

11. For as a Girdle is cloſe to a Man's Loins, ſo have I cauſed the whole Family of Iſrael and that of Judah to be cloſe to me, ſays the Lord; that they might be to me a People, Renown, Praiſe, and an Ornament: but they would not hearken.

12. Thou ſhalt therefore declare this Expreſſion to them; Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; Every Bottle ſhall be filled with Wine; and when they anſwer thee, Do not we certainly know that it ſhall?

13. Thou ſhalt reply to them, Thus ſays the Lord, Behold I will fill all the Inhabitants of this Country, the Kings who ſit for David upon his Throne, the Prieſts, Prophets, and all the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, with Drunkenneſs.

14. And I will diſperſe them one with another, even the Fathers and Sons together, ſays the Lord: I will neither pity, ſpare, nor have compaſſion, not to deſtroy them.

15. Hearken, and give ear, be not haughty: for it is the Lord who ſpeaks.

16. Render Glory to the Lord your God, before he makes it dark, and before your Feet ſtumble upon the obſcure Mountains; and when you wait for Light he cauſes it to be the Shadow of Death, makes it Darkneſs.

17. But if you will not hearken to this, my Soul ſhall weep in ſecret Places by reaſon of the Pride; my Eye ſhall alſo throughly ſhed Tears, and cauſe them to run down, becauſe the Flock of the Lord is taken captive.

18. Say both to the King and Queen; Humble your ſelves, ſit down: for your Principalities, your fine Crown, ſhall come down.

19. The ſouthern Cities ſhall be ſhut up, none opening: Judah ſhall all of it be taken captive, the very happy Place ſhall.

20. Look up, and ſee thoſe who come from the North: where is the Flock that is given to thee, thy fine Sheep?

21. What wilt thou ſay when he puniſhes thee; ſince thou haſt taught thoſe Leaders to be the chief againſt thy ſelf? Will not Pains ſeize thee as of a Woman in labour?

22. And when thou ſayeſt in thy Heart, Why are theſe Things befallen me? It will be for the Abundance of thy Iniquity that thy Skirts are uncovered, thy Heels injured.

23. Can an Ethiopian change his Skin, or a Leopard his Spots? Are you likewiſe able to do well, who are uſed to do ill?

24. So I will diſperſe them as the Stubble which paſſes away, by the Wind of the Wilderneſs.

25. This is thy Lot, the Share of thy Meaſures from me, ſays the Lord; who haſt forgot me, and truſted in Falſehood.

26. Whom I will alſo make bare with thy Skirts over thy Face, ſo that thy Vileneſs ſhall be ſeen.

Ver. 4. go to Euphrates] near to which he might then be on ſome other Occaſion; which I ſuppoſe, as more likely than that he went ſo far as that River was from Judah twice on Purpoſe only, or that being ſo far it was but done in a Viſion.

CHAP. XIV.

THE Lord's Commiſſion which Jeremiah had upon the Account of the Scarcity of Things.

2. Judah mourns, and the Gates of it languiſh, they are ſad on the Earth; and the Cry of Jeruſalem goes up.

3. When their Nobles ſend their little ones for Water, they come to the Pits, finding none; they return with their Veſſels empty, are aſhamed, put to confuſion, and cover their Heads.

4. By reaſon that the Ground is chapt, becauſe there is no Rain on the Earth, the Huſbandmen are aſhamed, they cover their Heads.

5. For even the Hind when it brings forth in the Field forſakes, becauſe there is not freſh Graſs.

6. The wild Aſſes ſtanding upon the high Places, ſnuff up the Wind like Dragons: their Eyes fail, becauſe there is no Graſs.

7. Though our Iniquities teſtify againſt us, O Lord, act for thy Name's ſake: for our Turnings away are many, we have ſinned againſt thee.

8. O Hope of Iſrael, the Saviour of it in Time of Diſtreſs, why art thou like a Stranger in the Country, and like a Traveller who turns aſide to lodge?

9. Why art thou like a Man tired, as a ſtout one not able to ſave? Since thou art amongſt us, O Lord, and we are called by thy Name, do not leave us.

10. Thus ſays the Lord concerning this People, So they love to wander, they do not reſtrain their Feet; therefore the Lord being not pleaſed with them, will now remember their Iniquity, and viſit their Sins.

11. The Lord alſo ſaid to me; Do not pray for this People for what is good:

12. When they faſt, I will not hearken to their Cry; and when they offer up Burnt-offering and Oblation, I will not be pleaſed with them; but I will conſume them by the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence.

13. And I anſwered; Alas, O Sovereign Lord, behold the Prophets ſay to them, You will not ſee the Sword, nor have Famine, but I will give you true Peace in this Place.

14. Upon which the Lord replied to me; The Prophets propheſy falſely in my Name, I did not ſend them, nor command them, neither ſpeak to them: they propheſy to you a falſe Viſion, a Divination, a Thing of Nought, and the Deceit of their own Heart.

15. Therefore thus ſays the Lord; Concerning the Prophets that propheſy in my Name, though I did not ſend them, and who ſay, There will not be Sword and Famine in this Country; by the Sword and Famine thoſe Prophets ſhall be conſumed.

16. The People likewiſe, to whom they propheſy, ſhall be thrown into the Streets of Jeruſalem, by reaſon of the Famine and Sword, none burying them themſelves, their Wives, Sons nor Daughters: ſo will I pour out their Wickedneſs upon them.

17. Beſides thou ſhalt expreſs theſe Words to them: Let my Eyes cauſe Tears to run down Night and Day without ceaſing; becauſe the Virgin, the Daughter of my People, is broke with a great Breach, with a very grievous Blow.

18. If I go out into the Field, there are the Slain with the Sword: and if I go into the City, there are the Diſeaſed with the Famine: for both Prophet and Prieſt go about to a Country that they do not know.

19. Haſt thou quite rejected Judah? Does thy Soul loath Zion? Why haſt thou ſmitten us, ſo that there is no Healing for us? We wait for Peace, but there is no Good; and for a Time of Healing, but lo it is Diſturbance.

20. We acknowledge our Wickedneſs, O Lord, the Iniquity of our Fathers: for we have ſinned againſt thee.

21. Do not contemn, for thy Name's ſake, do not make the Throne of thy Glory vile; remember, not to break thy Covenant with us.

22. Are there any of the Vanities of the Gentiles that can make it rain? Or can the Heaven it ſelf give Showers? Is it not thou, O Lord our God? We will therefore wait for thee, ſince thou doeſt all theſe Things.

CHAP. XV.

THE Lord ſaid to me further: If Moſes and Samuel ſtood before me, my Soul ſhould not be towards this People: ſend them from my Preſence, and let them go forth.

2. And when they aſk thee, Whither ſhall we go forth? Thou ſhalt anſwer them, Thus ſays the Lord, Thoſe who are for Death to Death, thoſe who are for the Sword to the Sword, thoſe who are for the Famine to the Famine, and thoſe who are for Captivity to Captivity.

3. I will alſo ſet over them four Kinds of Things, ſays the Lord, the Sword to ſlay, and the Dogs to tear, as likewiſe the Fowls of the Air and the Beaſts of the Earth, to devour and deſtroy.

4. Moreover I will deliver them to Diſturbance in all the Kingdoms of the Earth, by reaſon of Manaſſeh the Son of Hezekiah King of Judah, for what he did in Jeruſalem.

5. For who will pity thee, Jeruſalem? Or who will bemoan thee? Or who will turn aſide to enquire how thou doeſt?

6. Thou haſt forſaken me, ſays the Lord, art gone backward: therefore will I ſtretch out my Hand againſt thee, and deſtroy thee; I am weary of being ſorry.

7. And I will fan them with a Fan at the Gates of the Country, I will deprive them of their Children, will deſtroy my People, who do not return from their Ways.

8. Their Widows are more numerous to me than the Sand of the Seas, I have brought to them a Spoiler at Noon againſt the Mother of the young Men, have made him fall upon her, the City, ſuddenly, together with Terrors.

9. She who bore ſeven languiſhes, her Soul expires, her Sun is gone down while it is yet Day, ſhe is aſhamed, and bluſhes; I will alſo deliver the Reſidue of them to the Sword before their Enemies, ſays the Lord.

10. Wo is to me, my Mother, that thou haſt born me a Man of Strife, and a Man of Contention to the whole Earth: I neither lending, nor they lending to me, every one of them reviles me.

11. The Lord ſaid; Shall it not be well with the Reſidue of thee? Shall not I intercede for thee at the Time of Adverſity, and that of Diſtreſs, with the Enemy?

12. Will Iron break the northern Iron and Steel?

13. Thy Wealth and Treaſures will I give to be a Prey without Price; even for all thy Sins, and in all thy Borders.

14. And I will make thee paſs with thy Enemies into a Country thou doſt not know: for the Fire lighted in my Anger ſhall burn againſt you.

15. Thou knoweſt, O Lord, remember and viſit me, as alſo take vengeance for me on my Perſecutors, in the Forbearance of thy Anger do not take me away: know how I bear Reproach for thy ſake.

16. When thy Words are found, I eat them, and a Word of thine is to me the Joy and Gladneſs of my Heart: for I am called by thy Name, O Lord God of Armies.

17. I do not ſit in the Counſel of thoſe who laugh, nor do I triumph: by reaſon of thy Hand I ſit alone, for thou haſt filled me with Indignation.

18. Why is my Grief perpetual, and my Blow mortal, refuſing to be healed; thou being wholly to me as a failing Thing, Water that is unſtedfaſt?

19. Therefore thus ſays the Lord; If thou wilt return, I will bring thee back, thou ſhalt ſtand before me; and if thou wilt take out the precious from the vile, thou ſhalt be as my Mouth: let them return to thee, but do not thou return to them.

20. And I will make thee to this People as a fortified braſen Wall, ſo that though they fight againſt thee, they ſhall not prevail over thee: for I am with thee, to ſave and deliver thee, ſays the Lord.

21. Nay I will deliver thee from the Power of the Wicked, and redeem thee from that of the violent ones.

CHAP. XVI.

I HAD the Lord's Commiſſion too as follows:

2. Thou ſhalt not take thee a Wife, nor ſhalt thou have Sons or Daughters in this Place.

But what Senſe is it for the enemy to entreat him well, if the Heb. Verb ever ſignifies entreat, as it does intercede? Or if entreat was uſed by our Tranſlators for treat, that is far from any Meaning of the Original.

Ver. 12. northern] which ſhews it to be meant of Nebuchadnezzar and the Chaldeans, according to Munſter, and conſequently that the firſt Iron was the People of Judah; not this they, and the former Jeremiah, or the contrary, as ſome expound: ſo the two next Verſes belong to the People, called you at laſt, and not to the Prophet.

3. For

3. For the Lord ſays concerning the Sons and Daughters who are born in this Place, as alſo concerning the Mothers who bear them, and the Fathers who beget them in this Country;

4. That they ſhall die with grievous Deaths, being neither lamented, nor buried; ſhall become Dung upon the Surface of the Ground: as they ſhall be conſumed by the Sword, and Famine; their dead Bodies becoming Food for the Fowls of the Air, and the Beaſts of the Earth.

5. Do not go, as the Lord ſays, into the Houſe of the Funeral-banquet, neither go to lament, nor bemoan them; becauſe I have taken away my Peace from this People, ſays the Lord, Kindneſs and Compaſſions.

6. Both great and ſmall ſhall die in this Country, without being buried; neither ſhall Men lament for them, nor a Man cut himſelf, nor be made bald for them.

7. And they ſhall not divide for them in Mourning, to comfort any one for the dead, nor make them drink the Cup of Comforts, whether for his Father or Mother.

8. Nor ſhalt thou go into the Houſe of Feaſting, to ſit with them; to eat, and drink.

9. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, Behold I will cauſe to ceaſe from this Place in your Sight, and in your Days, the Voice of Joy and that of Mirth, the Voice of the Bridegroom and that of the Bride.

10. And when thou declareſt to this People all theſe Words, and they ſay to thee, For what does the Lord ſpeak all this great Evil againſt us? And what is our Iniquity? Or what is our Sin which we have committed againſt the Lord our God?

11. Then thou ſhalt anſwer them; It is becauſe your Fathers forſook me, ſays the Lord, and went after other gods, whom they ſerved and bowed down to, not only forſaking me, but not obſerving my Law:

12. And ye your ſelves do evil, even worſe than your Fathers; for behold you go each after the Imagination of his own evil Heart, not hearkening to me.

13. So I will caſt you from this Country into one which neither you nor your Fathers have known, where you may ſerve other gods Day and Night, as I will grant you no Favour.

14. Therefore behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when it ſhall no more be ſworn, By the Lord's living, who brought up the Iſraelites from the Country of Egypt;

15. But, By the Lord's living, who brought up the Iſraelites from the north Country, and from all the Countries whither he had driven them: for I will bring them back into their own Country, which I gave to their Forefathers.

16. Lo I will ſend for many Fiſhermen, ſays the Lord, who ſhall fiſh for them; and after that I will ſend for many Huntſmen, who ſhall hunt them from every Mountain, from every Hill, and out of the Holes of the Rocks.

17. For my Eyes are upon all their Ways, they are not concealed from my Face, nor is their Iniquity hid at a diſtance from my Eyes.

18. And at firſt I will doubly recompenſe their Iniquity and Sin, for their profaning my Country; they having filled my Poſſeſſion with the Carcaſes of their deteſtable and abominable Things.

19. O Lord, my Strength, my Fortreſs, and my Refuge at the Time of Diſtreſs, let the Gentiles come to thee from the Limits of the Earth, and ſay, Certainly our Fathers poſſeſſed Falſehood, Vanity, and Things in which there was no Profit.

20. Shall Man make gods for himſelf, even ſuch as are not gods?

21. Therefore behold I will cauſe them to know at this Time, I will make them ſenſible of my Hand and Power; ſo they ſhall know that my Name is the Lord.

THE Sin of Judah is written with an iron Pen, with a diamond Pencil; it is engraved upon the Table of their Heart, as well as on the Horns of your Altars:

2. While their Children remember their Altars and Groves, by the green Trees, upon the high Hills.

3. O my Mountain in the Field, I will give thy Wealth, all thy Treaſures to be a Prey, thy Chapels for Sin in all thy Borders.

4. For thou haſt made an intermiſſion, even for thy ſelf, from my Poſſeſſion which I gave thee, and I will cauſe thee to ſerve thy Enemies in a Country that thou doſt not know; ſince you have lighted a Fire in my Anger, which ſhall burn for ever.

5. Thus ſays the Lord: The Perſon is curſed that truſts in Man, makes Fleſh his Arm, and his Heart departs from the Lord.

6. Who ſhall be like a Shrub in the Deſart, which does not perceive when Good comes, but remains at the parched Places in the Wilderneſs, a ſalt Country, and not inhabited.

7. The Perſon is bleſſed that truſts in the Lord, and the Lord is his Truſt.

8. Who ſhall be like a Tree planted by the Water, and ſhooting forth its Roots by the River, and not perceiving when Heat comes, but its Leaf is green; and it is not troubled in a Year of Scarcity, nor leaves off yielding Fruit.

9. The Heart is the moſt deceitful of all Things, as it is mortal; who knows it?

10. I the Lord ſearch the Heart, try the Reins; even to give each one according to his Ways, the Fruit of his Deeds.

11. As a Partridge puts together, and does not hatch; he that gets Riches, and not by Right, will leave them in the midſt of his Days, and at his End be vile.

12. The Place of our Sanctuary has been a high Throne of Glory from the Beginning.

13. O Lord, the Hope of Iſrael, let all who forſake thee be aſhamed: let my Correctings be written in the Country, becauſe they have forſaken the Lord, the Fountain of Spring-water.

14. Heal me, O Lord, that I may be healed; ſave me, that I may be ſaved: for thou art my Praiſe.

15. Behold they ſay to me, Where is the Lord's Commiſſion? Let it come now.

16. Whereas I am not urgent more than a Shepherd after thee, nor deſire the mortal Time thou knoweſt: what comes out of my Lips is before thy Face.

17. Be not a Calamity to me, who art my Refuge in the Time of Adverſity.

18. Let my Perſecutors be aſhamed, but not me; let them be daunted, but not my ſelf: bring upon them a Time of Adverſity, and break them with a double Breaking.

19. The Lord ſaid thus to me: Go, and ſtand at the Gate of thoſe of the People, through which the Kings of Judah go in and out, and at all the Gates of Jeruſalem,

20. Saying to them; Hear the Lord's Commiſſion, you Kings of Judah, all Judah it ſelf, and all the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, who enter in at theſe Gates.

21. Thus ſays the Lord; Take heed of your own ſelves, and do not carry a Burden on the Sabbath-day, or bring in at the Gates of Jeruſalem.

22. Neither ſhall you bring a Burden out of your Houſes on the Sabbath-day, nor do any Buſineſs; but ſanctify that Day, as I commanded your Fathers:

23. Who would not hearken, nor incline their Ear; but made their Neck ſtiff, not to hearken, nor receive Inſtruction.

24. However if you will at all hearken to me, ſays the Lord, not to bring in a Burden at the Gates of this City on the Sabbath-day, and will ſanctify that Day by doing no Buſineſs on it;

27. But if you will not hearken to me, to ſanctify the Sabbath-day; and not to carry a Burden, and enter in at the Gates of Jeruſalem on the Sabbath-day; I will kindle a Fire at the Gates of it, which ſhall conſume the Palaces of Jeruſalem, and not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord was as follows,

2. Get ready, and go down to the Potter's Houſe, where I will let thee hear my Words.

3. So I went down to the Potter's Houſe, and behold he was making a Thing upon the Wheels.

4. But the Veſſel which he made, as one of Clay, being ſpoiled in the Potter's Hand, he made it again another Veſſel, according as he pleaſed to do.

5. Then I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

6. Cannot I do to you like this Potter, O Family of Iſrael? ſays the Lord: behold as the Clay is in the Potter's Hand, ſo are you in mine, O Family of Iſrael.

7. In the Inſtant I ſpeak againſt a Nation or Kingdom, that I will pluck up, break down, and deſtroy;

8. If that Nation againſt which I ſpeak returns from its Evil, I ſhall be ſorry for the Harm which I intended to do to it.

9. And in the Inſtant I ſpeak againſt a Nation or Kingdom, that I will build, and plant;

10. If it does that which diſpleaſes me, not hearkening to what I ſay, I ſhall be ſorry for the Good with which I ſaid I would do well for it.

11. Now therefore do tell the Men of Judah, and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem as follows; Thus ſays the Lord, behold I am forming Harm againſt you, and contriving a Device againſt you: do you return each from his evil Way, and make your Ways and Deeds good.

12. But they anſwer, It is paſt Hope: for we will go after our own Devices, and do each the Imagination of his evil Heart.

13. Therefore thus ſays the Lord; Aſk now in the Nations, who has heard ſuch Things as theſe? The Virgin of Iſrael has done a very horrible Thing.

14. Shall one forſake the Snow of Lebanon from the Rock of the Field? Will the ſtrange cold running Water be left?

15. For my People have forgot me, they have burnt incenſe to Vanity; and have made others ſtumble in their Ways from the everlaſting Paths, to go in By-paths, a Way not caſt up;

16. To make their Country deſolate, an everlaſting Hiſſing: every one who paſſes by it ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and ſhake his Head.

17. I will diſperſe them as with an Eaſt-wind before the Enemy; will ſhew them the Back, and not the Face, at the Time of their Calamity.

18. Beſides they ſay, Come, and let us contrive Devices againſt Jeremiah, for the Law will not periſh from the Prieſt, or Counſel from the Wiſe, or the Commiſſion from the Prophet: come, and let us ſmite him with the Tongue, and not hearken to any of his Words.

19. Hearken to me, O Lord, and hear the Voice of thoſe who contend with me.

20. Shall Evil be recompenſed for Good? Becauſe they have dug a Pit for my Life: remember I have ſtood before thee, to ſpeak well for them, to avert thy Wrath from them.

21. Therefore deliver their Children to the Famine, make them flow out by means of the Sword, let their Wives be deprived of Children, and be Widows; let their Men be ſlain dead, their young Men be killed with the Sword in War.

22. Let a Cry be heard from their Houſes, when thou bringeſt a Troop againſt them ſuddenly: for they have dug a Pit to take me, and hid Gins for my Feet.

Ver. 3. my Mountain] Zion.

Ver. 6. which does not perceive] Or and not perceiving, as I render in the next Verſe; not for this and the following to belong to [who] or [he,] as it reads in the com. Tranſ. but to Shrub, like that in Ver. 8. to Tree.

Ib. at the parched Places] Chald. Targumiſt דְּלָא וְלַד without Children: for as Schindler writes in his Lexicon, Accepit pro עֲרִירִים ſteriles, ob literarum ח and ע ſimilem ſonum, He took it to be ſo by reaſon of the like Sound of the firſt Letters.

Ver. 9. of all] In the com. Lat. The Heart of Man is perverſe, as if omnium, of all, as ſome Copies have, was changed into hominis, of Man.

Ib. mortal] the ſame Word as in Ver. 16. A like Noun ſignifies a Man, as being mortal.

Ver. 11. not by Right] So Chilo adviſes well, ζημίαν αἱρεῖσθαι μᾶλλον ἢ κέρδος ἀισχρόν· ἡ μὲν γὰρ ἅπαξ ἀλλύπησε, τὸ δὲ διὰ παντός, to chooſe Loſs rather than filthy Gain: for by the former a Man grieves but once, but by the latter always, Diog. Laert. in ejus Vita.

Ver. 13. let all] for what Need had he to tell the Lord they ſhould be aſhamed?

Ib. my Correctings] Jun. and Trem. who tranſlate the ſame, expound it, thoſe Speeches which I have had, to correct and bring this People into Order. The Word here יְסוֹרַי jeſurai to be they that depart from me, ſhould be יְסוֹרֻנִי jaſuruni, and even then from would be wanting; and that Meaning is ſo odd, that Caſt. has left out me, and the vulg. Lat. Tranſlator changed it to thee.

Ib. Country] that they might be generally known. Jun. and Trem. in this Country.

Ver. 16. more] no more urgent than his Duty as a Prophet was; ſuitable to the foregoing Words.

Throne,

Throne, riding in Chariots and on Horſes, with their Princes, the Men of Judah and Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and this City ſhall remain for ever.

26. They ſhall alſo come from the Cities of Judah, the Places round about Jeruſalem, the Country of Benjamin, the Vale, the Mountain and the South, bringing Burnt-offering, Sacrifice, Meat-offering and Incenſe, as likewiſe Thank-offering to the Houſe of the Lord.

27. But if you will not hearken to me, to ſanctify the Sabbath-day; and not to carry a Burden, and enter in at the Gates of Jeruſalem on the Sabbath-day; I will kindle a Fire at the Gates of it, which ſhall conſume the Palaces of Jeruſalem, and not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord was as follows,

2. Get ready, and go down to the Potter's Houſe, where I will let thee hear my Words.

3. So I went down to the Potter's Houſe, and behold he was making a Thing upon the Wheels.

4. But the Veſſel which he made, as one of Clay, being ſpoiled in the Potter's Hand, he made it again another Veſſel, according as he pleaſed to do.

5. Then I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

6. Cannot I do to you like this Potter, O Family of Iſrael? ſays the Lord: behold as the Clay is in the Potter's Hand, ſo are you in mine, O Family of Iſrael.

7. In the Inſtant I ſpeak againſt a Nation or Kingdom, that I will pluck up, break down, and deſtroy;

8. If that Nation againſt which I ſpeak returns from its Evil, I ſhall be ſorry for the Harm which I intended to do to it.

9. And in the Inſtant I ſpeak againſt a Nation or Kingdom, that I will build, and plant;

10. If it does that which diſpleaſes me, not hearkening to what I ſay, I ſhall be ſorry for the Good with which I ſaid I would do well for it.

11. Now therefore do tell the Men of Judah, and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem as follows; Thus ſays the Lord, behold I am forming Harm againſt you, and contriving a Device againſt you: do you return each from his evil Way, and make your Ways and Deeds good.

12. But they anſwer, It is paſt Hope: for we will go after our own Devices, and do each the Imagination of his evil Heart.

13. Therefore thus ſays the Lord; Aſk now in the Nations, who has heard ſuch Things as theſe? The Virgin of Iſrael has done a very horrible Thing.

14. Shall one forſake the Snow of Lebanon from the Rock of the Field? Will the ſtrange cold running Water be left?

15. For my People have forgot me, they have burnt incenſe to Vanity; and have made others ſtumble in their Ways from the everlaſting Paths, to go in By-paths, a Way not caſt up;

16. To make their Country deſolate, an everlaſting Hiſſing: every one who paſſes by it ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and ſhake his Head.

17. I will diſperſe them as with an Eaſt-wind before the Enemy; will ſhew them the Back, and not the Face, at the Time of their Calamity.

18. Beſides they ſay, Come, and let us contrive Devices againſt Jeremiah, for the Law will not periſh from the Prieſt, or Counſel from the Wiſe, or the Commiſſion from the Prophet: come, and let us ſmite him with the Tongue, and not hearken to any of his Words.

19. Hearken to me, O Lord, and hear the Voice of thoſe who contend with me.

20. Shall Evil be recompenſed for Good? Becauſe they have dug a Pit for my Life: remember I have ſtood before thee, to ſpeak well for them, to avert thy Wrath from them.

21. Therefore deliver their Children to the Famine, make them flow out by means of the Sword, let their Wives be deprived of Children, and be Widows; let their Men be ſlain dead, their young Men be killed with the Sword in War.

22. Let a Cry be heard from their Houſes, when thou bringeſt a Troop againſt them ſuddenly: for they have dug a Pit to take me, and hid Gins for my Feet.

Ver. 11. do you return] to prevent the foregoing.

Ver. 14. Lebanon] upon which Mountain the Snow lies in the Summer, as Maundrell relates, in his Journey from Aleppo to Jeruſalem, p. 138. and that Part of it being then melted, and running from the Rock into the Field, was grateful to the thirſty Labourer there; agreeable to the Account De la Roque has publiſhed, Voyage de Syrie, Tom. I. p. 89. as likewiſe Dr. Rauwolff ſays (who went up with the Patriarch of the Maronites, that inhabit and poſſeſs Lebanon, after he had been brought to him at Tripoli, a Day's Journey off, to be cured of the Gout) You find there Snow all the Summer long, which they bring down into the Batzars or Exchanges (at Tripoli) to ſell, to cool their Drink with it, chiefly in the Dog-days, Travels, Pt. II. Chap. xii. and Corten relates, he found ſome Snow there on Aug. 18. according to which the Senſe is natural, as well as the Tranſlation literal, notwithſtanding the confuſed Work that has been made of this Verſe.

23. And thou, O Lord, knowing all their Counſel againſt me for Death, do not purge away their Iniquity, nor blot out their Sin from before thee; but let them be thrown down before thee, act againſt them at the Time of thy Anger.

CHAP. XIX.

THUS ſays the Lord: Go, and get a Potter's earthen Pot, with ſome of the Elders both of the People and Prieſts,

2. And going forth to the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, which is at the Entrance of the Sun-gate, proclaim there the Words that I tell thee,

3. As follows: Hear the Lord's Commiſſion, O Kings of Judah, and Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Behold I will bring Adverſity upon this Place, at which the Ears of every one that hears it ſhall tingle:

4. Becauſe they have forſaken me, and made this Place ſtrange, burning incenſe in it to other gods, whom neither they, their Fathers, nor the Kings of Judah knew; and have filled this Place with the Blood of Innocents,

5. Having built up the Chapels of Baal, to burn their Children in the Fire for Burnt-offerings to him, which I did not command, nor ſpeak, neither did it come into my Mind.

6. Therefore behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when this Place ſhall no more be called Topheth, or the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter.

7. For I will make the Counſel of Judah and Jeruſalem void in this Place, I will cauſe them to fall by the Sword before their Enemies, and by the Hands of thoſe who ſeek their Lives, and will give their dead Bodies for Food to the Fowls of the Air, and the Beaſts of the Earth.

8. I will alſo make this City deſolate, and a Hiſſing: every one who paſſes by it ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and hiſs for all its Plagues.

9. Nay I will cauſe them to eat the Fleſh of their Sons, and that of their Daughters, they ſhall eat the Fleſh too of their ſeveral Neighbours, in the Siege, and in the Streightneſs, with which their Enemies, and thoſe who ſeek their Lives, ſhall ſtreighten them.

10. Then ſhalt thou break the Pot in the Sight of the Men who go with thee,

11. And ſay to them: Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; After this Manner will I break this People and City, as one does a Potter's Veſſel, which can no more be mended; and they ſhall bury in Topheth, till there is no Place to bury.

12. So will I do to this Place, ſays the Lord, and to its Inhabitants, even to make this City like Topheth.

13. And the Houſes of Jeruſalem, with thoſe of the Kings of Judah, ſhall be defiled like the Place of Topheth; by reaſon of all the Houſes upon whoſe Roofs they burn incenſe to the whole Army of the Heaven, and pour out Drink-offerings to other gods.

14. And Jeremiah coming from Topheth, whither the Lord ſent him to propheſy, ſtood in the Court of the Lord's Houſe, and ſaid to all the People;

15. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, Lo I will bring on this City, and upon all its Cities, all the Adverſity which I have ſpoken of againſt it; becauſe they have made their Neck ſtiff, not hearkening to my Words.

CHAP. XX.

BUT when Paſhur the Son of Immer the Prieſt, who was the chief Officer in the Houſe of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah propheſied theſe Things;

2. He beat the Prophet Jeremiah, and put him in the Stocks that were at the uppermoſt Gate of Benjamin, which was at the Houſe of the Lord.

3. However the next Day when Paſhur took him out of the Stocks, Jeremiah ſaid to him: The Lord does not call thy Name Paſhur, but Dread on every Side.

4. For thus ſays the Lord; Behold I will make thee a Dread to thy ſelf, and to all that love thee, who ſhall fall by the Sword of their Enemies, which thy Eyes ſhall ſee; I will likewiſe deliver all Judah into the Power of the King of Babylon, who ſhall carry them away into Babylon, and ſlay them with the Sword.

5. Nay I will deliver all the Strength of this City, all its Buſineſs, and all the precious Things of it, even all the Treaſures of the Kings of Judah will I deliver, into their Enemies Power, who ſhall plunder them, take them, and carry them into Babylon.

6. And thou Paſhur, with all who dwell in thy Houſe, ſhall go into Captivity, and thou ſhalt come to Babylon, where thou ſhalt die, and be buried there, thy ſelf and all that love thee, to whom thou haſt propheſied falſely.

7. Thou didſt perſuade me, O Lord, and I was perſuaded; thou waſt too ſtrong for me, and didſt prevail: I am become Sport every Day; every one of them ſcoff at me.

8. For ſince I ſpoke, I have cried out, Violence and Waſting have I called out: for the Lord's Commiſſion has been a Reproach to me, and a Mocking every Day.

9. And I ſaid I would not make mention of him, nor ſpeak any more in his Name; but there was in my Heart like a burning Fire ſhut up in my Bones, inſomuch that I was weary of containing, and could not.

10. Though I heard the ill Report of many thus, Dread being on every Side, Tell, that we may tell it; all the Men who were at peace with me watched for my Halting, ſaying, Perhaps he will be perſuaded, that we may prevail againſt him, and take our Vengeance on him.

11. But the Lord is with me as a powerful terrible one, therefore my Perſecutors will ſtumble, and not prevail: they will be exceedingly aſhamed, becauſe they have no Succeſs, the everlaſting Confuſion will not be forgotten.

12. And, O Lord of Armies, who trieſt the righteous one, ſeeſt the Reins and Heart; let me ſee thy Vengeance on them, for I diſcover my Cauſe to thee.

13. Sing to the Lord, praiſe the Lord: for he delivers the Soul of the needy one from the Power of Evil-doers.

14. Let the Day be curſed on which I was born, the Day when my Mother bore me not be bleſſed.

15. Let the Man be curſed who declared thus to my Father, There is a Male-child born to thee, making him exceeding glad.

16. And let that Man be like the Cities which the Lord overthrew, without repenting; let him even hear the Cry in the Morning, and the Shouting at the Time of Noon:

17. Becauſe he did not put me to death at the Womb, or let my Mother be my Grave, and her Womb be always with Child.

18. Why did I come out of it, to ſee Labour and Sorrow, and that my Days ſhould be conſumed in Shame?

CHAP. XXI.

A Commiſſion which Jeremiah had from the Lord, when King Zedekiah ſent to him Paſhur the Son of Malchijah, and Zephaniah the Son of Maaſeiah the Prieſt, to ſay,

2. Do enquire for us of the Lord, becauſe Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon fights againſt us: perhaps the Lord will deal with us according to all his Wonders, that he may go up from us.

3. Upon this Jeremiah told them, that they ſhould ſay to Zedekiah:

4. Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; Behold I will turn aſide the Weapons of War that are in your Hands, with which you fight the King of Babylon, and the Chaldeans who lay ſiege againſt you without the Wall, and will bring them together into the midſt of this City.

5. Nay I my ſelf will fight you, by a Hand ſtretched out, and a ſtrong Arm, even in Anger, Wrath, and great Fury.

6. For I will ſmite the Inhabitants of this City, both Men and Beaſts; they ſhall die with a great Peſtilence.

7. And after that, ſays the Lord, I will deliver Zedekiah King of Judah, his Servants, and the People, even thoſe who are left in this City from the Peſtilence, Sword and Famine, into the Power of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and into that of their Enemies, and of ſuch as ſeek their Life; and he ſhall put them to the Sword, he ſhall neither ſpare them, pity, nor have compaſſion.

8. However thou ſhalt tell this People, that the Lord ſays; Behold I put before you the Way of Life, and the Way of Death:

9. He who abides in this City ſhall die by the Sword, Famine or Peſtilence; and he who goes out, and falls to the Chaldeans, who lay ſiege againſt you, ſhall live, and have his Life for Spoil.

10. For I have put my Face againſt this City for Hurt, and not for Good, ſays the

Ver. 8. for] the ſame as at the Beginning of the Verſe, having reſpect to the End of the foregoing: for though I do not think with De Dieu, and as in the Geneva marginal Note, that the Violence and Waſting here mentioned was what would be done to the People of Judah by their Enemies; ſo neither to be what the People of Judah did, or endeavoured to do to Jeremiah, after Jun. and Trem. with Kimhi; ſince Reproach and Mocking was not Waſting, and therefore becauſe muſt be wrong: but I look upon this Violence and Waſting to be that which thoſe People did to one another, being the Wickedneſs they were to be puniſhed for, as may plainly appear by Chap. vi. 7. where the ſame Words are uſed, and for which the Prophet cried out againſt them, and they ſcoffed at him for it.

Lord: it ſhall be delivered into the Power of the King of Babylon, who ſhall burn it with Fire.

11. And to the King of Judah's Family, hear the Lord's Commiſſion:

12. O Family of David, thus ſays the Lord; Adminiſter Judgment betimes, and deliver him who is ſpoiled from the Power of the Oppreſſor; leſt my Wrath ſhould come forth like Fire, and burn, ſo that none can quench, by reaſon of the Evil of your Deeds.

13. Lo I am againſt thee, that inhabiteſt the Vale, the Rock of the Plain, ſays the Lord; you that vaunt, Who can come down againſt us? And who can enter into our Habitations?

14. But I will puniſh you according to the Fruit of your Deeds, ſays the Lord; and will kindle a Fire in its Wood, which ſhall conſume all Things round about it.

CHAP. XXII.

THE Lord ſaid thus: Go down to the King of Judah's Houſe, and ſpeak there this following Commiſſion:

2. Hear the Lord's Commiſſion, O King of Judah, thou who ſitteſt upon David's Throne, with thy Servants and People that come in at theſe Gates.

3. Thus ſays the Lord; Execute Judgment and Righteouſneſs, and deliver him who is ſpoiled from the Power of the Oppreſſor, neither wrong the Stranger, Fatherleſs or Widow, do no violence, nor ſhed innocent Blood in this Place.

4. For if you at all perform this Commiſſion, there ſhall come in at the Gates of this Houſe Kings who ſit for David upon his Throne, riding in Chariots, and on Horſes, each with his Servants and People.

5. But if you will not hearken to theſe Words, I ſwear by my ſelf, ſays the Lord, that this Houſe ſhall become waſte;

6. Though, as the Lord ſays to the Houſe of the King of Judah, thou waſt Gilead to me, the Top of Lebanon, that I would make thee a Wilderneſs, like Cities uninhabited;

7. And would prepare Deſtroyers againſt thee, each with his Weapons, who ſhould cut down thy choiceſt Cedars, and caſt them into the Fire.

8. Then ſhall many Gentiles paſs by this City, and ſay one to another, Why did the Lord do after this Manner to this great City?

9. And the others ſhall anſwer, Becauſe they forſook the Covenant of the Lord their God, bowed down to other gods, and ſerved them.

10. Do not weep for the Dead, nor bemoan him: weep grievouſly for him who goes away, becauſe he will no more return, or ſee his native Country.

11. For thus ſays the Lord concerning Shallum the Son of Joſiah King of Judah, who reigning in the room of his Father Joſiah, went out of this Place; He ſhall return thither no more,

12. But ſhall die in the Place whither they have carried him away, and ſee this Country no more.

13. Wo is to him who builds his Houſe with that which is not juſt, and his Chambers with what is not right; that makes his Neighbour ſerve for Nothing, and will not give him his Reward:

14. Who ſays, I will build me a large Houſe, and ſpacious Chambers; as alſo cuts him out Windows, and it is cieled with Cedar, and painted with Vermilion.

15. Shalt thou reign becauſe thou art within Cedar? Did not thy Farher eat and drink, and doing that which was right and juſt, it was then well with him?

16. He adminiſtred Judgment to the Afflicted and Needy; then it was well: Was not this Knowledge with me? ſays the Lord.

17. Becauſe thy Eyes and Heart are upon Nothing but thy Gain, upon ſhedding innocent Blood, and upon executing both Oppreſſion and Trouble:

18. Therefore thus ſays the Lord concerning Jehoiakim the Son of Joſiah King of Judah; They ſhall not lament for him, Ah my Brother! or, Ah Siſter! they ſhall not lament for him, Ah Lord! or, Ah his Dignity!

19. He ſhall be buried with the Burial of an Aſs, being drawn and caſt beyond the Gates of Jeruſalem.

20. Go up Lebanon, and cry, as alſo utter thy Voice on Baſhan, and cry from the Paſſages, becauſe all who love thee are broken.

21. I ſpeaking to thee in thy Quietneſs, thou ſaideſt, I will not hearken: this has been thy Way from thy Youth, becauſe thou wouldeſt not hearken to what I ſaid.

22. The Wind ſhall feed on all thy Shepherds, and thoſe who love thee ſhall go into Captivity: for then thou wilt be aſhamed, and put to confuſion for all thy Wickedneſs.

23. Thou that dwelleſt on Lebanon, who haſt a Neſt made on the Cedars, how canſt thou be pitied, when Pains come to thee, the Anguiſh as of a Woman in labour?

24. By my living, ſays the Lord, though Coniah the Son of Jehoiakim King of Judah were even a Seal upon my right Hand, I would pluck thee from thence.

25. And I will deliver thee into the Power of ſuch as ſeek thy Life, and into the Power of thoſe whoſe Face thou art afraid of, even into the Power of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and that of the Chaldeans.

26. I will alſo caſt thee out, and thy Mother who bore thee, into another Country, where you were not born, and you ſhall die there.

27. But into the Country whither they put up their Deſire to return, they ſhall not return thither.

28. Is this Man Coniah a deſpiſed ſcattered Idol? Is he an Inſtrument in which there is no Delight? Why elſe are he and his Offspring caſt out, and thrown into a Country which they do not know?

29. O Country, Country, Country, hear the Lord's Commiſſion,

30. Who ſays thus, Write down this Perſon without an Heir, a Man that ſhall not proſper in his Days: for no Perſon of his Offspring ſhall proſper, ſitting upon the Throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

CHAP. XXIII.

WO be to the Shepherds who deſtroy, and diſperſe the Flock of my Paſture, ſays the Lord.

2. Therefore thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, concerning the Shepherds who feed my People: You having diſperſed my Flock, driven them away, and not viſited them; behold I will viſit you for the Wickedneſs of your Deeds, ſays the Lord.

3. And I will gather together the Reſidue of my Flock from all Countries whither I have driven them, bringing them again into their Folds, and they ſhall be fruitful, and multiply.

4. I will alſo ſet up Shepherds over them, who ſhall feed them; and they ſhall no more fear, nor be daunted, neither ſhall they be lacking, ſays the Lord.

5. Behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when I will raiſe up to David a righteous Sprout, even a King ſhall reign, and have Succeſs, executing Judgment and Righteouſneſs on the Earth.

6. In his Days Judah ſhall be ſaved, and Iſrael dwell ſecurely: and this is his Name, by which he ſhall be called, The Lord our Righteouſneſs.

7. Therefore behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when they ſhall no more ſwear, By the Lord's living, who brought up the Iſraelites from the Country of Egypt;

8. But, By the Lord's living, who brought up, and who cauſed the Offspring of the Family of Iſrael to come, from the north Country, and from all the Countries whither I had driven them: for they ſhall dwell in their own Country.

9. My Heart within me is broke for the Prophets, all my Bones ſhake, I am like a drunken Perſon, even like a Man who is overtaken by Wine; by reaſon of the Lord, and by reaſon of his holy Words.

10. For the Country is full of Adulterers, and by reaſon of Swearing the Country mourns, the Paſtures of the Wilderneſs are dried up; their Courſe being evil, and their Power not right.

11. For both Prophet and Prieſt are profane, even in my Houſe have I found their Wickedneſs, ſays the Lord.

12. Their Way ſhall therefore be to them as ſlippery ones in Darkneſs; they ſhall be driven on, and fall in it: for I will bring what is bad upon them, the Year of their Viſitation, ſays the Lord.

13. I ſaw Impertinency indeed in the Prophets of Samaria, they propheſied by Baal, and made my People Iſrael err:

Ver. 2. concerning] as Ver. 15.

Ver. 4. be lacking] Chald. quake, as if taking the Signification of פקד which is diverſe, from פחד Vulg. there ſhall be none to be ſought of the Number.

Ver. 13. indeed] for which ſee Grot. as alſo Jun. and Trem. tranſlate, and our Engliſh the ſame truly, Eccl. xi. 7.

14. But

14. But I ſee a horrible Thing in the Prophets of Jeruſalem; they commit Adultery, and go in Falſehood, as alſo ſtrengthen the Hands of Evil-doers, not to return each from his Evil: they are all of them to me like thoſe of Sodom, and its Inhabitants like thoſe of Gomorrah.

15. Therefore thus ſays the Lord of Armies concerning the Prophets; Behold I will make them eat Wormwood, and drink the Water of Gall: for Profaneneſs is gone forth from the Prophets of Jeruſalem into the whole Country.

16. Do not hearken, continues the Lord of Armies, to the Words of the Prophets who propheſy to you; they make you vain, preaching a Viſion of their own Heart, not from the Mouth of the Lord.

17. They ſay ſtill to ſuch as contemn me; The Lord declares, You ſhall have Peace; and to every one that goes in the Imagination of his own Heart they ſay, No Harm will come upon you.

18. For who ſtands in the Counſel of the Lord, and ſees, and hears his Commiſſion? Who hearkens to his Commiſſion, and hears?

19. Lo the Lord's Whirlwind goes forth with Rage, even a remaining Whirlwind; which ſhall remain upon the Head of the Wicked.

20. The Anger of the Lord ſhall not return, till he has performed, and till he has eſtabliſhed the Thoughts of his Heart: in the latter Days you will underſtand it fully.

21. I have not ſent thoſe Prophets, though they run: I have not ſpoken to them, though they propheſy.

22. Whereas if they ſtood in my Counſel, they would cauſe my People to hear my Words, that they might turn them back from their evil Way, and from the Evil of their Deeds.

23. Am I a God near, ſays the Lord, and not a God far off?

24. Can a Perſon then hide in ſecret Places, ſo that I ſhall not ſee him? ſays the Lord: Do not I fill Heaven and Earth? ſays the Lord.

25. I hear what the Prophets ſay, who propheſy Falſehood thus in my Name; I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26. How long will this be in the Heart of the Prophets who propheſy Falſehood, and are Prophets of the Deceit of their own Heart;

27. Who think to make my People forget my Name, by their Dreams which they tell one to another, as their Fathers forgot my Name for Baal?

28. The Prophet indeed who has a Dream, let him tell the Dream; and he who has my Commiſſion, let him ſpeak my Commiſſion truly: but what has the Chaff to do with the Wheat? ſays the Lord.

29. Is not my Commiſſion thus like a Fire, ſays the Lord, and like a Hammer that breaks the Rock in pieces?

30. Therefore behold I am againſt the Prophets, ſays the Lord, who ſteal my Words one from another.

31. Behold I am againſt the Prophets, ſays the Lord, who bring their Tongue, and declare, He ſays.

32. Behold I am againſt thoſe who propheſy falſe Dreams, ſays the Lord, and telling them, make my People err by their Lyes and Unſtedfaſtneſs; and ſince I neither ſent them, nor commanded them, they will not profit this People at all, ſays the Lord.

33. And when this People, or a Prophet, or Prieſt thus aſks thee, What is the Burden of the Lord? Say to them, What Burden? Since I will forſake you, ſays the Lord.

34. As for the Prophet, Prieſt and People, who ſays, The Burden of the Lord, I will puniſh that Man and his Family.

35. Thus ſhall you ſay each to his Neighbour, and each to his Brother, What has the Lord anſwered? or, What has the Lord ſpoken?

36. And you ſhall mention the Burden of the Lord no more: for the Burden to each ſhall be his own Word, as you alter the Words of the Living God, the Lord of Armies our God.

37. Thus ſhalt thou ſay to the Prophet,

39. For this reaſon lo I, even my ſelf, will ſtill forget you; as alſo forſake you, and the City which I gave to you and your Fathers, to be away from before me.

40. And I will put everlaſting Reproach upon you, with everlaſting Confuſion which ſhall not be forgotten.

CHAP. XXIV.

THE Lord ſhewed me plainly, that there were two Baſkets of Figs placed before the Temple of the Lord, after Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon had carried away Jechoniah the Son of Jehoiakim King of Judah, and the Princes of Judah, with the Carpenters and Smiths, from Jeruſalem, and brought them to Babylon:

2. One Baſket with very good Figs, like thoſe that are firſt ripe; and the other Baſket with very bad ones, which could not be eat for the Badneſs.

3. Then the Lord ſaid to me, What doſt thou ſee, Jeremiah? And I anſwered, Figs, the good Figs very good, and the bad ones very bad, which cannot be eat for the Badneſs.

4. Whereupon I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

5. Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; Like theſe good Figs, ſo will I acknowledge them of the Captivity of Judah, whom I have ſent from this Place to the Country of the Chaldeans for Good.

6. And putting my Eyes upon them for Good, I will bring them back into this Country, and build them up without throwing down, and plant them without plucking up.

7. I will alſo give them a Heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they ſhall be a People to me, as I will a God to them; when they return to me with their whole Heart.

8. On the contrary like the bad Figs, which cannot be eat for the Badneſs (for the Lord ſays thus) ſo will I deliver Zedekiah King of Judah, and his Princes, with the Reſidue of Jeruſalem that are left in this Country, as likewiſe thoſe who dwell in the Country of Egypt;

9. I will even deliver them to Diſturbance, to Harm in all the Kingdoms of the Earth, to be a Reproach and a Proverb, a Taunt and a Curſe, in all Places whither I ſhall drive them.

10. And I will ſend againſt them the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence, till they are conſumed from the Country, which I gave to them and their Fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had concerning all the People of Judah, in the fourth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Joſiah King of Judah, that was the firſt Year of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon,

2. Which the Prophet Jeremiah ſpoke to all the People of Judah, as well as all the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, was as follows:

3. From the thirteenth Year of Joſiah Son of Amon King of Judah, to this very Time, being the twenty third Year, I have had the Lord's Commiſſion, and ſpoken to you, and that early, but ye would not hearken.

4. Nay the Lord has ſent to you all his Servants the Prophets, and that early, (though ye would not hearken, nor incline your Ear to hearken)

5. Saying; Return now each from his evil Way, and from the Evil of his Deeds, ſo dwell in the Country which the Lord gave to you and your Fathers, from Age to Age.

6. And do not go after other gods, to ſerve them, and bow down to them, nor provoke me with the Doing of your Hands, that I may not do you hurt.

7. Yet ye would not hearken to me, ſays the Lord; to the end that ye might prove me with the Doing of your Hands, to your own Hurt.

8. Therefore thus ſays the Lord of Armies: Becauſe ye will not hearken to my Words,

A farther Uſe of this ſee on 2 King. xxiii. 36.

9. Behold I will ſend, and fetch all the Families of the North, ſays the Lord, with Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon my Servant, and will bring them againſt this Country, and againſt its Inhabitants, as well as againſt all theſe Nations round about; and will utterly deſtroy them, making them a Deſolation, Hiſſing, and everlaſting Waſtings.

10. Thus will I cauſe to periſh from them the Voice of Joy and that of Mirth, the Voice of the Bridegroom and that of the Bride, the Sound of the Mill, and the Light of the Candle.

11. Even this whole Country ſhall be waſte and deſolate, and theſe Nations ſhall ſerve the King of Babylon ſeventy Years.

12. But when ſeventy Years are fulfilled, I will puniſh the King of Babylon, and that Nation, ſays the Lord, for their Iniquity, as alſo the Country of the Chaldeans, and will make it everlaſting Deſolations.

13. And I will bring upon that Country all my Words which I have ſpoken againſt it, all that is written in this Book, which Jeremiah has propheſied againſt all the Nations.

14. For many Nations and great Kings ſhall alſo make them ſerve; and I will recompenſe them according to their Work, and according to the Doing of their Hands.

15. For thus ſaid the Lord God of Iſrael to me; Take the Cup of the Wine of this Wrath from my Hand, and make all the Nations to which I ſend thee drink it.

16. That they may drink, be moved, and mad, by reaſon of the Sword which I will ſend among them.

17. Accordingly I took the Cup from the Lord's Hand, and made all the Nations drink, to which the Lord ſent me:

18. Jeruſalem, and the Cities of Judah, with its Kings and Princes, to make them a Waſting, Deſolation, Hiſſing, and a Curſe, as at preſent;

19. Pharaoh King of Egypt, with his Servants, his Princes, and all his People,

20. And all the mixed People, all the Kings of the Country of Uz, all the Kings of the Country of the Philiſtines, Aſhkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the Reſidue of Aſhdod,

21. Edom, Moab, and the Ammonites,

22. As likewiſe all the Kings of Tyre, all thoſe of Zidon, and the Kings of the Region which is at the Side of the Sea,

23. Dedan, Tema, Buz, and all that are ſeparated at a Corner,

24. With all the Kings of Arabia, and all thoſe of the mingled People who dwell in the Wilderneſs,

25. All the Kings too of Zimri, all thoſe of Elam, all thoſe of the Medes,

26. And all the Kings of the North, near and far off one with another, nay all the Kingdoms of the Earth that are upon the Surface of the Ground; and the King of Sheſhach ſhall drink after them.

27. Moreover thou ſhalt tell them: Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Drink, be drunk, vomit, fall, and do not riſe, by reaſon of the Sword which I will ſend among you.

28. And if they refuſe to take the Cup from thy Hand to drink, thou ſhalt declare to them: Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; You ſhall throughly drink.

29. For lo I am beginning to make it ill to the City which is called by my Name; and ſhall you be at all quit? You ſhall not; ſince I will call for the Sword againſt all the Inhabitants of the Earth, ſays the Lord of Armies.

30. So do thou propheſy to them all theſe following Words; The Lord will roar from on high, and utter his Voice from his holy Habitation, he will roar aloud in his Dwelling, will teſtify with Acclamation like the Grape-treaders againſt all the Inhabitants of the Earth.

31. The Noiſe is come to the End of the Earth, becauſe the Lord has a Contention with the Nations, he is come to judgment with all Fleſh, delivering thoſe who are wicked to the Sword, ſays the Lord.

32. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; Behold Affliction ſhall go forth from one Nation to another, and a great Whirlwind ſhall be ſtirred up from the Sides of the Earth.

33. And the Slain of the Lord ſhall be at that Time from one End of the Earth to the other of it: they ſhall neither be lamented, gathered up, nor buried, they ſhall become Dung atop of the Ground.

34. Lament, O Shepherds, and cry, and roll your ſelves in Aſhes, ye ſtately ones of the Flock, becauſe your Days are fulfilled to be ſlaughtered; as alſo your Diſperſings, and ye ſhall fall like a deſirable Veſſel.

35. And Flight ſhall periſh from the Shepherds, and Eſcaping from the ſtately ones of the Flock.

36. There ſhall be the Voice of the Shepherd's Cry, and the Lamentation of the ſtately ones of the Flock, becauſe the Lord has waſted their Paſture.

37. And the peaceable Dwellings are cut off, by reaſon of the Lord's fervent Anger.

38. He has forſaken as a Lion his Den: for their Country is become deſolate, by reaſon of the Fury of the Oppreſſor, and by reaſon of his fervent Anger.

CHAP. XXVI.

IN the Beginning of the Reign of Jehoiakim the Son of Joſiah King of Judah, there was this following Commiſſion from the Lord:

2. Thus ſays the Lord; Stand in the Court of the Lord's Houſe, and ſpeak to thoſe of all the Cities of Judah who come to worſhip at the Lord's Houſe, all the Words which I command thee to ſpeak to them: do not diminiſh a Word.

3. Perhaps they will hearken, and return each from his evil Way, that I may be ſorry for the Harm which I intended to do to them, by reaſon of the Evil of their Deeds.

4. And thou ſhalt tell them: Thus ſays the Lord; If you will not hearken to me, to go in my Law which I have put before you,

5. By hearkening to the Words of my Servants the Prophets whom I ſend to you, and that early, though you would not hearken;

6. Then will I make this Houſe like Shiloh, and make this City a Curſe to all the Nations of the Earth.

7. Accordingly the Prieſts, Prophets, and all the People, heard Jeremiah ſpeak theſe Words at the Houſe of the Lord.

8. But when Jeremiah had made an end of ſpeaking all which the Lord commanded that he ſhould ſpeak to all the People, the Prieſts, Prophets, and all the People took him, and ſaid; Thou ſhalt quite die:

9. Why doſt thou propheſy in the Lord's Name, that this Houſe ſhall be like Shiloh, and this City be waſte without Inhabitant? And all the People were gathered againſt Jeremiah at the Houſe of the Lord.

10. And when the Princes of Judah heard theſe Things, they came up from the King's Houſe to that of the Lord, and ſitting down at the Entrance of the Lord's new Gate,

11. The Prieſts and Prophets ſaid thus to the Princes, and all the People, This Man ſhould be condemned to die, becauſe he has propheſied againſt this City, as ye have heard with your own Ears.

12. With that Jeremiah ſaid to all the Princes, and People as follows; The Lord ſent me to propheſy both againſt this Houſe and City, all the Words which ye have heard.

13. Now therefore let your Ways and Deeds be good, and hearken to what the Lord your God ſays, that the Lord may be ſorry for the Harm which he has ſpoken againſt you.

14. As for me, behold I am in your Power: do to me as you pleaſe, and approve of.

15. But know certainly that if you kill me, you will put innocent Blood upon your ſelves, both on this City and its Inhabitants: for truly the Lord ſent me to you, to ſpeak all theſe Words in your Hearing.

16. At this the Princes and all the People, ſaid to the Prieſts and Prophets, This Man ſhould not be condemned to die, ſince he has ſpoken to us in the Name of the Lord our God.

17. Beſides ſome of the Elders of the Country roſe up, and ſaid thus to the whole Congregation of the People:

18. Micah the Moraſhtite propheſied in the Time of Hezekiah King of Judah, and ſpoke to all the People of Judah as follows; Thus ſays the Lord God of Armies, Zion ſhall be ploughed a Field, Jeruſalem ſhall become Heaps, and the Mountain of the Houſe the high Places of a Wood.

19. Did Hezekiah King of Judah, and all Judah, do any Thing to kill him? Did not he fear the Lord, and making ſupplication before him, the Lord was ſorry for the Harm which he had ſpoken againſt them? We ſhall therefore do great Evil againſt our ſelves.

20. But there is an Inſtance too of Urijah the Son of Shemaiah of Kirjath-jearim, who propheſied in the Name of the Lord, and that both againſt this City and Country, according to all the Words of Jeremiah.

21. And when King Jehoiakim, with all his mighty Men, and all his Princes heard his Words, the King endeavoured to kill him; which Urijah hearing, he was afraid, and fled, going into Egypt.

22. Whither King Jehoiakim ſent Elnathan the Son of Achbor, and other Men with him;

23. Who fetched Urijah out of Egypt, and bringing him to King Jehoiakim, he

CHAP. XXVII.

AT the Beginning of the Reign of Jehoiakim's Brother, Son of Joſiah King of Judah, Jeremiah had this following Commiſſion from the Lord:

2. Thus ſaid the Lord to me: Make thee Bonds and Yokes, and put them upon thy Neck.

3. Then ſend them to the Kings of Edom, Moab, the Ammonites, Tyre and Zidon, by the Hands of the Ambaſſadors who come to Jeruſalem, to Zedekiah King of Judah.

4. And command them as follows concerning their Maſters: Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, You ſhall ſay thus to your Maſters;

5. I made the Earth, the Men and Beaſts that are upon the Surface of it, by my great Power, and Arm ſtretched out; ſo I give it to whom I pleaſe.

6. Now therefore I give all theſe Countries into the Power of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon my Servant, and I alſo give him the Beaſts of the Field to ſerve him.

7. Even all Nations ſhall ſerve him, his Son, and Son's Son, till the very Time alſo of his own Country comes, when many Nations and great Kings ſhall make him ſerve.

8. In the mean while I will puniſh that very Nation and Kingdom, which will not ſerve the ſame Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, nor put its Neck in his Yoke, with the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence, ſays the Lord, till I have conſumed them by his Power.

9. Do ye not hearken therefore to your Prophets, Diviners, Dreamers, Aſtrologers, or Wizards, thoſe who tell you that ye ſhall not ſerve the King of Babylon.

10. For they propheſy Falſehood to you; that they may remove you far off from your own Country, and that I may drive you away, and ye may periſh.

11. As for the Nation which will bring its Neck into the King of Babylon's Yoke, and ſerve him, I will let it remain in its own Country, ſays the Lord, which it ſhall till, and dwell in.

12. I ſpoke likewiſe to Zedekiah King of Judah, according to all theſe following Words; Bring your Necks into the King of Babylon's Yoke, and by ſerving him, and his People, live.

13. Why will thou and thy People die, by the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence, as the Lord has ſpoken concerning the Nation that will not ſerve the King of Babylon?

14. So do not hearken to the Words of the Prophets who tell you, that ye ſhall not ſerve the King of Babylon: for they propheſy Falſehood to you.

15. Though I have not ſent them, ſays the Lord, yet they propheſy in my Name falſely; that I may drive you away, and ye your ſelves may periſh, with the Prophets who propheſy to you.

16. I alſo ſpoke as follows to the Prieſts, and to all this People: Thus ſays the Lord; Do not hearken to the Words of your Prophets who propheſy to you, that behold the Inſtruments of the Lord's Houſe ſhall now quickly be brought back from Babylon: for they propheſy Falſehood to you.

17. Do not hearken to them, ſerve the King of Babylon, and live: why ſhould this City become waſte?

18. But if they are Prophets, and if the Lord's Commiſſion is with them, let them vouchſafe to interceed with the Lord of Armies, that the Inſtruments which are left in the Houſe of the Lord, and that of the King of Judah, and in Jeruſalem, may not go to Babylon.

19. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies touching the Pillars, and concerning the Sea, the Baſes, and the reſt of the Inſtruments that are left in this City,

20. Which Nebuchadnezzar King of

Babylon did not take, when he carried away Jechoniah the Son of Jehoiakim King of Judah, from Jeruſalem to Babylon, with all the Nobles of Judah and Jeruſalem;

21. Even the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael ſays thus, concerning the Inſtruments that are left at the Houſe of the Lord, and that of the King of Judah, and at Jeruſalem,

22. They ſhall be carried to Babylon, and be there, till the Time that I viſit them, ſays the Lord; when I will bring them up, and reſtore them to this Place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

AND at the Beginning of the Reign of Zedekiah King of Judah, in that fourth Year, in the fifth Month, Hananiah the Son of Azur the Prophet, who was of Gibeon, ſaid to me as follows at the Houſe of the Lord, in the Preſence of the Prieſts and all the People:

2. Thus ſpeaks the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, ſaying; I have broke the Yoke of the King of Babylon,

3. Within the Space of two Years, I will bring back to this Place all the Inſtruments of the Lord's Houſe, which Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon took from hence, and carried them to Babylon.

4. I will likewiſe bring back to this Place, Jechoniah the Son of Jehoiakim King of Judah, and all thoſe of the Captivity of Judah who went into Babylon, ſays the Lord: for I will break the Yoke of the King of Babylon.

5. Upon this the Prophet Jeremiah himſelf ſaid to the Prophet Hananiah in the Preſence of the Prieſts, and that of all the People who ſtood at the Lord's Houſe,

6. As follows; So let it be, the Lord do ſo: the Lord confirm thy Words which thou haſt propheſied, that the Inſtruments of the Lord's Houſe, and all that are carried away, ſhall be brought back from Babylon to this Place.

7. But hear now this Matter which I ſpeak in thy Hearing, and in that of all the People;

8. The Prophets who were before both me and thee of old Time, have propheſied againſt many Countries, as well as great Kingdoms, of War, Harm and Peſtilence.

9. The Prophet who propheſies of Peace, when the Prophet's Word comes to paſs, he will be known to be the Prophet whom the Lord has truly ſent.

10. Nevertheleſs the Prophet Hananiah took off the Yoke from the Prophet Jeremiah's Neck, and broke it.

11. Hananiah alſo ſaid in the Preſence of all the People as follows; Thus ſays the Lord, After this Manner will I break the Yoke of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, within the Space of two Years, from the Neck of all the Nations. So the Prophet Jeremiah went his Way.

12. However Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows, after the Prophet Hananiah had broke the Yoke from his Neck;

13. Go, and tell Hananiah, that the Lord ſays thus, Though thou haſt broke the wooden Yokes, thou haſt made iron ones in their room.

14. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, I have put an iron Yoke upon the Neck of all theſe Nations, that they may ſerve Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, which they ſhall do; and I have alſo given him the Beaſts of the Field.

15. The Prophet Jeremiah ſaid to him further, Hear now, Hananiah, the Lord has not ſent thee, but thou makeſt this People truſt upon Falſehood.

16. Therefore thus ſays the Lord, Behold I will caſt thee from the Surface of the Ground: thou ſhalt die this Year, becauſe thou haſt ſpoken Apoſtacy againſt the Lord.

17. Accordingly the Prophet Hananiah died that Year, in the ſeventh Month.

CHAP. XXIX.

AND theſe are the Words of the Epiſtle which the Prophet Jeremiah ſent from Jeruſalem, to the reſt of the Elders that were carried away, to the Prieſts, Prophets, and all the People, whom Nebuchadnezzar carried away from Jeruſalem to Babylon;

2. After King Jechoniah, with the Queen and Eunuchs, the Princes of Judah and Jeruſalem, as alſo the Carpenters and Smiths, were gone out of Jeruſalem;

3. By the Hand of Elaſah the Son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the Son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah King of Judah ſent to Babylon, to Nebuchadnezzar King of it, as follow:

4. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, to all that are carried away, whom I cauſed to be carried away from Jeruſalem to Babylon:

Ver. 13. haſt made] cauſed to be made, which Meaning ſhalt make deſtroys; and that the Yokes were already made the next Ver. ſhews, nay this Verb here is in the Preterite Tenſe.

5. Build Houſes, and dwell; as likewiſe plant Gardens, and eat their Fruit.

6. Take Wives, and beget Sons and Daughters; take Wives alſo for your Sons, and give your Daughters to Huſbands, that they may bear Sons and Daughters; thus increaſe there, and be not leſſened.

7. Moreover endeavour for the Proſperity of the City, whither I have cauſed you to be carried away, and pray for it to the Lord; becauſe in the Proſperity of that you ſhall have it.

8. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Let not your Prophets who are amongſt you, and your Diviners deceive you; nor do ye hearken to your Dreams which ye cauſe to be dreamed:

9. Becauſe they propheſy falſely to you in my Name; I have not ſent them, ſays the Lord.

10. But when ſeventy Years are fulfilled at Babylon, as the Lord ſays, I will viſit you, and confirm my good Word concerning you, by bringing you back to this Place.

11. For I know the Thoughts which I think concerning you, ſays the Lord; Thoughts of Proſperity, and not of Harm, to give you an End, and what is hoped for.

12. Then ſhall you call on me, and when you go, and pray to me, I will hearken to you.

13. And enquiring for me, you ſhall find, when you ſeek me with your whole Heart.

14. I will even be found by you, ſays the Lord, I will turn back your Captivity, and gather you from all the Nations and Places whither I have driven you, ſays the Lord; and will bring you back to the Place, from whence I have cauſed you to be carried away.

15. Though you ſay, The Lord has raiſed up Prophets for us at Babylon;

16. Yet thus ſays the Lord of Armies himſelf, concerning the King that ſits on the Throne of David, and all the People that dwell in this City, your Brethren who are not gone out with you into Captivity;

17. Behold I will ſend againſt them the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence, and make them like horrible Figs, which cannot be eat for the Badneſs.

18. And I will not only purſue after them with the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence, but will deliver them to Diſturbance in all the Kingdoms of the Earth, to be a Curſe, an Aſtoniſhment, a Hiſſing and Reproach, in all Nations whither I ſhall drive them;

19. Foraſmuch as they have not hearkened to my Words, ſays the Lord, which I ſent to them by my Servants the Prophets, and that early, though you would not hearken, ſays the Lord.

20. Hear you therefore the Lord's Commiſſion, all that are of the Captivity, whom I have ſent away from Jeruſalem to Babylon.

21. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, concerning Ahab the Son of Kolaiah, and Zedekiah the Son of Maaſeiah, who propheſy Falſehood to you in my Name; Behold I will deliver them into the Power of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and he ſhall ſlay them in your Sight:

22. And the following Curſe ſhall be taken from them, by all thoſe of the Captivity of Judah, who are at Babylon, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and Ahab, whom the King of Babylon roaſted in the Fire.

23. Becauſe they have done Vileneſs in Iſrael, having committed Adultery with their Neighbours Wives, and ſpoken a falſe Commiſſion in my Name, which I did not command them; I both know, and am a Witneſs, ſays the Lord.

24. And to Shemaiah the Nehelamite thou ſhalt ſay as follows:

25. Thus ſpeaks the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, ſaying; Becauſe thou haſt ſent Letters in thy own Name to all the People who are at Jeruſalem, as well as to Zephaniah the Son of Maaſeiah the Prieſt, and all the Prieſts, as follow:

26. The Lord has made thee Prieſt in the room of Jehoiada the Prieſt, for you to be Officers of the Lord's Houſe, that when any Man is mad, and makes himſelf a Prophet, thou mayeſt put him in the Stocks, or in the Pillory.

27. Now therefore why doſt not thou rebuke Jeremiah the Anathothite, who makes himſelf a Prophet to you?

28. By reaſon that he has ſent Word to us at Babylon, It will be long; build Houſes, and dwell; as likewiſe plant Gardens, and eat their Fruit.

29. And Zephaniah the Prieſt read this Letter in the Hearing of the Prophet Jeremiah;

30. Upon which Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

31. Send Word to all that are of the Captivity; Thus ſays the Lord concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Becauſe Shemaiah has propheſied to you, though I did not ſend him, and made you truſt upon Falſehood;

32. Therefore thus ſays the Lord, Behold I will puniſh Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his Offspring: he ſhall have no Man dwelling among this People, nor ſhall he ſee the Good which I will do for my People, ſays the Lord, becauſe he has ſpoken Apoſtacy againſt the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

A Commission which Jeremiah had from the Lord was as follows:

2. Thus ſpeaks the Lord God of Iſrael, ſaying: Write thee all the Words which I ſpeak to thee in a Book.

3. For behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when I will bring back the Captivity of my People Iſrael and Judah, continues he, and will cauſe them to return to the Country which I gave their Foreſathers, and they ſhall inherit it.

4. Theſe being the Words which the Lord ſpeaks concerning Iſrael and Judah:

5. For thus ſays the Lord; We hear a Voice of Trembling, Dread, and not of Peace.

6. Aſk now, and ſee whether a Man is in labour! Why do I ſee every Man with his Hands upon his Loins like a Woman in labour, and all Faces changed into Paleneſs?

7. Alas, for that Day is great, unparalleled by any; it being a Time of Diſtreſs to Jacob, yet he ſhall be ſaved out of it.

8. And on that Day, ſays the Lord of Armies, I will break off the Yoke of it from thy Neck, and burſt thy Bonds; inſomuch that Strangers ſhall make him ſerve no more.

9. But they ſhall ſerve the Lord their God, and David their King, whom I will raiſe up to them.

10. So do not thou fear, my Servant Jacob, ſays the Lord, nor be daunted, O Iſrael: for lo I will ſave thee from far off, and thy Offspring from the Country of their Captivity; ſo that Jacob ſhall return, and reſt, and be quiet, none making afraid.

11. For I am with thee, ſays the Lord, to ſave thee: though I will make an entire End of all the Nations whither I diſperſe thee, yet I will not make an entire End of thee; but will correct thee regularly, and not let thee be at all quit.

12. For thus ſays the Lord; Thy Breach is mortal, thy Wound grievous.

13. There is none to plead thy Cauſe to be cured, thou haſt no Medicines of healing up.

14. All who loved thee have forgot thee, they do not ſeek thee; becauſe I have ſmitten thee with the Wound of an Enemy, the Correction of a cruel one, for the Abundance of thy Iniquity, thy Sins being numerous.

15. Why doſt thou cry for thy Breach? Thy Grief is mortal: for the Abundance of thy Iniquity, thy Sins being numerous, I have done theſe Things to thee.

16. Therefore all who conſume thee ſhall be conſumed, all thy Adverſaries ſhall every one of them go into Captivity, all who plunder thee ſhall become Plunder, and all who prey upon thee will I deliver for Prey.

17. For I will recover Health to thee, and heal thee of thy Wounds, ſays the Lord; though they call thee one driven away, that Zion whom none ſeeks for.

18. Thus ſays the Lord; Lo I will bring back the Captivity of Jacob's Tents, and have compaſſion upon his Dwelling-places, the City too ſhall be built upon its own Heap, and the Palace abide in its own Manner.

19. And there ſhall come out of them Thankſgiving, and the Voice of thoſe who make themſelves merry: I will alſo multiply them, and they ſhall not be few; as likewiſe honour them, and they ſhall not be ſmall.

20. Beſides his Children ſhall be as in old Time, and his Aſſembly ſhall be eſtabliſhed before me; who will puniſh all that oppreſs him.

21. Nay his noble one ſhall be of himſelf, and his Governor come out from within him; whom I will bring near, and he ſhall approach to me: for who is it that has engaged his Heart to approach me? ſays the Lord.

22. And you ſhall be a People to me, as I will a God to you.

23. Behold the raging Whirlwind of the Lord ſhall go forth, a continuing one; it ſhall remain grievouſly upon the Head of the Wicked.

24. The fervent Anger of the Lord ſhall not return, till he has done it, and till he has confirmed the Thoughts of his Heart: in the latter Days you will conſider it.

CHAP. XXXI.

AT that Time, ſays the Lord I will be a God to all the Families of Iſrael, as they ſhall a People to me.

2. Thus ſays the Lord, The People that remained from the Sword found Favour in the Wilderneſs, at my going to make Iſrael it ſelf reſt.

3. The Lord appeared to me from far, ſaying; I have even loved thee with an everlaſting Love, therefore have I drawn thee with Kindneſs.

4. I will yet build thee, ſo that thou ſhalt be built up, O Virgin of Iſrael: thou ſhalt yet be decked with thy Timbrels, and go forth in the Dance of thoſe who make themſelves merry.

5. Thou ſhalt yet plant Vines on the Mountains of Samaria; the Planters ſhall not only plant, but make them common.

6. For there ſhall be a Day when the Keepers ſhall proclaim on Mount Ephraim, Ariſe, and let us go up Zion, to the Lord our God.

7. For thus ſays the Lord; Sing with Gladneſs for Jacob, ſhout joyfully in the chief of the Nations, publiſh, praiſe, and ſay, O Lord, ſave thy People, the Reſidue of Iſrael.

8. Behold I will cauſe them to come from the north Country, and gather them from the Sides of the Earth, the Blind and the Lame, ſhe who is with Child, and ſhe who is in labour being together among them: a great Company ſhall return hither.

9. They ſhall come with Weeping, and with Supplications will I bring them, I will make them go by Brooks of Water, in a ſtraight Way wherein they ſhall not ſtumble: for I am a Father to Iſrael, and Ephraim he is my Firſt-born.

10. Hear the Lord's Commiſſion, O Nations, and declare in the Iſles far off, and ſay, He who ſcatters Iſrael will gather him, and keep him as a Shepherd his Flock.

11. For the Lord redeems Jacob, and ranſoms him from the Power of ſuch as are too ſtrong for him.

12. So ſhall they come, and ſing on the Height of Zion, and aſſemble together to the Goodneſs of the Lord, for Wheat, Wine, Oil, and the young ones of the Flock and Herd; and their Soul ſhall be like a watered Garden, nay they ſhall ſorrow again no more.

13. Then ſhall the Virgin be glad in the Dance, with young Men and old together; and I will turn their Mourning into Joy, I will comfort them, and make them glad from their Sorrow.

14. I will alſo water the Soul of the Prieſts with Fatneſs, and my People ſhall be ſatisfied with my Goodneſs, ſays the Lord.

15. Thus ſays the Lord, A Voice is heard at Ramah, Lamentation, very bitter Weeping, Rachel weeping for her Children; refuſing to be comforted concerning them, becauſe they are not.

16. Thus ſays the Lord, With-hold thy Voice from weeping, and thy Eyes from Tears: for there ſhall be a Reward to thy Work, ſays the Lord, and they ſhall return from the Country of the Enemy.

17. So there is Hope at thy End, ſays the Lord, that thy Children will return to their own Border.

18. I throughly hear Ephraim bemoaning himſelf; Thou haſt chaſtiſed me, and I have been chaſtiſed like a Heifer untaught: bring me back, that I may be brought back, ſince thou art the Lord my God.

19. For after I was brought back, I repented; and after I was informed, I ſtruck upon my Thigh: I was aſhamed, and even in confuſion, becauſe I bore the Reproach of my Youth.

20. Is Ephraim a precious Son to me? Is he a Child of Delights? For ſince I ſpoke againſt him, I throughly remember him ſtill: therefore my Bowels yern for him, I will throughly have compaſſion upon him, ſays the Lord.

21. Set thee up Monuments, make thee Spires, put thy Mind to the Road, the Way thou wenteſt: return, O Virgin of Iſrael, return to theſe thy Cities.

22. How long wilt thou withdraw thy ſelf, O deſerting Daughter? For the Lord creates a new Thing on the Earth, a Woman ſhall compaſs a Man.

23. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; They ſhall yet utter this Expreſſion in the Country of Judah, and in the Cities of it, when I bring back their Captivity, The Lord bleſs thee, O righteous Habitation, O holy Mountain.

24. And there ſhall dwell in Judah it ſelf, and all the Cities of it together, Huſbandmen, and ſuch as march with a Herd.

25. For I water the tired Soul, and fill every ſorrowful Soul.

26. Whereupon I awaked, and looked, my Sleep having been ſweet to me.

27. Lo the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when I will ſow the Family of Iſrael and that of Judah, with the Seed both of Man and Beaſt.

28. And according as I have watched over them, to pluck up, break down, demoliſh, deſtroy, and hurt; ſo will I watch over them, to build up, and plant, ſays the Lord.

29. In thoſe Days they ſhall no more ſay, The Fathers did eat Grapes which were not ripe, and the Children's Teeth are ſet on edge:

30. But each ſhall die for his own Iniquity: every Man's own Teeth, who eats Grapes which are not ripe, ſhall be ſet on edge.

31. Lo the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when I will make a new Covenant with the Family of Iſrael, and that of Judah;

32. Not like the Covenant which I made with their Forefathers, at the Time I took hold of their Hand, to bring them out of the Country of Egypt (which Covenant of mine they broke, though I was married to them, ſays the Lord:)

33. But this ſhall be the Covenant which I will make with the Family of Iſrael after thoſe Days, ſays the Lord; I will put my Law in their inward Part, and write it upon their Heart, and will be a God to them, as they ſhall a People to me.

34. And they ſhall teach no more each one his Neighbour, or each his Brother, that they ſhould know the Lord: for they ſhall all know me, even from the leaſt to the greateſt of them, ſays the Lord; ſince I will forgive their Iniquity, and remember their Sin no more.

35. Thus ſays the Lord, who has made the Sun for a Light by Day, the Ordinances of the Moon and Stars for Light at Night, who breaks the Sea when the Waves of it are boiſterous, whoſe Name is the Lord of Armies;

36. If theſe Ordinances depart from before me, ſays the Lord, the Offspring of Iſrael ſhall alſo ceaſe from being a Nation before me at all Times.

37. Thus ſays the Lord, If the Heaven above can be meaſured, and the Foundations of the Earth below ſearched out, I will alſo reject the whole Offspring of Iſrael for all that they have done, ſays the Lord.

38. Lo the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when the City ſhall be built to the Lord, from the Tower of Hananeel to the Corner-gate.

39. And a Meaſuring-line ſhall yet go forth before it upon the Hill Gareb, and turn about to Goath.

40. To conclude, all the Vale of the Carcaſes and Aſhes, and all the Fields to the Brook Kidron, to the Corner of the Horſe-gate eaſtward, ſhall be holy to the Lord: it ſhall not be plucked up, nor demoliſhed any more for ever.

CHAP. XXXII.

A Commission that Jeremiah had from the Lord in the tenth Year of Zedekiah King of Judah, which was the eighteenth Year of Nebuchadrezzar.

2. At which time the King of Babylon's Army laid ſiege againſt Jeruſalem, and the Prophet Jeremiah was ſhut up in the Court of the Priſon, which was at the King of Judah's Houſe.

3. Whom Zedekiah King of Judah had ſhut up, ſaying; Why doſt thou propheſy, that the Lord ſays thus? Behold I will deliver this City into the Power of the King of Babylon, who ſhall take it;

4. And Zedekiah King of Judah ſhall not eſcape out of the Power of the Chaldeans, but ſhall wholly be given into that of the King of Babylon, whoſe Mouth his Mouth ſhall ſpeak with, and whoſe Eyes his Eyes ſhall ſee;

5. He ſhall alſo carry Zedekiah to Babylon, where he ſhall be till I viſit him, ſays the Lord: though you fight with the Chaldeans, you ſhall not proſper.

6. And Jeremiah ſaid: I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows;

7. Behold Hanameel the Son of Shallum thy Uncle will come to thee, ſaying, Buy thee my Field which is at Anathoth, for the Right of Redemption is thine to buy it.

8. So Hanameel my Uncle's Son came to me into the Court of the Priſon, according to the Lord's Commiſſion, and ſaid to me, Do buy my Field that is at Anathoth, which is in the Country of Benjamin: for both the Right of Inheritance, and the Redemption are thine; buy it for thy ſelf. Then I knew that it was the Lord's Commiſſion.

Ver. 32. though I was married to them] At a loſs, I don't doubt, for the Meaning of the Heb. here, as being various, and but ſeldom uſed, the Gr. Tranſlator rendered and I neglected them, which the Apoſtle quoted Heb. viii. 9. putting perhaps that Senſe to בעל from נעל rather than בחל leſs known, though Grotius would have the laſt be the true original Word.

Ver. 33. after] which belongs to the foregoing, and not to the following; as may be ſeen both by the Heb. Pointing, and by the Quotation of it in Heb. viii. 10.

Ver. 40. Fields] Com. Lat. Country of Death, by the Author's following the marginal Reading, and interpreting the Word as two.

Ver. 5. viſit him] probably by Death; ſee Chap. xxxiv. 5. & lii. 11.

9. Accordingly I bought the Field which was at Anathoth, of Hanamcel my Uncle's Son, and weighed the Money to him, ſeventeen Shekels of Silver.

10. I further ſigned and ſealed the Writing, and had Witneſſes to teſtify, when I weighed the Money in the Scales.

11. Next I took the Writing of the Purchaſe, that which was ſealed by the Commandment and Statutes, and that which was publiſhed.

12. And I delivered the Writing of the Purchaſe to Baruch, the Son of Neriah, the Son of Mahſeiah, both in the Sight of Hanameel my Uncle's Son, and of the Witneſſes that ſigned the Writing of the Purchaſe, in the Sight of all the Jews who ſate in the Court of the Priſon.

13. And I commanded Baruch in their Sight as follows:

14. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Take theſe Writings, both this Writing of the Purchaſe that is ſealed, and this other which is publiſhed, and put them in an earthen Veſſel, that they may remain many Days.

15. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, Houſes, Fields and Vineyards, ſhall yet be purchaſed in this Country.

16. And I prayed to the Lord, after I had delivered the Writing of the Purchaſe to Baruch the Son of Neriah, as follows:

17. Ah Sovereign Lord, behold thou haſt made the Heaven and Earth by thy great Power, and thy Arm ſtretched out; there is not any Thing too wonderful for thee:

18. Shewing Kindneſs to Thouſands, and recompenſing the Iniquity of the Fathers into the Boſom of their Children after them; the Great Powerful God, his Name being the Lord of Armies.

19. Great in Counſel, and grand in Action, whoſe Eyes are open on all the Ways of Mankind, to give to each according to his own Ways, and the Fruit of his Deeds.

20. Who has put Signs and Miracles in the Country of Egypt till this Time, in Iſrael, and among Men; ſo that thou haſt made thee ſuch a Name, as there is at preſent.

21. And thou broughteſt thy People Iſrael out of the Country of Egypt, with Signs, Miracles, a ſtrong Hand, an Arm ſtretched out, and great Fear.

22. Thou alſo gaveſt them this Country, which thou hadſt ſworn to their Forefathers that thou wouldeſt give them, a Country flowing with Milk and Honey.

23. But when they were entered in, and inherited it, they did not hearken to what thou ſaideſt, nor go in thy Law, they have not done whatever thou didſt command them to do: therefore haſt thou made all this Adverſity befal them.

24. Lo there are Ramparts, they are come to the City to take it, nay the City is delivered into the Power of the Chaldeans who fight againſt it, by reaſon of the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence: ſo that what thou haſt ſpoken is come to paſs, and behold thou ſeeſt it.

25. Yet thou haſt ſaid to me, O Sovereign Lord, Buy thee the Field with Money, and have Witneſſes to teſtify; when the City is delivered into the Power of the Chaldeans.

26. Upon this Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

27. Behold I am the Lord, the God of all Fleſh; is any Thing too wonderful for me?

28. Therefore thus ſays the Lord; Behold I will deliver this City into the Power of the Chaldeans, and into that of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, ſo that he ſhall take it.

29. And the Chaldeans who fight againſt this City ſhall come, and ſet this City on fire, burning it, with the Houſes upon whoſe Roofs they offer incenſe to Baal, and pour out Drink-offerings to other gods, that they may provoke me:

30. Becauſe the Iſraelites, and People of Judah, have done only what I was diſpleaſed with from their Youth; becauſe the Iſraelites have only provoked me with the Work of their Hands, ſays the Lord:

31. Becauſe this City has been to me for my Anger and Wrath, even from the Time that they built it to this Time, that I might put it away from before me;

32. For all the Evil of the Iſraelites and the People of Judah, which they themſelves have done to provoke me, their Kings, Princes, Prieſts and Prophets, with the Men of Judah, and Inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

33. And they have turned to me the Back, and not the Face; nay though I taught them, and that early, they did not hearken to receive Inſtruction.

34. But have put their Abominations in the Houſe which is called by my Name, to defile it.

35. Beſides they have built the Chapels of

Ver. 12. Mahſeiah] This is not the ſame Name as in Chap. xxix. 21, 25.

Baal, which are in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, to make their Sons and Daughters paſs through the Fire to Molech, which I did not command them, nor did it come into my Mind, that they ſhould do this Abomination, in order to make Judah ſin.

36. And now therefore thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, concerning the City of which you ſay, It will be delivered into the Power of the King of Babylon, by the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence;

37. Behold I will gather them from all Countries, whither I drive them in my Anger, my Wrath, and in great Fury; and will bring them back to this Place, making them dwell ſecurely.

38. And they ſhall be a People to me, as I will a God to them.

39. Moreover I will give them one Heart, and one Way, to fear me at all Times, for their own Good, and their Children's after them.

40. And I will make an everlaſting Covenant with them, that I will not turn back from following them to do them good; but will put my Fear in their Heart, that they may not depart from me.

41. Nay I will be joyful for them to do them good, and will truly plant them in this Country, with my whole Heart and Soul.

42. For thus ſays the Lord; According as I have brought all this great Harm on this People, ſo will I bring upon them all the Good which I ſpeak concerning them.

43. And Fields ſhall be bought in this Country, of which you ſay, It is deſolate without Man or Beaſt, is delivered into the Power of the Chaldeans.

44. They ſhall buy Fields for Money, ſign and ſeal Writings, and have Witneſſes to teſtify in the Country of Benjamin, the Places round about Jeruſalem, and the Cities of Judah, with thoſe of the Mountains, of the Vales, and of the South: for I will bring back their Captivity, ſays the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIII.

AND Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion again, while he was yet ſhut up in the Court of the Priſon, as follows:

2. Thus ſays the Lord the Maker of it, the Lord that formed it to eſtabliſh it, whoſe Name is the Lord,

3. Call to me, and I will anſwer thee, and tell thee great and reſerved Things, which thou doſt not know.

4. For thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, concerning the Houſes of this City and thoſe of the Kings of Judah, that are broke down by the Ramparts and the Sword;

5. Though coming to fight with the Chaldeans, is but to fill them with the dead Bodies of Men, whom I ſlay in my Anger and Wrath, and for all whoſe Wickedneſs I hid my Face from this City.

6. Behold I will bring on it Health and Healing, and will heal them, as alſo reveal to them Plenty of Proſperity and Truth.

7. For I will bring back the Captivity of Judah and that of Iſrael, and will build them up as at firſt.

8. And I will cleanſe them from all their Iniquity by which they ſin againſt me, as well as forgive all their Iniquities by which they have both ſinned and tranſgreſſed againſt me.

9. Which ſhall be for me a Name of Joy, a Praiſe, and Glory to all the Nations of the Earth; that ſhall hear all the Good which I do to them, nay ſhall be afraid and tremble, for all the Good and Proſperity which I perform for them.

10. Thus ſays the Lord; There ſhall yet be heard in this Place (of which you ſay, It is waſte, without Man or even Beaſt) both in the Cities of Judah and the Streets of Jeruſalem, that are deſolate without either Man, Inhabitant or Beaſt;

11. The Voice of Joy and that of Mirth, the Voice of the Bridegroom and that of the Bride, the Voice of thoſe who ſay, Praiſe the Lord of Armies, becauſe the Lord is good, ſince his Kindneſs is for ever; of ſuch as bring Thank-offerings to the Houſe of the Lord: for I will bring back the Captivity of the Country as at firſt, ſays the Lord.

12. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; There ſhall be yet in this Place that is waſte, both without Man and Beaſt, and at all the Cities of it, a Habitation of Shepherds who make the Flocks lie down.

13. At the Cities of the Mountains, thoſe of the Vales and of the South, as alſo in the Country of Benjamin, the Places round about Jeruſalem, and at the Cities of Judah, ſhall the Flocks yet paſs by the Hands of him that numbers them, ſays the Lord.

14. Behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when I will confirm the good Matter which I ſpeak, to the Family of Iſrael and that of Judah.

15. In thoſe Days, and at that Time I will make a righteous Sprout grow to David, who ſhall do Judgment and Righteouſneſs in the Country.

16. In thoſe Days ſhall Judah be ſaved, and Jeruſalem dwell ſecurely; and this is what it ſhall be called by, The Lord is our Righteouſneſs.

17. For thus ſays the Lord; There ſhall not fail to David a Man ſitting upon the Throne of the Family of Iſrael.

18. Nor ſhall there fail to the Prieſts, the Levites, a Man from before me, offering up Burnt-offerings, burning Meat-offerings, and performing Sacrifies at all Times.

19. Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion further as follows:

20. Thus ſays the Lord; If you can make void my Covenant of Day, and that of Night, ſo that there ſhall not be Day and Night in their Time;

21. My Covenant may alſo be made void with my Servant David, for him not to have a Son reigning upon his Throne, and with the Levites, the Prieſts, my Miniſters.

22. As the Army of Heaven cannot be counted, nor the Sand of the Sea meaſured; ſo will I multiply the Offspring of my Servant David, and the Levites who miniſter to me.

23. Moreover Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

24. Doſt not thou mind what this People ſpeaks, namely, The two Families which the Lord choſe, even them does he reject? ſo they contemn my People from being any more a Nation before them.

25. Thus ſays the Lord; If my Covenant is not for Day and Night, if I did not appoint the Ordinances of Heaven and Earth;

26. Then will I reject the Offspring of Jacob and David my Servant, not to take Governors of his Offspring, for the Offspring of Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob: for I will bring back their Captivity, and have compaſſion upon them.

CHAP. XXXIV.

A Commission which Jeremiah had from the Lord, when Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, with all the People of his whole Army, and all the Kingdoms of the Earth in the Dominion of his Hand, fought againſt Jeruſalem and all its Cities, was as follows:

2. Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; Go, and ſpeak to Zedekiah King of Judah, telling him the Lord ſays thus; Behold I will deliver this City into the Power of the King of Babylon, who ſhall burn it with Fire.

3. And thou ſhalt not eſcape from his Power, but ſhalt be actually taken, and delivered into it; ſo that thy Eyes ſhall ſee the King of Babylon's Eyes, his Mouth ſhall ſpeak with thy Mouth, and thou ſhalt go to Babylon.

4. Yet hear the Lord's Commiſſion, O Zedekiah King of Judah, concerning whom the Lord ſays thus; Thou ſhalt not die by the Sword.

5. Thou ſhalt die in Peace, and with the Burnings of thy Fathers, the former Kings who were before thee; ſo ſhall they burn for thee, and lament for thee, Ah Lord: for I ſpeak the Word, ſays the Lord.

6. Accordingly the Prophet Jeremiah ſpoke to Zedekiah King of Judah, all theſe Words in Jeruſalem;

7. When the King of Babylon's Army fought againſt Jeruſalem, and all the Cities of Judah that were left, even Lachiſh and Azekah: for thoſe fortified Cities remained of the Cities of Judah.

8. A Commiſſion which Jeremiah had from the Lord, after King Zedekiah made a Covenant with all the People who were at Jeruſalem, to proclaim Liberty to them,

9. That each Perſon ſhould let his Servant-man and Maid, being a Hebrew Man and Woman, go away free, that no Perſon ſhould make thoſe ſerve who were Jews his Brethren.

10. For when all the Princes and People who entered into the Covenant, heard that each Perſon ſhould let his Servant-man and Maid go away free, that no Perſon ſhould make them ſerve any more, they obeyed, and let them go away.

11. But after that they made the Servant-men and Maids, whom they had let go away free, return again, and brought them into ſubjection for Servant-men and Maids.

Ver. 16. The Lord is] For a Place could not be the Lord.

Ver. 24. this People] which I underſtand to be the Gentiles, as at Ver. 9.

Ib. from being] exactly from the Heb. and properly in Eng. but deſpiſing the People would not make them be no more a nation.

Ver. 11. brought them into ſubjection] So truly did Solon ſay, Τοὶς νόμις τοῖς ἀραχνίοις ὁμοίοις· καὶ γὰρ ἐκεῖνα, ἐαν μεν̀ εμπέσῃ τὶ κε̃φον καὶ ασθεν⊙, σέγειν· ἐαν̀ δὲ μεῖζον, διακόψαν ὄιχεσθαι. Laws are like Spiders Webs; ſince if any light or weak Thing falls into them they hold it, but with a bigger are broke aſunder, Diog. Laert. in Vit.

12. Upon which Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion from him as follows:

13. Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; I made the following Covenant with your Forefathers, at the Time I brought them out of the Country of Egypt, out of the Place of being Servants;

14. At the Term of ſeven Years, you ſhall each let his Brother being a Hebrew, who has been ſold to thee, go away, even when he has ſerved thee ſix Years ſhalt thou let him go away free from thee; but your Forefathers did not hearken to me, nor incline their Ear.

15. And whereas you were returned now, and did what I approved of, in proclaiming Liberty each to his Neighbour, and made a Covenant before me in the Houſe which is called by my Name;

16. You are turned back, and have profaned my Name, for you have each Perſon made his Servant-man and Maid, whom you had let go away free according to their Deſire, return again, and have brought them into Subjection, to become Servant-men and Maids to you.

17. Therefore thus ſays the Lord; As you do not hearken to me, in proclaiming Liberty each Perſon to his Brother and Neighbour, behold I proclaim Liberty to you, ſays the Lord, to the Sword, Peſtilence and Famine, and will deliver you to Diſturbance in all the Kingdoms of the Earth.

18. And I will deliver the Men that have tranſgreſſed my Covenant, who have not confirmed the Words of the Covenant which they made before me, by the Calf that they cut in two, and paſſed between the Pieces of it;

19. Even the Princes of Judah and thoſe of Jeruſalem, the Eunuchs, Prieſts, and all the People of the Country, who paſſed between the Pieces of the Calf,

20. Will I deliver into the Power of their Enemies, and into the Power of ſuch as ſeek their Life: ſo that their dead Bodies ſhall become Food for the Fowls of the Air, and the Beaſts of the Earth.

21. And Zedekiah King of Judah, with his Princes, will I deliver into the Power of their Enemies, and into the Power of ſuch as ſeek their Life, even into that of the King of Babylon's Army who are gone up from you.

22. Behold I will command, ſays the Lord, and make them return to this City, which they ſhall not only fight againſt, but take, and burn with Fire; the Cities of Judah will I alſo make deſolate without an Inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

A Commission which Jeremiah had from the Lord, in the Time of Jehoiakim the Son of Joſiah King of Judah, was as follows,

2. Go to the Family of the Rechabites, and ſpeak to them, and bringing them to the Houſe of the Lord into one of the Rooms, give them Wine to drink.

3. Accordingly I took Jaazaniah, the Son of Jeremiah, the Son of Habaziniah, together with his Brethren, all his Sons, and the whole Family of the Rechabites.

4. Whom I brought to the Houſe of the Lord, into the Room of the Sons of Hanan, the Son of Igdaliah, a Man of God; which was by the Room of the Princes, that was above the Room of Maaſeiah, the Son of Shallum, the Keeper of the Door.

5. And I put before the Sons of the Family of the Rechabites Pots full of Wine, and Cups, bidding them drink Wine.

6. But they ſaid: We will not drink Wine, for Jonadab the Son of Rechab our Father commanded us thus; You ſhall not drink Wine, your ſelves nor your Children for ever;

7. Neither ſhall you build Houſe, ſow Seed, plant Vineyard, nor have it; but ſhall dwell in Tents all your Days, that you may live many Days upon the Surface of the Ground where you are Strangers.

8. And we have hearkened to what Jehonadab the Son of Rechab our Father ſaid, in all that he commanded us; not drinking Wine in all our Days, our ſelves, our Wives, Sons or Daughters;

9. Nor building Houſes for us to dwell in, nor having Vineyard, Field or Seed;

10. And have dwelt in Tents, hearkening and doing according to all that Jonadab our Father commanded us.

11. But when Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon came up into the Country, we ſaid, Come, and let us go to Jeruſalem, by reaſon of the Army of the Chaldeans, and of that of the Syrians: ſo we dwell in Jeruſalem.

12. Then had Jeremiah the Lord's Commiſſion as follows;

Ver. 14. Term] See Exod. xxi. 2. Deut. xv. 12. Perhaps it was any Time in the 7th Year, as they let their Land then lie ſtill, and had Little for the Servants to do.

Ver. 4. to] for which the Heb. has Nothing but the Verb, as in Gen. x. 11. but לְ for into following.

Ver. 8. Jehonadab] as it is in the Heb. here, &c.

Ib. not drinking Wine] From the Beginning of the Reign of Jehu, when we read of this Jehonadab, 2 King. x. 15. to the Beginning of Jehoiakim's Reign, is by the Chron. Tab. 283 Years.

13. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael: Go, and ſay to the Men of Judah, and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem; Will you not receive Inſtruction, by hearkening to my Words? ſays the Lord.

14. The Words of Jehonadab the Son of Rechab, with which he commanded his Children not to drink Wine, are confirmed; ſince they do not drink it to this Day, but hearken to their Father's Commandment: whereas I have ſpoken to you, and that early, yet ye have not hearkened to me;

15. And have ſent to you all my Servants the Prophets, and that early, to ſay, Return now each from his evil Way, let your Deeds be good, and go not after other gods to ſerve them, ſo ſhall ye dwell in the Country which I gave you and your Fathers; nevertheleſs ye have not inclined your Ear, nor hearkened to me.

16. Since the Children of Jehonadab the Son of Rechab have confirmed their Father's Commandment which he enjoined them, and this People has not hearkened to me;

17. Therefore thus ſays the Lord God of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Behold I will bring on Judah, and all the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, the whole Adverſity which I have ſpoken againſt them; becauſe I have ſpoken to them, and they would not hearken, as likewiſe called to them, and they would not anſwer.

18. Beſides Jeremiah ſaid to the Family of the Rechabites; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, Becauſe ye have hearkened to the Commandment of your Father Jehonadab, obſerved all his Precepts, and done entirely as he commanded you;

19. Therefore thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, There ſhall not fail to Jonadab the Son of Rechab, a Man ſtanding before me at all Times.

CHAP. XXXVI.

AND in the fourth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Joſiah King of Judah, Jeremiah had this following Commiſſion from the Lord;

2. Take thee a Volume of a Book, and write in it all the Things which I have ſpoken to thee, againſt Iſrael, Judah and all Nations, from the Time I ſpoke to thee in the Days of Joſiah to this Time.

3. Perhaps the Family of Judah will regard all the Ill which I intend to do to them, that they may return each from his evil Way, and I may forgive their Iniquity and Sin.

4. Then Jeremiah called Baruch the Son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote from Jeremiah's Mouth all the Words which the Lord had ſpoken to him, in the Volume of the Book.

5. And Jeremiah commanded Baruch thus; I am ſhut up, I cannot go to the Houſe of the Lord.

6. So go thou, and read in the Volume which thou haſt written from my Mouth, the Words of the Lord in the Hearing of the People, at the Lord's Houſe, on the Day of Faſting; and thou ſhalt alſo read them in the Hearing of all Judah, who come from their Cities.

7. Perhaps they will fall down with their Supplication before the Lord, and return from their reſpective evil Ways: for great is the Anger and Wrath, with which the Lord ſpeaks concerning this People.

8. And Baruch the Son of Neriah did according to all that the Prophet Jeremiah commanded him, by reading the Words of the Lord in the Book at the Lord's Houſe.

9. For in the fifth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Joſiah King of Judah, in the ninth Month, they proclaiming a Faſt before the Lord for

Ver. 17. would not hearken] But if they had not heard, as in the vulg. Tranſ. would not they have been excuſable?

Ver. 4. Baruch wrote] See with this Chap. xlv.

Ver. 5. I am ſhut up] Forbid to go from home by the King, Grot. to which Jun. and Trem. add the Excommunication of the Prieſts, and the Command of God; and to the laſt may be ſubjoin'd, as Paul, Act. xx. 22.

Ver. 9. For] Uſher and Prideaux hold that Baruch read thoſe Words twice in the Temple: the firſt time as is pleaded in the 4th Year of Jehoiakim, Ver. 1. but the Text only informs us that the Lord then communicated the Matter to Jeremiah, after which there muſt be ſome Time for writing the whole, next it was not to be read till the Faſt-day; ſo that there was Time enough for the Day of the King's Inauguration to the Throne to come between, which would make it be in two different Years. The other Reaſon given is, that Jeremiah was ſhut up the former Time, Ver. 5. and at Liberty to hide the latter, Ver. 26. whereas the firſt might well be before the Faſt, when Jeremiah ſaid ſo of himſelf, and the laſt at it; but the Shutting up does not appear to be Impriſonment, but rather a Prohibition to go to the Temple. On the other hand Baruch's reading it in the 5th Year, on the Faſt as he was ordered at firſt, the Improbability of its being ſuffered to be ſo publickly read a ſecond time, and the Novelty of it to all the Princes in the ninth Month of the fifth Year, Ver. 12, 16, 22. with no Command for reading it twice, are Circumſtances for its being but once read, which I preſume will not be ſo eaſily anſwered. Trem. and Jun. alſo tranſlate enim, for; and tho' Lightfoot ſuppoſes it was done twice, yet not above two Months aſunder, by the Year beginning between.

Ib. ninth] Since there was no other conſtant Faſt ordered by the Law, but that on the tenth of the ſeventh Month, Lev. xxiii. 4, 27. nor appears to have been kept before the Captivity; conſequently they were religious, or hypocritical, enough to make this Faſt: notwithſtanding in the Univerſal Hiſtory, B. I. Chap. vii. 7. by conſulting Ver. 22. and not this, it is ſuppoſed to be the Faſt firſt mentioned, and Something framed to make up the intermediate Time of about two Months, from the Book being read at the Temple and to the King; which latter ſeems to have been done the next Day.

all

all the People in Jeruſalem, and all thoſe who came from the Cities of Judah thither;

10. Baruch read in the Book, the Words of Jeremiah at the Lord's Houſe, in the Room of Gemariah the Son of Shaphan the Scribe, in the uppermoſt Court, at the Entrance of the new Gate of the Lord's Houſe, in the Hearing of all the People.

11. But when Michaiah the Son of Gemariah, the Son of Shaphan, had heard all the Words of the Lord from the Book;

12. He went down to the King's Houſe into the Scribe's Room, and behold all the Princes were ſitting there, Eliſhama the Scribe, Delaiah the Son of Shemaiah, Elnathan the Son of Achbor, Gemariah the Son of Shaphan, Zedekiah the Son of Hananiah, and all the Princes;

13. And Michaiah told them all the Things which he had heard, when Baruch read in the Book in the Hearing of the People.

14. Upon this all the Princes ſent Jehudi, the Son of Nethaniah, the Son of Shelemiah, the Son of Cuſhi, to Baruch, that he ſhould take in his Hand the Volume wherein he had read in the Hearing of the People, and come to them; which Baruch the Son of Neriah did accordingly.

15. Then they ſaid to him, Sit down now, and read it in our Hearing; ſo Baruch did.

16. And when they heard all the Things, they were afraid one with another, and ſaid to Baruch, We will throughly tell the King all theſe Things.

17. Beſides they aſked Baruch thus, Tell us now, how didſt thou write all theſe Words from his Mouth?

18. He pronounced, ſaid Baruch to them, all theſe Words out of his Mouth to me, and I wrote them in the Book with Ink.

19. At which the Princes replied to Baruch, Go, thou and Jeremiah hide, and let no Man know where you are.

20. And they went into the Court to the King, having laid up the Volume in the Room of Eliſhama the Scribe, and told all the Things in the King's Hearing.

21. Who ſent Jehudi to fetch the Volume, and when he had fetched it out of the Room of Eliſhama the Scribe, Jehudi read it in the Hearing of the King, and of all the Princes who ſtood beſide him.

22. Now the King was ſitting in the Winter-houſe in the ninth Month, and there being a Fire burning on the Hearth before him;

23. As ſoon as Jehudi had read three or four Leaves, he mangled it with a Scribe's Pen-knife, and threw it into the Fire which was on the Hearth, till the whole Volume was conſumed in the ſame.

24. Neither was the King, or any of his Servants, who heard all theſe Words afraid, nor tore their Garments.

25. And Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gemariah did alſo interceed with the King, not to burn the Volume, yet he would not hearken to them.

26. On the contrary the King commanded Jerahmeel the Son of Hammelech, Seraiah the Son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the ſon of Abdeel, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Jeremiah the Prophet; but the Lord hid them.

27. Nevertheleſs Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion, after the King had burnt the Volume, with the Words which Baruch wrote from his Mouth, as follows:

28. Take thee again another Volume, and write in it all the former Words that were in the firſt Volume, which Jehoiakim King of Judah has burnt.

29. Concerning whom thou ſhalt declare; Thou haſt burnt, as the Lord ſays, this Volume, ſaying, Why didſt thou write in it, that the King of Babylon will actually come, deſtroy this Country, and make Man and Beaſt ceaſe from it?

30. Therefore thus ſays the Lord concerning Jehoiakim King of Judah; He ſhall have none ſitting upon the Throne of David, his dead Body ſhall alſo be caſt to the Heat in the Day, and to the Froſt in the Night.

31. I will not only puniſh him, but his Offspring and Servants for their Iniquity, and will bring upon them, the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem and Men of Judah, all the Ill which I have ſpoken to them, and they would not hearken.

32. Jeremiah accordingly took another Volume, and gave it to Baruch the Son of Neriah the Scribe, who wrote in it from Jeremiah's Mouth, all the Words of the Book which Jehoiakim King of Judah had burnt in the Fire; and there were yet added to them many ſuch Words as thoſe.

Ver. 18. Ink] Once for all I would juſt mention what Conſideration is to be had in uſing ſome Concordances, by reaſon of the uncertain Spelling; as this even in the Cambridge one is ynk under y, and in Bibles of the *preſ. CHAP. XXXVII.

AND when King Zedekiah the Son of Josiah, whom Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon made King in the Country of Judah, reigned in the room of Coniah the Son of Jehoiakim,

2. Neither he, his Servants, nor the People of the Country hearkened to the Words of the Lord, which he spoke by the Ministry of the Prophet Jeremiah.

3. However King Zedekiah sent Jehucal the Son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the Son of Maaseiah the Priest, to the Prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now for us to the Lord our God;

4. While Jeremiah went in and out among the People, they having not put him into the Prison-house.

5. When Pharaoh's Army was come out of Egypt, and the Chaldeans who laid siege to Jerusalem, hearing the News of them, went up from Jerusalem.

6. Whereupon the Prophet Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission as follows:

7. Thus, as the Lord God of Israel says, shall ye tell the King of Judah, who has sent you to me to enquire of me; Behold Pharaoh's Army that is come out for your Help, will return to Egypt its own Country.

8. And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fighting against this City, shall take it, and burn it with Fire.

9. Thus says the Lord; Do not deceive your selves, saying, The Chaldeans are quite gone from us; because they are not gone.

10. Nay if ye had smitten all the Army of the Chaldeans who fought with you, so that there remained but wounded Men among them, they should rise up in their several Tents, and burn this City with Fire.

11. Moreover when the Army of the Chaldeans went up from Jerusalem, by reason of Pharaoh's Army;

12. Jeremiah was going out of Jerusalem, to go to the Country of Benjamin, that he might part himself from being there among the People.

13. But when he was at the Gate of Benjamin, a chief Officer was there, whose Name was Irijah, the Son of Shelemiah, the Son of Hananiah, and he took the Prophet Jeremiah, saying, Thou art deserting to the Chaldeans.

14. And though Jeremiah said, It is false, I am not; he would not hearken to him: but Irijah took him, and brought him to the Princes.

15. Enraged therefore at Jeremiah, they beat him, and put him into the House of Confinement, that of Jehonathan the Scribe, for they made that the Prison-house.

16. When Jeremiah was come into the Dungeon-house, and into the Cells, and had abode there many Days;

17. King Zedekiah sent, and fetching him, the King asked him privately in his House, whether there was any Commission from the Lord? And Jeremiah answered, Yes, adding, Thou wilt be delivered into the Power of the King of Babylon.

18. Besides Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah; How have I offended thee, thy Servants, or this People, that you have put me into the Prison-house?

19. And where are your Prophets who prophesied to you, that the King of Babylon would not come against you, nor this Country?

20. Now therefore hear, I pray, my Lord O King, let me fall down, I pray, with Supplication before thee, and do not make me return to the House of Jehonathan the Scribe, lest I should die there.

21. So King Zedekiah commanded, that they should commit Jeremiah to the Court of the Prison, and give him a Piece of Bread daily out of the Bakers Street, till all the Bread was consumed out of the City. Thus Jeremiah abode in the Court of the Prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

AND Shephatiah the Son of Mattan, Gedaliah the Son of Pashur, Jucal the Son of Shelemiah, and Pashur the Son of Malchiah heard the following Words which Jeremiah had spoken to all the People;

2. Thus says the Lord, He that abides in this City shall die by the Sword, Famine or Pestilence; but he who goes forth to the Chaldeans shall live, and shall have his Life for Spoil, that he may live.

3. Thus says the Lord, This City shall be wholly delivered into the Power of the King of Babylon's Army, which shall take it.

4. Therefore the Princes said to the King, Let this Man, we pray, be put to death; for by reason of this he makes the Hands of the Warriors who are left in this City slack, and the Hands of all the People, by speaking these Words to them: for this Man does not endeavour for the Prosperity of this People, but the Adversity.

Ver. 7. will return] not shall, because they were blamed and punished for it, Ezek. xxix. 6, 7, 8.

Ver. 10. Nay] so Nold. in Heb. Part. For having Nothing to do here.

5. And

5. And King Zedekiah ſaid, Behold he is in your Power, for there is no King can be capable of any thing with you.

6. So they took Jeremiah, and caſt him into the Dungeon of Malchiah the Son of Hammelech, which was in the Court of the Priſon, letting him down with Cords; and there being no Water in the Dungeon but Mire, Jeremiah ſunk in the Mire.

7. But when Ebed-melech a Cuſhite Man, an Eunuch who was in the King's Houſe, heard that they had put Jeremiah into the Dungeon, the King ſitting at the Gate of Benjamin;

8. Ebed-melech went out of the King's Houſe, and ſpoke thus to him;

9. My Lord O King, theſe Men have done ill, in all that they have done to the Prophet Jeremiah, whom they have caſt into the Dungeon, and he will die where he is for Hunger, ſince there is no more Bread in the City.

10. At this the King ordered Ebed-melech the Cuſhite, that he ſhould take along with him from thence thirty Men, and get up the Prophet Jeremiah out of the Dungeon, before he was dead.

11. Accordingly he took the Men along with him, and going into the King's Houſe under the Treaſury, took from thence old Rags and old Things worn out, and let them down with Cords to Jeremiah, into the Dungeon.

12. To whom this Ebed-melech ſaid, Put now the old Rags and Things worn out, under thy Arm-pits with the Cords; and Jeremiah did ſo.

13. Thus they drew Jeremiah with Cords, and got him up out of the Dungeon, and he abode in the Court of the Priſon.

14. Then King Zedekiah ſent, and fetched the Prophet Jeremiah to him, into the third Entry which was at the Houſe of the Lord; and the King ſaid to him, I will aſk thee a Matter, do not conceal it from me.

15. Who ſaying to Zedekiah, When I tell thee, wilt not thou quite put me to death? And when I counſel thee, thou wilt not hearken to me;

16. King Zedekiah ſwore ſecretly to him thus, By the Lord's living, who made us this Soul, I will not put thee to death, nor deliver thee into the Power of theſe Men who ſeek thy Life.

17. Upon which Jeremiah ſaid to him; Thus ſays the Lord God of Armies, the God of Iſrael; If thou wilt at all go out to the King of Babylon's Princes, thy Life ſhall be ſaved, and this City ſhall not be burnt with Fire; ſo both thou and thy Family will live.

18. But if thou wilt not go out to them, this City will be delivered into the Power of the Chaldeans, who will burn it with Fire, and thou wilt not eſcape from their Power.

19. And King Zedekiah anſwered Jeremiah, I am anxious about the Jews who are deſerted to the Chaldeans, leſt they ſhould deliver me into their Power, and they ſhould mock me.

20. They will not deliver thee, replied Jeremiah, hearken to what the Lord ſays, I pray, which I ſpeak to thee; that it may be well with thee, and thy Life may be ſaved.

21. Whereas if thou refuſeſt to go forth, this is the Matter which the Lord has ſhewn me;

22. That behold all the Women who are left in the King of Judah's Houſe, ſhall be had out to the Princes of the King of Babylon, and they will ſay, The Men that were at peace with thee perſuading thee, and prevailing over thee, thy Feet are ſunk in the Dirt, they are turned backward.

23. They will not only have out all thy Wives and thy Children to the Chaldeans, but thou thy ſelf wilt not eſcape from their Power: for thou wilt be taken by the Power of the King of Babylon, and wilt cauſe this City to be burnt with Fire.

24. Zedekiah however ſaid to him: Let no Man know of theſe Things, and thou ſhalt not die.

25. And though the Princes ſhould hear that I have talked with thee, and ſhould come to thee, ſaying to thee, Tell us now what thou haſt ſpoken to the King, conceal it not from us, and we will not put thee to death, as alſo what the King ſpoke to thee;

26. Do thou anſwer them, I proſtrated my ſelf with Supplication before the King, that he would not make me return to the Houſe of Jehonathan to die there.

27. And all the Princes coming to Jeremiah, and aſking him, he told them according to all theſe Words which the King had commanded: ſo they held their Peace to him, for the Matter was not underſtood.

28. Jeremiah afterwards abode in the Court of the Priſon, till the Time that Jeruſalem was taken, where he was when Jeruſalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

IN the ninth Year of Zedekiah King of Judah, in the tenth Month, came Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon with all his Army to Jeruſalem, and they laid ſiege againſt it.

2. In the eleventh Year of Zedekiah, on the Ninth of the fourth Month, the City was broke open.

3. And all the King of Babylon's Princes came in, and ſate at the middle Gate, Nergal-ſharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarſechim, Rab-ſaris, Nergal-ſharezer, Rab-mag, with all the Reſidue of the Princes of the King of Babylon.

4. And as ſoon as Zedekiah King of Judah and all the Warriors ſaw them, they fled, and went out of the City by Night, the Way of the King's Garden, at the Gate between the two Walls, going out the Way of the Plain.

5. But the Army of the Chaldeans purſued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the Plains of Jericho: whom having taken, they brought up to Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, at Riblah in the Country of Hamath, and he pronounced the Judgments on him.

6. Then the King of Babylon killed Zedekiah's Sons at Riblah in his Sight, he alſo killed all the Nobles of Judah.

7. Next he put out Zedekiah's Eyes, and bound him with Chains to carry him to Babylon.

8. Beſides the Chaldeans burnt the King's Houſe, and thoſe of the People with Fire, and broke down the Walls of Jeruſalem.

9. The reſt of the People too that were left in the City and elſewhere, with the Deſerters who had deſerted to him, did Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard carry away to Babylon.

10. However ſome of the poor People, who had Nothing, he left in the Country of Judah, and gave them Vineyards and Fields at the ſame Time.

11. But Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon gave command concerning Jeremiah, by the Service of Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard, thus,

12. Take him, and put thy Eyes on him, that thou mayeſt do Nothing ill to him; but as he ſpeaks to thee, ſo do with him.

13. Accordingly he himſelf, in conjunction with Nebuſhaſban, Rab-ſaris, Nergal-ſharezar, Rab-mag, and all the King of Babylon's Captains,

14. Sent, and took Jeremiah out of the Court of the Priſon, and delivered him to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan, that he might carry him out home: ſo he dwelt among the People.

15. Now Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion, while he was ſhut up in the Court of the Priſon, as follows:

16. Go, and tell Ebed-melech the Cuſhite, that the Lord of Armies the God of Iſrael ſays thus; Behold my Words ſhall come to paſs on this City for Ill, and not for Good, and they ſhall be before thee at that Time.

17. But at the ſame Time I will reſcue thee, ſays the Lord, and thou ſhalt not be given into the Power of the Men of whoſe Face thou art afraid.

18. For I will throughly deliver thee, and thou ſhalt not fall by the Sword, but ſhalt have thy Life for Spoil, becauſe thou haſt truſted in me, ſays the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had from the Lord, after Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard let him go from Ramah, follows; who, when he had taken him, and he was bound in Fetters among all thoſe of the Captivity of Jeruſalem and Judah, that were carried away to Babylon,

2. Fetched Jeremiah, and ſaid to him; The Lord thy God ſpoke this Adverſity to this Place;

3. And the Lord has brought it, and done according as he ſpoke: becauſe ye ſinned againſt the Lord, and did not hearken to what he ſaid, therefore this Thing is come to paſs on you.

4. And now behold I releaſe thee to Day from the Fetters which have been upon thy Hand; if thou likeſt to go with me to Babylon, do, and I will look to thee; but if thou diſlikeſt to go with me to Babylon, refrain: ſee the whole Country is before thee; go whither thou likeſt, and approveſt of, to go.

5. Who being not yet returned, he ſaid, Return then to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan, whom the King of Babylon has ſet over the Cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the People, or go where-ever thou pleaſeſt to go. So the Captain of the Guard gave him Proviſion and a Preſent, and let him go.

6. Jeremiah accordingly went to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam at Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the People that were left in the Country.

7. All the Princes themſelves likewiſe of the Forces who were in the Field, and their Men, hearing that the King of Babylon had ſet Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam over the Country, and that he had committed to him the Men, Women and Children, and thoſe of the Poor of the Country, who were not carried away to Babylon;

8. Came to Gedaliah at Mizpah, namely Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the Sons of Kareah, Seraiah the Son of Tanhumeth, the Sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the Son of a Maachathite, with their Men.

9. To whom Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan, ſwore thus; Be not afraid of ſerving the Chaldeans, dwell in the Country, and ſerve the King of Babylon, and it ſhall be well with you.

10. As for me, behold I will dwell at Mizpah, to attend before the Chaldeans who will come to us: as for you, gather Wine, Summer-fruit and Oil, and put into your Veſſels, dwelling in your Cities which you have taken.

11. And when all the Jews too who were in Moab, among the Ammonites, in Edom, and thoſe who were in any of the Countries, heard that the King of Babylon had placed in Judah ſuch as were left, and that he had ſet over them Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan;

12. They all returned from all the Places whither they were driven, and came into the Country of Judah, to Gedaliah at Mizpah, gathering Wine and Summer-fruit very much.

13. And Johanan the Son of Kareah, with all the Princes of the Forces who were in the Field, came to Gedaliah at Mizpah,

14. Saying to him, Doſt thou know at all, that Baalis King of the Ammonites has ſent Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah, to take away thy Life? But Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam would not believe them.

15. And Johanan the Son of Kareah ſaying thus to Gedaliah at Mizpah ſecretly, Do let me go and ſlay Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah, and no Man ſhall know it: why ſhould he take away thy Life, that all the Jews who are gathered to thee may be diſperſed, and the Reſidue of Judah periſh?

16. Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam ſaid to him, Thou ſhalt not do this Thing, for thou ſpeakeſt falſely of Iſhmael.

CHAP. XLI.

HOWEVER in the ſeventh Month, Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah, the Son of Eliſhama, one of the royal Family, having with him ten of the King's chief Men, came to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam at Mizpah; where as they were eating Victuals together,

2. He and they roſe up, and ſmote Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan with the Sword, and killed him, whom the King of Babylon had ſet over the Country.

3. All the Jews likewiſe that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, the Warriors did Iſhmael ſlay.

4. Moreover the ſecond Day of his killing Gedaliah, when no Man knew it,

5. There came fourſcore Men from Shechem, Shilo and Samaria, with the Beard ſhaved, the Garments torn, having cut themſelves, with an Offering and Frankincenſe in their Hand, to bring to the Houſe of the Lord.

6. And Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah went out of Mizpah to meet them, going along weeping as he went, and when he met them, he ſaid to them, Come to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam.

7. But when they were come within the City, he himſelf, and the Men that were with him, killed them, throwing them into the midſt of a Pit.

8. Nevertheleſs ten Men being found among them, who ſaid to Iſhmael, Do not kill us, becauſe we have Treaſures in the Field of Wheat, Barley, Oil and Honey; he refrained, and did not kill them among their Brethren.

9. And the Pit wherein Iſhmael threw all the dead Bodies of the Men, whom he ſlew at the Side of Gedaliah, was the ſame that King Aſa made by reaſon of Baaſha King of Iſrael, which Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah filled with the Slain.

10. Then Iſhmael took all the Reſidue of the People Priſoners that were at Mizpah, the King's Daughters, as well as all the People that were left there, whom Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard had committed to Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam; thoſe Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah having taken Priſoners, went to paſs to the Ammonites.

11. But Johanan the Son of Kareah, and all the Princes of the Forces who were with him, hearing of all the Evil that he had done;

12. Took all the Men, and went to fight with Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah, whom they found at the great Water which is in Gibeon.

13. And when all the People that were with Iſhmael ſaw Johanan the Son of Kareah, and all the Princes of the Forces who were with him, they were glad.

14. So all the People that Iſhmael had taken Priſoners from Mizpah turned about, and went back again to Johanan the Son of Kareah.

15. Iſhmael himſelf however eſcaped with eight Men from the Face of Johanan, and went to the Ammonites.

16. Afterwards Johanan the Son of Kareah; and all the Princes of the Forces who were with him, took from Mizpah all the Reſidue of the People that he had recovered from Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah, after he had ſlain Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Men that were Warriors, with the Women, Children and Eunuchs, whom he had brought back from Gibeon.

17. And they went, and abode at the Lodging-place of Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, that they might go to enter into Egypt;

18. By reaſon of the Chaldeans, ſince they were afraid by reaſon of them, becauſe Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah had ſlain Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, whom the King of Babylon had ſet over the Country.

CHAP. XLII.

AND there came nigh all the Princes of the Forces, with Johanan the Son of Kareah, Jezaniah the Son of Hoſhaiah, and all the People from the leaſt to the greateſt,

2. Saying to the Prophet Jeremiah; Let us fall now with Supplication before thee, and pray for us to the Lord thy God, for all this Reſidue, ſince we are left a few out of many, as thy Eyes ſee us:

3. That the Lord thy God may tell us the Way in which we ſhould go, and the Thing which we ſhould do.

4. To whom the Prophet Jeremiah ſaid, I hear, behold I will pray to the Lord your God according to your Words; and what thing ſoever the Lord anſwers you, I will tell you, and with-hold nothing from you.

5. And they replied to Jeremiah; The Lord be a true and faithful Witneſs with us, whether we do not act entirely ſo as the Matter is, with which the Lord thy God ſends thee to us.

6. Whether it be good or ill, we will hearken to what the Lord our God ſays, to whom we ſend thee; in order that it may be well with us, when we do thus.

7. And at the End of ten Days Jeremiah having the Lord's Commiſſion,

8. Called to Johanan the Son of Kareah, to all the Princes of the Forces who were with him, and all the People from the leaſt to the greateſt,

9. And ſaid to them: Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, to whom you ſent me to proſtrate my ſelf with your Supplication before him;

10. If you will at all abide in this Country, I will build you up, and not pull down, as alſo plant you, and not pluck up; ſince I am ſorry for the Ill which I have done to you.

11. Be not afraid by reaſon of the King of Babylon, becauſe of whom you are afraid; be not afraid of him; ſays the Lord; for I am with you to ſave you, and deliver you from his Power.

12. And I will grant you Compaſſions, ſo that he ſhall have compaſſion on you, and let you return to your own Country.

13. But if you ſay, We will not abide in this Country; not hearkening to what the Lord your God ſpeaks:

14. Saying, No, for we will go into the Country of Egypt, in which we ſhall not ſee War, nor hear the Sound of the Trumpet, nor have a Famine of Bread, and there we will abide;

15. Now therefore hear the Lord's Commiſſion, O Reſidue of Judah: Thus ſays the Lord

Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; If you at all put your Faces to go into Egypt, and do go in to ſojourn there;

16. The Sword which you are afraid of ſhall overtake you there in the Country of Egypt, and the Famine which you are anxious about ſhall follow cloſe after you there at Egypt, inſomuch that you ſhall die there.

17. Thus ſhall it be with all the Perſons who put their Faces to go into Egypt to ſojourn there, they ſhall die by the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence; and ſhall have no Remainder or Remnant, by reaſon of the Adverſity which I will bring upon them.

18. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, As my Anger and Wrath has been poured forth upon the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, ſo ſhall my Wrath be poured forth upon you when you go into Egypt; ſo that you ſhall become an Execration, Aſtoniſhment, Curſe and Reproach, and ſhall ſee this Place no more.

19. The Lord has ſpoken concerning you, O Reſidue of Judah; Do not go into Egypt; know certainly that I charge you this Day.

20. For you erred in your Minds when you ſent me to the Lord your God, ſaying, Pray to the Lord our God for us, and entirely as he ſays, ſo tell us, and we will do it.

21. And I having told you this Day, ye do not hearken to what the Lord your God ſays, nor to any Thing with which he has ſent me to you.

22. Now therefore know fully, that you ſhall die by the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence, in the Place whither you delight to go, to ſojourn.

CHAP. XLIII.

NEVERTHELESS when Jeremiah had made an end of ſpeaking to all the People, all the Words of the Lord their God already mentioned, with which he ſent him to them;

2. Azariah the Son of Hoſhaiah, Johanan the Son of Kareah, and all the proud Men, ſaid thus to Jeremiah; Thou ſpeakeſt falſely, the Lord our God has not ſent thee to ſay, Do not go into Egypt to ſojourn there.

3. But Baruch the Son of Neriah perſuades thee againſt us, in order to deliver us into the Power of the Chaldeans, that they may kill us, and carry us away to Babylon.

4. So Johanan the Son of Kareah, all the Princes of the Forces, and all the People would not hearken to what the Lord ſaid, to abide in the Country of Judah.

5. On the contrary that Johanan, and all thoſe Princes, took all the Reſidue of Judah, who were returned from all the Nations whither they had been driven, to ſojourn in the Country of Judah,

6. Men, Women and Children, with the King's Daughters, and every Perſon that Nebuzaradan Captain of the Guard had left with Gedaliah the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan, as alſo Jeremiah the Prophet, and Baruch the Son of Neriah;

7. And went into the Country of Egypt, for they would not hearken to what the Lord ſaid, going to Tahpanhes.

8. However Jeremiah had the Lord's Commiſſion at Tahpanhes as follows:

9. Take great Stones in thy Hand, and hide them among the Clay in the Brick-kiln, which is at the Entrance of Pharaoh's Houſe at Tahpanhes, in the Sight of the Men of Judah;

10. And tell them: Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Behold I will ſend, and fetch Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon my Servant, whoſe Throne I will put above theſe Stones which I have hid, and he ſhall pitch his Pavilion over them.

11. Nay he ſhall come, and ſmite the Country of Egypt, thoſe who are for Death with Death, thoſe who are for Captivity with Captivity, and thoſe who are for the Sword with the Sword.

12, And I will ſet the Houſes of the gods of Egypt on fire, whom he ſhall burn and carry captive; and being cloathed with the Country of Egypt, as a Shepherd is with his Garment, he ſhall go out from thence in Peace.

13. He ſhall alſo break the Statues of Beth-ſhemeſh in pieces, which are in the Country of Egypt, as well as burn the Houſes of the gods of Egypt with Fire.

CHAP. XLIV.

A COMMISSION which Jeremiah had to all the Jews who dwelt in the Country of Egypt, namely at Migdol, Tahpanhes and Noph, in the Country of Pathros, was as follows:

Ver. 21. do not] Theſe four laſt Verſes might be ſpoken after the People's Refuſal.

Ver. 12. Shepherd] who wears more Cloaths than ordinary, to ſecure himſelf againſt the Weather to which he is ſo much expoſed; and eſpecially puts on his upper Garment, a Cloak or great Coat, when he is about to return home, which makes the Compariſon very good.

Ver. 1. to] It being ſpoken to thoſe Jews in the ſecond Perſon.

2. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael: You have ſeen all the Adverſity which I have brought upon Jeruſalem, and all the Cities of Judah, ſo that behold they are waſte at this Time, and none dwells in them;

3. By reaſon of their Wickedneſs which they did to provoke me, by going to burn incenſe, to ſerve other gods, whom neither they, you, nor your Fathers knew.

4. Notwithſtanding I had ſent to you all my Servants the Prophets, and that early, ſaying, Oh, do not this abominable Thing which I hate!

5. But they did not hearken, nor incline their Ear, to return from their Wickedneſs, not to burn incenſe to other gods.

6. My Wrath and Anger therefore was poured out, and kindled in the Cities of Judah and Streets of Jeruſalem, ſo that they became waſte and deſolate, as at preſent.

7. And now thus ſays the Lord God of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Why do ye commit a great Evil againſt your ſelves, to cut off from you Man and Woman, Child and ſucking Babe, from within Judah, to leave you no Remainder;

8. By provoking me with the Works of your Hands, by burning incenſe to other gods in the Country of Egypt, whither you are gone to ſojourn; that you may be cut off, and that you may become a Curſe and Reproach in all the Nations of the Earth?

9. Have you forgot the Wickedneſs of your Fathers, with that of the Kings of Judah and of their Wives, as alſo your own and your Wives Wickedneſs, which they have committed in the Country of Judah and the Streets of Jeruſalem?

10. They are not mortified to this Day, neither have they feared, nor gone in my Law and Ordinances, which I did put both before you and your Fathers.

11. Therefore thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Behold I will put my Face againſt you for Ill, even to cut off all Judah.

12. For I will take the Reſidue of Judah who have put their Faces to go into the Country of Egypt to ſojourn there, and they ſhall all be conſumed, ſhall fall in that Country, being conſumed by the Sword and Famine, with which they ſhall die from the leaſt to the greateſt; and become an Execration, Aſtoniſhment, a Curſe and Reproach.

13. Thus will I puniſh thoſe who dwell in the Country of Egypt, as I have puniſhed Jeruſalem, with the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence.

14. So that the Reſidue of Judah who are gone to ſojourn there in the Country of Egypt, ſhall have no Remnant or Remainder; that they may return to the Country of Judah, whither they lift up their Mind to return to dwell: for none ſhall return but thoſe who eſcape.

15. Nevertheleſs all the Men who knew that their Wives burnt incenſe to other gods, and all the Women that ſtood by, a great Company, even all the People who dwelt in the Country of Egypt at Pathros, made Jeremiah the following Anſwer;

16. In the Thing which thou haſt ſpoken to us in the Name of the Lord, we will not hearken to thee.

17. But will actually do every Thing that comes out of our own Mouth, to burn incenſe to the Work of Heaven, and pour out Drink-offerings to it, as we, our Fathers, Kings, and Princes have done, in the Cities of Judah and Streets of Jeruſalem, when we were ſatisfied with Bread, were well, and ſaw no Ill.

18. Whereas ever ſince we left off burning incenſe to the Work of Heaven, and pouring out Drink-offerings to it, we have wanted every Thing, and have been conſumed by the Sword and Famine.

19. And when we burnt incenſe to the Work of Heaven, and poured out Drink-offerings to it, did we make Cakes for it, to make images to it, or pour out Drink-offerings to it, without our Huſbands?

20. Then Jeremiah replied to all the People, both Men and Women, even all the People who anſwered him in that Manner, as follows;

21. Did not the Lord remember the Incenſe which you burnt in the Cities of Judah, and the Streets of Jeruſalem, your ſelves, and your Fathers, Kings and Princes, with the People of the Country, and that come into his Mind?

22. And the Lord being no longer able to bear, by reaſon of the Evil of your

Deeds,

Deeds, becauſe of the Abominations which you did, your Country became waſte, deſolate, and a Curſe, without Inhabitant, as at preſent.

23. By reaſon that you burnt incenſe, and ſinned againſt the Lord, not hearkening to what the Lord ſaid, nor going in his Law, Ordinances and Teſtimonies, therefore this Adverſity befel you, as at preſent.

24. Beſides Jeremiah ſaid to all the People, including all the Women: Hear the Lord's Commiſſion, all Judah who are in the Country of Egypt;

25. Thus it is the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, ſays; You and your Wives have not only ſpoken with your Mouths, but fulfilled with your Hand, what follows, We will actually perform our Vows which we have made, to burn incenſe to the Work of Heaven, and pour out Drink-offerings to it: you throughly confirm your Vows, and actually perform them.

26. Therefore hear the Lord's Commiſſion, all Judah who dwell in the Country of Egypt; Behold I ſwear by my great Name, ſays the Lord, that my Name ſhall no more be pronounced in the Mouth of any Man of Judah, in the whole Country of Egypt, ſaying, The Sovereign Lord lives.

27. Behold I will watch over them for Ill, and not for Good; inſomuch that all the Men of Judah who are in the Country of Egypt, ſhall be conſumed by the Sword and Famine, till they are finiſhed.

28. Only a few Perſons who eſcape the Sword, ſhall return from the Country of Egypt to that of Judah: thus all the Reſidue of Judah that are gone into the Country of Egypt to ſojourn there, ſhall know whoſe Word ſhall be confirmed, mine or theirs.

29. And this ſhall be a Sign to you, ſays the Lord, that I will puniſh you in this Place, in order for you to know that my Words ſhall be throughly confirmed againſt you for Ill.

30. Thus ſays the Lord, Lo I will deliver Pharaoh-hophra King of Egypt into the Power of his Enemies, and into the Power of thoſe who ſeek his Life, as I did Zedekiah King of Judah into that of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon his Enemy, and he who ſought his Life.

CHAP. XLV.

A Commission which the Prophet Jeremiah ſpoke to Baruch the Son of Neriah, when he wrote the foregoing Words in a Book from Jeremiah's Mouth, in the fourth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Joſiah King of Judah, was as follows:

2. Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael to thee, O Baruch;

3. Thou haſt ſaid, Wo now is to me, for the Lord adds Sorrow to my Grief: weary as I am of my Sighing, I find no Reſt.

4. Tell him thus, as what the Lord ſays; Behold that which I have built up I will pull down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even this whole Country.

5. And wouldeſt thou ſeek great Things for thy ſelf? Do not: for lo when I bring Adverſity upon all Fleſh, ſays the Lord, I will give thee thy Life for Spoil in all Places whither thou goeſt.

CHAP. XLVI.

A Commission which the Prophet Jeremiah had againſt the Gentiles;

2. Namely Egypt, the Army of Pharaohnecho King of it that was by the River Euphrates at Carchemiſh, which Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon defeated in the fourth Year of Jehoiakim the Son of Joſiah King of Judah:

3. Put in order the Shield and Buckler, and approach to the Battle.

4. Harneſs the Horſes, and get up, you Horſemen, as alſo ſtand in the Helmets, ſcour the Spears, put on the Corſlets.

5. Why do I ſee them daunted, turned backward, and their ſtout Men either beat down, or quite fled without turning about? There ſhall be Dread on every Side, ſays the Lord.

6. Let not the Swift flee, nor the Stout eſcape: they ſtumble and fall, northward by the Side of the River Euphrates.

7. Who is this comes up like a Stream, whoſe Waters are moved like the Rivers?

8. Egypt comes up like a Stream, and the Waters are moved like the Rivers, and he ſays, I will go up, will cover the Country, deſtroy the City and the Inhabitants in it.

Ver. 22. deſolate] as Ver. 6. though Aſtoniſhment ſuits better to the People, Ver. 12. thoſe Heb. Words having this twofold Meaning.

Ver. 30. Pharaoh-hophra] called in profane Hiſtory Apries, he being defeated and taken by Amaſis, whom Nebuchadnezzar had left King of Egypt, was ſtrangled in his Palace at Sais, Herodot. Lib. Accordingly obſerve it is not ſaid, the Lord would deliver him into the Power of the King of Babylon, though he conquered Egypt, and though it is ſaid ſo of Zedekiah.

9. Come

9. Come up, O Horſes, and glory, you Chariots, let the ſtout Men alſo come forth, the Ethiopians and Libyans who handle the Shield, and the Ludites who handle, bend the Bow.

10. That being a Day for the Sovereign Lord of Armies, a Day of Vengeance to be revenged on his Adverſaries, when the Sword ſhall conſume, and be ſatisfied, nay be drunk with their Blood: for the Sovereign Lord of Armies has a Sacrifice in the north Country, at the River Euphrates.

11. Go up to Gilead, and take Balſam, O Virgin, Daughter of Egypt: in vain ſhalt thou have many Medicines, thou ſhalt have no healing up.

12. The Nations hear of thy Vileneſs, and thy Cry fills the Country: for the Stout have ſtumbled againſt the Stout, both of them are fallen together.

13. A Commiſſion which the Lord ſpoke to the Prophet Jeremiah, that Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon ſhould come to ſmite the Country of Egypt:

14. Declare you in Egypt, publiſh at Migdol, as likewiſe at Noph and Tahpanhes, ſay, Place and make thy ſelf ready; for the Sword will conſume round about thee.

15. Why are thy ſtrong ones ſwept away? They could not ſtand, becauſe the Lord drove them away.

16. He made many ſtumble, they even fell one on another, and ſaid, Riſe up, and let us return to our own People and our native Country, by reaſon of the oppreſſing Sword.

17. They call out there, Pharaoh King of Egypt is a Noiſe, he has paſſed the appointed Time.

18. By my living, ſays the King, whoſe Name is the Lord of Armies, as Tabor is among the Mountains, and Carmel at the Sea, he ſhall come.

19. Make thee Inſtruments of Captivity, O Daughter, who dwelleſt in Egypt: for Noph ſhall become deſolate, and waſte without Inhabitant.

20. Egypt being like a very handſome Heifer, Slaughter comes, from the North it comes.

21. Her hired Men too within her are like Heifers of the Stall, for they alſo are turned about, fled away together without ſtanding; becauſe the Day of their Calamity is come upon them, the Time of their Viſitation.

22. Her Voice goes along like a Serpent; becauſe they march with an Army, and come to her with Axes as Fellers of Wood.

23. They cut down her Coppice, ſays the Lord, though it cannot be ſearched out: for they are more than the Locuſts, and even out of Number.

24. The Daughter of Egypt is aſhamed, being delivered into the Power of the People of the North.

25. The Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael ſays; Behold I will puniſh the Multitude from No, even Pharaoh and Egypt, with its gods and Kings, and not only Pharaoh, but thoſe who truſt in him.

26. And will deliver them into the Power of ſuch as ſeek their Lives, and into that of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and of his Servants: yet after that it ſhall be inhabited as in old Time, ſays the Lord.

27. But do not thou fear, my Servant Jacob, nor be daunted, O Iſrael: for lo I will ſave thee from far off, and thy Offspring from the Country of their Captivity; ſo that Jacob ſhall return, and reſt, and be quiet, none making afraid.

28. Do not thou fear, my Servant Jacob, ſays the Lord, ſince I am with thee: though I will make an entire End of all the Nations whither I drive thee, I will however not make an entire End of thee, but will correct thee regularly, and not let thee at all be quit.

CHAP. XLVII.

THE Lord's Commiſſion which the Prophet Jeremiah had concerning the Philiſtines, before Pharaoh ſmote Gaza.

2. Thus ſays the Lord: Behold Waters come up from the North, which are an overflowing Flood, and overflow the Country with what it is full of, the City and thoſe who dwell in it; ſo that the Men cry, and every Inhabitant of the Country laments.

CHAP. XLVIII.

CONCERNING Moab, thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael: Wo is to Nebo, becauſe it is waſted, Kiriathaim is aſhamed, being taken, the high Place is aſhamed, and daunted.

2. There is no Praiſe of Moab any more, at Heſhbon they contrive Harm againſt it, Come, and let us cut it off from being a Nation: thou ſhalt alſo be cut down, O Madmen, the Sword ſhall go after thee.

3. There is a Voice of Crying from Horonaim, of Waſting and great Ruin.

4. Moab is ruined, its little ones cauſe a Cry to be heard.

5. For at the Aſcent of Luhith it goes up with continual Weeping, and in the Deſcent of Horonaim the Adverſaries hear a Cry of Ruin.

6. Flee, eſcape with your Lives, and be like a Shrub in the Wilderneſs.

7. For ſince thou doſt truſt in thy own Works and Treaſures, thou ſhalt alſo be taken; and Chemoſh ſhall go forth into Captivity, his Prieſts and Princes together.

8. And the Waſter ſhall come to every City, ſo that no City ſhall eſcape, the Vale too ſhall periſh, and the Plain be deſtroyed, which the Lord ſays.

9. Give Moab Wings, that it may fly quite away; ſince its Cities will be deſolate, without an Inhabitant in them.

10. Curſed be he who does the Lord's Work deceitfully, and curſed be he who with-holds his Sword from Blood.

11. Moab has been quiet from his Youth, and he has been at reſt on his Lees, for he has not been emptied from one Veſſel to another, nor gone into Captivity; conſequently his Taſte remains in him, and his Smell is not changed.

12. Therefore behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when I will ſend to him Rangers, who ſhall make him range about, empty his Veſſels, and diſperſe the Bottles belonging to them.

13. And Moab ſhall be aſhamed of Chemoſh, as the Family of Iſrael were of Beth-el their Truſt.

14. How can you ſay, We are ſtout, and Men of Ability for War?

15. Moab is waſted, and gone up from its Cities, and the choiceſt of his choſen ones ſhall go down to the Slaughter, ſays the King, whoſe Name is the Lord of Armies.

16. The Calamity of Moab is near to come, and his Adverſity haſtens exceedingly.

17. Bemoan him, all you who are round about him, and all that know his Name, ſay, How the ſtrong Staff is broke, the fine Stick!

18. Come down from the Glory, and ſit with Thirſt, O Daughter who dwelleſt in Dibon: for the Waſter of Moab is come up againſt thee, deſtroying thy Fortifications.

19. Stand at the Way, and watch, O Inhabitant of Aroer, aſk him who flees, and her that is eſcaped thus, What is come to paſs;

The Army alſo coming from the North is ſo far from being an Inconſiſtency, that it fixes the Time and Manner at leaſt to me, as follow: Pharaoh-necho King of Egypt going to war againſt the King of Aſſyria, was interrupted in his March by Joſiah, whom he defeated and ſlew, 2 King. xxiii. 29. 2 Chron. xxxv. 20. and it ſeems as if he had met with a like Interruption at Gaza, that Country being brought under Aſſyria before, Iſa. xx. 1. and ſo took the City, as it lay in his Way, on the Side towards Egypt. He afterwards gaining the Victory by the River Euphrates, Joſephus, Antiq. Lib. x. 6. and bringing the Kingdom of Judah into Subjection as he came back, 2 King. xxiii. 33, 34. how agreeable it is to ſuppoſe he now alſo did to the Philiſtines, what is here propheſied concerning them, coming thus againſt them from the North. So it agrees well alſo with Zephaniah's Prophecy, Chap. i. 1. & ii. 4.

daunted, lament, and cry: tell in Arnon, that Moab is waſted.

21. For Judgment is come on the Country of the Plain; on Holon, and on Jahzah, and upon Mephaath,

22. And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim,

23. And upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon,

24. And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, nay upon all the Cities of the Country of Moab, far off and near.

25. The Horn of Moab is cut off, and his Arm is broke, ſays the Lord.

26. Make him drunk, becauſe he magnifies himſelf againſt the Lord; that Moab may clap Hands in his Vomit, and he himſelf likewiſe become Deriſion.

27. For was not Iſrael Deriſion to thee? Was he found among Thieves? Becauſe by thy Words againſt him, thou art moved.

28. Forſake the Cities, and dwell in the Rock, O Inhabitants of Moab, and be like a Dove that makes a Neſt in the Sides of the Pit's Mouth.

29. We have heard of the Pride of Moab, who is very proud, his Loftineſs, Pride, Haughtineſs, and the Ambition of his Heart.

30. I know his Wrath, ſays the Lord, but it is not ſo, his falſe Devices do not ſo accompliſh.

31. Therefore I ſhall lament for Moab, and cry for Moab all of it, one ſhall bemoan the Men of Kir-heres.

32. O Vine of Sibmah, I ſhall weep for thee with the Weeping of Jazer, thy Sprouts being gone over the Sea, as far as that of Jazer: the Waſter is fallen both upon thy Summer-fruit and Vintage.

33. Thus is Gladneſs and Rejoicing taken away from the arable Land, even from the Country of Moab; and I have made the Wine ceaſe from the Wine-preſſes, none ſhall tread with Acclamation, that which is ſhall not be Acclamation.

34. From the Cry of Heſhbon they utter their Voice to Elaleh, to Jahaz, from Zoar to Horonaim, as a Heifer of the third Year: for the Waters of Nimrim alſo ſhall become deſolate.

35. I will cauſe to ceaſe likewiſe in Moab, ſays the Lord, him who offers up at the Chapel, and him who burns incenſe to his gods.

36. Therefore ſhall my Heart make a Noiſe for Moab like Pipes, as it ſhall alſo for the Men of Kir-heres: therefore the reſt which he does will periſh.

37. For every Head will be bald, and every Beard diminiſhed: upon all Hands will there be Cuttings, and upon the Loins Sackcloth.

38. Upon all the Roofs of Moab, and in all its Streets there ſhall be wholly Lamentation: for I have broke Moab as a Veſſel in which is no Delight, ſays the Lord.

39. They lament, How it is daunted! How Moab has turned about the Back with Shame! So Moab is become Deriſion and Daunting, to all who are round about him.

40. For thus ſays the Lord; Behold he ſhall fly as an Eagle, and ſpread forth his Wings to Moab.

41. Kerioth is taken, and the Fortifications are ſeized; the Heart of the powerful ones of Moab at that Time ſhall be as the Heart of a Woman in Pains.

42. And Moab ſhall be deſtroyed from being a People, becauſe he has magnified himſelf againſt the Lord.

43. Dread, the Pit, and the Snare are for thee, O Inhabitant of Moab, ſays the Lord.

44. He that flees from the Preſence of the Dread ſhall fall into the Pit, and he who gets up out of the Pit ſhall be taken in the Snare: for I will bring on Moab it ſelf the Year of their Viſitation, ſays the Lord.

45. Thoſe who flee from the Power ſtand in the Shadow of Heſhbon; but the Fire ſhall come out of Heſhbon, and the Flame from within Sihon, which ſhall conſume the Corner of Moab, and the Crown of the Head of the tumultuous Race.

46. Wo is to thee, Moab, the People of Chemoſh are periſhed: for thy Sons and Daughters are both taken captive.

CHAP. XLIX.

CONCERNING the Ammonites, thus ſays the Lord: Has Iſrael no Sons? Has he no Heir? Why does their King inherit Gad, and his People dwell in its Cities?

2. Therefore behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when I will make a Noiſe of War be heard at Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it ſhall become a deſolate Heap, and its Daughters ſhall be burnt with Fire; then ſhall Iſrael be Heir to thoſe who are Heirs to him, ſays the Lord.

3. Lament, O Heſhbon, becauſe Ai is waſted; cry, O Daughters of Rabbah, gird your ſelves with Sackcloth, cry, and run about into the Hedges, for their King ſhall go into Captivity, his Prieſts and Princes together.

4. Why doſt thou boaſt of thy Vales, thy flowing Vale, O deſerting Daughter? She that truſts in her Treaſures, ſaying, Who ſhall come to me?

5. Behold I will bring Dread upon thee, ſays the Sovereign Lord of Armies, from all that are round about thee: and you ſhall be driven away each one ſtraight forward, none gathering him who wanders.

6. Yet after that I will bring back the Captivity of the Ammonites, ſays the Lord.

7. Concerning Edom, thus ſays the Lord of Armies: Is Wiſdom no more in Teman, Counſel periſhed from the underſtanding ones, their Wiſdom become ſuperfluous?

8. Flee, be turned about, dwell deep, O Inhabitants of Dedan: for I will bring the Calamity of Eſau upon him, the Time when I will viſit him.

9. If thoſe who gather Grapes came to thee, would they not leave Gleaning-grapes? If Thieves by Night, they would ſpoil but what was ſufficient for them.

10. But I have made Eſau bare, diſcovered his ſecret Places, and he ſhall not be able to hide: his Offspring is waſted, with his Brethren and Neighbours, and there is none to ſay,

11. Leave thy Orphans, I will ſave them alive, and let thy Widows truſt upon me.

12. For thus ſays the Lord; Behold they whoſe Judgment was not to drink of the Cup do throughly drink, and ſhalt thou thy ſelf be wholly quit? Thou ſhalt not be quit, but ſhalt throughly drink.

13. For I ſwear by my ſelf, ſays the Lord, that Bozrah ſhall become a Deſolation, Reproach, Waſting and a Curſe; and all its Cities ſhall become perpetual Waſtes.

14. I have heard a Report from the Lord, and an Ambaſſador is ſent into the Nations, Gather your ſelves together, come againſt it, and riſe up to War.

15. For behold I make thee ſmall among the Nations, deſpiſed among Mankind.

16. Thy Terribleneſs deceives thee, the Pride of thy Heart, thou that dwelleſt in the Clefts of the Rock, who holdeſt the Height of the Hill: though thou makeſt thy Neſt as high as an Eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, ſays the Lord.

17. And Edom ſhall become deſolate, every one who paſſes by it ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and hiſs for all its Plagues.

18. As at the Overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, with its Neighbours, ſays the Lord, no Perſon ſhall inhabit there, nor Son of Man ſojourn in it.

19. Behold like a Lion he ſhall come up from the Height of Jordan, againſt the Habitation of the Strong, for I will make him run off from it in an Inſtant; and who is the choſen one that I ſhall ſet over it? For who is like my ſelf? And who ſhall appoint for me? And who is that Shepherd that can ſtand before me?

28. Concerning Kedar, and concerning the Kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon ſhall conquer, thus ſays the Lord: Ariſe, go up to Kedar, and waſte the Sons of the Eaſt.

29. Their Tents and Flocks ſhall they take away, their Curtains, all their Inſtruments and their Camels they ſhall take for themſelves, and proclaim againſt them Dread on every Side.

30. Flee, remove very far, dwell deep, O Inhabitants of Hazor, ſays the Lord: for Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon has taken Counſel againſt you, and intends Something againſt you.

31. Ariſe, go up to the quiet Nation that dwells ſecurely, ſays the Lord, which has neither Gates nor Bars, dwelling alone.

32. For their Camels ſhall become Prey, and the Multitude of their Cattle Spoil, and I will ſcatter in every Wind thoſe who are ſeparated at a Corner, as alſo bring their Calamity from all Sides of it, ſays the Lord.

33. And Hazor ſhall become a Habitation of Serpents, a Deſolation for ever: no Perſon ſhall dwell there, nor Son of Man ſojourn in it.

34. The Lord's Commiſſion which the Prophet Jeremiah had concerning Elam, in the Beginning of the Reign of Zedekiah King of Judah, was as follows:

35. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; Behold I will break the Bow of Elam, the chief of their Power.

36. And will bring to Elam the four Winds from the four Borders of the Heaven, and will ſcatter them in all theſe Winds; inſomuch that there ſhall be no Nation whither the Elamites who are driven away ſhall not come.

37. So the Elamites ſhall be daunted before their Enemies, and before thoſe who ſeek their Life, and I will bring Adverſity upon them, even my fervent Anger, ſays the Lord; nay will ſend the Sword after them, till I have conſumed them.

38. I will alſo put my Throne in Elam, and cauſe the King and Princes to periſh from thence, ſays the Lord.

39. However in the latter Days I will bring back the Captivity of Elam, ſays the Lord.

2. Declare

2. Declare in the Nations, and publiſh, nay ſetting up a Standard, to publiſh without concealing, proclaim, Babylon is taken, Bel aſhamed, Merodach daunted, its Images are aſhamed, its filthy Idols daunted.

3. For there comes up a Nation againſt it from the North, which ſhall make its Country ſo deſolate, that there ſhall be no Inhabitant in it: both Man and Beaſt ſhall remove, go away.

4. In thoſe Days, and at that Time, ſays the Lord, will the Iſraelites themſelves and the Men of Judah come together, going along weeping as they go, and ſeeking the Lord their God.

5. They will aſk the Way to Zion with their Faces thither, ſaying, Come, and let us be joined to the Lord by an everlaſting Covenant that ſhall not be forgot.

6. My People are loſt Sheep, their Shepherds have made them go aſtray, turned them back on the Mountains: they have gone from Mountain to Hill, have forgot their Reſting-place.

7. All who found them have conſumed them, and their Adverſaries ſaid, We are in no fault, foraſmuch as they have ſinned againſt the Lord, the Habitation of Righteouſneſs, even the Lord on whom their Forefathers hoped.

8. Remove from within Babylon, and go out of the Country of the Chaldeans, and be like the He-goats before the Flock.

9. For lo I will rouſe, and bring up againſt Babylon, a Company of great Nations from the north Country; who ſetting themſelves in order againſt it, from thence it ſhall be taken: their Arrows ſhall be as of a powerful depriving one, none ſhall return void.

10. And Chaldea ſhall become Spoil, all who ſpoil it ſhall be ſatisfied, ſays the Lord.

11. Though you are glad, though you triumph, who plunder my Poſſeſſion, though you are full as a Heifer at Graſs, and bellow as Bulls;

12. Your Mother ſhall be exceedingly aſhamed, even ſhe who bore you ſhall be confounded: behold it ſhall be the laſt of the Nations, a dry Wilderneſs, and a Deſart.

13. By reaſon of the Lord's Wrath it ſhall not be inhabited, but be deſolate all of it: every one who paſſes by Babylon ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and hiſs for all its Plagues.

14. Set your ſelves in order againſt Babylon round about, all who bend the Bow, ſhoot at it, do not ſpare Arrows; becauſe it has ſinned againſt the Lord.

15. Shout againſt it round about, that has given its Hand; the Foundations of it are fallen, its Walls demoliſhed: for it being the Lord's Vengeance, be revenged on it; as that has done, do to it.

16. Cut off the Sower from Babylon, and him who holds the Sickle at Harveſt-time: by reaſon of the oppreſſing Sword they ſhall turn about each to his own People, and flee to their ſeveral Countries.

17. Iſrael is like a ſcattered Sheep that a Lion has driven away: firſt the King of Aſſyria conſumed him, and laſtly this Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon has broke his Bones.

18. Therefore thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; Behold I will puniſh the King of Babylon and his Country, as I did the King of Aſſyria.

19. And will bring back Iſrael to his Habitation, ſo that he ſhall feed at Carmel and Baſhan, and his Mind ſhall be ſatisfied on Mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20. In thoſe Days, and at that Time, ſays the Lord, when the Iniquity of Iſrael is ſought, there ſhall be none, and when the Sins of Judah, they ſhall not be found: for I will pardon thoſe whom I cauſe to remain.

VI. Herodot. Lib. i. See Ezek. xvii. 18. Lam. v. 6. Lowth and other Eng. Annotators very improbably expound it by ſubmitting to the Conqueror: for as Cyrus took Babylon by the Sword, and had ſubdued all the reſt of the Empire before, what Agreement was there to be made?

Ib. Walls] About 20 Years after the firſt taking of Babylon by Cyrus, upon its rebelling, Darius Hyſtaſpis took it again, by means of Zopyrus one of his Generals, who having mangled himſelf, fled thither as a Deſerter, under Pretence that Darius had done it; upon which being made General there, he delivered up the City to him: and he it was that flung down the Walls of Babylon, to a quarter Part of the Height they were before, Herodot. Lib. iii. Juſtin, Lib. i. 10.

24. I have laid a Snare for thee, and thou art alſo taken, Babylon, when thou waſt not aware: thou art found, and alſo caught, becauſe thou haſt made war againſt the Lord.

25. The Lord has opened his Treaſury, and brought out the Weapons of his Indignation: for it is the Work of the Sovereign Lord of Armies in the Country of the Chaldeans.

26. Come againſt it from the Border, open its Magazines, caſt it up like Heaps, and utterly deſtroy it: let there be Nothing of it left.

27. Waſte all its Bullocks, let them go down to the Slaughter: wo is upon them, becauſe their Day is come, the Time of their Viſitation.

28. There is the Voice of thoſe who flee, and eſcape from the Country of Babylon, to tell in Zion the Vengeance of the Lord our God, the Vengeance of his Temple.

29. Call the Shooters together againſt Babylon, all who bend the Bow, encamp againſt it round about, let none of it eſcape, recompenſe it according to its Work; according to all that it has done, do to it; becauſe it has behaved proudly towards the Lord, towards the Holy One of Iſrael.

30. Therefore ſhall its young Men fall in the Streets of it, and all its Warriors be cut off at that Time, ſays the Lord.

31. Behold I am againſt thee, O proud one, ſays the Sovereign Lord of Armies: for thy Day is come, the Time when I will viſit thee.

32. So the Proud ſhall ſtumble and fall, and none raiſe him up; and I will kindle a Fire in his Cities, which ſhall conſume all that are round about him.

33. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; The Iſraelites and Men of Judah are oppreſſed together, and all who have taken them Priſoners hold them faſt, refuſe to let them go.

34. Their Redeemer is ſtrong, whoſe Name is the Lord of Armies, he will throughly plead their Cauſe; that he may make the Country quiet, and diſturb the Inhabitants of Babylon.

35. The Sword is upon the Chaldeans, ſays the Lord, as likewiſe on the Inhabitants of Babylon, its Princes and wiſe Men.

36. The Sword is on the falſe Deviſers, and they ſhall be fooliſh: the Sword is on its ſtout ones, and they ſhall be daunted.

37. The Sword is both on its Horſes and Chariots, and on all the mixed People who are within it, and they ſhall be as Women: the Sword is on its Treaſures, and they ſhall be plundered.

38. There is a Drought on its Waters, and they ſhall be dried up: for it is a Country of carved Images, and they glory in the dreadful Idols.

39. Therefore ſhall the wild Creatures of the Deſarts with thoſe of the Iſlands inhabit, and the young Oſtriches dwell in it; and it ſhall no more be inhabited perpetually, nor dwelt in to all Ages.

40. As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, with its Neighbours, ſays the Lord, no Perſon ſhall inhabit there, nor Son of Man ſojourn in it.

41. Behold a People ſhall come from the North, and a great Nation with many Kings be ſtirred up from the Sides of the Earth.

42. Who will hold the Bow and Spear, they are cruel, and will have no compaſſion, their Voice will make a Noiſe like the Sea, and they will ride upon Horſes; each being ſet in order as a Man for War againſt thee, O Daughter of Babylon.

43. The King of Babylon hears the News of them, and his Hands are ſlack; Diſtreſs takes hold of him, Anguiſh as of a Woman in labour.

44. Behold like a Lion he ſhall come up from the Height of Jordan, againſt the Habitation of the Strong, for I will make them run off from it in an Inſtant; and who is the choſen one that I ſhall ſet over it? For who is like my ſelf? And who ſhall appoint for me? And who is that Shepherd that can ſtand before me?

45. Therefore hear the Counſel of the Lord which he has taken concerning Babylon, and what he intends concerning the Country of the Chaldeans; that the little ones of the Flock ſhall draw them, that the Paſture ſhall be made deſolate for them.

46. The Earth is moved at the Noiſe of the taking of Babylon, and the Cry is heard in the Nations.

CHAP. LI.

THUS ſays the Lord: Behold I will ſtir up againſt Babylon, and thoſe who dwell in the midſt of them that riſe up againſt me, a deſtroying Wind.

2. And will ſend Winnowers to Babylon, who ſhall winnow it, and make its Country empty: for they ſhall be againſt it on every Side in the Time of Adverſity.

who

3. At him that bends let the Bender bend his Bow, and at him who lifts himſelf up in his Corſlet; and do not ſpare its young Men, utterly deſtroy its whole Army.

4. That the Slain may fall in the Country of the Chaldeans, and thoſe who are pierced through in the Streets of it.

5. For Iſrael is not become a Widow, nor is Judah ſo from his God, from the Lord of Armies; though their Country was full of Guilt, contrary to the Holy One of Iſrael.

6. Flee from within Babylon, and deliver each his own Life, be not cut off in its Iniquity: for it is the Time of the Lord's Vengeance, he is rendering a Recompence to it.

7. Babylon has been a Cup of Gold in the Lord's Hand, that has made all the Earth drunk: the Nations drank of its Wine, therefore they are mad.

8. Suddenly is Babylon fallen, and ruined: lament for it, take Balſam for its Grievance, perhaps it may be healed.

9. When we would have healed Babylon, it would not be healed; forſake it, and let us go to our reſpective Countries: for the Judgment of it reaches to the Heaven, and is got up to the Skies.

10. The Lord having brought forth our Righteouſneſs, come, and let us rehearſe in Zion the Work of the Lord our God.

11. Scour the Arrows, compleat the Shield, the Lord having ſtirred up the Spirit of the Kings of the Medes, becauſe his Intent is againſt Babylon to deſtroy it; for it is the Vengeance of the Lord, the Vengeance of his Temple.

12. Lift up the Standard on the Walls of Babylon, make the Watch ſtrong, ſet up the Watchmen, prepare the Ambuſcades: for the Lord is both intending and doing, what he has ſpoken concerning the Inhabitants of Babylon.

13. Thou who dwelleſt by many Waters, with Plenty of Treaſures, thy End is come, the Extent of thy Gain.

14. The Lord of Armies ſwears by his own ſelf, I will fill thee with Men as Canker-worms, and they ſhall cry out againſt thee with Acclamation.

15. When he, who made the Earth by his Power, eſtabliſhed the World by his Wiſdom, and by his Underſtanding ſtretched out the Heaven,

16. Utters his Voice, there is Abundance of Water in the Heaven, he cauſing the Vapours to aſcend from the Border of the Earth; he makes the Lightnings with the Rain, and brings the Wind out of his Treaſuries.

17. Every Man is too ſenſeleſs to know, every Founder is aſhamed through the carved Image: for his molten Image is Falſehood, and there is no Breath in them.

18. They are Vanity, the Work of Errors; in the Time of their Viſitation they will periſh.

19. The Share of Jacob is not like theſe; for he is the Former of all Things, and Iſrael is the Tribe of his Poſſeſſion: his Name being the Lord of Armies.

20. Thou art a Club to me, Weapons of War; and by thee I diſperſe Nations, and by thee deſtroy Kingdoms,

21. By thee I alſo diſperſe the Horſe and his Rider, and by thee diſperſe the Chariot and him who rides in it,

22. And by thee I diſperſe Man and Woman, and by thee diſperſe the old Man and the Boy, and by thee diſperſe the young Man and the Virgin,

23. As likewiſe by thee diſperſe the Shepherd and his Flock, and by thee diſperſe the Huſbandman and his Yoke of Oxen, and by thee diſperſe Captains and Rulers.

24. But I will recompenſe to Babylon, and to all the Inhabitants of Chaldea, all the Harm which they have done to Zion, in your Sight, ſays the Lord.

25. Lo I am againſt thee, O deſtroying Mountain, ſays the Lord, that deſtroyeſt the whole Earth, and I will ſtretch out my Hand upon thee, will roll thee down from the Rocks, and make thee a burnt Mountain:

26. Inſomuch that People ſhall neither take of thee a Stone for a Corner, nor a Stone for Foundations, ſince thou ſhalt be perpetual Deſolations, ſays the Lord.

27. Set up the Standard in the Country,

Ver. 3. Bender] to be, as the Heb. is, like the other. The Author of the State of the Pr. Heb. Text ſays, We read in print אל ידרך ידרך הדרך ne tendat tendat tendens, words the Impropriety of which is too ſtriking to want a Comment, p. 514. True of his own Latin, but in the Heb. we read אֶל at or to, Thanks be to the Pointing! not אַל let not.

Ver. 17. too ſenſeleſs to know] right to the Heb. the ſame as in Chap. x. 14. however our [by] here is as much beſides Senſe as beſides the Original.

Ib. by thee I diſperſe] by Babylon, according to the Tranſlations of Jun. and Trem. Munſt. Leo Jud. and Caſt. as alſo to art, and eſpecially to Ver. 25. & Cap. l. 23.

ſound

ſound the Trumpet in the Nations, prepare the Nations againſt it, call together againſt it the Kingdoms of Ararat, Minni and Aſhchenaz, appoint a Commander againſt it, bring up the Horſes as the rough Cankerworms.

28. Prepare againſt it the Nations with the Kings of the Medes, its Captains, and all the Rulers of it, nay the whole Country of its Dominion.

29. So the Country ſhall be moved, and tremble: for the Lord's Intents will be confirmed againſt Babylon, to make the Country of it deſolate without Inhabitant.

30. The powerful ones of Babylon leave off fighting, they remain in the Fortifications, their Power fails, they are as Women, they burn its Habitations, the Bars of it are broken.

31. One Poſt ſhall run to meet another, and one Meſſenger to meet another, to tell the King of Babylon that his City is taken at the Outſide,

32. And that the Paſſages are ſeized, the Ruſhes burnt with Fire, and the Warriors troubled.

33. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael; The Daughter of Babylon is like a Floor, it is Time to threſh her, within a little while her Harveſt-time will come.

34. Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon has conſumed me, routed me, placed me as an empty Veſſel, devoured me like a Dragon, filled his Paunch with my Dainties, has driven me away.

35. The Violence to me, and my Fleſh be upon Babylon, ſhe who inhabits Zion ſays; and my Blood be on the Inhabitants of Chaldea, does Jeruſalem ſay.

36. Therefore thus ſays the Lord: Behold I will plead thy Cauſe, and take vengeance for thee, making its Sea dry, and drying up its Fountain.

37. And Babylon ſhall become Heaps, a Habitation of Dragons, an Aſtoniſhment and Hiſſing, without Inhabitant.

38. They ſhall roar together like young Lions, yell like Lions Whelps.

39. I will make Entertainments for them when they are hot, and make them drunk, ſo that when they have triumphed, they ſhall ſleep a perpetual Sleep, and not awake, ſays the Lord.

40. I will bring them down like Sheep for Slaughter, like Rams with He-goats.

41. How Sheſhach is taken! And how the Praiſe of the whole Earth is ſeized! How Babylon is become deſolate among the Nations!

42. The Sea is come up over Babylon, ſhe is covered with the Multitude of its Waves.

43. Her Cities are become deſolate, a dry Country, and a Deſart, a Country wherein no Perſon dwells, nor Son of Man paſſes through it.

44. I will puniſh Bel too in Babylon, and make what he has ſwallowed come out of his Mouth, and the Nations ſhall no more aſſemble together to him; the Wall of Babylon alſo ſhall fall.

45. Come out from within it, my People, and eſcape each with his own Life, from the fervent Anger of the Lord:

46. Leſt your Heart likewiſe ſhould be diſcouraged, and you ſhould be afraid at the News which will be heard in the Country; when News will come one Year, and there will be News the Year after it, that there is Violence in the Country, Governor againſt Governor.

47. Therefore behold the Days are coming, when I will bring a Viſitation upon the carved Images of Babylon, and its whole Country ſhall be aſhamed, and all its Slain fall within it.

48. Then will the Heaven and Earth, with all that is in them, ſing for Babylon, becauſe Waſters will come to it from the North, ſays the Lord.

49. Not only the Slain of Iſrael are to fall by Babylon, but alſo of Babylon it ſelf ſhall fall the Slain of the whole Country.

50. You who are eſcaped from the Sword, get away, do not ſtand ſtill; remember the Lord far off, and let Jeruſalem come into your Mind.

51. We are aſhamed, becauſe we hear Reproach, Confuſion covers our Faces: for Strangers are entered into the Sanctuary of the Lord's Houſe.

52. Therefore behold the Days are coming,

Ver. 36. dry] Babylon being exceeding ſtrong, of which ſee Dan. iv. 30. Cyrus beſieged it almoſt two Years in vain. ſays ſays the Lord, when I will bring a viſitation upon its carved Images, and the Wounded ſhall cry throughout the whole Country.

53. Though Babylon ſhould get up to the Heaven, and though it ſhould fortify the Height of its Strength, Waters ſhould come to it from me, ſays the Lord.

54. There is the Sound of a Cry from Babylon, and of a great Ruin from the Country of the Chaldeans;

55. Becauſe the Lord has waſted Babylon, and deſtroyed the great Sound out of it, though their Waves make a noiſe like many Waters, and the Noiſe of their Sound be uttered;

56. Becauſe a Waſter is come againſt Babylon it ſelf, and the ſtout ones of it are taken, each of their Bows is broke: for the Lord God of Recompences will throughly reward.

57. And I will make its Princes, wiſe Men, Captains, Rulers, and ſtout ones drunk, when they ſhall ſleep a perpetual Sleep, and not awake, ſays the King, whoſe Name is the Lord of Armies.

58. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, The broad Walls of Babylon ſhall become quite bare, and its high Gates be burnt with Fire; ſo that the People ſhall labour for what is vain, and the Nations for the Fire, and ſhall be tired.

59. This was the Commiſſion which the Prophet Jeremiah gave Seraiah, the Son of Neriah, the Son of Maaſeiah, in charge; when he went for Zedekiah King of Judah to Babylon, in the fourth Year of his Reign, Seraiah being a quiet Prince.

60. For Jeremiah wrote the whole Adverſity which would come on Babylon in a Book, all theſe Words written concerning Babylon.

61. And Jeremiah ſaid to Seraiah; As ſoon as thou art arrived at Babylon, ſee that thou readeſt all theſe Words;

62. And ſay withal, O Lord, it is thou haſt ſpoken concerning this Place, that it ſhall be cut off, that none ſhall dwell in it, whether Man or Beaſt, but it ſhall be perpetual Deſolations.

63. And when thou haſt made an end of reading this Book, thou ſhalt tie a Stone to it, and throw it into the middle of Euphrates,

64. Saying, Thus ſhall Babylon ſink, and not riſe, by reaſon of the Adverſity which I will bring upon it, ſo that they ſhall be tired. Hitherto are the Words of Jeremiah.

CHAP. LII.

ZEDEKIAH was in his twenty firſt Year when he began reigning, and reigned eleven Years in Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Hamutal, the Daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

3. For it came to paſs in Jeruſalem and Judah, that Zedekiah rebelled againſt the King of Babylon, by the Anger of the Lord, till he had caſt them from before him.

4. And in the ninth Year of his Reign, on the tenth of the tenth Month, came Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, with all his Army, againſt Jeruſalem, and encamped againſt it, building Forts againſt it round about.

5. So the City came to be in a Siege, till the eleventh Year of King Zedekiah.

6. When on the ninth of the fourth Month the Famine became ſo grievous in the City, that there was no Food for the People of the Country.

7. Thus the City was broke into, and all the Warriors fled, going out of the City by Night the Way of the Gate between the two Walls, which was by the King's Garden, the Chaldeans being againſt the City round about; and they went the Way of the Plain.

Ver. 59. for Zedekiah] Divers have thought it unlikely that K. Zedekiah went then to Babylon, as there is no other Hint of ſuch a remarkable Affair; Prideaux ſays, Seraiah was then ſent to Babylon by Zedekiah, Connect. An. 595. Jun. and Trem. render it a (from) Tzidkija, and ſo Grot. Ezra being four Months coming from Babylon to Jeruſalem, Ezr. vii. 9. if K. Zedekiah had gone to Babylon, his Stay there and Return would ſcarce have been leſs than a Year, and in that Year of his Reign the falſe fawning Prophet Hananiah propheſied that Nebuchadnezzar's Yoke ſhould be broke, Jer. xxviii. 4, 11. which he would hardly ventured to have done ſo publickly, if Zedekiah had been then at Babylon. On the contrary there is Account of Zedekiah's ſending ſome thither to Nebuchadnezzar, Chap. xxix. 3. one of whom this Seraiah might probably be. And אֵת may ſignify for, which ſuppoſing to be the Meaning deſigned, might not have been ſo well exhibited by another Heb. Particle, as אֶל or ל might be taken for to, עַל for againſt, and either of them for concerning; beſides if with was intended, it ſhould be עִם to have it plain.

Ib. quiet] The Heb. is Prince of Quietneſs, that Language uſing Subſtantives ſo for Adjectives: but hence ſome have taken him for a Chamberlain, and Jon. in the Targum as if an Almoner, by wrong accepting or expounding the Word menuhah for or by minhah. 8. But the Army of the Chaldeans purſued after the King, and overtook Zedekiah on the Plains of Jericho, all his Army being diſperſed from him.

9. And taking the King, they carried him up to the King of Babylon at Riblah, in the Country of Hamath; and he pronounced the Judgments on him.

10. Next the King of Babylon killed the Sons of Zedekiah before his Eyes, as he did likewiſe all the Princes of Judah at Riblah.

11. He alſo put out Zedekiah's Eyes, and the King of Babylon binding him with Chains, carried him to Babylon, and put him into a Houſe of cloſe Confinement to the Day of his Death.

12. Moreover on the tenth of the fifth Month, which was in the nineteenth Year of King Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard, who attended before the King of Babylon, came into Jeruſalem,

13. And burnt the Houſe of the Lord, with that of the King: all the Houſes likewiſe of Jeruſalem, eſpecially every great one did he burn with Fire.

14. And all the Walls of Jeruſalem round about, did the whole Army of the Chaldeans, who were with him, break down.

15. Some alſo of the poor People, and the reſt of the People that were left in the City, and the Deſerters who deſerted to the King of Babylon, with the reſt of the Multitude, Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard carried away.

16. Yet he left ſome of the Poor of the Country, for Vine-dreſſers and Huſbandmen.

17. And the Pillars of Braſs which were at the Lord's Houſe, as alſo the Baſes, and the braſen Sea that was there, the Chaldeans broke; and took away all the Braſs of them to Babylon.

18. The Pots too, the Shovels, muſical Inſtruments, Bowls, Spoons, and all the braſen Things with which they miniſtred, thoſe took:

19. As did the Captain of the Guard the Baſons, Cenſers, Bowls, Pots, Candleſticks, Spoons and Cups, what was Gold in Gold, and what was Silver in Silver;

20. With the two Pillars, one Sea, and the twelve braſen Oxen that were under the Baſes, which King Solomon made for the Houſe of the Lord, the Braſs of all theſe Things being without Weight.

21. As for the Pillars, the Height of one was eighteen Cubits, and a Line of twelve Cubits incloſed it, the Thickneſs of which was four Fingers, being hollow.

22. And the Chapiter upon it was Braſs, the Height of one being five Cubits with the Infolding, and the Pomegranates upon the Chapiter round about were all Braſs; the other Pillar too had like theſe, along with the Pomegranates.

23. And there were ninety ſix Pomegranates ſideways, all the Pomegranates upon the Infolding round about being a hundred.

24. Beſides the Captain of the Guard took Seraiah the principal Prieſt, Zephaniah the ſecond Prieſt, and the three Door-keepers.

25. And out of the City he took one Officer, who was General over the Warriors, and ſeven Men of thoſe that were intimate with the King who were found in the City, as alſo the chief Scribe of the Army that muſtered the People of the Country, and ſixty Men of the ſame People who were found within the City:

26. Even them did Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard take, and carried them to the King of Babylon at Riblah;

27. Who ſmote them, and killed them there in the Country of Hamath. Thus was Judah carried away from their own Country.

28. Theſe were the People whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away: in the ſeventh Year three thouſand twenty three Jews.

31. And in the ſeven and thirtieth Year of the Captivity of Jehoiachin King of Judah, on the twenty fifth of the twelfth Month, Evil-merodach King of Babylon, in the Year that he began reigning, lifted up the Head of Jehoiachin King of Judah, bringing him out of the Priſon-houſe.

Ver. 34. till that of his Death] The Author of the State of Pr. Heb. Text, p. 481, 482. reckons the Inſertion of theſe Words a Corruption, as being a moſt unneceſſary Tautology, and as being not in 2 King. xxv. 30. whereas each of theſe Things ſhews the Unlikelihood of this being put in after the firſt.

NOTES

NOTES upon the LAMENTATIONS of JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

א HOW the City ſits ſolitary, that had many People, being like a Widow! She that was great among the Nations, a Princeſs among the Provinces, is become tributary.

2. ב She weeps ſadly in the Night, and her Tears are on her Cheeks, ſhe has no Comforter of all her Lovers: all her Friends are treacherous to her, they are become her Enemies.

3. ג Judah is carried away captive, by the Affliction and great Servitude, ſhe dwells among the Gentiles, ſhe finds no Reſt: all who purſued her overtook her between the Streights.

4. ד The Ways of Zion mourn, becauſe none come to the ſolemn Aſſembly, all her Gates are deſolate, her Prieſts ſigh, her Virgins are ſorrowful, and ſhe has Bitterneſs,

5. ה Her Adverſaries are become the chief, her Enemies are in Quietneſs, ſince the Lord has made her ſorrowful for the Multitude of her Treſpaſſes; her Children are gone into Captivity before the Adverſary.

6. ו And all her Beauty is gone out of the Daughter of Zion: her Princes are like Deer that find no Paſture, and go without Strength before the Purſuer.

7. ז Jeruſalem remembers in the Days of her Affliction and Lamentings, all her deſirable Things which there were in former Times; when her People fell into the Power of the Adverſary, and none helped her, the Adverſaries ſeeing her, laughed at her Reſting-days.

8. ח Jeruſalem has ſinned exceedingly, therefore ſhe is become ſeparate: all who honoured her vilify her, becauſe they have ſeen her Nakedneſs; ſhe alſo ſighs and turns backward.

9. ט Her Uncleanneſs is in her Skirts, ſhe did not remember her End; upon which ſhe came down wonderfully, none comforting her. See my Affliction, O Lord, for the Enemy has made himſelf great.

10. י The Adverſary has ſpread out his Hand upon all her deſirable Things: for ſhe has ſeen the Gentiles enter into her Sanctuary, whom thou didſt command they ſhould not come into thy Congregation.

11. כ All her People ſigh, they ſeek for Bread, having given their deſirable Things for Food to reſtore Life. See, O Lord, and conſider, for I am become vile.

12. ל All that paſs this Way to whom it does not belong, behold and ſee, if there is any Grief like mine that is done to me, with which the Lord has made ſorrowful at the Time of his fervent Anger.

13. מ He has ſent Fire from on high into my Bones, which has power over them: he has ſpread a Net for my Feet, turned me backward, made me deſolate all Day, and languiſhing.

14. נ The Yoke of my Treſpaſſes is tied on by his Hand, they being plaited together, and coming upon my Neck, he makes my Strength decay: the Lord has delivered me into the Power of thoſe I cannot riſe up from.

15. ס The Lord has trod down all my ſtout ones in the midſt of me, he has called a Company together againſt me to break my young Men: the Lord has trod the Winepreſs to the Virgin, the Daughter of Judah.

16. ע For theſe Things I weep, my Eye, my Eye runs down with Water, becauſe the Comforter that would reſtore my Life is far off from me: my Children are deſolate, becauſe the Enemy has prevailed.

17. פ Zion ſpreading forth her Hands, has no Comforter: the Lord has commanded concerning Jacob, his Adverſaries ſhould be round about him; among whom Jeruſalem is become ſeparated.

Lamentations] Thoſe who made Titles to the Books of Scripture, might as well have put this ſingular as Revelation, nay better.

It is not likely, not tho' Uſher ſays it, Annal. Mun. 3394. that theſe are the Lamentations mentioned 2 Chron. xxxv. 25. of which ſee there; but were made by Jeremiah after, and upon Account of, the Babyloniſh Captivity; as appears by ſeveral Paſſages, particularly Ver. 3, 5, 10, 18. of this Chap. & Chap. ii. 6, 7, 9, 15, 17, 20. & iii. 45, 47. & iv. 1, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, 12, 15, 17, 18, 20, 22. & v. 2, 6, 10, 18. They are very Alphabetical, the Verſes of this Chapter begin regularly with the 22 Heb. Letters; as likewiſe thoſe of the 2d and 4th, only the 16th and 17th Letters there are tranſpoſed; and the 3d Chap. has three Verſes beginning on each Letter, with the like Tranſpoſition.

Ver. 3. by] as Grotius obſerves it ſhould be.

Ver. 9. End] See Iſa. xlvii. 7.

Ver. 12. to whom it does not belong] The Heb. has Nothing to make it a Queſtion. The Vulg. has O you, Chald. I adjure you, Gr. To you; all by miſtaking the Original.

Ib. with which the Lord has made ſorrowful] The vulgar Lat. Tranſlator has turned it, as the Lord has ſpoken; being miſtaken by the Likeneſs of הוֹגָה which is made from יָגָה to the Root הָגָה

18. ץ The

18. צ The Lord he is righteous, for I have rebelled againſt his Command: hear, I pray, all People, and ſee my Grief; my Virgins and young Men are gone into Captivity.

19. ק I called for my Lovers, who deceived me: my Prieſts and Elders expired in the City, when they were ſeeking Food for themſelves to reſtore their Lives.

20. ר See, O Lord, ſince I am in Diſtreſs; my Bowels are diſturbed, my Heart is turned within me, becauſe I have exceedingly rebelled: the Sword deprives of Children abroad, there is as it were Death at home.

21. ש They hear that I ſigh, having no Comforter; all my Enemies hear of my Harm, rejoicing that thou haſt done it: thou wilt bring the Time thou haſt proclaimed, that they ſhall be like me.

22. ת Let all their Evil come before thee, and do to them as thou haſt done to me for all my Treſpaſſes: for my Sighs are many, and my Heart is faint.

CHAP. II.

א HOW the Lord makes it cloudy to the Daughter of Zion in his Anger! he has thrown the Ornament of Iſrael from Heaven to the Earth, and not remembred his Footſtool in the Day of his Anger.

2. ב The Lord has devoured all the Habitations of Jacob without ſparing, has demoliſhed in his Wrath the fortified Places of the Daughter of Judah, beating them down to the Ground: he has made the Kingdom and its Princes profane.

3. ג In the Heat of his Anger has he cut off the whole Horn of Iſrael, he has drawn back his right Hand from the Face of the Enemy, and burnt againſt Jacob as a flaming Fire that conſumes round about.

4. ד He bent his Bow like an Enemy, ſtood with his right Hand like an Adverſary, and killed all who were deſirable to the Eye: he has poured out his Rage as Fire in the Tent of the Daughter of Zion.

5. ה The Lord is like an Enemy, he has devoured Iſrael, devoured all her Palaces, has deſtroyed his fortified Places, and multiplied on the Daughter of Judah Sorrow and Sadneſs.

6. ו And he has done Violence to his Tabernacle, as if it were one in a Garden, has deſtroyed his ſolemn Aſſembly: the Lord has made that and the Sabbath to be forgot in Zion, and contemned in the Indignation of his Anger the King and the Prieſt.

7. ז The Lord has caſt off his Altar, deteſted his Sanctuary, delivered up the Walls of her Palaces into the Power of the Enemy: they have made a Noiſe in the Houſe of the Lord, as on a Day of the ſolemn Aſſembly.

8. ח The Lord intended to deſtroy the Wall of the Daughter of Zion, he ſtretched out the Meaſuring-line, did not draw back his Hand from devouring; ſo that he made the Fort and Wall mourn, they languiſhed together.

9. ט Her Gates are ſunk down into the Ground, he has deſtroyed and broke her Bars: her King and Princes are among the Gentiles, there is no Law, nor do her Prophets find Viſion from the Lord.

10. י The Elders of the Daughter of Zion ſit on the Ground, being ſilent, having put Duſt upon their Heads, and being girded with Sackcloth: the Virgins of Jeruſalem put down their Heads to the Earth.

11. כ My Eyes fail with Tears, my Bowels are diſturbed, my Liver is poured out on the Ground, for the Ruin of the Daughter of my People, by the Children and ſucking Babes fainting in the Streets of the Town.

12. ל They ſay to their Mothers, Where is there Corn and Wine? when they are fainting away, as one wounded in the Streets of the City, when they are pouring forth their Lives into their Mothers Boſoms.

13. מ What ſhall I cauſe to teſtify for thee? What ſhall I liken to thee, O Daughter of Jeruſalem? What ſhall I make equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O Virgin, Daughter of Zion? For thy Ruin is great like the Sea; who can heal thee?

14. נ Thy Prophets have ſeen for thee vain and impertinent Things, and not diſcovered thy Iniquity, to turn back thy Captivity: they have alſo ſeen for thee vain Burdens, and Expellings.

15. ס All who paſs that Way clap Hands at thee, they hiſs, and ſhake their Heads at the Daughter of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Is this the City which they ſay was perfect in Beauty, the Joy of the whole Earth?

16. פ All thy Enemies open their Mouths againſt thee, they hiſs, and gnaſh the Teeth, ſaying, We have devoured her; certainly this

Ver. 20. my Bowels are diſturbed] Both in Tyndal's and Cranmer's Bibles, my wombe is diſquyeted; and with the latter after me in a ſmall Letter and Parentheſis, denoting what is more in the vulg. Lat. and I am full of heuyneſſe, which in Tyndal's of 1549. is in the full Letter without a Parentheſis, and the following omitted, becauſe I rebelled ſtubburnly.

Ver. 3. his right Hand] God's, as Ver. 4, 8.

Ver. 9. ſunk down into the Ground] being thrown down, and covered with Rubbiſh.

Ver. 14. vain Burdens] idolatrous and ſuperſtitious Service, the Effect of which follows.

is the Day which we waiting for, have found, and ſeen.

17. ע The Lord has done what he purpoſed, has accompliſhed his Saying which he commanded in old Time, having demoliſhed without ſparing, and made the Enemy glad over thee, exalting the Horn of thy Adverſaries.

18. ע Their Heart cries to the Lord: O Wall of the Daughter of Zion, let Tears run down as a River Day and Night, give thy ſelf no Reſt, let not the Apples of thy Eyes be ſtill.

19. פ Get up, cry out in the Night, at the Beginning of the Watches pour forth thy Heart as Water before the Face of the Lord, lift up thy Hands to him, for the Life of thy Children, who are fainting for Hunger at the Top of all the Streets.

20. ר See, O Lord, and behold to whom thou doeſt thus: ſhall the Women eat the Fruit of themſelves, Children that are ſwaddled? Shall the Prieſt and Prophet be killed in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21. ש The Youths and the Elders lie on the Ground in the Streets, my Virgins and young Men are fallen by the Sword: thou haſt ſlain at the Time of thy Anger, haſt killed without ſparing.

22. ת Thou haſt called as on a Day of the ſolemn Aſſembly my Fears round about, and there has been no Remnant nor Remainder at the Time of the Lord's Anger: thoſe whom I ſwaddled and brought up, my Enemy has conſumed.

CHAP. III.

א I Am the Man who has ſeen Affliction by the Rod of his Wrath.

2. א He has led and made me go into Darkneſs, and not Light.

3. א Certainly he is turned back againſt me, he turns his Hand all Day.

4. ב He has made my Fleſh and Skin decay, has broke my Bones.

5. ב He has built up againſt me, and ſurrounded with Gall and Trouble.

6. ב In dark Places he makes me dwell, as thoſe dead long ago.

7. ג He has made a Fence about me, ſo that I cannot get out, he has made my Chain heavy.

8. ג Moreover when I cry, and that aloud, he ſtops up my Prayer.

9. ג He has fenced up my Ways with hewn Stone, made my Paths crooked.

10. ד As a Bear lying in wait is he to me, a Lion in ſecret Places.

11. ד My Ways has he turned aſide, and pulled me in pieces, he has made me deſolate.

12. ד He has bent his Bow, and ſet me as a Mark for the Arrow;

13. ה Making the Brood of his Quiver come into my Reins.

14. ה I am Sport for all my People, their Muſick all Day,

15. ה He has filled me with bitter Things, made me drunk with Wormwood.

16. ו And has broke my Teeth with Gravel, covered me over with Aſhes.

17. ו Thou haſt alſo caſt away my Life from Peace, I have forgot Proſperity:

18. ו So that I ſaid, My Strength and Hope are periſhed from the Lord;

19. ז Remembering my Affliction and Lamenting, the Wormwood and Gall;

20. ז Which my Soul throughly remembers, and is bowed down in me.

21. ז This I bring again to my Mind, therefore I wait;

22. ח It is the Kindneſs of the Lord that we are not conſumed, becauſe his Compaſſions do not fail.

23. ח They are new every Morning, thy Faithfulneſs is great.

24. ח The Lord is my Part, ſays my Soul, therefore I wait for him.

25. ט The Lord is good to ſuch as are waiting for him, to the Soul that ſeeks him.

26. ט It is good that one ſhould wait, and be ſilent for the Salvation of the Lord.

27. ט It is good for a Man that he ſhould bear the Yoke in his Youth:

28. י Who ſits alone, and is ſilent, becauſe he has put it upon him;

29. י Who puts his Mouth into the Duſt, there being perhaps Hope;

30. י Who puts his Cheek to him that ſtrikes him, who is filled with Reproach.

31. כ For the Lord will not caſt away for ever.

32. כ For if he makes ſorrowful, yet he has compaſſion, according to the Multitude of his Favours.

Ver. 20. ſwaddled] agreeing with the Verb of the ſame, Ver. 22.

Ver. 22. as on a Day] when the People were called together.

Ver. 1. I am the Man] It ſeems to me, that Jeremiah ſpeaking in the firſt Perſon ſingular means himſelf, as proper; ſee beſides this Ver. 14, 24, 48, 51, 53, 57, 59.

Ver. 21. This] which follows in Ver. 22. not the foregoing; therefore the Section is placed wrong in the com. Tranſlation.

Ib. wait] which the Heb. Word properly ſignifies, and eſpecially here, that it may not diſagree with Ver. 18.

Ver. 27. Yoke] Diog. Laertius tells us that Ariſtotle had to ſay, three Things were neceſſary for Youth, φύσεως, μωθήσεως, ἀσκήσεως, Wit, Exerciſe and Learning, in ejus Vit.

33. כ Be-

33. כ Becauſe he does not from his Heart afflict, nor cauſe Mankind to be ſorrowful.

34. ל To cruſh under his Feet all the Priſoners of the Earth,

35. ל To turn aſide the Judgment of a Man before the Face of the Supreme Being,

36. ל To deal perverſely with a Perſon in his Cauſe, the Lord will not ſee.

37. מ Who is it ſays, and it comes to paſs, the Lord not commanding?

38. מ Does not Ill as well as Good proceed from the Mouth of the Supreme Being?

39. מ Why does a living Perſon bewail himſelf, a Man for his Sin?

40. נ Let us ſearch and trace out our Ways, and return to the Lord.

41. נ Let us lift up our Heart with the Hands, to God in Heaven.

42. נ We having revolted, and rebelled, thou doſt not pardon.

43. ס Thou covereſt with Anger, and purſueſt us, thou ſlayeſt without ſparing.

44. ס Thou covereſt thy ſelf with a Cloud, ſo that Prayer cannot paſs through.

45. ס As that which is ſcraped off and rejected, haſt thou made us among the People.

46. ס All our Enemies open their Mouths againſt us.

47. ס Fear and a Pit are for us, Waſting and Ruin.

48. ס With Streams of Water does my Eye run down, for the Ruin of the Daughter of my People.

49. ע My Eye flows out, and is not ſtill, having no Reſt;

50. ע Till the Lord looks, and ſees from Heaven.

51. ע My Eye affects my Mind, by reaſon of all the Daughters of my City.

52. צ Eagerly have my Enemies hunted me as a Bird, without cauſe.

53. צ They have cut off my Life in the Dungeon, throwing a Stone on me.

54. צ The Water flowing over my Head, I ſaid, I am cut off.

55. ק I called on thy Name, O Lord, out of the loweſt Dungeon.

56. ק Thou didſt hear my Voice, ſaying, Hide not thy Ear at my Breathing, at my Cry.

57. ק Thou cameſt near in the Day I called on thee, thou ſaideſt, Do not fear.

58. ר Thou, Lord, didſt plead the Cauſes of my Soul, didſt vindicate my Life.

59. ר O Lord, thou ſeeſt my Wrong; execute Judgment for me.

60. ר Thou ſeeſt all their Vengeance, all their Devices towards me;

61. ש Thou hearеſt their Reproach, O Lord, all their Devices againſt me;

62. ש The Lips of them who riſe up againſt me, and their Study againſt me all Day.

63. ש Look on their ſitting down or riſing up, I am their Melody.

64. ת Render to them a Recompence, O Lord, according to the Work of their Hands.

65. ת Give them Overwhelming of Heart, thy Curſe to them.

66. ת Purſue and deſtroy them in Anger, from under the Heaven of the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

א HOW the Gold is obſcured! The beſt famous Gold is changed; the Stones of the Holy Place are poured forth at the Top of all the Streets.

2. ב The precious Sons of Zion, to be eſteemed with pure Gold, how they are counted for earthen Pitchers, the Work of the Potter's Hands!

3. ג Even Dragons draw forth the Breaſt, they give their young ones ſuck; but the Daughter of my People is become cruel, like the Oſtriches in the Wilderneſs.

4. ד The Tongue of the ſucking Babe cleaves to the Roof of his Mouth for Thirſt: the Children aſk for Bread, none dividing to them.

5. ה They that did eat with Delights, are deſolate in the Streets: thoſe who were bred up in Scarlet, embrace Dunghils.

6. ו For the Puniſhment of the Iniquity of the Daughter of my People is greater than that of the Sin of Sodom, which was overthrown in a Moment, and no Hands remained in her.

Ver. 38. Does not Ill] according to Job ii. 10. Am. iii. 6. In the com. Tranſlation it is worded as if it was an Aſſertion, that evil and good proceedeth not out of the mouth of the moſt High, as I have known it taken to be, and I ſuppoſe is commonly, by not minding the Note of Interrogation; and ſo underſtanding evil, as indeed moſt properly, in a moral, not a phyſical Senſe.

Ver. 39. Sin] The Original has not here any other Word for the puniſhment of.

Ver. 65. thy Curſe to them] For this the old Lat. has only, thy Labour, but the Chald. let thy Fatigue fatigue them, and the LXX joining it to Heart before have, the Labour of my Heart; ſo that too much Streſs ſhould not be laid on thoſe ancient Verſions: they ſeem to have derived taalah, Curſe, from laah inſtead of alah, or to have taken it for telaah.

Ver. 6. no Hands remained in her] to help her; the Heb. being thus.

7. ו Her

7. ז Her Nazarites who were more pure than Snow, whiter than Milk, more red in Body than Carbuncles, whoſe Trimming was like Sapphire;

8. ח Their Viſage is darker than Black, they are not known in the Streets; their Skin ſticks to their Bones, it is withered, it is like a Stick.

9. ט Thoſe are better who are ſlain with the Sword, than they that are with the Famine; becauſe the latter languiſh away, being pierced through, for the Fruits of the Field.

10. י The Hands of compaſſionate Women boiled their own Children, who became Meat for them in the Ruin of the Daughter of my People.

11. כ The Lord has accompliſhed his Wrath, has poured out his fervent Anger, and kindled a Fire in Zion, which has conſumed the Foundations of it.

12. ל The Kings of the Earth, and all the Inhabitants of the World did not believe, that the Adverſary and Enemy would have entered in at the Gates of Jeruſalem.

13. מ By the Sins of her Prophets, the Iniquities of her Prieſts, who have ſhed the Blood of the Righteous within her;

14. נ They wandered as the Blind in the Streets, were polluted with Blood, ſo that their Garments could not be touched.

15. ס Get away, it is unclean, they called concerning them, get away, get away, do not touch; when they fled away, as well as wandered: they ſaid among the Gentiles, They ſhall ſojourn no more.

16. פ The Face of the Lord has parted them, he will no more look on them; who did not reſpect the Faces of the Prieſts, nor favour the Elders.

17. ע As for us yet, our Eyes fail for our vain Help: we have watched with our Watching, for a Nation that could not ſave.

18. צ They hunt our Steps from going in our Streets: our End has been approaching, our Days are fulfilled, for our End is come.

19. ק Thoſe who purſue us are ſwifter than the Eagles of the Air; they follow us upon the Mountains, they lie in wait for us in the Wilderneſs.

20. ר The Breath of our Noſtrils, the Lord's anointed one, was taken in their Pits; of whom we ſaid, We ſhall live in his Shadow among the Gentiles.

21. ש Be joyful and glad, O Daughter of Edom, who dwelleſt in the Country of Uz; however the Cup will paſs to thee, thou wilt be drunk, and become naked.

22. ת Thy Iniquity is accompliſhed, O Daughter of Zion, he will no more carry thee away captive: he will viſit thy Iniquity, Daughter of Edom, will carry thee away captive for thy Sins.

CHAP. V.

REMEMBER, O Lord, how it is with us, look on, and ſee our Reproach.

2. Our Poſſeſſion is turned to Strangers, our Houſes to Foreigners.

3. We are Orphans without a Father, our Mothers as Widows.

4. Our Water we drink for Money, our Wood comes at a Price.

5. We are perſecuted on our Necks, are tired without having Reſt.

6. We have put Hands to the Egyptians, to Aſſyria, to be ſatisfied with Bread.

7. Our Foreſathers have ſinned, thoſe who are not, and we bear their Iniquities.

8. Servants have dominion over us, none reſcuing from their Power.

9. We did fetch our Bread in Danger of our Lives, by reaſon of the Sword in the Wilderneſs.

10. Our Skins were black like an Oven, becauſe of the Tempeſts of Famine.

11. They humbled the Women in Zion, the Virgins in the Cities of Judah.

12. The Princes were hanged up by their Hand, the Faces of the Elders were not honoured.

13. They took the young Men to grind, and the Boys fell down with the Wood.

Ver. 9. languiſh away] on which Sandys,

For they in ling'ring Torments pine away;
And find not Death ſo cruel as Delay.

Ver. 15. They ſhall ſojourn no more] vulg. Lat. He will dwell among them no more, but not after the Heb.

Ver. 16. The Face of the Lord has parted them] by turning from them; and this alſo anſwers to Faces after, not ſignifying anger.

Ver. 20. Breath] Zedekiah, as late Interpreters ſeem to agree.

Ver. 22. will carry thee away captive] the ſame Verb as before in this Verſe, and is rendered to this Senſe in the Paſſive of the ſame Conjugation, Nah. ii. 7. beſides that ל*y for* follows it, which is left out in the common Verſion, and thus Jun. and Trem. tranſlate the two Words, deportabit propter.

Ver. 12. Hand] By the Hand of their Enemies, Lowth; but their is left out of the com. Lat. which denotes it to be their own Hand, ſo that this is a dangerous Manner of tranſlating.

14. The

14. The Elders are ceaſed from the Gate, the young Men from their Muſick.

15. The Joy of our Heart is ceaſed, our Dancing is turned to Mourning.

16. The Crown of our Head is fallen off: wo to us now, becauſe we have ſinned.

17. For this our Heart is languiſhing, for theſe Things are our Eyes darkened:

18. For Mount Zion that is deſolate, on which the Foxes go.

19. Thou, O Lord, abideſt for ever, thy Throne to Generation and Generation.

20. Why doſt thou forget us eternally, leave us for a long while?

21. Bring us back to thee, O Lord, that we may be brought back, renew our Days as in old Time.

22. But thou doſt utterly reject us, thou art very much in Wrath againſt us.

NOTES upon the BOOK of EZEKIEL.

CHAP. I.

NOW in the thirtieth Year, on the fifth of the fourth Month, as I was among the Captives at the River Chebar, Heaven was opened, and I ſaw Viſions of God.

2. On which Day, it being the fifth Year of King Joiachin's Captivity,

3. Ezekiel the Son of Buzi, the Prieſt, had the Lord's Commiſſion expreſsly, in the Country of the Chaldeans, at the River Chebar, where the Hand of the Lord was upon him.

4. I ſaw that behold there was a Whirlwind came out of the North, a great Cloud, and Fire flaſhing, with Brightneſs to it round about; and at the midſt of it, within the Fire, was like the Colour of a live Coal.

5. At the midſt of it was alſo the Likeneſs of four living Creatures: and this was their Appearance, they had the Likeneſs of a Man.

6. And each of them had four Faces, and each four Wings.

7. Their Feet were ſtraight ones, and the Soles of them like thoſe of a Calf's Foot, which ſparkled as the Colour of poliſhed Braſs.

8. Nay there were Man's Hands under their Wings on their four Parts, and they four had their Faces and Wings.

9. Their Wings were joined one to another; they did not turn about when they went, each one going ſtraight forward.

10. And the Likeneſs of their Faces was, thoſe four had the Face both of a Man and a Lion on the right Side, the ſame four had the Face of an Ox on the left, as they had alſo of an Eagle:

11. Thus were their Faces. And their Wings were ſpread upward; each one had two joined together, and two covered their Bodies.

12. And they went each one ſtraight forward, going whither the Spirit was to go, not turning about when they went.

13. As for the Likeneſs of the living Creatures, their Appearance was as burning Coals of Fire, as the Appearance of Lamps, that went about between the living Creatures; and the Fire was bright, out of which came Lightning.

14. And the living Creatures ran, and returned, as the Appearance of Lightning.

15. As I was looking at them, behold there was a Wheel on the Earth by each of them, with its four Outſides.

16. The Appearance of the Wheels, and their Work, was like the Colour of a Beryl, and thoſe four had the ſame Likeneſs; their Appearance alſo, and their Work, was as it were one Wheel within another.

17. When they went it was upon their four Parts, and that without turning about.

18. By their Felloes, and the Height that was to them, they were dreadful; thoſe four having alſo their Felloes full of Eyes round about.

19. Moreover when the living Creatures went, the Wheels went by them; and when the former were lifted up from the Earth, the latter were.

20. Whither the Spirit was to go, they went, the Spirit being to go thither; and the Wheels were lifted up over againſt them, for the Spirit of the living Creature was in the Wheels.

21. When thoſe went, they went; and when thoſe ſtood ſtill, they did; and when thoſe were lifted up from the Earth, the Wheels were lifted up over againſt them, as the Spirit of the living Creature was in the Wheels.

22. Beſides the Likeneſs of the Firmament over the Heads of the living Creature was as the Colour of terrible Ice, ſtretched out over their Heads above.

Ver. 1. thirtieth] from the Reformation and great Paſſover in Joſiah's Reign, as ſhewn in the Chronology at the End of Dan.

Ver. 15. each of them] there being four Wheels, as there were living Creatures, Ver. 5, 16, 18. Chap. x. 9.

Ib. Outſides] the ſame as the Parts, Ver. 17. Each of thoſe Wheels being one Wheel within another, Ver. 16. viz. acroſs each other, would be compoſed of four Semicircles on the Outſide; and ſo might go either forward or ſideways, without turning about, Ver. 17. Ch. x. 11. Lowth would have this tranſlated ſo that it might be the four Faces of each living Creature, but ſeems not to have minded that the Gender of the Pronoun agrees with the Heb. Word for Wheel, not with that for living Creature, which would alſo make a mere Tautology.

23. And

23. And under the Firmament their Wings were ſtraight one to another; each on one Side having two which covered their Bodies, and each on the other having two that did.

24. I further heard the Sound of their Wings like that of great Waters, as the Voice of the Almighty, when they went, the Sound of the Noiſe being like that of an Army: when they ſtood ſtill, they let down their Wings;

25. And having done ſo, there was a Voice from the Firmament that was over their Heads.

26. Above which was the Likeneſs of a Throne, as the Appearance of Sapphire Stone; and over the Likeneſs of the Throne, there was a Likeneſs as the Appearance of a Man upon it above.

27. I ſaw too as the Colour of a live Coal, as the Appearance of Fire at the Inſide of it round about, from the Appearance of his Loins upward; and from that of his Loins downward I ſaw as the Appearance of Fire, with Brightneſs to it round about.

28. Like the Appearance of the Bow that is in a Cloud on a ſhowery Day, ſo was that of the Brightneſs round about. This was the Appearance of the Lord's Glory; which I ſeeing, fell upon my Face, and heard the Voice of one that ſpoke.

CHAP. II.

WHO ſaid to me, Man, ſtand upon thy Feet, and I will ſpeak to thee.

2. And the Spirit came into me, as he ſpoke to me, and made me ſtand upon my Feet, that I might hear him who ſpoke to me.

3. Then he ſaid to me: Man, I ſend thee to the Iſraelites, to rebellious Gentiles who have rebelled againſt me; they and their Fathers have revolted from me, to this very Day.

4. Nay they are Perſons of an impudent Face, and ſtubborn Heart, to whom I ſend thee, and thou ſhalt declare to them, Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord.

5. And they, whether they will hearken or forbear, for they are a rebellious Family, ſhall however know that there has been a Prophet among them.

6. And thou Man, be not afraid of them, nor yet of their Words, though there are froward Things and Briers with thee, and thou dwelleſt with Scorpions: be not afraid of their Words, nor daunted at their Looks, though they be a rebellious Family.

7. Thou ſhalt ſpeak my Words to them, whether they will hearken or forbear, for they are rebellious.

8. But thou Man, hear what I ſpeak to thee, Be not thou rebellious as that Family is; open thy Mouth, and eat what I give thee.

9. Upon this I looked, and behold there was a Hand reached out to me, and lo a Volume of a Book was in it.

10. Which he ſpread before me, and it was written both on the Foreſide and Backſide; and there were written on it Lamentations, mournful Diſcourſe, and Wo.

CHAP. III.

AND he ſaid to me, Eat, Man, what thou findeſt, namely this Volume; and go, ſpeak to the Family of Iſrael.

2. So I opened my Mouth, and he made me eat it;

3. Saying to me, Man, let thy Belly conſume, and fill thy Bowels with this Volume which I give thee: and as I eat, it was ſweet in my Mouth like Honey.

4. Again he ſaid to me: Man, go, get thee to the Family of Iſrael, and ſpeak to them with my Words.

5. For thou art not ſent to a People of deep Speech and hard Language, but to the Family of Iſrael:

6. Not to many People of deep Speech and hard Language, whoſe Words thou doſt not underſtand; to whom if I had ſent thee, they would have hearkened to thee.

7. But the Family of Iſrael will not, for they will not hearken to me; becauſe they are all of a ſtubborn Forehead, and impudent Heart.

Ver. 27. upward] Lowth takes notice of the Stops being placed wrong in this Verſe; which makes it differ both from the Heb. Pointing, and Chap. viii. 2. nor has the Printer, I ſuppoſe, put it right in Lowth's Amendment.

Ver. 1. Man] The Heb. which is literally Son of Adam or Adamite, on a ſtrict Examination appears to mean no more nor other than Man; accordingly the judicious Caſtellio renders it only Homo, as Beza, Rev. xiv. 14. While ſome would have it ſignify a mean Perſon, others an eminent one, they both play or trifle with Words; ſee Dan. vii. 13. & Amama, Anti-barb. Bib. in Pſa. cii. 21.

Ver. 3. Gentiles] called ſo for their odious Wickedneſs, the Word being plural; which the Engliſh Tranſlators changing into ſingular, quite ſpoil the Senſe.

Ver. 6. froward Things] from the Chald. not occurring elſewhere in the Heb. Scripture, tho' frequent in the Targum.

Ver. 7. rebellious] the very ſame only as in the foregoing Ver. without any Thing for moſt.

Ver. 7. ſtubborn] The Expreſſion of Chap. ii. 4. is changed, that being applied here to the Face, which was there to the Heart, and the contrary.

8. Behold I make thy Face ſtrong over againſt their Faces, and thy Forehead over againſt theirs;

9. As a Diamond ſtronger than a Rock I make thy Forehead: do not fear them, nor be daunted at their Looks, though they be a rebellious Family.

10. He ſaid to me further; Man, all my Words which I ſhall ſpeak to thee, receive in thy Heart, as well as hear with thy Ears.

11. And go, get thee to thoſe of the Captivity, to the Poſterity of thy People, and ſpeak to them in this manner, Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, whether they will hearken or forbear.

12. Then the Spirit had me away, and I heard a Voice behind me with great Stirring, which ſaid, Bleſſed be the Glory of the Lord from its Place:

13. The Noiſe of the living Creatures Wings, that touched one another, and the Noiſe of the Wheels over againſt them, being a Noiſe of great Stirring.

14. Thus the Spirit having me, and taking me away, I went with Bitterneſs in the Vehemency of my Spirit, but the Hand of the Lord was ſtrong upon me.

15. And I came to thoſe of the Captivity at Tel-abib, who abode at the River Chebar; and I abode where they did, aſtoniſhed there among them ſeven Days.

16. At the End of which I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

17. Man, I have made thee a Watchman to the Family of Iſrael, that thou mayeſt hear the Matter from my Mouth, and warn them from me.

18. When I ſay to the Wicked, Thou ſhalt quite die; and thou doſt not warn him, nor ſpeak to warn the Wicked from his wicked Way to keep him alive; ſuch a one's Blood, who dies for his Iniquity, will I require of thee.

19. Nevertheleſs when thou warneſt the Wicked, and he does not return from his Wickedneſs, and his wicked way; he ſhall die for his Iniquity, but thou haſt delivered thy Soul.

20. Moreover when the Righteous returns from his Righteouſneſs, and does Iniquity, and I put a Thing to ſtumble at before him, he ſhall die; and that in his Sin, when thou doſt not warn him, and his Righteouſneſs which he has done ſhall not be remembred, and I will require his Blood of thee.

21. But when thou warneſt the Righteous, that he may not ſin, and he does not; he ſhall throughly live when he is warned, and thou haſt delivered thy Soul.

22. And the Hand of the Lord was upon me there, and he ſaid to me, Riſe up, go forth to the Vale, where I will ſpeak to thee.

23. Which I did accordingly, and behold the Glory of the Lord ſtood there, like the Glory which I ſaw at the River Chebar; then I fell upon my Face.

24. But the Spirit came into me, and made me ſtand upon my Feet; and he ſpoke with me, ſaying to me: Go, ſhut up thy ſelf within thy Houſe.

25. For behold thou, Man, ſhalt have Cords put upon thee by them, with which they will bind thee, ſo that thou ſhalt not go out among them.

26. I will alſo make thy Tongue cleave to the Roof of thy Mouth, that being dumb, thou mayeſt not be a Perſon who reproves them: for they are a rebellious Family.

27. However when I ſpeak to thee, I will open thy Mouth, and thou ſhalt declare to them; Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, He who will hearken, let him; and he that will forbear, let him: for they are a rebellious Family.

CHAP. IV.

AND do thou, Man, take thee a Brick, and putting it before thee, engrave upon it the City Jeruſalem.

2. Againſt which lay Siege, build a Fort, make a Rampart, put a Camp, and ſet Captains round about.

3. Do thou alſo take thee an iron Pan, and put it for an iron Wall between thee and the City; towards which thou ſhalt ſet thy Face, that there may be a Siege, and ſhalt aſſault it: which ſhall be a Sign to the Family of Iſrael.

4. Beſides lie thou on thy left Side, and put the Iniquity of the Family of Iſrael upon it; whoſe Iniquity thou ſhalt bear the Number of the Days which thou lieſt ſo.

5. For I give thee the Years of their Iniquity, according to the Number of the Days, namely three hundred and ninety: thus ſhalt thou bear the Iniquity of the Family of Iſrael.

6. When thou haſt finiſhed theſe, thou ſhalt lie next on thy right Side, and bear the Iniquity of the Family of Judah forty Days: I appoint thee each Day for a Year.

7. And thou ſhalt ſet thy Face towards the Siege of Jeruſalem, and with thy Arm made naked, ſhalt propheſy againſt it.

8. And behold I will put Cords upon thee, ſo that thou ſhalt not turn from one of thy Sides to the other, till thou haſt finiſhed the Days of thy Siege.

9. Moreover do thou take thee Wheat, Barley, Beans, Lentiles, Millet and Rye, which thou ſhalt put into one Veſſel, and make Bread of them for thee; this thou ſhalt eat the Number of the Days that thou lieſt on thy Side, even three hundred and ninety.

10. And thy Meat which thou eateſt ſhall be by Weight, twenty Shekels a Day; and that from Time to Time.

11. Thou ſhalt likewiſe drink Water by Meaſure, the ſixth Part of a Hin; from one Time alſo to another.

12. And thou ſhalt eat it as a barley Cake, baking it with the Ordure, the Excrements of Man in their Sight.

13. For thus, ſaid the Lord, ſhall the Iſraelites eat their defiled Bread among the Nations, whither I will drive them.

14. At this I ſaid, Alas! O Sovereign Lord, behold my Soul is not defiled; I having not eat of a Carcaſe, or that which is torn, from my Youth till now, neither has abominable Fleſh come into my Mouth.

15. Then he replied to me, See, I give thee the Dung of Oxen inſtead of human Ordure; upon which thou ſhalt make thy Bread ready:

16. Saying to me; Man, behold I will break the Staff of Bread in Jeruſalem; ſo that they ſhall eat Bread by Weight and with Trouble, as alſo drink Water by Meaſure and with Deſolation:

17. That they may want Bread and Water, be deſolate one with another, and be waſted away in their Iniquity.

CHAP V.

DO thou, Man, take thee further a ſharp Sword, a Barber's Razor take thee that, and ſhave thy Head and Beard; then take thee weighing Scales, and divide the Hairs.

2. One third Part thou ſhalt burn in the Fire within the City, when the Days of the Siege are fulfilled; thou ſhalt take another, ſtriking round about it with the Sword; and the other ſhalt thou ſcatter in the Wind, and I will draw forth a Sword after them.

3. Beſides thou ſhalt take of them a few in Number, and tie them up in thy Skirts.

4. Next ſhalt thou take ſome of them again, and caſt them into the midſt of the Fire, and burn them in it; from which there ſhall come out a Fire to the whole Family of Iſrael.

5. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; This is Jeruſalem, which I have put in the midſt of the Nations, the Countries being round about her.

6. But ſhe has rebelled againſt my Rules wickedly more than the Nations, and againſt my Ordinances more than the Countries that are round about her; though they have rejected my Rules, and as for my Ordinances they have not gone in them.

7. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: Becauſe you have done it more abundantly than the Nations which are round about you, have not gone in my Ordinances, nor performed my Rules; neither have you done according to the Rules of thoſe Nations:

8. For which cauſe, continues he, behold I my ſelf am againſt thee, and will execute Judgments within thee in the Sight of the Nations.

II. Ch. x. and Corten tells, he ſaw in ſeveral Places, Bread baked with Fire of the Dung of Oxen and Camels, not for Scarcity of Wood, but becauſe it was better, burning, when quite dried by the Sun, like Charcoal. And their baking Bread is like our making Pancakes, being done on a Copper Plate fixed up between Bricks, and the Fire made in the Hollow under; with the Bread in Cakes, about the Size of a common Plate, and about an Inch thick, *Compend. 9. Nay I will do in thee what I have not done, nor will do like it any more, by reaſon of all thy Abominations.

10. Therefore the Fathers ſhall eat the Sons within thee, and the Sons their Fathers; and I will not only execute Judgments in thee, but ſcatter all the Reſidue of thee to every Wind.

11. By my living therefore, ſays the Sovereign Lord, becauſe thou haſt defiled my Sanctuary, with all thy deteſtable and abominable Things, I will even diminiſh, and my Eye ſhall have no compaſſion, nor will I alſo ſpare.

12. One third Part of thee ſhall die with the Peſtilence, and be conſumed with Famine within thee; another ſhall fall by the Sword round about thee; and I will ſcatter the other to every Wind, and draw forth a Sword after them.

13. Thus ſhall my Anger be accompliſhed, and I will make my Wrath reſt on them, that I may comfort my ſelf; and they ſhall know that I the Lord ſpeak in my Zeal, when I have accompliſhed my Wrath on them.

14. And I will make thee a Waſting and Reproach among the Nations which are round about thee, in the Sight of every one who paſſes along.

15. So that it ſhall be a Reproach, Reviling, Inſtruction, and Aſtoniſhment to the Nations which are round about thee; when I execute Judgments in thee, with Anger, Wrath, and wrathful Rebukes; I the Lord ſpeak it:

16. When I ſend the ill Arrows of Famine among them, that are for Deſtruction, which I will ſend to deſtroy you, and increaſe the Famine upon you, breaking your Staff of Bread.

17. Not only Famine will I ſend upon you, but ill Beaſts, that ſhall make thee deſtitute, nay Peſtilence and Blood ſhall paſs through thee, I will alſo bring the Sword upon thee: I the Lord ſpeak it.

CHAP. VI.

AND I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards the Mountains of Iſrael, and propheſy to them,

3. Saying: O Mountains of Iſrael, hear the Sovereign Lord's Commiſſion, who ſays thus to the Mountains, Hills, Channels and Vallies; Behold I my ſelf will bring a Sword againſt you, and deſtroy your Chapels.

4. Your Altars alſo ſhall be deſolate, your ſun-burnt Images broke down; and I will make your Slain fall before your filthy Idols.

5. Nay I will put the Carcaſes of the Iſraelites before their filthy Idols, and ſcatter your Bones round about your Altars.

6. In all your Habitations the Cities ſhall be laid waſte, and the Chapels be deſolate; that your Altars may be laid waſte, and be deſolate, your filthy Idols may be broke, and ceaſe, your ſun-burnt Images be cut down, and your Works aboliſhed.

7. The ſlain one ſhall fall too in the midſt of you, and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

8. Yet I will leave ſome that you ſhall have who eſcape the Sword among the Nations, when you ſhall be ſcattered in the Countries.

9. And thoſe who eſcape of you ſhall remember me among the Nations, whither they ſhall be carried captive, who am grieved with their whoring Heart which is departed from me, and with their Eyes that go a whoring after their filthy Idols; and they ſhall be loathſome to themſelves, for the Evils which they have done, in all their Abominations.

10. And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, who do not ſpeak in vain of doing this Ill to them.

11. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Strike with thy Hand, ſtamp with thy Foot, and exclaim, Alas! for all the heinous Abominations of the Family of Iſrael, by which they ſhall fall with the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence.

12. He that is far off ſhall die with the Peſtilence, and he that is near ſhall fall with the Sword, as alſo he who remains and is beſieged ſhall die with the Famine: thus will I accompliſh my Wrath on them.

13. And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when their Slain are among their filthy Idols round about their Altars, at every high Hill, on all the Tops of the Mountains, under every green Tree, and under every thick Oak, the Places where they gave a pleaſant Smell to all their filthy Idols.

14. For I will ſtretch out my Hand againſt them, and make the Country deſolate, and that more than the Wilderneſs at Diblah, in all their Habitations: ſo ſhall they know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

BESIDES I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

Ver. 7. ſlain one] being ſingular here.
Ver. 9. who] the Heb. Relative.
Ib. grieved] more befitting God than broken.

2. And thou Man, thus ſays the Sovereign Lord to the Country of Iſrael: The End is come, the very End, upon the four Borders of the Country.

3. Now is the End upon thee, and I will ſend my Anger on thee, judge thee according to thy Ways, and render upon thee all thy Abominations.

4. My Eye ſhall have no compaſſion upon thee, nor will I ſpare; but will render thy Ways upon thee, and thy Abominations ſhall be within thee; and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

5. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: One Evil, Evil it ſelf behold is come.

6. The End is come, the very End is, it awakes for thee: behold it is come.

7. The Morning is come to thee, O Inhabitant of the Country: the Time is come, the Day of Vexation is near, and not the Echoing of the Mountains.

8. Now will I ſoon pour out my Wrath upon thee, accompliſh my Anger on thee, judge thee according to thy Ways, and render upon thee all thy Abominations.

9. And my Eye ſhall have no compaſſion, nor will I ſpare; I will render upon thee according to thy Ways, and thy Abominations which are within thee, and you ſhall know that I am the Lord who ſtrike.

10. Behold the Day, lo it is come, the Morning is come forth, the Rod is bloſſomed, Pride is budded out.

11. Violence is riſen up to a Rod of Wickedneſs: there ſhall be none of them, nor of their Multitude, nor of any of them, neither ſhall there be lamenting for them.

12. The Time is come, the Day is approached; let him who buys not be glad, nor him that ſells mourn: becauſe there is Rage for the whole Multitude of it.

13. For he who ſells ſhall not return to that which is ſold, though he is yet living their Life: becauſe the Viſion is for the whole Multitude of it not to return, nor ſhall any one ſtrengthen himſelf in the Iniquity of his Life.

14. They have ſounded the Trumpet, that all might prepare, but none goes to the Battle: becauſe there is my Rage for the whole Multitude of it.

15. The Sword ſhall be without, the Peſtilence and Famine within: he that is in the Field ſhall die by the Sword, and as for him who is in the City, the Famine or Peſtilence ſhall conſume him.

16. But they that are to eſcape of them ſhall eſcape, and be at the Mountains as Doves of the Vallies, all of them making a Noiſe, each one for his Iniquity.

17. All Hands ſhall be ſlack, and all Knees become as Water.

18. And they ſhall gird themſelves with Sackcloth, Horror ſhall cover them, there ſhall be Shame in all Faces, and Baldneſs on all their Heads.

19. They ſhall throw their Silver into the Streets, and their Gold ſhall be ſeparate, their Silver and Gold ſhall not be able to deliver them at the Time of the Lord's Wrath; they ſhall neither ſatisfy their Minds, nor fill their Bellies: becauſe they are the Stumbling-block of their Iniquity.

20. As for the Beauty of his Ornament, he made it excellent; but they made in it the Images of their abominable, their deteſtable Things: therefore I put it ſeparate from them.

21. And I will give it into the Hands of Strangers for a Prey, and to the Wicked of the Earth for a Spoil, who ſhall profane it.

22. I will alſo turn about my Face from them, when they profane my ſecret Place; into which Robbers ſhall enter, and profane it.

23. Make a Chain: for the Country is filled with Trials of Blood, and the City with Violence.

24. Therefore I will bring the worſt of the Gentiles, and they ſhall poſſeſs their Houſes; I will alſo make the Excellency of the ſtrong ones ceaſe, and their holy Places ſhall be profaned.

25. Deſtruction is coming, and though they ſeek for Peace, there ſhall be none.

26. One Calamity ſhall come upon another, and there ſhall be one Report after another; and they ſhall ſeek for a Viſion from the Prophet, but the Law ſhall periſh from the Prieſt, and Counſel from the Elders.

27. The King ſhall mourn, the Prince be cloathed with Deſolation, and the People of the Country ſhall be troubled in their Buſineſs: I will do to them after their Way, and judge them with their own Judgments, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

Ver. 7. Echoing] ſuch as in Iſa. xvi. 9, 10. where is the ſame Heb. Word; yet how poorly has this been expounded!

Ver. 13. return] at the Year of Jubile.

Ver. 27. in their Buſineſs] This was ſo hard to underſtand, that even Caſtalio, with his great Liberty in giving the Senſe, has it like our Eng. as likewiſe the very induſtrious Jun. and Trem. without any Expoſition; though it was their Minds that were to be troubled, concurrent with the foregoing.

CHAP.

CHAP. VIII.

AND in the ſixth Year, on the fifth of the ſixth Month, I was ſitting in my Houſe, and the Elders of Judah ſate before me, where the Hand of the Sovereign Lord fell upon me.

2. And I ſaw plainly that there was a Likeneſs as the Appearance of Fire, from the Appearance of his Loins downward Fire; and from his Loins upward as the Appearance of Shining, like the Colour of a live Coal.

3. And he reached out the Shape of a Hand, and taking me by a Lock of my Head, the Spirit lifted me up between the Earth and Heaven, and brought me to Jeruſalem in the Viſions of God, to the Door of the inner Gate that looks northward, where there was the Seat of the Image of Jealouſy which makes jealous.

4. Behold alſo the Glory of the God of Iſrael was there, according to the Appearance which I ſaw in the Vale.

5. Then he ſaid to me, Man, look up now the Way that is northward; which I did accordingly, and behold on the North at the Gate of the Altar, there was this Image of Jealouſy in the Entry.

6. He further ſaid to me, Doſt thou ſee, Man, what they do, the great Abominations which the Family of Iſrael do here, that I may be far off from my Sanctuary? But turn yet again, thou ſhalt ſee greater Abominations.

7. So he brought me to the Door of the Court, and I ſaw plainly that there was a Hole in the Wall.

8. Upon this he ſaid to me, Man, dig now in the Wall; which I did accordingly, and behold there was a Door.

9. When he ſaid to me, Go in, and ſee the wicked Abominations which they do here.

10. And going in, I ſaw plainly that there were all Shapes of creeping Things and deteſtable Beaſts, with all the filthy Idols of the Family of Iſrael, drawn upon the Wall round about every where.

11. Before which ſtood ſeventy Men of the Elders of the Family of Iſrael, and Jaazaniah the Son of Shaphan in the midſt of them, each with his Cenſer in his Hand; and there went up a plentiful Cloud of Incenſe.

12. Whereupon he ſaid to me; Doſt thou ſee, Man, what the Elders of the Family of Iſrael do in the Dark, each in the Chambers of his Pictures? For they ſay, The Lord does not ſee us, the Lord has forſaken the Earth.

13. He likewiſe ſaid to me, Turn yet again, thou ſhalt ſee greater Abominations which they do.

14. And bringing me to the Door of the Gate of the Lord's Houſe, which was towards the North, behold Women ſate there weeping for Tammuz.

15. Doſt thou ſee, ſaid he to me, Man? Turn yet again, thou ſhalt ſee greater Abominations than theſe.

16. Next he brought me into the inner Court of the Lord's Houſe, and behold at the Door of the Temple of the Lord, between the Porch and Altar, were about five and twenty Men, with their Backſides to the Temple of the Lord, and their Faces eaſtward, towards which they bowed down to the Sun.

Ver. 1. ſixth Year] as in Chap. i. 2.

Ver. 2. ſaw] It is evident the Account of this Viſion continues to Chap. xi. 25. and by the Manner of relating it Interpreters have concurred, that Ezekiel ſaw it while the Elders were preſent, in an Extaſy of Mind. But Lowth in his Commentary mentions with Approbation one of great Character, who by the Preface ſeems to be the Biſhop of Coventry and Litchfield, that thinks the Prophet ſaw it in the fourth Month before called Tamuz, by reaſon of what he beheld, Ver. 14. and that now he only told it to thoſe who were ſitting with him. According to this the firſt Verſe of this Chap. and the laſt Verſe of the 11th have properly an immediate Connection, and all between them is as if it were in a Parentheſis, which is very particular: if it had been ſo, there were two Ways proper to repreſent it, either by putting the Matter of this firſt Verſe forward to that laſt, or placing that laſt Verſe backward to this; but if the Intent was to ſhew that the Appearance was when the Elders were there, the Method now uſed is the proper one to deſcribe it, which we may therefore conclude to be the Reality of the Matter. Beſides the Hand of the Lord being upon him was an Introduction to the former Viſion, Chap. i. 3., and would ſcarce have been mentioned, eſpecially at ſuch a Diſtance, for the mere telling of the Narration. The Pretence concerning Tamuz, even if ſuch a Conjecture is allowed, that the only Time of weeping for him was in the 4th Month, would be of little or indeed no Weight; ſince the Viſion was to ſhew Ezekiel what Abominations were done at Jeruſalem, which was unneceſſary to be at the very Time they were performed, nor is it likely that the ſeveral Things were really done ſucceſſively, as the Prophet beheld them in the Viſion.

Ver. 3. lifted] As ſtrange as it may ſeem, Lowth pretends there was a Local Tranſlation of the Prophet from Chaldea to Jeruſalem, to help out the foregoing Notion, I ſuppoſe: according to which Ezekiel muſt have dug in the Wall, and gone in, Ver. viii. 10. but that ſurely would not have been ſuffered by the 70 Men, much leſs would they have performed that idolatrous Service, which they were ſo careful to conceal in a dark ſecure Room after he was got in; and abſurd muſt it be for them to ſay, The Lord does not ſee us, Ver. 12. when they ſaw the Prophet looking on; nay if all was actually done, one of the ſix Men muſt mark thoſe mentioned, Ch. ix. 4. and the other five ſlay the reſt, Ver. 5, 6, 7, 8. whereas they are afterwards repreſented alive in the 11th Chap. being what might conſiſt in a Viſion.

17. And

17. And he ſaid to me; Doſt thou ſee, Man? Is any Thing lighter to the Family of Judah, than to act the Abominations which they do here? For they have filled the Country with Violence, and turned back to provoke me, behold they alſo put forth the Branch to their Noſe.

18. Therefore I will likewiſe act in Wrath, my Eye ſhall have no compaſſion, nor will I ſpare; nay call in my Hearing, as they may with a loud Voice, I will not hearken to them.

CHAP. IX.

HE called in my Hearing too with a loud Voice as follows, Let thoſe who have the Viſitation of the City approach, each with his deſtroying Weapon in his Hand.

2. And behold there came ſix Men from the Way of the uppermoſt Gate, which looks northward, each with his diſperſing Weapon in his Hand, among whom was one Man cloathed with Linen, having a Writer's Inkhorn on his Loins; and they went in, and ſtood by the braſen Altar.

3. The Glory of the God of Iſrael was alſo liſted up from the Cherub which it was upon, to the Threſhold of the Houſe; and he called to the Man cloathed with Linen, who had the Writer's Inkhorn on his Loins.

4. To whom the Lord ſaid, Paſs through the midſt of the City, namely Jeruſalem; and make a Mark upon the Foreheads of the Men who ſigh and cry, for all the Abominations which are done within it.

5. And to the others he ſaid in my Hearing; Paſs through the City after him, and ſlay; let your Eye have no compaſſion, nor do ye ſpare.

6. Kill till they are deſtroyed old and young, with Virgins, Children and Women, but do not go nigh any Man upon whom there is the Mark, and begin at my Sanctuary. So they began with the old Men who were before the Houſe.

7. Defile the Houſe, added he to them, and fill the Courts with Slain, go forth. Accordingly they went forth, and ſlew in the City.

8. Now as they were ſlaying them, and I was left, I fell upon my Face, and cried out, ſaying, Alas! O Sovereign Lord, wilt thou deſtroy the whole Reſidue of Iſrael, in thy pouring out thy Wrath upon Jeruſalem?

9. At which he anſwered me; The Iniquity of the Family of Iſrael and Judah is inexpreſſibly great, the Country being full of Blood, and the City of turning aſide: for they ſay, The Lord has forſaken the Earth, and the Lord does not ſee.

10. As for me alſo, my Eye ſhall have no compaſſion, nor will I ſpare; I will render their Way on their own Head.

11. And behold the Man cloathed with Linen, on whoſe Loins was the Inkhorn, brought back Word thus, I have done, as thou didſt command me.

CHAP. X.

I FURTHER ſaw plainly that in the Firmament which was over the Head of the Cherubs, there appeared above them like a Sapphire Stone, as the Appearance of the Likeneſs of a Throne.

2. And he ſaid thus to the Man cloathed with Linen, Go in between the Wheels, under the Cherub, and fill both thy Hands with Coals of Fire from between the Cherubs, and ſprinkle over the City. And he went in my Sight.

3. Now the Cherubs ſtood on the right Side of the Houſe, when the Man went in, and a Cloud filled the inner Court:

4. But then the Glory of the Lord went up from the Cherub, over the Threſhold of the Houſe; ſo that the Houſe was filled with the Cloud, and the Court with the Brightneſs of the Lord's Glory.

5. And the Sound of the Wings of the Cherubs was heard to the outer Court, like the Voice of God Almighty when he ſpeaks.

6. And when he had commanded the Man cloathed with Linen, that he ſhould take Fire from between the Wheels, betwixt the Cherubs, and he was gone in, and ſtood by the Wheels;

Ver. 3. lifted up] The Heb. Verb being paſſive, the Eng. ſhould indeed be the ſame; but then it ſhould be ſuch a Verb as may be made paſſive, which go up being a Neuter Verb cannot: ſo that the putting was to gone up in the com. Tranſ. does not make it paſſive like the Heb. but inſtead of that, which it ſeems was deſigned, only throws it into a wrong Tenſe.

Ver. 9. inexpreſſibly] as at Exod. i. 7.

Ver. 2. both thy Hands] being the dual, not ſing. Number, and as in Ver. 7.

Ver. 4. went up] as already related, Chap. ix. 3. which afterwards reſumed its Place over the Cherubs, Ver. 18.

7. A Cherub reached out his Hand from between the reſt, to the Fire which was between them, of which he took up, and put into both the Hands of him that was cloathed with Linen; who received it, and went out.

8. Beſides there appeared at the Cherubs the Shape of a Man's Hand under their Wings.

9. And I ſaw plainly that there were four Wheels by the Cherubs, one Wheel by one Cherub, and another Wheel by another; and the Appearace of the Wheels was like the Colour of a Beryl Stone.

10. As for their Appearances, thoſe four had the ſame Likeneſs, as it were of one Wheel within another.

11. When they went, it was on their four Parts, and that without turning about: for they went to the Place that the Head looked, following it, not turned about in their going along.

12. And their whole Body, with their Backs, Hands and Wings, as alſo the Wheels, namely thoſe which they four had, were full of Eyes round about.

13. As for the Wheels, it was called to them in my Hearing, O Wheel.

14. And each had four Faces: the firſt Face was that of a Cherub, the ſecond Face that of a Man, the third that of a Lion, and the fourth that of an Eagle.

15. So the Cherubs were lifted up: that being the living Creature which I ſaw at the River Chebar.

16. Moreover when the Cherubs went, the Wheels went by them; and when the former took up their Wings to go up from the Earth, the latter alſo did not turn about from them.

17. When thoſe ſtood ſtill, they did; and when thoſe were lifted up, they were lifted up with them: for the Spirit of the living Creature was in them.

18. Then the Glory of the Lord went out from the Threſhold of the Houſe, and ſtood over the Cherubs.

19. Who took up their Wings. and were lifted up from the Earth in my Sight, having the Wheels over againſt them when they went out; and this ſtood at the Door of the eaſt Gate of the Lord's Houſe, with the Glory of the God of Iſrael over them above.

20. That was the living Creature which I ſaw under the God of Iſrael, at the River Chebar; and I knew that they were Cherubs.

21. Each had four Faces apiece, and each four Wings; and there was the Likeneſs of a Man's Hands under their Wings.

22. As to the Likeneſs of their Faces, they were the ſame which I ſaw at the River Chebar, the Appearances of them, and themſelves; each one going ſtraight forward.

CHAP. XI.

AND the Spirit took me up, and brought me to the eaſt Gate of the Lord's Houſe, which looks eaſtward, and behold at the Door of the Gate were five and twenty Men; among whom I ſaw Jaazaniah the Son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the Son of Benaiah, Princes of the People.

2. Upon this he ſaid to me; Man, theſe are the Perſons that deviſe Iniquity, and give evil Counſel in this City:

3. Who perſuade, not nearly to build Houſes; that is the Pot, and we are the Fleſh.

4. Therefore propheſy againſt them, propheſy, Man.

5. And the Spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and he ſaid to me: Declare, thus ſays the Lord, you have ſaid ſo, O Family of Iſrael; for I know what Things come up in your Mind.

6. You have multiplied your Slain in this City, and filled the Streets of it with them.

7. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Your Slain whom you have made within it, they are the Fleſh, and that is the Pot; but I will bring you out from within it.

8. You have been afraid of the Sword, and I will bring the Sword upon you, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

9. And I will not only bring you out from within it, but will deliver you into the Power of Strangers, and execute Judgments on you.

Ver. 14. Cherub] which by Chap. i. 10. appears to be like that of an Ox; and cherab with the ſame Letters in Chaldee ſignifies to plough, the proper Work of Oxen in thoſe Times. The Appearance however might be ſomething different as Ezekiel ſaw it, direct and ſideways.

Ib. ſecond] In the former Viſion as they were coming towards him, Chap. i. 4. Ezekiel begins mentioning the Faces on the right Side, firſt the Man's, next the Lion's, then tells thoſe on the left in the ſame Manner: whereas here he begins with the Cherub's Face, which might now be next to him, or becauſe it was the proper Face, and counts them as they were placed round after each other.

Ver. 17. with them] either miſtaken by our Tranſlators for themſelves, or left out, more likely the former.

Ver. 3. nearly] or in a near Place, according to the Heb. which is more than near; and by the Pointing belongs to what follows, as the Verb is alſo infinitive, not imperative. They being afraid the City ſhould be beſieged by Nebuchadnezzar, Ver. 8. 2 Chr. xxxvi. 13. as it was about three Years after, Ch. viii. 1. 2 King. xxv. 1. might properly adviſe not to build Houſes near the City, becauſe they would be an Advantage to the Beſiegers; ſee Trem. and Jun.

10. You

10. You ſhall fall by the Sword, I will judge you at the Border of Iſrael, and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

11. That ſhall not be a Pot to you, nor ſhall you be Fleſh within it: I will judge you at the Border of Iſrael.

12. And you ſhall know that I am the Lord, who have not gone in my Ordinances, nor done my Rules, but have done according to the Rules of the Nations that are round about you.

13. When I propheſied, Pelatiah the Son of Benaiah alſo dying, I fell upon my Face, and cried aloud thus, Alas, O Sovereign Lord, wilt thou make the Reſidue of Iſrael be conſumed?

14. Again I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

15. Man, thy own Brethren, thy Kinſmen, and all the whole Family of Iſrael, are they to whom the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem have ſaid, Get you far off from the Lord, this Country is given to us for an Inheritance.

16. Therefore declare, Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, Removed them as I have far off among the Nations, and ſcattered them as I have in the Countries; yet will I be a little Sanctuary to them in the Countries whither they are come.

17. For which reaſon declare; Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, I will alſo bring you together from the People, and gather you from the Countries into which you are ſcattered, and will give you the Land of Iſrael.

18. Thither ſhall they come, and take away all its deteſtable and abominable Things from it.

19. And I will give them one Heart, and put a new Spirit within you: I will even take away the ſtoney Heart out of their Body, and give them a Heart of Fleſh:

20. That they may go in my Ordinances, obſerve my Rules, and do them; ſo may be a People to me, and I be a God to them.

21. But I will render their Way on their Heads, whoſe Mind goes according to the Mind of their deteſtable and abominable Things, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

22. Then the Cherubs took up their Wings, having the Wheels over againſt them; over whom was the Glory of the God of Iſrael above.

23. And the Glory of the Lord went up from the midſt of the City, and ſtood upon the Mountain which was at the eaſt Side of it.

24. Afterwards the Spirit took me up, and brought me into Chaldea to them of the Captivity, in the Viſion by the Spirit of God: ſo the Viſion which I ſaw went up from me.

25. And I ſpoke to them of the Captivity all the Lord's Matters, which he ſhewed me.

CHAP. XII.

BESIDES I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

2. Man, thou dwelleſt among a rebellious Family; who having Eyes to ſee, do not ſee, and Ears to hear, do not hear, becauſe they are a rebellious Family.

3. Therefore thou Man, prepare thee Goods to be carried away, and carry away by Day in their Sight, and that from thy own to another Place: perhaps they will conſider, though they be a rebellious Family.

4. When thou haſt brought out thy Goods by Day in their Sight, as Goods to be carried away; thou ſhalt come forth thy ſelf at Evening in their Sight, as thoſe who are carried away do.

5. Dig for thy ſelf in their Sight through the Wall, and bring out through it.

6. Thou ſhalt carry upon the Shoulder in their Sight, bringing out in the Twilight, covering thy Face, that thou mayeſt not ſee the Ground: for I make thee a Token to the Family of Iſrael.

7. And I did ſo as I was commanded: I brought out my Goods by Day, as Goods to be carried away, and at Evening I dug for my ſelf through the Wall with my own Hand; I brought out in the Twilight, carrying upon the Shoulder in their Sight.

8. In the Morning I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

9. Man, did not the Family of Iſrael, the rebellious Family, aſk thee, What art thou doing?

10. Tell them, that the Sovereign Lord ſays, This Burden is for the Prince in Jeruſalem, and the whole Family of Iſrael, amongſt whom they are.

11. Say; I am your Token: as I have done, ſo ſhall it be done to them, they ſhall come into Captivity among thoſe that are carried away.

12. For the Prince who is amongſt them ſhall carry on the Shoulder in the Twilight, and come forth; they ſhall dig through the Wall to bring out through it: he ſhall cover his Face, to the intent that he may not ſee the Ground with the Eye.

13. And I will ſpread my Net over him, ſo that he ſhall be taken in my Hunting-net: nay I will bring him to Babylon, the Country of the Chaldeans; yet he ſhall not ſee it, though he ſhall die there.

14. All who are round about him being his Helpers, and all his Troops will I ſcatter in every Wind, and draw forth a Sword after them.

15. And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I diſperſe them in the Nations, and ſcatter them in the Countries.

16. I will notwithſtanding leave of them a few Perſons, from the Sword, Famine and Peſtilence; that they may tell all their abominable Things in the Nations whither they come, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

17. Moreover I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

18. Man, thou ſhalt eat thy Victuals with Quaking, and drink thy Liquor with Diſturbance and Trouble.

19. And thou ſhalt pronounce to the People of the Country; Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, about the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, concerning the Land of Iſrael; They ſhall eat their Victuals with Trouble, and drink their Liquor with Deſolation; that her Country may be deſolate from what it is filled with, by reaſon of the Violence of all who dwell in it.

20. The Cities which are inhabited ſhall be laid waſte, the Country ſhall become deſolate, and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

21. I had alſo the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

22. What Proverb, Man, is this of yours concerning the Land of Iſrael, that the Time is prolonged, and every Viſion periſhes?

23. Therefore declare to them, that the Sovereign Lord ſays; I will make this Proverb ceaſe, and they ſhall no more uſe it for a Proverb in Iſrael; but tell them, The Time is near, and the Matter of every Viſion.

24. For there ſhall be no more any vain Viſion, or flattering Divination, within the Family of Iſrael.

25. Since I am the Lord, who will ſpeak the Matter which I have to ſpeak, and it ſhall be done, without any longer Delay: for I will not only ſpeak the Matter, O rebellious Family, but do it in your Days, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

26. The Lord's Commiſſion I had further as follows;

27. Man, behold the Family of Iſrael ſay, The Viſion which he ſees is for many Days, and he propheſies of Times far off.

28. Therefore tell them; Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, None of my Words ſhall be delayed any more, the Matter which I ſpeak ſhall alſo be done, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

AND I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

2. Propheſy, Man, to the Prophets of Iſrael that propheſy, and ſay to them who are Prophets of their own Minds: Hear the Lord's Commiſſion;

3. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Wo be to the vile Prophets, who go after their own Spirit, and have ſeen Nothing.

4. Thy Prophets, O Iſrael, are like the Foxes in the waſte Places.

5. You do not go up into the Breaches, and make up the Fence for the Family of Iſrael, that they may ſtand in the Battle on the Day of the Lord.

6. They ſee Falſehood and lying Divination, ſaying, The Lord ſays, when the Lord has not ſent them; and they make others wait for the Matter to be confirmed.

7. Do not you ſee a falſe Viſion, and tell a lying Divination, when you declare, The Lord ſays, and I have not ſpoken?

8. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: Becauſe you ſpeak Vanity, and ſee Lying: therefore behold I am againſt you, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

9. And my Hand ſhall be againſt the Prophets

phets who ſee Vanity, and divine Lying; they ſhall not be in the Counſel of my People, neither ſhall they be written in the Writing of the Family of Iſrael, nor come into the Land of Iſrael; and you ſhall know that I am the Sovereign Lord.

10. Foraſmuch as they make my People err, by ſaying, Peace, when there is none; as alſo one builds a mud Wall, and behold others plaiſter it with untempered Mortar.

11. Say to thoſe who plaiſter with untempered Mortar, that it ſhall fall: there is an overflowing Shower, and you, O great Hailſtones, ſhall fall, and a very tempeſtuous Wind ſhall cleave aſunder.

12. When behold the Wall is fallen, will it not be ſaid to you, Where is the Plaiſtering which you plaiſtered?

13. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; I will even cleave aſunder with a very tempeſtuous Wind in my Wrath, and there ſhall be an overflowing Shower in my Anger, with great Hailſtones in Wrath to conſume.

14. So will I demoliſh the Wall which you plaiſter with untempered Mortar, and throw it down to the Ground, ſo that its Foundation ſhall be diſcovered; and when it falls, you ſhall be conſumed within it, and ſhall know that I am the Lord.

15. Thus I will accompliſh my Wrath on the Wall, and on thoſe that plaiſter it with untempered Mortar; and will ſay to you, There is no Wall, nor any who plaiſtered it;

16. Namely the Prophets of Iſrael, who propheſy for Jeruſalem, and ſee Viſions of Peace for her, when there is no Peace, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

17. Thou Man likewiſe, put thy Face towards the Daughters of thy People, who propheſy out of their own Hearts, and propheſy againſt them,

18. Saying: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Wo be to the Women that ſew Cuſhions for all Arm-pits, and make Bolſters for the Head of every Height, to hunt Souls. Shall you hunt the Souls of my People, and keep alive the Souls that you have;

19. As alſo make me profane to my People, for Handfuls of Barley, and Pieces of Bread, to make the Souls die that ſhould not die, and to keep the Souls alive that ſhould not live, by your lying to my People who hear it?

20. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am againſt your Cuſhions, whither you hunt Souls to the flouriſhing Women, and will tear them from your Arms; and I will let the very Souls go that you hunt to the flouriſhing Women.

21. I will likewiſe tear your Bolſters, and deliver my People out of your Power, where they ſhall be no more to be hunted; and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

22. Becauſe you grieve the Heart of the Righteous by Falſehood, when I have not made it grieve, and ſtrengthen the Hands of the Wicked, that he may not return from his evil Way, to be reſtored to Life:

23. Therefore you ſhall not ſee Vanity, nor uſe Divination any more; but I will deliver my People out of your Power, and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XIV.

SOME of the Elders of Iſrael alſo came to me, and ſitting before me,

2. I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

3. Man, theſe Men bring up their filthy Idols in their Heart, and put the Stumbling-block of their Iniquity before their Face; ſhall I be at all enquired of by them?

4. Therefore ſpeak to them, and tell them; Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Each Man of the Family of Iſrael who brings up his filthy Idols into his Heart, and ſets the Stumbling-block of his Iniquity before his Face, then comes to a Prophet: I the Lord will have him that comes be anſwered concerning the Multitude of his filthy Idols:

5. That I may take the Family of Iſrael in their own Mind, who are all of them alienated from me by their filthy Idols.

6. Declare therefore to the Family of Iſ-

Ver. 20. the flouriſhing Women] ſpoken of in the Verſes before, this being the pref. fem. and plur. Participle, from the Verb of that Signification, and which never ſignifies to flie elſewhere. The Root פרח might be miſtaken for ברח to flee, and theſe Engliſh Words being confounded together, the former might be put for the latter, were not the vulg. Lat. volo; yet who knows whether that might not be affected in ſome Inſtance, as here, by the old Saxon, which had likewiſe fleoyan and flean? It ſeems however more likely, that there being a Noun from this Verb which ſignifies the Young of Birds, as another does a Flower, both from their flouriſhing, fly was made at Random from thence. But is not hunting Things to make them flie, contrary to Senſe, when they are hunted to be caught? The Eng. Marg. or in a garden, is a ſtrange Imagination, perhaps becauſe Things flouriſh or bud there, which however deſtroys the other Meaning. The *Gr. rael: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Return, and turn your ſelves back from your filthy Idols, and from all your Abominations turn back your Face.

7. For each Man of the Family of Iſrael, or of the Strangers that ſojourn in Iſrael, who is ſeparated from following me, and brings up his filthy Idols into his Heart, and ſets the Stumbling-block of his Iniquity before his Face; then comes to a Prophet to enquire of him concerning me, I the Lord will have him be anſwered concerning me;

8. That I will put my Face againſt that Man, will make him be ſet for a Sign and for Proverbs, and will cauſe him to be cut off from among my People; ſo you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

9. As for a Prophet when he is enticed, and ſpeaks a Matter, I the Lord let that Prophet be enticed; but I will ſtretch out my Hand againſt him, and deſtroy him from among my People Iſrael.

10. And they ſhall ſuffer for their Iniquity; the Iniquity of the Prophet being even as that of the Enquirer:

11. That the Family of Iſrael may no more go aſtray from following me, nor defile themſelves any more with all their Revoltings; but may be a People to me, and I be a God to them, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

12. Again I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

13. Man, when the Country ſins againſt me, by committing a Fault, and I ſtretch out my Hand againſt it, and break its Staff of Bread, ſending Famine into it, and cut off from it Man and Beaſt;

14. And there ſhould be theſe three Men within it, Noah, Daniel and Job, they ſhould deliver but their own Souls by their Righteouſneſs, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

15. If I cauſe ill Beaſts to paſs through the Country, which make it deſtitute; ſo that it becomes deſolate, without any one paſſing through, by reaſon of the Beaſts;

16. Theſe three Men being within it, by my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, they ſhould deliver neither Sons nor Daughters; they alone ſhould be delivered, but the Country ſhould become deſolate.

17. Or ſhould I bring the Sword upon that Country, and ſay, Sword, paſs through the Country, and I ſhould cut off from it Man and Beaſt;

18. Though theſe three Men were within it, by my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, they ſhould not deliver Sons or Daughters; but themſelves alone ſhould be delivered.

19. Or ſhould I ſend the Peſtilence into that Country, and pour out my Wrath upon it with Blood, to cut off Man and Beaſt from it;

20. Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were within it, by my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, they ſhould not deliver Son nor Daughter; they ſhould deliver but their own Souls by their Righteouſneſs:

21. Much leſs, ſays the Sovereign Lord, when I ſend my four grievous Judgments to Jeruſalem, the Sword, Famine, ill Beaſts and Peſtilence, to cut off from it Man and Beaſt.

22. Yet behold there ſhall be left in it a Remnant eſcaped, that ſhall be brought out, Sons and Daughters, who behold will come forth to you, and ye ſhall conſider their Way and Deeds; and ſhall be comforted for the Ill which I have brought upon Jeruſalem, all that I have brought upon it.

23. They ſhall even comfort you, when ye conſider their Way and Deeds; and ye ſhall know that I have not done all which I have done in it for nothing, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XV.

THE Lord's Commiſſion I had too as follows:

2. Man, what is the Vine-tree more than any other, or a Branch which is among the Trees of the Wood?

3. Is there Wood taken of it to be made up for Work? Do they take a Pin of it to hang any Thing upon it?

4. Behold it is put into the Fire to be conſumed; the Fire conſumes both Ends of it, and the Middle of it is burnt up; is it fit for Work?

5. Lo when it is whole, it is not made up for Work; much leſs when the Fire has conſumed it, and is burnt up, ſhall it be made up for Work any more.

6. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; According as the Vine-tree is among the Trees of the Wood, which I give to the Fire to be conſumed; ſo will I give the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

7. Againſt whom I will put my Face; though they get out of one Fire, another ſhall conſume them: thus you ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſet my Face againſt them.

Ver. 8. That I will] according to Jun. and Trem. and the apparent Meaning.
Ver. 9. let] See Exod. vii. 3.
Ver. 3. made up] Nothing of meet.

8. And I will make the Country desolate, because they have committed a Crime, says the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

MOREOVER I had the Lord's Commission as follows:

2. Man, let Jerusalem know her Abominations.

3. Thou shalt declare: Thus says the Sovereign Lord to Jerusalem; Thy Traffick and Birth are from the Country of the Canaanites, thy Father being an Amorite, and thy Mother a Hittite.

4. And as for thy Birth, on the Day thou wast born thy Navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed with Water at my Sight of thee, nor salted at all, nor yet swathed at all.

5. No Eye had compassion upon thee, to do one of these Things to thee, by taking pity on thee; but thou wast cast out in the Field, with the Loathing of thy Person, on the Day thou wast born.

6. And I passing by thee, saw thee lying to be trod on in thy Blood, and said to thee, Live in thy Blood, which I repeated to thee.

7. I made thee ten thousand like the Sprout of the Field, and thou didst increase, become great, and camest to be in the chief Ornament; the Breasts were put in order, and thy Hair grew, whereas thou hadst been naked and bare.

8. Thus when I passed by thee, and saw thee, behold thy Time was the Time of Love, for I spread my Skirt over thee, and covered thy Nakedness; nay I sware to thee, and entered into a Covenant with thee, says the Sovereign Lord, and thou becamest mine.

9. I also washed thee with Water, rinsing thy Blood from thee, and anointed thee with Oil.

10. Besides I cloathed thee with Embroidery, shod thee with Badgers Skin, girded thee about with fine Linen, and covered thee with Silk.

11. And I decked thee with an Ornament, put Bracelets upon thy Hands, and a Chain upon thy Neck.

12. I likewise put a Jewel upon thy Brow, Ear-rings upon thy Ears, and a fine Crown on thy Head.

13. Thou wast not only decked with Gold and Silver, having thy Cloaths of fine Linen, Silk and Embroidery, but didst eat fine Flour, Honey and Oil; nay inexpressibly beautiful wast thou, and withal didst prosper to a Kingdom.

14. So that thou hadst a Name went forth among the Nations for thy Beauty; as being perfect through my Comeliness which I put upon thee, says the Sovereign Lord.

15. But thou didst trust in thy own Beauty, and commit Whoredom with thy Name, pouring out thy Fornications on every one that passed by, who would have it.

16. And thou tookest off thy Garments, and making thee speckled Chapels, didst commit Whoredom upon them: Things which should not come, nor should it be.

17. Thou tookest thy fine Things too of my Gold and Silver, which I gave thee, and madest thee Male-images, with whom thou didst commit Whoredom.

18. And taking thy embroidered Garments, thou coveredst them; and didst put my Oil and Incense before them.

19. My Bread also which I gave thee, the fine Flour, Oil and Honey, that I caused thee to eat, thou didst put before them for a pleasant Smell, as it was, says the Sovereign Lord.

20. Nay thou tookest thy Sons and Daughters, whom thou borest to me, and didst sacrifice them to those to be consumed: is that a little Matter from thy Fornications?

21. Thou hast even killed my Children, and delivered them, that they might be made pass through the Fire to those.

22. And with all thy Abominations and Whoredoms, thou didst not remember the Days of thy Youth, when thou wast naked and bare, wast lying to be trod on in thy Blood.

Ver. 18. coveredst them] Sixtus again in his Edit. of the Vulg. wast cloathed with them.

23. Now

23. Now after all thy Wickedneſs, wo, wo be to thee, ſays the Sovereign Lord;

24. That thou haſt built thee a Brow, and made thee a high Place in every broad Way.

25. At every Head of the Way haſt thou built thy high Place, ſo that thou haſt made thy Beauty to be abhorred, having put open thy Feet to every one who paſſed by, and multiplied thy Fornications.

26. Thou haſt further committed Whoredom with the Egyptians thy Neighbours, of great Fleſh; and multiplied thy Fornication, to provoke me.

27. Therefore behold I ſtretched out my Hand againſt thee, and diminiſhed thy Allowance, and delivered thee to the Deſire of thoſe that hate thee, the Daughters of the Philiſtines, who are aſhamed of thy lewd Way.

28. With the Aſſyrians haſt thou likewiſe committed Whoredom, becauſe thou waſt diſſatisfied; and when thou hadſt done it, thou waſt alſo not ſatisfied.

29. So thou haſt multiplied thy Fornication at the Country of Canaan and to Chaldea, and yet thou art not ſatisfied with this.

30. How faint thy Heart is, ſays the Sovereign Lord, by thy doing all theſe Things, the Work of a domineering whoriſh Woman!

31. By thy building thy Brow in the Head of every Way, and making thy high Place in every broad Way! and thou haſt not been like a Harlot, for ſcorning Hire;

32. But a Woman that commits Adultery, who receives Strangers inſtead of her Huſband.

33. To all Harlots they give a Price, but thou giveſt thy Prices to all thy Lovers, and bribeſt them to come to thee on every Side, for thy Fornications.

34. So in thee it is different from other Women, in thy Fornications; ſince Whoredom is not committed by following thee, as alſo by thy giving Hire, and none being given thee, ſo that thou art become different.

35. For this reaſon, O Harlot, hear the Lord's Commiſſion:

36. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Becauſe thy Filthineſs has been poured out, and thy Nakedneſs diſcovered, by thy Fornications with thy Lovers, and with all the filthy Idols of thy Abominations, and according to the Blood of thy Children whom thou haſt given to them;

37. Therefore behold I will gather together all thy Lovers, with whom thou haſt been ſweet, even all that thou haſt loved, with all that thou haſt hated; and when I have gathered them together againſt thee on every Side, I will diſcover thy Nakedneſs to them, ſo that they ſhall ſee all of it.

38. And I will judge thee with the Judgments of Women who commit Adultery, and ſhed Blood, giving thee the Blood of Wrath and Jealouſy.

39. I will alſo deliver thee into their Power, and they ſhall demoliſh thy Brow, break down thy high Places, ſtrip thee of thy Garments, and take thy fine Things, leaving thee naked and bare.

40. They ſhall moreover bring up a Company againſt thee, and ſtone thee with Stones, and ſtab thee with their Swords.

41. Thy Houſes they ſhall burn with Fire, and execute Judgments on thee in the Sight of many Women: thus I will make thee ceaſe from committing Whoredom, nor ſhalt thou give Hire any more.

42. Then will I cauſe my Wrath againſt thee to reſt, my Jealouſy ſhall depart from thee; I will be ſtill, and be diſpleaſed no more.

43. Becauſe thou didſt not remember the Days of thy Youth, but waſt moved againſt me in all theſe Things; lo I will alſo render thy Way on thy Head, ſays the Sovereign Lord, that thou mayeſt not do this Lewdneſs over and above all thy Abominations.

44. Behold every one who uſes Proverbs, ſhall do it thus concerning thee, The Daughter is like her Mother.

45. Thou art thy Mother's own Daughter, who loathed her Huſband and Children; and the Siſter of thy Siſters, that did loath theirs: your Mother being a Hittite, and your Father an Amorite;

46. Thy elder Siſter was Samaria, who with her Daughters dwelt on thy left Side, and thy Siſter that was younger than thou, who dwelt at thy right Side, was Sodom and her Daughters.

47. Nevertheleſs thou doſt not go in their Ways, and do according to their Abominations; which is ſuch a little contemptible Matter, that thou art more corrupt than they in all thy Ways.

48. By my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, Sodom thy Siſter and her Daughters did not do, as thou doſt with thine.

49. Lo this was the Iniquity of thy Siſter Sodom, ſhe and her Daughters had Exaltation, Fulneſs of Victuals, and undiſturbed

Quietneſs

Quietneſs, yet ſhe did not ſtrengthen the Hand of the Afflicted and Needy.

50. And as they were haughty, and committed Abomination before me, I took them away, according to what I ſaw.

51. Nor did Samaria ſin according to half thy Sins; who haſt multiplied thy Abominations more than they, and juſtified thy Siſters by all thy Abominations which thou haſt done.

52. Do thou alſo, who didſt judge thy Siſters, bear thy own Shame, for thy Sins which thou haſt done more abominable than they, who are juſtified more than thou: nay be thou confounded too, and bear thy Shame, for thy juſtifying thy Siſters.

53. And when I bring back their Captivity, namely that of Sodom and her Daughters, as alſo of Samaria and hers, the Captivity of thy Captives ſhall be amongſt them:

54. That thou mayeſt bear thy Shame, and be aſhamed for all which thou haſt done, in thy comforting them.

55. And when thy Siſters, Sodom with her Daughters return to their former State, and Samaria with her Daughters do to theirs, thou and thine ſhall return to your former State.

56. For thy Siſter Sodom was not to be heard in thy Mouth, on the Day of thy Exaltations;

57. Before thy Wickedneſs was diſcovered, as it was at the Time of the Reproach of the Daughters of Syria, and all that were round about her, the Daughters of the Philiſtines, who diſdained thee on every Side.

58. Thy Lewdneſs and thy Abominations are what thou beareſt, ſays the Lord.

59. And I will do to thee (for thus the Sovereign Lord ſays) as thou haſt done, who haſt deſpiſed the Oath, by breaking the Covenant.

60. However I remember my Covenant with thee in the Days of thy Youth, and will confirm to thee a laſting Covenant.

61. And thou ſhalt remember thy Ways, and be aſhamed, when thou receiveſt thy Siſters, both elder and younger than thy ſelf; whom I will give thee for Daughters, though not by thy Covenant.

62. I will even confirm my Covenant with thee, and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord:

63. That thou mayeſt remember, be confounded, and have thy Mouth open no more, by reaſon of thy Shame; when I am pacified towards thee for all that which thou haſt done, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

I HAD alſo the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. Man, utter a hidden Speech, and uſe the following Parable to the Family of Iſrael:

3. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; There was a great Eagle with great Wings, long-winged, full of Feathers, who had divers Colours, went to Lebanon, and took the higheſt Branch of a Cedar.

4. He plucked off the Top of its young Twigs, and brought it into a Country of Dealers, placed it in a City of Merchants.

5. He likewiſe took ſome of the Seed of the Country, and put it in a Field that was for Seed; fetched it to great Waters, placing it carefully.

6. So it grew, and became an abounding Vine of low Stature, turning its Sprouts to him, and its Roots were under him: thus it became a Vine, yielded Limbs, and ſhot forth Branches.

7. There was another great Eagle too with great Wings, and many Feathers; and behold this Vine gathered its Roots towards him, ſhot forth its Sprouts to him, that he might water it from the Beds of its Plantation.

8. It was planted in a good Field at great Waters, to yield Boughs, and bear Fruit, that it might become a ſtately Vine.

9. Declare; Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, Shall it proſper? Shall he not pull up the Roots of it, and cut off its Fruit, that it may wither, even in all the Leaves of its Shoots, and not by a great Arm, and by many People, to take it up by its Roots?

10. Behold though it is planted, ſhall it proſper? Shall it not ſtill wither when the

But Lowth expounds it of the Gentiles coming into the Church, to be yet fulfilled: whereas he is ſpeaking againſt Jeruſalem to the 60th Verſe, beſides the Diſcourſe is of the real Cities, Jeruſalem, Samaria and Sodom.

Eaſt-wind touches it, even on the Beds of its Shoots?

11. Beſides I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

12. Aſk now the rebellious Family; Do not you know what theſe Things are? Say; Lo the King of Babylon came to Jeruſalem, and took the King and Princes of it, and brought them with him to Babylon.

13. He alſo took one of the royal Offſpring, made a Covenant with him, and brought him into an Oath, as likewiſe took the mighty ones of the Country:

14. That the Kingdom might be low, without lifting it ſelf up, that it might ſtand by keeping his Covenant.

15. But it has rebelled againſt him, by ſending its Ambaſſadors to Egypt, to give it Horſes and many People. Shall it proſper? Shall it eſcape that does theſe Things? And be delivered, when it has broke the Covenant?

16. By my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, he ſhall die in the King's Place, in the midſt of Babylon with him, who made him King, whoſe Oath he has deſpiſed, and whoſe Covenant he has broke.

17. Nor ſhall Pharaoh with great Force, and much Company, avail him in the War; by making a Rampart, and building a Fort, to cut off many Perſons.

18. Since he has deſpiſed the Oath by breaking the Covenant, when behold he had given his Hand, and has done all theſe Things, he ſhall not eſcape.

19. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; By my living, my Oath which he has deſpiſed, and my Covenant which he has broke, is what I will render on his Head.

20. And I will ſpread my Net over him, ſo that he ſhall be taken in my Hunting-net; and will bring him to Babylon, where I will come to Judgment with him, for his Fault which he has committed againſt me.

21. All that flee of him in all his Troops ſhall fall by the Sword, and thoſe who are left will I ſpread abroad in every Wind; and you ſhall know that I the Lord have ſpoken it;

22. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, I will alſo take the higheſt Branch of the high Cedar, and ſet it; from the Top of its young Twigs will I pluck off a tender one, and I will plant it upon a Mountain high and heaped up.

23. On a Mountain of the Height of Iſrael will I plant it, and it ſhall bear Boughs, yield Fruit, and become a magnificent Cedar; and under that ſhall dwell all Fowl of every Wing, which they ſhall do in the Shadow of its Sprouts:

24. And all the Trees of the Field ſhall know that I the Lord have made the high Tree low, the low one high; have cauſed the green Tree to wither, and the withered one to flouriſh: I the Lord ſpeak, and will do it.

CHAP. XVIII.

MOREOVER I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. What is the Matter with you, who uſe this Proverb concerning the Country of Iſrael, that the Fathers did eat Grapes which were not ripe, and the Children's Teeth are ſet on edge?

3. By my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, you ſhall no more have to uſe this Proverb in Iſrael.

4. Lo all Souls are mine, the Son's Soul the ſame as the Father's: the Soul which ſins, that ſhall die.

5. For when a Man is virtuous, doing Juſtice and Virtue;

6. Does not eat on the Mountains, look up to the filthy Idols of the Family of Iſrael, defile his Neighbour's Wife, approach a ſeparate Woman,

7. Nor oppreſs any, gives back his Pawn to the Debtor, takes not away a Thing by force, gives his Bread to the Hungry, and covers the Naked with a Garment,

8. Neither lends for Uſury, nor takes Intereſt, turns back his Hand from Iniquity, does true Juſtice between one and another,

9. Goes in my Ordinances, and obſerves my Rules, to do what is right; ſuch a one being virtuous, ſhall throughly live, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

10. But ſhould he beget a Son who is a Robber, one who ſheds Blood, or that does to his Brother ſome one of the foregoing Things,

11. Or who omits doing any other of them; as being one that eats on the Mountains, defiles his Neighbour's Wife,

---

Ver. 13. one of] Zedekiah, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 10, 13.

Ver. 24. ſpeak] According to the Hebrew, Time is divided only into paſt and future, as if the preſent was but an Inſtant, or infinitely ſhort, the future beginning where the paſt ends; which is no abſurd Notion: for in the Inſtance before us, the very laſt foregoing Words muſt be ſpoken in the paſt Time; and that Language having no preſent Tenſe, has the Verb here in the paſt Form, though the ſame be intended which we ſhould ſignify by the preſent.

Ib. and will do] Here is the converſive ו denoting the Future; Buxt. Theſ. Gram. Lib. ii. 21. ſo that Lowth comments but on the Eng. Tranſ. by ſaying here, 'The 'Prophets often ſpeak of future Events as if they were 'already accompliſhed.'

Ver. 10. Brother] the ſame, Ver. 18.

12. Op-

12. Oppreſſes the Afflicted or Needy, takes away a Thing by force, does not give back the Pawn, looks up to the filthy Idols, does what is abominable,

13. Lends for Uſury, or takes Intereſt; ſhall he then live? He ſhall not, he who does any of theſe Abominations ſhall quite die, bearing the Blame of his own Blood.

14. Behold on the contrary, ſhould one beget a Son, who conſiders all his Father's Sins which he has done, and upon that will not do the like;

15. Neither eat upon the Mountains, look up to the filthy Idols of the Family of Iſrael, defile his Neighbour's Wife,

16. Oppreſs any, keep what is pawned, nor take away a Thing by force, will give his Bread to the Hungry, cover the Naked with a Garment,

17. Draw back his Hand from hurting the Afflicted, not take Uſury or Intereſt, do my Rules, go in my Ordinances; he will not die for his Father's Iniquity, he ſhall throughly live.

18. His Father indeed, becauſe he uſed Oppreſſion, took away a Thing forcibly from his Brother, and did what was not good among his People, ſhall die for his own Iniquity.

19. Yet you ſay, How is it that the Son does not ſuffer for the Father's Iniquity? though the Son who does Juſtice and Virtue, obſerves all my Ordinances, and does them, throughly lives.

20. The Soul which ſins, that ſhall die: the Son ſhall not ſuffer for the Father's Iniquity, nor the Father for the Son's; the Virtuous ſhall have the Benefit of his own Virtue, and the Wicked bear the Blame of his own Wickedneſs.

21. When the Wicked notwithſtanding returns from all his Sins which he has done, and obſerves all my Ordinances, doing Juſtice and Virtue; he ſhall throughly live, not die.

22. None of his Tranſgreſſions which he has done ſhall be mentioned to him, by his Virtue that he does ſhall he live.

23. Do I at all delight that the Wicked ſhould die, ſays the Sovereign Lord; and not when he returns from his Ways, that he ſhould live?

24. On the other hand when the Virtuous turns back from his Virtue, and does Iniquity, doing according to all the Abominations which the Wicked does, ſhall he then live? None of his Virtue that he has done ſhall be mentioned; for his Vice which he commits, and his Sin which he ſins, ſhall he die.

25. Nevertheleſs you ſay, The Lord's Way is not equal. Hear now, O Family of Iſrael, Is not mine equal? Are not your Ways unequal?

26. When the Virtuous turns back from his Virtue, doing Iniquity, and dies in thoſe Things, he dies for his Iniquity which he does.

27. So when the Wicked returns from his Wickedneſs that he has done, and does Juſtice and Virtue, he ſhall ſave his Soul alive.

28. Since he conſiders, and returns from all his Tranſgreſſions which he has done; he ſhall throughly live, not die.

29. And yet the Family of Iſrael ſay, The Lord's Way is not equal. Are not my Ways equal, you Iſraelitiſh Family? Are not your own unequal?

30. Therefore I will judge you, every one according to his own Ways, O Family of Iſrael, ſays the Sovereign Lord. Return, and turn back from all your Tranſgreſſions, that you may have no Stumbling-block of Iniquity.

31. Caſt from you all your Tranſgreſſions by which you tranſgreſs, and get you a new Heart and Spirit: for why would you die, O Family of Iſrael?

32. For I do not delight in the Death of him who dies, ſays the Sovereign Lord: ſo turn back, and live.

AND do thou take up the following Lamentation for the Princes of Iſrael:

2. What was thy Mother? A ſtout Lioneſs, that lay down between the Lions, and bred up her Whelps among the young ones.

3. And ſhe brought up one of them, which became a young Lion, and having learned to tear the Prey, did eat Men.

7. Nay he knew their deſtitute Places, and laid their Cities waſte; ſo that the Country was deſolate, with what it was full of, by the Noiſe of his Roaring.

8. Then the Nations ſet againſt him round about from the Provinces, and ſpreading their Net over him, he was catched in their Pit.

9. And they put him into Priſon with Hooks, bringing him to the King of Babylon: they brought him into Forts, that his Noiſe might be heard no more on the Mountains of Iſrael.

10. Thy Mother was as a Vine in thy Likeneſs, planted by the Water; being fruitful, and full of Boughs, by reaſon of much Water.

11. Which had ſtrong Sticks for the Scepters of Rulers, whoſe Stature was high above the thick Trees that it was between, and it appeared in its Height with the Multitude of its Sprouts.

12. But it was plucked up in Wrath, thrown down to the Ground, and the Eaſt-wind withered its Fruit; the Sprouts were broke off and withered, as for her ſtrong Stick, that the Fire conſumed.

13. And now it is planted in the Wilderneſs, in a dry and thirſty Country.

14. Fire alſo came out of a Stick of its Limbs, which conſumed the Fruit of it; ſo that there is no ſtrong Stick on it for a Scepter to rule. This is the Lamentation, and ſhall be ſo.

CHAP. XX.

IN the ſeventh Year, on the tenth of the fifth Month, there came ſome of the Elders of Iſrael to enquire of the Lord, who ſitting before me,

2. I had his Commiſſion as follows:

3. Man, ſpeak to thoſe Elders in this manner: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Are you come to enquire of me? By my living, I will not be enquired of by you, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

4. Wilt thou judge them? Wilt thou, Man? Then let them know their Fathers Abominations,

5. In the following manner: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; At the Time when I choſe Iſrael, and lifted up my Hand to the Offspring of Jacob's Family (to whom I was known in the Country of Egypt) affirming by it, I was the Lord their God;

6. As alſo thereby to bring them out of the Country of Egypt, into that which I had found out for them, flowing with Milk and Honey, which was the Glory of all Countries;

7. Then I ordered them, as being the Lord their God, that every one ſhould caſt away the deteſtable Things which he ſaw, and not defile themſelves with the filthy Idols of Egypt.

8. But they rebelled againſt me, and would not hearken to me, neither caſting away the deteſtable Things which they ſaw, nor leaving the filthy Idols of Egypt; at which I ſpoke of pouring out my Wrath upon them, to accompliſh my Anger on them within the Egyptian Country.

9. However I acted for the ſake of my own Name, that it might not be profaned in the Sight of the Nations, among whom they were to be, who would ſee that I was known to them, by bringing them out of the Country of Egypt.

10. So I brought them out from thence, bringing them into the Wilderneſs.

11. Moreover I gave them my Ordinances, and let them know my Rules; which let a Man do, and he ſhall live by them.

12. And I likewiſe gave them my Sabbaths, to be a Sign between me and them, to know that I the Lord ſanctify them.

13. For all that the Family of Iſrael rebelled againſt me in the Wilderneſs, they did not go in my Ordinances, but deſpiſed my Rules (which let a Man have done, and he ſhould have lived by them) nay they profaned my Sabbaths exceedingly; at this I ſpoke of pouring out my Wrath upon them in the Wilderneſs, to conſume them.

14. I acted however for the ſake of my own Name, that it might not be profaned in the Sight of the Nations, who ſaw me bring them out.

15. Yet I alſo lifted up my Hand to them in the Wilderneſs, that I would not bring thoſe into the Country which I had given, flowing with Milk and Honey, which was the Glory of all Countries:

16. Becauſe they deſpiſed my Rules, did not go in my Ordinances, but profaned my Sabbaths; for their Heart went after their filthy Idols.

17. Nevertheleſs my Eye ſpared them from being deſtroyed, ſo that I did not cauſe them to be conſumed in the Wilderneſs.

18. But I ſaid to their Children there; Do not go in the Ordinances of your Fathers, neither obſerve their Rules, nor defile your ſelves with their filthy Idols.

19. I am the Lord your God; go in my Ordinances, obſerve my Rules, and do them.

20. Sanctify my Sabbaths too, and they ſhall be a Sign between me and you, to know that I am the Lord your God.

21. The Children notwithſtanding rebelled againſt me, they went not in my Ordinances, nor obſerved my Rules to do them (which if any had done, they ſhould have lived by them) they profaned my Sabbaths; at which I ſpoke of pouring out my Wrath upon them, to accompliſh my Anger on them in the Wilderneſs.

22. However I drew back my Hand, and acted for the ſake of my own Name, that it might not be profaned in the Sight of the Nations, who ſaw me bring them out.

23. Yet I lifted up my Hand to them in the Wilderneſs, that I would diſperſe them in the Nations, and ſcatter them in the Countries:

24. Becauſe they did not do my Rules, but deſpiſed my Ordinances, and profaned my Sabbaths, their Eyes being after the filthy Idols of their Fathers.

25. And I alſo let them have Ordinances not good; and Rules by which they ſhould not live.

26. Nay I let them be defiled by their own Gifts, in making every one who came firſt out of the Womb paſs through the Fire; that I might make them deſolate, in order for them to know that I was the Lord.

27. Therefore tell the Family of Iſrael, Man, that the Sovereign Lord ſays thus; Your Forefathers blaſphemed me further in this, by committing a Crime againſt me;

28. When I had brought them into the Country, which I lifted up my Hand to give them, upon ſeeing any high Hill, or any thick Tree, there it was they offered their Sacrifices, put the Indignation of their Offering, placed their pleaſant Smells, and poured out their Drink-offerings.

29. And I ſaying to them, What is the Chapel whither you go? the Name of it is called a Chapel to this Day.

30. Declare therefore to the Family of Iſrael: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Will you be defiled in the Way of your Fathers, and go a whoring after their deteſtable Things?

31. For when you offer up your Gifts, when you make your Children paſs through the Fire, you are defiled with all your filthy Idols till now; and ſhall I be enquired of by you, O Family of Iſrael? By my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, I will not.

32. Nor ſhall that which comes up in your Mind be at all, which you ſay, We will be like the Gentiles, like the Families of the Countries, ſerving Wood and Stone.

33. By my living, continues he, I will with a ſtrong Hand, with an Arm ſtretched out, and Wrath poured forth, reign over you.

34. And will bring you out from the People, and gather you from the Countries in which you are diſperſed, with a ſtrong Hand, with an Arm ſtretched out, and Wrath poured forth.

35. And having brought you into the Wilderneſs of the People, I will come to Judgment with you there Face to Face.

36. As I came to Judgment with your Fathers in the Wilderneſs of the Country of Egypt, ſo will I with you, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

37. Whom I will make paſs under the Rod, and bring into what is delivered of the Covenant.

38. I will alſo purge out from you them that rebel and treſpaſs againſt me, whom I will bring out of the Country of their Sojournings, but they ſhall not come into the Country of Iſrael; and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

39. As for you, O Family of Iſrael, thus

Ver. 25. not good] By that in Ver. 39. mentioned like this before the Gifts, it appears to be the idolatrous Service of the Idols, according to Deut. iv. 28. & xxviii. 36. Jer. xvi. 13. which muſt needs be more ſuitable to this Epithet than any of God's Laws, which are alſo deſcribed Ver. 11. directly contrary to what theſe are here; and in the foregoing Ver. 24. the Ordinances in general, and Sabbaths in particular are mentioned, which theſe muſt needs be different from, if not contrary to, which Wherefore eſpecially being put at the Beginning of this Ver. requires. Stillingfleet in Origines Sacræ, Lib. ii. 7. would have the cruel Impoſitions of their Enemies meant; but thoſe cannot, I think, ſuit with the following Expreſſion, of not living by them.

Ver. 26. let] concerning which ſee the Note on Exod. vii. 3. and of the preſ. Tranſ. Croſs in Taghm. Art, publiſhed with the Patronage of the Archb. of Canterbury, p. 107. writes thus, 'It were horrid to ſay, That when 'they committed Idolatry, God was the Author of the 'Pollution. And ſecondly, yet more to ſay, He did it 'that he might deſtroy them.'

Ver. 36. Sovereign Lord] only Lord in the Vulg. Bib.

ſays the Sovereign Lord; Go, ſerve, every one his filthy Idols, even hereafter, if you will not hearken to me; but profane my holy Name no more, with your Gifts and filthy Idols.

40. For on my holy Mountain, the high one of Iſrael, adds he, there the whole Family of Iſrael entirely that is in the Country ſhall ſerve me; there will I accept them, and there will I require your Lifted-offerings, and the Firſt-fruits of what you offer up, with all your holy Things.

41. I will accept you with a pleaſant Smell, when I bring you out from the People, and gather you from the Countries in which you are diſperſed; and will be ſanctified among you in the Sight of the Nations.

42. And you will know that I am the Lord, when I bring you into the Country of Iſrael, into the Country which I lifted up my Hand to give to your Forefathers.

43. Where you will remember your Ways, and all your Deeds by which you have been defiled, and will be loathſome to your ſelves, for all the Evils that you have done.

44. You will know too that I am the Lord, when I deal with you for the ſake of my own Name, not according to your evil Ways and corrupt Deeds, O Family of Iſrael, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

45. Beſides I had the Lord's Commiſſion in this manner:

46. Man, put thy Face the Way to the South, and mention ſouthward, towards the Wood of the South-field;

47. Bidding it hear the Lord's Commiſſion, the Lord God declaring thus; Behold I will kindle a Fire in thee, which ſhall conſume every green Tree and every withered one in thee: the blazing Flame ſhall not be quenched, but all Faces ſhall be burnt in it, from the South to the North.

48. And all Fleſh ſhall ſee that I the Lord have lighted it, which ſhall not be quenched.

49. But I ſaid, Alas, O Sovereign Lord, they ſay of me, Does he not ſpeak Parables?

CHAP. XXI.

AND I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards Jeruſalem, and mention towards the holy Places, the Country of Iſrael,

3. Declaring to it: Thus ſays the Lord; Behold I am againſt thee, and will bring my Sword out of its Sheath, and cut off from thee both the Righteous and Wicked.

4. To the intent that I may cut thee off ſo, my Sword ſhall come out of its Sheath againſt all Fleſh, from the South to the North.

5. And all Fleſh ſhall know that I the Lord have brought it out, which ſhall return no more.

6. Therefore ſigh, thou Man, with the Breaking of the Loins, and with Bitterneſs, even in their Sight.

7. And when they aſk thee, what thou ſigheſt for? thou ſhalt anſwer, For the News, becauſe it is come, that every Heart ſhall faint, all Hands be ſlack, every Mind dull, and all Knees become as Water; behold it is coming, and ſhall be, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

8. I had the Lord's Commiſſion again as follows:

9. Propheſy, Man, that the Lord bids thee ſay thus: The Sword it ſelf is ſharpened, and alſo ſcoured:

10. That it may kill the Slaughter it is ſharpened, that it may be glittering it is ſcoured; deſpiſing every Tree, or elſe we might make my Son's Stick joyful.

11. For he gave it to be ſcoured, that it might be held in the Hand: the Sword is ſharpened and ſcoured, to give it into the Hand of the Slayer.

12. Cry, and lament, Man; for it ſhall be on my People, on all the Princes of Iſrael, who ſhall be thruſt to the Sword with my People; therefore ſtrike on the Thigh.

13. Becauſe it will be a Trial; and what if alſo deſpiſing the Stick, that ſhould not be? ſays the Sovereign Lord.

Ver. 46. mention] This is rendered in our com. Tranſ. propheſy, Mic. ii. 11. and in Ver. 6. thrice, which Meaning paſſes current among the Expoſitors; though theſe Verbs are ſo plainly diſtinguiſhed in Amos vii. 16. and to propheſy was to ſpeak in a ſolemn expreſs Manner, not like dropping, which Johnſ. in his great Dict. expounds there, to utter ſlightly or caſually; and this mention perhaps beſt ſignifies of any Engliſh Word.

Ver. 10. deſpiſing] It is a Participle, and femine like Sword in Heb.

Ib. every Tree] or all Wood, by which may be underſtood the great Nations.

Ib. or elſe] It is not a Particle of Interrogation, but a Disjunctive as here rendered.

Ib. might] If it were not ſo, he and the reſt of the Prophets might deliver what was pleaſing and comfortable.

Ib. make] The Verb being in the Conjugation Hiphil, ſhews it does not terminate in it ſelf, but has an Object or Noun following, which it affects in this Manner; whereas make mirth is no more than be joyful in the ſimple Conjugation Kal.

Ib. Stick] with regard to Tree, the Country of Judea being ſo much ſmaller than ſeveral others, but it alſo ſignifies Tribe. Interpreters taking it to be a Rod for Correction, or a Scepter, have bewildered themſelves,

Ver. 12. who ſhall be thruſt to the Sword with] Jun. and Trem. have it detruſi in gladium erunt cum, they ſhall be thruſt on the Sword with; of which ſee Buxt. Lexic. in מגר and the Prepoſition is properly to, rather than by reaſon of, as the Article is with more properly than upon; beſides that he had done ſpeaking of the People, and was now ſpeaking of the Princes.

Ver. 13. deſpiſing] the ſame Heb. Word as in Ver. 10. whoſe Subject is the Sword.

Ib. Stick] Iſrael, as Ver. 10. The Sentence is diſjointed from what it is in the Original, by putting the Note of Interrogation at rod in the com. Bible.

14. So

14. So do thou, Man, propheſy, and clap Hands: for the Sword ſhall be doubled the third time, the Sword of the Slain, namely that of the great ones, who ſhall be ſlain by it in their Chambers.

15. That the Heart may be quite diſcouraged, and the Things to ſtumble at many, I have put the Point of the Sword againſt all their Gates: alas, it is made glittering, it is whetted for the Slaughter.

16. Be all one going to the right Hand, put it going to the left, whitherſoever thy Face is placed.

17. And I will alſo clap my Hands, and make my Wrath reſt: I the Lord ſpeak it.

18. Moreover I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

19. And do thou, Man, put thee two Ways for the Sword of the King of Babylon to come, let them both come out of one Country; and chooſe a Place, let it be at the Head of the Way to the City.

20. Thou ſhalt put a Way for the Sword to come to Rabbah of the Ammonites, or to Judah into fortified Jeruſalem.

21. For the King of Babylon will ſtand at the Beginning of the Way, in the Head of the two Ways, to uſe Divination; he will poliſh the Arrows, enquire of the Teraphs, look on the Liver.

22. The Divination will be on his right Hand, for Jeruſalem, to put Captains, to open the Mouth in ſlaying, to exalt the Voice in ſhouting, to put Captains againſt the Gates, to make a Rampart, to build a Fort.

23. And it will be to thoſe as if Falſehood were divined in their Sight, who have ſworn Oaths to them; but he will remember the Iniquity, that it may be taken.

24. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Becauſe you make your Iniquity to be remembred, by your Tranſgreſſions being diſcovered, to make your Sins appear in all your Deeds; becauſe you are remembred, you ſhall be taken with the Hand.

25. And thou profane wicked Prince of Iſrael, whoſe Day is come, the End for the Time of Iniquity;

26. As the Sovereign Lord ſays, put away the Diadem, and take off the Crown; this ſhall not be what it is, let the low one be high, and the high one low.

27. I will make it be overthrown, again and again; even this ſhall not be, till he comes whoſe Right it is, and I will give it to him.

28. Do thou, Man, alſo propheſy as follows: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, concerning the Ammonites, and their Reproach; The Sword it ſelf is drawn out, it is ſcoured for the Slaughter, to conſume, that it may glitter.

29. By Falſehood being ſeen and a Lie divined for thee, to put thee on the Necks of them that are ſlain of the Wicked, whoſe Day is come, the End for the Time of Iniquity;

30. Shall it be brought back into its Sheath? In the Place where thou waſt created, in the Country of thy Traffick will I judge thee.

31. And I will pour out my Indignation upon thee, blow upon thee in the Fire of my Fury, and deliver thee into the Power of fierce Men, Artiſts in Deſtruction.

32. Thou ſhalt be for the Fire, to be conſumed; thy Blood ſhall be within the Country, without thy being remembred: for I the Lord ſpeak it.

CHAP. XXII.

I HAD the Lord's Commiſſion too as follows:

2. Wilt thou, Man, judge, wilt thou judge the bloody City? Well, let it know all its Abominations.

3. Thou ſhalt therefore declare: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; The City ſheds Blood within it ſelf, that its Time may come; and makes filthy Idols againſt it ſelf, to defile it.

4. By thy Blood which thou ſheddeſt art thou guilty, and by thy filthy Idols which thou makeſt art thou defiled, ſo that thou bringeſt

bringeſt thy Days near, and comeſt to thy Years: therefore I will make thee a Reproach to the Nations, and a Scorn to all Countries.

5. Thoſe who are near, and thoſe who are far from thee, ſhall ſcorn thee, defiled by Name, much vexed.

6. Behold the Princes of Iſrael are for ſhedding Blood in thee, each according to his Power.

7. They ſlight Father and Mother in thee, do wrongfully to the Stranger within thee, oppreſs the Orphan and Widow in thee.

8. Thou deſpiſeſt my holy Things, and profaneſt my Sabbaths.

9. There are Backbiters in thee to ſhed Blood, and they eat on the Mountains in thee, do Lewdneſs within thee.

10. The Father's Nakedneſs is uncovered in thee, they humble her who is defiled and ſeparate in thee.

11. One Man does Abomination with his Neighbour's Wife, another lewdly defiles his Daughter-in-law, and another humbles his Siſter, his Father's Daughter in thee.

12. They take a Bribe in thee to ſhed Blood, thou takeſt Uſury and Intereſt, gaineſt of thy Neighbours wrongfully, and forgetteſt me, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

13. Lo therefore I ſtrike my Hand at thy Gain which thou makeſt, and for thy Blood that is within thee.

14. Will thy Heart ſtand it, will thy Hands be ſtrong, at the Days when I ſhall deal with thee? I the Lord ſpeak, and will perform.

15. And I will diſperſe thee in the Nations, ſcatter thee in the Countries, and conſume thy Uncleanneſs from thee.

16. For thou wilt be profane to thy ſelf in the Sight of the Nations, and ſhalt know that I am the Lord.

17. Beſides I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

18. Man, the Family of Iſrael are become Droſs to me: all of them are like Braſs, Tin, Iron, and Lead within the Furnace, like the Droſs of Silver.

19. For this reaſon the Sovereign Lord ſays; Becauſe all of you are become Droſs, therefore behold I will gather you into the midſt of Jeruſalem.

20. As Silver, Braſs, Iron, Lead, and Tin are gathered into the midſt of the Furnace, to blow the Fire upon them, to melt them; ſo will I gather you in my Anger and Wrath, put, and melt you.

21. I will even bring you together, and blow upon you in the Fire of my Fury, and you ſhall be melted within her.

22. As Silver is melted within the Furnace, ſo ſhall you be melted within her; and ſhall know that I the Lord pour out my Wrath upon you.

23. I had further the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

24. Man, ſay to her; Thou art the Country which was not cleanſed, nor rained upon at the Time of Indignation.

25. There was a Conſpiracy of her Prophets within her, as a roaring Lion tearing the Prey: they conſumed the Life, took the Store and precious Things, multiplied her Widows within her.

26. Her Prieſts violated my Law, and profaned my holy Things: they did not ſeparate the holy from the profane, nor make known the unclean from the clean; and hid their Eyes from my Sabbaths, ſo that I was profaned among them.

27. Her Princes in the midſt of her were like Wolves tearing the Prey, to ſhed Blood, to deſtroy Lives, that they might get Gain.

28. And her Prophets plaiſtered them with untempered Mortar, ſeeing Falſehood, and divining Lyes to them, ſaying, Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, when the Lord had not ſpoken.

29. The People of the Country uſed Wrong, took away a Thing by force, oppreſſed the Afflicted and Needy, and wronged the Stranger without Judgment.

30. And though I ſought for a Man of them who would make up the Fence, or ſtand in the Breach before me for the Country, that I might not deſtroy it, yet I found none.

31. So I poured out my Indignation upon them, conſumed them in the Fire of my Fury, rendering their own Way on their Heads, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

THE Lord's Commiſſion I alſo had as follows:

2. Man, there were two Women, the Daughters of one Mother:

Ver. 8. Thou] Vulg. Lat. You.

Ver. 16. profane] which, as Lowth obſerves, expreſſes the Senſe much better, than that in the com. Bib. as alſo Jun. and Trem. tranſlate: it being the Verb חלל as Ver. 26. in the paſſive Conj. Niphal, by Buxt. Theſ. Lib. i. Cap. 19. where it is expreſſy mentioned and ſhewn; as likewiſe Grot. obſerves.

Ver. 18. Droſs of Silver] not only Droſs, but of the worſer Sort.

Ver. 21. her] Jeruſalem, Ver. 19. not the Furnace, Ver. 20.

3. Who

3. Who committed Whoredom in Egypt, even in their Youth: there their Breaſts were preſſed, and there they dealt with the Teats of their Virginity.

4. The Names of them were, the elder Aholah, and her Siſter Aholibah, who were mine, and bore Sons and Daughters: as to their Names, Samaria was Aholah, and Jeruſalem Aholibah.

5. Now as Aholah committed Whoredom, having others inſtead of me; ſhe doted upon her Lovers the Aſſyrians that were near,

6. Captains and Rulers with blue Cloaths, all of them deſirable young Men, Horſemen riding Horſes,

7. Upon theſe ſhe beſtowed her Fornications, all of whom were the choiceſt of the Aſſyrians; and by all that ſhe doted on, by all their filthy Idols was ſhe defiled,

8. Thus ſhe did not leave the Fornications ſhe had from Egypt: for they lay with her in her Youth, they dealt with the Teats of her Virginity, and poured out their Fornication upon her.

9. Therefore I delivered her into the Power of her Lovers, into that of the Aſſyrians upon whom ſhe doted.

10. They diſcovered her Nakedneſs, took her Sons and Daughters, and ſlew her with the Sword; inſomuch that ſhe had a Name among Women, when they executed Judgments on her.

11. Nevertheleſs her Siſter Aholibah ſeeing it, was more corrupt in her Doting than ſhe, and with her own Fornications more than her Siſter's.

12. She doted on the Aſſyrians, Captains and Rulers that were near, with compleat Cloaths, Horſemen riding Horſes, all of them deſirable young Men.

13. So I ſaw that ſhe was defiled, both of them having one Way.

14. Nay ſhe increaſed her Fornications, when ſhe ſaw Men drawn upon the Wall, the Images of the Chaldeans drawn with Vermilion,

15. Girded with Girdles on their Loins, abounding with dyed Things on their Heads, all of them Dukes in Appearance; like the Babylonians of Chaldea, their native Country.

16. Whom ſhe doted upon at the Sight of her Eyes, and ſent Meſſengers to them at Chaldea.

17. Whereupon the Babylonians came to her into the Bed of Love, and defiled her with their Fornication; by whom being defiled, her Mind hung looſe from them.

18. Thus ſhe diſcovering both her Fornications and her Nakedneſs, my Mind hung looſe from her, as it had been from her Siſter.

19. Yet ſhe multiplied her Fornications, by remembering the Days of her Youth, wherein ſhe committed Whoredom in the Country of Egypt.

20. And has doted upon their Gallants, whoſe Fleſh is like that of Aſſes, and their Flux like that of Horſes.

21. So thou haſt viſited the Lewdneſs of thy Youth, when thy Teats were dealt with by the Egyptians, by reaſon of the Breaſts of thy Youth.

22. Therefore, Aholibah, thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I will ſtir up thy Lovers againſt thee, from whom thy Mind is looſened, and will bring them againſt thee on every Side;

23. The Babylonians, all the Chaldeans, Pekod, Shoa, Koa, and all the Aſſyrians with them; deſirable young Men, Captains and Rulers all of them, Dukes and famous Men, all riding Horſes.

24. Who ſhall come againſt thee with Wagons, Chariots, Carriages, and by a Company of People with Bucklers, Shields and Helmets, which they ſhall ſet againſt thee round about; and I will put Judgment before them, and they ſhall judge thee with their own Judgments.

25. I will alſo put my Jealouſy againſt thee, and they ſhall deal with thee in Wrath; they ſhall take away thy Noſe and Ears, and the Remainder of thee ſhall fall by the Sword: they ſhall take thy Sons and Daughters, and the Remainder of thee ſhall be conſumed by the Fire.

26. Moreover they ſhall ſtrip thee of thy Garments, and take off thy fine Things.

27. Thus will I make thy Lewdneſs ceaſe from thee, and the Fornication thou hadſt from the Country of Egypt; ſo that thou ſhalt not look up to them, nor remember Egypt any more.

Ver. 3. dealt] as the Word ſignifies, and is rendered Ver. 25, 29.

Ver. 4. Aholah] ſignifying Her oum Tabernacle, her Religion being of her own contriving, 1 King. xii. 28. to the End.

Ver. 5. inſtead] See the Like with the ſame Word, Num. v. 19, 20. So Jun. and Trem.

Ver. 17, 18. hung looſe] the ſame as at Jer. vi. 8. and ſee 2 King. xxiv. 1, 20. 2 Chron. xxxvi. 13.

Ver. 20. doted] It appears by Chap. xvii. 15. ſee Jer. xxxvii. 5, 7. that Zedekiah made an Alliance with the Egyptians, by which the Things are here ſpoken of in proper Order as tranſacted, and this alſo agrees with the Time of delivering it, Chap. xx. 1. & xxiv. 1.

28. For thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I will deliver thee into the Power of thoſe whom thou hateſt, into the Power of thoſe from whom thy Mind is looſened.

29. And they ſhall deal with thee in Hatred, take all thy Labour, leave thee naked and bare; when the Nakedneſs of thy Whoredoms ſhall be diſcovered, and thy Lewdneſs with thy Fornications.

30. Theſe Things are to be done to thee, for thy going a whoring after the Gentiles, becauſe thou art defiled by their filthy Idols.

31. Since thou haſt gone in thy Siſter's Way, I will put her Cup into thy Hand.

32. Thou ſhalt drink, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, of thy Siſter's Cup deeply and largely; ſhalt become Sport and Deriſion, it ſhall contain ſo much.

33. With Drunkenneſs and Sorrow ſhalt thou be filled, with a Cup of Aſtoniſhment and Deſolation, with the Cup of thy Siſter Samaria.

34. Which thou ſhalt drink, ſqueeze out, and break the Sherds of it, nay pluck off thy own Breaſts: for I ſpeak it, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

35. Who conſequently adds thus, Becauſe thou haſt forgot me, and caſt me behind thy Back, do thou alſo ſuffer for thy Lewdneſs and Fornications.

36. Man, ſaid the Lord to me again, Wilt thou judge Aholah and Aholibah? Well, tell them their Abominations;

37. That they have committed Adultery, and there is Blood in their Hands, nay have committed Adultery with their Idols, and even made their Children whom they bore me paſs through the Fire to them, to be conſumed;

38. Doing this to me further, have defiled my Sanctuary the ſame Day, and profaned my Sabbaths

39. (For when they killed their Children for their Idols, they came the ſame Day into my Sanctuary to profane it; behold they have done thus within my Houſe;)

40. And moreover that they ſent for Men to come far off, to whom the Meſſenger being ſent, lo thoſe came; for whom thou didſt waſh thy ſelf, paint thy Eyes, and deck thee with Ornaments,

41. Sitting upon a ſtately Bed, with a Table ſet in order before it, upon which thou didſt put my Incenſe and Oil.

42. And there was the Noiſe of an undiſturbed Multitude by her, and with Perſons of the Rabble of Mankind were brought Sabeans from the Wilderneſs, who put Bracelets on their Hands, and a fine Crown upon their Heads.

43. And I ſaid of her who was old in Adulteries, Will they and ſhe now commit Fornications together?

44. They notwithſtanding went in to her, as they do to a Woman that is a Harlot; ſo did they go in to Aholah and Aholibah the lewd Women.

45. The righteous Men ſhall therefore judge them, with the Judgment of Adultereſſes, and with that of Women who ſhed Blood; becauſe they are Adultereſſes, and there is Blood in their Hands.

46. For thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; A Company ſhall be brought up againſt them, and they ſhall be delivered to Diſturbance, and for a Prey.

47. Which Company ſhall ſtone them with Stones, cut them down with their Swords, ſlay their Sons and Daughters, and burn their Houſes with Fire.

48. So will I make Lewdneſs ceaſe from the Country; that all Women may be taught, and not do according to your Lewdneſs:

49. Foraſmuch as they ſhall render your Lewdneſs upon you, and you ſhall ſuffer for the Sins of your Idols, and know that I am the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XXIV.

AFTER this I had the Lord's Commiſſion, in the ninth Year, on the tenth of the tenth Month as follows:

2. Man, write for thy ſelf the Name of the Day, even this very Day, on which the King of Babylon lays ſiege to Jeruſalem;

3. And ſpeak a Parable to the rebellious Family in this manner: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Put on a Pot, not only ſo, but alſo pour Water into it.

4. Gather its Pieces into it, every good Piece, the Leg and Shoulder; fill it with the choiceſt of the Bones.

Ver. 40. they ſent] The Heb. Verb being either of the 2d or 3d Perſon, this accords beſt with the Context before, and the other not with the following thou. So Pagn. Mont. and Munſt. with the Vulg. and Tig. Tranſlations have miſerunt, Caſt. accerſiverunt, nay even the Biſh. and Gen. they. But this Verb having the com. Sign of the 2d Perſ. it may ſeem that K. James's Tranſlators did not know it was alſo the 3d; and the very ſame Word they have rendered wrong in the other two Places where with this it only is, n. Judg. v. 26. Obad. xiii.

Ib. paint thy Eyes] Rauwolff ſays, They have ſtill a ſtrange Cuſtom in theſe Countries, viz. They make a thin Paſte of Galls and calcined Copperas, with which they make a black Ring round about their Eyes, ſuch as our Ring-doves have about their Necks.

Ver. 42. their] thoſe Women's, the Pronouns being feminine.

5. Take

5. Take the choiceſt of the Flock, as alſo make a Bon-fire with the Bones under it; boil what it has to be boiled, and even its very Bones within it.

6. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Wo be to the bloody City, the Pot in which the Scum of it is, its Scum being not come out of it: bring out its Pieces one after another, let no Lot fall for it.

7. For her Blood is within her, ſhe has placed it as upon the clear Place of a Rock; ſhe has not poured it forth upon the Ground, to cover it over with Earth.

8. That it might bring up Wrath to take Vengeance, I have likewiſe put her Blood as upon the clear Place of a Rock, that it may not be covered.

9. For which reaſon, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, wo be to the bloody City; even I will make the Bon-fire great,

10. Multiplying the Wood, kindling the Fire, conſuming the Fleſh, and making the Ointment, nay the very Bones ſhall be burnt up;

11. Cauſing her to ſtand empty alſo upon her Coals, in order that her Ruſt may not only be hot, but burnt up, and her Uncleanneſs melted within her, the Scum of her conſumed.

12. She having tired her ſelf with Iniquities, and her great Scum being not come out of her, the Scum of her ſhall be in the Fire.

13. There is Lewdneſs in thy Uncleanneſs: becauſe I would have cleanſed thee, and thou wouldeſt not be cleanſed, thou ſhalt be cleanſed from thy Uncleanneſs no more, till I make my Wrath reſt on thee.

14. I the Lord ſpeak it, it ſhall come, and I will do it; I will not withdraw, nor ſpare, nor repent: according to thy own Ways and Deeds ſhall they judge thee, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

15. And I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus;

16. Man, behold I will take from thee the Deſire of thy Eyes with a Stroke; yet thou ſhalt not lament, nor weep, neither ſhall thy Tears come.

17. Be ſilent from Crying, make no Mourning for the Dead, tie thy Tire upon thee, and put thy Shoes on thy Feet; and cover not over the Lip, nor eat the Bread of Men.

18. So I ſpoke to the People in the Morning, and my Wife died in the Evening; then I did the next Morning as I was commanded.

19. Upon which the People ſaid to me; Wilt not thou tell us what theſe Things are to us, ſince thou doeſt them?

20. I anſwered them, that thus I had the Lord's Commiſſion:

21. Say to the Family of Iſrael, as the Sovereign Lord expreſſes it; Behold I will profane my Sanctuary, the Excellency of your Strength, the Deſire of your Eyes, and what your Soul pities; your Sons and Daughters alſo whom you will forſake, ſhall fall by the Sword.

22. And you ſhall do as I do; not cover over the Lip, nor eat the Bread of Men;

23. Your Tires ſhall be upon your Heads, and your Shoes on your Feet: you ſhall not lament nor weep; but ſhall waſte away in your Iniquities, and groan one to another.

24. Thus is Ezekiel become a Token to you, who ſhall do entirely as he does: when it comes, you ſhall know that I am the Sovereign Lord.

25. As for thee, Man, at the Time that I take from them their Strength, the Joy of their Glory, the Deſire of their Eyes, and what their Soul is lifted up to, their Sons and Daughters;

26. Will not he who eſcapes at that Time come to thee, to let thee hear it with thy own Ears?

27. At which Time thy Mouth ſhall be opened to ſuch as are eſcaped, thou ſhalt ſpeak, and be no more dumb: ſo thou ſhalt become a Token to them, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

Ver. 6. fall for it] for any to eſcape.

Ver. 10. kindling] This and the two following Verbs are particularly mentioned in this Ver. for the infinitive, not imperative Mood: ſo Jun. and Trem. have accendendo, &c.

Ver. 12. Iniquities] the Heb. having a general Signification, not lies only in particular.

Ib. ſhall] Grot. writes it is in Heb. non exiit repeated, not come out, when there is no ſuch Thing; ſo that the Learning and round Aſſertions of that great Man, ſhould not give him too much Authority.

Ver. 17. the Lip] the upper Lip, or Whiſkers, as the Manner was in Mourning.

Ib. Bread of Men] The Heb. Word ſignifies mortal Men; which may help us to underſtand the Bread, to be ſuch as was eat when a Perſon was dead, or at the Burial.

Ver. 18. ſpoke] told them what is in the two foregoing Verſes. Lowth ſays this was the next Morning, but without any Shew of Reaſon: not only the two Mornings are mentioned, with what he did diſtinctly in each, but the Death of his Wife is related the Evening between; which being alſo told before it was, would add Credit to his whole Prophecy; ſo Poole's and Grot. Annotations.

Ver. 19, 20. the People—to me, Wilt not thou tell us what theſe Things are to us, ſince thou doeſt them? I anſwered] So much not in the Bib. publiſhed and authoriſed by Pope Clement, as Tho. James remarks in his Bellum Papale. A great Fault indeed of the Scribe or Printer, when the reſt is not Senſe without it!

Ver. 23. groan] not the ſame with that before, as in the com. Eng. nor ſignifying ſo.

Ver. 25. what their Soul] as Ver. 21.

Ver. 27. At which Time] fulfilled Chap. xxxiii. 21, 22.

CHAP. XXV.

BESIDES I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards the Ammonites, and propheſy againſt them,

3. Saying to the Ammonites: Hear the Sovereign Lord's Commiſſion, who declares thus; Becauſe thou ſayeſt, Ha, concerning my Sanctuary, when it is profaned, and concerning the Country of Iſrael, when it is become deſolate, and concerning the Family of Judah, when they are gone into Captivity:

4. Therefore behold I will give thee up to the Men of the Eaſt for an Inheritance, who ſhall place their Palaces, and put their Dwellings in thee; they ſhall eat thy Fruit, and they ſhall drink thy Milk.

5. I will alſo make Rabbah a Stable for Camels, and with the Ammonites a Place for Flocks to lie down in; and you ſhall know that I am the Lord,

6. For thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Since thou ſtrikeſt the Hand, and ſtampeſt with the Foot, and art glad with all thy Diſdain in the Mind, at the Country of Iſrael:

7. Behold therefore I will ſtretch out my Hand againſt thee, deliver thee for a Prey to the Gentiles, cut thee off from the People, and make thee periſh from the Countries; I will deſtroy thee, and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord.

8. Thus declares the Sovereign Lord; Becauſe Moab and Seir ſay, Behold the Family of Judah is like all the Gentiles:

9. Lo I will therefore open the Side of Moab at the Cities, namely his Cities on his Border, the Glory of the Country, Beth-jeſhimoth, Baal-meon and Kirjathaim,

10. To the Men of the Eaſt; with the Ammonites, whom I give for an Inheritance, that the latter may not be remembred among the Nations.

11. And I will execute Judgments on Moab, ſo they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

12. Becauſe Edom, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, acts againſt the Family of Judah by taking Vengeance, do greatly offend, and are revenged on them:

13. Therefore continues he; I will alſo ſtretch out my Hand againſt Edom, will cut off from it Man and Beaſt, make it a waſte Place from Teman, and at Dedan they ſhall fall by the Sword.

14. Nay I will put my Vengeance on Edom by the Hand of my People Iſrael, who ſhall do in Edom according to my Anger and Wrath; and they ſhall be ſenſible of my Vengeance, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

15. Who proceeds thus; Becauſe the Philiſtines have acted with Revenge, and taken Vengeance with Diſdain in the Mind, to deſtroy with perpetual Enmity:

16. For this reaſon adds the Sovereign Lord; Behold I will ſtretch out my Hand againſt the Philiſtines, cut off the Chere-

Ver. 2. towards] not the ſame as follows.

Ver. 3. Ammonites] That this Prophecy was after the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, the Words here ſhew, as well as in other Places of this Chapter, and ſo the fulfilling of it muſt be after that; for which reaſon I refer the ſame Prediction of thoſe People in other Places hither. Verſe 10. ſhews that the Moabites and Ammonites were conquered together, and by the Time of the Prophecy and what follows concerning Tyre, Chap. xxvi. 1, 7. it appears to be done by Nebuchadnezzar ſoon after his Conqueſt of Judah; ſee too Jer. ix. 26. & xxv. 21. & xxvii. 3, 6. & xlviii. & xlix. Zeph. ii. 9. And as the King of Babylon conſulted whether he ſhould go againſt Ammon or Judah firſt, and the Divination was to Judah, Chap. xxi. 20, 21, 22. no Doubt but he went againſt Ammon quickly after, eſpecially as he had freſh Diſpleaſure againſt it for the Murder of Gedaliah, Jer. xl. 14. & xli. 10. which the Prophecy that follows ſeems alſo to indicate, Ch. xxi. 28, to the End.

Ver. 13. Edom] This is joined with Ammon and Moab in the Places quoted from Jeremiah at Ver. 3. as it is here, and ſeems to be deſtroyed by Nebuchadnezzar about the ſame Time; which Uſher counts to be 5 Years after the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, as alſo Joſephus, Ant. x. 11. ſee alſo the Prophecy of Obadiah, and Joel iii. 19. and what was foretold come to paſs, Malac. i. 3, 4. CHAP. XXVI.

MOREOVER in the eleventh Year, on the firſt of the Month, I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

2. Man, becauſe Tyre ſays againſt Jeruſalem, Ha, ſhe is broke that was the Gates of the People, ſhe is turned about to me; I ſhall be filled, ſhe being laid waſte:

3. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am againſt thee, O Tyre, and will bring up many Nations againſt thee, as the Sea does its Waves.

4. And they ſhall deſtroy the Walls of Tyre, and throw down her Towers; I will alſo ſcrape off her Earth from her, and make her the clear Place of a Rock.

5. She ſhall be a Place to ſpread Nets on within the Sea, for I ſpeak it, ſays the Sovereign Lord; and ſhe ſhall become a Prey to the Nations.

6. Her Daughters too who are in the Field ſhall be ſlain with the Sword; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

7. For thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: Behold I will bring to Tyre Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon from the North, a King of Kings, with Horſes, Chariots, Horſemen, and a Company, even many People;

8. Who ſhall ſlay thy Daughters in the Field with the Sword, put againſt thee a Fort, both make a Rampart, and lift up the Buckler againſt thee.

9. He ſhall alſo put his Battering-ram againſt thy Walls, and break down thy Towers with his Pick-axes.

10. Their Duſt ſhall cover thee by the Abundance of his Horſes; thy Walls ſhall ſhake at the Sound of the Horſemen, Carriages and Chariots, when he enters in at thy Gates, as they enter a City that is broke open.

11. He ſhall trample all thy Streets with the Hoofs of his Horſes, ſhall ſlay thy People with the Sword, and thy ſtrong Garriſons ſhall come down to the Ground.

12. And they ſhall take thy Wealth for Spoil, make a Prey of thy Merchandice, throw down thy Walls, break down thy deſirable Houſes; as alſo put thy Stones, Timber, and Rubbiſh into the midſt of the Water.

13. Beſides I will make the Noiſe of thy Songs ceaſe, and the Sound of thy Harps ſhall no more be heard.

14. And I will make thee the clear Place of a Rock, thou ſhalt be a Place to ſpread Nets on, ſhalt no more be built: for I the Lord ſpeak it, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

15. Who ſays thus to Tyre: Will not the Iſles ſhake at the Sound of thy Fall, when the Wounded cry, when the Slaughter is made within thee?

16. Nay all the Princes of the Sea will come down from their Thrones, put away their Robes, and pull off their embroidered Garments; they will put on Trembling, ſit upon the Ground, nay tremble every Moment, and be aſtoniſhed at thee.

17. And they ſhall take up a Lamentation for thee, ſaying to thee, How thou art periſhed, that waſt inhabited from the Seas! The City that was praiſed, which was ſtrong in the Sea, with her Inhabitants, who gave their Terror to all that would inhabit her.

18. Now ſhall the Iſlands tremble at the

Ver. 1. eleventh] The Siege of Tyre was begun about two Years after; ſee Chap. xxix. 17.

Ib. Month] This appears to be the fifth, as the fourth is underſtood, 2 King. xxv. 3. for Jeruſalem was taken the ſame Year in the foregoing Month, Jer. lii. 5, 6, 7. this being 22 Days after, in which Time they might have rejoiced for it at Tyre, as in the following Verſe, where the Tyrians ſay of Jeruſalem, it is broken and laid waſte, and as this is eight Days in the Month ſooner than the taking of the City, we are juſtly prevented from counting it any former Month. There is however to be conſidered what is urged by others for its being the firſt Month: that the firſt is not to be underſtood more than any other Numeral, even when it is the firſt Day of that Month, appears by its Inſertion, Chap. xxix. 17. & xlv. 18. Gen. viii. 13. Exod. xl. 2. 17. 2 Chron. xxix. 17. Ezr. vii. 9. & x. 17. As for its being left out in Chap. xl. 1. of this Book, it would be there unneceſſary, becauſe the Beginning of the Year ſhews it without; conſequently that does not affect this, as being no parallel Place, even though this were the firſt Month. The Inſtance which Lowth produces in 2 King. xxv. 27. is more beſide the Purpoſe; ſince the Heb. cannot be reſtricted literally to the Year of his reigning (it being not Reign) but to the Year of his beginning to reign, according to the frequent Meaning of the Verb in the Books of Kings and Chronicles. Uſher's Plea in his Annales ad A. M. 3416. is alſo wrong, that the fifth Month belonged to the twelfth Year of Jehoiachin's Captivity, or Zedekiah's Reign, which began at the ſame Time: for nine Days of the fifth Month after this were in the 19th Year of Nebuchadnezzar, Jer. lii. 12. which was coincident with the 11th here, Jer. xxxii. 1. but more particularly, as this 11th Year began and ended about the Time of the common Year, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 10. and as the 4th Month was in it, Jer. lii. 5, 6. the fifth Month muſt too. Nay there are Inſtances, as may be ſeen in the Chronology, where the Year of a Thing being done, was in the Overplus of it.

Ver. 5. Place] As Maundrell relates it now is, in his Journey from Aleppo to Jeruſalem, p. 48. its Inhabitants being a few Fiſhermen, and not a whole Houſe left.

Ver. 12. break down] as the Verb is rendered, Ver. 9.

Ver. 14. Place] See Chap. xxix. 17, 18.

Ver. 17. would inhabit] being the ſame as twice before in this Verſe, and would inhabit may ſignify by Conqueſt.

Time of thy Fall, even the Iſles which are in the Sea ſhall be troubled at thy going out.

19. When I, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, make thee a City that is waſted, like thoſe which are not inhabited; when I bring up the Depth over thee, and great Waters cover thee;

20. And I bring thee down with ſuch as are deſcended to the Pit, to the People of old Time, and make thee remain in the lower Places of the Earth, in the waſte Places of old Time, along with thoſe who are gone down to the Pit, that thou mayeſt not be inhabited, and I may put Glory in the Country of the Living:

21. I will make thee a Terror, and thou ſhalt not be; even though thou art ſought, thou ſhalt no more be found for ever, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XXVII.

I HAD the Lord's Commiſſion further as follows:

2. So thou Man, take up a Lamentation concerning Tyre;

3. To which thou ſhalt ſay: Thou that art ſituate at the Entrances of the Sea, a Merchant of the People at many Iſles, as the Sovereign Lord ſays; O Tyre, which ſayeſt, I am perfect in Beauty;

4. Thy Borders are in the Heart of the Seas, thy Builders have made thy Beauty perfect.

5. They have built all the Boards for thee with Fir-trees from Senir, have fetched Cedars from Lebanon to make Maſts for thee;

6. Have made thy Oars with Oaks from Baſhan, as alſo thy Planks to ſtep on with Ivory from the Iſles of Chittim.

7. Fine Linen with Embroidery from Egypt, is what thou haſt ſpread to be Sails for thee; blue and purple Cloth from the Iſles of Eliſhah is thy Covering.

8. The Inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad are Rowers for thee; thy own wiſe Men, O Tyre, who are in thee, are thy Pilots.

9. The Elders of Gebal and the wiſe Men of it are in thee for thy Stoppers of Leaks; all the Ships of the Sea, and their Sailors are in thee, to deal in thy Traffick.

10. They of Perſia, Lud, and Libya are in thy Army, thy Warriors; who hang up the Buckler and Helmet in thee, they make thy Comelineſs;

11. The Arvadites and thy own Army are upon thy Walls round about, and the Gammadites are in the Towers; who hang up their Shields upon the Walls round about; they make thy Beauty perfect.

12. Tarſhiſh is thy Trader, by reaſon of the Abundance of all Wealth; which furniſhes thy Fairs with Silver, Iron, Tin and Lead.

13. Greece, Tubal and Meſhech, they are thy Merchants; which furniſh thy Traffick with Men's Perſons, and braſen Ware.

14. Thoſe of the Family of Togarmah furniſh thy Fairs with Horſes, Horſemen and Mules;

15. The Dedanites are thy Merchants, the Trade of thy Hand being at many Iſles; they render thy Preſent, Horns of Ivory and Ebony.

16. Syria is thy Trader, by reaſon of the Abundance of thy Works; which furniſhes thy Fairs with Chryſopraſus, purple Cloth, Embroidery, Lawn, Corals and Pyropus.

17. Judah, and the Country of Iſrael, they are thy Merchants; which furniſh thy Traffick with Wheat of Minnith and Pannag, as alſo Honey, Oil and Balſam.

18. Damaſcus is thy Trader in the Abundance of thy Works, by reaſon of the Abundance of all Wealth, with Wine of Helbon, and fine Wool.

19. Both Dan and Greece that go about, furniſh thy Fairs; bright Iron, Caſſia, and ſweet Cane being among thy Traffick.

20. Dedan is thy Merchant, with noble Cloaths for Chariots.

22. The Merchants of Sheba and Rahmah, they are thy Merchants; who furniſh thy Fairs with the chief of all Spice, as likewiſe all precious Stones, and Gold;

23. Haran, Canneh, Eden, the Merchants of Sheba, Aſſyria, and Chilmad are thy Merchants;

24. Which they are with compleat Things, with blue Gowns, Embroidery, and Stores of fine Cloaths, tied up with Cords, and cedar Cheſts among thy Merchandice.

25. The Ships of Tarſhiſh ſing of thee in thy Traffick; and thou art filled, and become very glorious in the Heart of the Seas.

26. The Rowers that were with thee having brought thee into great Waters, the eaſt Wind breaks thee in the Heart of the Seas.

27. Thy Wealth, and Fairs, thy Traffick, Sailors, Pilots, thy Stoppers of Leaks, and the Dealers in thy Traffick, with all thy Warriors who are in thee, and thy whole Company that is within thee, ſhall fall in the Heart of the Sea, on the Day of thy Fall.

28. The Sūburbs ſhall ſhake at the Noiſe of thy Pilots Cry.

29. And all who take hold of the Oar, the Sailors, with all the Pilots of the Sea, ſhall corne down from their Ships, ſtanding on the Land.

30. Who ſhall make their Voice be heard concerning thee, crying bitterly, and put Duſt upon their Heads, roll themſelves in Aſhes;

31. Shall make themſelves quite bald for thee, gird them with Sackcloth, and weep for thee with Bitterneſs of Soul, with bitter Wailing,

32. And ſhall take up a Lamentation for thee in their Bemoaning, and lament thus concerning thee; Who is like Tyre? Like her that is cut off within the Sea?

33. By the Things of thy Fairs coming out of the Seas, thou didſt ſatisfy many People: by the Abundance of thy Riches and Wares, thou didſt enrich the Kings of the Earth.

34. At the Time thou waſt broke at the Seas, in the Depths of the Water, thy Traffick and all thy Company within thee fell.

35. All the Inhabitants of the Iſles are aſtoniſhed at thee, and their Kings very horribly afraid, they are out of Countenance.

36. The Traders among the People hiſs at thee; who art a Terror, and wilt not be for ever.

CHAP. XXVIII.

BESIDES I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. Man, ſay to the Ruler of Tyre: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Becauſe thy Heart is ſo haughty, that thou doſt boaſt, I am God, I ſit in the Seat of God, in the Heart of the Seas; though thou art Man, and not God, notwithſtanding thou makeſt thy own Heart like God's:

3. Forſooth thou art wiſer than Daniel, they can hide no Secret from thee.

4. By thy Wiſdom and Underſtanding thou haſt got thee Wealth, having got Gold and Silver into thy Treaſures.

5. By the Abundance of thy Wiſdom in thy Merchandice thou haſt increaſed thy Wealth, by which thy Heart is haughty:

6. For this reaſon the Sovereign Lord ſays thus; Becauſe thou makeſt thy own Heart like God's;

7. Lo I will therefore bring Strangers againſt thee, the terrible ones of the Gentiles; who ſhall draw forth their Swords againſt the Beauty of thy Wiſdom, and profane thy Splendor.

8. They ſhall bring thee down to the Pit, and thou ſhalt die the Deaths of the Slain in the Heart of the Seas.

9. Wilt thou ſtill ſay, I am God, before him that kills thee? But thou wilt be Man, and not God, in the Hand of him who ſlays thee.

10. Thou ſhalt die the Deaths of the uncircumciſed ones, by the Hands of Strangers: for I ſpeak it, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

11. I had the Lord's Commiſſion too as follows:

12. Man, take up a Lamentation concerning the King of Tyre, and declare to him: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Thou ſealeſt up the Sum, being full of Wiſdom, and perfect in Beauty.

13. In Eden the Garden of God waſt thou, every precious Stone being thy Covering, the Ruby, Emerald and Adamant, the Beryl, Onyx and Jaſper, the Sapphire, Chryſopraſus, and Carbuncle, and Gold; the Work of thy Timbrels and Flutes was prepared in thee, at the Time thou waſt created.

14. Thou waſt an anointed covering Cherub; when I put thee, thou waſt on God's holy Mountain, walking about amongſt the Stones of Fire.

15. Perfect waſt thou in thy Ways, from the Day thou waſt created, till Iniquity was found in thee.

16. By the Abundance of thy Merchandice they have filled the midſt of thee with Injury, whereby thou haſt ſinned; ſo that I will ſlay thee from God's Mountain, and make thee periſh, O covering Cherub, from the midſt of the Stones of Fire.

17. Thy Heart being haughty through thy Beauty, thy Wiſdom corrupted by thy Splendor; I will caſt thee down upon the Ground, put thee before Kings, that they may look on thee.

18. With the Multitude of thy Iniquities, by the Injuſtice of thy Merchandice, thou profaneſt thy Sanctuaries; ſo I will bring out a Fire from within thee, which ſhall conſume thee, and I will make thee Aſhes upon the Ground, in the Sight of all who ſee thee.

19. All that know thee among the People ſhall be aſtoniſhed at thee; thou ſhalt become a Terror, and not be for ever.

20. Again I had the Lord's Commiſſion in this manner:

21. Put thy Face, Man, towards Zidon, and propheſy againſt it,

22. That the Sovereign Lord ſays thus; Behold I am againſt thee, O Zidon, and will be glorified within thee; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I execute Judgments on her, and am ſanctified in her.

23. For I will ſend into her the Peſtilence, and Blood into her Streets, and the Wounded ſhall be judged within her by the Sword againſt her on every Side; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

24. So there ſhall no more be a fretting Brier to the Family of Iſrael, nor a grieving Thorn of any who diſdain them round about; and they ſhall know that I am the Sovereign Lord.

25. Who ſays thus; When I gather the Family of Iſrael from the People among whom they are diſperſed, and am ſanctified in them in the Sight of the Gentiles, they ſhall dwell in their Country which I gave to my Servant Jacob.

26. They ſhall even dwell ſecurely in it, ſhall build Houſes, and plant Vineyards, while they dwell ſo; when I execute Judgments on all who diſdain them on every Side: and ſhall know that I am the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXIX.

IN the tenth Year, on the twelfth of the tenth Month, I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

2. Man, put thy Face againſt Pharaoh King of Egypt, and propheſy againſt him, and Egypt all of it,

3. Speaking as follows: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am againſt thee, O Pharaoh King of Egypt, the great Whale that lies within his Rivers, who vaunts, My River is my own, and I made it for my ſelf.

4. For I will put Hooks in thy Jaws, and make the Fiſh of thy Rivers ſtick to thy Scales, bringing thee up from within thy Rivers, while all the Fiſh of them ſtick there.

5. And I will leave thee thy ſelf at the Wilderneſs, with all the Fiſh of thy Rivers; thou ſhalt fall out in the Field, ſhalt not be gathered, nor brought together: I having given thee to the Beaſts of the Earth, and the Fowls of the Air, to be devoured.

6. And all the Inhabitants of Egypt ſhall know that I am the Lord, becauſe they have been a Staff of Reed to the Family of Iſrael.

7. When they take hold of thee by thy Hand, thou wilt be ſhattered, and tear off all their Shoulder; and when they lean upon thee, thou wilt be broke, and make their whole Loins at a ſtand.

8. Therefore the Sovereign Lord ſays thus; Behold I will bring the Sword againſt thee, and cut off from thee Man and Beaſt.

9. So that the Country of Egypt ſhall become deſolate and waſte, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord; becauſe he ſays, The River is mine, and I made it.

10. Lo I am therefore againſt both thee and thy Rivers, and will make the Country of Egypt utterly waſte, and deſolate, from the Tower of Seveneh even to the Border of Cuſh.

11. The Foot of Man ſhall not paſs through it, nor ſhall the Foot of Beaſt: for it ſhall not be inhabited forty Years.

12. And I will make the Country of Egypt deſolate, among the Countries that are become ſo, and her Cities among thoſe which are laid waſte ſhall be deſolate forty Years; as I will diſperſe the Egyptians in the Nations, and ſcatter them in the Countries.

13. However at the End of the forty Years, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, I will gather the Egyptians from the People whither they are diſperſed.

14. Then will I bring back the Egyptian Captives, and make them return to the Country of Pathros, into that of their Traffick; where they ſhall be a low Kingdom.

15. It ſhall be lower than other Kingdoms, and ſhall lift up it ſelf above the Nations no more: for I will make them little, that they may not rule over the Nations.

16. Thus it ſhall be no more the Truſt of the Family of Iſrael, bringing Iniquity to remembrance, by their turning after them; and they ſhall know that I am the Sovereign Lord.

17. And in the twenty ſeventh Year, on the firſt of the firſt Month, had I the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

18. Man, Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon made his Army do a great Service againſt Tyre, every Head being made bald, and every Shoulder bare; yet he and his Army had no Reward from Tyre, for the Service which he did againſt it:

19. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I give Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon the Country of Egypt, who ſhall take her Multitude, as alſo her Effects for Spoil, and what ſhe has for Plunder, which ſhall be a Reward for his Army.

20. For his Work which he did againſt it I give him the Country of Egypt, becauſe they wrought for me, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

21. At that Time I will make the Horn ſprout forth to the Family of Iſrael, and cauſe thee to open the Mouth among them; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

I HAD the Lord's Commiſſion further as follows:

2. Man, propheſy, ſaying: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Lament, ah for the Day!

3. Becauſe the Day is near, even that of the Lord; it ſhall be a cloudy one, the Time of the Gentiles.

4. The Sword ſhall come into Egypt, and there ſhall be ſore Anguiſh on Ethiopia, by the falling of the Slain in Egypt; whoſe Multitude they ſhall take away, and her Foundations ſhall be deſtroyed.

5. Ethiopia, Libya, Lud, all the mixed ones, Chub, and the People of the Country who are in League, ſhall fall with them by the Sword.

6. Thus ſays the Lord; Thoſe ſhall alſo fall who uphold Egypt, and the Excellency of her Strength ſhall come down: from the Tower of Seveneh ſhall they fall in her by the Sword, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

7. So that they ſhall be deſolate among the Countries that are become ſo, and her Cities ſhall be among thoſe which are waſted.

8. And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I put a Fire in Egypt, and all her Helpers are broke.

9. At that Time Meſſengers ſhall go out from before me in Ships, to make ſecure Ethiopia afraid; on whom there ſhall be ſore Anguiſh, as at Egypt's Time, for behold it is coming.

10. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; I will even make the Multitude of Egypt ceaſe, by the Power of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon.

11. He himſelf along with his People, the terrible ones of the Gentiles, ſhall be brought to deſtroy the Country; and drawing forth their Swords againſt Egypt, ſhall fill the Country with the Slain.

12. And I will make the Rivers dry, will ſell the Country into the Hands of evil Men; and cauſe it to be deſolate, with what it is full of, by the Hands of Strangers: I the Lord ſpeak it.

13. Who will likewiſe, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, make the Idols periſh, and the Things of Nought ceaſe from Noph, and there ſhall be no Prince of the Country of Egypt any more, for I will put Fear in it.

14. I will moreover make Pathros deſolate, will put Fire in Zoan, and execute Judgments on No.

15. My Wrath likewiſe will I pour out, upon Sin, the Strength of Egypt, and cut off the Multitude of No.

16. And putting Fire in Egypt, Sin ſhall be ſorely in Anguiſh, No be torn aſunder, and Noph have Diſtreſſes daily.

17. The young Men of Aven and Phibeſeth ſhall fall by the Sword, and the Females go into Captivity.

18. In Tehaphnehes too the Day ſhall be dark, when I break the Egyptian Yokes there, and the Excellency of her Strength ſhall ceaſe in her: as to her ſelf, a Cloud ſhall cover her, and her Daughters ſhall go into Captivity.

19. So will I execute Judgments on Egypt, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

20. In the eleventh Year, on the ſeventh of the firſt Month, I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

21. Man, I will break the Arm of Pharaoh King of Egypt; and behold it ſhall not be bound up, by applying Medicines, by putting a Swathe to bind it up, to ſtrengthen it, that it may take hold of the Sword.

22. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am againſt Pharaoh King of Egypt, and will break his Arms, the ſtrong and the broken one, and make the Sword fall out of his Hand.

23. I will alſo diſperſe the Egyptians in the Nations, and ſcatter them in the Countries.

Ver. 2. ah for] worth here in the preſ. Eng. denoting be to, is ſo old and ſcarce, that Johnſon, in his great Dictionary of the Engliſh Language, has only a Quotation for it from *F. Ver. 5. Lud] the ſame as in Ch. xxvii. 10. Iſa. lxvi. 19. and Lydia lay in a diſtant Part of the World.

Ver. 6. from] that is as far as, that Place being on the Border of Ethiopia, the farther Side of Egypt. Prideaux in Connect. Anno 573. and others would have migdol, the Tower, be the proper Name of a Place in the North of Egypt, and the Tranſlation to be, from Migdol to Syene. But beſides the Original having no to, Migdol was plainly the Tower of that Place by Chap. xxix. 10. where to is applied to another Place.

Ver. 9. whom] the Meſſengers by the Original.

Ver. 13. Idols] The only Conqueſt of Egypt when I find this done, was at that by Ochus, as in the next Note.

Ib. no Prince of] no King of their own, with ſuch Sovereignty as before: for though above a hundred Years after Egypt was conquered by Cambyſes, Chap. xxix. 13, 14. there got up a ſhort and weak Race of Egyptian Kings, that continued about 60 Years, it was extinct through a freſh Conqueſt by Artaxerxes Ochus, Diod. Siculus, Lib. 16. and the Line of the Ptolemys that began reigning ſome Years after that, and continued till Egypt was made a Roman Province, was of foreign Extraction; as Egypt was before Part of the Macedonian Empire under Alexander; and divided among the reſt to Ptolemy one of his Commanders, Q. Curtius, Lib. x. Juſtin, Lib. xiii. 4.

Ver. 17. Females] agreeable to the next Verſe: ſo Jun. and Trem. haye puellæ; Pagn. uxores, Wives.

24. On

24. On the contrary I will ſtrengthen the King of Babylon's Arms, and put my Sword into his Hand; as well as break the Arms of Pharaoh, who ſhall groan with the Groans of the Wounded before him.

25. I will both ſtrengthen the King of Babylon's Arms, and thoſe of Pharaoh ſhall fall down; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I put my Sword into the Hand of the King of Babylon, and he ſtretches it out againſt the Country of Egypt.

26. Thus will I diſperſe the Egyptians in the Nations, and ſcatter them in the Countries; whereby they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXI.

IN the eleventh Year, on the firſt of the third Month, I had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

2. Man, ſay to Pharaoh King of Egypt, and his Multitude: Whom art thou like in thy Greatneſs?

3. Behold Aſſyria was as a Cedar on Lebanon, with handſome Boughs, a ſhadowing Shroud, and a high Stature, whoſe Top was between the thick Boughs.

4. The Waters made him great, the Depth high, with its Floods running round about his Plants, and ſent forth its Trenches to all the Trees of the Field.

5. By reaſon of which his Stature was the higheſt of all the Trees of the Field, his Sprigs were multiplied, and his Branches became long by many Waters, when he ſhot forth.

6. All the Fowls of the Air made Neſts in his Twigs, and all the Beaſts of the Field brought forth under his Branches; nay all the great Nations dwelt in his Shadow.

7. Thus was he handſome by his Greatneſs, by the Length of his Sprouts; becauſe his Root was at great Waters.

8. The Cedars in the Garden of God could not hide him, the Fir-trees were not like his Twigs, nor were the Cheſnut-trees as his Branches: there was no Tree in the Garden of God like him for his Beauty.

9. I made him ſo fair by the Multitude of his Sprouts, that all the Trees of Eden which were in the Garden of God envied him.

10. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; By reaſon that thou waſt high in Stature, and he put his Top even between the thick Boughs, and his Heart was lifted up by his Height;

11. I delivered him into the Power of the ſtrong one of the Nations, who dealt throughly with him, I drove him away for his Wickedneſs.

12. And Strangers, the terrible ones of the Gentiles, cut him off, and left him; on the Mountains, and in all the Vallies his Sprouts are fallen down, and his Branches are broke in all the Channels of the Country, nay all the People of the Earth are come down from his Shadow, and have left him.

13. All the Fowls of the Air dwell upon his Fall, and all the Beaſts of the Field are on his Branches.

14. To the end that none of the Trees at the Waters may be high in their Stature, nor put their Top even between the thick Boughs, and that none of their Oaks which drink in Water may ſtand in their Height: for all of them are delivered to Death, to the lower Place of the Earth, amongſt Mankind, to them who are gone down to the Pit.

15. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: On the Day that he went down to the Grave, I cauſed them to mourn, covered the Deep for him, and with-held its Floods, ſo that the great Waters were ſtopped; I alſo made Lebanon gloomy for him, and all the Trees of the Field fainted for him.

16. At the Sound of his Fall I made the Nations ſhake, when I brought him down to the Grave, with them who were gone down to the Pit; and all the Trees of Eden, the choiceſt and beſt of Lebanon, all that drank in Water, were comforted in the lower Place of the Earth.

17. They likewiſe went down to the Grave with him, to them who were ſlain with the Sword; as alſo his Arm, thoſe that dwelt in his Shadow amongſt the Nations.

18. Which art thou thus like, in Glory and Greatneſs, among the Trees of Eden? Therefore thou ſhalt be brought down with them to the lower Place of the Earth, ſhalt lie amongſt the uncircumciſed ones, with them who are ſlain with the Sword; even Pharaoh himſelf and all his Multitude, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

Ver. 3. Aſſyria] The Time and Manner of the Overthrow of that great and ancient Empire, ſee on Zeph. ii. 13. and Nah. i. 1. This ſeems ill rendered the Aſſyrian, Saracus being an obſcure King, having but Part of the Empire, and Chyniladanus effeminate and contemptible; not agreeable to the following Deſcription.

CHAP. XXXII.

IN the twelfth Year, on the firſt of the twelfth Month, I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. Man take up a Lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, by way of Addreſs to him thus: Thou art become like a young Lion to the Nations (yet thou art as a Whale in the Seas, coming forth in thy own Rivers) who diſturbeſt the Waters with thy Feet, and trampleſt in their Rivers.

3. But I, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, will ſpread my Net over thee, by a Company of many People, who ſhall bring thee up in it.

4. And I will leave thee on the Land, throwing thee out in the Field, and make all the Fowls of the Air remain upon thee, as alſo ſatisfy the Beaſts of the whole Earth with thee.

5. Moreover thy Fleſh will I put upon the Mountains, and in the Vallies ſo high as to fill them up.

6. I will alſo water the flowing Country with thy Blood, to the very Mountains, and the Channels ſhall be filled with thee.

7. And when I quench thee, I will cover the Heaven, and make the Stars of it dark; I will cover the Sun himſelf with a Cloud, and the Moon ſhall not give its Light.

8. Thus darkening all the ſhining Lights in the Heaven over thee, I will put Darkneſs upon thy Country, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

9. So ſhall I provoke the Minds of many People, when I bring thy Ruin among the Nations, to Countries which thou art unacquainted with.

10. Nay I ſhall make them aſtoniſhed at thee, and their Kings will be ſo horribly afraid upon thy Account, when I brandiſh my Sword before them, that they will tremble every Moment, each for his own Life, at the Time of thy Fall.

11. For, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, the King of Babylon's Sword ſhall enter into thee,

12. By the Swords of the Powerful will I make thy Multitude fall, all of them the terrible ones of the Nations; who ſhall waſte the Excellency of Egypt, when its whole Multitude is deſtroyed.

13. I will likewiſe cauſe all its Beaſts to periſh from the many Waters; ſo that as the Foot of Man ſhall diſturb them no more, neither ſhall the Hoofs of Beaſts.

14. Then will I make their Waters ſettle down, and their Rivers run like Oil, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

15. When I make the Egyptian Country deſolate, even as to its Plenty, and ſlay all who dwell in it, they will know that I am the Lord.

16. This is the Lamentation that the heathen Women ſhall make, when they lament it; as being thoſe who ſhall lament for Egypt, and all its Multitude, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

17. The ſame Year, on the fifteenth of that Month, I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

18. Man, make moan for the Multitude of Egypt, whom thou ſhalt bring down, along with the ſtately heathen Women, to the lower Place of the Earth, with them that go down to the Pit.

19. More pleaſant than who art thou? Get thee down, and be laid with thoſe that are uncircumciſed.

20. They ſhall fall among them who are ſlain with the Sword; to which ſhe being given up, draw her, and all her Multitudes.

21. Thoſe that are the ſtrongeſt of the powerful ones ſhall ſay of it, and its Helpers, from within the Grave, They are come down, they lie uncircumciſed, ſlain with the Sword.

22. Aſſyria is there, and all her Company, the Sepulchres of which will be round about it: all of them being ſlain, fallen by the Sword.

23. Whoſe Sepulchres are made in the Sides of the Pit, and her Company is round about her own: all of them being ſlain, fallen by the Sword; who did put Terror in the Country of the Living.

24. Elam is there, and her whole Multitude round about her Sepulchre: all of them being ſlain, fallen by the Sword, who are gone down uncircumciſed to the lower Place of the Earth; that did put their Terror in the Country of the Living, yet bore their Shame with them that went down to the Pit.

25. They made a Bed for her, with her whole Multitude, among the Slain, whoſe Sepulchres will be round about it: all of them being uncircumciſed, ſlain with the Sword; though their Terror was put among thoſe who lived on the Earth, yet they bore their Shame with them that went down to the Pit, being put among the Slain.

26. Meſhech, Tubal, and her whole Multitude are there, whoſe Sepulchres will be round about it: all of them being uncircumciſed, ſlain with the Sword; though they did put their Terror among thoſe who lived on the Earth.

27. However they do not lie with the powerful ones that are ſlain of the Uncircumciſed: who are gone down to the Grave with their Weapons of War, and did put their Swords under their Heads, but their Iniquity was in their Bones; though they were the Terror of the Powerful among thoſe who lived on the Earth.

28. Thou ſhalt be broke too amongſt the uncircumciſed ones, and lie along with them that are ſlain with the Sword.

29. Edom, her Kings, and all her Princes are there, who are put, with their Power, along with them that are ſlain with the Sword: they lie with the uncircumciſed ones, and with ſuch as are gone down to the Pit.

30. The Governors of the North all of them are there, particularly all the Zidonians; who are gone down with their ſlain ones, being aſhamed of their Power, with their Terror, and lie uncircumciſed along with them that are ſlain with the Sword, and bear their Shame with ſuch as are gone down to the Pit.

31. Pharaoh ſhall ſee them, that he may be comforted for all the Multitude of Egypt, himſelf and his whole Army ſlain with the Sword, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

32. For as I have put my Terror in the Country of the Living, he ſhall be laid amongſt the uncircumciſed ones, along with them that are ſlain with the Sword, himſelf and his Multitude, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XXXIII.

AND I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. Man, pronounce the enſuing Speech to thoſe of thy People: When I bring the Sword againſt any Country, and the People of it take a certain Man at their Borders, and make him a Watchman to them,

3. Who ſeeing the Sword coming againſt the Country, ſounds the Trumpet, and gives the People warning;

4. Then whoever hears the Sound of it, and does not take warning, whom the Sword when it comes takes away, his Blood will be upon his own Head.

5. He that hears the Sound of the Trumpet, and does not take warning, ſhall bear the Blame of his own Blood; and he who takes warning, ſhall eſcape with his Life.

6. But when the Watchman ſeeing the Sword coming, does not ſound the Trumpet, ſo that the People are not warned, and the Sword comes, and takes a Perſon of them away; he is taken for his Iniquity, and I will demand his Blood of the Watchman.

7. Now thou Man, I have made thee a Watchman to the Family of Iſrael, that thou mayeſt hear the Matter from my Mouth, and warn them from me.

8. When I ſay to the Wicked, O wicked one, thou ſhalt quite die; and thou doſt not ſpeak to warn him from his Way, ſuch a one's Blood who dies for his Iniquity, will I require of thee.

9. Nevertheleſs when thou warneſt the Wicked to return from his Way, and he does not, he ſhall die for his Iniquity, but thou haſt delivered thy Soul.

10. Say to the Family of Iſrael, thou Man, further; You ſpeak in the following manner, When our Tranſgreſſions and Sins are upon us, ſo that we waſte away by them, how ſhall we live?

11. Anſwer them, By my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, I do not delight in the Death of the Wicked, but in his turning back from his Way, that he may live: return, return from your ill Courſes; for why would you die, O Family of Iſrael?

12. And thou Man, tell thoſe of thy People: The virtuous one's Virtue ſhall not deliver him at the Time that he tranſgreſſes, nor ſhall the Wicked fall by his Wickedneſs when he returns from it, any more than the Virtuous can live by the other when he ſins.

13. When I ſay to the Virtuous, that he ſhall throughly live; and he truſts on his own Virtue, and does Iniquity, none of the former ſhall be mentioned, but for the latter which he does ſhall he die.

14. On the other hand, when I ſay to the Wicked, Thou ſhalt quite die; and he returns from his Sin, doing Juſtice and Virtue,

15. Gives back the Pawn, reſtores a Thing taken by force, and goes in the Ordinances of Life without doing Iniquity; he ſhall throughly live, not die.

16. None of his Sins which he has committed ſhall be mentioned to him; doing Juſtice and Virtue, he ſhall throughly live.

17. Yet thoſe of thy People ſay, The Lord's Way is not equal; when it is their Way is not equal.

18. When the Virtuous returns from his Virtue, and does Iniquity, he ſhall die for the ſame.

19. And when the Wicked returns from

---

31. of Egypt] Heb. her Multitude, from the 18th Ver. not his.

Ver. 11. return, return] but once in the vulg. Lat.

his Wickedneſs, doing Juſtice and Virtue, he ſhall live through them.

20. Since you ſay, The Lord's Way is not equal; I will judge you every one according to his own Ways, O Family of Iſrael.

21. In the twelfth Year of our Captivity, on the fifth of the tenth Month, there came to me one who eſcaped from Jeruſalem with Advice, that the City was conquered.

22. Now the Hand of the Lord was on me the Evening before his Coming, and opened my Mouth againſt he came to me in the Morning; which was done, ſo that I could be dumb no longer,

23. With the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

24. Man, they that inhabit thoſe waſte Places in the Country of Iſrael have to ſay, Abraham being but one inherited the Country, whereas it is given for an Inheritance to us who are many.

25. Therefore tell them, that the Sovereign Lord ſays thus; Shall you that eat with the Blood, and look up to your filthy Idols, nay ſhed Blood, inherit the Country?

26. Shall you that ſtand by your Swords, doing what is abominable, and defile every one his Neighbour's Wife, inherit the Country?

27. To whom add that the Sovereign Lord ſays thus; By my living, they who are in the waſte Places ſhall fall by the Sword, and I will deliver him that is out in the Field to the Beaſts to be devoured, as alſo thoſe who are in the Forts and Caves ſhall die with the Peſtilence.

28. So will I make the Country utterly deſolate, and the Excellency of its Strength ſhall ceaſe; even the Mountains of Iſrael ſhall be deſolate without a Paſſenger.

29. And they will know that I am the Lord, when I make the Country utterly deſolate, for all the Abominations which they have done.

30. As to thy ſelf, Man, thoſe of thy own People are talking of thee, by the Walls, and at the Doors of the Houſes; and ſpeak thus one Man to another, Come, I pray, and hear what Commiſſion comes out from the Lord.

31. Then they come to thee as People uſe to do, ſit before thee for mine, and hear what thou ſayeſt, but will not do it: for though they ſhew much Love with their Mouth, their Heart goes after their Gain.

32. And lo thou art to them as a very lovely Song with a fine Voice, or one who plays well; yet they hear what thou ſayeſt, without doing it.

33. But when that comes, as behold it will, they will know that there has been a Prophet among them.

CHAP. XXXIV.

I HAD the Lord's Commiſſion too as follows:

2. Propheſy, Man, againſt the Shepherds of Iſrael, telling them, that the Sovereign Lord ſays thus to them; Wo be to the Shepherds of Iſrael who are feeding themſelves; ſhould not Shepherds feed the Flock?

3. You eat the Fat, and wear the Wool, killing that which is fat; you feed not the Flock.

4. You neither ſtrengthen ſuch as are ſick, heal the Diſeaſed, bind up what is broke of any, bring back that which is driven away, nor ſeek for the Loſt; but rule them with Force, and Rigour:

5. Inſomuch that they are diſperſed without a Feeder; and being diſperſed, are become Meat for all the wild Beaſts.

6. My Flock wander on all the Mountains, and over every high Hill; nay they are diſperſed over the whole Surface of the Earth, none enquiring, nor ſeeking for them.

7. Therefore, you Shepherds, hear the Lord's Commiſſion:

8. By my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, becauſe my Flock are become a Prey, being Meat for all the wild Beaſts, having no Feeder, and my Shepherds do not enquire for my Flock, but they feed themſelves, and not that;

9. For theſe reaſons (hearken, O Shepherds, to the Lord's Commiſſion)

10. Behold, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, I will be againſt the Shepherds, and will require my Flock of them, as well as make them give over feeding it, nor ſhall the Shepherds feed themſelves any more: for I will deliver my Flock out of their Mouths, that they may not be Meat for them.

11. Since I my ſelf indeed, as the Sovereign Lord declares, will both ſeek for my Flock, and enquire them out.

12. Like a Shepherd's enquiring out a Drove of his, on the Day when he is among his Flocks that are ſpread about, ſo will I enquire out my Flock; and deliver them from all the Places whither they were diſperſed, at the cloudy and dark Time.

13. Having brought them out from the People, and gathered them from the Countries, I will bring them to their own Land, and feed them on the Mountains of Iſrael, by the Streams, and in all the Habitations of the Country.

and

14. In good Paſture will I feed them, and their Fold ſhall be upon the high Mountains of Iſrael: there they ſhall lie down in a good Fold, and feed on fat Paſture at the Iſraelitiſh Hills.

15. I will feed my Flock my ſelf, and make them lie down my ſelf, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

16. I will ſeek for the Loſt, will bring back that which is driven away, bind up what is broke of any, and ſtrengthen the Diſeaſed; but will deſtroy the Fat and Strong, feeding them with Judgment.

17. And you my Flock, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, lo I will judge between Cattle and Cattle, namely the Rams and the He-goats.

18. Is it too little for you to eat up the good Paſture, that you tread down the reſt of your Paſtures with your Feet; and to drink up the ſettled Water, that you trample with your Feet in what is left?

19. So that my Flock eat what you have trod down with your Feet, and drink what you have trampled in with them.

20. To thoſe the Sovereign Lord therefore ſays thus: Behold I my own ſelf will judge between the fat Cattle, and the lean ones.

21. Becauſe you thruſt away with the Side and Shoulder, and puſh with your Horns, all the Sick, till you have diſperſed them abroad;

22. I will ſave my Flock, and they ſhall become a Prey no more, when I judge betwixt Cattle and Cattle.

23. And will raiſe up a certain Shepherd for them, that he may feed them, that is my Servant David: who ſhall himſelf feed them, and be their Shepherd.

24. Nay I the Lord, who ſpeak it, will be their God, and my Servant David ſhall be a Prince among them.

25. Beſides I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, and cauſe ill Beaſts to ceaſe from the Country; inſomuch that they ſhall dwell ſecurely in the Wilderneſs, and ſleep in the Woods.

26. And I will make them, with the Places round about my Hill, bleſſed; cauſing the Rain to deſcend in its Seaſon, which ſhall be bleſſed Showers.

27. The Trees of the Field ſhall both yield their Fruit, and the Ground its Increaſe, and they ſhall be ſecure in their own Country; who ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I break the Beams of their Yoke, and deliver them from the Power of thoſe who make them ſerve.

28. And they ſhall be a Prey to the Gentiles no more, nor ſhall the Beaſts of the Country devour them; but they ſhall dwell ſecurely, and none make afraid.

29. I will alſo raiſe them up a famous Plant; and they ſhall no more be either taken away by Famine in the Country, or bear the Shame of the Gentiles.

30. Thus ſhall they know that I the Lord their God am with them, and that the Family of Iſrael themſelves are my People, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

31. For you my Flock, that of my Paſture, are Men your ſelves, I am your God, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XXXV.

MOREOVER I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards Mount Seir, and propheſy againſt it,

3. In this manner: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am againſt thee, Mount Seir, and will ſtretch out my Hand over thee, making thee utterly deſolate.

4. Thy Cities I will lay waſte, that thou mayeſt be deſolate, who ſhalt know that I am the Lord.

5. Becauſe thou haſt had continual Enmity, and didſt make the Blood of the Iſraelites flow by the Power of the Sword, in the Time of their Calamity, when their Iniquity was at an end;

6. Therefore by my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, I will make thee ready for Blood, which ſhall purſue thee: ſince thou doſt not hate Blood, even Blood ſhall purſue thee.

7. So will I make Mount Seir utterly deſolate, cutting off from it both ſuch as paſs and return.

8. And I will fill the Mountains of it with its Slain: at thy Hills, Vallies, and all thy Brooks, ſhall thoſe who are ſlain with the Sword fall.

9. I will make thee perpetually deſolate, ſo that thy Cities ſhall not be reſtored; and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

10. Becauſe thou haſt ſaid, The two Nations, and the two Countries ſhall be mine, which we will inherit, though the Lord was there;

Ver. 16. deſtroy] The Gr. and vulg. Lat. having keep, by Miſtake of the Letter ד for ר Grot. expounds it to be; Servabo in bona Valetudine, preſerve in good Health; but this is a Point of great Reproach to Commentators, and wherein they are little to be truſted, viz. the following wrong Tranſlations.

Ver. 9. deſolate] See Chap. xxv. 13, 14: Obad. 18.

11. There-

11. Therefore by my living, ſays the Sovereign Lord, I will act according to thy own Anger and Envy, with which thou haſt acted, by thy Hatred againſt them; and will be known among them, when I judge thee.

12. Thou ſhalt know too that I am the Lord, who have heard all thy Contempts, which thou haſt uttered againſt the Mountains of Iſrael, that they are deſolate, and given to you to be conſumed.

13. Nay you have magnified your ſelves againſt me with your Mouth, and abundantly uttered Words againſt me, which I heard.

14. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; As the whole Earth ſhall be glad, I will make thee deſolate.

15. As thou haſt been glad at the Family of Iſrael's Poſſeſſion, becauſe it was deſolate, ſo will I cauſe thee to be deſolate, O Mount Seir, and all Edom entirely; which ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVI.

ON the contrary propheſy, thou Man, to the Mountains of Iſrael, bidding them hear the Lord's Commiſſion,

2. Who expreſſes himſelf thus: Becauſe the Enemy has ſaid concerning you, Ha, even the ancient high Places are become our Inheritance!

3. For this reaſon propheſy as follows: Inaſmuch as you are deſolate, and ſwallowed up on every Side, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, that you may be an Inheritance to the Gentiles who are left, and are brought up in the Language that they ſpeak, being the ill Report of the People;

4. Therefore, you Mountains of Iſrael, hear the Sovereign Lord's Commiſſion, who ſays thus to the Mountains and Hills, to the Brooks and Vallies, to the waſte Places that are deſolate, and the Cities that are forſaken, which are become a Prey, and a Scoff to the Gentiles, who are left on every Side;

5. (And affirms, that he ſpeaks thus in the Fire of his Zeal, againſt the Gentiles who are left, in particular all Edom, that have beſtowed his Country on themſelves for an Inheritance, with Gladneſs of the whole Heart, and Diſdain of Mind, that it may be put out for a Prey)

6. Which conſequently thou muſt propheſy concerning the Country of Iſrael, and declare to the Mountains and Hills, to the Brooks and Vallies, as being what the Sovereign Lord ſays: Behold I ſpeak in my Zeal and Wrath, becauſe you bear the Shame of the Gentiles;

7. For which reaſon I lift up my Hand, continues he, that the Gentiles themſelves who are on every Side of you ſhall bear their Shame.

8. Whereas you, O Mountains of Iſrael, ſhall yield your Boughs, and bear your Fruit for my People Iſrael; becauſe their Coming draws near.

9. In order to which lo I am for you, and will turn to you; which ſhall be manured, and ſown.

10. I will alſo multiply Men upon you, even the whole Family of Iſrael entirely; ſo that the Cities ſhall be inhabited, and the waſte Places built in.

11. Nay I will multiply upon you both Men and Beaſts, who ſhall increaſe, and be fruitful; and will cauſe you to dwell after your former States, making it better than your Original, and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

12. In ſhort I will make Men walk on you, namely my People Iſrael; that ſhall inherit thee, whoſe Poſſeſſion thou ſhalt be; and ſhalt henceforth deprive them no more.

13. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Becauſe they tell you, Thou art the Conſumer of Men, and Depriver of thy Nations;

14. Therefore, affirms he, thou ſhalt no more conſume Men, nor yet make thy Nations fall.

15. And I will not let the Shame of the Gentiles be heard concerning thee, neither ſhalt thou bear the Reproach of People, as well as not make the Nations fall, any more, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

16. I had the Lord's Commiſſion further as follows:

17. Man, when the Family of Iſrael dwelt in their own Country, they defiled it by their Way and Deeds, their Way being before me as the Uncleanneſs of a ſeparate Woman.

18. So I ſhed my Wrath upon them, for the Blood which they ſhed in the Country, and for their filthy Idols that they defiled it with.

19. I even diſperſed them in the Nations, and they were ſcattered in the Countries: I judged them according to their own Way and Deeds.

20. Yet when they were come to the Nations whither they went, they profaned my holy Name, when thoſe ſaid to them, Theſe are the Lord's People, and are come out of his Country.

21. How-

21. However I ſpared them for my holy Name, which the Family of Iſrael profaned in the Nations whither they went.

22. To whom do thou ſay therefore, that the Sovereign Lord ſpeaks thus: I did not do it for your ſakes, O Family of Iſrael, but for my own holy Name, which you profaned in the Nations whither you went.

23. And I will ſanctify my great Name, that has been profaned there by you amongſt them: and the Gentiles ſhall know that I am the Lord, ſays he who is the Sovereign One, when I am ſanctified among you in their Sight;

24. And ſhall fetch you from the Nations, gather you from all the Countries, and bring you to your own Land.

25. Then will I ſprinkle clean Water upon you, that you may be clean; cleanſing you from all your Pollutions, and filthy Idols.

26. I will give you alſo a new Heart, put a new Spirit within you, and taking away the ſtoney Heart out of your Body, will give you one of Fleſh.

27. Nay I will put my own Spirit within you, that I may make you ſuch as will go in my Ordinances, obſerve and do my Rules:

28. And you ſhall dwell in the Country which I gave to your Forefathers; and be a People to me, as I will a God to you.

29. Whom I will preſerve from all the Pollutions that you had; and calling for Corn, will increaſe it, and put no Famine upon you.

30. I will likewiſe increaſe the Fruit of the Tree, and the Crop of the Field; to the end that you may no more receive the Reproach of Famine among the Gentiles.

31. You will then remember your ill Courſes, and your Doings which were not good; ſo that you will be loathſome to your ſelves, for your Vices and Abominations.

32. Let it be known by you, that I do it not for your ſakes, ſays the Sovereign Lord: be you aſhamed, and put to confuſion, by reaſon of your own Ways, O Family of Iſrael.

33. At the Time that I ſhall cleanſe you from all your Vices, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, I will alſo make you inhabit the Cities, the waſte Places ſhall be built in;

34. And the deſolate Country manured, foraſmuch as it is deſolate in every one's Sight who paſſes by:

35. Inſomuch that they ſhall ſay, This very Country which was deſolate, is become like the Garden of Eden, and the Cities that were waſte, deſolate and demoliſhed, are fortified and inhabited.

36. So will the Gentiles who are left round about you know, that it was I the Lord built up the demoliſhed Places, planted that which was deſolate: who ſpeak, and will do it.

37. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; I will yet be enquired of by the Family of Iſrael, to do this for them; whom I will multiply with Men like a Flock.

38. As the holy Flock, as the Flock of Jeruſalem at its Solemnities; ſo ſhall the waſte Cities be filled with Flocks of Men, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVII.

THE Hand of the Lord being upon me, he took me out by his Spirit, and having ſet me within a Valley which was full of Bones,

2. He made me paſs by them all round about; and lo there were very many out in the Vale, as behold they were alſo very dry.

3. After he had ſaid to me, Man, can theſe Bones become alive? Upon my anſwering, Thou, O Sovereign Lord, knoweſt;

4. Propheſy, replies he to me, over theſe Bones, ſaying to them; You dry Bones, hear the Lord's Commiſſion,

5. To whom he himſelf ſpeaks thus; Behold I will make Breath enter into you, that you may become alive.

6. I will likewiſe put Sinews on you, will cauſe Fleſh to come upon you, and cover you over with Skin, as well as put Breath in you, ſo that you ſhall be alive, and know that I am the Lord.

7. And I propheſied as I was commanded, which as I was doing, there was a Noiſe, and indeed a Stirring, till the Bones came to their Fellows.

8. Then I ſaw plainly that there came Sinews and Fleſh upon them, and Skin covered them over above, but there was no Breath in them.

9. In the next place he ſaid to me: Propheſy to the Breath, propheſy, Man, and declare to it; Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, Come from the four Winds, O Breath, and blow into theſe who are ſlain, that they may live.

10. Again I propheſied as he commanded me; and the Breath entered into them, ſo that they became alive, and ſtood up on their Feet, being a very exceeding great Army.

11. He ſaid to me further; Man, theſe Bones are the whole Family of Iſrael: lo they ſay, Our Bones are dried up, and our Hope periſhed, we our ſelves are cut off.

12. Therefore propheſy, and tell them the Sovereign Lord ſays thus; Behold I will open your Graves, and bring you up out of them, my People, as alſo bring you into the Country of Iſrael.

13. Who will know that I am the Lord, when I open your Graves, and bring you up out of them, my People;

14. And put my Spirit in you, ſo that you ſhall be alive, and ſet you in your own Country; nay you will know that I the Lord, ſays he himſelf, have ſpoken, and done it.

15. Beſides I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

16. Thou Man, take thee alſo one Stick, and write upon it, For Judah and the Iſraelites his Companions; then take another Stick, and write upon that, For Joſeph, the Stick of Ephraim, and the whole Family of Iſrael his Companions.

17. Next put them one to the other, to be one Stick for thee, that they may both be one in thy Hand.

18. And when thoſe of thy People aſk thee, whether thou wilt not tell them what thou haſt theſe Things for?

19. Declare to them; Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, Lo I will take the Stick of Joſeph which was in Ephraim's Hand, with the Rods of Iſrael its Fellows, and place them upon the other, namely the Stick of Judah, making them one Stick, which they ſhall be in my Hand.

20. In the mean time the Sticks which thou haſt written upon, ſhall be in thy Hand before their Eyes.

21. Who ſhalt tell them, the Sovereign Lord ſays thus: Lo I will take the Iſraelites from among the Nations whither they are gone, and gathering them on every Side, will bring them into their own Country.

22. And I will make them one Nation in the Country, on the Mountains of Iſrael, and one King ſhall be King to all of them; ſo that they ſhall be two Nations no more, nor be parted into two Kingdoms any more at all.

23. Neither ſhall they defile themſelves any more with their filthy Idols, deteſtable Things, or any of their Crimes; but I will preſerve them from all their Habitations in which they have ſinned, as likewiſe cleanſe them, and they ſhall be a People to me, as I will a God to them.

24. My Servant David too ſhall be King over them, and they ſhall all have the ſame Shepherd; they ſhall alſo go in my Rules, obſerve my Ordinances, and do them.

25. Thus ſhall they dwell in the Country which I gave to my Servant Jacob, wherein your Fathers dwelt, and not only they themſelves, but their Children and Grandchildren for ever, during which Time David my Servant ſhall be a Prince to them.

26. Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, which ſhall be a laſting one, whom I will place, multiply, and put my Sanctuary among them for ever.

27. Even my Tabernacle ſhall be with them, and I will be a God to them, as they ſhall a People to me.

28. And the Gentiles will know that I the Lord ſanctify Iſrael, when my Sanctuary is among them for ever.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

THE Lord's Commiſſion I had alſo as follows:

2. Man, put thy Face towards Gog, the Country of Magog, the chief Prince of Meſhech and Tubal, and propheſy againſt him,

3. Declaring: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am againſt thee, Gog, the chief Prince of Meſhech and Tubal.

4. Whom I will turn back, putting Hooks in thy Jaws; and will bring thee out, as alſo thy whole Army, Horſes, and Horſemen all of them with compleat Cloaths, a large Company with Buckler and Shield, handling the Sword all of them;

5. Thoſe of Perſia, Ethiopia and Libya, all of them with Shield and Helmet;

6. Gomer and all his Troops, the Family of Togarmah at the north Parts and all its Troops, many People along with thee.

7. Be prepared, and prepare thy ſelf, with all thy Company that are aſſembled to thee; and be thou a Guard to them.

8. After many Days thou ſhalt be viſited, when in the latter Years thou wilt come into the Country of thoſe that are returned from the Sword, and brought together from many People, even againſt the Mountains of Iſrael

9. And thou wilt come up as Waſting comes, wilt be as a Cloud to cover the Country, thy ſelf and all thy Troops, and many People with thee.

10. At which Time, as the Sovereign Lord ſays, Matters will come up in thy Mind, and thou wilt think an evil Thought;

11. And ſay, that thou wilt go up into the Country of Towns, go to them who are at reſt, that dwell ſecurely; all of whom dwell without Walls, and who have no Bars nor Gates:

12. To take the Effects for Spoil, and what there is for Plunder, to turn back thy Hand againſt the waſte Places which are inhabited, and to the People that are gathered from the Nations, who get Cattle and Subſtance dwelling in the middle of the Country.

13. Sheba, Dedan, and the Traders of Tarſhiſh, eſpecially all its young Lions will ſay to thee, Art thou come to take the Effects for Spoil? Haſt thou aſſembled thy Company to take what there is for Plunder, to carry away Silver and Gold, to fetch Cattle and Subſtance, to take great Effects for Spoil?

14. Therefore propheſy, Man, and declare to Gog: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Wilt not thou know that Time when my People Iſrael dwell ſecurely?

15. Then wilt thou come from thy Place out of the north Parts, accompanied with many People, riding on Horſes all of them, a great Company and large Army;

16. And wilt come up againſt my People Iſrael, as a Cloud to cover the Country: which ſhall be in the latter Times, when I bring thee againſt my Country, to the end that the Nations may know me, by my being ſanctified in thee, Gog, before their Eyes.

17. Art thou he, continues the Sovereign Lord, whom I ſpoke of in former Times by the Miniſtry of my Servants the Prophets of Iſrael, who propheſied for Years in thoſe Times, that I would bring thee againſt them?

18. At the very ſame Time that Gog comes againſt the Country of Iſrael, ſays the Sovereign Lord, ſhall my Wrath come up in my Face.

21. And I will call the Sword againſt him to all my Mountains, ſays the Sovereign Lord, their Swords ſhall be againſt one another.

22. Moreover I will come to Judgment with him by Peſtilence and Blood; an overflowing Shower too and great Hailſtones, Fire and Brimſtone, will I rain down upon him, his Troops, and the many People who are with him.

23. Thus will I both magnify and ſanctify my ſelf, that I may be known in the Sight of many Nations, which ſhall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIX.

NOW, thou Man, propheſy againſt Gog ſaying: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Behold I am againſt thee, Gog, the chief Prince of Meſhech and Tubal.

Ver. 9. And thou wilt come up as Waſting comes] This being the Order of the Heb. Words juſtifies the tranſlating ſo, eſpecially ſince the Removal of [and] as in the com. Eng. is quite unjuſtifiable, and the Accent likewiſe ſhews that Waſting belongs to comes; while the Verb. in the 2d Perſ. maſc. and 3d. fem. is the ſame: comes alſo agreeing with שׁוֹאָה Waſting, which, though Buxtorf's Lexic has it maſc. appears to be fem. not only by the feminine Termination ה and by the Accent in the laſt Syllable called Milrah, *Buxt. 3. Where after having ſtruck thy Bow out of thy left Hand, and made thy Arrows fall out of thy right;

4. Thou ſhalt fall, as likewiſe all thy Troops, and the People who are with thee: to the ravenous Birds of every Sort, and the wild Beaſts, will I deliver thee to be devoured.

5. Out in the Field ſhalt thou fall: for I ſpeak it, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

6. Beſides I will ſend Fire on Magog, and thoſe who dwell in the Iſles ſecurely; and they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

7. So will I make my holy Name be known among my People Iſrael, nor let it be profaned any more; and the Gentiles ſhall know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Iſrael.

8. Behold it is coming, and ſhall be, ſays the Sovereign Lord, that Time of which I ſpeak;

9. When they who dwell in the Cities of Iſrael ſhall go out, and burn up, ſetting on fire the Armour, both Shield and Buckler, Bow and Arrows, with Hand-ſtaff and Spear; which they ſhall make fire with ſeven Years:

10. Inſomuch that they ſhall neither carry Wood out of the Field, nor cut it down at the Coppices, becauſe they ſhall make fire with the Armour; as alſo ſpoil thoſe that ſpoiled them, and plunder thoſe that plundered them, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

11. At which Time I will give Gog a Burying-place there in Iſrael, the Valley of Paſſengers on the eaſt Side of the Sea, whoſe Noſes it ſhall ſtop up; where they ſhall bury Gog and all its Multitude, calling it, The Valley of Gog's Multitude.

12. And the Family of Iſrael ſhall be burying them, in order to cleanſe the Country, ſeven Months.

13. Even all the People of the Country ſhall bury them, for they will have Renown by it; being the Time that I ſhall be honoured, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

14. Nay they ſhall ſet apart Men that ſhall paſs continually through the Country, burying with the Paſſengers ſuch as are left on the Surface of the Ground, to cleanſe it; who ſhall ſearch at the End of ſeven Months.

15. And when any one of the Paſſengers that go through the Country ſees a Man's Bone, he ſhall erect a Monument by it, till the Buryers have buried it at The Valley of Gog's Multitude.

16. In like manner the Name of the City ſhall be The Multitude. So ſhall they cleanſe the Country.

17. Moreover, thou Man, thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: Declare both to the Birds of every Sort, and all the wild Beaſts; Get together, and come, gather on every Side to my Sacrifice which I will kill for you, being a great one upon the Mountains of Iſrael; that you may eat Fleſh, and drink Blood.

18. Which ſhall be the Fleſh of ſtout Men, and the Blood of the Princes of the Earth; like Rams, Lambs and Goats, or Bullocks, all of them the fat ones of Baſhan.

19. You ſhall alſo eat Fat till you are glutted, and drink Blood till you are drunk, out of my Sacrifice which I have killed for you.

20. Thus ſhall you be filled at my Table with Horſes and thoſe of Chariots, ſtout Men and all the Warriors, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

21. I will put my Glory too among the Gentiles; who ſhall all ſee my Judgment which I execute, and my Hand which I lay on them.

22. And the Family of Iſrael ſhall know that I am the Lord their God, from that Time forward.

23. The Gentiles ſhall likewiſe know that the Family of Iſrael were carried away for their Iniquity, becauſe they did amiſs againſt me, ſo that I hid my Face from them; and delivering them into the Power of their Adverſaries, all of them fell by the Sword.

24. Whom I dealt with according to their Uncleanneſs and Tranſgreſſions, when I hid my Face from them.

25. Therefore the Sovereign Lord ſays thus; I will now bring back the Captives of Jacob, will have mercy on the whole Family of Iſrael, and be zealous for my holy Name.

28. They will know that I am the Lord their God, by my carrying them away to the Nations, and gathering them to their own Country: none of whom I will leave there any longer.

29. Nor will I hide my Face any longer from them, who am pouring out my Spirit upon the Family of Iſrael, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XL.

IN the twenty fifth Year of our Captivity, in the Beginning of the Year, on the tenth of the Month, in the fourteenth Year after the City was ſmitten, on that very Day was the Hand of the Lord upon me, and he brought me thither.

2. In the Viſions of God he brought me into the Country of Iſrael, and placed me on a very high Mountain, by which was as the Frame of a City on the South.

3. Whither having brought me, behold there was a Perſon whoſe Appearance was like that of Braſs, with a Line of Flax in his Hand, and a meaſuring Cane; and he ſtood at the Gate.

4. The Perſon alſo ſaid to me, Man, ſee with thy Eyes, hear with thy Ears, and take notice of all that I ſhew thee; for thou art brought hither in order for me to ſhew thee: declare all which thou ſeeſt to the Family of Iſrael.

5. And behold there was a Wall at the Outſide of the Houſe all round about: in the Perſon's Hand too was a meaſuring Cane of ſix Cubits, by the Cubit and Hands-breadth; and he meaſured the Breadth of the Building one Cane, and the Height ſo much.

6. Next he came to the Gate whoſe Front was the Way towards the Eaſt, and going upon the Stairs of it, he meaſured the Threſhold of the Gate one Cane broad, and the other Threſhold the ſame.

7. A Chamber was likewiſe one Cane long, and ſo much broad, and it was five Cubits between the Chambers; as was the Threſhold of the Gate, by the Porch of the Gate at the Inſide, one Cane:

8. Moreover he meaſured the Porch of the Gate at the Inſide one Cane.

9. As he did the Porch of the Gate eight Cubits, and the Lintels of it two Cubits; the Porch of the Gate being on the Inſide.

10. And the Chambers of the Gate the Way to the Eaſt, were three on one Side, and ſo many on the other, three of them having one Meaſure; the Lintels likewiſe had one Meaſure, both on one Side and the other.

11. He further meaſured the Entrance of the Gate ten, its Length thirteen Cubits.

12. The Bounds alſo before the Chambers were one Cubit, and the Bounds on one Side the ſame; the Chambers too were ſix Cubits on one, and ſo many on the other Side.

13. Then he meaſured the Gate, from the Roof of a Chamber to the Roof of that, twenty five Cubits broad, there being one Door before another.

14. Beſides he made Lintels of ſixty Cubits, even to the Lintel of the Court all round about the Gate.

15. And before the Gate of the Entry, oppoſite to the Front of the Porch of the inner Gate, it was fifty Cubits.

16. And there were Windows ſhut to the Chambers, and to their Lintels, within the Gate all round about, and ſo to the Porches; there being Windows all round about within, and on the Lintel Palm-trees.

17. In the next place he brought me to the outer Court, and behold there were Rooms and a Pavement, made to the Court all round about, thirty Rooms on the Pavement.

18. And the Pavement at the Side of the Gates, over againſt the Length of them, was the lower one.

19. He likewiſe meaſured the Breadth from before the lower Gate, to before the inner Court without, a hundred Cubits, eaſtward and northward.

20. As for the Gate whoſe Front was the Way to the North, at the outer Court, he meaſured both the Length and Breadth of it.

21. The Chambers of which were three on one Side and three on the other, and its Lintels and Porches were according to the Meaſure of the firſt Gate; the Length of it fifty, and the Breadth twenty five Cubits.

22. Its Windows, Porches and Palm-trees, were alſo according to the Meaſure of the Gate whoſe Front was the Way to the Eaſt; and they went up on it by ſeven Stairs, the Porches of it being before them.

23. The Gate moreover of the inner Court was before this, towards the North and Eaſt; and he meaſured from one Gate to the other a hundred Cubits.

24. Afterwards he took me the Way to the South, which Way behold there was a Gate; and he meaſured the Lintels and Porches of it, according to thoſe Meaſures.

25. And there were Windows to it, and to the Porches of it all round about, like thoſe Windows: fifty Cubits was the Length, and the Breadth twenty five.

26. The Aſcent of it was alſo ſeven Stairs, and the Porches of it were before them; and it had Palm-trees one at one Side, and another at the other, on the Lintels of it.

27. There was beſides a Gate to the inner Court the Way to the South; and he meaſured from one Gate to the other, the Way to the South, a hundred Cubits.

28. He after brought me to the inner Court at the ſouth Gate, and meaſured that Gate according to thoſe Meaſures;

29. As likewiſe its Chambers, Lintels and Porches, according to the ſame, and there were Windows to it, and to the Porches of it all round about: fifty Cubits was the Length, and the Breadth twenty five.

30. Moreover the Porches all round about, were twenty five Cubits long, and five broad.

31. And the Porches of it were towards the outer Court, there being Palm-trees on its Lintels; and the Aſcent of it was eight Stairs.

32. Beſides he brought me to the inner Court, the Way to the Eaſt, and meaſured the Gate according to thoſe Meaſures;

33. As likewiſe its Chambers, Lintels and Porches, according to the ſame; and there were Windows to it, and to the Porches of it all round about: the Length was fifty, and the Breadth twenty five Cubits.

34. And the Porches of it were towards the outer Court, there being Palm-trees on its Lintels on both Sides; and the Aſcent of it was eight Stairs.

35. Then he brought me to the north Gate, and meaſured according to thoſe Meaſures,

36. Its Chambers, Lintels and Porches, with the Windows belonging to it all round about: the Length was fifty, and the Breadth twenty five Cubits.

37. And the Lintels of it were towards the outer Court, there being Palm-trees on its Lintels on both Sides; and the Aſcent of it was eight Stairs.

38. There was alſo a Room, with the Entrance of it, at the Lintels of the Gates; where they waſhed the Burnt-offering.

39. And in the Porch of the Gate were two Tables on one, and two on the other Side; that the Burnt-offering, Sin-offering, and Treſpaſs-offering might be killed on them.

40. And at the Side without, going up to the Entrance of the north Gate, were two Tables; as there were alſo at the other Side, which was at the Porch of the Gate.

41. Four Tables were on one, and four on the other Side, at the Side of the Gate: on thoſe eight Tables they killed.

42. And the four Tables for the Burnt-offering were hewn Stones, one Cubit and a half long, ſo much broad, and one Cubit high: and on thoſe they placed the Inſtruments, with which they killed the Burnt-offering and Sacrifice.

43. In the Houſe moreover all round about, were Stones of the Hearth of a Hands-breadth put in order; and on the Tables was the Fleſh of the Offering.

44. Without the inner Gate too were the Rooms of the Singers, in the inner Court which was at the Side of the north Gate, their Front being the Way to the South; one at the Side of the eaſt Gate, with the Front the Way to the North.

45. And he ſaid to me; This Room whoſe Front is the Way to the South, is for the Prieſts that keep the Charge of the Houſe;

46. As is the Room whoſe Front is the Way to the North, for the Prieſts that keep the Charge of the Altar: they being the Poſterity of Zadok, who come near to the Lord, of the Poſterity of Levi, to miniſter to him.

47. He alſo meaſured the Court, a hundred

Cubits

Cubits long, and ſo many broad, being ſquare; with the Altar before the Houſe.

48. And bringing me to the Porch of the Houſe, he meaſured the Lintel of the Porch, five Cubits on one Side, and ſo many on the other; the Breadth of the Gate being three Cubits on one Side, and as many on the other.

49. The Length of the Porch was twenty, and the Breadth eleven Cubits, even at the Stairs by which they went up to it; and there were Pillars at the Lintels, on one Side, and another on the other.

CHAP XLI.

AFTER that he brought me to the Temple, and meaſured the Lintels ſix Cubits broad on one Side, and ſo many broad on the other, the Breadth of the Tent.

2. And the Breadth of the Door was ten Cubits, as alſo the Sides of the Door five Cubits on one, and ſo many on the other Side; he likewiſe meaſured the Length of it forty, and the Breadth twenty Cubits.

3. Then he went in, and meaſured the Lintel of the Door two, the Door ſix, and the Breadth of it ſeven Cubits.

4. And having meaſured its Length twenty Cubits, and the Breadth ſo many before the Temple, he ſaid to me, This is the very holy Place.

5. Next he meaſured the Wall of the Houſe ſix, and the Breadth of the Side-room four Cubits, all round about the Houſe on every Side.

6. Now the Side-rooms one on another were three, being thirty Feet, and went into a Wall which was at the Houſe, for the Side-rooms all round about to be held; yet they were not held in the Wall of the Houſe.

7. There was alſo an enlarging, and turning about ſtill upward, to the Side-rooms; for it was made round the Houſe ſtill upward, all round about it; therefore the Breadth to the Houſe was upward: and ſo the loweſt went up againſt the higheſt at the middle.

8. I ſaw moreover at the Houſe the Height all round about: the Foundations of the Side-rooms were a full Cane of ſix Cubits to the Wing.

9. The Breadth of the Wall which belonged to the Side-room without was five Cubits, and what was left was the Place of the Side-rooms which were at the Houſe.

10. And between the Rooms was the Breadth of twenty Cubits, on every Side of the Houſe all round about.

11. The Door of a Side-room being at what was left, one Door the Way to the North, and another Door to the South; and the Breadth of the Place that was left was five Cubits all round about.

12. And the Building which was before the Partition, at the Side in the Way to the Weſt, was ſeventy Cubits broad, the Wall of the Building five Cubits thick all round about, and the Length of it ninety Cubits.

13. He further meaſured the Houſe, a hundred Cubits long, with the Partition; and the Building, with the Walls of it, ſo many long;

14. As likewiſe the Breadth of the Front of the Houſe, with the Partition towards the Eaſt, a hundred Cubits.

15. And he meaſured the Length of the Building, before the Partition which was behind it, with its Galleries on both Sides, a hundred Cubits; as alſo the inner Temple, and the Porches of the Court;

16. The Threſholds, the Windows that were ſhut, and the Galleries round about at their three Stories, before the Threſhold which was cieled with Wood all round about; nay the

20. From the Ground to above the Door, were Cherubs and Palm-trees made, and on the Wall of the Temple.

21. The Temple was with ſquare Poſts, and the Front of the holy Place with an Appearance like that.

22. The wooden Altar was three Cubits high, and the Length of it two Cubits; its Corners that it had, its Length and Walls, were alſo Wood: and he ſaid to me, This is the Table which is before the Lord.

23. Both the Temple and holy Place had two Doors,

24. And the Doors had two Leaves, ſuch as were turned about, one Door had two, and the other two Leaves.

25. On which Doors of the Temple were made Cherubs and Palm-trees, as were made on the Walls; and there was a wooden Beam on the Front of the Porch without.

26. There were alſo Windows that were ſhut, and Palm-trees, on both Sides, at the Sides of the Porch, the Side-rooms of the Houſe, and the Beams.

CHAP. XLII.

THEN he took me forth to the outer Court, the Way which is that to the North, and brought me to the Room which was both before the Partition, and the Building towards the North.

2. At the Front a hundred Cubits long was the north Door, the Breadth being fifty Cubits.

3. Before the twenty which were for the inner Court, and before the Pavement which was for the outer Court, there was one Gallery at the Front of another in three Stories.

4. And before the Rooms was a Walk ten Cubits broad inward, a Way one Cubit; with their Gates to the North.

5. But the uppermoſt Rooms were the ſhorteſt: for the Galleries were higher than thoſe that were the loweſt, and the middlemoſt of the Building.

6. For they were three Stories, but they had not Pillars like thoſe of the Courts: therefore it was narrower than the loweſt, and the middlemoſt from the Ground.

7. As for the Fence which was without over againſt the Rooms, the Way to the outer Court, at the Front of the Rooms, the Length of it was fifty Cubits.

8. For the Length of the Rooms which were at the outer Court was fifty Cubits, and lo before the Temple it was a hundred Cubits.

9. Now from under theſe Rooms was the Entrance on the Eaſt, going into them from the outer Court.

10. In the Thickneſs of the Fence of the Court the Way to the Eaſt, at the Front of the Partition, and at the Front of the Building, were the Rooms.

11. And the Way before them was like the Appearance of the Rooms, which were the Way to the North, according to their Length, and ſo to their Breadth; nay all their goings out were both according to their Manners and Doors.

12. According to the Doors likewiſe of the Rooms which were the Way to the South, there was a Door at the Top of the Way, that which was directly in the Front of the Fence, the Way to the Eaſt at the going into them.

13. And he ſaid to me; The north and ſouth Rooms which are at the Front of the Partition, they are holy Rooms, where the Prieſts who go near to the Lord ſhall eat the very holy Things: there ſhall they lay up the very holy Things, the Meat-offering, Sin-offering and Treſpaſs-offering; for Place is holy.

14. When the Prieſts go into them, they ſhall not come out of the holy Place to the outer Court, but ſhall lay up their Garments there which they miniſter with, becauſe they are holy; and ſhall put on other Garments, and go near to what belongs to the People.

15. Thus having finiſhed the Meaſures of the inner Houſe, he had me forth the Way to the Gate whoſe Front was the Way to the Eaſt, and meaſured it all round about.

16. He meaſured the eaſt Quarter with a meaſuring Cane, five hundred Cubits by the

17. He meaſured the north Quarter, five hundred by the Canes, with the meaſuring Cane round about.

18. The ſouth Quarter he meaſured, five hundred by the Canes, with the meaſuring Cane.

19. Turning about to the weſt Quarter, he meaſured five hundred by the Canes, with the ſame.

20. At the four Quarters he meaſured it, there being a Wall to it all round about, five hundred long and ſo many broad; to make a ſeparation between the holy and common Place.

CHAP. XLIII.

AFTERWARDS he took me to the Gate, that which looked the Way to the Eaſt.

2. And behold the Glory of the God of Iſrael came from the Way of the Eaſt; the Noiſe of whom was like that of much Water, and the Earth ſhined by his Glory.

3. And there was like the Appearance of the Viſion which I ſaw, like the Appearance which I ſaw when I came to deſtroy the City; even the Appearances were like that which I ſaw at the River Chebar: with this I fell on my Face.

4. Then the Glory of the Lord came into the Houſe, the Way of the Gate whoſe Front was the Way to the Eaſt.

5. The Spirit alſo taking me up, brought me to the inner Court, and behold the Glory of the Lord filled the Houſe.

6. Moreover I heard him ſpeak to me out of the Houſe, as the Man was ſtanding by me.

7. And he ſaid to me: Man, this is the Place of my Throne, and the Place of the Soles of my Feet, where I will dwell among the Iſraelites for ever, and the Family of Iſrael, or their Kings, ſhall no more defile my holy Name by their Whoredom, or by the Corpſes of their Kings at their Chapels,

8. By their putting their Threſhold with mine, their Poſt by mine, and a Wall between me and them; and as they defiled my holy Name by their Abominations which they did, I conſumed them in my Anger.

9. Now let them remove their Whoredom, and the Corpſes of their Kings far from me; and I will dwell among them for ever.

10. Thou Man, tell the Family of Iſrael concerning the Houſe, that they may be aſhamed of their Iniquities; and let them meaſure the Shape.

11. And if they are aſhamed of all which they have done, let them know the Form of the Houſe, its Order, goings out and comings in, nay all its Forms, and all the Ordinances of it, as well as all its Forms, with all the Laws of it, and write them in their Sight; then let them obſerve the whole Form, with all the Ordinances of it, and do them.

12. This is the Law of the Houſe: upon the Top of the Mountain the whole Bounds of it all round about ſhall be very holy; behold this is the Law of the Houſe.

13. And theſe are the Meaſures of the Altar by Cubits, each a Cubit and a Handsbreadth: the Step being a Cubit, and the Breadth a Cubit, as alſo its Border at the Edge of it round about one Span; and this is the Brow of the Altar.

14. Beſides from the Step at the Ground to the lower Water-table is two Cubits, and the Breadth one; and from the leſſer Water-table to the greater is four, and the Breadth a Cubit.

15. So Harel is four Cubits, and from Ariel upwards are four Horns.

16. Ariel likewiſe is twelve long, ſo many broad; ſquare at the four Quarters of it.

17. And the Water-table is fourteen long, ſo many broad, at the four Quarters of it; with the Border round about it half a Cubit, and a Step to it a Cubit round about, the Stairs of it looking to the Eaſt.

18. He ſaid to me further: Man, thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Theſe ſhall be the Ordinances of the Altar on the Day it is made, to offer up Burnt-offerings upon it, and ſprinkle Blood upon it.

19. And thou ſhalt give to the Prieſts the Levites, thoſe who are of the Offspring of Zadok, that come near to me, ſays the Sovereign Lord, to miniſter to me, a young Bullock of the Herd for a Sin-offering.

20. Some of whoſe Blood thou ſhalt take, and put upon the four Horns of it, as likewiſe on the four Corners of the Water-table, and on the Border round about: thus ſhalt thou cleanſe it, and purge it.

21. Thou ſhalt alſo take the Bullock of the Sin-offering, and burn it in the appointed Place of the Houſe, without the Sanctuary.

22. And on the ſecond Day thou ſhalt bring near a perfect Kid of the Goats, for a Sin-offering; and they ſhall cleanſe the Altar, as they cleanſed with the Bullock.

23. When thou haſt made an end of cleanſing, thou ſhalt bring near a perfect young Bullock of the Herd, and a perfect Ram from the Flock.

24. Which thou having brought near before the Lord, the Prieſts ſhall throw Salt upon them, and offer them up a Burnt-offering to the Lord.

25. Seven Days ſhalt thou make ready a Kid for a Sin-offering each Day; a young Bullock of the Herd and a Ram from the Flock that are perfect, they ſhall likewiſe make ready.

26. Seven Days ſhalt thou purge the Altar, and make it clean; as alſo fill their Hands.

27. And when they have finiſhed the Days, on the eighth Day and forward, the Prieſts ſhall make your Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings upon the Altar, and I will accept you, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XLIV.

NEXT he took me back the Way to the Gate of the outer Sanctuary, that looks to the Eaſt, and it was ſhut.

2. And the Lord ſaid to me; This Gate ſhall be ſhut, not open, and no Man ſhall go in at it, becauſe the Lord God of Iſrael has gone in at it; ſo it ſhall be ſhut.

3. It is for the Prince, he himſelf ſhall ſit at it, to eat Bread before the Lord: he ſhall go in by the Way of the Porch of the Gate, and go out by the Way of it.

4. He alſo brought me the Way to the north Gate, at the Front of the Houſe; and as I looked, behold the Glory of the Lord filled the Lord's Houſe: at which I fell on my Face.

5. Then the Lord ſaid to me: Man, take notice, ſee with thy Eyes, and hear with thy Ears all that I ſpeak to thee, concerning all the Ordinances of the Lord's Houſe, and all the Laws of it: and take notice of the Entrance of the Houſe, among all the goings out of the Sanctuary.

6. And thou ſhalt declare to the rebellious Family of Iſrael: Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; Let it be enough for you of all your Abominations, O Family of Iſrael;

7. By your bringing the Sons of Strangers, both of uncircumciſed Heart and Fleſh, to be in my Sanctuary, to profane my Houſe it ſelf; by your bringing near my Bread, the Fat and Blood, ſo that they have broke my Covenant with all your Abominations.

8. Whereas you have not kept the Charge of my holy Things; but put Keepers of my Charge, in my Sanctuary, for your ſelves.

9. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: There ſhall not any Son of a Stranger, both of uncircumciſed Heart and Fleſh, come into my Sanctuary, even any Son of a Stranger who is among the Iſraelites.

10. But the Levites who went far off from me, when Iſrael went aſtray, which they did from me after their filthy Idols, ſhall ſuffer for their Iniquity.

11. Yet they ſhall miniſter in my Sanctuary, be appointed for the Gates of the Houſe, and miniſter at it, they ſhall kill the Burnt-offering and Sacrifice for the People, before whom they ſhall ſtand to miniſter for them.

12. Becauſe they miniſtred for them before their filthy Idols, and were a Stumbling-block of Iniquity to the Family of Iſrael; therefore I have lifted up my Hand againſt them, ſays the Sovereign Lord, and they ſhall ſuffer for their Iniquity.

13. And they ſhall not come nigh me, to execute the Prieſthood to me, or to come nigh any of my holy Things belonging to the very holy Places; but ſhall ſuffer for their Shame and Abominations, which they have done.

14. However I will make them Keepers of the Charge of the Houſe, for all the Service of it, and for all that ſhall be done in it.

15. As for the Prieſts the Levites, the Poſterity of Zadok, who kept the Charge of my Sanctuary, when the Iſraelites went aſtray from me, they ſhall come near me, to miniſter to me; and ſhall ſtand before me, to bring near to me the Fat and Blood, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

16. They ſhall enter into my Sanctuary, and they ſhall come near my Table, to miniſter to me; as alſo keep my Charge.

Ver. 15. bring near] the ſame Verb as here rendered come near in another Conjugation, which makes ſuch a Difference. The like in other Places.

17. And

17. And when they go in at the Gates of the inner Court, they ſhall put on linen Garments; and no Wool ſhall come upon them, when they miniſter by the Gates of the inner Court, and at the Houſe.

18. There ſhall be linen Tires upon their Heads, as there ſhall linen Drawers upon their Loins; they ſhall not be girded to have Sweat.

19. When they go forth alſo to the outer Court, to the People there, they ſhall pull off their Garments in which they miniſtred, and lay them up in the holy Rooms; putting on other Garments, and ſhall not conſecrate the People in their Garments.

20. They ſhall neither ſhave their Heads, nor let the Hair grow long; they ſhall only cut the Hair of their Heads.

21. Nor ſhall any Prieſt drink Wine, when they go into the inner Court.

22. Nor ſhall they take them for Wives, a Widow, or one divorced; but ſhall take Virgins of the Offspring of the Family of Iſrael, or a Widow who is the Widow of a Prieſt.

23. And they ſhall teach my People the Difference of holy and common, as likewiſe let them know the Difference of unclean and clean.

24. In Controverſy too they ſhall ſtand for Judgment, judging it by my Judgments; and ſhall keep my Laws and Ordinances in all my ſolemn Aſſemblies, and conſecrate my Sabbaths.

25. And they ſhall not come to a dead Perſon to be unclean; but for a Father, or Mother, or Son, or Daughter, for a Brother, or a Siſter who has not had a Huſband, they may be unclean.

26. Moreover after he is cleanſed, they ſhall count ſeven Days for him.

27. Beſides on the Day he goes into the holy Place, into the inner Court, to miniſter in the holy Place, he ſhall bring near his Sin-offering, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

28. And they ſhall have for a Poſſeſſion me their Poſſeſſion; ſo you ſhall give them no Inheritance in Iſrael, I being their Inheritance.

29. The Meat-offering, Sin-offering and Treſpaſs-offering, ſhall they eat; and every devoted Thing in Iſrael ſhall be theirs.

30. The firſt alſo of all the Firſt-fruits of every Thing, and every Offering, any of all your Offerings, ſhall be for the Prieſts; nay you ſhall give the Prieſt the firſt of your Dough, to make a Bleſſing reſt at thy Houſe.

31. The Prieſts ſhall not eat any Carcaſe, or what is torn, whether of Fowl or Beaſt.

CHAP. XLV.

AND when you part the Land by lot for Poſſeſſion, you ſhall offer up a holy Offering of the Land to the Lord, the Length twenty five thouſand Cubits long, and the Breadth ten thouſand; which ſhall be holy in the whole Bounds of it round about.

2. Of this there ſhall be for the holy Place five hundred, by five hundred ſquare round about; and fifty Cubits the Suburb to it round about.

3. And of this Meaſure ſhalt thou meaſure the Length twenty five thouſand, and Breadth ten thouſand; within which ſhall be the Sanctuary, the very holy Place.

4. The holy Part of the Land ſhall be for the Prieſts, the Miniſters of the Sanctuary, who come near to miniſter to the Lord; being a Place to them for Houſes, and a holy Place for a Sanctuary.

5. Twenty five thouſand long and ten thouſand broad, ſhall likewiſe be for the Levites themſelves, the Miniſters of the Houſe, for an Inheritance to twenty Rooms.

6. You ſhall alſo put the Inheritance of the City five thouſand broad, and twenty five thouſand long, over againſt the holy Offering: it ſhall be for the whole Family of Iſrael.

7. And it ſhall be for the Prince on both Sides of the holy Offering, and of the Inheritance of the City, at the Front both of the holy Offering and the Inheritance of the City, on the weſt Side weſtward, and on the eaſt Side eaſtward; the Length being over againſt one of the Parts, from the weſt Border to the eaſt Border,

8. It ſhall be his Inheritance of Land in Iſrael; and my Princes ſhall no more oppreſs my People, but give the Land to the Family of Iſrael according to their Tribes.

9. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, Let it be enough for you, O Princes of Iſrael, put away Injury and Waſting, as alſo execute Judgment and Juſtice; take off your drivings out from my People, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

10. You ſhall have juſt Ballances, a juſt Ephah, and a juſt Bath.

11. The Ephah and Bath ſhall be the ſame Quantity, for the Bath to hold the tenth Part of a Homer; and the Ephah the tenth of a Homer, the Form of it being according to a Homer.

12. And the Shekel ſhall be twenty Gerahs; twenty Shekels, twenty five Shekels, fifteen Shekels ſhall be the Maneh for you.

13. This is the Offering which you ſhall offer up; the ſixth Part of an Ephah out of a Homer of Wheat, as you ſhall likewiſe the ſixth Part of an Ephah out of a Homer of Barley.

14. And the Ordinance for Oil, for a Bath of it; ſhall be the tenth Part of a Bath out of a Cor, being a Homer of ten Baths: for ten Baths are a Homer.

15. There ſhall further be one Sheep out of the Flock, of two hundred, out of a watered Place of Iſrael, for a Meat-offering, Burnt-offering and Peace-offerings: to make atonement for them, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

16. All the People of the Country ſhall belong to this Offering, with the Prince in Iſrael.

17. And upon the Prince ſhall be the Burnt-offerings, Meat-offering and Drink-offering, on the Feaſts, New-moons, and Sabbaths, on all the appointed Times of the Family of Iſrael; he ſhall prepare the Sin-offering, Meat-offering, Burnt-offering and Peace-offerings, to make atonement for the Family of Iſrael.

18. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: On the firſt of the firſt Month, thou ſhalt take a perfect young Bullock of the Herd, and cleanſe the Sanctuary.

19. For the Prieſt ſhall take ſome of the Blood of the Sin-offering, and put on the Poſts of the Houſe, on the four Corners of the Water-table belonging to the Altar, and upon the Poſts of the Gate of the inner Court.

20. Thou ſhalt do ſo moreover on the ſeventh of the Month, by reaſon of a Perſon who errs, or has been ſilly: thus ſhall you purge the Houſe.

21. On the fourteenth Day of the firſt Month you ſhall have the Paſſover, a Feaſt of ſeven Days, eating unleavened Cakes.

22. And on that Day the Prince ſhall prepare for himſelf, and for all the People of the Country, a Bullock for a Sin-offering.

23. Nay on the ſeven Days of the Feaſt he ſhall prepare a Burnt-offering to the Lord, ſeven Bullocks and ſo many Rams that are perfect, daily the ſeven Days; as alſo a Sin-offering, a Kid of the Goats daily.

24. Beſides he ſhall prepare a Meat-offering of an Ephah to a Bullock, and an Ephah to a Ram, with a Hin of Oil to an Ephah.

25. On the fifteenth Day of the ſeventh Month, in the Feaſt, ſhall he prepare ſuch as theſe ſeven Days; according to the Sin-offering, Burnt-offering, and Meat-offering, with the Oil.

CHAP. XLVI.

THUS ſays the Sovereign Lord: The Gate of the inner Court that looks eaſtward, ſhall be ſhut the ſix working Days; but on the Sabbath-day it ſhall be open, as it ſhall on the Day of the New-moon.

2. And the Prince ſhall enter in the Way of the Porch at the Gate without, and ſtanding by the Poſt of the Gate, the Prieſts ſhall prepare his Burnt-offering and Peace-offerings, when having worſhipped by the Threſhold of the Gate, he ſhall go forth; but the Gate ſhall not be ſhut till the Evening.

3. The People of the Country ſhall likewiſe worſhip at the Entrance of that Gate, on the Sabbaths and New-moons, before the Lord.

4. Now the Burnt-offering which the Prince ſhall bring near to the Lord on the Sabbath-day, ſhall be ſix perfect Lambs, and a perfect Ram.

5. There ſhall alſo be a Meat-offering of an Ephah to the Ram, and to the Lambs a Meat-offering, the Gift of his Hand; with a Hin of Oil to the Ephah.

6. On the Day of the New-moon too, it ſhall be a perfect young Bullock of the Herd of thoſe that are perfect, with ſix Lambs and a Ram that are perfect.

7. He ſhall beſides prepare a Meat-offering, an Ephah to the Bullock, an Ephah to the Ram, and to the Lambs according as he can get; with a Hin of Oil to an Ephah.

8. And when the Prince enters, he ſhall go in the Way of the Porch at the Gate, as likewiſe go forth by the Way of it.

9. Whereas when the People of the Country enter before the Lord, on the appointed Times, he who goes in the Way of the north Gate to worſhip, ſhall go out the Way of the ſouth Gate, and he who goes in the Way of the ſouth Gate, ſhall go out the Way of the north Gate: he ſhall not return the Way of the Gate by which he goes in, but go forth over againſt it.

10. Moreover the Prince ſhall go in among them, when they do; and go forth, when they do.

11. And on the Feaſts and appointed Times, there ſhall be a Meat-offering of an Ephah to a Bullock, an Ephah to a Ram, and to the Lambs the Gift of his Hand; with a Hin of Oil to the Ephah.

12. And when the Prince ſhall prepare a free Burnt-offering, or Peace-offerings freely to the Lord, the Gate that looks eaſtward ſhall be opened for him, who ſhall prepare his Burnt-offering and Peace-offerings, as he did on the Sabbath-day; then ſhall he go forth, and after he is gone out, the Gate ſhall be ſhut.

13. Thou ſhalt prepare a Burnt-offering to the Lord daily, a perfect Lamb in his firſt Year; doing it Morning by Morning.

14. For which thou ſhalt prepare a Meat-offering Morning by Morning, the ſixth Part of an Ephah, and the third Part of a Hin of Oil, to ſprinkle on the fine Flour: a continual Meat-offering to the Lord by laſting Ordinances.

15. So ſhall they prepare the Lamb, the Meat-offering and Oil, Morning by Morning, a continual Burnt-offering.

16. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord; When the Prince gives a Gift to any of his Sons, the Poſſeſſion of it his Sons ſhall have, their Inheritance by Poſſeſſion.

17. On the contrary when he gives a Gift of his Poſſeſſion to one of his Servants, it ſhall be his to the Year of Liberty, when it ſhall return to the Prince; but his Poſſeſſion for his Sons they ſhall have.

18. And the Prince ſhall not take any of the People's Poſſeſſion, to put them by Oppreſſion out of their Inheritance, he ſhall give his Sons poſſeſſion out of his own Inheritance; to the end that my People may not be diſperſed from their reſpective Inheritances.

19. He after that brought me through the Entry which was at the Side of the Gate, into the holy Rooms belonging to the Prieſts, that looked northward; and behold a Place was there on the two Sides weſtward.

20. Then he ſaid to me, This is the Place where the Prieſts ſhall boil the Treſpaſs-offering, and Sin-offering; in which they ſhall bake the Meat-offering, that they may not carry it out to the outer Court, to conſecrate the People.

21. Next he took me forth to the outer Court, and made me paſs by the four Corners of it; and behold there was a Court in each Corner of the Court.

22. In the four Corners of the Court were Courts with Chimnies, forty Cubits long, and thirty broad; theſe four Angles having the ſame Meaſure.

23. And there was a Row round about in them, round about the four of them; with Boiling-places made under the Rows round about.

24. He ſaid to me further, Theſe are a Houſe for them who boil, where the Miniſters of the Houſe ſhall boil the Sacrifice of the People.

CHAP. XLVII.

AFTER this he took me back to the Door of the Houſe, and behold Water came out from under the Threſhold of the Houſe eaſtward, for the Front of the Houſe was eaſtward; and the Water ran down from under the right Side of the Houſe, from the South-ſide of the Altar.

2. In the next place he took me out the Way to the north Gate, and round about the Way without, to the outer Gate the Way that looks eaſtward; and behold there flowed Water from the right Side.

3. When the Man in whoſe Hand the Line was went forth eaſtward, he alſo meaſured a thouſand Cubits, and made me go into the Water, which was to the Ancles.

4. Again he meaſured a thouſand, and made me go into the Water, which was to the Knees; then he meaſured a thouſand, and made me go into the Water to the Loins.

5. Laſtly meaſuring a thouſand, it was a River that I could not go in: for the Water was high, which muſt be ſwum in, a River that might not be paſſed.

6. And having ſaid to me, Doſt thou ſee, Man? he took me back again to the Bank of the River.

Ver. 16. a Gift] Lat. donum, but in the Bible of Pope Sixtus V. domum, a Houſe.

Ver. 22. with Chimnies] So. Jun. and Trem. have caminata; the Tig. Verſ. and Caſt. fumoſa, ſmoaky; the Verb it comes from ſignifying to burn incenſe; and this alſo appears by the following Account: for to what Purpoſe is it that the ſame Verb denotes ſometimes in Chald. to bind or tie, ſince it cannot have that Meaning here, and to be joyned is a different one.

7. When I was returned, behold at the Bank of the River were alſo very many Trees on both Sides.

8. And he told me; This Water goes out to the eaſt Border, and down to the Deſart; ſo it enters the Sea, at which it goes forth, and the Water is healed.

9. Nay every living Creature that moves, whitherſoever both the Rivers come, will live, and there will be very many Fiſh: becauſe the Water comes thither, they will not only be healed, but every Thing will live whither the River comes.

10. And there will ſtand Fiſhers upon it, from En-gedi to En-eglaim, being Places to ſpread Nets; whoſe Fiſh will be of each Kind, like the Fiſh of the great Sea very many.

11. The mirey Places of it, and its Lakes, will however not be healed, they will be given to Salt.

12. And by the River will come up, on the Bank of it at both Sides, all Trees of Food, whoſe Leaf will not wither, nor the Fruit of it be conſumed, bearing Firſt-fruits according to their Months; becauſe the very Water of it comes out from the Sanctuary: nay the Fruit of it will not only be for Food, but its Leaf for Medicine.

13. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord: This is the Bounds by which you ſhall poſſeſs the Country according to the twelve Tribes of Iſrael, Joſeph two Parcels;

14. Which you ſhall poſſeſs one Perſon as well as another, for which I lifted up my Hand to give it to your Forefathers; as this Country ſhall fall to you for a Poſſeſſion:

15. Even this is the Bounds of the Country; at the north Side from the great Sea, the Way to Hethlon, going to Zedad;

16. Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the Bounds of Damaſcus and that of Hamath; Hazer-hatticon, which is at the Bounds of Hauran.

17. And the Bounds from the Sea ſhall be Hazar-enon, the Bounds of Damaſcus, even on the North northward, and the Bounds of Hamath; being the north Side.

18. On the eaſt Side alſo you ſhall meaſure from between Hauran, Damaſcus, Gilead, and the Country of Iſrael at Jordan, from the Bounds at the eaſt Sea; being the eaſt Side.

19. And the ſouth Side ſouthward ſhall be from Tamar to the Water of Meriboth at Kadeſh, to the River at the great Sea; being the ſouthern Side ſouthwards.

20. Moreover the weſt Side ſhall be the great Sea, from the Bounds to over againſt the going in to Hamath: this ſhall be the weſt Side.

21. So ſhall ye divide this Country to you, according to the Tribes of Iſrael.

22. Ye ſhall part it too by lot for Poſſeſſion to you, and the Strangers that ſojourn among you, who beget Children among you; and they ſhall be to you as Natives of the Iſraelites, they ſhall caſt lots for Poſſeſſion with you among the Tribes of Iſrael.

23. And in the Tribe wherein a Stranger ſojourns, there ſhall ye give his Poſſeſſion, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

CHAP. XLVIII.

NOW theſe are the Names of the Tribes: from the north End to the Border the Way to Hethlon, going to Hamath, Hazar-enan, the Bounds of Damaſcus northward to the Border of Hamath, being the Sides to it eaſt and weſt, there ſhall be one of Dan;

2. And by the Bounds of Dan, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, another of Aſher;

3. As alſo by the Bounds of Aſher, from the eaſt Side even to the weſt Side, another of Naphtali;

4. By the Bounds likewiſe of Naphtali, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, another of Manaſſeh;

5. And by the Bounds of Manaſſeh, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, another of Ephraim;

6. Moreover by the Bounds of Ephraim, from the eaſt Side even to the weſt Side, another of Reuben;

7. By the Bounds too of Reuben, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, another of Judah;

8. And by the Bounds of Judah, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, ſhall be the Offering which you ſhall offer up, of twenty-five thouſand Cubits broad, and as long as one of the Parts, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, and the Sanctuary ſhall be in the midſt of it.

9. The Offering which you ſhall offer up to the Lord, ſhall be twenty five thouſand long, and ten thouſand broad.

10. And thoſe who are Prieſts ſhall have the holy Offering, northward twenty five thouſand, weſtward ten thouſand broad, eaſtward ten thouſand broad, ſouthward twenty five thouſand long; and the Sanctuary of the Lord ſhall be in the midſt of it.

11. It ſhall be for the Prieſts, that are conſecrated of the Poſterity of Zadok, who have kept my Charge, who have not gone aſtray when the Iſraelites did, as the Levites went aſtray.

12. And what is offered up of the Offering of the Land ſhall be very holy to them, at the Bounds of the Levites.

13. Over againſt the Bounds of the Prieſts, ſhall the Levites alſo have twenty five thouſand long, and ten thouſand broad: the whole Length ſhall be twenty five thouſand, and the Breadth ten thouſand.

14. They ſhall neither any ſell of it, change, nor transfer the Firſt-fruits of the Land: for it is holy to the Lord.

15. And the five thouſand that are left of the Breadth, before the twenty five thouſand, ſhall be common for the City, for Dwelling and Suburbs; and the City ſhall be in the midſt of it.

18. And what is left of the Length over againſt the holy Offering, ſhall be ten thouſand eaſtward, and ten thouſand weſtward, which being over againſt the holy Offering, the Crop of it ſhall be for Bread to thoſe who ſerve the City.

19. Such moreover as ſerve the City, ſhall do it out of all the Tribes of Iſrael.

20. The whole Offering ſhall be twenty five thouſand by twenty five thouſand: you ſhall offer up the holy Offering ſquare, at the Inheritance of the City.

21. What is left too ſhall be for the Prince, on both Sides the holy Offering, and the Inheritance of the City, at the Front of the twenty five thouſand of the Offering to the eaſt Bounds, and weſtward before the twenty five thouſand by the weſt Bounds, over againſt the Parts for the Prince; which ſhall be a holy Offering, and the Sanctuary of the Houſe ſhall be in the midſt of it.

22. Nay from the Inheritance of the Levites, and that of the City, in the midſt of what belongs to the Prince, between the Bounds of Judah and that of Benjamin, it ſhall be for the Prince.

23. As for the reſt of the Tribes, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, there ſhall be one of Benjamin;

24. And by the Bounds of Benjamin, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, another of Simeon;

25. As alſo by the Bounds of Simeon, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, another of Iſſachar;

26. By the Bounds likewiſe of Iſſachar, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, another of Zebulun;

27. Moreover by the Bounds of Zebulun, from the eaſt Side to the weſt Side, another of Gad;

28. And by the Bounds of Gad, at the ſouth Side ſouthward, the Bounds ſhall alſo be from Tamar, to the Water of Meribah at Kadeſh, to the River by the great Sea.

29. This is the Country which you ſhall part by lot out of the Poſſeſſion for the Tribes of Iſrael, and theſe are their Partitions, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

30. Theſe are further the goings out of the City: on the north Side ſhall the Meaſure be four thouſand and five hundred Cubits.

31. And the Gates of the City ſhall be by the Names of the Tribes of Iſrael, three Gates northward; one Gate of Reuben, another of Judah, the other of Levi.

32. At the eaſt Side too ſhall be four thouſand and five hundred, with three Gates; namely one Gate of Joſeph, another of Benjamin, the other of Dan.

33. And the Meaſure of the ſouth Side ſhall be four thouſand and five hundred, with three Gates; one Gate of Simeon, another of Iſſachar, the other of Zebulun:

34. Of the weſt Side four thouſand and five hundred, their Gates three: one Gate of Gad, another of Aſher, the other of Naphtali.

35. Round about it ſhall be eighteen thouſand; and the Name of the City from that Time ſhall be The Lord is there.

NOTES

NOTES upon the BOOK of DANIEL.

CHAP. I.

IN the third Year of the Reign of Jehoiakim King of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon came to Jeruſalem, and laid ſiege againſt it.

2. Into whoſe Power the Lord delivered Jehoiakim King of Judah, and Part of the Inſtruments of God's Houſe; which Inſtruments he brought to the Country of Shinar, into the Houſe of his own god, even into the Treaſury there.

3. And the King ordered Aſhpenaz the Maſter of the Eunuchs to bring ſome of the Iſraelites, both of the royal Family and of the Nobility;

4. Youths in whom there was no Blemiſh at all, but were of a good Countenance, expert in all Wiſdom, acquainted with Knowledge, underſtanding Science, and in whom was Ability to attend in the King's Palace; that they might be taught as well the Learning as Language of the Chaldeans.

5. For thoſe the King appointed each Day's Allowance the very ſame Day, of a Piece of his own Meat, and of the Wine which he drank, that they might be bred up three Years; at the Concluſion of which they ſhould attend in the King's Preſence.

6. And there were among them, of the Poſterity of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael and Azariah.

7. On whom the Prince of the Eunuchs put Names: on Daniel, Belteſhazzar; on Hananiah, Shadrach; on Miſhael, Meſhach; and on Azariah, Abed-nego.

8. But Daniel being reſolved in his Mind, that he would not pollute himſelf with the Piece of the King's Meat, and the Wine which he drank, requeſted of the Prince of the Eunuchs that he might not;

9. Before whom God had cauſed Daniel to have Kindneſs and Compaſſion.

10. And the Prince of the Eunuchs ſaid to him, I am afraid of my Lord the King, who has appointed your Food and Drink; becauſe why ſhould he ſee your Faces worſe than the Youths who are in the like Condition with your ſelves, and you make me forfeit my Head to the King?

11. Upon this Daniel ſaid to Melzar, whom the Prince of the Eunuchs had ſet over himſelf, Hananiah, Miſhael and Azariah.

12. Deign to try thy Servants ten Days; and let them give us ſome Pulſe to eat, and Water to drink.

13. Then let our Countenances be looked on before thee, with thoſe of the Youths who eat the Piece of the King's Meat, and deal with thy Servants according to what thou ſeeſt.

14. And he hearkened to them for this Matter, trying them ten Days.

15. At the Concluſion of which their Countenances looked better, and fatter in Fleſh, than any of the Youths who eat the Piece of the King's Meat.

16. So Melzar took away their Piece of Meat, and the Wine which they were to drink, and gave them Pulſe.

17. As for theſe four Youths, God gave them Knowledge, and Skill in all Learning and Wiſdom; beſides Daniel had Underſtanding in all Viſions and Dreams.

18. Now at the Concluſion of the Days when the King had commanded to bring them in, the Prince of the Eunuchs brought them in accordingly before Nebuchadnezzar.

19. Who talking with them, there was none of them found like Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael and Azariah; ſo they attended in the King's Preſence.

20. Nay whatever Matter of Wiſdom or Underſtanding the King enquired of them, he found them tenfold above all the Magicians and Aſtrologers, who were in his whole Kingdom.

21. And Daniel continued till the firſt Year of King Cyrus.

CHAP. II.

AND in the ſecond Year of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign, he himſelf dreamed Dreams, ſo that his Mind was diſturbed, and his Sleep was over with him.

2. The King therefore commanded to call the Magicians, Aſtrologers, Wizards and Chaldeans, to tell him his Dreams: who being come, and ſtanding before the King,

3. He ſaid to them, I have dreamed a Dream, which my Mind has been diſturbed to know.

4. To whom the Chaldeans ſpoke in Syriack, O King, live for ever; declare the Dream to thy Servants, and we will tell the Meaning.

5. But the King made this Anſwer to the Chaldeans; The Matter is gone from me: if ye do not make known to me the Dream and the Meaning of it, ye ſhall be cut into Pieces, and your Houſes made a Dunghil;

6. And if you tell them both, you ſhall receive from me Gifts, Rewards, and great Honour: therefore tell me the Dream and its Meaning.

7. They anſwered again, that the King ſhould declare the Dream to his Servants, and they would tell the Meaning of it.

8. I know of a Certainty, replied the King, that you would gain Time, foraſmuch as you ſee that the Matter is gone from me;

9. Becauſe if you do not make known the Dream to me, there will be the ſame Decree; ſo you prepare falſe and corrupt Speech to repeat before me, till the Time is altered: therefore declare the Dream to me, whereby I may know that you can tell the Meaning of it.

10. The Chaldeans gave the following Anſwer before the King; There is not a Man upon the Earth that is able to tell the King's Matter: for which reaſon no King, Nobleman, nor Governor does aſk ſuch a Thing as this, of any Magician, Aſtrologer or Chaldean.

11. For the Matter which the King aſks is ſo valuable, that there is no other who can tell it before him, excepting the gods whoſe Habitation is not with Fleſh.

12. By reaſon of this the King was angry and enraged ſo exceedingly, that he commanded to deſtroy all the wiſe Men of Babylon.

13. Accordingly there went forth a Decree, that the wiſe Men ſhould be ſlain; and they ſought for Daniel and his Companions to be ſlain.

14. Upon which Daniel returned anſwer, with Counſel and Senſe, to Arioch the Captain of the King's Guard, and a Governor of his, who was come forth to ſlay the wiſe Men of Babylon;

15. Aſking him, why the Decree was ſo haſty from the King? To whom Arioch then made the Matter known.

16. And Daniel going in, requeſted of the King, that he would give him Time, and he would tell the King the Meaning.

17. Then he went home, and made the Matter known to Hananiah, Miſhael and Azariah, his Companions;

18. And that they ſhould requeſt Compaſſion of the God of Heaven for this Secret, that he himſelf and his Companions might not periſh with the reſt of the wiſe Men of Babylon.

19. The Secret was then revealed to Daniel in a Viſion at Night: then he bleſſed the God of Heaven,

20. Saying in this manner; Bleſſed be the Name of God from everlaſting to everlaſting; of whom both Wiſdom and Power are:

21. Who alters Times and Seaſons; puts away Kings, and ſets Kings up; gives Wiſdom to the Wiſe, and Knowledge to thoſe that know Underſtanding;

22. He reveals deep and hidden Things, knows what is in the Darkneſs, the Light dwelling with him.

23. I thank and praiſe thee, O God of my Fathers, who haſt given me Wiſdom and Power, and now made known to me what we requeſted of thee, ſince thou haſt let us know the King's Matter.

24. By reaſon of this Daniel went in to Arioch, whom the King had appointed to deſtroy the wiſe Men of Babylon, and being come, ſaid thus to him, Do not deſtroy the wiſe Men of Babylon, introduce me before the King, and I will tell him the Meaning.

25. Then Arioch had Daniel in before the King in haſte, and told him thus; that he had found a Man of the Captives of Judah, who would make known the Meaning to the King.

26. The King anſwered, ſpeaking to Daniel, whoſe Name was Belteſhazzar, Canſt thou make known to me the Dream which I have ſeen, and the Meaning of it?

27. Daniel made anſwer before the King as follows: Notwithſtanding the wiſe Men the Aſtrologers, the Magicians, the Soothſayers, are not able to tell the King the Secret which he has aſked;

28. There is a God in Heaven that reveals Secrets, who has been making known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the latter Days. Thy Dream, or the Viſions of thy Head upon thy Bed, was this:

29. Thou O King, being on thy Bed, hadſt

Thoughts came up what would be hereafter, and he who reveals Secrets making known to thee what will be;

30. (As for me, this Secret is not revealed to me, for the Wiſdom which is in me the moſt of any that live; but for the ſake of them who will make known the Meaning to the King, and that thou mayeſt know the Thoughts of thy Heart)

31. Thou O King, ſaweſt plainly that there was a certain great Image; this large Image, whoſe Countenance was excellent, ſtood up before thee, and the Appearance of it was terrible.

32. The Head of which Image was of the beſt Gold, his Breaſt and Arms of Silver, his Belly and Thighs of Braſs,

33. His Legs of Iron, his Feet on one Side of Iron, and on the other of Clay.

34. Thou didſt look till there was a Stone cut out without Hands, which ſtruck the Image upon his Feet that were Iron and Clay, and broke them in pieces.

35. Whereupon the Iron, Clay, Braſs, Silver, and Gold being broke in pieces together, became as the Chaff from the Threſhing-floors at Summer, ſo that the Wind carried them away, and there was no Place found for them; but the Stone which ſtruck the Image became ſuch a large Mountain, that it filled the whole Earth.

36. This is the Dream, which we will declare the Meaning of before the King.

37. Thou O King, art a King of Kings; becauſe the God of Heaven has given thee a Kingdom, Strength, and Authority, and Honour;

38. Nay where-ever mortal Men dwell, he has given into thy Power the Beaſts of the Field, and the Fowl of the Air, and let thee have dominion over them all; who art that Head of Gold.

39. And after thee will riſe up another Kingdom, lower than thou; as alſo another third Kingdom of Braſs, which will have dominion over the whole Earth.

40. The fourth Kingdom too will be as ſtrong as Iron: by reaſon that Iron breaks in pieces, as well as weakens all; and as it breaks all theſe, this will break, and even in pieces.

41. And whereas thou ſaweſt the Feet and Toes, on one Side Potters Clay, and on the other Iron; the Kingdom will be divided, but there will be in it ſome Firmneſs of Iron: by reaſon that thou ſaweſt the Iron mixed with mirey Clay.

42. The Toes of the Feet being on one Side Iron, and on the other Clay; the Kingdom will be ſtrong at one End, and at the other will be broken.

43. Whereas alſo thou ſaweſt the Iron mixed with the mirey Clay, they will mingle themſelves with the Offspring of Man; but will not cleave one to another, as Iron indeed will not be mixed with Clay.

44. Now in the Times of thoſe Kings the God of Heaven will raiſe up a Kingdom, which will never be deſtroyed, nor ſhall it be left to other People; it will break in pieces and conſume all the foregoing Kingdoms, and will it ſelf ſtand up for ever.

45. Foraſmuch as thou ſaweſt that the Stone was cut out of a Mountain without Hands, and broke in pieces the Iron, Braſs, Clay, Silver and Gold; the great God has made known to the King what will be hereafter: and the Dream is certain, as likewiſe the Meaning of it ſure.

46. With this King Nebuchadnezzar fell

Ver. 40. fourth] As there are ſeveral Prophecies in Daniel of the ſame Things, the Difficulties of which lie in the latter Parts of them, it may be proper to obſerve that every one of thoſe ſucceſſive Prophecies adds to the Circumſtances of the foregoing, and ſo makes the laſt the plaineſt; which ſhould therefore be well conſidered firſt, that it may give light to the preceding one, and thus we ſhall come to this fourth Kingdom at laſt, which ſeems too bare of Circumſtances as here deſcribed, to judge of it from hence only. According to this let the eleventh and twelfth Chapters be firſt examined, where is a much more full and circumſtantial Account than was delivered before; then either taking or leaving the latter Part of Chap. ix. as it treats of other Matters, come back to the viiith, next to the viith, and ſo to this. For the fourth and lower Part of the Image in this Chap. evidently anſwers to the fourth Beaſt in the viith, or in expreſs Words the fourth Kingdom in this Verſe is the ſame with the fourth Kingdom, Chap. vii. 23. as well as the other three correſpond together. And the ſecond and third Beaſts in Chap. vii. repreſented what thoſe two did in Chap. viii. conſequently the four Wings and Heads of the Leopard, Chap. vii. 6. ſignify the ſame as the four Horns of the He-goat, Chap. viii. 8. In like Manner we may conclude that the taking away the continual Offering, Ch. viii. 11. & xi, 31. & xii. 12. was one Thing, &c. Having therefore ſeen that the fourth Empire in Chap. vii. was that of the Romans, we may determine this is likewiſe.

47. To whom the King ſaid as follows, It is of a Truth, that your God himſelf is the God of gods, the Lord of Kings, and Revealer of Secrets; ſince thou waſt able to reveal this Secret.

48. Then the King made Daniel great, giving him many great Gifts, and letting him have dominion over the whole Province of Babylon; he was alſo the chief of the Rulers over all the wiſe Men of Babylon.

49. Beſides Daniel requeſted of the King, and he ſet Shadrach, Meſhach and Abed-nego, over the Buſineſs of the Province of Babylon; but he himſelf was at the King's Gate.

CHAP. III.

THE ſame King made an Image of Gold, ſixty Cubits high and ſix broad; which he ſet up in the Vale of Dura, in the Province of Babylon.

2. And he ſent to gather together the Lieutenants, Peers, Captains, Judges, Treaſurers, Counſellors, Officers, and all the Governors of the Provinces, to come to the Dedication of the Image which King Nebuchadnezzar had ſet up.

3. Whereupon thoſe ſeveral Perſons abovementioned were gathered together, to the Dedication of the Image which King Nebuchadnezzar had ſet up, and ſtanding before it,

4. The Herald proclaimed aloud; It is declared to you, O People of each Nation and Language,

5. That at the Time when you hear the Sound of the Cornet, Flute, Timbrel, Dulcimer, Pſaltery, and a Concert with all Kinds of Muſick, you muſt fall down, and worſhip the Image of Gold which King Nebuchadnezzar has ſet up.

6. And whoever does not fall down and worſhip, ſhall the ſame Hour be thrown into the middle of an Oven of burning Fire.

7. For this reaſon at the ſame Time as the People heard the Sound of the Cornet, Flute, Timbrel, Dulcimer, Pſaltery, and all Kinds of Muſick, they all fell down of each Nation and Language, worſhipping the forementioned Image.

8. By reaſon of this ſome Chaldeans went near at that Time, and accuſed the Jews as Criminals,

9. Saying as follows to King Nebuchadnezzar; O King, live for ever:

10. Thou O King, didſt give Order that every Man who heard the Sound of the Cornet, Flute, Timbrel, Dulcimer, Pſaltery, and a Concert with all Kinds of Muſick, ſhould fall down, and worſhip the Image of Gold;

11. And that whoever did not do ſo, ſhould be thrown into the middle of an Oven of burning Fire:

12. There are ſome Jews whom thou haſt ſet over the Buſineſs of the Province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meſhach and Abed-nego; which Men will not perform the Order for thee, O King, they will not ſerve thy god, nor worſhip the Image of Gold which thou haſt ſet up.

13. At which Nebuchadnezzar in Anger and Rage commanded to bring them; whereupon thoſe Men were brought before the King.

14. To whom he ſaid thus; Is it deſignedly, Shadrach, Meſhach and Abed-nego, you do not ſerve my god, and worſhip the Image of Gold which I have ſet up?

15. Or are you ready now, ſo that at the Time when you hear the Sound of all the Muſick again as before, you will fall down, and worſhip the Image which I have made? For if you do not worſhip, you ſhall the ſame Hour be thrown into the middle of an Oven of burning Fire: and what God is he who can deliver you out of my Power?

16. Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abednego anſwered the King as follows; Nebuchadnezzar, we are in no Need of returning thee anſwer in this Matter.

17. If it be ſo, our God whom we ſerve is able to deliver us from that Oven, and he will deliver out of thy Power, O King.

18. But if not, let it be known to thee, O King, that we will not ſerve thy god, nor worſhip the Image of Gold which thou haſt ſet up.

19. Nebuchadnezzar upon this being ſo full of Rage, that the Reſemblance of his Face was altered at them, gave command to heat the Oven ſevenfold above what it had been ſeen to be heated;

20. And ordered ſome very ſtout Men who were in his Army, to bind Shadrach, Me-

22. For theſe reaſons, becauſe the King's Word was haſty, and the Oven heated exceedingly; the Flame of the Fire ſlew thoſe Men, who took up Shadrach, Meſhach and Abed-nego.

23. Which three Perſons fell down bound into the middle of the Oven of burning Fire.

24. Then was King Nebuchadnezzar frightened, and got up in haſte, ſaying thus to his Rulers, Did not we throw three Men bound into the middle of the Fire? To whom they made anſwer, That is certain, O King.

25. He replied as follows, Lo I ſee four Men looſe, walking in the middle of the Fire, and there is no Hurt on them; the Appearance of the fourth is alſo like the Son of God.

26. Hereupon Nebuchadnezzar approaching the Mouth of the above-mentioned Oven, ſaid thus, Shadrach, Meſhach and Abed-nego, Servants of the Supreme God, come out hither; at this they came out of the middle of the Fire.

27. And the King's Lieutenants, Peers, Captains, and Rulers were gathered togegether, looking at thoſe Men, over whoſe Bodies the Fire had no Power, neither was the Hair of their Heads ſinged, nor their Coats altered; nay the Smell of Fire had not paſſed on them.

28. Nebuchadnezzar added as follows; Bleſſed be the God of Shadrach, Meſhach and Abed-nego, who has ſent his Angel, and delivered his Servants that truſted on him; ſo that they have altered the King's Word, as they gave up their Bodies, that they might not ſerve nor worſhip any god, excepting their own God.

29. I therefore give order that the People of every Nation and Language, who ſpeak amiſs againſt their God, ſhall be cut in pieces, and their Houſes made as a Dunghil; by reaſon that there is no other God, who is able to reſcue after this Manner.

30. Upon which the King made Shadrach, Meſhach, and Abed-nego proſperous, in the Province of Babylon.

CHAP. IV.

KING Nebuchadnezzar to the People of all Nations and Languages, who dwell on the whole Earth. Your Peace be increaſed:

2. The Signs and Wonders which the Supreme God has done with me, it is agreeable to me to tell.

3. How great his Signs are! and how powerful his Wonders! His Kingdom is an everlaſting one, and his Dominion in all Ages.

4. I Nebuchadnezzar being quiet in my Houſe, and flouriſhing in my Palace;

5. Saw a Dream which terrified me, and Thoughts upon my Bed, as well as the Viſions of my Head, troubled me.

6. So I gave order to bring in before me all the wiſe Men of Babylon, that they might make known the Meaning of the Dream to me.

7. With that there came the Magicians, Aſtrologers, Chaldeans and Soothſayers, before whom I declared the Dream, but they could not make known to me the Meaning of it.

8. However at laſt Daniel came in before me, whoſe Name is Belteſhazzar according to the Name of my god, and in whom there is the Spirit of the holy gods; and before him I declared the Dream:

9. Belteſhazzar, Maſter of the Magicians, ſince I know that the Spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no Secret preſſes thee, declare the Meaning of the Things which I have ſeen in my Dream.

10. Now the Viſions of my Head upon my Bed were; I ſaw apparently that there was a Tree in the middle of the Earth, whoſe Height was great.

11. The Tree grew, and became ſtrong; ſo that the Height of it reached to the Heaven, and the Sight of it to the End of the whole Earth.

12. Its Branches were comely, its Fruit was large, and there was Food for all on it; the Beaſts of the Field had ſhadow under it, the Fowls of the Air dwelt in the Boughs of it, and all Fleſh was nouriſhed by it.

13. I ſaw plainly in the ſame Viſions, that a Watcher who was holy, coming down from Heaven,

14. Called aloud, and ſaid thus; Hew down the Tree, and cut off its Boughs, make its Branches fall off, and ſcatter its

Fruit:

Fruit: let the Beaſts remove from under it, and the Fowls from its Boughs.

15. Nevertheleſs leave the Stump of its Roots in the Ground, even with a Bond of Iron and Braſs among the Herbs of the Field; and let it be wet with the Dew of Heaven, and its Part be along with the Beaſts among the Graſs of the Earth.

16. Let his Heart be altered from a Man's, and the Heart of a Beaſt be given him; and let ſeven Times paſs over him.

17. The Matter is by the Decree of the Watchers, and the Petition by the Speech of the holy ones; to the end that they who live may know, that the Supreme One is Governor over the Kingdom of Men, and beſtows it on whomſoever he will, ſetting up the loweſt of Men over it.

18. This Dream I King Nebuchadnezzar have ſeen: do thou therefore Belteſhazzar, declare its Meaning, by reaſon that all the wiſe Men of my Kingdom are not able to make known the Meaning to me; but thou canſt, becauſe the Spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19. Then Daniel, whoſe Name was Belteſhazzar, was aſtoniſhed about an Hour, and his Thoughts troubled him; the King ſaying, Belteſhazzar, let neither the Dream nor the Meaning of it trouble thee; who made anſwer: My Lord, let the Dream be for thoſe who hate thee, and the Meaning of it for thy Adverſaries.

20. The Tree that thou ſaweſt, which grew, and became ſtrong, ſo that the Height of it reached to the Heaven, and the Sight of it to the whole Earth;

21. Whoſe Branches were comely, its Fruit large, and on which there was Food for all; under which the Beaſts of the Field dwelt, and in whoſe Boughs the Fowls of the Air remained:

22. That is thou, O King, who art grown, and become ſtrong; nay thy Greatneſs is grown, ſo that it reaches to the Heaven, and thy Dominion to the End of the Earth.

23. And whereas the King ſaw a Watcher who was holy, coming down from Heaven, and ſaying, Hew down the Tree, and ſpoil it: nevertheleſs leave the Stump of its Roots in the Ground, even with a Bond of Iron and Braſs among the Herbs of the Field; and let it be wet with the Dew of Heaven, and its Part be along with the Beaſts of the Field, till ſeven Times paſs over him:

24. This is the Meaning, O King, and that is the Decree of the Supreme One, which will come upon my Lord the King;

25. That they will expel thee from Men, and thy Habitation will be along with the Beaſts of the Field, where they will make thee taſte the Graſs like Oxen, as alſo wet thee with the Dew of Heaven, and ſeven Times will paſs over thee; till thou knoweſt that the Supreme One is Governor over the Kingdom of Men, and beſtows it on whomſoever he will.

26. Whereas alſo they ordered to leave the Stump of the Tree's Roots; thy Kingdom will be firm to thee, after thou knoweſt that Heaven governs.

27. Therefore, O King, let my Counſel be agreeable to thee; that is break off thy Sins by Righteouſneſs, and thy Iniquities by ſhewing favour to the Afflicted: if it may be a prolonging of thy Quietneſs.

28. All which came upon King Nebuchadnezzar:

29. Who twelve Months after, as he was walking in the royal Palace of Babylon,

30. Expreſſed himſelf thus, Is not this that great Babylon which I built for the royal Houſe, by the Authority of my Strength, and for the Honour of my Dignity?

31. While the Words were in the King's Mouth, there fell a Voice from Heaven; It is declared to thee, King Nebuchadnezzar, that the Kingdom is paſſed from thee.

32. Nay they ſhall expel thee from Men, and thy Habitation ſhall be along with the Beaſts of the Field, they ſhall make thee taſte the Graſs like Oxen, and ſeven Times ſhall paſs over thee; till thou knoweſt that the Supreme One is Governor over the Kingdom of Men, and beſtows it on whomſoever he will.

33. The Thing was accompliſhed the ſame Hour upon Nebuchadnezzar: he being expelled from Men, did eat the Graſs like Oxen, and his Body was wet with the Dew of Heaven; till his Hair grew like Eagles Feathers, and his Nails like Birds Claws.

34. But at the End of the Time I Nebuchadnezzar looked up to Heaven, and my Knowledge returned to me; upon which I bleſſed the Supreme One, and praiſed and honoured him that lives for ever: whoſe Dominion is an everlaſting one, and his Kingdom in all Ages.

35. As for all the Inhabitants of the Earth, they are counted as Nothing, and he does as he will among the Army of Heaven, and the Inhabitants of the Earth; nor can any ſtop his Hand, or ſay to him, What art thou doing?

36. At the ſame Time that my Knowledge returned to me, my Dignity and Countenance did alſo, for the Honour of my Kingdom; my Rulers and Noblemen ſeeking for me: inſomuch that I was ſettled in my Kingdom, and excellent Greatneſs was added to me.

37. Now I Nebuchadnezzar do praiſe, extol, and honour the King of Heaven, all whoſe Doings are true, and his Ways right; and thoſe who walk in Pride he is able to humble.

CHAP. V.

KING Belſhazzar making a great Feaſt for a thouſand of his Nobility, that he might drink Wine in their Preſence;

2. Ordered, when he had taſted the Wine, to bring the Veſſels of Gold and Silver, that his Father Nebuchadnezzar took out of the Temple which was in Jeruſalem; that he himſelf, with his Nobility, Wives and Concubines, might drink in them.

3. Upon this they brought the Veſſels of Gold, that were taken out of the Temple of God's Houſe which was in Jeruſalem; and the King, with his Nobility, Wives and Concubines, drank in them.

4. As they were drinking the Wine, they praiſed the gods of Gold and Silver, Braſs, Iron, Wood and Stone.

5. The ſame Hour there came forth Fingers of a Man's Hand, and wrote over againſt the Candleſtick, upon the Plaiſtering of the Wall of the King's Palace; ſo that the King ſaw the Part of the Hand which wrote.

6. Then were the King's Looks altered, and his Thoughts troubled him; inſomuch that the Joints of his Loins were looſe, and his Knees ſtruck one againſt another.

7. The King called aloud to bring in the Aſtrologers, Chaldeans and Soothſayers, he declaring it ſhould be ſaid to the wiſe Men of Babylon, What Man ſoever ſhall read this Writing, and tell me the Meaning of it; ſhall be cloathed in Purple, with a Chain of Gold about his Neck, and have dominion the third in the Kingdom.

8. Then all the King's wiſe Men went in, but they could neither read the Writing, nor make the Meaning of it known to him.

9. King Belſhazzar was then exceedingly troubled, and his very Looks were altered; his Nobility too were perplexed.

10. The Queen by means of the Words of the King and his Nobility, went into the Banquetting-houſe, ſaying thus; O King, live for ever, let not thy Thoughts trouble thee, nor thy Looks be altered.

11. There is a Man in thy Kingdom, in whom is the Spirit of the holy gods, and in the Time of thy Father ſuch Light, Skill and Wiſdom, like the Wiſdom of the gods was found in him, that King Nebuchadnezzar himſelf thy Father raiſed him up to be Maſter of the Magicians, Aſtrologers, Chaldeans and Soothſayers:

12. By reaſon that an excellent Spirit, Knowledge, and Skill of interpreting Dreams, telling obſcure Words, and undoing knotty Things was found in that Daniel, whoſe Name the King put Belteſhazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will tell the Meaning.

13. Whereupon he was fetched in before the King, who after aſking him, whether he was the ſame Daniel that was one of the Captives of Judah, whom the King his Father brought from thence?

14. I have heard concerning thee, ſaid the King, that the Spirit of the gods is in thee, and that Light, Skill, and exquiſite Wiſdom is found in thee.

15. Whereas the wiſe Men, and Aſtrologers, who have been brought in before me already, that they might read this Writing, and make known its Meaning to me, could not tell the Meaning of the Matter.

16. Since I have heard concerning thee, that thou art able to interpret Meanings, and undo knotty Things: if thou canſt now read the Writing, and make known to me the Meaning of it; thou ſhalt be cloathed in Scarlet, with a Chain of Gold about thy Neck, and have dominion the third in the Kingdom.

17. Daniel upon this made anſwer before the King: Let thy Gifts be for thy ſelf, and give thy Rewards to another; nevertheleſs I will read the Writing to the King, and make known to him the Meaning.

18. Thou King, the Supreme God gave thy Father Nebuchadnezzar the Kingdom, Greatneſs, Honour and Dignity.

19. And by reaſon of the Greatneſs which he gave him, the People of all Nations and Languages trembled, and feared at his Preſence: he either ſlew or ſaved alive, and either exalted or humbled, thoſe whom he would himſelf.

20. But when his Heart was exalted, and his Mind became ſtrong in behaving proudly; he was put down from his royal Throne, and they took away his Honour from him.

21. Nay he was expelled from Mankind, his Heart became as the Beaſts, and his Habitation was along with the wild Aſſes, they made him taſte the Graſs like Oxen, and his Body was wet with the Dew of Heaven; till he knew that the Supreme God was Governor in the Kingdom of Men, and ſet up over it whomſoever he would.

22. Yet thou, Belſhazzar his Son, haſt not humbled thy Heart, although thou kneweſt all this.

23. But haſt exalted thy ſelf againſt the Lord of Heaven, ſo that they have brought the Veſſels of his Houſe before thee, wherein thou and thy Nobility, thy Wives and Concubines, have drunk Wine; and thou haſt praiſed the gods of Silver and Gold, Braſs, Iron, Wood and Stone, which neither ſee, hear, nor know: whereas thou haſt not honoured the God in whoſe Power thy Breath is, and to whom all thy Ways belong.

24. (Upon which the Part of the Hand was taken away from before him, whereby this Writing was written)

25. And this is the Writing that is written: It is counted, counted, weighed, and they are parted.

26. The Meaning of the Matter is this; It is counted, God has counted thy Kingdom, and finiſhed it.

27. It is weighed, thou art weighed in the Scales, and found deficient.

28. It is parted, thy Kingdom is parted, and given to the Medes and Perſians.

29. Hereupon Belſhazzar ordered that they ſhould cloath Daniel in Scarlet, with a Chain of Gold about his Neck, and proclaim concerning him that he was the third Governor in the Kingdom.

30. The ſame Night Belſhazzar King of the Chaldeans was ſlain.

31. And Darius the Mede took the Kingdom, being about the ſixty ſecond Year of his Age.

IT was agreeable to Darius to ſet over the Kingdom a hundred and twenty Lieutenants, who ſhould be over it all.

2. And above theſe were three Viceroys, of whom Daniel was one; that thoſe Lieutenants might give Account to them, and the King have no Damage.

3. Then this Daniel was made chief above the Viceroys and Lieutenants, by reaſon that there was an excellent Spirit in him, and the King thought to ſet him over the whole Kingdom.

4. The Viceroys and Lieutenants then ſought to find Occaſion againſt Daniel on the Part of the Kingdom, but were not able to find any Occaſion or corrupt Thing, by reaſon that he was faithful, and Nothing amiſs or corrupt was to be found in him.

5. Theſe Men then ſaid, We ſhall find no Occaſion againſt this Daniel, except it be in the Law of his God.

6. Then thoſe Viceroys and Lieutenants crouded together to the King, and ſaid thus to him; O King Darius, live for ever:

7. All the Viceroys of the Kingdom, the Peers and Lieutenants, Rulers and Captains, have conſulted to eſtabliſh a royal Statute, and make a firm Act; that whoever does aſk a Petition of any God or Man for thirty Days, unleſs of thee, O King, ſhall be thrown into the Den of Lions.

8. Now, O King, eſtabliſh the Act, and ſign the Writing; that it may not be altered, according to the Law of the Medes and Perſians which muſt remain.

9. By reaſon of this King Darius ſigned the Writing and Act.

10. However when Daniel knew that the Writing was ſigned, he went into his Houſe, and the Windows being opened for him in his Chamber towards Jeruſalem, three times in a Day he kneeled on his Knees, praying and giving thanks before his God; foraſmuch as he did before this.

11. Then theſe Men croûded together, and found Daniel requeſting, and making ſupplication before his God.

12. Upon which they went near, and ſaid before the King concerning his Act; Haſt not thou ſigned an Act that what Man ſoever does requeſt Ought of any God or Man for thirty Days, unleſs of thee, O King, ſhall be thrown into the Den of Lions? The King made anſwer, The Matter is certain, according to the Law of the Medes and Perſians which muſt remain.

13. Upon this they replied before the King, that Daniel who was one of the Captives of Judah made no Account of the King, nor of the Act which he had ſigned; but aſked his Petition three times in a Day.

14. When the King heard thoſe Words, he was then exceedingly diſpleaſed for it; and ſet his Mind on Daniel to deliver him; which he ſtrove to do till the ſetting of the Sun.

15. Theſe Men upon this crouded together to the King, and ſaid to him, Know, O King, that the Law of the Medes and Perſians is; that no Act or Statute, which the King eſtabliſhes, muſt be altered.

16. Whereupon the King ordered that they ſhould bring Daniel, and throw him into the Den of Lions, the King ſaying to him thus, Thy God whom thou ſerveſt continually, he will deliver thee.

17. And a Stone being brought, was put upon the Mouth of the Den; and the King ſealed it with his own Signet, as well as that of his Nobility, that their Will on Daniel might not be altered.

18. Then the King went to his Palace, and paſſed the Night faſting, nor were Inſtruments of Muſick brought before him, and his Sleep fled from him.

19. With that he got up in the Morning as ſoon as it was light, and went in haſte to the Den of Lions.

20. And when he was come near the Den, he cried to Daniel with a ſorrowful Voice, ſaying thus to him, Daniel, Servant of the Living God, is thy God whom thou ſerveſt continually, able to deliver thee from the Lions?

21. Daniel then ſpoke to him; O King, live for ever:

22. My God ſent his Angel, who has ſhut the Lions Mouths, and they have not hurt me; foraſmuch as there was Purity found in me before him, and alſo before thee, O King, I have done no Hurt.

23. At this the King was exceeding glad of it, and commanded to take up Daniel out of the Den; which being done, there was no Hurt found on him, becauſe he believed in his God.

24. And the King ordered that they ſhould bring thoſe Men, who accuſed him as a Criminal, and throw them into the Den of Lions, with their Children and Wives; who did not come to the Bottom of the Den, before the Lions had power over them, and broke all their Bones in pieces.

25. King Darius hereupon wrote to the People of all Nations and Languages, who dwelt on the whole Earth: Your Peace be increaſed.

26. I give order, that in all the Dominion of my Kingdom People ſhould tremble, and fear at the Preſence of the God of Daniel; becauſe he is the Living God, and ſtedfaſt for ever, whoſe Kingdom is that which will not be deſtroyed, and his Dominion will be to the End;

27. He that delivers and reſcues, as alſo does Signs and Wonders both in Heaven and Earth, who has delivered Daniel from the Power of the Lions.

28. So this Daniel proſpered in the Reign of Darius, and that of Cyrus the Perſian.

CHAP.

CHAP. VII.

IN the first Year of Belshazzar King of Babylon, Daniel saw a Dream, or Visions of his Head on his Bed; upon this he wrote it down, expressing the Sum of the Matters,

2. Which he did as follows. I saw in a Vision I had by Night, that behold the four Winds of the Heaven rose at the great Sea.

3. Out of which there came up four huge Beasts, different one from another.

4. The foremost was like a Lion, but had an Eagle's Wings: I looked till its Wings were plucked off, whereby it was lifted up from the Ground, and it was set upon the Feet as a Man, and a Man's Heart was given to it.

5. Behold there was also a second other Beast in the Likeness of a Bear, which raised it self up on one Side, and there were three Ribs in the Mouth of it between its Teeth, and they said thus to it, Rise up, devour much Flesh.

6. After this I saw plainly that there was another like a Leopard, which had four Wings of a Fowl upon his Back; the Beast had likewise four Heads, and Dominion was given to it.

7. I saw afterwards apparently in the Visions of the Night, that there was a fourth Beast, exceeding terrible, dreadful and strong, which had huge iron Teeth: it devoured, broke in pieces, and trampled the rest with its Feet, was different from all the Beasts which were before it, and had ten Horns.

Ver. 2. rose] as we phrase it, Chald. came forth, not strove.

Ver. 4. a Lion] signifying the Babylonian Empire, and more particularly Nebuchadnezzar; as the Beasts are interpreted to be Kings, Ver. 17. as well as the Parts of the Image were Kingdoms, Chap. ii. 39, 40. see Ch. ii. 38.

Ib. Eagle's Wings] which may denote the Swiftness of his Conquests, the Eagle being a Bird of Prey.

Ib. whereby] So Jun. and Trem. have it quibus, Grot. per quas, and the Eng. Marg. wherewith, as the Sense requires.

Ib. as a Man] He both lost his Power as a Lion, and Advancement as an Eagle; and was as a Man, that could neither devour like the one, nor fly like the other.

Ib. Man's Heart] not only his Capacity, but his Disposition was changed.

Ver. 5. a Bear] the Empire of the Medes and Persians, and Cyrus as a King.

Ib. on one Side] for the Advancement was of the Persians; see Chap. viii. 3.

Ib. three Ribs] the conquered Kingdoms of Lydia, Babylon and Egypt; not the Hyrcanians and Gobrias (but two) that revolted to the Persians, as in Poole's Annot. who would not devour such.

Ver. 6. a Leopard] the Macedonian Empire, and Alexander in particular.

Ib. four] for which see Chap. viii. 8. & xi. 3, 4.

Ver. 7. fourth Beast] the Roman Empire, and its Emperor Augustus Cæsar, under whom it was at its Height; and began declining in the next Reign of Tiberius, the same in which Christ had the Dominion, &c. given him, as in Ver. xiii. 14. Mat. xxviii. 18. Thus there was an orderly Succession in the whole five, since Augustus too agreeable to what the other three had done before, conquered Egypt, the last of the four Kingdoms denoted by the third Beast. By the coming up, Ver. 3. may be understood those Empires being at their Height, for each was existent before the Fall of the preceding one.

Ib. the rest] of the Jews.

Ib. ten] The Horns of this Beast have been to me one of the most difficult Parts of Daniel's Prophecies, and after deliberately considering what divers noted Commentators of diverse Opinions say of it, I could be satisfied with none. Not with Jun. and Trem. in their Annotations, Broughton in several Places of his Works, &c. who expound the fourth Beast to be the Family of the Seleucidæ that reigned in Syria after Alexander; because that is making it the same with one Head of the third Beast; an Absurdity not to be endured! Nor would this have been the strongest of the four, but the weakest. And as to Antiochus Epiphanes, who is esteemed the little Horn, instead of being a King after ten that were before, he was but the 8th of those Kings, neither were three of them destroyed before him, nor any one. Nor with Grotius, &c. making up the ten with some Kings of Egypt, a Head of another Beast, Ver. 6. yet reckoning this Antiochus for one. The Description of this last Beast, and the lower Part of the Image in Chap. ii. which evidently betoken the same, has generally determined it for the Empire of the Romans; but then I was not satisfied to leave it so, with the Eng. marginal Annotations, Prideaux at the End of his Connection, &c. without the particular Application of the Horns, which is the principal Thing to ascertain and explain the whole. This Mede in his Works, pag. 661. and our famous Newton in his Observations upon the Prophecies of Daniel, Chap. vi, vii. have done, but not so, that I can think it to be what was predicted. They seem to have laboured hard to frame up ten Kinds of Kingdoms in the Rom. Empire, about the Beginning of the 5th Century after the Birth of Christ; expounding the single Horn to be the Church of Rome, which made up its Patrimony in the 8th Century out of three Governments, Mede, pag. 778, 779. Newton, ibid. Whereas the Vision does not represent the Beast to have been at first without Horns, nor are the Kingdoms they mention too late only, but too short, indistinct, and of too little Note for this great Prophecy, the Empire being also more remarkably divided otherwise, and then fallen to Decay; nor is one of the three any one of the ten Kingdoms, besides that the Angel says they were Kings, Ver. 24. The Time, &c. Ver. 25. Newton computes at 1260 Years, as he says the Days are Years, Chap. viii. 14. and by referring both to the present and future Times, they should seem to end together: now the soonest Beginning that he ascribes to the latter, is at the Destruction of Jerusalem, A. C. 70. counting the former to begin about A. C. 800; according to which the 2300 will last above 300 Years after the other. But how is it consistent that the holy People should have the Kingdom and Dominion under the whole Heaven, Ver. 2. so long before the Sanctuary is made right or cleansed, Chap. viii. 14? But I must not forget that my proper Business is to explain the Scripture Text, not to answer other Books.

As the Prophecies in Daniel have a peculiar Respect to the Jews, Jerusalem and the Temple, that in Chap, xi. is plainly continued to the Time of Antiochus Epiphanes upon this Account, the like may be said of those in the eighth and ninth Chapters; it is therefore agreeable that it should be the same here, and [the rest] in this Verse is a particular Mark of it. Now after the Havock which Antiochus made, the next very remarkable Thing that befel them was from the Romans, by Pompey's taking Jerusalem about 60 Years before the Birth of Christ, whose Destruction was compleated from the same People under their Emperor Vespasian; so that there this Prophecy properly ended, as well as that in Chap. ix. Pompey had in a Manner the Government of the Roman Empire, but being at 8. As I was minding the Horns, behold there was another little Horn came up between them, from before which three of the former Horns were rooted up; and lo in that Horn were Eyes like a Man's, with a Mouth ſpeaking grand Things.

9. I looked till there were Thrones put down, where he that was of ancient Time ſate, whoſe Apparel was as white as Snow, and the Hair of his Head like pure Wool, his Throne fiery Flames, his Wheels burning Fire.

10. A Flood of Fire flowed and came out from before him, a Million waited on him, and a hundred Millions ſtood before him; the Judgment was placed, and the Books were opened.

11. I kept looking then by reaſon of the Voice of the grand Words which the Horn ſpoke, till the Beaſt was ſlain, and his Body deſtroyed, being given to be burnt with Fire.

12. As for the reſt of the Beaſts, they took away their Dominion; however there was a prolonging of Life granted to them, for a Seaſon and Time.

13. I ſaw manifeſtly in the Viſions of the Night, that there came with the Clouds of Heaven one like a Man, who went to him that was of ancient Time, being brought near before him.

14. To whom there was given Dominion, Honour, and a Kingdom, for the People of all Nations and Languages to ſerve him: his Dominion being an everlaſting one which will remain, and his Kingdom what will not be deſtroyed.

15. The Mind of me my ſelf Daniel was pierced within the Body, and the Viſions of my Head troubled me.

16. Drawing near to one of thoſe that ſtood by, I requeſted of him the Certainty concerning all this; and he made known to me the Meaning of the Things as follows;

17. The foregoing huge Beaſts, that is thoſe four, are four Kings who will riſe up out of the Earth.

18. But the Saints of the Higheſt Ones will receive the Kingdom, and poſſeſs it for ever, even for ever and ever.

19. Then I deſired the Certainty concerning the fourth Beaſt; which was different from all the others, exceeding terrible, whoſe Teeth were Iron, and his Nails Braſs, that devoured, broke in pieces, and trampled the reſt with its Feet;

20. Concerning the ten Horns likewiſe which were on its Head, and the other that came up, from before which three fell, even that Horn which had Eyes, and a Mouth ſpeaking grand Things, whoſe Appearance was greater than his Fellows:

21. Which Horn I ſaw made War with the Saints, and prevailed over them;

22. Till he who was of ancient Time came, and Judgment was given to the Saints of the Higheſt Ones, and the Time was come that the Saints poſſeſſed the Kingdom,

23. He ſaid thus; The fourth Beaſt will be the fourth Kingdom on the Earth, which will be different from all the Kingdoms, will devour the whole Earth, threſh it, and break it in pieces.

24. And the ten Horns out of that King-

laſt overcome by Julius Cæſar, the Emperors began, of whom there were nine before Veſpaſian, viz. Julius, Auguſtus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, Nero, Galba, Otho and Vitellius, Theſe with Pompey I look upon as ſignified by the ten Horns, and Veſpaſian by the little Horn before which three of the others were rooted up, as Galba, Otho, and Vitellius were before him. For upon the Death of Nero, thoſe three were ſucceſſively Emperors for a few Months, who were all ſlain, and Veſpaſian was ſettled Emperor, of which there is a particular Account in Suetonius, Tacitus, and Dion Caſſius; then was Jeruſalem with the Temple deſtroyed, and the ſurviving Jews became a diſperſed People. I have given a ſhort Account, the Facts being very noted and publick, and ſo the more likely to be intended, but they might be largely exemplified from Hiſtory.

Ver. 8. like a Man's] Veſpaſian appearing of a humane Diſpoſition, and though he was the Jews worſt Enemy, had leſs of the beaſtly Nature and Behaviour than others,

Ib. grand] He was General of the Roman Army in Judea, before he was Emperor, then his Son Titus was General in his room; ſo that this great Affair was in a Manner wholly accompliſhed by his Orders.

Ver. 9. till] This ſeems to reſpect the Downfal of that Heathen Empire, and its becoming a Chriſtian one, in the Time of the Emperor Conſtantine, in the Beginning of the fourth Century.

Ib. white] Deſcribed with great Strength and Elegance of Language in a Poem called The Hiſt. of Joſeph, at Gen. xlvi. 2. in theſe Words,

His Veſture were the Beams of pureſt Light:
To which compar'd, the Sun in all his Might Shines feebler, than to him the Lamp of Night.

Ver. 11. by reaſon] which as well by the Heb. Pointing, as the Senſe, has reſpect to Daniel's looking, not to the Beaſts being ſlain.

Ver. 13. a Man] Ezekiel who lived in the Time of Daniel, and in Captivity as he did, has frequently the Expreſſion Son of Man for Man of himſelf; and even Daniel, Chap. viii. 17. Chriſt alſo taking this Title on him ſeems to be no other, being ſtrictly and immediately no Man's Son, though a Woman's; ſee Ezek. ii. 1.

Ver. 15. The Mind of me my ſelf Daniel was pierced within the Body] Our Tranſlators have changed the Verb from the third to the firſt Perſon, and added [in] without diſtinguiſhing it: the Vulg. has rendered it, My Spirit quaked, I Daniel was terrified at theſe Things; but as Buxtorf ſays, groping as the Blind in Darkneſs, by being not ſkilled enough in Chaldee, Vind. p. 796.

Ver. 18. Higheſt Ones] mentioned Ver. 13. which does not interfere with the Unity of the Godhead; Chriſt as Man, according to the Deſcription there, being high above all others.

Ver. 20. greater] in regard to what he did againſt the Jews, as by the following Verſe.

Ver. 21. made War] See Ver. 25.

Ver. 22. Till] Perſecution was raiſed by Veſpaſian's Succeſſors both againſt the Jews and Chriſtians.

dom are ten Kings that will riſe up, and another will riſe up after them, who will be different from the former, and put down three Kings.

25. He will alſo ſpeak Words againſt the Part of the Supreme One, wear out the Saints of the Higheſt Ones, and think to alter Seaſons and Law; which will be delivered into his Power, while there is a Time, Times, and half a Time.

26. But the Judgment will be placed, and they will take away his Dominion, to conſume, and deſtroy it to the End.

27. Thus will the Kingdom, Dominion, and the Greatneſs of the Kingdom under the whole Heaven, be given to the holy People of the Higheſt Ones; whoſe Kingdom will be an everlaſting one, and all Dominions ſhall ſerve, and hearken to him.

28. Hitherto is the End of the Matter. As for me Daniel, my Thoughts troubled me exceedingly, and my very Looks altered; but I kept the Matter in my Heart.

CHAP. VIII.

IN the third Year of the Reign of King Belſhazzar, a Viſion appeared to me, who am Daniel, after that which appeared to me at firſt.

2. I being when I ſaw it at the Palace in Shuſhan, which is in the Province of Elam; in which Viſion I ſaw that I was by the River Ulai.

3. Where looking up, I ſaw plainly that there ſtood before the River a Ram, that had two Horns which were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higheſt came up laſt.

4. I ſaw the Ram puſhing, weſtward, northward and ſouthward; ſo that there were not any Beaſts could ſtand before him, and none could deliver out of his Power: but he did according to his Will, and became great.

5. And as I was conſidering, behold a He-goat came from the Weſt over the Surface of the whole Earth, without touching the Ground; and the Goat had a Horn that appeared large between his Eyes.

6. And he came to the Ram that had two Horns, which I ſaw ſtanding before the River, and ran at him in his ſtrong Rage.

7. I ſaw him alſo come cloſe to the Ram, and being exaſperated againſt him, he ſtruck the Ram, and broke his two Horns, for there was not Strength in the Ram to ſtand before him; but he caſt him to the Ground, and trod on him, and none could deliver the Ram out of his Power.

8. And the He-goat became very great indeed: but when he was ſtrong, the great Horn was broke; in the room of which there came up four that appeared large, towards the four Winds of the Heaven.

9. Beſides a certain little Horn came out of one of them, which became exceeding great towards the South, the Eaſt, and the glorious Place.

Ib. Shuſhan] See Neh. i. 1. Eſt. i. 2. where it is ſuppoſed Daniel was buried; and long after, as Benjamin the Jewiſh Traveller relates, his Body or Coffin being with the Jews on one Side of the River, was demanded by the Inhabitants on the other, and after fighting about it, they had it a Year by turns, till Senigar the great Sultan of Perſia ordered it to be hung on the middle of the Bridge.

Ib. without touching] By which may be underſtood not only the Swiftneſs of its Progreſs and Conqueſts, but that it went on wonderfully as it were above Nature. Such as have rendered or expounded it, whom none touched in the Earth, did probably not conſider that ב belongs to the Conſtruction of this Verb, and ſo is not here for in.

Ib. Horn] Alexander, who utterly overthrew Darius in three Battles.

Ver. 7. two Horns] In Poole's Annot. there is mentioned for one of them 'Artaxerxes Mnemon who aided Cyrus againſt Alexander:' two monſtrous Abſurdities; for Artaxerxes Mnemon reigned the third before Darius whom Alexander conquered, and Cyrus the ninth before that Artaxerxes.

Ver. 8. four] for the Kingdoms of Macedonia, Aſia, Syria and Egypt; ſee Chap. xi. 4.

Ver. 9. little Horn] denoting Antiochus Epiphanes, concerning whom ſee Chap. xi. 21. to the End of the Book, which may help to explain this by their Agreement. Newton expounds this Horn to be Macedonia after the Romans conquered it, thereby making it in Effect the ſame with the Horn it came out of; and then aſcribes to this ſubjected Province the future Power and Conqueſts of the Romans, with the putting Chriſt to death, deſtroying Jeruſalem, &c. which cannot preponderate in my Mind.

Ib. out of one] namely the Kingdom of Syria. The Angel Gabriel himſelf expounds the four Horns to ſignify Kingdoms, and the ſingle Horn a King, Ver. 22, 23. whereas Newton, to promote his own Scheme of interpreting the Prophecies in Daniel, ſays in his Obſervat. Ch. ix. a Horn of a Beaſt is never taken for a ſingle Perſon; but it is of no Validity when confronted with the Scripture.

10. It even became great to the Army of Heaven, ſome of which, namely of the Stars, it caſt down to the Ground, and trod on them.

11. Nay it magnified it ſelf to the Prince of the Army, and by it was the continual Offering taken away, and the ſettled Place of his Sanctuary thrown down.

12. For an Army was given againſt the continual Offering by reaſon of Tranſgreſſion; ſo that it threw down the Truth to the Ground, acted, and proſpered.

13. Then I heard a certain holy one ſpeaking; whom another holy one aſked by Name, how long the Viſion would be of the continual Offering, and the Tranſgreſſion that would make deſolate, cauſing both the Sanctuary and Army to be trod down?

14. And he ſaid to me, Till there is Evening and Morning two thouſand and three hundred Times, when the Sanctuary ſhall become right,

15. Now when I Daniel had ſeen the Viſion, and ſought for the Underſtanding of it, behold one ſtood before me like the Appearance of a Man.

16. And I heard a Man's Voice between Ulai, which called thus, Gabriel, let him underſtand that which has appeared.

17. So he came near where I ſtood, at whoſe coming I was frightened, and fell upon my Face: but he ſaid to me, Underſtand, Man; for the End of the Viſion will be at the Time.

18. And when he ſpoke to me, I being faſt aſleep on my Face towards the Ground, he touched me, and made me ſtand up where I did.

19. Behold, ſaid he, I will let thee know what will be at the Concluſion of the Indignation; for the End will be at the appointed Time.

20. The Ram that thou ſaweſt having two Horns, are the Kings of the Medes and Perſians.

21. And the hairy Goat is the King of Greece, as the great Horn which was between his Eyes is the firſt King.

22. Whereas it was broke, and there ſtood up four in the room of it; four Kingdoms will ſtand up out of the Nation, but not with his Power.

23. At the Concluſion of which Kingdoms, when the Tranſgreſſors come to an end, there will ſtand up a King of a fierce Countenance, and underſtanding hidden Speeches.

24. Who will be ſtrong in his Power, but not by his Power; inſomuch that he will wonderfully deſtroy, proſper, and act: not only deſtroying the Strong, but the People of the holy ones.

25. For it will be through his Policy that he will make Deceit proſper in his Hand, will magnify himſelf in his Heart, and deſtroy many in Quietneſs; nay he will ſtand up againſt the Prince of Princes, but will be broke without Hand.

26. And the Appearance of the Evening and Morning which has been told is Truth: therefore do thou cloſe up the Viſion, becauſe it is for many Days.

27. Upon this I Daniel was brought to ſuch a paſs, that I was ſick ſome Time; afterwards I got up, and did the King's Buſineſs: though I was aſtoniſhed at the Appearance, but none underſtood it.

It was the Year after this when Antiochus plundered and profaned the Sanctuary, 1 Mac. i. 20, 21. but one may eaſily obſerve it was not in right Order ſome while before, by 2 Mac. iv. The Commencement of the Time ſeems to be at the Sacriledge of Menelaus and Lyſimachus the chief Prieſts, Ver. 32, 39. which was conſequently followed by Diſorders in the Sanctuary. Ver. 27. was brought to—a paſs] the Verb-ſubſtantive paſſive.

CHAP. IX.

IN the first Year of the Reign of Darius the Son of Ahasuerus, one of the Offspring of the Medes, who was made King over the Kingdom of the Chaldeans;

2. I Daniel understood by Books, the Number of the Years, of which the Prophet Jeremiah had the Lord's Commission, that he would fulfil seventy Years for the Wastings of Jerusalem.

3. Then I put my Face towards the Lord God, to make request by Prayer and Supplications, with Fasting, Sackcloth and Ashes;

4. Praying to the Lord my God, and making confession as follows: Oh, Lord the Great and Terrible God, keeping the Covenant and Kindness with those who love him, and keep his Commandments;

5. We have sinned, committed Iniquity, done wickedly, and rebelled, namely by departing from thy Commandments and Rules.

6. Neither have we hearkened to thy Servants the Prophets, who spoke in thy Name to our Kings, Princes and Fathers, as well as to all the People of the Country.

7. To thee, Lord, belongs Righteousness, but to us Shame of Face, as it is this Day, to the Men of Judah, the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel who are near and far off, in all the Countries whither thou hast driven them, for their Wickedness which they committed against thee.

8. Lord, to us belongs Shame of Face, to our Kings, Princes and Fathers; because we have sinned against thee.

9. To the Lord our God belong Compassions, and Forgivenesses; though we have rebelled against him.

10. For we have not hearkened to what the Lord our God said, to go in his Laws, which he put before us by the Ministry of his Servants the Prophets.

11. Even all Israel have transgressed thy Law, that is by departing without hearkening to what thou saidest; so that the Curse is poured out upon us, and the Oath which is written in the Law of Moses the Servant of God, since we have sinned against him.

12. Who has confirmed his Words which he spoke, both concerning us, and our Judges that judged us, by bringing great Adversity upon us: because there has not been done under the whole Heaven, as has been against Jerusalem.

13. All this Adversity come as it did upon us, according to what is written in the Law of Moses; we did not make supplication before the Lord our God, that we might return from our Iniquities, and mind thy Truth.

14. Therefore the Lord watched for Adversity, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his Deeds which he has done, as we did not hearken to what he said.

15. And now, Lord our God, who broughtest thy People out of the Country of Egypt by a strong Hand, and gottest thy self such a Name as there is this Day; we having sinned, we having done wickedly.

16. Lord, according to all thy Righteousness, let thy Anger and Wrath, I beseech thee, be turned away from thy City Jerusalem, thy holy Mountain: since for our Sins, and for the Iniquities of our Fathers, Jerusalem and thy People are a Reproach for all who are round about us.

17. Now therefore, our God, hearken to the Prayer of thy Servant, and to his Supplications, and make thy Face light to thy Sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake.

18. Incline thy Ear, my God, and hear; open thy Eyes, and see our Desolations, and the City which is called by thy Name: for we do not prostrate our selves with Supplications before thee for our own Righteousness, but for thy many Compassions.

19. Lord, hear, Lord, forgive, Lord, be attentive, and act without delay; for thy own sake, my God, since thy City and People are called by thy Name.

20. And while I was speaking, praying, and confessing my Sin, with that of my People Israel, and prostrating my self with Supplication before the Lord my God, for my God's holy Mountain;

21. Even while I was speaking in Prayer, the Man Gabriel whom I saw in the Vision at first, being made to fly swiftly, touched me about the Time of the evening Offering.

22. Who gave intelligence, speaking to me thus: Daniel, I am now come forth, to teach thee Understanding.

23. At the Beginning of thy Supplications the Commission came forth, which I am come to tell, as thou art a very desirable one: therefore consider the Matter, and understand the Appearance.

24. Seventy Sevens are determined for thy

Lift up thine Eies, and us O looke upon;

That Citie, where thy Name is called on.

Ver. 24. Sevens] As it is agreed that Years are to be understood, and not Days, the Text expressing neither of them, a Translator should not take in the latter, by rendering it Weeks; especially as it does not appear that Daniel uses any express Number of Days for Years, as is done in Ezek. iv. 5, 6. and even there we are told it is so; besides Weeks is otherwise in Heb. Chap. x. 1, 2.

People and holy City, to ſtop Tranſgreſſion, to finiſh Sins, to make atonement for Iniquity, to bring everlaſting Righteouſneſs, to ſeal up the Viſions and Prophets, and to anoint the very Holy One.

25. So thou art to know and conſider, that from the coming out of the Commiſſion to reſtore and build Jeruſalem, to Meſſiah the Ruler, will be ſeven Sevens, and ſixty two Sevens; the Streets and Ditches will be reſtored and built alſo in the ſhorteſt of the Times.

26. After thoſe ſixty two Sevens the Meſſiah will be cut off, though not for himſelf (and the Ruler's People that ſhall come, will deſtroy the City and Sanctuary, whoſe End will be with a Flood, and till the End of the War there will be what is determined of Deſolations)

27. However he will make the Covenant ſtrong to many in the one Seven, in the half of which he will aboliſh the Sacrifice and Offering; making deſolate afterwards by reaſon of the overſpreading of Abominations, even till conſuming and that which is determined is poured out upon the Deſolate.

CHAP. X.

IN the third Year of Cyrus King of Perſia, a Matter which was true was revealed to Daniel, whoſe Name was called Belteſhazzar, but the appointed Time was a great while; however he conſidered the Matter, and had Underſtanding of the Appearance.

2. At which Time I Daniel had been mourn-ing the Space of three Weeks

3. I eat no Food of deſirable Things, Fleſh or Wine did not come into my Mouth, nor was I anointed at all, till the Space of three Weeks was fulfilled.

4. And on the twenty fourth Day of the firſt Month, I being then by the Side of the great River which is Hiddekel;

5. I looked up, and ſaw that behold there was a Man cloathed in Linen, and his Loins were girded with the famous Gold of Uphaz.

6. His Body was alſo like the Beryl, his Face like the Appearance of Lightning, his Eyes like Lamps of Fire, his Arms and Feet as the Colour of poliſhed Braſs, and the Sound of his Words like that of a Multitude.

7. And I Daniel only ſaw the Appearance, but though the Men who were with me did not, ſuch a great Fearfulneſs ſeized them, that they ran away to hide.

8. I being thus left alone, and ſeeing this great Appearance, there was no Strength left in me: for my Complexion was grievouſly

---

Ver. 25. ſeven] Newton's late Interpretation is very ſingular, as it ſeems ſuch famous learned Men love their Works ſhould be. Inſtead of the 7, 62, and 1 making up the 70, he puts them all four, and the half one alſo, as independent Numbers. The 70 Sevens or 490 Years he counts to end at Chriſt's Death, the 7 Sevens to be 49 Years yet to come, which are to conclude with the End of the World, the 62 to end at the Birth of Chriſt, the one Seven to be next after his Death, and the half Seven the Time of beſieging Jeruſalem, which ended An. Dom. 70. At the Beginning of the 7 Sevens by his Expoſition, there is to go forth a Commandment to build Jeruſalem; whereas the City is now in Being, and inhabited, ſuch a Commandment alſo as the Prophecy mentions went forth a few Years after, and is recorded in Scripture, which to paſs by for another ſo very long after, nay ſo unlikely ever to be, ſeems too uneligible. If the Jews are to be converted, why muſt they return to Jeruſalem any more than other Chriſtians? Or are any of their Ceremonies to be revived? The comparative Prophecies of the Goſpel Times are not to be underſtood literally, as may be ſeen by a remarkable Inſtance in Acts ii. 16, 19, 20. and the Jews have returned, and Jeruſalem with other Places there have been rebuilt already, to fulfil other Prophecies; as Newton quotes divers of thoſe two Sorts, to favour his Notion. The next is a bold Stretch! That the 62 Sevens or 434 Years may begin when Jeruſalem was built by Nehemiah, and end at the Birth of Chriſt, he reckons the former to be 8 Years a doing, till the 28th Year of Axtaxerxes, from whence he counts; for Proof of which he does Nothing but cite Neh. vi. 15. that ſays it was 52 Days. The 1 Seven he concludes with the Calling of Cornelius and the Gentiles, which is uncertain what Year it was, but counted 2 or 3 ſooner, and ſeems too particular an Affair for the Event of this great Prophecy, if the Matter did agree: this according to him was Chriſt's keeping the Covenant with the Jews till then; but the Text expreſſes more than a common keeping it as before, making the Covenant ſtrong, or confirming it, as Chriſt did by his Preaching and Miracles. Prideaux beginning thoſe Sevens in the 7th Year of Artaxerxes Longimanus, ends the 49 Years in the 15th of Darius Nothus, when he ſuppoſes what is recorded Neh. xiii. 23. to the End was done, Connect. Anno 409. Lloyd's Computation is 13 Years later, who would have thoſe Years end with the Propheſying of Malachi. But the Text here does not appear to predict either of theſe Things, unleſs it be that which Prideaux advances in a figurative Senſe, and for this indeed that learned and ingenious Perſon pleads: yet I ſhould rather underſtand the reſtoring and building literally, to be at the ſame Time as he counts the other, though the particular finiſhing of it be not expreſs'd in Hiſtory; as the Time is not for either of thoſe Events, to which they aſcribe the Termination of the 49 Years.

Ib. Ditches] probably to ſupply the City with Water, at the Head of which the Conduit might ſtand, 2 Sam. v. 8. and by the Rabbinical Deſcription of the ſeveral Sorts of Ditches in Bava kama, Cap. v. this was broad below and narrow above, which was fitteſt for that Purpoſe: they might likewiſe be for Fortification. The Name is alſo modern in a City, as Fleetditch, Hounſditch, &c. in London.

changed on me, and I could not retain Strength.

9. However I heard the Sound of his Words, though I was then in a Trance upon my Face, which was towards the Ground.

10. But behold a Hand touched me, and removed me upon my Knees and the Palms of my Hands.

11. Moreover he ſaid to me, Daniel, a Man very deſirable, underſtand the Things which I ſpeak to thee, and ſtand up where thou didſt, for I am now ſent to thee; which Thing when he had ſpoken to me, I ſtood trembling.

12. Upon this he ſaid to me; Be not afraid, Daniel, for thy Words were heard from the firſt Day that thou appliedſt thy Heart to underſtand, and to afflict thy ſelf before thy God; and I am come by reaſon of thy Words.

13. But the Prince of the Kingdom of Perſia ſtood before me twenty one Days, when behold there came Michael one of the chief Princes to help me, I having been left there with the Kings of Perſia.

14. And I am come to let thee underſtand what will fall out to thy People in the latter Days, as the Viſion is for a good while hence.

15. As he was ſpeaking ſuch Words as theſe, I put my Face towards the Ground, and became dumb.

16. Yet behold one in the Likeneſs of Mankind touching my Lips, I opened my Mouth, and ſpoke thus to him who ſtood before me; My Lord, by the Appearance my Pains are turned upon me, and I cannot retain Strength.

17. How therefore can the Servant of this my Lord talk with him, when I ſhall henceforth not have Strength remaining in me, where there is not Breath left?

18. Then one like the Appearance of a Man touched me again, and ſtrengthened me,

19. Saying, Be not afraid, O Man very deſirable, may it be well with thee, be ſtrong; be even ſtrong. Accordingly when he had ſpoken to me, I was ſtrengthened, and ſaid, Let my Lord ſpeak, ſince thou haſt ſtrengthened me.

20. Doſt thou know, replied he, why I came to thee? And now I muſt return to fight with the Prince of Perſia, and after I am gone forth, behold the Prince of Greece will come.

21. But I will tell thee that which is written in the Scripture of Truth; not one being ſtrong with me for theſe Things, excepting Michael your Prince.

CHAP XI.

AND it was I, in the firſt Year of Darius the Mede, ſtood to ſtrengthen and confirm him.

2. So I will now tell thee the Truth: Behold there will yet ſtand up three Kings of Perſia, and a fourth will be rich with greater Wealth than all; who when he is ſtrong by his Wealth, will ſtir up all againſt the Kingdom of Greece.

3. But a powerful King will ſtand up, and rule with great Dominion, doing after his own Will.

4. Nevertheleſs when he has ſtood up, his Kingdom will be broke, and parted to the four Winds of Heaven; yet not to his Poſterity, nor according to his Dominion with

Whereas in both Places that Interpretation is invalid, and different from the Manner of the Heb. Tongue. Beſides it is he in the next Verſe, and ſo on afterwards, the Return from the Digreſſion at the 36th Verſe being made with the King, not the Arms, and proceeds declaring only what the King would do. The Diſtinction between [him] and [Arms] is not only in the Scripture, but in Newton's own Obſervation, in what he counts the Beginning of the Deſcription of the Romans; and muſt it not be quite incongruous then, to imagine that the former ſignifies the latter throughout the ſame Deſcription? This is a Way of writing or ſpeaking, in his own Expreſſion, uſed by no Nation, p. 137. nay he aſcribes Part of what follows to Ver. 36. to the Heath n Romans, Part in the next four Verſes to the Chriſtian Greeks, and the latter Part to the Turks, though it is obviouſly the ſame in the Scripture. It is agreeable to underſtand by the Kings of the South and North at Ver. 40. thoſe of the ſame Kingdoms as at Ver. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. 11, 13, 14, 15, 25. and not the Saracens and Turks, both which were eaſtward from the Greek Empire, which Newton ſays they ſhould puſh at, and come againſt. Nor is it at all likely that ſo many leſſer Affairs, eſpecially to the Jews, ſhould be mentioned of Antiochus, and his great Perſecution of them at laſt omitted; much leſs when there is a lively and particular Deſcription of ſuch a Perſecution put in Order of Time, and juſt after it is foretold that he would have indignation againſt the holy Covenant, and get intelligence about it, is it to be expounded away to Something done by another People 237 Years after. Was it told that Antiochus deſigned and prepared to do it, and not that he did it? As for the Abomination of Deſolation by the Romans, Mat. xxiv. 15. that is to be referred to Ch. ix. 26, 27. of this Book. And in our celebrated Univerſal Hiſtory, B. ii. To this the former Obſervation on Ver. 31. may be partly applicable; and if it had been ſo, with what Probability can one think, but that it would have been introduced with In the latter Days, At the End of many Years or Days, After that, another King alſo (if not rather under a different Name) or ſome other ſuitable Form of Expreſſion uſed in Scripture, and not with) And the ſmalleſt Conjunction? Lowth however ſays, 'We may 'obſerve ſuch a ſudden Tranſition, Mat. xxiv. from the 'Deſtruction of Jeruſalem to the General Judgment;' but how ſhould he think others obſerve it, if he himſelf has not, ſo as to tell us in what particular Place it is? If he means at the Beginning of Ver. 29. certainly that is not ſuch a Tranſition, there is ſufficient Notice given of it. Our Author too aſſerts, that the Words in the four following Verſes (he ſhould have ſaid in this and the three following ones) are not at all applicable to Antiochus. We ſhall ſee whether it be ſo. In the Aſſembly's Annotations is an Obſervation in theſe Words, 'The Hebrew 'Article before the Word King, doth manifeſtly referre 'the Matter to the King ſpoken of before, but that with-'out controverſie was Antiochus Epiphanes.' Jun. and Trem. comment here, Nos ex antecedentium & ſequentium comparatione, adeoque ex hiſtoriæ fide ſtatuimus hæc omnia de Antiocho Epiphane eſſe intelligenda: by comparing together what goes before and what follows, and that with the Reality of Hiſtory, we conclude all theſe Things are to be underſtood of Antiochus Epiphanes; ſee alſo Grot. Annot.

Ib. above every god] Look, 2 Mac. ix. 10, 12.

37. He will not mind even the god of his Fathers, nor the Desire of Women, neither will he mind any god: for he will magnify himself above every one.

38. Only in his State he will honour the god of Fortresses; even a god whom his Fathers did not know will he honour, with Gold, Silver, precious Stones, and desirable Things.

39. So will he do at the strong Holds of the Fortresses, with the strange god whom he will acknowledge, increasing the Honour; and he will make such rule over many, and divide the Country for a Price.

40. Thus at the final Time the King of the South will push at him, against whom the King of the North will behave himself tempestuously with Chariots, Horsemen and many Ships; and going into the Countries, he will overflow, and pass through.

41. He will further go into the glorious Country, and many Countries will fall; these however will be delivered from his Power, Edom, Moab, and the chief of the Ammonites.

42. But he will stretch forth his Hand against the Countries, so that the Country of Egypt shall not be one that escapes.

43. Nay he will rule over the hidden Treasures of Gold and Silver, with all the desirable Things of Egypt; the Lubites and Ethiopians being in his Steps.

44. News notwithstanding will trouble him both from the East and North; upon which he will go out in a great Rage to destroy many, and that utterly.

45. Yet plant as he will the Tents of his Pavilion between the Seas, at the glorious holy Mountain; he will come to his End, and have no Helper.

CHAP. XII.

AND at that Time will stand up Michael the great Prince, who stands for the Posterity of thy People, because it will be such a Time of Distress as had not been since it was a Nation till that Time; when every one of thy People notwithstanding will be delivered, who is found written in the Book.

2. And many of them who are sleeping in the dusty Ground will awake, some to everlasting Life, and others to everlasting Reproach and Contempt.

Ver. 37. the god of his Fathers] See the Note on the next Verse. In the other Scheme this god is explained to be the Heathen gods, that were worshipped before Christianity was established; so that it was doing well not to mind or regard such: whereas it is beside the Tenor of the Description, that the Angel was praising the King, especially as there is a contrary Object belonging to the same Verb. Nay Mede and Lowth interpret the god in the next Verse, and the strange god in the following one, to be the true God: which may surprize such as have not heard it, and is still more incoherent, as the Account given will be to this Effect, He will magnify himself above every god excepting the true God; whereas there are no other gods in the Christian Religion but the true one, and to understand it of the Pope's magnifying himself above the Heathen gods looks quite absurd, but is very congruous to them and Antiochus.

Ib. Desire] Diana, according to Polybius in the Excerpta out of him by Valesius, Strabo, Lib. 16. and Joseph. Antiq. Lib. xii. 13. or Venus, according to Appian in Syriacis, whose Temple at Elymais in Persia Antiochus would have plundered, 1 Mac. vi. 1, 2, 3.

Ib. magnify himself] I have a brass Coin, says Sir John Marsham in his Canon Chronicus, ad Secul. 4. ΒΑΣΙΛΕΩΣ ΑΝΤΙΟΧΟΥ ΘΕΟΥ ΕΠΙΦΑΝΟΥΣ, of King Antiochus the God Epiphanes: which still the more justifies applying this to him.

Ver. 38. god] Jupiter, as may be seen, 2 Mac. vi. 2. where he is repeatedly mentioned as here, and being called Olympius from a Mountain in Greece, was consequently a strange god to the Syrians, which the Ancestors of Antiochus were; and as this is called here the god of Fortresses, so there Jupiter the Defender of Strangers. Newton as it were by Compulsion to support his Scheme, which however he has taken from Mede with some Improvements as if it was his own, interprets the last mentioned of the worshipping Saints used by the Papists, with as little Propriety perhaps as great Pains. The same Word for Fortresses occurs in this Chapter, Ver. 10, 19, 39. Antiochus's honouring Jupiter seems to be in Respect to Alexander, whose god and pretended Father he was:

Ib. even] as it is said of this King that he would not mind or regard any god, Ver. 37. it is unlikely two gods should be here excepted; which is confirmed by his honouring it being repeated, whereas if there had been two, it might more probably have been said he would worship one of them.

Ver. 2. dusty Ground) as the Heb. Ground of Dust, not Dust of the Earth or Ground, signifies.

3. Then

3. Then will they that conſider, ſhine like the Brightneſs of the Firmament; and thoſe who cauſe many to be virtuous, like the Stars for ever and evermore.

4. But do thou, Daniel, cloſe up the Words, and ſeal up the Book, till the final Time. Many will go about, and Knowledge be increaſed.

5. Next I Daniel ſaw plainly that there were two others ſtood, one on this ſide the Bank of the River, and the other on that ſide of its Bank.

6. And one aſking the Man cloathed in Linen, who was above the Water of the River, how long it would be to the End of thoſe Wonders?

7. I heard the Man laſt mentioned ſwear by him who lives for ever, lifting up both his right and left Hand towards Heaven, that it would be for an appointed Time, Times, and half a one; and when there ſhould be an Accompliſhment of diſperſing the Power of the holy People, all theſe Things would be accompliſhed.

8. But though I heard, I did not underſtand; therefore I ſaid, My Lord, what will the Concluſion of theſe Things be?

9. And he anſwered; Go, Daniel: for the Words are cloſed and ſealed up, till the final Time.

10. Many will be made pure and white, and will be purified; but the Wicked will do wickedly, and none of them underſtand: whereas thoſe who conſider, will underſtand.

11. Now from the Time that the continual Offering is taken away, and the Abomination put which will make deſolate, will be a thouſand two hundred and ninety Days.

12. He will be happy who tarries, and comes to a thouſand three hundred and thirty five Days.

13. Do thou however go till the End; ſince thou wilt reſt, and ſtand in thy Lot till the End of the Days.

Ver. 7. Time] The publick Religion of the Jews, or Power of the holy People, being at the Temple, was diſperſed from thence by Antiochus; and about three Years and a half after, were all theſe Things, told by the Angel to Daniel in this Viſion, accompliſhed.

Ver. 11. thouſand] It is ſaid 1 Mac. i. 54. they ſet up the Abomination of Deſolation upon the Altar, the fifteenth Day of the Month Caſleu, in the hundred forty and fifth Year; which is plainly and evidently the Time, by the Angel's Words here, to begin thoſe Days from. Now the Sanctuary was cleanſed and the Altar dedicated three Years and ten Days after, 1 Mac. iv. 52. and the Years containing 365 Days each, and the Months 30, with five Days added at the End of the Year, to the End of this laſt 9th Month would be 1110 Days, and 6 Months more, to the End of the next third Month, are juſt 1290. Ezekiel propheſying of this as appears, informs us they would be 7 Months cleanſing the Country, Chap. xxxix. 12. which alſo determines the odd Time to be after thoſe three Years, and not as ſome count it before; and as the Cleanſing of the Sanctuary, and preparing their holy Things was doubtleſs their firſt Work, which being finiſhed on the 25th of the 9th Month Caſleu, it is probable they would then proceed to bury the many dead Bodies and Bones of thoſe unclean Gentiles, who were lately ſlain in the Wars, and defiled their Country; for doing which there remained ſeven Months current, to make up the 1290 Days.

Ver. 12. thouſand] forty five Days more than the other, that is a Month and a half, and that it was ſo much after, the Words of the Text ſhew; which from the End of the third Month extends to the Middle of the fifth: and the Grants of Toleration to the Jews, both from King Antiochus and the Romans are dated the 15th of Xanthicus, in the ſame 148th Year when the Sanctuary was cleanſed, that Æra of the Seleucidæ beginning in Autumn; but the Jewiſh Year beginning in the Spring, the 9th Month anſwered partly to our November. Now Xanthicus being the firſt Month in the Syro-Macedonian Calendar, and the Month anſwering to that now called July being among the Greeks counted the firſt, as Rous ſhews in his Archæologiæ Atticæ Lib. ii. Cap. 10. and Bedford in Scrip. Chron. Lib. vi. 2. 107. according to all this it follows, that Xanthicus was at the Time of the Jews 5th Month, and the 15th Day of it exactly compleated the 1335 Days. And it was certainly a Happineſs to ſuch as had waited in Patience, to ſee Peace and Liberty confirmed. Though in fixing thoſe Days preciſely by certain Numbers recorded as above, I have perhaps attempted in the Words of Virgil, ire quà nulla priorum devertitur orbita, Geor. 3.

To tread a Path untrodden heretofore; ſee Lowth's Commentary. But Floyer computes it will hereafter be ſo many Days from the taking of Jeruſalem, to the Beginning of the Millennium, or thouſand Years Reign of Chriſt on the Earth, Sibyl. Orac. p. 315.

Ver. 13. till the End of the Days] of his Life; and this till is in Heb. as juſt before.

9—	265	Hoſhea, 2 King. xvii. 1.	—	—	—	2 King. xvii. 6. & xviii. 10.

As Reboboam and Jeroboam began, and Ahaziah and Joram, being both ſlain by Jehu, ended their Reigns together, the Time of the Kingdoms of Judah and Iſrael was till then alike; but if we count the Years of their reſpective Kings, thoſe of the former will be 95, and theſe of the latter 98; and if we reckon from thence to the 6th Year of Hezekiah and 9th of Hoſhea, which were the ſame, 2 King. xviii. 10. the firſt will be 164 and the other 142: ſo that we muſt find out ſome other Way of Computation, if we would know the Certainty of the Time.

This may be by calculating it Step by Step, as in the preceding Tables, which though exceeding difficult, is notwithſtanding a very conciſe Method. The Algebraic Signs in the firſt Column, after the Number of Years, which the Texts firſt quoted in that Line ſay each King reigned, ſignify, + more and — leſs than compleat Years; the Proof of which is to be ſought in the laſt Texts of each Line, compared with thoſe of the foregoing Line. And the Years in the 2d Column are all full ones.

Thus Abijam reigning in the 18th Year of Jeroboam, Reboboam muſt have reigned more than 17 exact Years; but Aſa in the 20th, ſhews that Abijam was not King 3 whole Years, and that his Father's Reign and his own were but 19 and odd; which with 1 Year and a Part of Aſa's, can make but 21 and odd, and muſt be ſo much, elſe Jeroboam could not be ſaid to reign 22 Years. In this Manner the Total to the End of Omri's Reign will be 57 Years, which muſt be right, though the Sum of the Years of the Kings of Iſrael's Reigns is 62, becauſe they reigned but a little Part of their laſt Year. Next though Aſa did not reign out 41 Years, 2 Chron. xvi. yet the Overplus of the 19 Years to the Beginning of his Reign made it up, ſo that both were 60; as 3 whole Years of Ahab in his Time, to be added to the 57 ſhew, 1 King. xxii. 41. Going on, in Ver. 52. when Jehoſhaphat had been 17 Years King, which was his 18th Year, that with the 60 and odd make up the 78 to the End of the Reign of Ahab: for the Heb. Numerals ſignify either ſeven or ſeventh, ten or tenth, &c. and from Ahab's 4th Year, when Jehoſhaphat began to reign, to his 22d when Ahab

Ahab died, muſt be above 17 Years; beſides if Ahaziah began to reign in the 17th Year of Jehoſhaphat, that being the 21ſt of his Father Ahab, as appears certain, and as Uſher ſtates it, nay puts the firſt Year of his Reign coincident with them, according to which Ahab's laſt Year will be his too; how is there then Time for what is recorded in Ahaziah's own Reign, 2 King. i. 2 Chron. xix. & xx. 1, 35, 37? Nor can it be pretended he was thus made King when his Father went to Ramoth-gilead, Ver. 29, 37, 40. 2 King. iii. 1. is alſo to be underſtood in the ſame Manner; and thus Chap. ix. 29. is to be reconciled with Chap. viii. 25. for Jehoram King of Judah could not be ſaid to reign 8 Years, from the 5th to the 11th Year of Joram King of Iſrael, Chap. viii. 16, 17. but from the 5th to the 12th might be 8 Years not full. As the Amount to the Death of Ahaziah King of Judah and that of Jehoram King of Iſrael was the ſame, and as Jehoram King of Judah began reigning in the 5th Year of the latter, while his Father Jehoſhaphat lived, 2 King. viii. 16. the laſt Year of Jehoſhaphat falling in the firſt of his Son, is not reckoned in the Amount. The 92 Years which are coincident may be counted juſt full ones, as they ſeem not to be much over or under, and ſo 92 compleat Years in theſe Tables, are the ſame with the End of the 92d Year in the following Table.

Next Athaliah and Jehu began reigning together, ſhe above 6 and he above 28 Years, as the Texts ſhew. I then find that the Numbers relative to 2 King. xiii. 10. do not agree with the 37th Year of Joaſh King of Judah, the reſolving of which ſee in the Note on that Text.

From thence the Chronology is eaſy, till we come to an Interregnum in the Kingdom of Judah; for Jeroboam beginning his Reign when Amaziah had reigned 14 Years, 2 King. xiv. 23. he could have reigned but 15 when Amaziah had reigned his whole 29; whoſe Son Azariah, by reaſon of his Minority, the Troubles in the Country, or both, did not begin to reign till the 27th Year of Jeroboam: ſo that there was a Space between of 11 Years, as by the Table, and Scholium on 2 King. xv. 1. Jeroboam then reigning 41 Years, at the Concluſion of it Azariah would be but in the 15th Year of his Reign, and Zachariah his Son not reigning till Azariah's 38th Year, there muſt have been an Interregnum of about 23 Years. Jeroboam having ſaved the Iſraelites from their Troubles, it ſeems that thoſe returned upon them after his Deceaſe, 2 King. xiv. 26, 27. yet his Son at laſt obtained the Kingdom for a little while, to fulfil the Word of the Lord, Chap. xv. 12.

Omitting what the Reader may now eaſily compute from the Table, I obſerve that Pekah was ſlain at 20 Years of Jotham, 2 King. xv. 30. that is from the Beginning of Jotham's Reign, for he reigning but 16 Years, brings it to 4 after his Death, as ſhewn on that Text; but Hoſhea began reigning in the 12th Year of Ahaz, 2 King. xvii. 1. here then was another Interregnum in Iſrael of 7 Years, before Hoſhea got to be King after he had ſlain Pekah: in which Time Ahaz King of Judah might partly rule there, as he is called King of Iſrael, 2 Chron. xxviii. 19. Hoſhea reigning the 12th Year of Ahaz, and Hezekiah in the 3d of Hoſhea, Hezekiah muſt begin before Ahaz had reigned 16 Years, as both Uſher in Chron. Sacr. p. 17. and Bedford in Scrip. Chron. Tab. 46. put it. So here is a Year taken off from the End of the Reign of Ahaz. Laſtly Hoſhea being King almoſt 3 Years before Hezekiah, 2 King. xviii. 1, 9, 10. the Amount of the Years to the Beginning of the Reign of the firſt, will be 3 leſs than that of the other; and to the Commencement of Hezekiah's Reign was 259, as the Texts ſhew, therefore it was 256 when Hoſhea began, and conſequently as before there was an Interregnum of 7 Years.

Thus computing, the Kingdom of Iſrael or the ten Tribes remained 265 Years, from the Beginning of Jeroboam's to the End of Hoſhea's Reign; for which we have an excellent confirming Teſtimony in Iſa. vii. 8. where that Kingdom is called Ephraim, becauſe of the Largeneſs of that Tribe, as it is elſewhere; and the Time of the 200 Years being over, which was not neceſſary to mention, the 1ſt of Ahaz being the Year 246, it is ſaid, within the ſixty five years, i. e. odd Years above the Hundreds, Ephraim ſhall be broken from being a People; reckoned according to the Words of the 17th Verſe, from the Day that Ephraim departed from Judah. Prideaux and others indeed count thoſe 65 Years from the Time of the Prophecy to a ſecond Captivity of Iſrael by Eſarhaddon, Con. An. 677. But ſuch a Captivity is only imaginary for the ſake of that Computation, and certainly Ephraim was broken before, 2 King. xvii. 6, 18. Broughton, our great Scripture Chronologer, blames others, but ſays he will not determine of it, Works p. 367. And here let me obſerve to the Reader, that the foregoing Tables of the Kings were compoſed, with a ſtrict Attention to their ſeveral Particulars in the Texts cited, before I made the Computation of this and all the Numbers here following; ſo that I might well be agreeably ſurprized (in ſuch a difficult Affair) to find thoſe latter ſo exactly every one of them agree with the Calculation in the Table. I compare it as if one was now truly to ſurvey that Country by Meaſure, and then examine the Scripture Account of its Geography, in which there would be doubtleſs the like Harmony. And if another, inſtead of an actual Survey, ſhould compute the Dimenſions of the Country from his own Notions of Hiſtory (which Neceſſity indeed obliges to in that Caſe) he might be ſaid to be imitated by ſuch Chronologers, as adjuſt thoſe extraneous Numbers by their own Imagination, and afterwards frame the Kings Reigns according to the ſame: which they mix together; inſomuch that Bedford counts Ahab, Ahaziah and Joram to reign at once in Iſrael, and two in Judah at the ſame Time, Scrip. Chron. Lib. VII. ii. 44. Again we find in Ezek. iv. 5. that the Family of Iſrael had been wicked 390 Years, as doubtleſs they ſtill continued to be in their Aſſyrian Captivity, or elſe might have been reſtored again as Manaſſeh was, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11, 12, 13. that being in the 5th Year of Zedekiah, Ezek. i. 2. & viii. 1. which ſhews that it was 390 Years from the Beginning of Jeroboam's Reign, when he ſet up Idolatry, to that Time; which is likewiſe according to the Table. And it would be prepoſterous and worſe to reckon the Years of their Iniquity before they came, to the End of Zedekiah's Reign, or as ſome do 4 Years after, to which alſo the Particulars do not agree, and which did not belong to the Kingdom of Iſrael at all. Next from the Time that Joſiah firſt endeavoured to reform Judah in the 8th Year of his Reign, 2 Chron. xxxiv. 3. ſince which their Iniquity was of a worſe Kind, is by the Table 40 Years to that ſame Time, anſwerable to thoſe in Ezek. iv. 6.

The 30th Year in Ezek. i. 1. appears to be that of the Eſtabliſhment of the true Religion, and the great Paſſover kept by King Joſiah in the 18th Year of his Reign, 2 Chron. xxxiv. 8. & xxxv. 19. which it is probable the better Sort might reckon from (as they alſo mourned for his Death, 2 Chron. xxxv. 25. 1 Eſd. i. 32.) from whence to the 5th Year of Jehoiakim's Captivity, Ezek. i. 2. was the 30th Year likewiſe by the Table; agreeing with Uſher's Annales ad A. M. 3409. Prid. Connect. An. 594.

I have ſtill another very ſtrong Proof. When the Iſraelites were going to the Country of Canaan, they were ordered when they came there, to let every 7th Year be a Sabbath of Reſt from ſowing, &c. Lev. xxv. 2, 3, 4: and with the 49th which would be one of thoſe Sabbatical Years, they were likewiſe commanded to keep the 50th a Year of Jubile, Ver. 8, 10. and of Reſt as the other, Ver. 5, 11. Such two Years together we read of 2 King. xix. 29. the firſt of which called this Year we may find to be the 14th Year of Hezekiah, Chap, xviii. 13. Now from the Iſraelites Entrance into Canaan to the Beginning of Hezekiah's Reign is by the Table 735 Years, conſequently his 14th Year was ſuch a Sabbatical Year, and the next a Year of Jubile: reckoning the Sabbatical Years to begin ſtill from every Jubile, that the 7th] of the former might be with the latter, according to Lev. xxv. 8, 9. which Prideaux ſays, is indeed the truth of the matter, Pref. to Vol. I. agreeable to Joſephus, Antiq. iii. 12. Maimonides, Jobel x. 7. Thus counting on two more Jubiles, the third Sabbatical Year after falls on the 9th of Zedekiah's Reign, which we may find to be ſuch by Jer. xxxiv. 6, 7, 8, 9, 14, 15, 22. 2 King. xxv. 1. and Uſher's Annales Veteris Teſtamenti ad A. M. 3414.

For remarkable Abſurdities in the com. Tranſ. conſult this, at the Places annexed as follow.

Abaziah

Ahaziah 2 Years older than his Father, 2 Chron. xxii. 2.

Jehoiachin both 8 and 18 Years old when he began to reign, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 9.

Baaſha going againſt Judah and building Ramah 10 Years after he was dead, 2 Chron. xvi. 1.

Hezekiah but 11 Years younger than his Father, 2 Chron. xxix. 1.

Ahaziah beginning to reign both in the 12th and 11th Year of Joram, 2 King. ix. 29.

Jehoaſh King of Iſrael reigning but 16 Years, from the 37th of Joaſh King of Judah who reigned 40 Years, to the 15th of his Son Amaziah, 2 King. xiii. 10.

Jehoram King of Iſrael beginning to reign in the 2d Year of Jehoram King of Judah, and Jehoram King of Judah in the 5th of Jehoram King of Iſrael, 2 King. i. 17.

Omri reigning 12 Years, from the 31ſt to the 38th Year of Aſa, 1 King. xvi. 23.

Amaziah dying 15 Years after Joaſh, and ſo long in the Reign of Jeroboam King of Iſrael, and his Son Uzziah then made King in the 27th of Jeroboam, 2 Chron. xxvi. 1.

Here is to be obſerved, that the odd Time over and under the Years of the reſpective Reigns, and the Latitude of one King beginning his Reign any Time in the whole Year of another, with the Computation being only by Years, occaſion the 1ſt Year of a King ſometimes to be put, not againſt the Year of the other King in which it began, but againſt the next Year in which the greater Part of it fell out, as may be ſeen of Aſa, Jehoſhaphat and Amaziah Kings of Judah, and Jehoram K. of Iſrael; but withal it is to be obſerved, that this cannot be but where the Predeceſſors Years before were not full ones, for which ſee the former Table; and from the Beginning of the Reigns of Joaſh K. of Iſrael, and Hezekiah K. of Judah, no Abſurdity will ariſe, becauſe not confined by the End of a foregoing Reign. In like Manner, where the 1ſt Year of a King, and the laſt of his Predeceſſor are put in the ſame Year, that laſt Year muſt not make up the whole one of the Amount. On the contrary, when the 1ſt Year of one is put as beginning the Year after the laſt of another, that laſt muſt make up the Year of its Amount full, or more. Inſtances of both which occur in the Table.

Bedford in Scrip. Chron. Tab. 46. puts the 1 of Aſa and 1 of Nadab the ſame Year, as he does alſo the 1 of Jotham and 1 of Pekah, with the 1 of Ahaz and 16 of Pekah; each of which is impoſſible to be right, becauſe Nadab began reigning in the 2 of Aſa, 1 King. xv. 25. Jotham in the 2 of Pekah, 2 King. xv. 32. and Ahaz in the 17 of Pekah, 2 King. xvi. 1. What then muſt the reſt of the Table be which follows ſuch Computation?

But if we come to Stackhouſe, he has the Death of Nadab 4 Years after that of Jeroboam; Athaliah's Death 27 Years after ſhe uſurped the Kingdom, &c. with double Dates in ſuch Manner.

This Table may be of great Uſe, beſides Chronology, for underſtanding many Things which were done in thoſe two Kingdoms within that Time.

The Beginning of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign to the End of Zedekiah's producing ſome Difficulties, I thought fit to tabulate it alſo as follows.

The

The first nineteen Years of Nebuchadnezzar answering to those of the Kings of Judah, with the Amount continued from the foregoing Table, and what was done in them.

J. P.	Am.	Judah		Babylon.

18	389		3	9	11
19	390		4	10	12	Jeremiah's Contest with Hananiah, Jer. xxviii. 1. Seraiah went to Babylon, Jer. li. 59.
20	391		5	11	13	Ezekiel's lying on his Sides 390 and 40 Days, Ezek. i. 2. & iv. 5, 6.
21	392		6	12	14	Ezekiel's Vision of Abominations, Ezek. viii. 1.
22	393		7	13	15	Ezekiel's farther prophesying, Ezek. xx. 1.
23	394		8	14	16
24	395		9	15	17	The Siege of Jerusalem began, 2 King. xxv. 1. Jer. lii. 4. Ezek xxiv. 1.
25	396		10	16	18	The Siege continued, Jer. xxxii. 1, 2. and 832 People carried away, Chap. lii. 29.
26	397		11	17	19	Jerusalem taken, and the People carried away, 2 King. xxv. 8. Jer. lii. 12. & xxxix. 2.

It appears by the Texts cited, that in Nebuchadnezzar's first 8 Years was some of Jehoiakim's 3d Year, all that he reigned of his 11th, and the whole Time of Jehoiachin; which must all not amount to a full Year, because the 4th and 10th of Jehoiakim make 7 Years. It also appearing that the Year ended in Jehoiachin's Reign, 2 Chr. xxxvi. 10. according to the Computation in the former Table, Nebuchadnezzar's 8th must extend further than the 386th in the Amount, and consequently his 19th further than the 397th, but not Zedekiah's 11th, because not full. The Years of the Amount are not to be supposed to agree exactly with the others, which do not with one another. As Nebuchadnezzar began reigning in the End of Jehoiakim's 3d Year, as is acknowledged, his 1st most properly answers to the 4th of Jehoiakim, according to several Instances in the former Table: yet Bedford says his 1st is reckoned in Jehoiakim's 3d, 2 King. xxv. 8. Jer. lii. 30. (for Ver. 12.) but in his 4th, Jer. lii. 29. and so he counts Zedekiah's Captivity in the 19th by the first, and 18th Year of Nebuchadnezzar by the last Reckoning, supposing both to amount to the same, Scrip. Chron. p. 602. whereas the first Computation amounts to the 20th, and the last to the 19th of Nebuchadnezzar, in the 11th of Zedekiah, even by his own Table, p. 699, 700. and by his quoting Jer. xxxii. 1. for the last Reckoning. And the 18th of Nebuchadnezzar being there the 10th of Zedekiah, the Texts which he brings for the other Way of Reckoning, having the 19th Year of the former the 11th Year of the latter, must be counted in the same Manner.

Prideaux begins the Captivity of Jehoiachin in the next Year of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign, both in his Table and History, Part 1. B. 2. whereas the Scripture mentions his 8th Year, 2 King. xxiv. 12. towards the End of which it being, the Beginning of the 37th in 2 King. xxv. 27. would be towards the End of Nebuchadnezzar's 44th, who dying in his 45th, and Jehoiachin's Advancement being near the End of the 37th Year of his Captivity, as Prideaux himself reckons, it might well enough be in the 1st Year of Evil-merodach, without contradicting the Scripture in either Place.

As I have already given a Catalogue of the Kings of lower Egypt, after Exod. to the Time the Israelites went from thence; and as their Succession continued till after this Captivity, and some of them are mentioned in the Scripture; I thought it well to insert them from Manetho, Herodotus, Diod. Siculus and Africanus.

Under this laſt King, Cambyſes the Son of Cyrus conquering the Country, added it to the Perſian Empire, which being in the 5th Year of Cambyſes, where Prideaux as well as Syncellus places it, the whole agrees with the Iſraelites Departure from Egypt in my Tables. As no Part of the very ancient Chronology ſeems of ſo much Certainty and Uſe, as the Quotations from Manetho by Joſephus againſt Apion, Lib. 1. it is fit to follow him to the End. Manetho relating that the Son of Amenophis was called Rhameſſes, Joſephus ſays it was 393 Years from the Departure of the Shepherds out of Egypt (which was at the Beginning of the Reign of Tethmoſis) to the Reign of Sethon; and repeats the ſame Number in his 2d Book againſt Apion: according to which Rhameſſes muſt have reigned 60 Years to make up that Sum, and it appears evident this was the Time of his reigning in Manetho's Account, though omitted by Joſephus; for how elſe could Joſephus know it was 393 Years? Africanus too has 60 Years expreſsly aſſigned to Rhameſſes, notwithſtanding he is differently placed in his Catalogue. In the next place Manetho informs us that Sethon reigned 59 Years, and his Son Rhampſes 66; to the End of whoſe Reign it was 518 Years, as Joſephus mentions: which ſtill more confirms this Computation, and clearly unfolds the Application of thoſe Numbers, that I have yet found none who could deal with. Sir J. Marſham in Can. Chron. ad Sec. 13. ſuppoſes the Years of Sethos were doubled to make 518; but who can believe Joſephus would reckon ſo? And that would have made but 517. The next Kings, the reſt of the 19th Dynaſty, according to Euſebius, are the three in the Table; and the like by Africanus, only he has Rhameſſes between the 1ſt and 2d of them, where Euſebius has none: which is an Indication it is wrong placed; and by removing it before Sethos, Africanus agrees both with Manetho and Euſebius, and Africanus has alſo ſix Reigns in this Dynaſty. To the Reign of this Amenophes indeed Euſebius has 40 Years, but conſidering he left out Rhameſſes, he may rather be thought to enlarge here, and ſo the 20 Years of Africanus to be right; whom I alſo follow in the Reigns of Thuoris, where Euſebius has one more. However Euſebius ſeems in ſome Places to have amended the Reckoning of the other: as Africanus has but 5 Years to Ammenemes, whereas Syncellus himſelf, as well as Euſebius, puts 26, ſo that I preferred the latter. And the Numbers of the 20th Dynaſty and Smendes are from Euſebius; but then I follow Africanus to the End of that Dynaſty, whom Euſebius tranſcribes with the Difference of a few Years leſs in Pſuſennes. The next Dynaſty begins with Seſonchis or Seſonchoſis, and beſides the Likeneſs of the Names, Marſham pleads that the famous Seſoſtris of the Greek Writers was thus called; nay the old Scholiaſt on the Argonautics of Apollonius, Lib. 4. ſays Seſonchoſis King of Egypt ſubdued all Aſia, and moſt Part of Europe; which none did but Seſoſtris: whom Marſham alſo induſtriouſly endeavours to ſhew was the Scripture Shiſhak, but was unhappy in his Manner of proving it, by throwing the Egyptian Chronology into ſo great Confuſion. Sir Iſaac Newton too in The Chronology of antient Kingdoms amended, Chap. 1, 2. and Shuckford, Connect. of Sacr. and proph. Hiſt. Pref. to Vol. 2. were of the ſame Mind that he was Shiſhak, whoſe Reaſons for it may be ſeen. Accordingly the 5th Year of Rehoboam when Shiſhak took Jeruſalem, is coincident with the 6th Year of this King of Egypt by my Tables. And as Seſoſtris began his Reign with 9 Years War abroad, and firſt againſt the Ethiopians, Diod. Sicul. Lib. i. 4. this agrees exceeding well with his bringing Ethiopians and other Africans whom he had then ſubdued, againſt Judah in the 6th Year, 2 Chron. xii. 2, 3. But the taking Sethos to be Seſoſtris, and putting his Time and that of the reſt ſo much forward as our two Knights do, makes the Account inconſiſtent and incredible. Joſephus alſo obſerves, that Herodotus aſcribes to Seſoſtris, what the Scripture relates of Shiſhak, Antiq. iv. 8. Another Thing I may add is, that Herodotus Lib. 2. relates, Seſoſtris was ſeveral Deſcents, and Diodorus Lib. i. 4. ſays ſeven after Myris or Maris, which is very ſuitable for a little more than 200 Years; but cannot be for Sethos to be Seſoſtris, who reigned above 200 Years before Maris; ſee after Exod. Helvicus in his Chronological Hiſtory, calling this firſt Bubaſtite King Seſochoſis or Seſonchis, adds theſe Words, without doubt the ſame who is named in the Scripture Seſac, or Shiſhak, 1 King. xi. 40. and quotes learned Men ſaying Seſooſis in Diod. (whom all acknowledge, and his Exploits there plainly declare, to be Seſoſtris) ſhould be read Seſonchis. Upon examining the Affairs of Sethos and Seſoſtris, I find a conſiderable Difference (tho' ſome who reckon Seſoſtris very ancient might miſtake him for Sethos) the royal Family of the former fled to Ethiopia, where they had a generous Reception 13 Years, while the Enemy ravaged the Country, as Manetho delivers it; whereas Seſoſtris made war on the Ethiopians, and overcame them: Sethos was left in Egypt but 5 Years old, according to Manetho, or by Chæremon in Joſephus ag. Ap. Lib. i. not born, when his Father fled out of the Land; Seſoſtris on the contrary was by his Father bred up to martial Exerciſe, and then ſent with an Army into Arabia: and certainly both might make Conqueſts, without being the ſame Perſon. Nor has it the Face of Probability, that preſently after the Death of all the Firſt-born in Egypt, and the great Overthrow in the Red Sea, the next Prince ſhould go out with a great Army, and conquer other Countries, as Uſher, Annal. 2515. and his Followers pretend. Sethos reigning 59 Years, the Reign of Seſoſtris by Diod. was 33, as I have therefore put it. His Succeſſor, ſays the ſame Author, was a Son of his own Name, whom Herodotus, Lib. 2. calls Phero, and Pliny, Nat. Hiſt. Lib. xxxvi. 11. Nuncoreus, as the remarkable Relation of his being blind ſhews. Thus I go on, taking the 44 Years of Euſebius and the old Egyptian Chronicle, inſtead of the 6th of Africanus in the 24th Dynaſty; whom I alſo quite leave at the Interregnum, which Diodorus ſays there was of two Years, and a Government by 12 Perſons jointly 15 Years. But as there were 3 or 4 different Kingdoms in Egypt, and Diod. treating of any King that he knew remarkable, like Herodotus, we are not to expect an orderly Succeſſion from him (of which ſee Marſham, Can. Chron. ad Sec. 3.) whom we have already traced from the upper to the lower Egypt, after Exod. and here; and who after ſpeaking of Seſoſtris and his Son, may be ſuppoſed to wander again and go back, by the ſtrange Names of the Kings he mentions, not met with elſewhere, and his mentioning the Time of the Trojan War afterwards, Lib. i. 5. The Reigns of the 6 laſt Kings are taken from Herodotus, as he ſeems to have known beſt concerning them. And Diodorus ſays Amaſis died at the 3d Year of the 63d Olympiad, which was the 4188 of the Jul. Period. By my Tables the Reigns of Hoſhea and So began together, which agrees exceeding well, as they are both ſo ſhort, that a little might have made them jar: the Death of Josiah accordingly falls in the 8th Year of Necho's Reign, and the 7th of Pharaohhophra's with the 11th of Zedekiah's, as Eusebius says it did. And Tirhakah seems to have been King of Ethiopia before he was of Egypt. Diod. Siculus in Lib. i. 4. as he is quoted by Sir John Marsham in his Canon Chronicus, Secul. 1. writes Ἄρξαι λέγεται τοῦ Μηνᾶ τὰς ἀπογόνας δύο πρὸς τοῖς πεντήκοντα τὰς ἅπαντας ἔτη πλείω τῶν χιλίων καὶ τετρακόσιων, they say the Posterity of Menes 52 in all reigned above 1400 Years. Accordingly reckoning Salatis the Successor of Menes in lower Egypt as after Exod. Bocchoris, in whom the ancient Egyptian Race as it seems ended, is the 49th King in the Tables, besides the 20th Dynasty which might contain 3 more; the Years of whose Reigns amount to about 1427.

Georg. Syncellus exhibits a Catalogue of 86 Kings reigning 2205 Years, from Menes to Amasis inclusive; which tho' Shuckford has lately inserted in his Connect. Book 11. and could not help thinking that Syncellus had added Reigns and made Numbers, to suit his own Purpose, yet he makes no Discovery of what that was: whereas the Intent of Syncellus doubtless was, to make a Chronology suitable to the Account of the Greek Bible, which has 100 Years apiece more than the Hebrew, from the Birth of one to another of the Postdiluvians, Arphaxad, Selah, Eber, Peleg, Reu and Serug, besides the Addition of 130 to Cainan, and 150, or by Usher, Chron. Sac. p. 46. only 50 to Nahor. These being put together amount to Syncellus's Augmentation, and in this Light only it is plain we are to look on it.

Several of the Assyrian Kings being also named in Scripture, and serving to confirm the divine Chronology, take the following Account of them from Ctesias, Africanus, Eusebius and Syncellus.

Ninus being counted the first King, and Sardanapalus the last, Augustine, De Civit. Dei, Lib. xviii. 20. reckons the whole Time 1305 Years, exactly as in the Table. Justin, Lib. 1. 2. computing by the cardinal Number, says they held the Assyrian Empire 1300 Years. For at the Death of Sardanapalus it being parted into two Empires, the Babylonian and as some term it the Median, Justin reckons Arbactus or Arbaces the first King of Media, who was Lieutenant of it before, under the Assyrian Monarch. Ctesias the Cnidian likewise, who was Physician to Artaxerxes Mnemon King of Persia some hundred Years before Christ, as quoted by Diodorus Siculus, Lib. ii. 2. his own Works being lost, says that the Assyrian Monarchy, after it had flourished 1360 Years, at the Reign of Sardanapalus came to the Medes. Reckoning this to the Beginning of the Reign of Belus, it agrees also precisely with the Table. In the Years of the Reigns I follow Julius Africanus as quoted by Syncellus, except as hereunder mentioned; whose Chronology reaches to A. D. 221, as that of Eusebius does to 326: which latter Author being blamed by Scaliger in his Animadversions on him, for lessening the Time to make that of Tautanes be at the Trojan War, I have put to Sosarmus 42 Years, as Helvicus does, instead of Eusebius's 19. who has has alſo no Reign between Tutæus and Thinæus; but Africanus has 4 thus, Arabelus 42, Chalaus 45, Anebus 38, Babius 37. Upon conſidering how this Difference might ariſe, it ſeems probable that they all four reigned together, and ſo both theſe Chronologers miſapprehending it, fell into ſuch Errors: their Reigns being near of a Length ſtrengthens me in this Opinion, and that they were Brothers is not unlikely; the firſt of whom may be moſt properly ſuppoſed to ſucceed at the Death of Teutæus, which is what anſwers our Purpoſe. As for Chalaus, he might be made King while Teutæus lived, as a Partner and one who was to have the Kingdom, but upon Diſpleaſure might be put by at the Deceaſe of Teutæus; and then he, as likewiſe the other two afterwards might claim the Government, and partly reign, till Thinæus ended all their Reigns together. By Africanus too Teutæus reigned 44 Years, and Sardanapalus 15, which put together differ from thoſe of Euſebius in the Table but 1; and by counting Soſarmus 22, and Sardanapalus 15, there ariſe 1280 Years, according to Caſtor's Computation. For farther Confirmation of this Liſt of Kings, there are the following Words in Velleius Paterculus, Lib. i. 6. Sardanapalum tertio & triceſſimo loco ab Nino & Semiramide, qui Babylona condiderant, Sardanapalus the thirty third by deſcent from Ninus and Semiramis, thoſe who built Babylon; but as Semiramis did not begin to build Babylon, till after the Death of her Huſband Ninus, Diod. Sic. ii. 1. Juſt. i. 2. Nino might be miſtranſcribed from Ninya, though Ninyas is called Ninus by Cedrenus, p. 16. from whom, according to Euſebius, Sardanapalus was the 33d, as Arabelus might not be counted in by reaſon of the Uncertainty, or the Omiſſion of him in ſome Catalogue. Diod. Sicul. Lib. ii. 2. calls Teutamus the 20th, and Sardanapalus the 30th, reckoning only by the neareſt of the greater Numbers, as appears in the ſame Chap. by his ſaying the Aſſyrian Empire laſted 1400 Years, when he had ſaid before it was 1360. To this may be added that Georg. Syncellus from Diodorus aſſerts, that Sardanapalus was the 35th King from Ninus, as in the Catalogue. Now Arbaces beginning to reign when Nabonaſſar King of Babylon did, at which Time the noted Epocha of that Name commenced, in the Year of the Jul. Per. 3967, by my Tables Belus began reigning 258 Years after the Flood; which agrees ſo well with the Scripture, that it does not ſeem eaſy to tell how it could better. See the Note on Gen. xi. 9. Simplicius in his Treatiſe De Cœlo, Lib. 2. relates from Porphiry, that Caliſthenes ſent to Ariſtotle his Maſter aſtronomical Obſervations of 1903 Years, found at Babylon when Alexander took it: that being in the Year of the Jul. Per. 4383, thoſe Obſervations extended by my Tables to 131 Years after the Flood, and 26 after the Birth of Peleg, when as it appears Babylon was built, Gen. x. 25. & xi. 8. and which may confute the Opinion that it was built later. Acraganes ſeems to be the Scripture Pul mentioned 2 King. xv. 19. the Affair there ſhewing it ſelf to be done at the very Beginning of Menahem's Reign, as it might near the End of that King of Aſſyria's, Sardanapalus being too effeminate a Prince for ſuch an Expedition; which is agreeable to the Catalogues. Thus proceeding, Arbaces or Tiglath-pileſer ended his Reign at the 12th Year of Ahaz, Shalmaneſer began his Reign with Hoſhea, Sennacherib his with the 12th of Hezekiah: which Prideaux puts to his 14th, as if Sennacherib had juſt began reigning when he made war on Judah; but how does it conſiſt with 2 King. xviii. 35? I ſhall add another Proof of the Agreeableneſs of this Calculation, from Auguſtin, De Civitate Dei, Lib. xvi. 17. that when Abraham was born the Aſſyrian Monarchy flouriſhed in Aſia; whoſe Birth falls out 4 Years before the Death of Ninus.

Velleius Paterculus likewiſe, Lib. i. 6. quoting the Annals of Æmilius Sura, writes, that it was 1995 Years between the Beginning of the Reign of Ninus, and the Romans having a ſupreme Empire by the Conqueſt of the Macedonian Race, after the Ruin of Carthage: which latter, deſcribed by Juſtin, Lib. xl. 2. when the Empire of the Seleucidæ, Alexander's Succeſſors ended, fell out as by Prideaux's Tables in the Year of the Jul. Per. 4649, Carthage being deſtroyed 81 Years before; from whence if we ſubſtract 1995, there remains 2654 for the Commencement of Ninus's Reign, only 8 before the Time in the Table, and that ſmall Space, if it is neceſſary to be exact, he might govern with his Father. Cumberland in Orig. Gent. Ant. p. 258. contrary to the Expreſſion, reckons back the 1995 Years from the Deſtruction of Carthage, which then makes the Beginning of Ninus's Reign above 90 Years ſooner than it is in his Table; however he intimates they ſhould be counted from a Victory over Antiochus, that was not only 44 Years ſooner, but before the Fall of Carthage, inſtead of after it.

As the Scripture likewiſe affords us the Name of a King of Tyre, Hiram, Chap. v, & ix. called Huram, 2 Chron. ii. and another of the Zidonians (who by the following Names, and Nearneſs of the Places, appear to be both of the ſame Line) viz. Ethbaal, Chap. xvi. 31. of the firſt Book of Kings; and as Joſephus agt. Apion, Lib. 1. furniſhes us with a Catalogue of the Kings of Tyre, out of the Tyrian Annals by Menander (this being alſo omitted by Uſher, &c.) I was willing to diſplay ſuch a concurrent Teſtimony as it yields.

After Abibal it is there recorded, reigned

The foregoing Tables of the Kings being ſo full and exact, that the Time of other Tranſactions within the Compaſs of them may be readily found, I have here inſerted but a few principal Matters. The 70 Years are placed as beginning with the firſt Captivity, and not with that of Jehoiachin nor Zedekiah: for the Prophecy of the 70 Years was in the firſt of Nebuchadnezzar's Reign, when the ſaid Captivity was; and beginning with that King's Succeſſes in War, ended with the Babylonian Empire; beſides the 70 Years are not ſpoken of Judah only, but of ſeveral other Nations, that are afterwards named in Jer. xxv.

Jeremiah alſo at the Beginning of the firſt Captivity, Chap. xxv. 1. ſpeaking of its Deſolation Ver. 11. (which Allen has uſed for an Objection to this) ſhews that the Deſolation, &c. was then, Ver. 18. Daniel too near the End of the 70 Years, in the 1ſt of Darius, knowing the appointed Term, Chap. ix. 2. and that it was almoſt fulfilled, as appears from the firſt and his own Captivity, prayed that it might not be deferred, Ver. 19. being probably doubtful whether it might not be extended to 70 Years after the ſecond or third Captivity; for it is not to be thought that he prayed thus, for fear the 70 Years ſhould be increaſed. But ſee further Proof of their Beginning ſo, after the enſuing Canon of Ptolemy. The Medes and Lydians, after five Years War, fighting a great Battle, were parted by the Fright of an Eclipſe of the Sun of 9 Digits that made it dark, Herodot. Lib. i. p. 13. which according to our preſent Account was on September 20. 3 h. 25 m. before Noon, and held almoſt two Hours, in the 4113th Year of the Jul. Period, in the Year 601 before Chriſt, by Hipparchus and Ptolemy; the Medes then chooſing Labynetus or Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, and the Lydians Sienneſis King of Cilicia, a Peace was made, by Aſtyages, the Son of Cyaxares King of Media marrying Ariena the Daughter of Halyattis King of Lydia; from which Marriage Darius mentioned Dan. v. 31. being born within a Year after, who being as Daniel ſays about 62 Years old when he received the Babylonian Kingdom, and dying two Years after left it wholly to Cyrus, brings the End of the 70 Years Captivity in the 1ſt Year of Cyrus to the 4178th Year of the Jul. Period, as by the Table. This Eclipſe Herodotus ſays, Thales the Mileſian foretold to the Ionians; but ſhould not be miſtaken for that which Cicero and Pliny mention; the former ſaying, De Divinat. Lib. 1. Aſtyage regnante facta eſt, it came to paſs while Aſtyages reigned; whereas it is plain to be ſeen by the foregoing Narration, that Aſtyages had not then begun reigning: Pliny likewiſe ſaying, in Lib. ii. 12. that Thales, Olympiadis 48 anno quarto, prædicto Solis defectu, predicted one in the 4th Year of the 48th Olympiad, which was 16 Years after this Eclipſe; and was as is ſaid almoſt or quite a total one, falling upon the 28th of the Month called May, Newton, Chron. Ch. 4. Alſted, Chron. 4. And why might not he calculate two as well as one? Yet our great modern Chronologers confound them together, even Sir Iſaac Newton, Uſher, Helvicus, &c. the firſt of whom applying the laſt Eclipſe to the forementioned Battle, ſays Darius the Son of Cyaxares being then 15 or 16 Years old, married Ariene the Daughter of Alyattes King of Lydia Chron. of Ant. Kingd. amend. Chap. 4. which however does not alter the Chronology. The 4th Year of the 48th Olympiad being the 168th after the building of Rome, and Pliny relating the Eclipſe was in the 170th; Alſtedius ſays he confounded two Eclipſes together, placing the latter two Years after the other on October 1: which Aſtronomical Calculation might determine, but otherwiſe I am apt to think, that Pliny might have miſcomputed 2 Years from the building of Rome, rather than two ſuch great Eclipſes to be ſo near together. As to what Suidas ſays in his Account of Thales, that he predicted an Eclipſe of the Sun in the Time of Darius, it may be underſtood of the Life, not the Reign of Darius. That this Eclipſe fell out while Cyaxares the Father of Aſtyages and Halyattes were engaged in a Battle, is confirmed by Endemus in his Aſtronomical Hiſtory, quoted by Clemens Alexandrinus, Stromat. Lib. 1. ſee Univer. Hiſt. B. i. Ch. 10. nay Herodotus beſides his main Account of it, p. 13. ſays again, p. 19. it was Cyaxares fought the Battle with the Lydians, when the Day was turned into Night.

Thus the Chronology has been carried on to the firſt Year of the Reign of Cyrus; and the 70 Years in Zech. vii. 5. from Zedekiah's Captivity, as the Faſts ſhew, to the 4th Year of Darius, Ver. 1. extend it 18 Years further, and Ezr. vi. 13. two more; with which agree thoſe in Zech. i. 12. After this the Chain of the Scripture Numbers being broke, it is neceſſary to ſeek other Help (in order der to fix remaining Tranſactions) the beſt or moſt certain of which is allowed to be that of Ptolemy in his Almageſt. He being a great Aſtronomer in the Reign of Marcus Aurelius the 17th Roman Emperor, who began reigning Anno Dom. 161, made a Canon of Chronology, from the Time of Antoninus the preceding Emperor up to that of Nabonaſſar the firſt King of Babylon incluſive; this Canon written in Greek and printed by Calviſius, is confirmed by the Obſervations of Eclipſes which had been made, and recorded to be in particular Years of the Kings Reigns, which makes it in a Manner undoubtedly true; and has been publiſhed by Bambridge from a Manuſcript in the Bodleian Library, Gregor. Poſtum. Cap. 7. According to which I find the Chronology as follows, beginning in the Year of the Jul. Per. 3967, and before Chriſt 747 as commonly reckoned.

The firſt of theſe till Cyaxares governed the Babylonian Empire, the next till Alexander called the Great the Median and Perſian, he and his 2 Succeſſors the Macedonian, the Ptolemys with Queen Cleopatra Egypt, and the laſt were Roman Emperors; ſo that on the Change from one Empire to another, here is not the whole Time that the firſt reigned, but how long it was after the Death of the foregoing one. I choſe to put down thoſe who did not reign a Year, for the better illuſtrating the Scripture Hiſtory, tho' they are not in Ptolemy's Canon, who reckoned the whole Year to ſuch as he underſtood reigned at the Beginning of it, with ſome Exception, which was an excellent

Way to avoid the Uncertainty that might ariſe by the Parts of Years; ſo Laboroſoarchod beginning his Reign at the Entrance of the Spring, ended it before the next Year began, &c. which Time is not to be counted to the Amount. Cyaxares and his Son-in-law Cyrus being alſo a Kind of Partners in the Government, this Author omits the latter, and counts 9 Years to Cyrus. Now the Eclipſe of the Sun beforementioned being in the 4th Year of Nebuchadnezzar's reigning alone by this Canon, which was the 6th by Scripture Account, excepting Dan. ii. 1. and being 65 Years before the End of the 70 Years Captivity according to Dan. v. 31. their Beginning falls in the 1ſt of Nebuchadnezzar, which was the 4th of Jehoiakim, Jer. xxv. 1. and could not begin either with Jehoiachin's or Zedekiah's Captivity. Again, the 37th Year of Jehoiachin's Captivity was the 1ſt of Evil-merodach, 2 King. xxv. 27. from whence to the 1ſt of Cyrus are but 25 Years, which can make no more than 62, and from the Captivity of Zedekiah will be 10 Years leſs. Beſides the 26th Year of Jehoiachin's Captivity, by which Ezekiel reckons, Ch. i. 2. &c. being the 34th of Jehoiakim's, when Tyre was taken, and Ithoball its King ſlain, Ezek. xxix. 17. Joſephus againſt Apion, Lib. 1. the 70 Years are thus made up from the Phœnician Annals:

Cyrus beginning his Reign, as they ſay, in the 14th Year of Hirom, Joſeph. ib. according to which the 70 Years of Jehoiakim's Captivity might end exactly in the 1ſt Year of Cyrus, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 21, 22. Nay even by the Scripture it ſelf, Zech. vii. 5. it was 70 Years from Zedekiah's Captivity, not to the 1ſt of Cyrus, but to the 14th of Darius, which agrees with the Canon. Seventy Years alſo muſt needs have been too long for many of the Prieſts and Levites to be living, and returned from Captivity, who remembred the Extent of the firſt Temple, Ezr. iii. 12. ſee alſo on Zech. vii. 5. and Broughton's Works, p. 368. To conclude in Confirmation of what will be moſt for the following Purpoſe, Ptolemy gives account of 6 Eclipſes of the Moon obſerved in the 7th Year of Cambyſes, 20th and 31ſt of Darius Hyſtaſpis, 22d and 2 in the 23d of Artaxerxes Mnemon; the Truth of which appears by Street's Calculation of them in his Aſtronomia Carolina, p. 98. as alſo another of the Moon mentioned by Plutarch in the Life of Alexander, on Sept. 20. eleven Days before his laſt Battle with Darius, and by Pliny, Lib. ii. 10.

Let us go next to that Angelical Prophecy beginning Dan. ix. 24. and compare it with this Account. Seventy Sevens, or 490 Years ſeem plainly foretold to end at the Death of Chriſt, Ver. 24. But the late noted Scheme of Biſh. Lloyd's, ſo earneſtly contended for by Marſhall in his Treatiſe upon the Seventy Weeks of Daniel, and approved of by Bedford, &c. reckons 69 of thoſe Sevens to his Death, and the laſt Seven ſeparate, above 30 Years after, for the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem. In the firſt place let us conſider it is there poſitively ſaid, Seventy Sevens are determined to do ſix Things, with which that Sentence ends; and they were all not only evidently accompliſhed at or about Chriſt's Death, but I obſerve thoſe latter Writers themſelves interpret it ſo, and do not pretend one of them related to the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, Marſh. p. 2. Bedf. Scrip. Chron. Lib. vii. 1. 29. which I count a giving up their Controverſy at firſt. How ſtrange too is their parting the Numbers, as if 20 of the 120 Years in Gen. vi. 3. was to be placed a while after the Flood! Why ſhould any of the Time belong to that Deſtruction, if not to tell how long it would be to it? Nor did that take up the Space of 7 Years. The next Verſe ſhews it ſhould be 69 Sevens, or 483 Years to the Meſſiah; which being expounded to his Death, does not agree with the foregoing, nor yet with the following Verſe, where it is expreſsly ſaid it would be after that Time. Now from the 19th of Tiberius, when as it is agreed Chriſt was crucified, on the 14th of Niſan and 3d of the Month called April, back to the 7th Year of Artaxerxes Longimanus, when he gave the Commiſſion to Ezra, Chap. vii. 8. is by Ptolemy's Canon 490 Years, which is confirmed eſpecially by the 6 Eclipſes abovementioned, 3 before and 3 after that Time, both being done in the firſt Month, Ver. 9. Exod. xii. 18. Mat. xxvi. 17. conſequently from that Commiſſion to 7 Years before the Death of Chriſt muſt be 483 Years, and we find him baptized, and the Holy Spirit deſcending on him in the 15th of Tiberius, Luk. iii. which was probably too about the ſame Time of the Year, that the Seaſon might be ſuitable for John to go on with his Baptiſm, and the Multitude reſort to him abroad, as it is ſaid of the Place, John iii. 23. and this is called the Beginning of the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt, Mark i. 1. That 15th Year, it is true, muſt not be according to Ptolemy's Account, to anſwer this Computation, but Suetonius in Tib. Paterculus, Lib. ii. 121. & Tacitus, Annal. Lib. i. 3. inform us Tiberius was put in joint Government of the Provinces before the Death of Auguſtus, from whence it is no Wonder that the Year was dated there while Tiberius lived; which the Reader may ſee more fully in Prideaux's Connect. Pt. 1. B. 5. and Mann's True Years of Chriſt, p. 138, 139, 140. and whereas Marſhall makes great Objection againſt Prideaux, Pt. 1. Chap. 2. for leaving the Canon of Ptolemy, and he did not live to make reply; I would briefly remark, that I do not ſee why Luke might not compute another Way, as well as Jeremiah, Chap. xxv. 1. does the Beginning of the Reign of Nebuchadnezzar 2 Years before the Death of Nabopollaſar, different to that Canon; and Ezra does the 1ſt of Cyrus, Chap. i. 1. which by Ptolemy was the third. Nay Marſhall himſelf pleads againſt Lancaſter, that the Scripture Years of Nebuchadnezzar and Cyrus are not according to his Canon, p. 46, 44. and Bedford puts the Baptiſm of Chriſt 7 Years before his Death like Prideaux, Tab. 50. ſee more further. As to the Beginning of thoſe Years, Lloyd, &c. puts it in the 20th Year of Artaxerxes Longimanus, Neh. ii. 1. and as from thence to the Death of Chriſt there are but 477 Years, and by their Scheme there ſhould be 483, they reckon only 360 Days to a Year, in order to make up the Number ſo; which is a leaving the foregoing Canon throughout. As this Prophecy was both for and concerning the Jews, probably their own Years, the ſame with Jeremiah's 70, Ver. 2. were intended; which muſt be ſolar, anſwerable to the preſent Julian or Gregorian ones, for their Feſtivals to be at the ſame Seaſon of the Year, Exod. xxxiv. 22. Lev. xxiii. 39. and the Chaldean Years where Daniel was, had been 365 Days from the Time of Nabonaſſar. In 477 Years then of 365¼ Days, are 484 times 360, within 16 Days; even Marſhall having tabulated the Days in every Year from Nehemiah's Grant to the Death of Chriſt, makes it want but 33 Days of 484 ſuch Years, p. 212, 230. And if the 483 Years to the Meſſiah, Dan. ix. 25. were to his Death, as thoſe Writers compute, this is not ſo by their own Reckoning. As for their ſheltering the odd Time under the Word after in the next Verſe, it ſets the 2 Verſes at Variance: for is 62 Sevens there exactly ſo many Years, and the very ſame here almoſt a Year more? And why almoſt a Year, ſince the Numbers are not Years, but Sevens? Marſhall owns that the Year in that Country was 365 Days, yet pretends the common People uſed another of 360 Days; which would be unaccountable Confuſion to have Years of ſuch different Lengths at the ſame Time and Place, eſpecially for a People ſo polite, and under kingly Government. But the great Matter inſiſted on is, that the Prophecy is literal, and ſo the Time muſt begin at the Command to build Jeruſalem: whereas we find no ſuch Command to Nehemiah, but a Grant only at his Requeſt; and what he did build was the Wall, Gates, and Doors, Chap. iii. neither of which was mentioned by the Angel, Marſhall owning it is Ditch there: beſides that the Allowance for his own Houſe alone, naturally excludes others, Neh. ii. 8. Nay who ſhould he build Streets for, not carrying People with him to inhabit them? Whereas Ezra took many with him for Inhabitants, Ezr. viii. On the other hand Prideaux pleads for a figurative Senſe, which may be literal to reſtore; and that the City was built even before fore his own Commencement of the Time; but it appears that the People who returned firſt from Captivity were diſperſed in other Parts of the Country, Ezr. 2. 70. & iii. 1. and hindered from building the City, Chap. iv. 21. and though they built the Temple afterwards, yet being ſettled in other Places, we may conclude the main Building of Jeruſalem began at the 2d Return of towards 2000 Males along with Ezr. Chap. viii. Now the Words for fixing the Beginning of thoſe Sevens in Daniel are, the coming out of the Commiſſion to reſtore and build Jeruſalem, Chap. ix. 25. and there was an expreſs Commiſſion came out in the 7th of Artaxerxes, which may be ſaid properly and literally to reſtore Jeruſalem, both in its eccleſiaſtical and civil State, Ezr. vii. 19, 20, 23, 25, 26. and that they might build by Virtue of it appears by Ver. 18. and the very Nature of the Caſe required that they ſhould have Houſes to dwell in. However if they built but a little then, it might be ſufficient to fulfil the Prophecy, ſince that allows ſeven Sevens of Years, for doing the Streets and Ditches. Marſhall would have both the Verbs to mean only build again, according as our Eng. Tranſ. has it in the latter Part of the Verſe: ſo another might plead in the ſame Manner, that the latter ſhould be like the former. The firſt Verb for reſtore is a perfect one of it ſelf, and if it may ſometimes be rendered with another again, for the ſake of the Eng. Expreſſion, it is when it plainly ſignifies no more as ſeparate: which is not the Caſe here, by Marſhall's arguing for the one, and againſt the other.

To proceed to the laſt Seven in the 27th Verſe, how do the Abetters of the new Scheme trifle, when they explain his confirming the Covenant with many, by the Romans making Peace with two or three other Nations? For which Marſhall has ſet out three Years and a half, p. 270, 271, 272. though by the Text it belongs as well to the whole Seven. How much more ſuitable was the preaching of the Goſpel, &c. by John and Chriſt ſeven Years! As Chriſt's own Preaching and Death, in the laſt Half of it, aboliſhed the legal Offerings. What follows after is agreed to belong to the Deſtruction of Judea and Jeruſalem by the Romans. And Chriſt's applying it to that Time, Mat. xxiv. 15. is no Proof, as is pretended, Bedf. Scr. Chr. L. vii. 1. 26. that the laſt Seven was then. On the contrary Ver. 24. ſhews that the whole ſeventy Sevens ended before, which Iſ. Newton in his Obſervations on the Prophecies of Daniel, Chap. x. interprets to begin alſo in the 7th Year of Artaxerxes, and end at the Death of Chriſt.

I chooſe to add a little concerning the Time of Chriſt's Birth, as our common Account is found to be wrong, and as it will be a ſtrong Confirmation of what I have been pleading for above. He muſt be born a conſiderable while before the Death of Herod the Father of Archelaus, by Mat. iii. Joſephus gives Account that Herod died a little before the Paſſover, Ant. Lib. xvii. 11. and that there was an Eclipſe of the Moon at Night a little before his Death, Ant. Lib. xvii. 8. which Eclipſe appears to be a total one, on the 20th of the Month called January, about 5 o-clock in the Evening. in the 4712th Year of the Julian Period, Bedford's Scrip. Chron. Book viii. Sect. 9, 10. As this was in the Beginning of that Year, and as Chriſt was born towards the End of a Year, we may conclude it was in the 4709th of that Period, four Years before the common Æra, by the Wiſe Men's coming out of the Eaſt, their Stay there, and the Slaughter of the Children afterwards, at and about Bethlehem; which alſo extending to thoſe who were two Years old, according as Herod had diligently enquired Chriſt's Age of the Wiſe Men, to whom the Star probably appeared when he was born, he may be ſuppoſed in his 2d Year then, of which ſee Light. Harm. 4 Evan. and by going into Egypt, and remaining there as it ſeems a conſiderable Time, Mat. ii. 14, 15. he might well be upwards of two Years old. Beſides the Jews ſaid to Chriſt, This Temple has been building 46 Years, Joh. ii. 20. as it ſhould be rendered, becauſe it was building ſeveral Years after that, Joſeph. Antiq. Lib. xx. 8. ſee alſo Univer. Hiſt. B. II. Chap. ii. 5. whereas King Herod propoſed the new building it to the Jews in the 18th Year of his Reign, Joſeph. Antiq. Lib. xv. 14. probably towards the End of it at the Paſſover in the 1ſt Month, his Reign beginning about the 3d Month; but they were unwilling to have the old one pulled down, for fear he ſhould not build a new one: upon this he undertook to get all the Materials ready firſt, which would likely take up more than a Year, before it began to be built. So that from 19 Years of Herod's Reign to 34 the whole are 15 Years, out of which taking 2 for the Age of Chriſt, there remain 13 at his Birth; from whence it follows, that Chriſt was 33 Years old when the Jews uttered the above-mentioned Expreſſion to him, which being a little before the firſt Paſſover in his Miniſtry, Joh. ii. 11, 12, 13. rightly agrees with his Birth and the Prophecy in Daniel, as already placed. Now it appearing, and being acknowledged, by the 4 Paſſovers found in Joh. ii. 23. & v. 1. & vi. 4. & xi. 55. and according to Uſher, &c. that Chriſt's publick Miniſtry continued about or towards 3 Years and a half; which is either reckoned from his Baptiſm in his 30th Year, or after John had been 3 Years and a half in his Miniſtry; the Conſequence from this is evident, that Chriſt was not born in either of the 2 Years after that in which I put it, becauſe it agrees with neither of the Reckonings, much leſs with any Year before theſe three, and it could not be after, becauſe Herod was then dead.

Mann indeed in his late Diſſert. of the true Years of the Birth and Death of Chriſt, reckons the Continuance of Chriſt's Miniſtry to be but one Year and Part of another; for this he ſuppoſes the 6th Chap. of John ſhould be put before the 5th, and that the Paſſover ſhould not be in Chap. vi. 4. which may be taken for an Acknowledgment, that his Calculation does not agree with the Scripture as it is, and conſequently does not require, any more than it deſerves, an Anſwer to be made to it, the Scripture it ſelf being an Anſwer. He alſo places the Birth of Chriſt in An. P. J. 4707, farther from the com. Accompt than mine, of which enough already; and his Death in 4739: on which latter I would juſt remark, that Valerius Gratus, as Joſephus relates, Antiq. L. xviii. 3. was ſent Governor by Tiberius Cæſar from Rome into Judea, where he ſtaid eleven Years, and Pontius Pilate was ſent to ſucceed in his Place; now 11 being added to 4728 of the Jul. Per. the Beginning of Tiberius's Reign in Ptolemy's Canon, make 4739 for the Commencement of Pilate's Government, and Chriſt, by Mann's Computation, was put to death almoſt in the Beginning of that Year; how then could Pilate govern there when John the Baptiſt began his Miniſtry? as we read, Luk. iii. 1, 2. and have killed the Galileans, ſo long before Chriſt's Death as in Luk. xiii. 1? As for Tiberius beginning his Reign ſomething before 4728, it muſt ſo take up ſome Time for Gratus to be ſent from Rome, who ἔνδεκα ἔτη αἰατρίψας ἐν ἰουδαίᾳ, dwelt 11 Years in Judea, ſays Joſephus. Let me add, that Mann owns and aſſerts, the Jewiſh Paſſover fell on a Friday, the Year in which I have computed the Death of our Lord to be, and not in ſix Years before: here alſo it is placed by thoſe two great Chronologers Scaliger and Uſher.

Moreover Joſephus ſays, Herod was declared King of the Jews by the Romans in the 184th Olympiad, when C. Domitius Calvinus the 2d time and C. Aſinius Pollio were Conſuls, Antiq. Lib. xiv. 26. and that he beſieged and took Jeruſalem, by which he was ſettled King, in the 185th Olympiad, when Marcus Agrippa and Canidius Gallus were Conſuls, Antiq. L. xiv. 28. which was three Years after the other, the former being in the Year of the Jul. Per. 4674, and the latter in 4677: Joſephus next informing us that Herod died 34 Years after the Expulſion of Antigonus, when Jeruſalem was taken, and 37 from his being declared King by the Romans, Antiq. L. xvii. 10. each amounts to 4711; and Herod really reigning ſo many Years, the Overplus will bring it into the 4712th Year of the Jul. Per. as before computed: for the laſt Year of the 184th Olympiad ended at the full Moon after the Summer Solſtice, ſo that Herod muſt be made King at Rome before, and Jeruſalem, Joſephus ſays, was taken in the 3d Month; whereas Herod did not die, as we have already found, till towards the End of Winter, after another Year of the Jul. Per. began, which was on the 1ſt Day of the Month called January, reckoning 37 and 34 Years from thoſe Conſuls above-mentioned, Herod's Death fell out in the Conſulſhip of L. Cornelius Lentulus and M. Valerius Meſſalinus.

Joſephus ſays further, in his Wars of the Jews, L. ii. 6. that Archelaus, who was Herod's Son and Succeſſor, was baniſhed in the 9th Year of his Reign, Bell. Jud. B. ii. 6. which Dio Caſſius, Lib. 5. relates was done when Æmilius Lepidius and C. Arun. Nepos were Conſuls; from whence counting 8 Years back in the Liſt of the Roman Conſuls, the Beginning of his Reign falls in the Time of the ſame Conſuls as Herod's Death does before. The 37th and laſt Year of Philip likewiſe, another of Herod's Sons who had Part of his Dominions, Luk. iii. 1. being the 20th of Tiberius Cæſar, Joſeph. Antiq. Lib. xviii. 6. and that the 4747th of the Jul. Per. by the Subſtraction of 36 there remains 4711: which comes right, ſuppoſing Joſephus to reckon from Herod's 34 Years, that the Numbers might agree when joined together; for from 4677 above to 4747 are 70 Years, the Sum of both their Reigns. If thoſe Numbers might be made to agree with the 4711th Year, the Want of an Eclipſe ſhews that Herod's Death could not be then. The Eclipſe mentioned by Whiſton in his Aſtronomy, and Mann in his Chronology, on the 13th of the 1ſt Month called March at 3 in the Morning was too near the Paſſover for what Joſephus relates to be between, and too late in the Night for publick Obſervation, as well as incoherent with the other Numbers, being in the 4710th Year.

The common Epocha cannot be right, being after Herod's Death, and was framed by Dionyſius Exiguus a Roman Abbot, as late as the Year 525, as in Cave's Chartophilax through Miſtake of the 15th Year of Tiberius, Luk. iii. 1. which he counted from the Death of Auguſtus, as Marſhall does. The Year reckoned that Way was in the 4742d of the Jul. Per. and Chriſt being then in his 30th Year, Luk. iii. 23. he was conſequently born by that Account in the 4713th of the Jul. Per. (according to which the preſent Date is) almoſt 2 Years after Herod's Death, by the Times of both as above. This Abſurdity utterly ruins the great Labour which Marſhall has taken about it: as on the other hand, the firſt Computation of Chriſt's Birth eſtabliſhes the reckoning the 15th Year of Tiberius, from his being made Partner with Auguſtus in the Empire; for that being 4 Years ſooner, the Birth of Chriſt according to it falls in the ſame 4709th Year of the Julian Period; where the great Uſher alſo places it, as well as the famous Dr. Hen. Moore in Paralipomena Sacra. The Diſtance of which from the preſent Time, may be eaſily counted any Year, by adding 4 to the common Æra; as the Jul. Per. may, by adding 4713 to the ſame.

In behalf of the vulgar Epocha, the learned Gregory in his Notes and Obſervations upon ſome Paſſages of Scripture, pr. 1650, drawing out an Aſtrological Scheme of Jeſus Chriſt's Nativity on Dec. 25 at Midnight, in the common Year of Reckoning, with ſome ſilly if not impious Remarks; ſays he was for that Accompt, as well in reverence to the Tradition of the Church, as for the rare Appearances in the Scheme it ſelf, ſufficient of their own Strength to evidence, that this was the time both for the year and day, though Reaſon and Tradition ſhould pretend againſt it. Which Arguing may help the Reader to be of a different Opinion; ſeeing that ſo very ill ſupported, and conſidering too that by the Diſcoveries and Alterations made in Aſtronomy ſince, the Scheme is probably calculated wrong.

The placing Chriſt's Birth Dec. 25. bears the Mark of mere Uncertainty, however as to the particular Day: for our Julian Year being 11 Minutes too long, thoſe Minutes amount to a Day in 131 Years, which brought back the Winter Solſtice or ſhorteſt Day to Dec. 12 from the 25, till ſince altered; where the Birth of Chriſt was placed, upon that ſlender Account, as being a noted Day.

Before I conclude this difficult Subject of Chronology, I have Something more to add. There is Mention made of a ſeventh Year of Reſt in 1 Maccab. vi. 49, 53. and of the 150th Year, Ver. 20. i. e. of the Seleucidæ, beginning with the Reign of Seleucus King of Syria, in the 5th Year of the nominal Reign of Alexander Ægus, as in Prideaux's Table, which Æra with the Sabbatical Years both began in Autumn, Lev. xxv. 8, 9. and what is ſpoken of in the 150th Year above-mentioned is a Siege, which being Summer Work, appears from hence to be in the latter End of that Year; ſo that conſidering what follows in the ſame Chapter, eſpecially Ver. 29, 52. the next muſt be the Sabbatical Year, in which alſo Demetrius went from Rome. 1 Mac. vii. 1. Now from the Iſraelites Entrance into Canaan to the End of the Captivity in the firſt of Cyrus being 924 Years, from thence to the 5th of Alexander Ægus 224, theſe added to 151, make 1299; out of which taking the fifties for Jubile's, as on the Tables of the Kings. there remain 49, whoſe laſt is a Sabbatical Year. This was in the 4552d of the Jul. Period according to Prideaux, whom Bedford follows, and continues citing in the 47th Table of his Scripture Chronology, yet reckons the Sabbatical Year 2 Years before; which being the 149th Year of the above-mentioned Æra uſed in Maccabees, manifeſtly deſtroys the whole Computation of Bedford's Sabbatical Years, of which he ſpeaks ſo much, and even puts it in the Title of his Book: ſo the 14th and 15th Years of Hezekiah, already obſerved as one of thoſe ſeventh Years and a Jubile, are by Bedford's Table 46 the 3 and 4 after a Sabbatical Year.

Next to the Ptolemaick Canon in thoſe Times, may be counted the Chronicon Alexandrinum from an old Library in Sicily, which gives the Succeſſion of the high Prieſts after the Captivity as follows.

Alexander the Great coming to Jeruſalem, as Joſephus relates, the Year before the laſt Defeat of Darius, as appears by Quintus Curtius, Lib. 4. Diodorus Siculus, Lib. 17. & Juſtin, Lib. 11. and Jaddua the high Prieſt going out to meet him; by the Computation both in this Catalogue and the Canon of Ptolemy falls in the 10th Year of Jaddua's Prieſthood: ſo that this may confirm the Time of the Perſian Kings, which it takes in ſo compleatly, wherein is greater Difficulty and Uncertainty in Authors, than there is in that of the following Kings; ſo that ſome who would begin Daniel's 490 Years beforementioned from the firſt Year of Cyrus, ſhorten the Time of the Perſian Monarchy from 205 to about 130 Years, whom thoſe two moſt approved Liſts of Succeſſion may each of them confute, for which Purpoſe they are partly inſerted.

The Æra of the Seleucidæ beginning the 12th Year after Alexander ſtyled the Great, by comparing thoſe two Catalogues together, this ends at the 146th Year of that Æra, the ſame in which Judas Maccabeus took the Command of the Jews on him, 1 Mac. iii. 70. & iii. 1. It appears indeed that Onias died before, 2 Mac. iv. 34, 35. which Prideaux puts 5 Years, abating ſo many from Simon called the Juſt, upon the Authority of Euſebius; but I rather think the Shortneſs is occaſioned by ſome of thoſe Numbers being not full Years, or the Years of Onias reckoned to Judas, omitting the Uſurpation of Menelaus, and that Onias was not ſlain ſo long before: for Antiochus Epiphanes beginning his Reign in the 2d Year of the 151ſt Olympiad, 1 Mac. i. 10. nine Years before Judas Maccabeus was made Captain, the Olympick Games would be 3 Years after, 2 Mac. iv. 7, 18. and other 3 Years, Ver. 23. would make ſix, and by what follows the Death of Onias is not likely to be ſooner than the next Year. Or to reckon the laſt 3 Years from the coming of Antiochus to Jeruſalem, Ver. 21, 22. which was in his 3d Year, and towards the End of it too, as ſeems by Prideaux's own Account, Account, Anno 173, it makes but little Difference. The Government of the three next, Judas, Jonathan and Simon is recorded by the Years of the Seleucidæ, which is continued in Josephus, Antiq. Lib. xx. 8.

Some small Notes I would subjoin to this last Part of the Catalogue before I apply it to its main Use. The Asmonæan Race ending at Herod, and he being an Idumæan, was King only, not high Priest. In 1 Mac. xvi. 14. the Eng. Bibles that I have examined have threescore, which must be wrong, and upon consulting both the Latin and Greek, I found seventy in the room of it. Of the 12 Years of Hyrcanus's high Priesthood at first, 9 were while his Mother Alexandra had the Government; the rest indeed is in Josephus's 3 Months, but by an Error, according to Usher and Petavius, for 3 Years: for it is plain that Time, and the 3 Years of Aristobulus were 6 Years, by the Consuls of Rome whom Josephus names, Antiq. Lib. 14.

Now if to 4178 the Year of the Jul. Per. at the End of the Captivity, we add this Amount 533, it comes to the 4711th of the Julian Period, the same which was reckoned with the Overplus for the Death of Herod before: from whence arises the Confirmation of those two Points, as already related; that our present Æra of Christ is wrong, and that Luke counted the Years of Tiberius Cæsar from his being made Partner with Augustus.

Cumberland in his Origines Gentium, pag. 178. mentions the Testimony of Varro (esteemed the most learned Roman) that there were about 1600 Years between the Flood and Olympiads; to which my Tables only, that I know of, among the Moderns do agree: for from the 2348th Year of the Jul. Per. at the Flood by my Computation, to the 3938th when the first Year of the first Olympiad was, is 1590 Years; whereas others fall many short, and by the Table in Cumberland's Book it would be but 1573.

By Josephus's mentioning some Sabbatical Years about his own Time, which he must needs know, and no Jubiles, which were more remarkable, it seems as if the latter were dropped, as the former, or rather both, had been before the Babylonian Captivity, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 21. Lev. xxvi. 35. from hence might arise an Alteration of the Sabbatical Years, spoken of by Maimonides, De Shemittah & Jobel, Cap. x. and Petavius, De Doctrina Temporum, Lib. ix. 26. Two such Years Josephus says were, when Herod took Jerusalem, and the Year before the Destruction of it by Titus Vespasian, Lib. iv. 18. & xiv. 28. which being in the Years of the Jul. Per. 4677 and 4782, are 105 Years distant, which are sevens of Years. But the Sabbatical Year in which he says Simon Maccabeus was slain, 1 Mac. xvi. 14, agrees neither with his other, nor with that mentioned, Chap. vi. 49, 53. which may be supposed owing either to some Change of the Years, or Josephus's Mistake, by its being so long before his Time.

The 7 Stars being counted watery, by the ancient Greek and Latin Authors; Ovid writing. Fast. v. 165. Ore micant Tauri septem radiantia flammis Sydera, quas Hyadas Graius ab Imbre vocat, the seven Stars glittering with Rays shine in the Bull's Mouth, which the Greeks call Hyades from the Rain, as hyo in Greek signifies to rain; might not one imagine that the Tradition first rose from those Stars being foremost, at the Beginning of the first Sign, that is with the Sun at the Entrance of the Spring Quarter, when Noah's Flood was on the Earth, if they were really there at that Time? Now the Præcession of the Equinox is reckoned, as I remember, by Street in his famous Caroline Tables 48 Seconds in a Year, but by our late Astronomers something more, and for the sake of an even Number 50″, so that 49 ½ may seem more exact. Next Lucida Pleiadum the brightest Star of the seven, being put in Flamsted's Brittanic Catalogue in Taurus 25° 40′ 8′ for the Year 1690, which was the 6403d of the Jul. Per. by dividing the Longitude by that yearly Præcession, the Quotient is 4049 Years nearest, to be substracted from 6403; which comes to 2354, but 5 Years after the Flood by my Tables.

There is another great noted Star called Aldebaran, that is the Leader: for debar with the Chaldeans, the very ancient Astronomers, signifies to lead, as may be seen in Buxtorf's Chald. Lexicon, an is the Termination of a verbal Noun, and al the Article of the Arabians for the, who prefixed it; from whence is the whole Name, which with the Arabians and Persians reckoning Taurus our second their first Sign, Gravius De Siglis Arabum & Persarum Astronomicis, p. 1, 8, 9. may lead us to think Aldebaran was counted the first Star, for that it was really so appears by Calculation. In the Catalogue and at the Time above-mentioned its Distance past the Equinox is 65° 27′ which divided by 49″ ½, and substracted as before, reaches back to the Year of the Jul. Per. 1643; being 29 Years after the Death of Adam, and 34 before the Translation of Enoch, according to the Table on Gen. 5. which is as early as we may suppose such an Observation preserved: and Origen relates that some of Enoch's Writings, containing the Courses and Names of the Stars, was found in Arabia Felix, Hom. 1. in Num.

NOTES upon the BOOK of HOSEA.

CHAP. I.

THE Lord's Commiſſion which Hoſea the Son of Beeri had, in the Time of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, Kings of Judah, and in the Time of Jeroboam the Son of Joaſh, King of Iſrael.

2. The Beginning of the Lord's Commiſſion by Hoſea: to whom the Lord ſaid, Go, take thee a Wife of Whoredoms, and Children of Whoredoms; becauſe the Country is quite gone a whoring from after the Lord.

3. So he went, and took Gomer the Daughter of Diblaim; who conceived, and bore him a Son.

4. Upon which the Lord ſaid to him; Call his Name Jezreel: for within a little while I will puniſh the Family of Jehu for the Blood of Jezreel, and make the Kingdom of the Family of Iſrael ceaſe.

5. At which Time I will break the Bow of Iſrael in the Vale of Jezreel.

6. And ſhe conceived again, bearing a Daughter, when he ſaid to him; Call her Name Not compaſſionated: for I will again no more have compaſſion upon the Family of Iſrael, but will quite take them away.

7. Yet upon the Family of Judah will I have compaſſion, and ſave them by the Lord their God; not ſaving them either by Bow, Sword or War, by Horſes or Horſemen.

8. At length having weaned Not compaſſionated, ſhe conceived, and bore a Son.

9. Then he ſaid: Call his Name Not my People; for you are not my People, nor am I for you.

10. However the Number of the Iſraelites ſhall be as the Sand of the Sea, which cannot be meaſured nor numbered; and in the Place that it is ſaid to them, You are not my People; it ſhall be ſaid to them, You are the Sons of the Living God.

11. And the Sons of Judah with thoſe of Iſrael ſhall be gathered together, make them one Head, and come up from the Country: for great will be the Day of Jezreel.

Ver. 1. Jeroboam] and the reſt that followed, whom the Times of thoſe Kings of Judah ſhewed.

Ver. 2. Beginning] Since it was 66 Years from the Death of Jeroboam to the Reign of Hezekiah, and Hoſea was old enough to have a Wife at firſt, we may ſuppoſe he did not propheſy long in their Reigns; I therefore reckon him, and Joel with him, as beginning but about a Year before Amos, the Times of which two latter ſee.

Ib. Whoredoms] The Affair ſeems to be, that Hoſea really married a Woman, that was a Harlot before, and the firſt Child by her was his own, Ver. 3. who has not an ill Name like the other two, Ver. 4, 6, 9. which latter I ſuppoſe upon her turning Adultereſs were by another Man, according to Chap. ii. 4, 5, 7. and ſo ſhe being divorced, the Prophet was ordered to take her again, but ſhe was to ſtay for him a while, Chap. iii. 1, 3. & ii. 7. Jun. and Trem. inſiſt that it was but a Viſion, becauſe he could not really take the Children, and have them alſo born afterwards: but there is no Neceſſity that take ſhould relate to the Children at the ſame Time it does to the Wife, only that he ſhould have them afterwards; as a ſecond Object of a Verb, for Brevity, may be leſs ſtrictly affected by it. And as there are no Words that ſo much as intimate a Dream or Viſion; and it is not conſiſtent for this to have been only in a Viſion, ſays Mercer in hoc Loc. the Time likewiſe is too long, being ſeveral Years, and the weaning of one before ſhe had another, Ver. 8. which appears to be told not with reſpect to the Prophecy, but as a Circumſtance of the Narration, all confirm the whole to be Matter of Fact, like that in Chap. iii. the wrong and abſurd Notion of which perhaps has moſtly conduced to make it be thought viſionary, by Aben Ezra, Kimhi and Jerome, in their Commentaries. The Word take however claims its proper Signification on its neareſt Object Wife of Whoredoms, whom he could not take ſuch, unleſs ſhe was ſo at that Time; and it is better to ſuppoſe a naughty Woman would continue the ſame, than another become ſo: as for its not ſuiting ſo well with God's taking Iſrael to be his People, it is not the Nature of Compariſons to agree in every Circumſtance; yet the Iſraelites in Egypt, when God peculiarly took them for a People to himſelf, might be repreſented by a Harlot, according to Ezek. xxiii. 3, 8. The learned Piſcator turns it in his Commentary on this Place, Accipe tibi ſcortum, & natos ſcorti gigne; Take thee a Harlot, and beget Children of the Harlot; and Caſtellio more elegantly to the ſame Purpoſe, duc uxorem meretricem, liberos geniturus meretricios. The Lord forbade only Prieſts to marry ſuch, Lev. xxi. 7. which the Command of God would have diſpenſed with, if it had; however Whoredom does not forfeit a Permiſſion to marry; for this ſee alſo Grotius.

Ver. 4. the Family of Jehu] as ſhewn 2 King. xv. 8, 10, 12.

Ver. 5. Vale of Jezreel] Jerome here writes, In hac commiſſo certamine ab Aſſyriis cæſus eſt Iſrael, In this the Battle was fought when Iſrael was beat by the Aſſyrians; which he ſays is large, of above ten Miles Extent.

Ver. 6. take away] old Lat. forget, by ſuppoſing the Heb. Root to be נשה when it was נשא

Ver. 11. great] as before, Ver. 5. and [for] as if, they ſhall be gathered, for they will be diſperſed; not this to be when they were gathered, as ſome ſtrain for.

CHAP. II.

CALL your Brothers My People, and your Sisters Compassionated.

2. Plead with your Mother, plead; for she is not my Wife, nor am I her Husband: so let her put away her Whoredoms from her Face, and her Adulteries from between her Breasts;

3. Lest I should strip her naked, and set her as in the Day that she was born, as also make her like a Wilderness, put her like a dry Country, and cause her to die with Thirst;

4. And not have compassion upon her Children, because they are the Children of Whoredoms.

5. For their Mother commits Whoredom, she that conceived them does shamefully: for she says, I will go after my Lovers, who give my Bread and Water, my Wool and Flax, my Oil and Drink.

6. Therefore behold I will hedge up thy Way with Thorns, and fence it with a Fence; insomuch that she shall not find her Paths.

7. And though she follows her Lovers, she shall not overtake them; nor though she seeks for them, find: so that she shall say, I will go back again to my former Husband; for it was then better with me than now.

8. Since she does not know that I give her Corn, Wine and Oil, as likewise cause the Silver to increase for her, and the Gold that they make up for Baal.

9. Therefore I will take back my Corn in its Season, and my Wine in its appointed Time; as also take away my Wool and Flax, that were to cover her Nakedness.

10. And now will I discover her Vileness in the Sight of her Lovers; and no Man shall deliver her from my Hand.

11. I will also make all her Joy cease, her Feast, New-moon and Sabbath, with every one of her appointed Times.

12. Besides I will make her Vine and Fig-tree desolate, of which she said, They are my Hire, which my Lovers gave me; I will even make them a Wood, and the wild Beasts shall eat them.

13. And I will punish her for the Days of the Baals, in which she burnt incense to them, and was decked with her Ear-ring and Jewel, going after her Lovers; and forgot me, says the Lord.

14. By reason of which behold I will persuade her, and cause her to go to the Wilderness; that I may speak kindly to her.

15. From whence I will give her Vineyards to her, and the Vale of Achor for a Door of Hope; where she shall sing as in the Days of her Youth, and as on the Day of her coming up from the Country of Egypt.

16. At which Time, says the Lord, thou shalt call me My Husband; and shalt no more call me My Baal.

17. Since I will put away the Names of the Baals from her Mouth; and they shall be remembred by their Name no more.

18. I will further make a Covenant for them at that Time with the Beasts of the Field, with the Fowls of the Air, and the creeping Things of the Ground; the Bow, Sword, and War will I also break from the Earth, and cause them to lie down securely.

19. Moreover I will espouse thee to me for ever; and that in Righteousness, Judgment, Kindness and Compassions.

20. I will even espouse thee to me in Faithfulness; and thou shalt know the Lord.

21. At that Time too will I answer, says the Lord, I will answer the Heaven; and that shall answer the Earth;

Ver. 1. Call] Prideaux in Connect. Anno 446. relates from divers Authors, that Cardinal Hugo, who flourished about the Year 1240, first divided the Scripture into Chapters, which from the Latin was afterwards done in Hebrew by Nathan the Jew. As this Division is therefore of no Authority to direct the Sense, it appears this Verse belongs to that which goes before, not to what follows, which is of a contrary Kind; and it seems to be joined to the latter, only because both are imperative, and this Verse begins it. Jun. and Trem. notwithstanding translate, o populo mi, o my People, and o misericordiam consequuta, o compassionated, as if those were ordered to say to their Brothers and Sisters what follows in the next Verse, and those who are so commanded are supposed to be the better Sort of them: according to which the Brothers and Sisters being the bad ones, were not fit to plead with the Mother to make her good; nay indeed who was the Mother after this Manner? It is further invalidated by the Participle rendered Compassionated being feminine, and so belonging to Sisters; I might also say singular, and therefore not belonging to the Verb; see further Grotius.

Ver. 2. Plead] that she may enjoy the foregoing Blessings.

Ver. 7. so that] Jerome excellently, Ex quo intelligimus, &c. Hence we understand, that Harms befal us by the Providence of God, that we may not have those Things which we desire, and may be forced as it were, by the various Troubles and Afflictions of this Life, to turn again to serving God, Comment.

Ver. 13. punish her for] which is intelligible, as the like in the com. Transf. Chap. iv. 9, 14.

Ib. the Baals] being evidently more than one, especially by Names, Ver. 17.

Ver. 15. Vale of Achor] mentioned Josh. vii. ult.

Ib. for a Door of Hope] Sicut scil. Israelitæ quum ex deserto in vallem istam perveniissent, spem conceperunt totius terræ Chanaan occupandæ: that is as the Israelites, when they were come out of the Wilderness into that Valley, had the Hope of possessing the whole Country of Canaan, Piscator, Schol. with Jun. and Trem. to the same Purpose.

Ver. 16. Baal] which also signifies Husband or Master; the Dislike to the Name being because the Idols were so called, Ver. 17.

Ver. 21. answer] the Demands, by supplying what is wanted, the Word properly meaning so.

22. And the Earth ſhall anſwer the Corn, Wine and Oil; and they ſhall anſwer Jezreel.

23. Nay I will ſow her for my ſelf in the Earth, and have compaſſion upon her not compaſſionated: ſaying to a People not mine, Thou art my People; and it ſhall ſay, Thou art my God.

CHAP. III.

AND the Lord ſaid to me, Go again, love the Woman who is loved of a Neighbour, and an Adultereſs: as the Love of the Lord is to the Iſraelites, though they look to other gods, and love the Bottles of Wine.

2. So I purchaſed her to me for fifteen Shekels of Silver, and a Homer and a half of Barley.

3. To whom I ſaid, Abide for me a great while, do not commit Whoredom, nor be for any Man; and I will be likewiſe to thee.

4. For the Iſraelites ſhall abide a great while with no King, no Prince, no Sacrifice, no Statue, no Ephod, nor Teraphs.

5. Afterwards the Iſraelites will again ſeek for the Lord their God, and David their King; fearing the Lord and his Goodneſs, in the latter Days.

CHAP. IV.

HEAR the Lord's Commiſſion, O Iſraelites: for the Lord has a Contention with the Inhabitants of the Country; becauſe there is no Truth, no Kindneſs, nor yet Knowledge of God there.

2. By ſwearing, lying, murdering, ſtealing, committing Adultery, they break out; and Blood reaches to Blood.

3. Therefore the Country ſhall mourn, every Inhabitant in it languiſh, with the Beaſt of the Field, and the Fowl of the Air; and the Fiſhes alſo of the Sea ſhall be gathered up.

4. However let no Man contend with, nor reprove another; ſince thy People are like thoſe who contend with the Prieſt.

5. And thou ſhalt fall in the Day, as the Prophet alſo ſhall with thee in the Night; and I will cut off thy Mother.

6. My People are cut off, by being without Knowledge: for thou rejecteſt Knowledge, ſo I will reject thee from being a Prieſt to me; and thou forgetting the Law of thy God, I will alſo forget thy Children.

7. As they multiply, ſo they ſin againſt me: I will change their Glory into Baſeneſs.

8. They eat the Sin of my People, and lift up its Soul to their Iniquity.

9. And it ſhall be as with the People, ſo with the Prieſt; whom I will puniſh for their Ways, and render their Deeds to them.

10. For they ſhall eat, and not be ſatisfied; go a whoring, and not increaſe; becauſe they have left obſerving the Lord.

11. Whoredom, and Wine, particularly new Wine, take the Heart.

12. My People aſk of their Wood, and their Staff tells them: for the Spirit of Whoredoms cauſes to go aſtray, ſo that they go a whoring from under their God.

13. They ſacrifice upon the Tops of the Mountains, and burn incenſe upon the Hills, under the male Oak, the Poplar and female Oak, becauſe the Shadow of it is good: therefore your Daughters commit Whoredom, as do your Spouſes Adultery.

14. I do not puniſh your Daughters, though

15. If thou, Iſrael, goeſt a whoring, let not Judah become guilty: neither come you to Gilgal, nor go up to Beth-aven, nor ſwear, By the Lord's living.

16. For Iſrael is unruly, like an unruly Heifer; whom the Lord will now feed like a Sheep in a large Place.

17. Ephraim is joined to Images; let him alone.

18. Their Wine is gone: they throughly go a whoring; the Protectors of it baſely do love, Give.

19. The Wind has tied her up in its Wings; and they will be aſhamed of their Sacrificings.

CHAP V.

HEAR this, you Prieſts, and hearken, O Family of Iſrael, as likewiſe that of the King, give ear; for whom there is Judgment: becauſe you are as a Gin at Mizpah, and a Net ſpread upon Tabor.

2. And thoſe who turn away get deep to kill; but I will be the Chaſtiſer of them all.

3. I know Ephraim, and Iſrael is not concealed from me: for now, Ephraim, thou goeſt a whoring; Iſrael is defiled.

4. They will not give up their Doings to return to their God: for the Spirit of Whoredoms is within them, and they know not the Lord.

5. Nay the Pride of Iſrael teſtifies in his Face; ſo Iſrael and Ephraim ſhall fall in their Iniquity, Judah ſhall alſo fall with them.

6. They will go with their Flocks and Herds, to ſeek the Lord, but not find; he being withdrawn from them.

7. They are treacherous againſt the Lord, for they beget ſtrange Children: now ſhall a Month conſume them with their Portions.

8. Sound the Cornet in Gibeah, the Trumpet in Ramah: cry out at Beth-aven, afterwards at thee, Benjamin.

9. Ephraim ſhall become deſolate at the Time of Rebuke: I make known a ſure Thing among the Tribes of Iſrael.

10. The Princes of Judah are like thoſe who remove the Bounds: I will pour out my Fury upon them like Water.

11. Ephraim is oppreſſed, daſhed to pieces in Judgment; becauſe he likes to follow the Statute.

12. So I am as a Moth to Ephraim, and as Rottenneſs to the Family of Judah.

13. Whereas Ephraim ſeeing his Diſeaſe, and Judah his Wound; Ephraim went to Aſſyria, and this ſent to a King who could contend: but he is not able to heal you, nor does he cure you of the Wound.

CHAP. VI.

COME, and let us return to the Lord: for he tears, and will heal us; ſmites, and will bind us up.

2. He will make us alive after two Days; on the third Day will he raiſe us up, and we ſhall live before him.

3. Then ſhall we know, following to know the Lord, whoſe going forth is prepared as the Morning; and he will come like the Rain to us, like the latter and firſt Rain to the Earth.

4. What ſhall I do for thee, Ephraim? What ſhall I do for thee, Judah? Since your Kindneſs is like a Morning Cloud, and goes away as the early Dew.

5. Therefore I cut with the Prophets, ſlay them with the Sayings of my Mouth; and thy Judgments are a Light that goes forth.

CHAP. VII.

AS I am healing Iſrael, the Iniquity of Ephraim is diſcovered, and the Evils of Samaria: for they work Falſehood; and the Thief enters, the Troop ſpoils abroad.

2. And they do not ſay in their Heart, that I remember all their Wickedneſs, whoſe Deeds now compaſſing them, are before my Face.

3. They make the King glad with their Wickedneſs, and the Princes with their Lyes.

4. All of them are Adulterers, like an Oven heated by the Baker; who ceaſes from ſtirring up, from kneading the Dough, till it is leavened.

5. On the Day of our King, the Princes make him ſick with Bottles of Wine, he ſtretches out his Hand with Deriders.

6. For they apply their Heart like an

Ver. 5. thy Judgments] the Judgments on thee. The Targ. has דִּינִי my Judgment: a deal of it being מדרש Medraſh, as it is called, i. e. Expoſition, rather than Tranſlation; ſo before in this Ver. Therefore I admoniſhed them by ſending my Prophets, yet they did not return; I will bring Slayers againſt them, becauſe they have tranſgreſſed againſt the Saying of my Will. The Author of the State of the printed Heb. Text imagines a Perſon read to ſome Tranſcriber umiſhpatecaor together, and he parted it wrong as in the *preſ. Ver. 7. like Adam] the ſame as in Job xxxi. 33. And like Men, either implies that all Men did ſo, which is not true; or that they, being Men, did ſo like themſelves, which would be abſurd. Thus tranſlate Caſt. Sant. Leo Jud. and the vulg. Lat. Tranſ. which Grot. approves.

Ver. 8. deceitful] So tranſlated Jer. xvii. 9. and according to the Signification of the Verb its Root, Gen. xxvii. 36. Jer. ix. 4. as likewiſe agreeable to the two foregoing Verſes, and Ch. xii. 11. which ſhew the Gileadites were Hypocrites or deceitful, pretending to be religious while they were wicked: Caſtal. turns it callida, crafty; nor does it appear that either the Root, or any of its Derivatives, have ſuch a Meaning as polluted.

Ver. 11. makes] The Iſraelites by their Sin beforementioned procuring their own Diſſolution and Diſperſion, would divers of them be gathered (as Harveſt may well denote gathering) to the People of Judah, when they ſhould return from the Babylonian Captivity. Without expoſing the Inconſiſtency of others, I will truſt this Interpretation to be the moſt genuine.

Ver. 2. Heart] ſingular as in Ver. 14 and as Tongue, Ver. 16.

Ver. 4. from ſtirring up] the Fire in the Oven, when it is ſufficiently hot already.

Ib. from kneading] It is the ſame here in Heb. as before ſtirring up: and our Tranſlators ſeem not to have known, that the Leaven or Barm is put in firſt, and lying a while to leaven the reſt, the Kneading is afterwards; which they have put quite contrary.

Ib. till] As Leaven lies in the Dough or Flour, before it is kneaded; ſo the Wickedneſs in their Hearts, before they acted it.

Ver. 5. Day] I ſuppoſe Birth-Day, becauſe it was the King's; ſee Gen. xl. 20. Mark vi. 21.

7. They are all hot like an Oven, and conſume their Judges: all their Kings are fallen, none among them calls to me.

8. Ephraim, he mingles himſelf among the People: Ephraim is a Cake not turned.

9. Strangers conſume his Strength, which he does not know: even the grey Hair ſprinkled about on him as it is, he is ignorant of.

10. Moreover the Pride of Iſrael teſtifies in his Face: but they do not return to the Lord their God, nor ſeek him for all this.

11. And Ephraim is like a ſimple Dove with no Heart: they call to Egypt, they go to Aſſyria.

12. Since they go, I will ſpread my Net over them, will bring them down like the Fowls of the Air; will correct them, as their Aſſembly hears.

13. Wo be to them, becauſe they flee from me; Waſting is for them, becauſe they tranſgreſs againſt me: though I redeem them, yet they ſpeak Lyes againſt me.

14. Nay they do not cry to me with their Heart, when they lament upon their Beds; when gathering themſelves together for Corn and Wine, they come away to me.

15. Notwithſtanding I inſtruct them, ſtrengthen their Arms, they think Evil againſt me.

16. They return, not to the High One, they are like a deceitful Bow; their Princes ſhall fall by the Sword, for the Rage of their Tongue: this ſhall be their Deriſion in the Country of Egypt.

CHAP. VIII.

LET the Trumpet be at thy Mouth, there ſhall be like an Eagle againſt the Family of the Lord; becauſe they tranſgreſs my Covenant, and treſpaſs againſt my Law.

2. The Iſraelites will cry to me, My God, we know thee.

3. Iſrael caſting off Good, the Enemy ſhall purſue him.

4. They make Kings, but not by me; appoint Princes, whom I do not acknowledge: with their Silver and Gold they make them Images, that they may be cut off.

5. Thy Calf caſts off, O Samaria; I am angry with them: how long will they not attain Innocency?

6. For even that is from Iſrael, the Artificer made it, and that is not God; ſince the Calf of Samaria will be in Pieces.

7. For they ſow Wind, and reap Whirlwind: there is no Stalk to it, the Sprout yields no Meal; if perhaps it ſhould yield, Strangers would devour it.

8. Iſrael is devoured: now are they among the Nations like a Tool in which there is no Delight.

9. For they go up to Aſſyria, as a wild Aſs alone by himſelf: the Ephraimites hire Love.

10. Even becauſe they hire of the Nations, now will I gather them together; and they ſhall be in Anguiſh in a little while, by the Burden of the King of Princes.

BE not glad, O Iſrael, to Rejoicing, like the People; ſince thou goeſt a whoring from thy God: doſt love Hire upon all the Corn-floors.

2. The Floor and Wine-preſs ſhall not feed them, and the new Wine ſhall fail in her.

3. They ſhall not dwell in the Lord's Country; but Ephraim ſhall return to Egypt, and they ſhall eat what is unclean in Aſſyria.

4. They ſhall neither pour out Wine to the Lord, nor the Things be ſweet to him; their Sacrifices ſhall be as the Food of Sorrows to them, all who eat it ſhall be unclean: for their Food to their Appetite ſhall not come into the Houſe of the Lord.

5. What will you do at the ſolemn Day, and at that of the Lord's Feaſt?

6. For behold they ſhall go becauſe of waſting; Egypt ſhall gather them together, Moph bury them: the pleaſant Places for their Money ſhall the Thiſtles inherit, the Thorns ſhall be in their Tents.

7. That the Days of Viſitation are come, the Days of Recompence come, the Iſraelites ſhall know; that the Prophet is fooliſh, the ſpiritual Man frantick, by reaſon of the Multitude of thy Iniquity, and the great Hatred.

8. The Watchman of Ephraim is with my God: the Prophet is the Snare of a Fowler in all his Ways, Hatred in the Houſe of his God.

9. They deeply corrupting themſelves as at the Time of Gibeah, he will remember their Iniquity, will viſit their Sins.

10. I found Iſrael as Grapes in the Wilderneſs, ſaw your Fathers as the Firſt-fruit on the Fig-tree at the Beginning of it: they came to Baal-peor, and were ſeparated to the Shame; the Abominations being ſuch as they loved.

11. As for the Ephraimites, their Glory ſhall fly away like a Fowl; from the Birth, the Womb and Conception.

12. Nay if they breed up their Children, yet will I deprive them of Men: for even wo be to them, when I depart from them.

13. Ephraim, as I ſaw of Tyre, is planted in a pleaſant Place; but Ephraim is bringing forth his Children for the Slayer.

14. Give them, O Lord; what ſhalt thou give? Give them a miſcarrying Womb, and flagging Breaſts.

15. All their Wickedneſs is in Gilgal, though I hate them there; I will drive them out of my Houſe, for the Wickedneſs of their Doings: I will love them no more; all their Princes are rebellious.

16. Ephraim is ſmitten, their Root is dried up, they yield no Fruit; even though they ſhould bear, yet will I cauſe the Deſires of their Belly to die.

17. My God will reject them, becauſe they do not hearken to him; and they ſhall be Wanderers in the Nations.

CHAP. X.

ISRAEL is an empty Vine, he provides Fruit for himſelf: according to the Multitude of his Fruit, he multiplies Altars; according to the Goodneſs of his Country, they make the Statues good.

Ver. 13. roaſted] See Deut. xvi. 7. and Buxt. Lex. under צלה

Ib. to Egypt] whither ſome of the Iſraelites ſeem to have fled in the Time of the Aſſyrian War, as being in Friendſhip, and from the Enemy, and as ſeems by Ch. vii. 16. & ix. 3, 6. & xi. 11. Iſa. xi. 11. therefore I ſuppoſe Lyra interprets away the real Meaning, duram & vilem ſervitutem qualem in Ægypto ſervierunt, they ſhall perform ſuch hard and vile Slavery as they did in Egypt; and Grot. referring it to 2 King. xvii. 4.

Ver. 6. Moph] So the Heb. is, in other Places Noph, and thus rendered by the common Tranſlators.

Ver. 7. Hatred] of God to him, as Ver. 8, 15.

Ver. 8. Watchman] He that watches rightly, and ſees how it is with the falſe Prophet mentioned before and after, as alſo in Chap. iv. 5.

Ver. 9. as] as thoſe of Gibeah did, Judg. xix. This is ſo far from invalidating or affecting the Interpretation given of Chap. x. 9. as poſſibly might be objected, that they might here have been compared to the Sodomites or others, and why not to thoſe? And here is not ſuch Diſtinction as is there.

Ver. 10. at the Beginning of it] Before the other Fruit is come; denoting their ſolitary Condition, which agrees to Grapes in the Wilderneſs.

Ver. 12. Nay if] ſo Noldius, that accurate laborious Diſtinguiſher of the Senſe of the Heb. Particles.

Ver. 15. is in Gilgal] See Chap. iv. 15. & xii. 11.

Ver. 1. he provides Fruit for himſelf] Of this the Targum is explanatory, The Fruits of their Works have cauſed them to be taken captive.

2. Their Heart is divided, now they are guilty: he will break down their Altars, will waſte their Statues.

3. For now they may ſay, We have no King: for as we do not fear the Lord, what can a King do for us?

4. They ſpeak Words, ſwearing falſely in making the Covenant; and Judgment ſprings forth like Hemlock upon the Ridges of the Field.

5. The Inhabitants of Samaria ſhall be afraid for the Calves of Beth-aven: ſince its People ſhall mourn for it, and its black ones who rejoice at it for its Glory, becauſe that ſhall be carried away from it.

6. It ſhall even be had away to Aſſyria, a Preſent to a King who can contend: Ephraim ſhall take ſhame, and Iſrael be aſhamed by his own Counſel.

7. As for Samaria, her King ſhall periſh, like the Froth atop of the Water.

8. And the Chapels of Aven ſhall be deſtroyed, the Sin of Iſrael; Thorns and Thiſtles ſhall come up on their Altars: nay they ſhall ſay to the Mountains, Cover us; and to the Hills, Fall upon us.

9. From the Days of Gibeah haſt thou ſinned, O Iſrael: there they ſtood; the Battle againſt the Sons of Iniquity did not reach them at Gibeah.

10. It is in my Deſire, that I may bind them; and the People ſhall be gathered up againſt them, when they are bound for their two Iniquities.

11. Notwithſtanding Ephraim is a Heifer taught, that loves to tread out, I paſs over her brave Neck: I will make Ephraim be rode on; Judah ſhall plough, Jacob harrow for him.

12. Sow you in Righteouſneſs, reap with Kindneſs, break you up the fallow Ground; and it will be the Time to ſeek the Lord, till he comes, and rains Righteouſneſs on you.

13. You plough Wickedneſs, reap Iniquity, eat the Fruit of Lying: for thou truſteſt in thy own Way, in the Multitude of thy powerful ones.

14. But a Tumult ſhall riſe up among thy People, and every one of thy ſtrong Holds ſhall be waſted, like Shalman's waſting Beth-arbel on the Day of Battle; the Mother being daſhed in pieces upon the Children.

15. Thus will Beth-el do to you, by reaſon of your worſt of Evils: in the Morning ſhall the King of Iſrael be quite cut off.

CHAP. XI.

WHEN Iſrael was a Child, and I loved him, I called my Son out of Egypt.

Ver. 2. divided] partim idola partim Deum colendo, by partly worſhipping Idols and partly God, Lyra.

Ver. 3. no King] This Lowth refers to the Interregnum between Pekah and Hoſhea.

Ver. 5. its—it] twice repeated, I underſtand of Beth-aven, with which they agree in Number and Gender, but differ in both from Calves in Heb.

Ver. 6. had away] according to the Account given in Seder Olam Rabba, Cap. 22. the golden Calf at Dan, 1 King. xii. 28, 29. was taken away by Tiglath-pileſer, 2 King. xv. 29. and that at Beth-el (called by this Prophet Beth-aven, as remarked on Chap. iv. 15.) by Shalmaneſer in the Beginning of the Reign of Hoſhea, 2 King. xvii. 3. which agrees well with the Time of the Prophecy, as at Ver. 3.

Ver. 7. King] Pekah according to Lowth.

Ver. 9. From] haſt failed in Zeal and Courage againſt Wickedneſs, as a People in general ever ſince, Judg. xx. for it ſeems unnatural to charge the Sin of Gibeah upon the Iſraelites, which they ſo unanimouſly and ſharply puniſhed, conſidering too that Gibeah did not now belong to the Kingdom of Iſrael; nay the Commendation of their ſtanding may ſettle this Meaning, as alſo their being diſtinguiſhed from the Sons of Iniquity.

Ib. ſtood] The Targ. adds to it in a contrary Senſe, they rebelled againſt my Word by making for themſelves a King, &c.

Ib. reach] did not reach their Country, as the Deſtruction now predicted ſhould.

Ver. 10. bind] The ſame Letters might ſignify chaſtiſe, the Vowels for which would be regularly two long e's, and for bind a ſhort e and long o; and here being the ſame ſhort e and a ſhort o inſtead of the long, ſeems to ſhew the latter; this too I think better accords with bound that follows, which has the ſame Letters. So Jun. and Trem. render it, and Buxt. in Theſ. Gram. Lib. 1. Cap. 4.

Ib. for their two Iniquities] As the Septuag. Verſion and vulg. Latin, with Santes and Caſt. have it: which Lowth, Abarbenel, Grotius and others explain by the Calves of Dan and Bethel; ſee Ver. 5. and hence may be the Tranſition to calling Ephraim a Heifer, Ver. 11. Iniquities ſeems neareſt to the Maſoretical Reading (of which ſee Buxt. Lex. under עין at עוה) as well as makes the beſt Senſe, and is quite different in Heb. from that in Ver. 4.

Ver. 11. loves to tread out] that ſhe might eat the Corn; ſee Deut. xxv. 4.

Ib. paſs over] with a Yoke.

Ib. make Ephraim be rode on] or make him (the ſame that follows, viz. the Aſſyrian King, Ver. 6.) ride Ephraim; ſhewing, as in the reſt, how he ſhould labour.

Ver. 14. like Shalman's waſting Beth-arbel] For this the Chald. by the Waſting of Peace by Snares; and the vulg. Lat. as Salmana was waſted by his Houſe that took vengeance on Baal; on which ſee Buxtorf's Vindiciæ, p. 742, 766.

Ib. Shalman's] It ſeems Shalmaneſer, the Father of Sennacherib, King of Aſſyria, deſtroyed a Place of this Name not mentioned, 2 King. xix. 12, 13. with great Cruelty, which is ſpoken of as being recent, and well known.

Ver. 15. in] The vulg. Lat. As the Morning paſſed away, the King of Iſrael did: for ב in is much like כ as, and paſſed away ſeems to be made to agree the better with it, ſince ſuch Latitudes have been paſſed by Tranſlators.

Ver. 1. I called] This being parted from the foregoing by the great Heb. Point; and in this Manner Jun. and Trem. tranſlate.

2. As any call them, ſo they go from their Preſence, ſacrificing to the Baals, and burning incenſe to the carved Images.

3. Though I teach the Ephraimites to go, taking them by their Arms; yet they do not know that I heal them.

4. I draw them with the Cords of Man, with the Ropes of Love, and am to them like thoſe who lift up the Yoke which is upon their Jaws; nay I put aſide the Food to them.

5. He ſhall not return to the Country of Egypt, but the Aſſyrian himſelf ſhall be his King; ſince they refuſe to return.

6. And the Sword ſhall remain on his Cities, waſte his Limbs, and conſume, by reaſon of their Counſels.

7. For my People are cleaved to turning away from me; but when any call them to the High One, there is not coming up together.

8. How ſhall I give thee up, Ephraim; deliver thee up, Iſrael? How ſhall I give thee to be like Admah; make thee like Zeboim? My Heart is turned in me, my being ſorry is kindled together.

9. I will not perform my fervent Anger, will not return to deſtroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not Man, the Holy One within thee; and will not come into the City.

10. They will go after the Lord, who will roar like a Lion: for when he roars, the Children will tremble from the Sea.

11. They will tremble like a Bird from Egypt, and as a Dove from the Country of Aſſyria; then will I make them dwell in their own Houſes, ſays the Lord.

12. The Ephraimites compaſs me with Falſehood, and the Family of Iſrael with Deceit; but Judah yet governs with God, and is faithful with the Saints.

CHAP. XII.

EPHRAIM feeds on Wind, and follows after the Eaſt-wind; every Day he multiplies Lying and Waſting; they alſo make a Covenant with Aſſyria, and Oil is had away to Egypt.

2. Therefore the Lord has a Contention with Judah, even to puniſh Jacob according to his Ways, to whom he will render according to his Deeds.

3. In the Womb he took hold of his Brother's Heel, and by his Strength he was like a Prince with God.

4. He was even like a Prince to the Angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made ſupplication to him, who found him at Beth-el, and ſpoke there with us;

5. Even the Lord God of Armies, whoſe Memorial is the Lord.

6. So return thou to thy God: keep Kindneſs and Judgment, and wait for thy God continually.

7. As for the Dealer, the Scales of Deceit are in his Hand; he loves to oppreſs.

8. And Ephraim ſays, Verily I am rich, I have found me Subſtance; in all my Labours they ſhall not find that I have Iniquity which is Sin.

9. But I am the Lord thy God from the Country of Egypt; who will yet make thee dwell in Tents, as at the Days of the appointed Time.

10. I therefore ſpeak by the Prophets, multiply Viſions, and make Compariſons by the Miniſtry of the Prophets.

11. Is Gilead Vanity? Verily they are vain, they ſacrifice Oxen in Gilgal; their Altars alſo are as Heaps upon the Ridges of the Field.

Ver. 2. any call] as Ver. 7.

Ver. 3. their Arms] With the old Lat. And I, as it were the Nurſe of Ephraim, carried them in my Arms, in the Liberty that Tranſlator took.

Ver. 5. not return] ſhall not return to Egypt as a People in general, though divers of them ſhould flee thither, Chap. viii. 13.

Ib. refuſe to return] to God; and therefore ſhould not return to Egypt, but go to a worſe Place into Captivity; which would not be to return, ſince they refuſed that.

Ver. 7. coming up] to the High One, as juſt before.

Ver. 10. Sea] As this appears to be a Prophecy of the Iſraelites being brought home from Egypt and Aſſyria, this would neither be the Weſt nor weſtern Sea.

Ver. 12. yet governs] But the vulg. Lat. is come down a Witneſs; gned, a Witneſs, being ſo near like gnod, yet, and rad by Miſtake or Ignorance, derived from yarad inſtead of rud.

Ver. 1. Wind] as unprofitable.

Ib. Eaſt-wind] as hurtful.

Ib. and Oil] which [and] ſhould not be Italick.

Ver. 3. was like a Prince with God] Where the Vulg. has, was directed with the Angel, ſuppoſing שרה an unuſual Verb to come from ישר Buxtorf's Anſwer to Capellus on it may be worth reading by the Curious, Vindiciæ, p. 794, 795.

Ver. 4. who] that is God, Gen. xxviii. 12, 19. & xxxv. 1. while the com. Tranſ. may ſeem to ſpeak for worſhipping Angels.

Ib. us] like we, Pſa. lxvi. 6. and ſee the Commentaries of Calvin and Cocceius. The Septuag. have wildly to them.

Ver. 8. Verily] the ſame with that in Ver. 11.

Ib. is Sin] for were, if it was proper, would be the labours.

Ver. 9. But] thus Chap. xiii. 4. ſo in Poole's Annotations it is turned but, and that Senſe ſhewn; as likewiſe by Caſt. atqui.

Ib. I am] God muſt do for Ephraim, as in this Verſe, and Ch. xi. 3, 4. though he ſays, I am rich, and I have found &c. and notwithſtanding his vindicating himſelf, God judges him, Ver. 10. Chap. vi. 5.

Ver. 11. they ſacrifice Oxen] But the vulg. Lat. ſacrificing to Oxen, though the Doway College turn it into Engliſh, with Oxen; for Jerome in Annot. expounds it, They offer Sacrifices to Oxen, imitating the Error of Samaria: Gr. ſacrificing Princes.

12. Not

12. Not only Jacob fled to the Country of Syria, and Iſrael ſerved for a Wife, and for a Wife kept Sheep;

13. But by a Prophet the Lord brought up Iſrael from Egypt, and by a Prophet he was kept.

14. Ephraim provokes with the Spires; ſo his Lord will ſpread his Blood upon him, and make his Reproach return to him.

CHAP. XIII.

WHEN Ephraim ſpoke with trembling, he was advanced in Iſrael; but being guilty by Baal, he died.

2. And now they proceed to ſin, and make them a molten Image of their Silver, Images by their own Underſtanding, all of it the Work of the Artificers; of which they ſay, Let the Men who ſacrifice kiſs the Calves.

3. Therefore ſhall they be like a Morning Cloud, and like the early Dew that goes away, like Chaff driven tempeſtuouſly out of the Floor, and as Smoak out of the Chimney.

4. But I am the Lord thy God from the Country of Egypt; nay a God excepting me thou knoweſt not, and a Saviour there is none beſides me.

5. I knew thee in the Wilderneſs, in a Country of Droughts.

6. According to their Paſture, ſo are they filled; they being filled, their Heart is exalted: therefore they forget me.

7. So will I be to them like a fierce Lion, will watch like a Leopard in the Way.

8. I will meet them as a Bear deprived of its Young, and rend the Covering of their Heart; nay conſume them there as a ſtout Lion, the wild Beaſt ſhall tear them aſunder.

9. He deſtroys thee, O Iſrael; though there is for thy Help in me.

10. Where is thy King now, and he that will ſave thee in all thy Cities, as alſo thy Judges of whom thou ſaideſt, Give me a King and Princes?

11. I gave thee a King in my Anger, and took him away in my Wrath.

12. The Iniquity of Ephraim is bound up, his Sin is hid.

13. The Pangs of a Woman in labour ſhall come to him: he is an unwiſe Son, for he ſhould not remain ſome Time at the breaking out of Children.

Ver. 14. Spires] the very ſame as in Jer. xxxi. 21. from the radical Word ſignifying a Palm-tree, which grows ſo: this being confirmed and explained by, as it is agreeable to, the latter Part of Ver. 11. The Geneva Bib. has it high places.

Ver. 2. by] it being ב not כ in all the Heb. Bibles I have, excepting Munſter's of leaſt Authority; as Druſius ſays it was in all he had ſeen but one.

Ib. Let the Men who ſacrifice] The Sept. and vulg. Interp. Sacrifice Men; but not after the Heb. which has ' not ו and the Sept. have next, for the Calves have failed.

Ib. kiſs] as Tully ſpeaks concerning the Image of Hercules, in his 4th Oration againſt Verres.

Ver. 5. knew thee] By the Chald. Paraphraſt, ſupplied their Neceſſities.

Ver. 8. Covering] called by Anatomiſts the Pericardium; the Heart being not in the Caul.

Ver. 9. He deſtroys thee] Namely Baal does, Ver. 1. or as Munſter ſays, thy Iniquity; or according to Piſcator in his Note on it, ſcilicet rex tuus, cujus mentio fit verſu ſequente, thy King of whom there is mention made in the following Verſe. The Verb too is of the 3d Perſon; and the Heb. Tongue knows no ſuch Thing as expreſſing a Reciproque, having the Subject and Object the ſame, or ſelf by a Pronoun; becauſe the Verbs have the Conjug. Hithpahel purpoſely for it. It is rendered the ſame in Lat. perdidit te, and in the Genev. Verſ. one hath deſtroyed thee.

Ib. for] Heb. ב

Ver. 10. Where] The Word אֹהִי here and in the 14th Verſe might be either for אַיֵּה where, by tranſpoſing the two Letters, or for אֶהְיֶה I will be, by leaving out the laſt, both which are ſometimes uſed in Heb. but the Senſe will determine it for the former, as it is not proper, I will be thy King now, and he that will ſave thee—and thy Judges of whom thou ſaideſt, &c. and Piſcator here writes, Ero ita abſolute poſitum, nec conſequentiæ ſermonis congruit, nec ſenſum aliquem convenientem gignit: I will be put thus neither agrees with what follows, nor forms any other ſuitable Meaning.

Ib. Where is thy King now] So Lowth ſays, the Words may better be tranſlated. In this Senſe the 70 and the Targummiſt underſtand the Words, with ſeveral other Interpreters. But I have a better Proof to offer, viz. thus far is the firſt Member of the Sentence, both by the Heb. Pointing and the Conjunction which follows; ſo that the laſt Word of it cannot ſignify where, though it is rendered ſo in the com. Tranſ. by altering the Partition, and leaving out the Conjunction. And we may find epho ſignifying now in ſeveral Places, as Iſa. xix. 12. & xxii. 1. Pro. vi. 3. 2 King. x. 10. Job xix. 6. & xvii. 15. and commonly, if not always, when it has not the Letter ' as Buxtorf obſerves under פֵּה to make it interrogative. So Caſt. renders it, Ubi nunc eſt tuus rex? and Druſius, Ubi rex tuus jam? whoſe Commentary ſee.

Ib. ſaideſt, Give] as we read 1 Sam. viii. 6.

Ver. 11. gave] 1 Sam. viii. 7. & xii. 13, 17. In Poole's Annotations it is ſaid, Such as Shallum, Menahem, Pekah, &c. but the Wickedneſs of thoſe three in obtaining the Kingdom does not ſuit with the Expreſſion of God's giving them, 2 King. xv. 10, 14, 16, 25. This Heb. Verb indeed is in the future Tenſe, and has therefore been referred to the King of Aſſyria; but I take it to be only future, after the Heb. Manner, to the foregoing Verb for ſaideſt, which is in the paſt Tenſe.

Ib. took him away] 1 Sam. xiii. 14. & xv. 23. 1 Ch. x. 13, 14. This is not applicable to Shalmaneſer or Enemeſſar King of Aſſyria, as he died a natural Death, Tobit i. 2, 15. Lowth reads this Verb only in the future Tenſe, and interprets it of Hoſhea the laſt King of Iſrael, as if King was to be underſtood of all their Kings: but then it might be more probably extended to Zedekiah, as it began with Saul according to his Comment, and ſo belonged to Iſrael in general; ſince the taking away would otherwiſe but partly anſwer to the giving. Nor muſt it commence with Jeroboam, as the Aſſembly's Annotations mention, becauſe he was not given in Anger to the Kingdom.

14. I will redeem them from the Power of the Grave, will ranſom them from Death: where are thy Plagues, O Death? Where is thy Deſtruction, O Grave? Repentance ſhall be hid from my Eyes.

15. Though he is fruitful among the Brethren, the Eaſt-wind ſhall come, the Wind of the Lord come up from the Wilderneſs; ſo that his Spring ſhall dry up, and his Fountain waſte away: it ſhall ſpoil the Treaſure of all the pleaſant Things.

16. Samaria ſhall be deſolate, for ſhe has rebelled againſt her God: they ſhall fall by the Sword, their Children ſhall be daſhed in pieces, and its Women with Child be cut up.

CHAP. XIV.

RETURN, O Iſrael, to the Lord thy God: for thou art fallen by thy Iniquity.

2. Take with you Words, and return to the Lord, ſupplicating him; Forgive all Iniquity, and receive us well; ſo will we render for Bullocks our Lips.

3. Aſſyria ſhall not ſave us, we will not ride upon Horſes, nor call the Work of our Hands any more our god: it being thou by whom the Fatherleſs is had compaſſion upon.

4. I will then heal their turning away, will love them freely: for my Anger is turned away from him.

5. I will be like the Dew to Iſrael; he ſhall flouriſh as a Lilly, and ſtrike forth his Roots like Lebanon.

6. His tender Branches ſhall go on, his Comelineſs be as an Olive-tree, and the Smell of him like Lebanon.

7. They ſhall return that dwell in his Shadow; ſhall revive as Corn, and flouriſh like the Vine: the Remembrance of it ſhall be as the Wine of Lebanon.

8. Let Ephraim ſay, What are Images any more to me? I will anſwer and obſerve him; I am like a green Fir-tree, from me thy Fruit is found.

9. Who is wiſe, that he may underſtand theſe Things; prudent, that he may know them? For the Ways of the Lord are right, and the Virtuous go in them; but Tranſgreſſors ſtumble therein.

Ver. 14. where] The Proof of this has been ſhewn at Ver. 10. to which may be added that the Apoſtle quotes it ſo 1 Cor. xv 55. ſee Piſcat. on Ver. 10.

Ver. 2. Forgive] the ſame Verb as in Pſa. xxxii. 1. and which ſignifies ſo with ſuch Nouns.

Ib. for Bullocks] which is proper; but not bullocks of, nor is the Heb. ſo.

Ib. Bullocks] Thankſgivings as Jerome and others interpret it. Druſius ſays, Some tranſlate it Calves, but wrong; for עגלים are rather called Calves, Comment. The Sept. have Fruit, and from thence in the Opinion of Hammond has, Heb. xiii. 15. whence he on Heb. viii. ſays, There is little reaſon to doubt, but the ancienter and true reading was פרי not פרים but though Somebody might think the latter ſhould be in the contracted Form, denoting of between that and the following Word, which then would be like the former, and that might be miſtaken for Fruit; yet the Uncouthneſs of the Bullocks of our Lips was more likely the Occaſion of taking it for Fruit; whereas if it had been Fruit at firſt, it is not to be thought it would have been altered to Bullocks.

Ver. 4. will] or would, &c.

Ver. 5. to Iſrael] which is very expreſs in the Heb. yet the vulg. Lat. is, I will be as it were Dew, Iſrael ſhall &c.

Ver. 7. Remembrance] according as in Chap. xii. 5. and every where elſe.

Ver. 8. like a green Fir-tree] not as the Images which are dead Stocks, and yield no Fruit.

Ib. thy Fruit] which thou haſt to eat: not quem feres, which thou beareſt, as Piſcator interprets it; for he himſelf allows it is God that is compared to the Fir-tree, not Ephraim.

NOTES upon the BOOK of JOEL.

CHAP. I.

THE Lord's Commiſſion which Joel the Son of Pethuel had.

2. Hear this, you Elders; and give ear, all Inhabitants of the Country: Has this been in your Days? Or was it in thoſe of your Fathers?

3. Tell of it to your Children, and let them tell theirs, as alſo their Children to another Generation.

4. What is left by the Palmer-worm the Locuſt eats, what is left by the Locuſt the Canker-worm eats, and that which is by the Canker-worm does the Caterpillar eat.

5. Awake, O Drunkards, and weep; and lament, all Drinkers of Wine; for the new Wine, becauſe it is cut off from your Mouth.

6. For a Nation is come up againſt my Country, ſtrong, and out of Number: its Teeth are thoſe of a Lion, and it has the Cheek-teeth of a ſtout Lion.

7. It has made my Vine deſolate, and my Fig-tree foamy: has made quite bare, and caſt off; the Branches of it are become white.

8. Lament like a Virgin girded with Sackcloth, for the Huſband of her Youth.

9. The Meat-offering and Drink-offering being cut off from the Lord's Houſe; the Prieſts, the Miniſters of the Lord mourn.

10. The Field is waſted, the Ground mourns: for the Corn is waſted, the Wine dries up, the Oil languiſhes.

11. Be aſhamed, you Huſbandmen, lament, O Vine-dreſſers, for the Wheat and Barley; becauſe the Harveſt of the Field is periſhed.

12. The Vine dries up, and the Fig-tree languiſhes: the Pomegranate-tree, as well as the Palm-tree and Apple-tree, all the Trees of the Field dry up; for Joy is dried up from Mankind.

13. Gird your ſelves, and make lamentation, O Prieſts; lament, O Miniſters of the Altar; come, abide all Night in Sackcloth, you Miniſters of my God: for the Meat-offering, and Drink-offering, is with-held from the Houſe of your God.

14. Sanctify a Faſt, call a ſolemn Day, gather up the Elders, all the Inhabitants of the Country, to the Houſe of the Lord your God; and cry to the Lord.

15. Alas for the Day; becauſe the Day of the Lord draws near, and comes as a Waſting from the Almighty.

16. Is not the Food cut off before our Eyes, Gladneſs and Rejoicing from the Houſe of our God?

17. The Grains are become mouldy under their Clods, the Granaries are deſolate, the Barns broke down: for the Corn is dried up.

18. How the Beaſts groan! The Herds of Oxen are perplexed, becauſe there is no grazing for them; the Herds of Sheep too are become deſolate.

19. To thee, O Lord, I call; becauſe the Fire conſumes the Paſtures of the Wilderneſs, and the Flame burns all the Trees of the Field.

20. The Beaſts of the Field alſo cry out

Ver. 1. Commiſſion] This being in the Time of a great Drought, which is viſibly here deſcribed (though Grotius ſtrangely applies it to the Aſſyrians) and according to Uſher in his Annals A. M. 3197, the ſame which Amos mentions as paſt, Chap. iv. 7, 8, 9. it follows that Joel's Prophecy was before the other's, the Time of which is told; and this may agree with Jerome, as an Author of moſt Authority in this Reſpect, making him Cotemporary with Hoſea.

Ver 2. was it] הֶיְתָה making a Queſtion like ה before.

Ver. 4. Caterpillar] In the Sept. Blaſt, but ſee Pſa. lxxviii. 46.

Ver. 7. foamy] with Excreſcences growing out like Foam, by the Heat and Drineſs, from the Verb (which this is not) to foam with rage: ſo Jun. and Trem. render it clavum.

Ver. 8. Lament like] The Sept. Lament to me over: for סְפִדִי without the Points ſignifying either lament or to me, and this Verb not having the former Meaning any where elſe, which it derives from the Chald. as alſo the latter though frequent not making Senſe alone, they were profoundly joined together; and ב likewiſe being miſtaken for ב was turned over: which ſeems the beſt Account that is to be given of it.

Ver. 14. to the Houſe] for into it they might not come, only the Prieſts, nor would there be Room for all; and [to] may be included in Verbs of Motion.

Ib. cry to the Lord] In Jerome's Verſion intituled from the Heb. is this Addition, Clamate, inquit, ad Dominum in cordibus veſtris, & dicite; Cry, ſays he, to the Lord in your Hearts, and ſay; but as no other Tranſ. has it, it is little to be regarded.

Ver. 15. Alas] The ſame Verſ. of Jerome and the com. Lat. have it thrice, and the Sept. with to me after each; becauſe, as Jerome ſays in his Comment, they had ſinned againſt the Trinity; but this muſt be to think above what is written, 1 Cor. iv. 6. ſee Jerome's Works, Tom. 6. in fol. mine being publiſhed by Eraſmus, 1516.

Ver. 19. Fire] æſtus ſolis, the Heat of the Sun, as I think Piſcator beſt expounds it.

to thee; becauſe the Channels of Water dry up, and the Fire conſumes the Paſtures of the Wilderneſs.

CHAP II.

BLOW the Trumpet in Zion, and ſound an Alarm on my holy Mountain: let all the Inhabitants of the Country be moved: for the Day of the Lord is coming, for it draws near;

2. A Day of Darkneſs and Dimneſs, a Day of Clouds and Obſcurity, like one of the Morning ſpread upon the Mountains: there is a People great and ſtrong, the like to which has never been, nor ſhall be again after them to the Years of all Ages.

3. The Fire conſumes before them, and the Flame burns after them: the Country before them is like the Garden of Eden, and behind them a deſolate Wilderneſs; nay there is alſo no eſcaping of them.

4. The Sight of them is like that of Horſes, and juſt like Horſemen do they run:

5. As the Noiſe of Chariots which bound upon the Tops of the Mountains, as the Noiſe of a Flame of Fire that conſumes the Stubble, as of a ſtrong People ſet in order for War.

6. The People are in Anguiſh at their Preſence, all Faces gather Blackneſs.

7. They run like the Powerful, climb up the Wall like Men of War; and go in their reſpective Ways, without turning out of their Paths.

8. Nor do they ſtreighten one another, they go in their ſeveral Roads; and falling by the Dart, are not wounded.

9. They run to and fro in the City, run on the Wall, climb up the Houſes, enter through the Windows like a Thief.

10. The Earth is moved before them, the Heaven ſhakes, the Sun and Moon are gloomy, and the Stars withdraw their Brightneſs.

11. Nay the Lord utters his Voice before his Army, as his Camp is very large, as he is ſtrong to accompliſh his Word: for the Day of the Lord is great, and very terrible; who then can bear it?

12. So even now, ſays the Lord, return to me with your whole Heart, with Faſting, Weeping, and Lamentation.

13. And rend your Heart inſtead of your Garments, and return to the Lord your God: for he is gracious and merciful, forbearing of Anger, and of large Kindneſs, and being ſorry for Harm.

14. Who knows but he may return, be ſorry, and leave a Bleſſing behind him, a Meat-offering and Drink-offering for the Lord your God?

15. Blow the Trumpet in Zion, ſanctify a Faſt, call a ſolemn Day:

16. Gather the People, ſanctify the Congregation, bring together the Elders, gather the Children and ſuch as ſuck the Breaſts; let the Bridegroom come out of his Cloſet, and the Bride out of her Marriage-chamber.

17. Let the Prieſts, the Miniſters of the Lord, weep between the Porch and the Altar, and pray; Have compaſſion upon thy People, O Lord, and do not deliver thy Poſſeſſion to Reproach, for the Nations to rule over them: why ſhould they taunt among the People, Where is their God?

18. Then will the Lord be zealous for his Country, and ſpare his People.

19. To whom he will make anſwer thus: Behold I will ſend you Corn, Wine and Oil, ſo that you ſhall be ſatisfied with it; and will no more make you a Reproach among the Nations.

20. And I will remove the northern Army far from you, driving it away to a dry and deſolate Country, with its Face to the eaſt Sea, and its End to the hindermoſt Sea; and the Stink of it ſhall go up, as ſhall its Stench, though it acts in a great Manner.

21. Do not fear, O Ground, rejoice, and be glad; for the Lord will act in a great Manner.

22. Fear not, you Beaſts of the Field: for the Paſtures of the Wilderneſs will ſprout forth; for the Tree will bear its Fruit, the Fig-tree and Vine yield their Strength.

23. You Sons of Zion, therefore rejoice, and be glad through the Lord your God: for he will give you the former Rain ſuitably; and will cauſe the Shower to come

---

Ver. 2. like one of the Morning] ſo certainly coming, and near approaching, according to Ver. 1. with no Reſpect to Darkneſs, &c. tho' Jun. and Trem. have ventured to tranſlate, without diſtinguiſhing the Words, ut nubes auroræ, as the clouds of the morning. And bewildered without the Correction here, Ab. Ezra and Kimhi expound it to be ſuddenly, Grot. largely; while Caſt. and the Biſhops quite diſjoin theſe, and notwithſtanding the Heb. Diviſion, unite this to the following: which to mention, may be ſufficient to refute; yet allowing that an Attempt at ſome Senſe, may be more commendable than no Attempt at any, as with others.

Ver. 8. by the Dart] the Thorns of the Buſhes which are ſlippery throwing them down. It does not appear that this Particle ever ſignifies upon, and if the Inſects had fallen ſo, they might have been wounded.

Ver. 14. a Meat-offering] by giving Plenty.

Ver. 20. though] according to Lowth's Obſervation, and the Senſe of the Paſſage.

Ver. 23. ſuitably] Heb. to Juſtice, or juſtly, what is ſuitable or fit for the Ground.

Ib. at firſt] at the Beginning of the Seaſon for each Rain, as Caſt. elegantly renders it in primis; which could not be both in the firſt month, nor is there month in the Original: Jun. and Trem. add tempore, Time; others tranſlate as at the Beginning.

down

down for you, the former and latter Rain at firſt.

24. And the Floors ſhall be full of Wheat, the Preſſes too ſhall overflow with Wine and Oil.

25. I will further render to you the Years, which the Locuſt, Canker-worm, and Caterpiller, and Palmer-worm has eat, my great Army that I ſent among you.

26. Thus ſhall you eat ſtill, and be ſatisfied, praiſing the Name of the Lord your God, who deals wonderfully with you; and my People ſhall never be aſhamed.

27. You will then know that I am within Iſrael, and am the Lord your God, there being none elſe; and my People ſhall never be aſhamed.

28. And after that I will pour out my Spirit upon all Fleſh, and your Sons and Daughters ſhall propheſy, your old Men dream Dreams, your young Men ſee Viſions.

29. And alſo upon the Servant-men and Maids, will I pour out my Spirit in thoſe Days.

30. Beſides I will put ſtrange Sights in the Heaven and on the Earth; Blood, and Fire, and Pillars of Smoak.

31. The Sun ſhall be turned into Darkneſs, and the Moon into Blood, before the great and terrible Day of the Lord comes.

32. And every one who calls on the Name of the Lord ſhall be delivered: for on Mount Zion, and in Jeruſalem there ſhall be Deliverance, as the Lord has ſaid, and among thoſe that remain whom the Lord will call.

CHAP. III.

FOR behold in thoſe Days, and at that Time, in which I ſhall turn back the Captivity of Judah and Jeruſalem;

2. I will alſo gather together all Nations, and bringing them down to the Valley of Jehoſhaphat, will come to Judgment with them there, for my People and my Poſſeſſion Iſrael, whom they have ſcattered among the Nations, and divided my Country:

3. Having caſt Lots for my People, given a Boy for a Whore, and ſold a Girl for Wine, that they might drink.

4. And what have you alſo to do with me, O Tyre, Zidon, and all the Borders of Philiſtia? Will you render a Recompence to me? For if you recompenſe me, I will ſwiftly, ſpeedily cauſe your Recompence to return on your own Head:

5. Who have taken my Silver and Gold, and carried my good pleaſant Things to your Temples.

6. Have further ſold the Poſterity of Judah and thoſe of Jeruſalem to the Grecians, that you might remove them far off from their own Bounds.

7. Behold I will ſtir them up from the Place whither you have ſold them; and will cauſe your Recompence to return on your own Head.

8. And I will ſell your Sons and Daughters into the Hand of the Poſterity of Judah, who ſhall ſell them to the Shebäites, a People far off: for the Lord has ſpoken it.

9. Proclaim this among the Nations, prepare the War; ſtir up the ſtrong ones, let all the Warriors approach, let them come up.

10. Beat your Spades into Swords, and your Pruning-hooks into Spears: let the Weak ſay, I am ſtrong.

11. Aſſemble, and come on every Side, all Nations, and be gathered together: cauſe thy ſtrong ones, O Lord, to come down thither.

12. Let the Nations be ſtirred up, and aſcend to the Valley of Jehoſhaphat: for there will I ſit to judge all the Nations on every Side.

13. Put forth the Sickle, for the Harveſt is ripe: come, get down, for the Winepreſs is full, the Preſſes overflow, becauſe their Wickedneſs is great.

14. Multitudes, Multitudes will be in the Valley of Determination: for the Day of the Lord is near in the Valley of Determination.

15. The Sun and Moon will be gloomy, and the Stars withdraw their Brightneſs.

16. Nay the Lord will roar from Zion, and utter his Voice from Jeruſalem, ſo that the Heaven and Earth ſhall ſhake; but the Lord will be the Refuge of his People, and the Strength of the Iſraelites.

17. So you ſhall know that I am the Lord your God, who dwell on Zion my holy Mountain; and Jeruſalem ſhall be holy, and Strangers paſs through it no more.

Ver. 25. Army] which is here plainly told to be theſe Inſects: but Grot. expounds them to denote four Kings of Aſſyria; what will not ſome learned Men do, to diſtinguiſh themſelves by being ſingular?

Ver. 26. ſtill] for ſo the Verb being doubled as here ſignifies, Buxt. Theſ. Gram. Lib. ii. Cap. 16. Reg. 2. and if tranſpoſed might have been plentifully: ſo Trem. and Jun. have indeſinenter.

Ver. 2. Valley of Jehoſhaphat] lying along on the eaſt Side of the City of Jeruſalem, where God would judge them from Mount Zion, Ver. 12, 16.

Ver. 8. ſell] 'This might probably come to paſs, when 'Alexander, after the taking of Tyre, ſold thirty thouſand 'of the Inhabitants for Slaves,' Lowth.

Ver. 14. Determination] agreeable to Ver. 2, 12.

Ver. 16. Refuge] not hope, unleſs from the old Latin.

18. At which Time the Mountains ſhall drop new Wine, and the Hills run with Milk, as all the Channels of Judah ſhall with Water; and a Fountain ſhall come out of the Lord's Houſe, which ſhall water the Valley of Shittim.

19. Egypt ſhall become deſolate, and Edom be a deſolate Wilderneſs; for the Violence to the Poſterity of Judah, in whoſe Country they have ſhed innocent Blood.

20. Whereas Judah ſhall abide for ever, and Jeruſalem to all Ages.

21. Moreover I will cleanſe their Blood that I have not cleanſed; and the Lord will dwell in Zion.

Ver. 18. drop new Wine, and &c.] Well expounded by Sir John Floyer, bring forth many Vines, and the Hills be fruitful Paſtures, Sibylline Oracles tranſlated, p. 317.

Ver. 19. whoſe] for which there is regularly the Heb. Relative and Prepoſition, in the Manner of that Tongue; and ſo Jun. and Trem. who underſtood it better than moſt other Tranſlators, have quorum.

NOTES upon the BOOK of AMOS.

CHAP. I.

THE Words of Amos, who was among the Sheep-men of Tekoa, which he ſaw concerning Iſrael in the Time of Uzziah King of Judah, and in that of Jeroboam the Son of Joaſh, King of Iſrael, two Years before the Earthquake;

2. Who ſaid, The Lord will roar from Zion, and utter his Voice from Jeruſalem; ſo that the Paſtures of the Shepherds ſhall mourn, and the Head of the arable Land dry up.

3. Thus ſays the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reaſon of three Tranſgreſſions of Damaſcus, nay four, becauſe of their threſhing Gilead with Threſhing-inſtruments of Iron.

4. But I will ſend a Fire on the Houſe of Hazael, which ſhall conſume the Palaces of Ben-hadad.

5. And I will break the Bar of Damaſcus, and cut off the Inhabitant from the Vale of Aven, with him who holds the Scepter from the Houſe of Eden; and the People of Syria ſhall be carried away to Kir, ſays the Lord.

6. Thus ſays the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reaſon of three Tranſgreſſions of Gaza, nay four, becauſe of their carrying away the whole Captivity, to deliver up to Edom.

7. But I will ſend a Fire on the Wall of Gaza, which ſhall conſume the Palaces of it.

8. And I will cut off the Inhabitant from Aſhdod, with him who holds the Scepter from Aſhkelon; as alſo turn back my Hand againſt Ekron, and the Reſidue of the Philiſtines ſhall periſh, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

9. Thus ſays the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reaſon of three Tranſgreſſions of Tyre, nay four, becauſe of their delivering up the whole Captivity to Edom, and not remembring the Covenant of Brothers.

10. But I will ſend a Fire on the Wall of Tyre, which ſhall conſume the Palaces of it.

11. Thus ſays the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reaſon of three Tranſgreſſions of Edom, nay four, becauſe of his purſuing his Brother with the Sword, ſo that he loſt his Compaſſions, did tear in his Anger for ever, and kept his Wrath perpetually.

12. But I will ſend a Fire on Teman, which ſhall conſume the Palaces of Bozrah.

Ver. 1. Tekoa] ſituate on the north Side of a Hill, about nine Miles ſouthward of Bethlehem, Maundr. Journ.

Ib. two Years before the Earthquake] Sept. and Vulg. before the two Years of the Earthquake, which the Heb. confutes.

Ib. Earthquake] ſpoken of long after, Zech. xiv. 5. and which Joſephus ſays was when Uzziah was ſtriken with the Leproſy, Antiq. Lib. ix. 12. but could not be, as this was in Jeroboam's Time, and Jotham then ruled for Uzziah, 2 Chron. xxvi. 21. 2 King. xv. 5. ſince he was but in his 25th Year when he began reigning, 2 Chron. xxvii. 1. 2 King. xv. 33. and ſo Jeroboam was dead 14 Years before Jotham was born, as by the Chron. Table; ſee Univ. Hiſt. B. I. vii. 7.

Ver. 3. not turn it away] the Judgment and Deſtruction denounced in general, Ver. 2.

Ib. by reaſon of] The Particle For in the com. Tranſ. makes the Senſe obſcure and doubtful.

Ib. four] By the Uſe of the ſame Prepoſition עַל repeated, and by the whole Compaſs of the Context, it appears to me the Meaning is, that the Wickedneſs here mentioned was as great as three or four Tranſgreſſions.

Ib. threſhing Gilead] See 2 King. viii. 12. & x. 32, 33. & xiii. 3, 7.

Ver. 5. Eden] there being in Mount Libanus a Place called Eden to this Day, Maund.

Ib. Kir] as exactly fulfilled, 2 King. xvi. 9.

Ver. 6. carrying] See 2 Chron. xxi. 16, 17. Joel iii. 4, 5, 6. Lowth alſo cites 2 Chron. xxviii. 18. but that was after the Time of the Prophecy.

Ib. Edom] See Ver. 11. 2 Chron. xxi. 10.

Ver. 7. ſend] This ſeems to be accompliſhed at the Time mentioned in 2 King. xviii. 8. as likewiſe foretold Iſa. xiv. 29. though it might be more fully afterwards, at the other diſtinct Times ſpoken of Jer. xlvii. Ezek. xxv. 16, 17. (ſee alſo the Note on Jer. xxv. 20.) as it is here ſaid they ſhould periſh.

Ver. 8. Reſidue] thoſe who had in the former Part of Uzziah's Reign eſcaped the Slaughter he made among them, 2 Chron. xxvi. 6.

Ver. 9. Covenant] See 1 King. v. 1, 12. & ix. 11, 13.

Ver. 10. ſend] The fulfilling of this is omitted by all the Commentators I have now conſulted, but according to the Annals of Menander in Joſephus, Antiq. Lib. ix. 14. and againſt Apion, Lib. i. Shalmaneſer King of Aſſyria made war upon Elalæus King of Tyre, at which Time not only the other Towns revolted from the Tyrians, but the City Tyre it ſelf was beſieged five Years, though by Shalmaneſer's dying not taken then: however this Prophecy might then be literally fulfilled on the Wall, and Palaces at the Outſide of the City, or Fire here might metaphorically ſignify any deſtroying. Other Calamities of Tyre being much longer after the Time it was propheſied, cannot lay ſo proper a Claim to it.

Ver. 11. purſuing] See Joel iii. 19.

Ib. in his Anger] Ablatively, according as it ſtands in the Heb. and as the Senſe demands: for it muſt be he himſelf that did tear, not his anger, much leſs was it that which kept; but ſome Printers have helped out the Tranſlators, by putting in [he] to the latter.

Ver. 12. ſend] Iſa. xxxiv. 6. and the Note on Chap. xx. 1. A latter Deſtruction is more unlikly to belong to this Prophecy.

13. Thus ſays the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reaſon of three Tranſgreſſions of the Ammonites, nay four, becauſe of their cutting up the Women of Gilead with Child, that it might enlarge their Bounds.

14. But I will kindle a Fire on the Wall of Rabbah, which ſhall conſume the Palaces of it, with a Noiſe on the Day of Battle, with a Tempeſt on the Day of the Whirlwind.

15. And their King himſelf ſhall go into Captivity, with his Princes together, ſays the Lord.

CHAP. II.

THUS ſays the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reaſon of three Tranſgreſſions of Moab, nay four, becauſe of his burning the Bones of the King of Edom to Lime.

2. But I will ſend a Fire on Moab, which ſhall conſume the Palaces of Kerioth; and Moab ſhall die with a Tumult, with a Noiſe, with the Sound of a Trumpet.

3. I will alſo cut off the Judge from within it, and ſlay all its Princes with him, ſays the Lord.

4. Thus ſays the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reaſon of three Tranſgreſſions of of Judah, nay four, becauſe of their deſpiſing the Law of the Lord, ſo that they do not keep his Ordinances; but their Lyes cauſe them to go aſtray, after which their Fathers went.

5. But I will ſend a Fire on Judah, which ſhall conſume the Palaces of Jeruſalem.

6. Thus ſays the Lord; I will not turn it away, by reaſon of three Tranſgreſſions of Iſrael, nay four, becauſe of their ſelling the Righteous for Money, and the Needy for the ſake of a Pair of Shoes.

7. They pant for the Duſt of the Earth on the Head of the Poor, and turn aſide the Way of the Meek; a Man and his Father alſo go to a Maid, to profane my holy Name.

8. And upon Garments pawned they lean down by every Altar, and drink the Wine of thoſe who are puniſhed at the Houſe of their God.

9. Though I deſtroyed the Amorite from their Preſence, whoſe Height was like that of the Cedars, and he was ſtrong like the Oaks; yet I deſtroyed his Fruit from above, and his Roots from below.

10. And I brought you up from the Country of Egypt, cauſing you to go in the Wilderneſs forty Years, to inherit the Country of the Amorite.

11. Beſides I raiſed up ſome of your Sons for Prophets, and of your young Men for Nazirites: was not this alſo, O Iſraelites? ſays the Lord.

12. But you made the Nazirites drink Wine; and commanded the Prophets, that they ſhould not propheſy.

13. Behold I am preſſed under you, as a Cart is that is full of Sheaves.

14. Therefore ſhall Flight periſh from the Swift, the Strong ſhall not have much Strength, nor the Powerful deliver himſelf.

15. He alſo that takes hold of the Bow ſhall not ſtand, nor one that is ſwift of his Feet eſcape, nor ſhall he who rides a Horſe deliver himſelf.

16. And the ſtout-hearted one among the Powerful ſhall flee away naked on that Day, ſays the Lord.

Ver. 13. Women] This ſeems to have been done at the Time the Syrians exerciſed their Cruelties on the ſame Place, Ver. 3. either jointly or ſeparately.

Ver. 14. kindle] The Performance of this may be referred to 2 Chron. xxvii. 5. but that of going into Captivity to the Conqueſt of Nebuchadnezzar, as Ezek. xxv. 7. Zeph. ii. 9.

Ver. 1. King] Uſher in his Annals, at the Year of the Jul. Per. 3819. ſays, the King of Moab took the King of Edom's Son Priſoner in the War related 2 King. iii. and offered him for a whole Burnt-offering, and that this was meant here. But I muſt diſſent from him, and any others of that Opinion: for, 1. The King's Son was not the King, nor being ſo ſlain was ever a King. 2. If the Son of the King of Edom had been killed by the Moabites, it muſt have exaſperated the Allies the more to take revenge, inſtead of making them ceaſe from the Slaughter, as we find was the Caſe, 2 King. iii. 27. 3. The King of Edom being then but a Deputy or Lord Lieutenant appointed by the King of Judah, 1 King. xxii. 47. the Country of Edom having been ſubdued by David, 2 Sam. viii. 14. 1 King. xi. 15, 16, 17. it did not belong to his Son to reign after his Father, as is ſaid of him that was offered up. 4. By ſaying Bones here, it ſeems to have been a dead Perſon, who was taken out of his Grave and burnt, the Effect of great Malice and Cruelty. 5. This Prophecy, Chap. i. 1. being about a hundred Years after that Act of the King of Moab, beſides the future Time for fulfilling it, makes it improbable that the King who committed the other Fact, lived ſo long to be puniſhed. Of my Opinion may be ſeen the learned and ſkilful Commentators Grotius, Mercer, and Piſcator, as likewiſe Joſephus.

Ib. to Lime] probably to build Something with, an abominable, proud, and inhuman Action; not ſuitable to what the King of Moab did.

Ver. 2. ſend] This was probably done a little before the Overthrow of the Kingdom of Iſrael by the Aſſyrians, as obſerved on Iſa. xvi. 14.

Ver. 5. Fire] the Completion of which ſee 2 Chron. xxxvi. 19.

Ver. 7. Duſt] Money, as in the foregoing Verſe.

Ib. on] or for, by ſelling him, as juſt before. What wide and weak Things have been advanced for the Meaning of this Expreſſion, which admits of ſuch a natural and agreeable Senſe!

Ver. 8. Garments pawned] which were not to be detained, Exod. xxii. 26.

Ib. lean down] with one Elbow on that which was ſpread under, as the eaſtern Poſture was at Feaſts, Godwin's Moſes and Aaron, Lib. iii. 2. But lay down, which the Heb. Word does not ſignify, intimates another Meaning.

CHAP.

CHAP. III.

HEAR this following Expreſſion which the Lord ſpeaks againſt you, O Iſraelites, againſt all the Family that I brought up from the Country of Egypt;

2. I knew you only of all the Families of the Ground; therefore will I puniſh you for all your Iniquities.

3. Can two walk together, except they come together?

4. Does a Lion roar in the Wood, when there is no Prey for him? Does a young Lion utter his Voice from his Den, except he has caught?

5. Can a Bird fall in a Gin of the Earth, when there is no Snare for it? Will one take up a Gin from the Ground, when he has not caught at all?

6. Will a Trumpet be ſounded in the City, and the People not be afraid? Will there be Harm in the City, and the Lord not do it?

7. For the Sovereign Lord will not do a Thing, without revealing his Secret to his Servants the Prophets.

8. A Lion roaring, who will not fear? The Sovereign Lord ſpeaking, who will not propheſy?

9. Publiſh at the Palaces in Aſhdod, and at thoſe in the Country of Egypt, as follows, Get together upon the Mountains of Samaria, and ſee the great Vexations within it, and the Oppreſſed in the midſt of it.

10. For they know not how to do Right, ſays the Lord, treaſuring up Violence and Waſting in their Palaces.

11. Therefore thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, There ſhall be an Adverſary even round about the Country, who ſhall bring down thy Strength from thee, and thy Palaces ſhall be plundered.

12. Thus ſays the Lord, As a Shepherd delivers out of the Mouth of a Lion two Legs, or a Piece of an Ear; ſo ſhall the Iſraelites who dwell at Samaria be delivered in the Corner of a Bed, and in the Nook of a Couch.

13. Hear you, and teſtify among the Family of Jacob, ſays the Sovereign Lord God of Armies,

14. That at the Time I ſhall bring the Viſitation of Iſrael's Tranſgreſſions upon him, I will alſo bring a Viſitation upon the Altars of Beth-el, ſo that the Horns of the Altar ſhall be cut off, and fall to the Earth.

15. And I will ſmite the Winter-houſe with the Summer-houſe; nay the Houſes of Ivory ſhall periſh, and the great Houſes have an end, ſays the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

HEAR this Word, O Heifers of Baſhan, which are on the Mountain of Samaria, that oppreſs the Poor, bruiſe the Needy; who ſay to their Maſters, Bring, that we may drink.

2. The Sovereign Lord has ſworn by his Holineſs, that behold the Days are coming upon you, when he will take you away with Prickles, and your Poſterity with Fiſhing-hooks.

3. And you ſhall go forth at the Breaches, each one at that before her; and ſhall throw away what is at the Palace, ſays the Lord.

4. Come to Beth-el, and revolt at Gilgal, multiply revolting: even bring your Sacrifices in the Morning, your Tithes at the third Year;

5. And burn incenſe of the leavened Bread with Thankſgiving, and proclaim, publiſh

Ver. 3. come together] Their Iniquities having ſeparated them and the Lord; who would therefore juſtly and certainly puniſh them as follows. See this Meaning of יַד in Niph. as here in Bux. Lexic.

Ver. 4. Prey] Thoſe People being become a Prey for the Lord to ſeize on.

Ib. caught] as God would catch them.

Ver. 5. Gin] ſuch as there was put for them, and ſhould not be taken up till they were caught in it.

Ver. 6. Trumpet be ſounded] Denoting the Warning now given by the Prophet.

Ib. Will there be Harm] Will it come by Chance? No.

Ver. 7. For] כִּי is a caſual Conjunction, as the Cauſe or Reaſon here follows, of uſing the Compariſons in the foregoing Verſe.

Ver. 12. the Nook] It is not Damaſcus; but thus interpreted with Ab. Ezra and Dav. Kim. as likewiſe in the Tranſ. of Pagn. and Montan. by Jun. and Trem. crure, in the Manner Pagn. ſhews in Lex. which he explains the Side or Feet: beſides there is no in belonging to Couch, nor was Damaſcus in the Iſraelites Country.

Ver. 13. Lord God of Armies] as Pſa. lxxxix. 8. where the Maſorah numbers 12 ſuch, and 5 others with the Article ה as here, among which are Ch. v. 14, 15, 16, 27. & vi. 8.

Ver. 1. Heifers] the inferior Magiſtrates and Officers, who pampered themſelves like thoſe Heifers. The Heb. Verbs muſt be feminine becauſe the Word for Heifers is, and does not ſeem to intend Women as has been imagined; which the other Words Maſters and drink confirm, and you twice maſc. in the next Ver.

Ib. Bring] to us the Orders for Oppreſſion.

Ver. 3. Breaches] at thoſe in the Wall of the City, in order that you may eſcape, as Heifers go out at the Gaps in the Hedges.

Ib. throw away] that the Enemy might not have it, which might be done into the Water, or Holes dug in the Earth. So Jun. and Trem. tranſlate, abjicietis quæ erunt in palatio. The Commentators omit explaining it as in the Eng. Text, probably not without Reaſon. And הַ being local, as the Accent ſhews, better denotes at than into.

Ib. at the Palace] Theodotion, on the Mountain of Mona, as if the Heb. Word was parted in two, as likewiſe for the latter Symmach. and the Chald. Paraph. have Armenia.

Ver. 4. third Year] according to Deut. xiv. 28. & xxvi. 12.

the Free-offerings: for ſo you have loved, O Iſraelites, ſays the Sovereign Lord.

6. Therefore have I alſo given you Cleanneſs of Teeth in all your Cities, and Want of Bread in all your Places; yet you have not returned to me, ſays the Lord.

7. And I have alſo with-held from you the Shower, when it was yet three Months to Harveſt; and though I cauſed it to rain upon one City, I did not upon another: it rained on one Part, and the Part upon which it did not rain dried up.

8. Inſomuch that two or three Cities wandered to one City to drink Water, and were not ſatisfied; yet you have not returned to me, ſays the Lord.

9. I have ſmitten you with Blaſting and Blight: your Gardens, Vineyards, Fig-trees, and Olive-trees that were multiplied, the Palmer-worm conſumed; yet you have not returned to me, ſays the Lord.

10. I have ſent among you the Murrain in the Manner of Egypt, have ſlain your young Men by the Sword, with the Captivity of your Horſes, and cauſed the Stink of your Camps to go up, even into your Noſe; yet you have not returned to me, ſays the Lord.

11. I have overthrown ſome among you like God's Overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, and you have been as a Firebrand reſcued out of the Burning; yet you have not returned to me, ſays the Lord.

12. Therefore I do thus to thee, Iſrael: becauſe I do this to thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Iſrael.

13. For behold he that formed the Mountains, created the Wind, who declares to Man what his Mind is, makes the Morning Obſcurity, and treads upon the high Places of the Earth, the Lord God of Armies is his Name.

CHAP. V.

HEAR this Word, the Lamentation which I bear concerning you, O Family of Iſrael.

2. The Virgin of Iſrael will fall down, without riſing up: ſhe will be forſaken in her Country, none raiſing her up.

3. For thus ſays the Sovereign Lord, The City that went forth a thouſand ſhall leave a hundred, and that which went forth a hundred ſhall leave ten to the Family of Iſrael.

4. Yet thus ſays the Lord to the Family of Iſrael; Seek me, and live.

5. But you ſhall not ſeek Beth-el, nor go to Gilgal, nor paſs to Beer-ſheba: for Gilgal ſhall be quite carried away, and Beth-el become Vanity.

6. Seek the Lord, and live; leſt he ſhould have ſucceſs as Fire in the Family of Joſeph, and conſume, and there be none who quenches at Beth-el;

7. You that turn Judgment to Wormwood, and leave off Righteouſneſs on the Earth:

8. Him who made the ſeven Stars and Orion, as alſo turns the Shadow of Death into Morning, and cauſes the Day to be dark with Night, that calls the Waters of the Sea, and pours them out upon the Surface of the Earth, whoſe Name is the Lord:

9. Who takes refreſhment with Waſting againſt the Strong, when Waſting comes againſt the Fortification.

10. They hate him that reproves at the Gate, and abhor him who ſpeaks with Integrity.

11. Therefore becauſe you tread upon the Poor, and take a Burden of Wheat from him; though you build Houſes of hewn Stone, you ſhall not dwell in them; though you plant pleaſant Vineyards, you ſhall not drink the Wine of them.

12. For I know your great Tranſgreſſions, and your numerous Sins; diſtreſſing the Righteous, taking a Fee, for them to turn away the Needy at the Gate.

13. The underſtanding one will therefore be ſilent at that Time, for it will be an evil Time.

14. Seek Good, and not Evil, that ye may live; and it will be ſo, the Lord of Armies will be with you, as ye ſay.

Ver. 7. dried up] for Ground does not wither.

Ver. 10. Murrain] Exod. ix. 3. where it is the ſame Heb. Word, and ſee on Exod. ix. 15.

Ver. 11. overthrown]

I have o're-throwen ſome of you
As God Gomorrah overthrew,
Barton, Hymn 253.

not to ſay overthrown have perhaps, though there was ſtrange Tranſpoſition in his Time, as on the Pſalms.

Ver. 13. Mountains] Septuag. Thunder, theſe Words having ſome Reſemblance in the Heb.

Ib. what his Mind is] For this the foreſaid Gr. Interpreters have his Chriſt, taking the two Words מה שיחו as if משיח ו

Ver. 5. Vanity] as Piſcator has it in Schol. Hebr. vanitatem, Grot. in vanum.

Ver. 9. takes refreſhment] or according to the com. Tranſ. comfort, Job x. 20. & ix. 27. Jer. viii. 18. the Word having no other but ſuch a Meaning in Buxtorf's Lexicon, nor even in Caſtellus's. So Jun. and Trem. tranſlate, Qui recreat ſe vaſtatione, Who refreſhes himſelf with Waſting; as God doubtleſs does in puniſhing the Wicked, and ſo reſtraining them from their Wickedneſs.

Ib. with Waſting] here being no Sign of the Accuſative Caſe, or Object of the Verb; neither is it a Participle, but a Noun; nor does it any where ſignify ſpoiled, or paſſively.

Ver. 14. ſay] now falſely ſay he is, while you are ſo wicked.

15. Hate

15. Hate Evil, and love Good, and ſet up Judgment at the Gate: perhaps the Lord God of Armies will be gracious to the Reſidue of Joſeph.

16. Therefore thus ſays the Lord God of Armies, the Lord; There ſhall be Lamentation in all the Streets, and they ſhall ſay in all the Courts, Alas, alas! as alſo call the Huſbandman to Mourning, and Lamentation for thoſe who know Bewailing.

17. And there ſhall be Lamentation in all the Vineyards; for I will paſs through the midſt of thee, ſays the Lord.

18. Alas to thoſe who deſire the Day of the Lord: why would you have this? The Day of the Lord that will be Darkneſs, and not Light:

19. As if a Man fled from the Face of a Lion, and a Bear met him; or got into a Houſe, and leaning his Hand upon the Wall, a Serpent bit him.

20. Will not the Day of the Lord be Darkneſs, and not Light; and dim, having no Brightneſs?

21. I hate, I deſpiſe your Feaſts; and will not ſmell in your ſolemn Days.

22. Nay if you offer to me Burnt-offerings, and your Oblations, I will not accept; nor will I look on the Peace-offerings of your fat Beaſts.

23. Put away from me the Noiſe of thy Songs; and let me not hear the Melody of thy Lutes.

24. But let Judgment roll like Waters, and Righteouſneſs like a ſtrong Flood.

25. Did you bring Sacrifices and Oblation to me, in the Wilderneſs for forty Years, O Family of Iſrael?

26. Whereas you carried the Tabernacle of your Moloch, with Chiun, your Similitudes, the Star of your god which ye made you.

27. So I will take you away beyond Damaſcus, ſays the Lord, whoſe Name is the God of Armies.

CHAP. VI.

WO be to thoſe who are at eaſe in Zion, and who truſt in the Mountain of Samaria, that are expreſſed to be the chief of the Nations, to which the Family of Iſrael are come;

2. (Paſs to Calneh, and ſee, and go from thence to great Hamath, and go down to Gath of the Philiſtines; are they better than theſe Kingdoms? Are their Bounds larger than yours?)

3. Who drive off the ill Time, and you that bring the Seat of Violence nigh;

4. Who lie upon Beds of Ivory, and abound upon their Couches, eating Lambs from the Flock, and Calves from within the Stall;

5. Who chant to the Sound of the Lute, thoſe that contrive them Inſtruments of Muſick like David;

6. Who drink in Bowls of Wine, and anoint with the chief Ointments, but Nothing ails them for the Breach of Joſeph.

7. Therefore now they ſhall be carried away at the Beginning of ſuch as are carried away, and the Funeral-banquet of thoſe that abound ſhall depart.

8. The Sovereign Lord ſwears by himſelf, ſays the Lord God of Armies; I abhor the Excellency of Jacob, and hate his Palaces: ſo I will deliver up the City, and the Multitude of it.

9. Moreover if ten Men are left in one Houſe, they ſhall die.

10. And when his Beloved, or he that burns him, taking him up to bring the Bones out of the Houſe, aſks him who is at the

Ver. 16. Lamentation for] This being the Order of the Heb. and for or to after Lamentation; not before, as in our com. Tranſ.

Ver. 19. got into a Houſe] from a Lion, as before.

Ver. 22. Nay if] by Nold. the nice Diſtinguiſher of thoſe Particles, and according as in Prov. ii. 3.

Ver. 23. let me] which the foregoing ſhews; the Heb. being either this, or I will, and as the following might be Judgment ſhall.

Ver. 25. to me] They minded the Service of the falſe gods more than of the true one; whom indeed they could not ſerve, nor would their Service be received as ſuch, while they were Idolaters, Joſh. xxiv. 19. Mat. vi. 24.

Ver. 26. with] For Tabernacle does not belong to Chiun, as the Heb. Article here, and the Gr. in Act. vii. 43. ſhew.

Ib. Similitudes] the Figure of a Star being not ſo properly an Image, and the Gr. Word much rather ſignifying this.

Ver. 1. that are] Caſtal. with Jun. and Trem. have qui montes, which Mountains; the capital Cities of Iſrael and Judah being built on them: ſo Kimhi explains it.

Ver. 2. Hamath] as Num. xiii. 21. 2 King. xvii. 24. Iſa. xxxvii. 13. Jer. xxxix. 5. and elſewhere; for it is not Hemath.

Ib. Are their] On which Grotius comments, An latius illi poſſident? non ſane, cur ergo ingrati eſtis in eum, qui plura vobis, quam vicinis dedit? Have they larger Poſſeſſion? No ſurely. Why then are you ungrateful to him, who has given you more than your Neighbours? And Mercer to the ſame Purpoſe. The Judgment of which two may be counted of more Authority, than that of all who are for a contrary Meaning. Beſides that requires not to be added, Is not &c.

Ver. 4. abound] which the Word ſignifies, and never to ſtretch themſelves.

Ver. 6. in Bowls of Wine] So the Hebr. is.

Ver. 7. Funeral-banquet] See Bux. Lex. and obſerve why that ſhould depart, becauſe the People would not die there.

Ver. 9. die] probably by the Peſtilence, for which reaſon the Bodies might be burnt as in the next Verſe.

Ver. 10. Beloved] which uſual Signification it ſeems rather to have here, than uncle.

Ib. burns] See alſo 2 Chr. xxi. 19.

Ib. and will ſay] hoc amplius, this further, Grotius.

Sides of the Houſe, Is there any more with thee? He will anſwer, None; and will ſay, Keep ſilence, becauſe the Name of the Lord is not to be mentioned.

11. For behold the Lord will command, that the great Houſe ſhall be ſtruck to Pieces, and the little Houſe to Ruptures.

12. Will Horſes run on the Rock? Shall one plough it with Oxen? For you turn Judgment into Hemlock, and the Fruit of Righteouſneſs into Wormwood:

13. Who are glad for what is Nothing; that ſay, Have we not taken us Horns by our Strength?

14. For behold I will raiſe up a Nation againſt you, O Family of Iſrael, ſays the Lord God of Armies; and they ſhall oppreſs you, from the entering of Hamath to the River of the Deſart.

CHAP. VII.

THUS the Sovereign Lord ſhewed me plainly that he formed Graſhoppers in the Beginning of the coming up of the latter Graſs, which behold was that after the King's Mowings.

2. And when they had finiſhed eating the Herb of the Earth, I ſaid, O Sovereign Lord, forgive, I beſeech thee; who will riſe up for Jacob? For he is little.

3. The Lord was ſorry for this: it ſhall not be, ſaid the Lord.

4. Thus the Sovereign Lord ſhewed me plainly, that he himſelf proclaimed to contend by Fire, that it might conſume the great Deep, and it conſumed a Part.

5. Whereupon I ſaid, O Sovereign Lord, leave off, I beſeech thee; who will riſe up for Jacob? For he is little.

6. The Lord was ſorry for this: it alſo ſhall not be, ſaid the Sovereign Lord.

7. Thus he ſhewed me plainly, that the Lord ſtood upon a Wall of a Plumb-line, having a Plumb-line in his Hand.

8. And the Lord ſaid to me, What doſt thou ſee, Amos? And upon my anſwering, A Plumb-line; he replied, Behold I will put a Plumb-line within my People Iſrael, I will paſs to them again no more.

9. The Chapels alſo of Iſaac ſhall be deſolate, and the Sanctuaries of Iſrael waſted; and I will riſe up againſt the Family of Jeroboam with the Sword.

10. And Amaziah the Prieſt of Beth-el ſent Word to Jeroboam King of Iſrael; Amos has conſpired againſt thee within the Family of Iſrael, the Country is not able to bear with all his Words.

11. For thus ſays Amos, Jeroboam ſhall die by the Sword, and Iſrael be wholly carried captive from his own Country.

12. Beſides Amaziah ſaid to Amos; Seer, go, flee thou to the Country of Judah; and eat Victuals there, and there propheſy.

13. And propheſy again no more at Beth-el: for it is the Sanctuary of the King, and it is the royal Houſe.

14. But Amos made anſwer to him: I was not a Prophet, nor was I a Prophet's Son; for I was a Herdman, and a Searcher out of Sycomores.

15. And the Lord taking me from after the Flock, ſaid himſelf to me, Go, propheſy to my People Iſrael.

16. So now hear the Lord's Commiſſion; Thou ſayeſt, Do not propheſy againſt Iſrael, and mention Nothing againſt the Family of Iſaac.

17. Therefore thus ſays the Lord, Thy Wife ſhall commit Fornication in the City, thy Sons and Daughters ſhall fall by the Sword, thy Country be divided by Line, thou ſhalt die in an unclean Country, and Iſrael ſhall be wholly carried captive from his own Country.

Ver. 12. Will] who can work any Good with you?

Ver. 1. Graſhoppers] denoting the firſt Invaſion of the Aſſyrians under Pul their King, 2 King. xv. 19.

Ib. latter Graſs] which may ſignify a latter royal Family begun by Menahem, after the preſent one when Amos propheſied was extinct, Chap. i. 1. 2 King. xv. 8, 10, 12, 13, 14.

Ib. the King's Mowings] In the Lovain Edit. of the Vulgate, tonſorem gregis, the Shearer of the Flock; but Clement has tonſionem regis, the King's Shearing.

Ver. 2. eating] to repreſent the Tax that was gathered to pay the Tribute to Pul, 2 King. xv. 19, 20.

Ver. 3. be] or continue, as the Word may alſo ſignify.

Ver. 4. Deep] Though the Deſtruction of Iſrael were as ſtrange as for the Fire to conſume the Sea, it ſhould be done.

Ib. conſumed a Part] exhibiting the ſecond Invaſion of the Aſſyrians, when Tiglath-pileſer made a real Conqueſt of Part of the Kingdom, 2 King. xv. 29.

Ver. 6. not be] As the Fire did not continue burning, nor ſhould Tiglath-pileſer deſtroying the Country of Iſrael.

Ver. 8. a Plumb-line] to meaſure out, as Ver. 17.

Ver. 14. Sycomores] of which Rauwolff ſays, being at Tripoli in that Country, They bear Fruit not unlike our Fig-trees, only ſweeter, and not ſo good, and are commonly ſold only to the poorer Sort of People, growing in Fields and Grounds; but the Eng. Tranſ. though publiſhed by Ray, is poorly expreſs'd.

Ver. 17. fall by] probably in Shallum's Conſpiracy, or while he reigned, 2 King. xv. 10. as they were Favourites of Jeroboam's Family, whoſe Prieſt Amaziah was, Ver. 10, 13. and whoſe Son Shallum ſlew.

Ib. die in] whither he might flee to ſave his own Life, when his Children were ſlain.

CHAP. VIII.

THUS the Sovereign Lord ſhewed me plainly, that there was a Baſket of Summer-fruit.

2. And he ſaid, What doſt thou ſee, Amos? And upon my anſwering, A Baſket of Summer-fruit; the Lord replied to me, The End is come to my People Iſrael, I will paſs to them again no more.

3. At which Time the Songs of the Temple ſhall be Lamentation, ſays the Sovereign Lord; many dead Bodies in every Place ſhall they caſt out ſilently.

4. Hear this, you who ſwallow up the Needy, even to cauſe the Afflicted of the Country to ceaſe,

5. Saying; When will the New-moon paſs away, that we may ſell Proviſion; the Sabbath, that we may open the Wheat; to make the Ephah little, and the Shekel great, and to pervert the Scales with Deceit,

6. To purchaſe the Poor with Money, and the Needy for a Pair of Shoes, that we may ſell the Refuſe of the Wheat?

7. The Lord ſwears by the Excellency of Jacob, I will never forget any of their Doings.

8. Shall not the Country quake for this, and every Inhabitant in it mourn? Since all of it ſhall heave up as a River; and be driven out, and ſink down like the River of Egypt.

9. And at that Time, ſays the Sovereign Lord, I will cauſe the Sun to ſet at Noon, and make the Country dark in the light Day.

10. I will alſo turn your Feaſts into Mourning, and all your Songs into Lamentation, putting Sackcloth upon all Loins, and Baldneſs upon every Head; I will even make it like the Mourning for an only one, and the End of it as a bitter Day.

11. Behold the Days are coming, ſays the Sovereign Lord, when I will ſend Hunger into the Country; not Hunger for Bread, nor Thirſt for Water, but to hear the Words of the Lord:

12. Inſomuch that they will wander from Sea to Sea, and from the North, even to the Eaſt; will range about to ſeek the Word of the Lord, and not find.

13. At that Time ſhall the fair Virgins and young Men faint for Thirſt.

14. Thoſe who ſwear by the Guilt of Samaria, and ſay, By thy god's living, O Dan, and By the Way of Beerſheba's living; ſhall fall, and riſe up no more.

CHAP. IX.

I SAW the Lord ſtand upon the Altar, and he ſaid; Smite the Ball, that the Threſholds may ſhake, and cut all of them on the Head; and I will ſlay the Remainder of them with the Sword: he who is fleeing away of them ſhall not flee away, nor he that eſcapes of them deliver himſelf.

2. If they dig into Hell, my Hand ſhall take them thence; and if they climb up to Heaven, I will bring them down from thence;

3. Otherwiſe if they hide in the Top of Carmel, I will ſearch, and take them thence; nay if they lurk from before my Eyes in the Bottom of the Sea, from thence will I command the Serpent, that he ſhould bite them;

4. And if they go into Captivity before their Enemies, I will command the Sword from thence, and it ſhall ſlay them: as I will ſet my Eyes upon them for Harm, and not for Good.

5. For the Sovereign Lord of Armies will ſtrike the Country, and it ſhall be diſſolved, and all the Inhabitants in it ſhall mourn; ſince all of it ſhall heave up as a River, and ſink down like the River of Egypt.

Ver. 3. Songs] Gr. Cielings, and old Lat. Hinges ſhall creak; the Author of the latter taking שִׁיר for צִיר and miſtaking the Gender, rather than שִׁירוֹת for צִירִים as Schindler and others have ſuppoſed.

Ver. 8. ſink down] after it has ſwelled up, and been driven out of the Channel; denoting perhaps beſides the literal Deſcription of the Earthquake, Ch. i. 1. the dwindling Condition of the Iſraelites when they ſhould be gone into Captivity, Ch. ix. 4, 5. in which Manner this Verb is rendered, Jer. li. 64. Job xli. 1. nor will it any where bear to be tranſlated drowned, and which is abſurd here, for a flood (as in the com. Tranſ.) to be drowned.

Ib. like the River of Egypt] which uſed to overflow that Country, and then ſink down again.

Ver. 9. Sun] Uſher, Annales ad An. Mun. 3213, refers this to three great Eclipſes of the Sun a few Years after, one at Pentecoſt, another in the Feaſt of Tabernacles, and the other at the Paſſover, according to Ver. 10. which, or moſt ſtrictly the firſt of them, that was in the Year of the Jul. Period 3923, and by my Table that after the Death of Jeroboam 2, being at the Time of the Earthquake; conſequently the Earthquake muſt be at that Time, and ſo this be propheſied the Year before his Death, and the 14th of Uzziah, Chap. i. 1.

Ver. 11. are coming] For what is the Days come beſides obſolete, or rather pedantick?

Ib. Hunger] ſuiting the Context, as may be ſeen, much better than famine.

Ver. 12. Sea] from the Mediterranean to the dead Sea and that of Tiberias, on the Weſt and Eaſt.

Ib. Eaſt] every Way beſides the South where the Temple at Jeruſalem was, whither the Idolaters in the Kingdom of Iſrael would not go.

Ver. 1. the Ball] put probably on the Middle of the Lintel, over the Door, for Ornament; the Word not ſignifying the lintel, and of the door is added by the Tranſlators. The LXX have it ιλαστήριον the Atonement-covering or Mercy-ſeat, reading, as the learned Cocceius obſerves in his Commentary, כפרת inſtead of כפתר through Unſkilfulneſs.

6. It is he builds his Stairs in the Heaven, and founds his Troop on the Earth; who calls the Waters of the Sea, and pours them out upon the Surface of the Earth, the Lord is his Name.

7. Are you not like the Ethiopians to me, O Iſraelites? ſays the Lord: did not I bring up Iſrael from the Country of Egypt, ſo the Philiſtines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?

8. Behold the Eyes of the Sovereign Lord are on the ſinful Kingdom, ſo that I will deſtroy it from the Surface of the Ground; ſave that I will not utterly deſtroy the Family of Jacob, ſays the Lord.

9. For lo I will command, and ſift the Family of Iſrael in all Nations, like the ſifting in a Sieve, when there does not fall a Grain to the Earth.

10. All the Sinners of my People ſhall die by the Sword, who ſay, No Harm will come nigh, nor prevent us.

11. At that Time I will raiſe up the Tabernacle of David which is fallen down; will fence its Breaches, raiſe up his Deſtructions, and build it as in ancient Days:

12. That they may inherit the Remainder of Edom, and of all the Nations who are called by my Name, ſays the Lord, the Doer of this.

13. Behold the Days are coming, ſays the Lord, when the Ploughman ſhall come nigh to the Reaper, and the Treader of Grapes to the Drawer out of the Seed; the Mountains ſhall alſo drop new Wine, and all the Hills be diſſolved.

14. And I will turn back the Captivity of my People Iſrael; who ſhall build the deſolate Cities, and inhabit; nay plant Vineyards, and drink the Wine of them; as likewiſe make Gardens, and eat their Fruit.

15. Thus will I plant them upon their own Land, and they ſhall be plucked up no more from their Land which I gave them, ſays the Lord thy God.

Ver. 7. like] The Drift of this Verſe ſeems to be, that as the Iſraelites were wicked, they had Nothing to claim above other People.

Ib. Ethiopians] as if the worſt Species of Mankind, being Blacks, Jer. xiii. 23. and the Race of curſed Ham.

Ib. Caphtor] See Gen. x. 14.

Ib. Syrians] Lowth remarks Aſſyrians to be a Miſtake of the Print in ſome Eng. Bibles; I do not find it otherwiſe in any now, and for a long while paſt; though to do the Tranſlators Juſtice, it was Syrians at firſt.

Ib. from Kir] This ſeems to be an ancient Affair like the others, not mentioned elſewhere; while the Attempts to explain it by 2 King. xvi. 9. are abſurd.

Ver. 12. they may inherit the Remainder of Edom] the fulfilling of which ſee Obad. 18. But Hammond on Heb. viii. counts the Original was as in the Sept. and Act. xv. 17. the Remainder of Men may ſeek after the Lord, which might be he ſays by light Changes of ר for ד, ת for ל (Letters much unlike) and taking ו out of Edom; whereas who that is impartial can think all theſe fell out together? Nor would it make the Lord then, but God. Spare, O ye Criticks, the ſacred Page, and be not ſo rapacious! James omitted and changed more than this, as you may ſee.

Ver. 13. come nigh] but the Word does not ſignify overtake. The Harveſt and Vintage being early in thoſe Countries, uſed to be over ſooner than is here deſcribed; but ſhould not in thoſe Times, by reaſon of the Plenty of Corn and Fruit, which would ſo much lengthen the Time to get it in.

Ib. be diſſolved] as it were by the Abundance of Wine, which they ſhould produce, and be ſoaked with.

NOTES upon the BOOK of OBADIAH.

THE Viſion of Obadiah. Thus ſays the Sovereign Lord to Edom; We have heard a Report from the Lord, and an Ambaſſador is ſent into the Nations, Get ready, and let us get ready againſt it for War.

2. Behold I make thee ſmall among the Nations; thou art deſpiſed exceedingly.

3. The Pride of thy Heart deceives thee, that dwelleſt in the Clefts of the Rock, whoſe Seat is high; that ſays in his Heart, Who ſhall bring me down to the Ground?

4. If thou ſhouldeſt exalt thy ſelf like an Eagle, and if thou ſhouldeſt make thy Neſt among the Stars, I would bring thee down from thence, ſays the Lord.

5. If Thieves come to thee, if Robbers at Night (how thou art periſhed) would not they ſteal but what was ſufficient for them? If thoſe who gather Grapes come to thee, would not they leave Gleaning-grapes?

6. How are the Things of Eſau ſearched, his hidden Things enquired for?

7. All the Men who are in League with thee ſend thee to the Bounds, the Men that are at Peace with thee deceive thee, prevail againſt thee; thoſe at Meals with thee ſhall make an Ulcer under thee, of which there is no Underſtanding.

8. Will it not be at that Time, ſays the Lord, that I ſhall cauſe the Wiſe to periſh from Edom, and Underſtanding from the Mountain of Eſau?

9. And thy powerful ones ſhall be daunted, O Teman, that each may be cut off from the Mountain of Eſau by killing.

10. For the Violence to thy Brother Jacob Shame ſhall cover thee, and thou ſhalt be cut off for ever.

11. At the Time of thy ſtanding at a Diſtance, at the Time of the Strangers taking his Forces captive, when the Aliens enter his Gates, and caſt the Lot for Jeruſalem, thou alſo art as one of them.

12. But do not look at thy Brother's Time, at that of his Alienation, neither be glad for the Men of Judah at the Time of their periſhing, nor magnify thy Mouth at the Time of Diſtreſs.

13. Enter not into the Gate of my People at the Time of their Calamity, look thou not alſo at his Harm at the Time of his Calamity, nor ſhould the Hands be put out to his Wealth at the Time of his Calamity;

14. And do not thou ſtand at the tearing aſunder to cut off ſuch as eſcape of him, nor deliver up thoſe who remain of him at the Time of Diſtreſs.

15. For the Time of the Lord is near upon all the Nations; according as thou doeſt it ſhall be done to thee, thy Recompence ſhall return on thy own Head.

16. For as you have drunk upon my holy Mountain, ſhall all the Nations drink continually; and not only drink, but ſwallow down, ſo that they ſhall be as if they were not.

17. But there ſhall be eſcaping on Mount Zion, as there ſhall be Holineſs; and the Family of Jacob ſhall inherit their Inheritances.

18. The Family of Jacob will alſo be a Fire, and that of Joſeph a Flame, and the NOTES upon the BOOK of JONAH.

CHAP. I.

NOW Jonah the Son of Amittai had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows,

2. Get ready, go to the great City Nineveh, and proclaim againſt it: for their Wickedneſs is come up before me.

3. On the contrary Jonah got ready, to flee to Tarſhiſh from before the Lord: and going down to Joppa, he found a Ship going to Tarſhiſh; ſo he gave the Hire of it, and went down into it, to go with them to Tarſhiſh, from before the Lord.

4. Upon which the Lord caſt out a great Wind into the Sea, and ſuch a great Tempeſt was there, that it was thought the Ship would break.

5. Then the Sailors were afraid, and cried each to his god, throwing out the Things which were in the Ship into the Sea, to make it light of them; but Jonah was gone down to one of the Sides of the Veſſel, where he lay, and was faſt aſleep.

6. To whom the Maſter-pilot going near, ſaid to him, What is the Matter with thee that thou art faſt aſleep? Riſe up, call on thy God; perhaps God will think of us, that we may not periſh.

7. They alſo ſaid one to another, Come, and let us caſt Lots, that we may know for whoſe ſake we have this Harm; and upon caſting Lots, the Lot fell for Jonah.

8. Therefore they ſaid to him, Tell us now for what Cauſe we have this Harm: What is thy Buſineſs? And whence doſt thou come? What Country is thine? And where is the People from whence thou art?

9. And he made anſwer to them, I am a Hebrew; and I fear the Lord God of Heaven, who made the Sea, and the dry Ground.

10. Whereupon the Men were ſeized with a great Fear, and aſked him, Why didſt thou do this? When they knew that he fled from before the Lord, for he told them.

11. They aſked him further, What ſhall we do to thee, that the Sea may be ſtill from us? For this went on being tempeſtuous.

12. And he ſaid to them, Take me up, and caſt me out into the Sea, and the ſame will be ſtill from you: for I know that for my ſake this great Tempeſt is upon you.

13. However the Men rowed to bring back to the dry Ground, but they could not; becauſe the Sea went on being tempeſtuous againſt them.

14. So they called on the Lord in this manner, We beſeech thee, O Lord, let us not now periſh for the Perſon of this Man, nor put innocent Blood upon us: for thou, O Lord, doeſt according as thou wilt.

15. At length they took up Jonah, and caſt him out into the Sea; at which the Sea ſtood ſtill from its Raging.

16. Fearing the Lord therefore with great Awe, the Men offered Sacrifice to him, and made Vows.

17. Now the Lord had prepared a great Fiſh to ſwallow up Jonah; and he was in the Bowels of it, three Days and three Nights.

CHAP. II.

MOREOVER Jonah prayed to the Lord his God, from the Bowels of the Fiſh,

2. And ſaid: I call on the Lord by reaſon of my Diſtreſs, and he anſwers me: I crying out from the Belly of the Grave, thou heareſt my Voice.

3. As thou haſt caſt me to the Depth, into the Heart of the Seas, ſo that the Flood compaſſes me: all thy Waves and Billows paſs over me.

4. Inſomuch that I ſaid, I am driven out from before thy Eyes; but I will look again to thy holy Temple.

5. The Waters ſurround me to the Soul, the Gulf compaſſes me, the Flag is bound to my Head.

6. I go down to the Bottoms of the Mountains, the Earth is about me with its Bars continually: but thou wilt bring up my Life from Corruption, O Lord my God.

7. When my Soul faints in me, I remember the Lord; and my Prayer comes to thee, at thy holy Temple.

8. Thoſe who obſerve falſe Vanities, forſake their own Kindneſs.

9. Whereas I will ſacrifice to thee with the Voice of Thankſgiving, will perform that which I have vowed: Salvation it ſelf is of the Lord.

10. And the Lord ſpeaking to the Fiſh, he vomited up Jonah on the dry Ground.

CHAP. III.

THEN Jonah had the Lord's Commiſſion the ſecond time as follows,

2. Get ready, go to the great City Nineveh, and proclaim to it the Proclamation which I ſpeak to thee.

3. So Jonah got ready, and went to Nineveh according to the Lord's Commiſſion; that being a great City of God, of three Days Journey.

4. And when Jonah began to enter into the City one Day's Journey, and proclaimed thus, Within forty Days Nineveh will be overthrown;

5. The Men of Nineveh believed in God, and proclaimed a Faſt, putting on Sackcloth, from the greateſt of them to their leaſt.

6. For Word coming to the King of Nineveh, he roſe up from his Throne, put away his Robe from him, covered himſelf with Sackcloth, and ſate in Aſhes.

7. He alſo had the following Order cried in Nineveh, by the Sentence of the King and his great ones, thus; Let neither Men nor Beaſts, Herds nor Flocks, taſte any Thing; let them not feed, nor drink Water.

8. But let Men and Beaſts be covered with Sackcloth, and let thoſe call ſtrongly on God; as alſo return from their reſpective evil Ways, and from the Violence which is in their Hands.

9. Who knows but God may return, and be ſorry, returning from his fervent Anger, ſo that we may not periſh?

10. And God ſeeing of their Deeds, that they returned from their evil Way, he was ſorry for the Ill which he ſpoke of doing to them, and did not do it.

CHAP. IV.

NEVERTHELESS it was ſo exceeding grievous to Jonah, that he was angry,

2. And prayed thus to the Lord; I pray, O Lord, was not this my Saying whilſt I was in my own Country? Therefore I went before, to flee to Tarſhiſh: for I knew that thou waſt a God gracious and merciful, forbearing of Anger, and of large Kindneſs, and being ſorry for what is ill.

3. So now, O Lord, take my Life, I pray, from me: for it is better for me to die, than to live.

4. Whereupon the Lord ſaid, Is it well that thou art angry?

5. Now Jonah was gone out of the City, and abode on the Eaſt of it; where he made him a Booth, and abode under it in the Shadow, until he ſhould ſee how it would be with the City.

6. And the Lord God prepared a Spurge-tree, which he cauſed to go up over Jonah, to be a Shadow above his Head, to deliver him from his Adverſity; and Jonah was exceeding glad of the Spurge-tree.

7. However God prepared a Worm, when the Morning aſcended the next Day, which ſmote the Spurge-tree, ſo that it withered.

8. And when the Sun roſe, God alſo prepared a ſtill eaſt Wind, and the Sun ſmote Jonah upon the Head, ſo that he fainted; upon which he aſked with his Soul to die, ſaying, It is better for me to die, than to live.

9. At this God ſaid to him, Is it well that thou art angry for the Spurge-tree? And he anſwered, It is well that I am angry to Death.

10. But the Lord replied; Thou haſt compaſſion for the Spurge-tree which thou didſt not labour for, nor make it grow up; that was the Offſpring of a Night, and periſhed ſuch:

11. And ſhall not I have compaſſion for the great City Nineveh; in which there are more than ſixſcore thouſand Perſons, who do not know their right Hand from their left, and much Cattle?

NOTES upon the BOOK of MICAH.

CHAP. I.

THE Lord's Commiſſion that Micah the Moraſhtite had in the Time of Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, Kings of Judah; which he ſaw concerning Samaria and Jeruſalem.

2. Hear, all thoſe People; hearken, O Country, and what it is filled with: againſt whom the Sovereign Lord is a Witneſs, the Lord from his holy Temple.

3. For behold the Lord comes out of his Place, and will deſcend, and tread upon the high Places of the Country.

4. Inſomuch that the Mountains ſhall be melted under him, and the Vales cleaved; as Wax by the Preſence of the Fire, like Water poured out on a Deſcent.

5. For the Tranſgreſſion of Jacob will all this be, and for the Sins of the Family of Iſrael: what is the Tranſgreſſion of Jacob? Is not Samaria? And what the high Places of Judah? Is not Jeruſalem?

6. So I will make Samaria a Heap of the Field, the Plantations of a Vineyard; and will pour out the Stones of it into the Valley, and diſcover its Foundations.

7. And all its carved Images ſhall be beat in pieces, as ſhall all the Hires of it be burnt in the Fire, and I will cauſe all its Images to be made deſolate: for each was gathered from the Hire of a Harlot, and to that ſhall they return.

8. For this I cry, and lament, go ſpoiled and naked: I make Lamentation like the Dragons, and Mourning like the young Oſtriches.

9. Becauſe the Strokes of it are mortal: for it comes to Judah, he reaches to the Gate of my People, to Jeruſalem.

10. Declare you not in Gath, do not weep at all: in the Houſe of Aphrah roll thy ſelf in the Duſt.

11. Paſs you away, each Inhabitant of Shaphir, with the Shame bare: the Inhabitant of Zaanan ſhall not go forth at the Lamentation of the Family of Ezel; he ſhall receive his State from you.

12. For though the Inhabitant of Maroth wait with concern for Good, Harm will come down from the Lord to the Gate of Jeruſalem.

13. Tie the Chariot to the Mule, O Inhabitant of Lachiſh; ſhe being the Beginning of Sin to the Daughter of Zion, for the Tranſgreſſions of Iſrael were found in thee.

14. Therefore ſhalt thou give Preſents to the Inheritance of Gath: the Houſes of Achzib ſhall become a Lye to the Kings of Iſrael.

15. I will yet bring an Inheritor to thee, O Inhabitant of Mareſhah; he ſhall come to Adullam the Glory of Iſrael.

16. Make bald, and ſhave thy ſelf, for the Sons of thy Delights: enlarge thy Baldneſs like an Eagle, for they ſhall be carried away from thee.

CHAP. II.

2. And who covet Fields, taking by force, and Houſes, taking away; and oppreſs a Man and his Houſe, a Perſon and his Poſſeſſion.

3. Therefore thus ſays the Lord, Behold I will contrive Ill againſt this Family; from whence you ſhall not remove your Necks, nor go exalted, for it will be an ill Time.

4. On that Day will one take up a Proverb concerning you, and lament with a lamentable Lamenting thus, We are quite waſted, he has changed the Portion of my People: how has he removed what was divided to me, to turn away our Fields!

5. Therefore thou ſhalt have none who caſts a Line by Lot in the Congregation of the Lord.

6. Mention Nothing, ſay they to thoſe that make mention: let them mention Nothing to theſe, who will take no Shame.

7. Thou that art called the Family of Jacob, is the Spirit of the Lord diminiſhed? Are theſe his Doings? Do not my Words do well with him who goes uprightly?

8. Whereas lately my People roſe up for an Enemy; you pulled off the Cloak from the Garment it was on, from ſuch as were paſſing by ſecurely, turning away from War.

9. You have driven out the Women of my People from the Houſe of their Delights, have taken off my Comelineſs from their Children for ever.

10. Riſe up, and go, for this is not a Reſt; becauſe being unclean it will corrupt, and the Corruption will be vehement.

11. If a Man going with a Spirit and Falſehood, does lye, ſaying, I will mention to thee of Wine and ſtrong Drink; even he will be one that ſhall make mention to this People.

12. I will wholly gather up all of thee, O Jacob, I will wholly gather the Reſidue of Iſrael, will put him together as the Sheep of Bozrah: like a Flock within its Fold, ſhall they make a Noiſe by reaſon of Men.

13. The Breaker down comes up before them, thoſe break down, and paſs through the Gate, then theſe go forth at it; and their King paſſes through before them, with the Lord at the Head of them.

CHAP III.

AND I ſay; Hear now, O Heads of Jacob, and Leaders of the Family of Iſrael; Is it not for you to know Judgment?

2. Who hate Good, and love Evil; who take off their Skin from them by force, and their Fleſh off from their Bones;

3. And that eat the Fleſh of my People, pull off their Skin from them, break their Bones, and divide as there is in the Pot, and as Fleſh within the Cauldron.

4. Then will they cry to the Lord, who will not anſwer them; but will hide his Face from them at that Time, according as they make their Doings evil.

5. Thus ſays the Lord concerning the Prophets who cauſe my People to err, who bite with their Teeth, and proclaim Peace; but againſt him that does not put into their Mouth, they even prepare War;

Ver. 12. gather] into the fortified Cities of Samaria and Jeruſalem, Ch. i. 1. for Security from the invading Aſſyrians and Chaldeans.

Ib. the Reſidue] belonging to the Kingdom of Judah, when that of Iſrael was overthrown.

Ver. 13. comes up before them] to beſiege them, where they are penned up as in a Fold, Ver. 12.

Ib. thoſe] that break down, viz. the beſieging Enemies.

Ib. theſe] the People of Iſrael, Ver. 12.

Ib. their King] of each Kingdom of Iſrael and Judah, to be taken into Captivity.

Ib. at the Head of them] taking them into Captivity guarded by their Conquerors, and ſo indeed the Lord would be at the Head of both; but it ſeems ſpoken ironically of the Iſraelites, as Ver. 12.

Ver. 1. now] rather than I pray you, being ſpoken by God; ſo in Ver. 9.

Ver. 3. in] as within that follows, and as the Heb. properly is.

Ver. 4. Then] which Jun. and Trem. comment on well, videlicet cum immittet ea quæ denuntiavit ſupra, ii. 12. & 13. that is when he ſends on them what he declared above, Ch. ii. 12, 13.

Ver. 6. from] The Original has no more.

Viſion, and dark to you from divining: for the Sun ſhall ſet to the Prophets, and the Day be gloomy to them.

7. The Seers alſo ſhall be aſhamed, the Diviners bluſh, and ſhall all of them cover over the Lip: for there will be no Anſwer from God.

8. But indeed I am filled with Might by the Spirit of the Lord, and with Judgment and Power; to declare to Jacob his Tranſgreſſion, and to Iſrael his Sin.

9. Hear now this, O Heads of the Family of Jacob, and Leaders of the Family of Iſrael, who have Judgment in abomination, and pervert all that is right;

10. Who build up Zion with Blood, and Jeruſalem with Iniquity.

11. The Heads of it judge for a Bribe, the Prieſts of it teach for a Price, and its Prophets divine for Money; yet they depend upon the Lord, ſaying, Is not the Lord amongſt us? No Evil will come upon us.

12. Therefore by reaſon of you will Zion be ploughed a Field, Jeruſalem become Heaps, and the Mountain of the Houſe the high Places of a Wood.

CHAP. IV.

BUT in the latter Days will the Mountain of the Lord's Houſe be eſtabliſhed on the Top of the Mountains, and it will be raiſed up above the Hills; and the People will aſſemble together upon it.

2. Nay many Nations will go, and ſay, Come, and let us go up to the Mountain of the Lord, and to the Houſe of the God of Jacob; that he may teach us of his Ways, and we may walk in his Paths: for the Law ſhall go forth from Zion, and the Word of the Lord from Jeruſalem.

3. He will alſo judge between many People, and determine for numerous Nations even far off: ſo that they will beat their Swords into Spades, and their Spears into Pruning-hooks; one Nation will not lift up the Sword againſt another, nor will they learn War any more.

4. But they will dwell each under his own Vine, and Fig-tree, and none will make afraid; for the Mouth of the Lord of Armies has ſpoken it.

5. For all People will go each in the Name of its god; and we will go in the Name of the Lord our God, for ever and evermore.

6. At that Time, ſays the Lord, will I gather up the Lame, and gather together the Expelled, and her whom I have puniſhed.

7. Thus I will make the Lame a Reſidue, and the farther one a numerous Nation; and the Lord will reign over them on Mount Zion, henceforth even for ever.

8. As for thee, O Tower of Eder, the Aſcent of the Daughter of Zion, it ſhall approach to thee; and there ſhall come the former Dominion, the Kingdom to the Daughter of Jeruſalem.

9. Why doſt thou now cry out aloud? Is there no King in thee, is thy Counſellor periſhed, that the Anguiſh as of her who is in labour takes hold of thee?

10. Be in anguiſh, and bring forth, O Daughter of Zion, as ſhe who is in labour: for thou ſhalt now come out of the Town, and dwell in the Field, nay go to Babylon; there ſhalt thou be reſcued, there the Lord will redeem thee from the Power of thy Enemies.

11. Since many Nations are now gathered up againſt thee, that ſay, She ſhall be polluted, and our Eyes ſhall look on Zion.

12. Whereas they do not know the Thoughts of the Lord, nor underſtand his Counſel: for he will gather them together like the Sheaves of the Floor.

13. Get ready, and tread out, O Daugh-

Ver. 1. in the latter Days] This according to Grotius, with Jun. and Trem. was taken from Iſa. ii. as obſerved before concerning Something in Obadiah.

Ver. 3. See Iſa. ii. 4. Thus poetically expreſs'd by Pope,

No more ſhall Nation againſt Nation riſe,
Nor ardent Warriors meet with hateful Eyes,
Nor Fields with gleaming Steel be cover'd o'er,
The brazen Trumpets kindle Rage no more;
But uſeleſs Lances into Scythes ſhall bend,
And the broad Faulchion in a Plow-ſhare end.

Ver. 6. puniſhed] Sixtus inſerts upon the Authority of a Pope, I will comfort.

Ver. 8. Tower of Eder] the very ſame as in Gen. xxxv. 21. being at Bethlehem, Ver. 19. as Grotius alſo ſays, and that Beth-lehem is here underſtood by it; at which Place Chriſt being born, it is a noble Prophecy of it, agreeing with Mic. v. 2. and heretofore ſcarce obſerved, even the very induſtrious Jun. and Trem. acknowledging not to remember, they had read this Name any where elſe in the Scripture.

Ib. Aſcent] properly, and rendered tower by our Tranſlators, 2 King. v. 24. in the old Lat. here, nebuloſa, the cloudy one, by taking עפל for אפל and then dark for cloudy.

Ver. 9. no King] when Zedediah and his People ſhould be carried Priſoners to Babylon, according to the next Verſe.

Ver. 10. reſcued] for delivered might ſeem as if it was of Child, by the former Part of the Verſe, which is not meant.

Ver. 13. tread out] as the Cattle with Horns and Hoofs did, Deut. xxv. 4. Hoſ. x. 11.

ter of Zion: for I will make thy Horn iron, as I will thy Hoofs braſs, ſo that thou ſhalt bruiſe many People; whoſe Gain I will devote to the Lord, and their Wealth to the Maſter of the whole Earth.

CHAP V.

COME now together by Troops, O Daughter of the Troop, that will make a Fortification againſt us: they will ſmite the Judge of Iſrael with a Stick upon the Cheek.

2. But thou Beth-lehem Ephrathah, it is little to be among the Thouſands of Judah; from thee will he come forth to me, who is to be the Governor in Iſrael: whoſe Goings forth were from Eternity, from the everlaſting Days.

3. Therefore will he give them up, till the Time ſhe who is in labour brings forth; when the reſt of his Brethren ſhall return with the Iſraelites.

4. And he will ſtand, and feed in the Strength of the Lord, in the Excellency of the Name of the Lord his God; and they will abide, for he will now be great to the Limits of the Earth.

5. And this will be Proſperity: when the Aſſyrian comes into our Country, and when he treads in our Palaces; we will raiſe up againſt him ſeven Shepherds, and eight Princes of Men.

6. Who ſhall feed on the Country of Aſſyria with the Sword, and on that of Nimrod in its Entrances; thus will he deliver from the Aſſyrian when he comes into our Country, and when he treads in our Bounds.

7. And the Reſidue of Jacob will be amongſt many People, as the Dew from the Lord, as the Showers upon the Graſs; which does not wait for Man, nor ſtay for Mankind.

8. The Reſidue of Jacob too will be in the Nations amongſt many People, as a Lion among the Beaſts of the Wood, as a young Lion among the Flocks of Sheep; who when he paſſes through, both tramples and tears, and none delivers.

Ver. 1. Come now] calling the Enemy to execute its Office of Puniſhment, that Zion might then conquer, as in the Verſe before.

Ib. that] not he; and if Daughter was intended, it ſhould be ſhe, which the Heb. does not allow of.

Ib. with a Stick] which ſhould hurt and puniſh, but not deſtroy; and Stick muſt be more proper than Rod, in our Uſe of the Words.

Ver. 2. Beth-lehem Ephrathah] its two Names joined together, Gen. xxxv. 19. to diſtinguiſh it from another Beth-lehem, Joſh. xix. 15. and was diſtant from Jeruſalem 35 Furlongs, or near 4½ Miles, Juſt. Martyr, Apol. 2.

Ib. little] Though the Place is ſtyled not the leaſt in a paraphraſtical Quotation, Mat. ii. 6. by the Prieſts and Scribes; this frequent Heb. Word for little is not therefore to be underſtood here in a contrary Meaning, as not only Hottinger, but alſo Pocock attempts to ſhew in his Miſcellaneous Notes upon Porta Moſis, pag. 18, 19. neither ſuiting with the Condition of the Place, nor Subject; no nor with the Jews Citation as above, ſince they obviouſly did not term it ſo, from their taking the original Word to mean great or notable; beſides that it largely alſo ſignifies little in Arabick (which Pocock interprets ſo much by) and great as I find in no Language. But then little is not to be made an Epithet to the Place, as diſagreeing in Gender, this being maſc. and the Names of Places fem. which Lightfoot pleads againſt it, in his Harm. of 4 Evang. and Croſs that the Points diſprove it, becauſe that at little, being Paſhta a King, divides it from the Subſtantive-verb, not to be art little, Taghm. Art, p. 117, 118. and I may add in the ſame Manner, and with the ſame Point, as light is, Iſa. xlix. 6. theſe two curious Criticks therefore I nearly follow, with Oſiander and De Dieu.

Ib. to be] infinitive with to before it in Heb. the ſame that is ſo rendered further in this Verſe by our Tranſlators; who have here added thou, and changed it into finite.

Ver. 3. Therefore] that what is mentioned in Ver. 1. might be done to the Iſraelites.

Ib. ſhe] the Virgin Mary, which ſeems to agree much the beſt, with what goes before and follows.

Ib. reſt of his Brethren] the Gentiles.

Ver. 4. he] Jeſus Chriſt, whom ſhe brings forth, Ver. 3.

Ib. feed] his Flock, as Cant. i. 7. or them, active, not neuter.

Ib. abide] Chald. Targ. return out of Captivity, as likewiſe Sol. Jar. ſeems to expound the Word by עתה מן הגליות now from Captivity, in the vulg. Lat. too is revertentur, and with Caſt. redibunt, both return; but the original Word is yaſhavu, not yaſhuvu: hence may appear what Care and Skill are requiſite for a Tranſlator.

Ib. to the Limits] by the ſpreading of the Goſpel. This with the two foregoing Verſes ſeem to be a Digreſſion concerning Chriſt.

Ver. 5. this] the divine Preſervation, ſet forth in the preceding Verſe.

Ib. Proſperity] as more ſuitable than Peace, it being in War; and according to Grotius, Druſius, Jun. and Trem. by the latter, Eritque hujuſmodi (and ſuch will be the) pax, which they expound by proſperitas.

Ib. when the Aſſyrian comes] as he did about the middle of Hezekiah's Reign, 2 King. xviii. 13. the laſt of the Kings in whoſe Time Micah propheſied, Chap. i. 1. ſo that this might very likely be a competent Space of Time before it came to paſs, his Unſucceſsfulneſs alſo in that Expedition agreeing with this Prophecy. Yet Mede in his Works, p. 796. and Lowth concurring with him, expound the Aſſyrian here to be ſome remarkable Enemy that is to be deſtroyed hereafter: a wide Way of Expoſition.

Ib. againſt him ſeven Shepherds] Chal. Targ. in the Wantonneſs of Tranſlation, over us ſeven Kings.

Ib. ſeven] uſed for an indeterminate Number, as agreed by Commentators; ſee the like Eccleſ. xi. 2.

Ver. 6. feed on] the ſame Verb with that in Ver. 4.

Ib. and on that of Nimrod] Lowth prefers the tranſlating even for and, ſaying, Aſſyria is called the Land of Nimrod: which may however be underſtood with and, that being more uſual and unexceptionable; and by the Mention of the Aſſyrian only, both before and after, this ſeems to be the Meaning, and alſo by thus, as it is properly expreſs'd to prevent a Tautology; ſee Gen. x. 11.

Ver. 7. as the Dew] The Proſperity and Power of the Kingdom of Judah (which was the Reſidue of Jacob)

9. Thy Hand will be lifted up over thy Foes, and all thy Enemies be cut off.

10. And at that Time, ſays the Lord, will I cut off thy Horſes from within thee, and cauſe thy Chariots to periſh.

11. I will likewiſe cut off the Cities of thy Country, and demoliſh all thy ſtrong Holds.

12. Nay I will cut off Witchcrafts from thy Hand; ſo that thou ſhalt have no Sooth-ſayers.

13. I will cut off alſo thy carved Images and Statues from within thee; and thou ſhalt no more bow down to the Work of thy own Hands.

14. Beſides I will pluck up thy Groves from within thee, and ſo deſtroy thy Adverſaries.

15. Afterwards will I wreak unheard of Vengeance, in Anger and Wrath, on the Nations.

CHAP. VI.

HEAR you now what the Lord ſays, Get ready, contend with the Mountains, and let the Hills hear what thou ſayeſt.

2. Hear, O Mountains, the Lord's Contention, and you ſtrong Foundations of the Earth: for the Lord has a Contention with his People, and will diſpute with Iſrael.

3. My People, what have I done to thee? Or in what have I wearied thee? Anſwer againſt me.

4. For I brought the up from thee Country of Egypt, and redeemed thee from the Place of Slaves; ſending before thee Moſes, Aaron and Miriam.

5. My People, remember now what Counſel Balak the King of Moab took, and what Balaam the Son of Beor anſwered him; that you may acknowledge the righteous Things of the Lord from Shittim to Gilgal.

6. With what ſhall I come before the Lord, bow down to the high God? Shall I come before him with burnt Offerings, with Calves in their firſt Year?

7. Will the Lord take delight in thouſands of Lambs, in ten thouſands of Floods of Oil? Shall I give my Firſt-born for my Tranſgreſſion, the Fruit of my Body for the Sin of my Soul?

8. He declares to thee, Man, what is good; and what does the Lord ſeek from thee, but to do Juſtice, love Kindneſs, and walk modeſtly with thy God?

9. The Voice of the Lord calls to the City, and what is ſubſtantial ſees thy Name: mind you the Rod, and who appoints it.

10. Are the Treaſures of Wickedneſs yet in the Houſe of the Wicked, and the ſcanty Ephah that is abhorred?

11. Shall I count it pure with the Scales of Wickedneſs, and with the Bag of deceitful Weights?

12. Whoſe rich ones are full of Violence, and the Inhabitants of it ſpeak Falſehood, and their Tongue is deceitful in their Mouth.

ſhould be by Divine Providence, according to what we read 2 Chr. xxxii. 27,—30.

Ver. 10. cut off] by the Aſſyrian Invaſion, to which at that Time confines it; and that ſhould cauſe the People of Judah to leave their Idolatry, Ver. 12, 13, 14. Otherwiſe it might denote Hezekiah's deſtroying it, 2 Chr. xxx. 14. & xxxi. 1.

Ver. 14. Adverſaries] as with the Targ. Druſ. Jun. and Trem. and in Pſa. cxxxix. 20. not to make a Tautology, Ver. 11. and thoſe Adverſaries may ſeem the Idols.

Ver. 1. Get ready] ſpeaking this to Micah himſelf.

Ver. 5. what Counſel] how he ſought your Overthrow.

Ib. Balaam] If you think the Servants of the Lord partial in ſpeaking on his behalf; and being turned to Idols, Chap. v. 13. have let in Unbelief of what God has done for you, like your Forefathers, who ſaid the golden Calf was their god, that brought them up from the Country of Egypt, Exod. xxxii. 4. comp. Ver. 4. remember then what Balaam ſaid, who would rather have ſpoken otherwiſe, Numb. xxiii. 22, 23, & xxiv. 8.

Ib. that you may acknowledge] particularly from the Time of Balaam's Teſtimony, when you were at Shittim, Num. xxv. 1. till you came into this Country at Gilgal, Joſh. iv. 19. The principal Partition of the Verſe by the great Point Athnah is as I have made it, agreeing with Jun. and Trem. who alſo render, ut agnoſcens, that acknowledging, &c. as likewiſe Piſcat. expounds it. Whereas the com. Tranſ. has no Point for Diviſion there, which makes quite a different Senſe, if any at all; and the Comments that are made on that, inſtead of the Heb. Text, will conſequently be of the ſame Kind: thus it has been expounded of Balaam's ſurveying the Camp of Iſrael with his Eye, from Shittim to the other Extremity of them over againſt Gilgal; and leſs to the Purpoſe, that from Shittim to Gilgal ſignified an Enemy's ſudden Change of his wicked Paſſions and Deſigns; ſee the Biſhop of Coventry and Litchfield's Defence of Chriſtianity from the ancient Prophecies, pag. 290.

Ver. 8. to do Juſtice] Polus the Pythagorean in his Book of Juſtice writes, Δοκεῖ μοι τῶν ανδρῶν ταν̀ δικαιοσύνην ματέρα τε καὶ τιθηναν̀ τῶν ἄλλων αρετῶν προσειπεῖν, I think Juſtice may be ſaid to be the Mother and Nurſe of other Virtues.

Ib. to do &c.] By theſe Words God teaches us, writes Oſtervald of Neufchatel in Swiſſerland, among his Arguments of the Books and Chapters, that the only true Worſhip He does receive, is Humbleneſs of Heart, and Innocency of Life.

Ver. 9. what is ſubſtantial] every material Thing that is done: Jun. and Trem. quod res eſt, what is a Thing; and Piſcat. explains it, quod in civitate agitur, what is done in the City. The LXX Interp. very wrong, He will ſave thoſe who fear his Name, which ſome little Variations of the Heb. would make, whereby is diſcovered their Ignorance and Raſhneſs; and the vulg. Lat. Tranſ. not much otherwiſe.

Ib. ſees thy Name] experiences God's Power.

Ver. 11. it] to agree with whoſe and it in the next Verſe.

Ver. 12. it] the City, Ver. 9. being both fem.

13. Therefore

13. Therefore I will alſo make ſick by ſmiting thee, by cauſing to be deſolate for thy Sins.

14. Thou ſhalt eat, without being ſatisfied, and ſhalt have bowing down within thee: nay ſhalt remove, without eſcaping; even that which thou makeſt eſcape will I deliver to the Sword.

15. Thou ſhalt ſow, and not reap: thou ſhalt tread the Olives, and not anoint thy ſelf with Oil; as alſo new Wine, and ſhalt not drink Wine.

16. Since the Statutes of Omri are obſerved, and every Deed of the Family of Ahab, and you go in their Counſels; that I may deliver thee to Deſolation, and the Inhabitants of it to Hiſſing; and you ſhall bear the Reproach of my People.

CHAP. VII.

ALAS to me, for I am as at the Gatherings of the Summer-fruit, as of the Gleaning-grapes of the Vintage: there is no Bunch to eat, when my Appetite deſires the Firſt-fruit.

2. The Pious is periſhed from the Earth, and there is none upright among Men: all of them lie in wait for Blood, they hunt each one his Brother with a Net.

3. To do evil effectually with both Hands, the Prince and Judge aſk for a Recompence; then the great one himſelf ſpeaks the Frowardneſs of his Mind, and they wreſt it.

4. The beſt of them is like a Brier, the uprighteſt exceeds a thorny Hedge: the Day of thy Watchmen, thy Viſitation comes; now will be their Perplexity.

5. Have no belief in a Friend, truſt you not in a Leader; keep the Doors of thy Mouth from her who lies in thy Boſom.

6. For the Son makes the Father vile, the Daughter riſes up againſt her Mother, the Daughter-in-law againſt her Mother-in-law; a Perſon's Enemies are the Men of his own Family.

7. But I will watch for the Lord, will wait for the God of my Salvation: my God will hear me.

8. Be not glad againſt me, my Enemy: though I fall, I ſhall riſe up; though I ſit in Darkneſs, the Lord will be a Light to me.

9. I will bear the Indignation of the Lord, becauſe I have ſinned againſt him; until he pleads my Cauſe, and executes my Judgment, bringing me forth to the Light, that I may ſee his Righteouſneſs.

10. And my Enemy will ſee, and Shame will cover her who ſaid to me, Where is the Lord thy God? My Eyes will look on her; now will ſhe be trod down as the Dirt of the Streets.

11. The Time for thy Fences to be built up, that is the Time the Decree will come far off.

12. That Time alſo will there come to thee from Aſſyria, and the Cities of Fortification; and from the Fortification even to the River, and to Sea from Sea, and Mountain from Mountain:

13. After the Country has been deſolate for the Inhabitants of it, by reaſon of the Fruit of their Doings.

14. Feed thy People with thy Stick, the Flock of thy Poſſeſſion that dwells alone at the Wood within Carmel: let them feed at Baſhan and Gilead, as in ancient Days.

15. As in the Days of thy Coming out of the Country of Egypt, will I cauſe him to ſee Wonders.

16. The Nations will ſee, and be aſhamed becauſe of all their Power; will put the Hand upon the Mouth, their Ears will be deaf.

17. They will lick up the Duſt as a Serpent, as the creeping Things of the Earth will they move out of their cloſe Places; they

18. Who is a God like thee, forgiving Iniquity, and paſſing over the Tranſgreſſion of the Reſidue of his Poſſeſſion? He will not hold his Anger for evermore, for he delights in Kindneſs.

19. He will return, he will have mercy upon us, will ſubdue our Iniquities; and thou wilt caſt all their Sins into the Depths of the Sea.

20. Thou wilt give the Truth to Jacob, the Kindneſs to Abraham, which thou haſt ſworn to our Fathers from the Days of old Time.

NOTES upon the BOOK of NAHUM.

CHAP. I.

THE Burden of Nineveh: the Book of the Viſion of Nahum the Elkoſhite.

2. God is zealous, and the Lord takes vengeance; the Lord takes vengeance, and has Wrath: the Lord takes vengeance on his Adverſaries, and he keeps it for his Enemies.

3. The Lord is forbearing of Anger, and of great Power, but will not at all hold innocent: the Lord, his Way is in the Whirlwind and Tempeſt, and the Cloud is the Duſt of his Feet.

4. He rebuking the Sea, dries it up, and waſtes away all the Rivers: Baſhan languiſhes and Carmel, as does alſo the Flower of Lebanon.

5. The Mountains move by reaſon of him, and the Hills are diſſolved; and the Earth is carried away becauſe of his Preſence, with the World, and all that dwell in it.

6. At the Preſence of his Indignation who ſhall ſtand? And who ſhall riſe up in his fervent Anger? His Wrath being poured out as Fire, the Rocks break down by reaſon of him.

7. The Lord is good, a Habitation in the Time of Diſtreſs, and knows thoſe who truſt in him.

8. But with a Flood paſſing through he will make an entire End of its Place; and Darkneſs ſhall purſue his Enemies.

9. What do ye think of the Lord? He will make an entire End, Diſtreſs will not riſe up twice.

10. For whilſt the Thorns are wrapt together, and they are drunk according to their Swallowing, they will be conſumed like Stubble fully dried.

11. Out of thee comes one who thinks Evil againſt the Lord, an ungodly Counſellor.

12. Thus ſays the Lord; If they are compleat, and ſo are many, yet ſo ſhall they be cut off, and he ſhall paſs away: though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no longer.

13. But I will now break off his Yoke from thee, and pluck off thy Bonds.

14. And the Lord commands concerning thee, that none of thy Name ſhould be ſown any more: I will cut off from the Houſe of thy gods, the carved and molten Image; I will make thy Grave, for thou art baſe.

15. Behold upon the Mountains are the Feet of the Preacher, the Publiſher of Peace; keep thy Feaſts, O Judah, perform thy Vows: for the Ungodly will paſs through thee again no more, he is all cut off.

Ver. 11. thee] Nineveh, concerning which this Prophecy is.

Ib. one] Sennacherib, according to the following Verſes, and as Druſius, Munſter, and Lightfoot ſay; ſee 2 King. xviii 13. & xix. 36.

Ver. 12. they] the Aſſyrians or Ninevites, who came againſt Judah.

Ib. compleat] more ſuitable than quiet, and which the Heb. Word does not ſignify.

Ib. ſo] twice the ſame in Heb. as here.

Ib. he] Sennacherib as before, which ſee in Iſa. xxxvii. 37.

Ib. paſs away] of which ſee the excellent Druſius.

Ib. thee] Judah.

Ib. no longer] according to the next Verſe, and not as Grot. would Ver. 9.

Ver. 14. Name] that his Fame ſhould periſh.

Ib. cut off] Thy Idol-temple ſhall not be a Place of Worſhip (as probably it was not after he was ſlain there, 2 King. xix. 37.) but as a Grave to hold thy dead Body. It may be rendered, or underſtood, I will make it thy Grave.

Ver. 1. The Diſperſer] that ſhould overthrow Nineveh. De clade Aſſyriorum, writes Druſ. deque cæde regis hactenus. Sequitur nunc de expugnatione urbis Nini: Thus far concerning the Deſtruction of the Aſſyrians, and the Murder of the King; now there follows a Prophecy of the Conqueſt of the City Nineveh.

2. Though the Lord has turned away the Excellency of Jacob like that of Iſrael, though the Emptiers have emptied them, and ſpoiled their Vine-branches;

3. The Shield of his powerful ones will be red, the Men of Force in Scarlet, the Chariots with the Fire of Torches at the Time of his preparing, and the Fir-trees will be made to ſhake.

4. The Chariots will do madly in the Courts, will run to and fro in the Streets: their Appearances will be as Lamps, they will run like Lightnings.

5. He will remember his gallant ones, who will fall in their going; they will make haſte to its Wall, and he that protects will be prepared.

6. The Gates of the Rivers will be opened, and the Palace be diſſolved.

7. And ſhe that is placed will be carried captive, had up; her Maids leading away, as with the Voice of Doves, the Striking of Timbrels upon their Hearts.

8. Notwithſtanding Nineveh has been like a Pool of Water ſince the Days of it were; yet they will run away: when they ſay, Stand, ſtand ſtill; none will turn about.

9. Plunder the Silver, plunder the Gold; as there is no End to the Furniture, the Glory of all the pleaſant Things.

10. She will be empty, emptied out, and made void: even the Heart will be diſſolved, and there will be Staggering of the Knees, with ſore Anguiſh in all Loins; and the Faces of them all will gather Blackneſs.

11. Where is the Habitation of the Lions, and the very Paſture of the young Lions, where the Lion, the ſtout Lion goes, the Lion's Whelp, and none makes afraid?

12. The Lion that tears enough for his Whelps, and ſtrangles for his ſtout Lioneſſes; filling his Holes with Prey, and his Habitations with the Torn?

13. Behold I am againſt thee, ſays the Lord of Armies, and will burn her Chariots in the Smoak, and the Sword ſhall conſume thy young Lions; nay I will cut off thy Prey from the Earth, and the Voice of thy Ambaſſadors ſhall be heard no more.

CHAP. III.

WO be to the bloody City: all of it is full of lying, tearing aſunder; the Prey does not depart.

2. There will be the Sound of the Whip, and that of the Commotion of the Wheel, as alſo of the prancing Horſe, and the bounding Chariot.

3. The Horſeman will lift up both the flaming Sword, and the glittering Spear; ſo that there will be a Multitude of pierced ones, and abundance of Corpſes; nay there will be no End of the Bodies, they will ſtumble at their Bodies:

4. By reaſon of the abundant Whoredoms of the well-favoured Whore, the Miſtreſs of Witchcrafts; that ſells Nations by her Whoredoms, and Families by her Witchcrafts.

5. Behold I am againſt thee, ſays the Lord of Armies, whom I will uncover with thy Skirts over thy Face; ſhewing the Nations thy Nakedneſs, and the Kingdoms thy Baſeneſs.

6. And I will caſt Abominations upon thee, making thee vile; and will make thee as a Sight.

7. So that every one of thoſe who ſee thee ſhall remove from thee, and ſay, Nineveh is waſted; who will bemoan her? From whence ſhall I ſeek Comforters for thee?

8. Shalt thou do better than No of the Multitude? That was ſituate among the Streams, with the Waters round about her; whoſe Fort was the Sea, her Wall of the Sea.

Ib. keep] O Nineveh, which Jun. and Trem. add in the Text.

Ver. 2. Though] which the Particle ſignifies, and connects this well to the next Verſe.

Ib. turned away] by the Invaſion of the Aſſyrians before ſpoken of.

Ib. Jacob] id eſt, tribus Judæ, that is the Tribe or Kingdom of Judah, as Piſcator ſays: ſo Iſrael, he ſays, is the ten Tribes.

Ib. like that of Iſrael] in the Overthrow of the Kingdom of Iſrael before the Invaſion of Judah; which might be well enough compared together, though different in Degree. Druſius honeſtly but eloquently owns, he did not underſtand this Verſe.

Ib. ſpoiled their Vine-branches] which I ſuppoſe the Aſſyrians actually did; yet metaphorically thoſe Branches might denote the weaker Places which they deſtroyed or plundered, according to 2 King. xviii. 13. ſo by Grot. Towns and Villages, from the Targ.

Ver. 3. his powerful ones] who ſhould act for God againſt Nineveh.

Ib. red] the Colour thoſe Nations uſed; ſee Jun. and Trem. Annot.

Ib. Fir-trees] Lances of Fir, as I think, with Piſcator: the LXX miſtaking ב for ד have it Horſemen.

Ver. 5. remember] to chooſe for Captains, or remember them when fallen: for it is in Hiphil, another Mood, that the Verb ſignifies recount, if at all.

Ib. make haſte] Being beat in going out to fight, they will endeavour to ſecure themſelves in the City.

Ib. prepared] ſuch as are to defend the City will then get ready.

Ver. 8. like a Pool] being ſettled in her Place.

Ver. 11. Where is the Habitation] that is it will be at Nineveh.

Ver. 5. whom I will uncover] ſee Jer. xiii. 22. where the Verb is the ſame, and Ver. 26. where it is not.

Ver. 8. do better] which the Verb ſignifies, being in the Conjug. Hiphil, not art better; and ſo Commentators take the Senſe of it, as moſt ſuitable.

Ib. No] ſince called Alexandria, ſtanding between the Mediterranean Sea and the Lake Mareotis, Strabo, Lib. 17.

Ib. Multitude] The Words are tranſpoſed Jer. xlvi. 25.

9. Behold

9. Ethiopia was the Strength, and Egypt, nay there was no End; Libya and the Lubites were for thy Help.

10. Yet ſhe was carried away, ſhe went into Captivity, her Children alſo were daſhed in pieces at the Top of all the Streets; and they caſt the Lot for her honourable Men, and all her great ones were chained with Fetters.

11. Even thou ſhalt be drunk, be hid: thou too ſhalt ſeek for a Fortreſs, by reaſon of the Enemy.

12. All thy ſtrong Holds ſhall be as Fig-trees with the Firſt-fruits; which if they are ſhaken, fall into the Mouth of the Eater.

13. Behold thy People are like Women within thee, the Gates of thy Country ſhall be quite opened to thy Enemies; Fire ſhall conſume thy Bars.

14. Draw thee the Water of the Siege, ſtrengthen thy ſtrong Holds; come into the Clay, and tread in the Mortar, repair the Brick-kiln.

15. There Fire ſhall conſume thee, the Sword cut thee off, it ſhall conſume thee like a Canker-worm: become numerous like the Canker-worms, be as numerous as the Locuſts.

16. Thou haſt multiplied thy Merchants, to be more than the Stars of Heaven: the Canker-worm ſtrips, and flies away.

17. Thy crowned ones ſhall be like the Locuſt, and thy Commanders like the principal Graſhopper, that encamp in the Hedges on a cold Day; the Sun riſing, each removes, and his Place is not known where they are.

18. Thy Shepherds ſhall ſlumber, O King of Aſſyria, thy ſtately ones ſit down; thy People ſhall become abundant upon the Mountains, and none gather together.

19. There ſhall be no Reſtraint to thy Breaking, thy Blow ſhall be grievous: all that hear the News of thee will clap Hands at thee: for againſt whom has not thy Wickedneſs paſſed continually?

Ver. 9. the Strength] her by miſtaking ה for ה׳

Ib. Libya] as rendered Ezek. xxx. 5. and Libyans Jer. xlvi. 9.

Ib. Lubites] the ſame as in Dan. xi. 43.

Ver. 10. Theſe Things appear by the foregoing Ver. to have been done while the Ethiopian Family reigned in Egppt, for which ſee the Egyptian Catalogue of Kings after Dan. when in the Time of Sevechus or Sethon, as in Herodotus, Lib. 2, Sennacherib King of Aſſyria haraſſed thoſe Countries three Years, Iſa. xx. as it is there explained before the 14th Year of Hezekiah, 2 King. xviii. 13, 14. & xix. 9. Hence alſo Nahum made this Prophecy between that Time of Hezekiah, and the Deſtruction of Nineveh in the Reign of Joſiah, Chap. i. 1. though Joſephus ſays, 115 Years before it was fulfilled, Ant. Lib. ix. 11.

Ver. 14. Brick-kiln] to make Bricks for fortifying the City againſt the Siege.

Ver. 15. like a Canker-worm] According to what follows Nineveh is compared to this, as alſo Grotius ſays, propter ſequentia, adding that they were for Food to the Syrians, but it may rather mean the Weather deſtroying it as a tender Inſect, as in the next Verſes driving away.

Ver. 16. the Canker-worm ſtrips] So Nineveh gets from others by her Merchandice for a while.

Ver. 17. crowned ones] Septuag. and vulg. Lat. Keepers, wrong interpreting nazar by natzar, Druſ. and Schind.

Ib. in the Hedges] repreſenting the chief Men of Nineveh in the Fortifications, when beſieged.

Ib. removes] denoting their going into Captivity, or fleeing, when the City ſhould be taken.

Ver. 18. King] named Saracus; ſee Zeph. ii. 13.

Ib. become abundant] as the Word exactly ſignifies.

NOTES

NOTES upon the BOOK of HABAKKUK.

CHAP. I.

THE Burden which the Prophet Habakkuk ſaw.

2. How long, O Lord, ſhall I cry out, and thou not hear; cry Violence to thee, and thou not ſave?

3. Why doſt thou make me ſee Iniquity, and cauſe to behold Grievouſneſs, nay let Waſting and Violence be before me? For there is he who takes up Strife, and Contention.

4. Therefore the Law ceaſes, and Judgment never goes forth: becauſe the Wicked ſurrounds the Righteous, therefore perverted Judgment goes forth.

5. Look in the Nations, behold, and be aſtoniſhed, be in Aſtoniſhment: for I will perform a Work in your Days, you will not believe, though it be told.

6. For lo I will raiſe up the Chaldeans, a bitter and haſty Nation; that ſhall go to the Breadths of the Country, to inherit the Dwelling-places not its own.

7. It ſhall be terrible, and fearful: its Judgment, and Excellency ſhall come forth from it ſelf.

8. Its Horſes alſo ſhall be ſwifter than Leopards, and ſharper than evening Wolves: its Horſemen too ſhall be abundant; and they ſhall come far off, ſhall fly like an Eagle making haſte to eat.

9. Every one of it ſhall come violently, the ſupping up of their Faces ſhall be eaſtward; and it ſhall gather up Captives as the Sand.

10. Nay it ſhall make mock at Kings, and Princes ſhall be Laughter for it: it ſhall laugh at every ſtrong Hold, and heaping up Earth, take it.

11. Then will the Spirit alter, and it will tranſgreſs, and offend, ſaying this its Power is of its god.

12. Art not thou from Eternity? O Lord my God, my Holy One, we ſhall not die: O Lord, thou haſt put it for Judgment; and, O Rock, thou haſt founded it to reprove.

13. O thou of pure Eyes from ſeeing Evil, and who canſt not behold Grievouſneſs; why doſt thou behold them that are treacherous, art ſilent when the Wicked devours him who is more righteous than himſelf?

14. And makeſt Men like the Fiſhes of the Sea, as the creeping Thing, over whom there is no Governor?

15. Every one of them brings up with the Hook, he gets it together with his Net, and gathers it up with his Caſting-net: therefore he is glad, and rejoices.

16. Therefore he ſacrifices to his Net, and burns incenſe to his Caſting-net; becauſe by them his Portion is groſs, and his Food fat.

17. Shall he therefore empty his Net, and not ſpare to ſlay the Nations continually?

Ver. 1. Habakkuk] whom the Jewiſh Writers, Lightfoot, and Grotius place in the Time of K. Manaſſeh.

Ver. 3. before me] The famous Sixtine and Lovain Editions of the Vulg. Lat. annex here, Why doſt thou behold &c. in Ver. 13. to the End of the 14, with ſome ſmall Variation, beſides their having not to behold there.

Ver. 8. be abundant] the ſame Verb as in Nah. iii. 18. and does not ſignify as rendered in the com. Tranſ.

Ver. 9. ſupping up] panting in carrying the Spoil or Plunder homeward: a Noun, no Verb. Jun. and Trem. render, hauſtu faciei ipſorum Orientem verſus ſpectante, the ſupping up of their Face looking towards the Eaſt; Montan. oppoſitio facierum eorum ad Orientem, their Faces turned to the Eaſt; and Piſcat. explains it, Quicquid aſpexerint &c. Whatever they ſaw which they could take by force, was deſigned to be carried away into Babylon or Chaldea, which was ſituate towards the Eaſt of Judea.

Ib. eaſtward] ה being local as Buxt. ſays in Lexic.

Ver. 10. Earth] for duſt would be of little Service.

Ver. 11. Spirit] or Courage, or Temper, as it may ſignify, rather than Mind.

Ib. alter] Being before excited or ſtirred up by the true God, Ver. 6. will now aſcribe the Power to a falſe one, and ſo tranſgreſs, as the next Verb ſignifies; which Interpretation I believe may be found the beſt, though as far as I know new.

Ver. 12. it] the Chaldean Nation, Ver. 6. as before, the Pronouns being ſingular.

Ib. to reprove] and be for the Judgment of the People of Judah, the Word being the infinitive Mood active.

Ver. 14. like the Fiſhes] ſo that Men may be deſtroyed like them, as in the following Verſe.

Ver. 16. ſacrifices to his Net] the Prophet thus expoſing Idolatry, Ver. 11.

CHAP. II.

I STAND upon my Ward, and place my ſelf upon the Fortification; and watch to ſee what he will ſpeak to me, and what I ſhall reply upon my Reproof.

2. And the Lord makes anſwer to me: Write the Viſion, and declare upon Tables, that he may run who reads in it.

3. For the Viſion is yet for the appointed Time, and it will utter at the End, and not fail: if it ſhould delay, wait for it; though it will actually come, without ſtaying.

4. Behold his Soul is not right in him that is lifted up; but the Righteous ſhall live by his Faith.

5. And much more is he treacherous by Wine, a haughty Man, and does not remain at home; who enlarges his Appetite like the Grave, and he is like Death, being not ſatisfied; and gathers to himſelf all the Nations, and gets together to him all the People.

6. Will not theſe, all of them take up a Proverb againſt him, and the Interpretation of obſcure Expreſſions concerning him, and each ſay, Alas how long he multiplies not for himſelf, and makes the thick Clay heavy upon him!

7. Will not they that bite thee riſe up at an Inſtant, and thoſe who move thee awake, and thou become Plunderings for them?

8. Becauſe thou haſt ſpoiled many Nations, all the reſt of the People ſhall ſpoil thee; for the Blood of Mankind, and the Violence of the Country, the Town and all who dwell in it.

9. Wo be to him that gains an evil Gain to his Houſe, to put his Neſt on high, to be delivered from the Power of Harm:

10. Thou who conſulteſt Shame to thy own Houſe, by cutting off many People, and ſinneſt againſt thy ſelf.

11. For the Stone cries from the Wall, and the Knot from the Wood anſwers it.

12. Wo be to him that builds up a City with Blood, and eſtabliſhes a Town with Iniquity.

13. Is it not behold from the Lord of Armies, that the People ſhall labour for the Fire, and the Nations be tired for what is vain?

14. For the Earth ſhall be full of knowing the Glory of the Lord, as the Waters cover over the Sea.

15. Wo be to him that cauſes his Neighbour to drink, applying thy Bottle, and alſo making drunk; to look upon their Nakedneſs.

16. Thou art filled with Vileneſs more than Glory; drink thou likewiſe, and be ſeen uncircumciſed: the Cup of the Lord's right Hand will be turned upon thee, and vile Vomiting upon thy Glory.

17. Since the Violence of Lebanon ſhall cover thee, and the Waſting of the Beaſts that terrified them; for the Blood of Mankind, and the Violence of the Country, the Town and all who dwell in it.

18. What does the carved Image profit, that its Former carves it; the molten Image, and Teacher of Falſehood, that the Former of its Shape truſts upon it, to make dumb Idols?

19. Wo be to him that ſays to the Wood, Awake; to the ſilent Stone, Sir up: it teaches, behold it is ſpread over with Gold and Silver, but there is no Breath at all within it.

20. But the Lord is in his holy Temple; keep ſilence by reaſon of him, all the Earth.

Ver. 1. to me] or in me, as the Eng. Marg. Pagn. Montan. and Druſius have it; which the latter expounds to be by the Spirit, as 2 Sam. xxiii. 2. ſo the vulg. Lat. has it in Pſa. lxxxv. 8. as from hence, and Gell in Eng. Eſſay, p. 126.

Ib. reply] not the ſame Verb as in the next Verſe.

Ib. my Reproof] made by my Gainſayers or Oppoſers; ſo Munſt. tranſlates, contra correptionem mihi (objectam) againſt the Reproof objected to me: much better than to take it, as moſt I find do, for the Prophet's Reproof to the People, or his Objection to the Providence of God, thus ſuppoſing he was to anſwer himſelf.

Ver. 2. makes anſwer] for will ſtand and anſwered in the com. Tranſ. are very unſuitable.

Ver. 3. though] becauſe making it abſurd.

Ver. 5. a haughty Man] a Babylonian or Chaldean, and particularly Nebuchadnezzar, Dan. iv. 30.

Ib. the Grave] fitter than Hell to agree with Death, and according to Prov. xxx. 16. where it is alſo the ſame Word; and ſuch might be ſaid of Heaven as well as Hell.

Ver. 6. Interpretation] This Word is beſides only in Prov. i. 6. where it is ſo tranſlated.

Ver. 7. they] the Medes and Perſians.

Ver. 13. for the Fire] by building up what would be burnt, Ver. 12. Jun. and Trem. render it the ſame, pro igne; and Grotius gives this for the Meaning of it, fiet ut Chaldæi iſta Babylonis opera flammæ paraverint, it ſhall come to paſs that the Chaldeans have prepared thoſe Works of Babylon for the Fire; Piſcat. the like; which the parallel Place, Jer. li. 58. may alſo ſhew: and here is no more very than there; of which ſee Buxt. Lex. and Druſ. Lect.

Ib. Nations] not the ſame as before rendered People.

Ver. 16. more than] which the Heb. Prepoſition means, and not for that ſignifies inſtead of.

Ib. ſeen] from the Verb in the Ver. before. With the old Lat. be laid faſt aſleep, as if the Letters ע and ר were tranſpoſed, but then wrong.

Ver. 17. Violence of Lebanon] ſuch as Nebuchadnezzar did to Lebanon, whoſe fine Cedars, I ſuppoſe, were cut down for his vaſt Buildings; rather than the Temple was meant by it, or any other forced Interpretation.

Ib. Waſting] ſuch as the Beaſts ſuffered there by Hunting.

Ver. 19. it teaches] that it is dumb and dead, Jun. the great Partition being before.

CHAP. III.

A PRAYER of the Prophet Habakkuk upon the variable Poems.

2. O Lord, on hearing the Report of thee, I was afraid: revive thy Work it ſelf, O Lord, within the Years, make it known within them: remember Compaſſion in Diſturbance.

3. God came from Teman, and the Holy One from Mount Paran; a Pauſe: his Majeſty covered the Heaven, and his Praiſe filled the Earth.

4. The Brightneſs was even like the very Light, he had two Horns out from his Hand; and there was hidden his Power.

5. The Peſtilence went before him, and burning Coals did go forth at his Feet.

6. He ſtood, and meaſured the Earth; he looked, and looſened the Nations; and the perpetual Mountains were diſperſed, the ancient Hills bended: his Goings have been everlaſting.

7. I ſaw the Tents of Cuſhan repreſenting what is in vain, the Curtains of the Country of Midian were moved.

8. Was the Lord incenſed at the Rivers? Was thy Anger againſt them? Or thy Wrath againſt the Sea; that thou didſt ride upon thy Horſes, thy Chariots of Salvation?

9. Thy Bow was made quite bare, for the Oaths to the Tribes, the Word; a Pauſe: thou didſt cleave the Earth with Rivers.

10. The Mountains ſeeing thee, ſhook; the overflowing Storm of Waters paſſed: the Gulf gave forth its Voice, lifted up its Hands on high.

11. The Sun, the Moon ſtood ſtill in the Habitation; in the Light thy Arrows went, in the Shining thy glittering Spear.

12. With Indignation thou marchedſt through the Country, in Anger didſt thou threſh the Nations.

13. Thou wenteſt forth for the Salvation of thy People, for Salvation to thy anointed one: thou ſmoteſt the Head who was of the Family of the Wicked, by making bare the Foundation to the Neck. A Pauſe.

Ver. 1. variable] See Pſa. vii. 1.

Ver. 2. within the Years] of Judah's Captivity; but this to be in the midſt of them, not at all neceſſary, and to be only then much worſe.

Ib. it ſelf] denoted as here by the Heb. though left out of the Eng. ſo that it is not redundant, much leſs not agreeable to Senſe, notwithſtanding Green aſſerts both; therefore adds for to thy Work, and joins it to the foregoing Verb acroſs the Heb. Partition, calling it le as elſewhere inſtead of el, and expounding thy Work to be the People of God.

Ver. 3. Teman] a Country of the Edomites, as Jerome ſays on Am. i. 12. ſee alſo Jer. xlix. 7, 20. Ezek. xxv. 13. Obad. 9. in which I ſuppoſe Sinai was; and ſo it will accord with Deut. xxxiii. 2. whence the Matter, and ſome of the Expreſſion, as Grotius remarks, is taken.

Ver. 4. even] Green in his New Tranſ. 1755, writes, 'The Vau, and, is redundant in Senſe before venogah;' which might better be denied, than aſſerted, as ſo; and when rendered even, is nervous and elegant. He adds, 'and wanting after it;' but amidſt his four times, one might more ſublimely be omitted in ſuch lofty Language, as may be tried in the Tranſ. nay the Brightneſs was rather that of the Majeſty, than of God himſelf who was not viſible, Deut. iv. 12, 15. He accounts for it thus, 'Who 'then can doubt but that it was firſt dropped in tranſcribing, and then placed in the Margin; and afterwards 'prefixed to it inſtead of being affixed;' on the contrary how is it credible, but that if ו had been miſſed, it would far more likely have been interlined than put in the Margin? If we leave out i in writing, though heighten'd with a Tittle, do we place it in the Marg. and would a Scribe do it on Purpoſe to deface his Copy the more? If he had done ſuch an improbable Thing, would not he have made a Caret or Mark where it ſhould be inſerted? Or when Tranſcribing was a Trade like Printing, did not they know how to do it? He that will ſwallow ſuch a Bait as the foregoing, may be caught with the new Infidel Hook; and with this Author revere Father Houbigant, as he calls him in the next Page, tho' the primitive Proteſtants would not, I preſume, have given that Title to the very Pope. This indeed is of no great Moment, but when inſinuated, greater follows of another vau in Job (for which the preſent Edition was too far printed before I knew of it) nay the rejecting ten Engliſh Words together, p. 24. To conclude, our kind Critick refutes this himſelf by ſubjoining, 'the conſtructive Form of the 'Word being changed into the abſolute:' for if ſo, there was more done than miſplacing the vau, and this wilfully as well as that by Miſtake; which is not to be pretended, when the Form of the Word alone would have prevented the Miſtake.

Ib. two Horns] the Word being the dual Number, as Dan. viii. 6. and might be the two Tables of Stone (looking like Horns) on which God wrote the ten Commandments, and delivered them out of his Hand to Moſes, Exod. xxxi. 18. Thoſe Criticks who reckon them Rays, proclaim their own Ignorance notably.

Ver. 6. meaſured the Earth] to give a ſuitable ſufficient Part of it to Iſrael.

Ib. Mountains were diſperſed] their Fortifications and high Walls being demoliſhed, Num. xiii. 28, 29. Deut. i. 28.

Ib. bended] were ſubjected to the Iſraelites; and there is no Neceſſity to underſtand by the Mountains and Hills the People of them, nay the Repreſentation is more grand otherwiſe.

Ver. 7. I ſaw] The Prophet himſelf ſeeing it mentally, and ſo ſpeaking it of himſelf as in Ver. 16, 18, 19. rather than perſonating Iſrael, according to others.

Ib. repreſenting what is in vain] Heb. inſtead of Vanity, never affliction.

Ver. 9. for] to as well as according ſhould be Italick in the com. Tranſ.

Ib. with Rivers] according to Exod. xvii. 6. Num. xx. 11. Pſa. cv. 41.

Ver. 11. in the Light] of the Sun ſtanding ſtill, as Hervey obſerves in his Meditat. Vol. ii. p. 212. in which Manner likewiſe Jun. and Trem. with Druſius, tranſlate and expound it; and not as if the Sun and Moon wanted the Light of the Arrows to go by: nor is there any Pronoun for they in Heb.

Ib. in the Shining] It being elegant without the Copulative and, as Buxtorf produces it for an Example, with Judg. v. 27. Exod. xv. 9. in Vind. p. 828.

Ver. 13. for Salvation to thy anointed one] The ſixth

14. In his Tribes didſt thou pierce the Head of his Towns, that were tempeſtuous to diſperſe me: their triumphing was as it were to conſume the Afflicted in a lurking Place.

15. Thou trodeſt in the Sea with thy Horſes, the Heap of much Water.

16. When I heard, my Inſide was moved, my Lips quivered at the Voice, Rottenneſs came into my Bones, and I was moved in my Seat; who ſhall reſt at the Time of Diſtreſs, at his coming up againſt the People that will invade them with Troops.

17. Though the Fig-tree ſhould not bloſſom, and there be no Increaſe in the Vines, the Work of the Olive-tree fail, and Food be not yielded by the Fields, the Flock be cut off from the Fold, and there be no Herd in the Stalls;

18. Yet I will triumph through the Lord, will rejoice through the God of my Salvation.

19. The Sovereign Lord is my Force, and he makes my Feet as the Hinds, and cauſes me to tread upon my high Places. For the chief Muſician on my ſtriking Inſtruments.

Gr. Edit. διὰ Ἰησοῦν Χριστὸν σε for thy Jeſus Chriſt, which nearly anſwers to the Heb.

Ib. anointed one] Joſhua ſtrictly, Ver. 11. The Aſſembly, one may perceive, were put to it in their Annotations, though Learned Divines thereunto appointed, as ſaid in their Title-page, to know whether anointed was ſing. or plur.

Ib. the Head] This I interpret to be King Jabin, Joſh. xi. 1, 10.

Ib. who was of] Green M. A. of Cambridge declares, 'No Senſe can be made of this, unleſs we ſuppoſe that the 'mem before bet belongs to the next Word, and that the 'two Words ſhould be read bet reſayim, the Houſe of the 'Wicked.' But even in our com. Bib. it is only for one to be underſtood before out of to be the ſame as he makes it with of alone; and mem prefixed to a Noun properly ſignifies one of ſing. as here after Head, or ſome of plur. like ex in Lat. though it ſeems apparent that Engliſh Tranſlators have been ignorant of this; yet ſince Head next before one might ſound like an Adjective to it, I have ſubſtituted who was as more explicit. Mem alſo would not belong properly to Wicked, neither has this Writer put it in his bet reſayim.

Ib. making bare the Foundation] depopulating and pillaging the Country, Joſh. xi. 14.

Ib. the Foundation] The New-England Metre after the Pſalms adds to, making downright Nonſenſe thus,

——————to the foundation
Was to the neck diſcovered.

Ib. the Neck] The City of Hazor, Ver. 11. as I ſuppoſe. Jun. and Trem. join to the Neck with Wicked, which the Heb. Pointing does not permit. And Green renders, thou raſedſt the Foundation even to the Rock, by altering yarot (in his Manner) into yarita, and zavver into zur. Confutation enough of it ſelf.

Ver. 14. his Tribes] For this Green has thy Scepter, ſuppoſing the plur. ſhould be ſing. which muſt be by taking away a Letter, and as he adds, 'affixing to it Caph final 'inſtead of Vau,' that is כ for ו 'which two Letters, he 'ſays, have frequently been miſtaken for each other;' but I appeal to ocular Demonſtration, whether this is not quite incredible, in a Language eſpecially that requires particular Care of miſtaking ſome Letters for others.

Ib. Tribes] the ſame as in Ver. 9. and his ſhews it not to be ſtaves; ſee alſo Dieu.

Ib. me] By Green, us: for ſays he, 'I conclude that 'the jod was originally vau.' Whereas vau would make his not us, nor is it the jod only that makes me. This is one of the great Criticks that attacks our Heb. Bible, not an anonymous Scribbler, nor a mere Writer for a Bookſeller.

Ib. in a lurking Place] by Ambuſcade.

Ver. 16. who] This Word is the next after the Heb. grand Partition of the Ver. 'Where, ſays Green, all the 'Commentators are puzzled what to make of it;' but this is the proper Meaning of the Word, and ſurely who may be of the firſt Perſon, then let the Senſe ſpeak for it ſelf: whereas our Critick has added to it to make it my Steps, and put the latter Word for a Nominative Caſe to the foregoing Verb, which for that Purpoſe he was to alter from the 1ſt Perſon ſing. of the fut. Tenſe to the 3d Perſon plur. of the paſt Tenſe; but tirgaz, that he has ſubſtituted, would be ſingular and future, either of the 2d or 3d Perſ. if any Thing. He tranſlates on in another Period, Oh that I may be at Reſt, while the Heb. has Nothing at all to ſignify or denote Oh.

Ib. his] the Enemy's, as Jun. and Trem. add in the Text, and others expound it: the Chaldean againſt the People of Judah.

NOTES

NOTES upon the BOOK of ZEPHANIAH.

CHAP. I.

THE Lord's Commiſſion which Zephaniah had, the Son of Cuſhi, the Son of Gedaliah, the Son of Amariah, the Son of Hezekiah, in the Time of Joſiah, the Son of Amon, King of Judah.

2. I will quite take away all Things from the Surface of the Ground, ſays the Lord.

3. I will take away Man and Beaſt, I will take away the Fowl of the Air and the Fiſh of the Sea, as alſo the Stumbling-blocks with the Wicked; and will cut off Man from the Surface of the Ground, ſays the Lord.

4. For I will ſtretch out my Hand againſt Judah, and all the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem; and will cut off from this Place the Remainder of Baal, the Name of the black ones with the Prieſts;

5. And thoſe who bow down upon the Roofs to the Army of Heaven, as likewiſe them that bow down ſwearing both to the Lord, and by Malcam;

6. With ſuch as are turned back from after the Lord, and thoſe that do not aſk for the Lord, nor ſeek him.

7. Keep ſilence by reaſon of the Sovereign Lord: for the Day of the Lord is near, for the Lord has ordered the Sacrifice, has prepared his Gueſts.

8. And in the Day of the Lord's Sacrifice, I will puniſh the Princes, and the King's Children, and all who are cloathed with ſtrange Cloathing.

9. I will alſo puniſh every one that leaps over the Threſhold on that Day, thoſe who fill the Houſe of their Maſters with Violence and Deceit.

10. And there ſhall be on that Day, ſays the Lord, the Noiſe of a Cry from the Fiſh-gate, and of a Lamentation from the ſecond, and of a great Breaking from the Hills.

11. Lament, O Inhabitants of the Cavity, becauſe all the People of the Dealer ſhall periſh, all who carry Money ſhall be cut off.

12. And at that Time I will ſearch Jeruſalem with Lamps, and puniſh the Men that are become thick upon their Lees, who ſay in their Heart, The Lord does neither Good nor Harm.

13. So that their Wealth ſhall be plundered, and their Houſes deſolate: they ſhall alſo build Houſes, and not inhabit; as likewiſe plant Vineyards, and not drink the Wine of them.

14. The great Day of the Lord is near, it is near and very ſpeedy, the Voice of the Lord's Day, the powerful one ſhall cry bitterly there.

15. A Day of Fury ſhall that Day be, a Day of Diſtreſs and Streightneſs, a Day of Waſting and Devaſtation, a Day of Darkneſs and Dimneſs, a Day of Clouds and Obſcurity;

16. A Day of the Trumpet and Sound, both againſt the fortified Cities, and the high Corners.

17. And I will diſtreſs Mankind, ſo that they ſhall walk like the Blind, becauſe they ſin againſt the Lord; nay their Blood ſhall be poured out as Duſt, and their Fleſh as Dung.

18. Both their Silver and Gold ſhall not be able to deliver them in the Day of the Lord's Fury, but with the Fire of his Zeal

---

Ver. 1. Hezekiah] The Name is the ſame with that of the noted King of Judah who is ſo called.

Ver. 2. quite take away] The Heb. Verb in the firſt Perſon might be doubtful, whether it means I will gather up or take away from אסף or elſe I will finiſh or conſume from סוף but that the Duplication of it in the infinitive Mood after the Heb. Manner, expreſſed here by quite, evidently ſhews the former; as alſo Jun. and Trem. Druſ. Lewis de Dieu, and the old Lat. Tranſ. render; and Buxtorf puts it in Theſ. Gram. Lib. i. Cap. 15. with Mercer on Pagnine's Lex. nay סוף has no Hiphil at all, excepting the controverted Words, but אסף has, in which Conjugation thoſe Words are agreed to be; and ſuch doubling of a Verb is frequent, but not joining different ones in that Manner, and the infinite Verb is undeniably from אסף which may be very ſufficient for clearing this ſo great a Doubt.

Ver. 5. Malcam] See 1 King. xi. 5, 7.

Ver. 7. prepared] The Heb. Word does not ſignify bid, even not as being the old Word for invited here.

Ver. 9. leaps over] in Imitation probably of Dagon's Worſhippers, 1 Sam. v. 5. who might count ſtepping over the Threſhold to be common going, and that it was not ſufficiently miſſed without leaping over it; ſee Grot. An.

Ver. 15. Waſting and Devaſtation] The Heb. Words are ſhoah and meſhoah, and mean as tranſlated.

CHAP. II.

GATHER up your ſelves, even gather up, O Nation not longed for:

2. Before the Day to bring forth the Decree is paſſed away like Chaff; while yet the Lord's fervent Anger comes not on you; while yet the Day of the Lord's Anger does not come upon you.

3. Seek the Lord, all the Meek of the Earth, who perform his Judgment; ſeek for Righteouſneſs, ſeek after Meekneſs: perhaps you will be hid on the Day of the Lord's Anger.

4. For Gaza ſhall be left, and Aſhkelon be deſolate: as for Aſhdod, they ſhall drive her out at Noon, and Ekron ſhall be rooted up.

5. Wo be to the Inhabitants of the Sea-coaſt, the Nation of the Cherethites: the Word of the Lord is againſt you, O Canaan, the Country of the Philiſtines; and I will cauſe thee to periſh, by having no Inhabitant.

6. And the Sea-coaſt ſhall be Folds, the Ditches of Shepherds, and the Fences of Flocks.

7. The Coaſt alſo ſhall be for the Reſidue of the Family of Judah, they ſhall feed upon them; ſhall lie down in the Houſes of Aſhkelon in the Evening: for the Lord their God will viſit them, and turn back their Captivity.

8. I hear the Reproach of Moab, and the Revilings of the Ammonites, with which they reproach my People, and magnify themſelves againſt their Bounds.

9. Therefore by my living, ſays the Lord of Armies the God of Iſrael, Moab ſhall be like Sodom, and the Ammonites like Gomorrah, a forſaken Place of Nettles, Pits of Salt, and be deſolate for ever: the Reſidue of my People ſhall prey upon them, and the reſt of my Nation poſſeſs them.

10. This ſhall they have for their Pride; becauſe they reproach, and magnify themſelves againſt the People of the Lord of Armies.

11. The Lord will be terrible againſt them, for he will make all the gods of the Earth lean; and all the Iſles of the Nations ſhall bow down to him from their reſpective Places.

12. You alſo, O Ethiopians, are thoſe who ſhall be pierced through with my Sword.

13. And he will ſtretch out his Hand againſt the North, will cauſe Aſſyria to periſh, and make Nineveh deſolate, a dry Place like a Wilderneſs.

14. So the Herds ſhall lie down within it, every Beaſt of the Nation; both the Pelican and Bittern ſhall lodge on its Balls: the Voice ſhall ſing in the Window, Waſting ſhall be on the Threſhold, for he will make bare the Cedar of it.

15. This ſhall be the triumphing City which is ſituate ſecurely, that ſays in its Heart, I am, and there is none elſe but I: how ſhall it become deſolate, a Place for Beaſts to lie down in! every one paſſing by it ſhall hiſs, ſhall ſhake his Hand.

CHAP. III.

WO be to that which is ſhewn, and polluted, the oppreſſing City.

2. It hearkens not to what is ſaid, it does not receive Inſtruction, truſts not in the Lord, comes not near to its God.

Ib. City] Jeruſalem by what follows, and as Interpreters are agreed.

Ver. 2. Inſtruction] as at the 7th Ver. which one may wonder ſhould be turned otherwiſe in the com. Tranſ. when joined with the ſame Verb.

3. Its Princes within it are as roaring Lions; its Judges as evening Wolves, that break not the Bones till the Morning.

4. The Prophets of it are unſtedfaſt, Men of Treacheries: its Prieſts profane the holy Place, they do violence to the Law.

5. The righteous Lord is within it, he will do no Iniquity: each Morning he gives his Judgment for Light, he is not lacking; but the Unjuſt knows not Shame.

6. I did cut off the Nations, their Corners were deſolate, I made their Streets waſte, by being without a Paſſenger: their Cities are deſtitute; by being without a Man, by having no Inhabitant.

7. I ſaid, Verily thou ſhouldeſt fear me, ſhouldeſt receive Inſtruction; that its Habitation might not be cut off, in all that I puniſhed it: ſurely riſing early, they corrupted all their Deeds.

8. Therefore wait you for me, ſays the Lord, till the Day of my riſing up to the Prey: for my Judgment is to gather the Nations, to get me together the Kingdoms, to pour out upon them my Indignation, all my fervent Anger; ſince all the Earth ſhall be.conſumed with the Fire of my Zeal.

9. For then will I turn a pure Language to the People; for all of them to call on the Name of the Lord, to ſerve him as with one Shoulder.

10. From the Side of the Rivers of Ethiopia, my Supplicators, the Daughter of my diſperſed ones ſhall bring my Preſent.

11. On that Day thou ſhalt not be aſhamed of all thy Deeds, with which thou rebelleſt againſt me: for then will I take away from within thee, thoſe that triumph in thy Haughtineſs; and thou ſhalt be lofty again no more for my holy Mountain.

12. And I will leave within thee an afflicted and poor People; and they ſhall truſt in the Name of the Lord.

13. The Reſidue of Iſrael ſhall not do Iniquity, nor ſpeak Lying; neither ſhall there be found in their Mouth a deceitful Tongue: but they ſhall feed, lie down, and none make afraid.

14. Sing, O Daughter of Zion, ſound forth, O Iſrael: be glad and triumph with the whole Heart, Daughter of Jeruſalem.

15. The Lord will take away thy Judgments, will turn away thy Enemy: the King of Iſrael, the Lord is within thee; thou ſhalt ſee Evil no more.

16. On that Day it ſhall be ſaid to Jeruſalem, Do not fear; to Zion, Let not thy Hands be ſlack.

17. The Lord thy God, powerful within thee, will ſave: he will be joyful for thee with Gladneſs, he will be ſilent with his Love, will rejoice for thee with Singing.

18. I will gather up thoſe that are of thee, who are ſorrowful for the ſolemn Aſſembly, for the Burden upon it, the Reproach.

19. Behold I will manage all who afflict thee at that Time; and will ſave the Lame, and gather together the Expelled, making them be praiſed, and famous in all the Country of their Shame.

20. At that Time will I bring you, even at the Time of my gathering you together: for I will cauſe you to be famous, and be praiſed among all the People of the Earth, when I turn back your Captivities before your Eyes, ſays the Lord.

NOTES upon the BOOK of HAGGAI.

CHAP. I.

IN the ſecond Year of King Darius, on the firſt Day of the ſixth Month, there was the Lord's Commiſſion by the Miniſtry of the Prophet Haggai, to Zerubbabel the Son of Shealtiel Magiſtrate of Judah, and to Joſhua the Son of Jehozadak the high Prieſt, as follows:

2. Thus ſpeaks the Lord of Armies, ſaying; This People ſay, The Time is not come, the Time for the Houſe of the Lord to be built.

3. So the Lord's Commiſſion was by the Miniſtry of the Prophet Haggai, in this manner:

4. Is it a Time for you your ſelves to dwell in your covered Houſes, and this Houſe be waſte?

5. And now thus ſays the Lord of Armies; Set your Mind upon your Ways.

6. You ſow much, and there is little coming; you eat, and none are ſatisfied; you drink, and none ſufficiently; are cloathed, and none have Heat: and he who gets himſelf Hire, does it into a Bag made with Holes.

7. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; Set your Mind upon your Ways.

8. Go up the Mountain, bring Wood, and build the Houſe; which I will take delight in, and will be glorified, ſays the Lord.

9. Looking for much, behold there is little; ſo that you bring home, when I have blown on it:- for what reaſon? ſays the Lord of Armies; by reaſon of my Houſe which is waſte, while you are running each to his own Houſe.

10. Therefore above you the Heaven is ſhut up from Dew, as is the Earth from its Increaſe.

11. Since I call for Waſting upon the Earth, particularly upon the Mountains, as alſo upon the Corn, and upon the Wine, and upon the Oil, and upon that which the Ground brings forth; nay, upon Man, and upon Beaſt, and upon all the Labour of the Hands.

12. And Zerubbabel the Son of Shaltiel, Joſhua the Son of Jehozadak the high Prieſt, and all the Reſidue of the People hearkened to what the Lord their God ſaid, and the Words of the Prophet Haggai, as the Lord their God ſent him; and the People were afraid by reaſon of the Lord.

13. Whereupon Haggai the Meſſenger of the Lord, ſpoke in the Lord's Meſſage to the People thus, I am with you, ſays the Lord.

14. Then the Lord ſtirred up the Spirit of Zerubbabel the Son of Shaltiel Magiſtrate of Judah, and the Spirit of Joſhua the Son of Jehozadak the high Prieſt, with the Spirit of all the Reſidue of the People; ſo that they came, and did the Work in the Houſe of the Lord of Armies their God;

15. On the twenty fourth Day of the ſixth Month, in the ſecond Year of King Darius.

CHAP. II.

ON the twenty firſt of the ſeventh Month, there was the Lord's Commiſſion by the Miniſtry of the Prophet Haggai as follows:

2. Speak now to Zerubbabel the Son of Shaltiel Magiſtrate of Judah, to Joſhua the Son of Jehozadak the high Prieſt, and the Reſidue of the People, in this manner;

3. Who is left among you that ſaw this Houſe in its former Glory? And what do you ſee it now? Is it not in compariſon of that as Nothing in your Sight?

4. Yet now be ſtrong, Zerubbabel, ſays the Lord; and be ſtrong, Joſhua the Son of Jehozadak the high Prieſt; be ſtrong too, all the People of the Country, ſays the Lord, and be doing: for I am with you, ſays the Lord of Armies.

5. With the Word which I confirmed to you when you came out of Egypt, and my Spirit remaining within you, do not fear.

6. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies; It ſhall be yet once a little while, when I will move the Heaven, Earth, Sea and dry Land.

7. And when I have moved all Nations, the Deſirable of all Nations ſhall come; and I will fill this Houſe with Glory, ſays the Lord of Armies.

Ver. 1. Darius] See Zech. i. 1. Ezr. iv. 24. & v. 1.

8. The Silver is mine, and the Gold is mine, ſays the Lord of Armies.

9. The Glory of this latter Houſe ſhall be greater than that of the former, ſays the Lord of Armies; and I will give Peace in this Place, ſays the Lord of Armies.

10. On the twenty fourth Day of the ninth Month, in the ſecond Year of Darius, there was the Lord's Commiſſion by the Miniſtry of the Prophet Haggai as follows:

11. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; Aſk now the Prieſts the Law, ſaying,

12. Behold a Man who bears holy Fleſh in the Skirt of his Garment, or touches with his Skirt Bread, Broth, Wine, Oil, or any Food, is it holy? And the Prieſts made anſwer, No.

13. And Haggai ſaid, If any one unclean by a dead Body touch any of theſe, is it unclean? And the Prieſts made anſwer, It is.

14. Haggai then made reply: So is this People, and ſo is this Nation before me, ſays the Lord, ſo likewiſe is all the Work of their Hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15. And now do apply your Mind from this Day upward, till before one Stone was put on another in the Temple of the Lord.

16. Since thoſe were, come to a Heap of twenty, and there were but ten; come to a Wine-preſs to draw fifty out of the Preſs, and there were but twenty.

17. Smite you as I did with Blaſting, Blight and Hail, in all the Works of your Hands; none of you would be mine, ſays the Lord.

18. Do apply your Mind from this Day upward, from the twenty fourth Day of the ninth, till the Day that the Foundation of the Lord's Temple was laid, apply your Mind.

19. Is the Seed yet in the Barn? And it is while the Wine, Fig, Pomegranate, and Olive Tree does not bear: from this Day will I bleſs.

20. And Haggai had the Lord's Commiſſion again, on the twenty fourth of the Month thus:

21. Say as follows to Zerubbabel Magiſtrate of Judah; I will move the Heaven and the Earth.

22. So that I will overthrow the Throne of the Kingdoms, and deſtroy the Strength of the Kingdoms of the Nations; I will alſo overthrow the Chariot and its Riders, and the Horſes and their Riders ſhall come down, by the Sword of one another.

23. At that Time, ſays the Lord of Armies, will I take thee, my Servant Zerubbabel the Son of Shealtiel, ſays the Lord, and will put thee as a Seal: for I have choſen thee, ſays the Lord of Armies.

Ver. 14. there] before me, as I think, with De Dieu.

NOTES upon the BOOK of ZECHARIAH.

CHAP. I.

IN the eighteenth Month, in the ſecond Year of Darius, Zechariah the Son of Berechiah, the Son of Iddo, the Prophet, had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. The Lord has been quite in a Wrath againſt your Fathers.

3. And declare thou to them; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, Return to me, ſays the Lord of Armies; and I will return to you, ſays the Lord of Armies.

4. Be not like your Fathers, to whom the former Prophets called, ſaying; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, Return now from your evil Ways, and your evil Doings: but they would not hear, nor hearken to me, ſays the Lord.

5. Where are thoſe Fathers of yours? And do the Prophets live for ever?

6. But did not my Words and Ordinances, which I commanded my Servants the Prophets, reach your Fathers? So that they returned, and ſaid, As the Lord of Armies thought to do to us, according to our Ways and Doings, ſo has he dealt with us.

7. On the twenty fourth Day of the eleventh Month, which is the Month of Shebat, in the ſecond Year of Darius, Zechariah, the Son of Berechiah, the Son of Iddo, the Prophet, had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

8. I ſaw plainly at Night, that there was a Man riding upon a red Horſe, and he ſtood among the Myrtle-trees which were in the Deep; and behind him were red, diverſe-coloured, and white Horſes.

9. And I aſked, What are theſe, my Lord? And the Angel who talked with me ſaid to me, I will ſhew thee what they are.

10. Upon this the Man that ſtood among the Myrtle-trees made anſwer, Theſe are they whom the Lord has ſent to go about on the Earth.

11. And they made reply to the Angel of the Lord that ſtood among the Myrtle-trees, We have gone about on the Earth; and behold all the Earth ſits ſtill, and is quiet.

12. Then the Angel of the Lord ſpoke in this manner, O Lord of Armies, how long wilt thou not have compaſſion upon Jeruſalem and the Cities of Judah, with which thou haſt had Indignation theſe ſeventy Years?

13. And the Lord anſwered the Angel who ſpoke to me with good Words, with comfortable ones:

14. Moreover the Angel who talked with me ſaid to me: Call as follows; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, I am zealous for Jeruſalem and Zion, with great Zeal.

15. And with great Wrath am I in a Wrath againſt the Nations that are at Eaſe; becauſe I being in a Wrath a little, they helped towards the Harm.

16. Therefore thus ſays the Lord, I will return to Jeruſalem with Compaſſions: my Houſe ſhall be built in it, ſays the Lord of Armies; and a Meaſuring-line ſhall be ſtretched out upon Jeruſalem.

17. Call yet as follows; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, My Cities ſhall yet be diſperſed by reaſon of Proſperity; and the Lord will yet comfort Zion, and yet chooſe Jeruſalem.

18. And looking up, I ſaw plainly that there were four Horns.

19. So I enquired of the Angel who talked with me, What are theſe? And he ſaid to me, Theſe are the Horns which have ſcattered Judah, Iſrael and Jeruſalem.

20. Next the Lord ſhewed me four Artificers.

21. And I aſked, What come theſe to do? Then he ſaid thus, Thoſe being the Horns which have ſcattered Judah, as if no Man ſhould lift up his Head; theſe come to make them afraid, to caſt down the Horns of the Nations, that lift up the Horn at the Country of Judah, to ſcatter it.

10. On the twenty fourth Day of the ninth Month, in the ſecond Year of Darius, there was the Lord's Commiſſion by the Miniſtry of the Prophet Haggai as follows:

11. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; Aſk now the Prieſts the Law, ſaying,

12. Behold a Man who bears holy Fleſh in the Skirt of his Garment, or touches with his Skirt Bread, Broth, Wine, Oil, or any Food, is it holy? And the Prieſts made anſwer, No.

13. And Haggai ſaid, If any one unclean by a dead Body touch any of theſe, is it unclean? And the Prieſts made anſwer, It is.

14. Haggai then made reply: So is this People, and ſo is this Nation before me, ſays the Lord, ſo likewiſe is all the Work of their Hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15. And now do apply your Mind from this Day upward, till before one Stone was put on another in the Temple of the Lord.

16. Since thoſe were, come to a Heap of twenty, and there were but ten; come to a Wine-preſs to draw fifty out of the Preſs, and there were but twenty.

17. Smite you as I did with Blaſting, Blight and Hail, in all the Works of your Hands; none of you would be mine, ſays the Lord.

18. Do apply your Mind from this Day upward, from the twenty fourth Day of the ninth, till the Day that the Foundation of the Lord's Temple was laid, apply your Mind.

19. Is the Seed yet in the Barn? And it is while the Wine, Fig, Pomegranate, and Olive Tree does not bear: from this Day will I bleſs.

20. And Haggai had the Lord's Commiſſion again, on the twenty fourth of the Month thus:

21. Say as follows to Zerubbabel Magiſtrate of Judah; I will move the Heaven and the Earth.

22. So that I will overthrow the Throne of the Kingdoms, and deſtroy the Strength of the Kingdoms of the Nations; I will alſo overthrow the Chariot and its Riders, and the Horſes and their Riders ſhall come down, by the Sword of one another.

NOTES upon the BOOK of ZECHARIAH.

CHAP. I.

IN the eighteenth Month, in the ſecond Year of Darius, Zechariah the Son of Berechiah, the Son of Iddo, the Prophet, had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

2. The Lord has been quite in a Wrath againſt your Fathers.

3. And declare thou to them; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, Return to me, ſays the Lord of Armies; and I will return to you, ſays the Lord of Armies.

4. Be not like your Fathers, to whom the former Prophets called, ſaying; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, Return now from your evil Ways, and your evil Doings: but they would not hear, nor hearken to me, ſays the Lord.

5. Where are thoſe Fathers of yours? And do the Prophets live for ever?

6. But did not my Words and Ordinances, which I commanded my Servants the Prophets, reach your Fathers? So that they returned, and ſaid, As the Lord of Armies thought to do to us, according to our Ways and Doings, ſo has he dealt with us.

7. On the twenty fourth Day of the eleventh Month, which is the Month of Shebat, in the ſecond Year of Darius, Zechariah, the Son of Berechiah, the Son of Iddo, the Prophet, had the Lord's Commiſſion thus:

8. I ſaw plainly at Night, that there was a Man riding upon a red Horſe, and he ſtood among the Myrtle-trees which were in the Deep; and behind him were red, diverſe-coloured, and white Horſes.

9. And I aſked, What are theſe, my Lord? And the Angel who talked with me ſaid to me, I will ſhew thee what they are.

10. Upon this the Man that ſtood among the Myrtle-trees made anſwer, Theſe are they whom the Lord has ſent to go about on the Earth.

11. And they made reply to the Angel of the Lord that ſtood among the Myrtle-trees, We have gone about on the Earth; and behold all the Earth ſits ſtill, and is quiet.

12. Then the Angel of the Lord ſpoke in this manner, O Lord of Armies, how long wilt thou not have compaſſion upon Jeruſalem and the Cities of Judah, with which thou haſt had Indignation theſe ſeventy Years?

13. And the Lord anſwered the Angel who ſpoke to me with good Words, with comfortable ones:

15. And with great Wrath am I in a Wrath againſt the Nations that are at Eaſe; becauſe I being in a Wrath a little, they helped towards the Harm.

16. Therefore thus ſays the Lord, I will return to Jeruſalem with Compaſſions: my Houſe ſhall be built in it, ſays the Lord of Armies; and a Meaſuring-line ſhall be ſtretched out upon Jeruſalem.

17. Call yet as follows; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, My Cities ſhall yet be diſperſed by reaſon of Proſperity; and the Lord will yet comfort Zion, and yet chooſe Jeruſalem.

18. And looking up, I ſaw plainly that there were four Horns.

19. So I enquired of the Angel who talked with me, What are theſe? And he ſaid to me, Theſe are the Horns which have ſcattered Judah, Iſrael and Jeruſalem.

CHAP. II.

AGAIN looking up, I ſaw clearly that there was a Man with a Meaſuring-line in his Hand.

2. At which I ſaid, Whither art thou going? Who anſwered me, To meaſure Jeruſalem, to ſee how much its Breadth is, and how much the Length of it.

3. Now behold the Angel who ſpoke to me went forth, as did another Angel to meet him,

4. And ſaid to him; Run, ſpeak thus to this young Man, Thoſe of Jeruſalem ſhall inhabit the Towns, by reaſon of the Multitude of Men and Beaſts within it.

5. Nay I will be to it, ſays the Lord, a Wall of Fire round about, and will be for Glory within it.

6. Ho, ho, even flee from the Country of the North, ſays the Lord, though I have ſpread you abroad as the four Winds of Heaven, ſays the Lord.

7. Ho, Zion, deliver thy ſelf, thou Inhabitant with the Daughter of Babylon.

8. For thus ſays the Lord of Armies, who after the Glory, ſends me to the Nations that ſpoiled you; ſince he who touches you, touches the Apple of his Eye:

9. For behold I will ſhake my Hand againſt them, and they ſhall be a Spoil to their Servants; ſo you ſhall know that the Lord of Armies has ſent me.

10. Sing, and be glad, O Daughter of Zion: for behold I will come, and dwell within thee, ſays the Lord.

11. Beſides many Nations ſhall cleave to the Lord at that Time, and become a People to me: and I will dwell within thee; ſo thou ſhalt know that the Lord of Armies has ſent me to thee.

12. Thus the Lord will poſſeſs Judah his Portion upon the holy Ground: and will yet chooſe Jeruſalem.

13. Keep ſilence, all Fleſh, at the Preſence of the Lord: for he is ſtirred up out of his holy Habitation.

CHAP. III.

AND he ſhewed me Joſhua the high Prieſt, ſtanding before the Angel of the Lord; and Satan ſtanding at his right Hand to oppoſe him.

2. But the Lord ſaid to Satan, The Lord rebuke thee, Satan; even the Lord, who chooſes Jeruſalem, rebuke thee: Is not this a Firebrand plucked out of the Fire?

3. Now Joſhua was cloathed with filthy Garments, as he ſtood before the Angel.

4. So he ſpoke to them who ſtood before him in the following manner, Take away the filthy Garments from him; and to him he ſaid, See, I have made thy Iniquity paſs from thee, even to cloath thee with Change of Apparel.

5. Then I ſaid, Let them put a pure Mitre upon his Head: which they did accordingly, and cloathed him with Garments; while the Angel of the Lord was ſtanding by,

6. Who teſtified to Joſhua as follows:

7. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; If thou wilt go in my Ways, and if thou wilt keep my Charge; thou ſhalt both judge my Houſe, and alſo keep my Courts: and I will grant thee to go among theſe who are ſtanding by.

8. Hear now, Joſhua the high Prieſt, with thy Friends who ſit before thee; ſince they are Men for a Token: for behold I will bring forth my Servant the Sprout.

9. For behold upon that one Stone, which I put before Joſhua, there are ſeven Eyes: lo I will engrave the Engravings of it, ſays the Lord of Armies, and will remove the Iniquity of that Country in one Day.

10. At that Time, ſays the Lord of Armies, ſhall you call to your ſeveral Neighbours, under both the Vine and the Fig-tree.

Ver. 4. ſhall inhabit the Towns] for Want of Room, as Grotius obſerves; the Heb. Verb being in the active Form: ſo Jun. and Trem. 'per pagos habitabunt cives urbis Jeruſchalaimorum,' the Citizens of the City of Jeruſalem ſhall dwell in the Villages or Towns.

CHAP. IV.

AND the Angel who talked with me returned; and rouſing me up, like a Man that is rouſed up from his Sleep,

2. Aſked me, What doſt thou ſee? And I ſaid; I ſee plainly that there is a Candleſtick which is all Gold, having a Diſh upon the Top of it, with its ſeven Lamps upon it there, and ſo many Funnels to them;

3. As alſo two Olive-trees upon it, one at the right Side of the Bowl, and the other upon the left Side of it.

4. I further made this Anſwer to the Angel that talked with me, What are theſe, my Lord?

5. Who made reply to me, Doſt not thou know what they are? And I ſaid, No, my Lord.

6. Beſides he made reply to me as follows; This is the Commiſſion the Lord ſays to Zerubbabel, It ſhall not be by Force nor Might, but by my Spirit, ſays the Lord of Armies.

7. Whatever thou art, O great Mountain, before Zerubbabel thou wilt become a Plain; and he will bring forth the Top-ſtone, with Acclamations of conſtant Grace to it.

8. I had moreover the Lord's Commiſſion thus;

9. The Hands of Zerubbabel laid the Foundation of this Houſe, and his Hands will accompliſh it; and thou wilt know that the Lord of Armies has ſent me to you:

10. For who deſpiſes the Day of little Things? Since they ſhall be glad, and ſee the Weight of Tin of theſe ſeven in the Hand of Zerubbabel: they are the Eyes of the Lord which go about on all the Earth.

11. And I made anſwer to him, What are theſe two Olive-trees upon the right Side of the Candleſtick, and upon the left Side of it?

12. As I did likewiſe again, What are the two Parcels of Berries of the Olive-trees, which empty the golden Liquor from them into the Receptacle of the two golden Pipes?

13. Whereupon he ſpoke thus to me, Doſt not thou know what theſe are? And I ſaid, No, my Lord.

14. Then ſaid he, Theſe are the two anointed ones, that ſtand by the Lord of the whole Earth.

CHAP. V.

AFTERWARDS I turned again, and looking up, ſaw plainly that there was a flying Volume.

2. Upon which he aſked me, What doſt thou ſee? And I anſwered, I ſee a flying Volume, the Length of it twenty Cubits, and its Breadth ten.

3. And he replied to me; This is the Curſe that goes forth over the Surface of all the Earth: for every one who ſteals is quit according to it on one Side, and every one who ſwears is quit according to it on the other Side.

4. I cauſe it to go forth, ſays the Lord of Armies; and it ſhall enter into the Houſe of him who ſteals, and into that of him who ſwears by my Name falſely: within whoſe Houſe it ſhall lodge, and conſume it, with its Wood, and the Stones of it.

5. Beſides the Angel who talked with me came out, and ſaid to me, Look up now, and ſee what this is that goes forth.

6. And I enquired, What is it? This that goes forth, anſwered he, is an Ephah; adding, This is the Look of them on all the Earth.

7. Behold there was a Piece of Lead too lifted up, with this a Woman who was ſitting within the Ephah.

8. This, ſays he, is Wickedneſs; and he caſt her into the midſt of the Ephah, caſting the Weight of Lead on the Mouth of it.

9. Next I looked up, and ſaw apparently that two Women went forth, and the Wind was in their Wings, and the Wings of them were like thoſe of a Stork; who lifted up the Ephah between the Earth and Heaven.

Ver. 2. Diſh] to diſtinguiſh what Sort of Bowl.

Ib. Funnels] not the ſame Word as that rendered Pipes, Ver. 12.

Ver. 3. quit] and conſequently judged as the old Lat. Verſ. has it; and puniſhed, as the Chald. whereas there is no Proof, nor indeed Mention in *Bux. Ver. 8. on the Mouth] for a heavy Lid, to ſhut the Woman repreſenting Wickedneſs faſt in.

10. And I aſked the Angel who talked with me, Whither are they carrying away the Ephah?

11. With this he ſaid to me, To build a Houſe for it in the Country of Shinar; that may be eſtabliſhed, and it may be placed there upon its own Baſe.

CHAP. VI.

AND turning again, I looked up, and ſaw plainly that four Chariots came out from between two Mountains; and the Mountains were braſen ones.

2. In the firſt Chariot were red Horſes, in the ſecond black ones,

3. In the third white ones, and in the fourth ſpeckled ones, being ſtrong.

4. Thereupon I ſpoke as follows, to the Angel who talked with me, What are theſe, my Lord?

5. And the Angel made anſwer to me, Theſe are the four Spirits of Heaven, that go forth from ſtanding by the Lord of the whole Earth.

6. They that were black Horſes in it were going forth to the north Country, the white went forth after them; and the ſpeckled went forth to the ſouth Country.

7. Thus the Strong went forth, and endeavoured to go, and walk about on the Earth; and when he bade them do ſo, they did.

8. He alſo cried to me, and ſpoke to me thus, See, thoſe that go forth to the north Country, give Reſt to my Spirit in that Country.

9. And I had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

10. Taking ſome of the Captivity, of Heldai, Tobijah and Jedaiah; thou ſhalt come the ſame Day, and that to the Houſe of Joſiah the Son of Zephaniah, who all came from Babylon;

11. And ſhalt take Silver and Gold, making Crowns, and put on the Head of Joſhua the Son of Jozadak, the high Prieſt;

12. As alſo tell him, that thus ſpeaks the Lord of Armies, ſaying; Behold the Man, whoſe Name is the Sprout, even he ſhall ſprout forth from his Place, and build the Temple of the Lord.

13. Which he ſhall not only build, but he ſhall bear the Comelineſs, and ſit, having dominion upon his Throne; nay be a Prieſt upon it, and the Counſel of Peace ſhall be between thoſe two.

14. The Crowns likewiſe ſhall be for Helem, Tobijah, Jedeiah, and Hen the Son of Zephaniah, for a Memorial in the Temple of the Lord.

15. Beſides thoſe who are far off ſhall come, and build in the Temple of the Lord; ſo you ſhall know that the Lord of Armies has ſent me to you: thus it ſhall be, if you will at all hearken to what the Lord your God ſays.

CHAP. VII.

AND in the fourth Year of King Darius, Zechariah had the Lord's Commiſſion, on the fourth of the ninth Month Chiſleu.

2. When there was ſent to the Houſe of God Sharezer, and Regem-melech, with his Men, to make ſupplication before the Lord;

Ver. 11. that may] to wit the Houſe, with which this accords in Gender, and not with Ephah.

Ver. 1. Chariots] It is explained what theſe were, Ver. 5. ſo that there is leſs Likelihood of another Meaning. Some however, particularly Lowth in his Commentary upon the larger and leſſer Prophets, expound it of the four Empires like the Viſions in Daniel: according to which the black Horſes are to denote the ſad and mournful State of the Jews under the Perſian Empire; whereas that was a Time of much Joy, as well as Peace, for their Deliverance from Captivity, Rebuilding the City and Temple, &c. The white Horſes are thus referred to the Perſian Empire, for ſome Kindneſs which Alexander ſhewed the Jews; but their terrible Sufferings under Antiochus cauſes it to be repreſented in a contrary Manner in Dan. Ch. viii. & xi. with which this muſt not diſagree. This Viſion and the Interpretation of it has a plain Similitude with that in Chap. i. 8, 9, 10, 11. which is not pretended to relate to thoſe different Empires; and Lowth applies the red Horſes there to Darius the Perſian King, here to the Babylonian Empire, as he does the white there to the ſame King, but here to another Empire. The Colours rather denoted the Buſineſs of theſe celeſtial Meſſengers, and as it was a Time of Peace the Chariot of red Horſes for War did not now go forth, Ver. 6. and the others went to different Parts, did not come to Judah, Ver. 6, 7.

Ver. 3. ſpeckled] See it Gen. xxxi. 10.

Ib. being ſtrong] or ſpeckled ſtrong Horſes, there being no Conjunction for the [and] in our com. Bib. But Piſcator in Commentariis in Duodecim Prophetas minores, interpreting it robuſti, ſtrong; adds, Hoc Epitheton referendum eſt ad Equos illos omnes; ut percipitur ex V. 7. this Quality is to reſpect them all, as appears by Ver. 7. The Word no more ſignifies bay, from its Uſe in other Places, than the Eng. ſtrong does.

Ver. 6. were going] which the Prophet ſaw as Ver. 7. not the Angel told, as incongruouſly in the preſ. Eng. and the Heb. is a Participle.

Ver. 7. Thus] Interpreters who make this a diſtinct going forth from the reſt, ſeem not to have minded how many Chariots there were, or what Horſes were ſeen to draw them in the Viſion. If the 4th Chariot had two Sorts of Horſes according to the preſ. Tranſ. how did one Sort go to the ſouth Country, and the other remain behind, going after into other Parts?

Ib. Strong] It is not eaſy to determine whether the ſpeckled only, or all are meant, unleſs ſome material Diſcrimination can be diſcovered.

Ver. 10. who all came &c.] This being the laſt in the Verſe.

Ver. 12. the Sprout—ſhall ſprout forth] thus the Heb.

Ver. 13. thoſe two] the King and Prieſt united in one, i. e. Jeſus typified ſo by Joſhua.

3. Speaking

3. Speaking to the Prieſts who were at the Houſe of the Lord of Armies, and to the Prophets thus, Shall I weep in the fifth Month, being ſeparated as I have been theſe ſo many Years?

4. Upon this I had the following Commiſſion of the Lord of Armies:

5. Speak to all the People of the Country, and to the Prieſts as follows; When you faſted, and were making lamentation in the fifth and ſeventh Months, even theſe ſeventy Years, did you at all faſt to me my ſelf?

6. And when you eat, and when you drank; did not you eat and drink for your ſelves?

7. Are there not the Things which the Lord proclaimed by the Miniſtry of the former Prophets, when Jeruſalem was inhabited, and quiet, with its Cities round about it, as alſo the South and Vale inhabited?

8. Zechariah had moreover the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

9. Thus ſpoke the Lord of Armies, ſaying; Execute true Judgment, and ſhew Kindneſs and Compaſſions one to another.

10. And do not oppreſs the Widow or Fatherleſs, the Stranger or Afflicted; nor think ill one to another in your Hearts.

11. But they refuſed to hearken, and yielded an obſtinate Shoulder, and made their Ears heavy from hearing;

12. Nay they ſet their Heart as a Diamond from hearing the Law, and the Words which the Lord of Armies ſent by his Spirit, by the Miniſtry of his former Prophets: ſo that there was great Wrath from the Lord of Armies.

13. And according as he called, and they would not hearken; ſo they called, and I would not hearken, ſays the Lord of Armies.

14. But I drove them as with a Tempeſt over all Nations, which they did not know; and the Country was deſolate after them, from paſſing and returning: for they made the deſirable Country a Deſolation.

CHAP. VIII.

THERE was further the Commiſſion of the Lord of Armies as follows:

2. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, I have been zealous for Zion with great Zeal, and with great Fury have I been zealous for it.

3. Thus ſays the Lord, I am returned to Zion, and dwell within Jeruſalem; ſo that Jeruſalem ſhall be called The City of Truth, and the Mountain of the Lord of Armies, The holy Mountain.

4. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, Old Men and old Women ſhall yet dwell in the Streets of Jeruſalem, and each with a Staff in his Hand for Multitude of Days.

5. And the Streets of the City ſhall be full of Boys and Girls playing in them.

6. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, Becauſe it is wonderful in the Sight of the Reſidue of this People in thoſe Days, is it alſo wonderful in my Sight? ſays the Lord of Armies.

7. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, Behold I will ſave my People from the Country of the riſing and that of the ſetting of the Sun.

8. And I will bring them, ſo that they ſhall dwell within Jeruſalem; and they ſhall be to me a People, as I will to them a God, both in Truth and Righteouſneſs.

9. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; Let your Hands be ſtrong, that hear theſe Words in theſe Days, from the Mouth of the Prophets who are at the Time of laying the Foundation of the Houſe of the Lord of Armies, to build the Temple.

10. For before thoſe Days there was no Reward for Man, nor was there any Reward for a Beaſt: both to the Goer out, and to the Comer in, there was no Peace by reaſon of Diſtreſs; as I ſent all Mankind one againſt another.

11. But I will not be now as in former Days, to the Reſidue of this People, ſays the Lord of Armies.

12. For the Seed ſhall be proſperous, the Vine yield its Fruit, as ſhall the Earth the Increaſe of it, and the Heavens ſhall give their Dew: I will even make the Reſidue of this People poſſeſs all theſe Things.

13. And as you have been a Curſe in the Nations, O Family of Judah, and that of Iſrael; ſo will I ſave you, and you ſhall be a

16. Theſe are the Matters which you ſhall do: ſpeak the Truth one to another, judge with Truth and the Judgment of Peace at your Gates;

17. And think not ill one towards another in your Hearts, nor love a falſe Oath: for all theſe are Things which I hate, ſays the Lord.

18. I had alſo a Commiſſion of the Lord of Armies as follows:

19. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, Let the Faſt of the fourth, with thoſe of the fifth, ſeventh and tenth Months, be to the Family of Judah for Joy, Gladneſs, and good Solemnities; ſo love Truth and Peace.

20. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; There ſhall be yet when the People ſhall come, and the Inhabitants of many Cities;

21. And the Inhabitants of one ſhall go to another, ſaying, Let us go ſtill to make ſupplication before the Lord, and to ſeek the Lord of Armies: I will go alſo.

22. Nay many People and numerous Nations ſhall come, to ſeek the Lord of Armies at Jeruſalem, and to make ſupplication before the Lord.

23. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, Thoſe ſhall be the Days in which ten Men from all Languages of the Nations ſhall take even faſt hold on the Skirt of one who is a Jew, ſaying, We will go with you, for we hear that God is with you.

Bow of War ſhall likewiſe be cut off; and he ſhall ſpeak Peace to the Nations: his Dominion alſo ſhall be from Sea to Sea, and from the River to the Limits of the Earth.

11. As to thy ſelf, for the Blood of thy Covenant, I have ſent thy Priſoners out of the Pit in which was no Water.

12. Return to the Fort, O Priſoners of Waiting; I alſo who declare to Day, will cauſe double to return to thee,

13. For I will bend Judah for my ſelf, will fill the Bow with Ephraim; and ſtir up thy Sons, Zion, againſt thine, Greece: and will make thee like the Sword of the Powerful.

14. Thus will the Lord appear againſt them, and his Arrow go forth as Lightning: even the Sovereign Lord will ſound the Trumpet. and walk with the Storms of the South.

15. The Lord of Armies will protect them; nay they ſhall conſume, and ſubdue with Sling-ſtones; and drinking, make a Noiſe as with Wine; and ſhall be filled as a Bowl, like the Corners of the Altar.

16. So the Lord their God will ſave them at that Time, as the Flock of his People: for they ſhall be as the Stones of a Crown, which are ſet up for a Standard upon his Ground.

17. For how is his Goodneſs! and how his Beauty! Corn the young Men, and new Wine ſhall make fruitful the Virgins.

CHAP. X.

ASK the Lord for Rain at the Time of the latter Rain, the Lord who makes the bright Clouds; and he will give them the ſhowery Rain, to each one Graſs in the Field.

2. For the Teraphs ſpeak Iniquity, the Diviners ſee Falſehood, and ſpeak Dreams in vain, they comfort with Vanity: therefore they go away like Sheep, being afflicted becauſe there is no Shepherd.

3. I am angry at the Shepherds, and will puniſh the He-goats: for the Lord of Armies has viſited his Flock the Family of Judah, and made them as his comely Horſe in War.

4. Out of him the Corner, out of him the Nail, out of him the Bow of War, out of him ſhall go every Exacter together.

5. And they ſhall be as powerful ones treading down in the Dirt of the Streets in War; thus ſhall they fight, for the Lord will be with them: and thoſe who ride on Horſes ſhall be aſhamed.

6. So will I make the Family of Judah powerful, and ſave that of Joſeph, ſettling them again; for I will have compaſſion upon them, and they ſhall be as when I did not caſt them off: for I am the Lord their God, and will anſwer them.

7. Thus Ephraim ſhall be as a powerful one, and their Heart ſhall be glad as with Wine: their Sons too ſhall ſee, and be glad, their Heart ſhall rejoice through the Lord.

8. I will whiſtle for them, and gather them together, for I have redeemed them; and they ſhall multiply, as they have done.

9. And I having ſown them among the People, they ſhall remember me in remote Places; nay they ſhall live with their Children, and return.

10. For I will cauſe them to return from the Country of Egypt, and gather them together from Aſſyria; bringing them to the Country of Gilead and Lebanon, ſo that there ſhall not be ſufficient for them.

OPEN thy Gates, O Lebanon; that Fire may conſume thy Cedars.

2. Lament, O Fir-tree, becauſe the Cedar is fallen, thoſe which were ſtately are waſted: lament, you Oaks of Baſhan, becauſe the Coppice of the Vintage is come down.

3. There will be a lamentable Noiſe of the Shepherds, becauſe their Statelineſs is waſted; a roaring Noiſe of the young Lions, becauſe the Excellency of Jordan is waſted,

7. Accordingly I fed the Flock of the Slaughter, therefore the Afflicted of the Flock; and took me two Staves, one I called Pleaſantneſs, as I did the other Cords, while I fed the Flock.

8. And I cut off three Shepherds in one Month; and my Soul was grieved for them, and their Soul alſo abhorred me.

9. Then I ſaid, I will not feed you: that which does die let it, and that which is cut off let it be, and let thoſe who are left eat each the Fleſh of one another.

10. And I took my Staff Pleaſantneſs, and cut it aſunder; to break my Covenant which I had made with all the People.

11. Thus it was broke at that Time; and ſo the Afflicted of the Flock who obſerved me, knew that it was the Word of the Lord.

12. I ſaid further to them, If you like it, give my Wages; and if not, forbear: ſo they paid my Wages, thirty Pieces of Silver.

Ver. 12. Wages] for keeping the Flock.

Ib. thirty] This being quoted under the Name of Jeremy, Mat. xxvii. 9. it has been argued that the latter Part of Zechariah does in Reality belong to Jeremiah; Newton more ſtrangely in the Beginning of his Obſervations on the Prophecies of Daniel, ſays to Iſaiah: in Favour of which Interpretation it is pretended, that the Beginning of Chap. ix. and the laſt Part of Ch. x. 11. were fulfilled by the Conqueſts of Nebuchadnezzar before Zechariah's Time. But by the Notes on thoſe Texts it may be ſeen otherwiſe: and as to Tyre, Ch. ix. 4. Nebuchadnezzar conquered it on the Continent, but Alexander in the Sea; the Philiſtine Cities alſo ſeeing the Overthrow of Tyre, Ch. ix. 5. ſhews that it was ſubdued before them, as it was by Alexander, who went from Tyre to Gaza, Joſephus, Ant. Lib. i. 8. whereas it appears by the Order of Ezekiel's Prophecies, that Nebuchadnezzar made a Conqueſt of the Philiſtines, before he did of Tyre, Ezek. xxv. 16. and Ch. xxvi. &c. and next Zidon, which lay on the other Side of Tyre, Ch. xxviii. 22. It has been otherwiſe pretended that Matthew had the Paſſage from ſome Apocryphal Writing of Jeremiah; but I cannot think he would rather have cited it from thence, than from the Scripture, if there had been ſuch a Writing. That it is a Miſtake is not well to allow, without either Proof or Neceſſity. Now why might not Matthew refer both to this Place of Zechariah, and to Chap. xxxii. 6,—12. of Jeremiah, and ſo the other be mentioned as the firſt and principal Prophet? The Quotation in Matthew does but partly agree with either: the Occaſion and chief Matter of it is buying a Field, which is only in Jeremiah. Thus what is cited in Rom. ix. 12, 13. is one Part of it in Geneſis, and the other in Malachi; as Mat. xxi. 5. is alſo taken from Iſa. lxii. 11. and Zech. ix. 9.

14. Afterwards I cut aſunder my ſecond Staff Cords, to break the Brotherhood between Judah and Iſrael.

15. Again the Lord ſaid to me; Take thee yet the Inſtruments of a fooliſh Shepherd.

16. For behold I will raiſe up a Shepherd in the Country, who will not viſit them that are cut off, not ſeek the young one, nor heal the broken; he will not ſupport that which ſtands, but will eat the Fleſh of the fat one, and break off their Hoofs.

17. Wo be to the Shepherd of Nought, that forſakes the Flock; the Sword ſhall be both upon his Arm and right Eye: his Arm ſhall be quite withered, and his right Eye be quite dim.

CHAP. XII.

THE Burden of the Lord's Commiſſion concerning Iſrael. Says the Lord, the Stretcher out of the Heaven, the Founder of the Earth, and the Former of the Spirit of Man within him;

2. Behold I will make Jeruſalem a Baſon of Horror to all the People round about; even when they are in the Siege againſt Judah, at Jeruſalem.

3. And at that Time I will make Jeruſalem a burdenſome Stone to all the People; all who are burdened with it ſhall be cut in pieces, and all the Nations of the Earth that are gathered up againſt it.

4. At that Time, ſays the Lord, I will ſmite every Horſe with Aſtoniſhment, and his Rider with Diſtraction; and upon the Family of Judah will I open my Eyes, ſmiting every Horſe of the People with Blindneſs.

5. And the Leaders of Judah ſhall ſay in their Heart, My Strength ſhall be the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, through the Lord of Armies their God.

6. At that Time will I make the Leaders of Judah as a Pan of Fire in Wood, and as a Torch of Fire in a Sheaf; ſo that they ſhall conſume, both upon the right Hand and left, all the People round about: and Jeruſalem ſhall be inhabited again, in its own Place at Jeruſalem.

7. And the Lord will ſave the Tents of Judah firſt; that the Glory of David's Family, and the Glory of the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, may not be magnified againſt Judah.

8. At that Time will the Lord protect the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem about; and he who is fallen among them at that Time ſhall be as

Ib. Hoofs] claws belonging not to Cattle.

Ver. 2. Jeruſalem] This and ſeveral Paſſages to the End of the Book are by Lowth referred to future Times, though I think not ſo well as they might be, admitting them ſo to be interpreted. The literal fulfilling of the Prophecy might be pleaded for it, as what may come to paſs; but that which can be applied to paſt Tranſactions, in the Manner of other Scripture Prophecies that are known to have been accompliſhed, may more eligibly be referred thither. And it might be beſt for the future Application of Prophecies not to be too particular and circumſtantial, eſpecially from ſuch Texts as have a more eaſy and obvious Meaning. Thus our Author not content to ſuppoſe, that the Jews will hereafter return to Jeruſalem, and be there beſieged by the Mahometan Nations; imagines from Chap. xiv. 14. that theſe will be ſome who ſhall return before the reſt, and from Iſa. lx. 8. that the other Jews will then reſort to them, &c. very remote Conjectures! This indeed ſeems the moſt likely Prophet to foretel what is yet to come, as being after the great Affairs of the Jews Captivity and Return from it, and the lateſt excepting Haggai and Malachi, who have ſcarce any Thing of that Sort; and by the Manner of his Predictions, which notwithſtanding ſeem rather to be all long ago come to paſs. However the figurative Explication of other Interpreters, by ſpiritual Things in the Church, ought not peradventure to paſs for the primary and genuine Meaning. If I may attempt at another here, I ſhould apply it (as I find ſince the great Grotius does) to the Time of the Maccabees as follows; eſpecially ſince Ver. 10. Ch. xiii. 1, 7. evidently ſpeak of the Time of Chriſt's being on Earth, and limit the former Part of this Chap. within it, by the Expreſſion at that Time put after, Ver. 9. Chap. xiii. 1. and Lowth himſelf applies Chap. xiv. 2. to the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem by the Romans.

Ib. Nations] not the ſame Word that is rendered People before, but the ſame as in Ver. 9.

Ver. 4. ſmite] This I refer to what was done by that extraordinary Apparition mentioned 2 Mac. x. 29, 30, 31. ſee alſo Ch. xii. 22.

Ver. 5. Inhabitants] See 2 Mac. xiii. 13, 15, 16, &c.

Ver. 5, 6. the Leaders] nempe Maccabæi, namely the Maccabees, ſays Grotius; and Druſius more particularly, (Jud.) Maccabeus, Jonathan, Simon and others.

Ver. 6. inhabited] See 1 Mac. iv. 36. to the End, 2 Mac. x. 1,—8.

Ver. 7. firſt] of which 1 Mac. 2, 3, and former Part of 4 Chap. with 2 Mac. viii. give account, before Jeruſalem was recovered, 2 Mac. x. 1. ſee particularly 1 Mac. iii. 8.

Ver. 8. fallen] not feeble.

David, and the Family of David like God, like the Angel of the Lord before them.

9. Moreover at the ſame Time I will ſeek to deſtroy all the Nations that come againſt Jeruſalem.

10. I will alſo pour out upon the Family of David, and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, the Spirit of Grace and Supplications; and they ſhall look on me whom they have pierced: as likewiſe make lamentation for him, as the Lamentation for an only one; and be in Bitterneſs for him, as the being in Bitterneſs for a Firſt-born.

11. At that Time there ſhall be great Lamentation at Jeruſalem, like that of Hadad-rimmon in the Vale of Megiddon.

12. And the Country ſhall make lamentation, Families by Families alone: the Family of the Houſe of David alone, and their Women alone; the Family of the Houſe of Nathan alone, and their Women alone;

13. The Family of the Houſe of Levi alone, and their Women alone; the Family of Shimei alone, and their Women alone;

14. All the Families that are left, Families by Families alone, and their Women alone.

CHAP. XIII.

AT that Time there ſhall be a Fountain opened for the Houſe of David, and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem; for Sin, and Separation.

2. And at the ſame Time, ſays the Lord of Armies, I will cut off the Names of the Images from the Country, ſo that they ſhall be remembred no more; and alſo the Prophets, with the Spirit of Uncleanneſs, will I cauſe to paſs from the Country.

3. For when a Man ſhall propheſy any more, his Father and Mother who begot him, ſhall ſay to him, Thou ſhalt not live, becauſe thou ſpeakeſt falſely in the Name of the Lord; and they themſelves ſhall pierce him through when he propheſies.

4. And at that Time the Prophets ſhall be aſhamed each of his Viſion when he propheſies; and ſhall not wear a Cloak of Hair, that they may lye.

5. But he ſhall ſay, I am not a Prophet: I am a Man who tills the Ground, for the Folk put me in poſſeſſion from my Youth.

6. When one further aſks him, What are theſe Strokes within thy Hands? He ſhall ſay, They which I was ſmitten with at the Houſe of my Lovers.

7. O Sword, be ſtirred up againſt my Shepherd, and againſt the Man who is my Companion, ſays the Lord of Armies: ſmite the Shepherd, and let the Flock be diſperſed; but I will turn back my Hand upon the little ones.

8. And in all the Country, ſays the Lord, two Parts in it ſhall be cut off, ſhall expire; but the third ſhall be left in it.

9. However I will bring the third into the Fire, and purify them as Silver is purified and try them as Gold is tried: it ſhall call on my Name, and I will anſwer it; I will ſay, It is my People; and it ſhall ſay, The Lord is my God.

CHAP. XIV.

BEHOLD the Day ſhall come for the Lord, when thy Spoil ſhall be divided within thee.

2. For I will gather up all the Nations to Jeruſalem for War; and the City ſhall be taken, the Houſes plundered, and the Women raviſhed: nay half the City ſhall go forth into Captivity, but the reſt of the People ſhall not be cut off from the City.

3. The Lord alſo will go forth, and fight againſt thoſe Nations, as at the Time of his fighting on the Day of Battle.

Ver. 10. pour] agreeable to Joel ii. 28, 29, 32. the fulfilling of which is ſhewn Act. ii. 16, 17, 18, 21.

Ib. make lamentation for him] See Act. ii. 23, 37, 38, 41. & iii. 14, 15, 19. & iv. 4.

Ver. 11. that] for Joſiah, 2 Chron. xxxv. 22, 25.

Ver. 5. put me in poſſeſſion] namely of the Ground or Land juſt mentioned, and as the Verb ſignifies. Grotius has it from the Chald. taught me Huſbandry; in the ſame Manner too L. Jud. ſee alſo De Dieu, An.

Ver. 7. little ones] Chriſt's Diſciples, Mat. x. 42. & xviii. 6, 14. Luk. xii. 32. Pocock in his Notes upon Porta Moſis, Cap. ii. pretends from ſome Copies of the Septuagint, that the Heb. Word ſignifies great, and ſo the Senſe to be quite contrary, of puniſhing the Rulers of the Jews. Thus it is that ſome Authors gain Reputation in this Age, at the Expence of that of the Scripture, by making it uncertain. But ſurely four Nouns and a Verb of the Original, conſtantly of the like Signification, are not to give Way to what is perhaps but a Miſtranſcription or Forgery, of a very incorrect Tranſlation at beſt. Nor were the Jewiſh Rulers puniſhed at the Time of fulfilling this, Mat. xxvi. 31.

Ver. 2. all the Nations] the ſame as in Chap. xii. 3, 9, and as all the People Ch. xii. 2, 3, 6. ſee 1 Mac. iii. 58.

Ib. the City ſhall be taken] See 1 Mac. i. 20, 24, 30, 31, 32. 2 Mac. v. 11, 13, 14, 24, 26.

Ver. 3. fight] according to Ch. xii. 4. which was not done at the final Conqueſt by the Romans.

4. And

4. And his Feet will ſtand at that Time upon the Mount of Olives, which is before Jeruſalem on the Eaſt; and the Mount of Olives ſhall be cleaved in the middle of it, eaſtward and weſtward, into a very great Valley; ſo that one half of the Mountain ſhall depart to the North, and the other of it to the South.

5. Then ſhall you flee to the Valley of the Mountains, for that will reach to Azal; you ſhall even flee as you did from the Preſence of the Earthquake, in the Time of Uzziah King of Judah: ſince the Lord my God will come, all the Saints being with thee.

6. And on that Day the Light will not be very clear, nor dull.

7. For there will be one Day (which is known to the Lord) not Day nor Night; but at Evening-time there will be Light.

8. And at that Time living Waters will go forth from Jeruſalem, one half of them towards the eaſtern Sea, and their other towards the hindermoſt Sea: both in Summer and Winter it will be.

9. Moreover the Lord will be King over all the Earth: at that Time the Lord will be one, and his Name one.

10. All the Country ſhall be turned as a Plain, from Geba to Rimmon on the South of Jeruſalem; which ſhall be exalted, and inhabited in its own Place, even from the Gate of Benjamin to the Place of the firſt Gate, to the Gate of the Corners, and from the Tower of Hananeel to the King's Wine-preſſes.

11. Thus ſhall they dwell in it, and there ſhall be a Curſe no more; but Jeruſalem ſhall be inhabited ſecurely.

12. And this will be the Plague that the Lord will ſmite all the People with, who go to war againſt Jeruſalem; their Fleſh will waſte away while they ſtand upon their Feet, and their Eyes waſte away in their Holes, as their Tongue will in their Mouth.

13. Nay at that Time there will be ſo much Vexation of the Lord among them, that they will take hold each of his Neighbour's Hand, and his Hand will be lifted up againſt that of his Neighbour.

14. And Judah alſo will fight at Jeruſalem; and the Wealth of all the Nations round about ſhall be gathered up, Gold, Silver, and Garments very abundantly.

15. Beſides ſo ſhall be the Plague of the Horſe, Mule, Camel, and Aſs, and every Beaſt which ſhall be in thoſe Camps, like this Plague.

16. Every one too that is left of all the Nations which come againſt Jeruſalem, ſhall come up from Year to Year, to worſhip the King the Lord of Armies, and to keep the Feaſt of Tabernacles.

17. As for that which does not come up of the Families of the Earth to Jeruſalem, to worſhip the King the Lord of Armies, upon ſuch there ſhall be no Rain.

18. So if the Family of Egypt does not aſcend, nor come, upon which there is none; there ſhall be the Plague that the Lord will ſmite the Nations with, which do not come up, to keep the Feaſt of Tabernacles.

19. This will be the Sin of Egypt, and the Sin of all the Nations which do not come up, to keep that Feaſt.

20. At that Time there will be upon the Bells of the Horſes Holineſs to the Lord; and the Pots in the Lord's Houſe will be like the Bowls before the Altar.

21. As likewiſe every Pot in Jeruſalem and Judah will be holy to the Lord of Armies, and all who ſacrifice will come, and take out of them, and boil in them; there will alſo be no Canaanite any more in the Houſe of the Lord of Armies, at that Time.

NOTES upon the BOOK of MALACHI.

CHAP. I.

THE Burden of the Lord's Commiſſion to Iſrael, by the Miniſtry of Malachi.

2. I love you, ſays the Lord; yet you aſk, In what doſt thou love us? Was not Eſau Brother to Jacob? ſays the Lord, and I loved Jacob.

3. But I hated Eſau; and laid his Mountains deſolate, and his Poſſeſſion for the Dragons of the Wilderneſs.

4. Though Edom ſays, We being made poor, will return, and build up the waſte Places; thus ſays the Lord of Armies, They may build up, but I will throw down; and they ſhall be called The Border of Wickedneſs, and the People that the Lord has Indignation with for ever.

5. And your Eyes ſhall ſee; ſo that you ſhall ſay, The Lord is magnified from the Border of Iſrael.

6. A Son honours a Father, and a Servant his Maſter: now if I am a Father, where is my Honour? And if I am a Maſter, where is my Fear? ſays the Lord of Armies to you, O Prieſts, who deſpiſe my Name; yet aſk, In what do we deſpiſe thy Name?

7. Who bring polluted Bread to my Altar; yet aſk, In what do we pollute thee? When you ſay, The very Table of the Lord is deſpicable.

8. And when you bring the Blind for Sacrifice, is it no Evil? So when you bring the Lame and Sick, is it no Evil? Preſent it now to thy Magiſtrate; will he be pleaſed with thee, or accept thee? ſays the Lord of Armies.

9. And now, I pray, make ſupplication before God, that he may be gracious to us: this being from your Hand, will he accept you? ſays the Lord of Armies.

10. Who alſo is there among you that ſhuts the Doors (and you do not enlighten my Altar) for nothing? I have no Delight in you, ſays the Lord of Armies, nor am I pleaſed with an Offering from your Hand.

11. For from the Riſing of the Sun, to the Setting of it, my Name ſhall be great in the Nations, and in every Place ſhall Incenſe be brought nigh to my Name, with a pure Offering: for my Name ſhall be great in the Nations, ſays the Lord of Armies.

12. Whereas you profane it when you ſay, The very Table of the Lord is polluted, and its Fruit, the Food of it deſpicable.

13. Nay you ſay, Behold what Fatigue it is! ſo that you puff at it, ſays the Lord of Armies; and you bring what is taken by force, lame and ſick, when you bring an Offering: ſhall I be pleaſed with it from your Hand? ſays the Lord.

14. On the contrary the Contriver is curſed, who when there is a Male in his Flock, vows and ſacrifices what is corrupted to the Lord: for I am a great King, ſays the Lord of Armies, and my Name is terrible in the Nations.

CHAP. II.

AND now to you is this Commandment, O Prieſts.

2. If you will not hear, and if you will not regard, to give Glory to my Name, ſays the Lord of Armies; I will ſend a Curſe among you, and curſe your Bleſſings: nay I have even curſed them, becauſe you do not regard.

3. Behold I will deſtroy your Offſpring, and ſcatter Dung upon your Faces, the Dung of your Feaſts; and you ſhall be taken away with it.

4. And you ſhall know that I have ſent this Commandment to you, for my Covenant to be with Levi, ſays the Lord of Armies.

5. My Covenant with him was Life and Peace, which I gave him, for the Fear that he feared me with; and his being contrite by reaſon of my Name.

Ver. 4. the waſte Places] See the Note on Ezek. xxv. 13.

Ver. 7. when you ſay] as it is tranſlated in our com. Bib. Ch. ii. 17. and ſo here Munſt. renders it quando dicitis: and Leo Jud. quum dicitis: for what Senſe does In that ye ſay make? Or how did their ſaying what follows pollute the Lord?

Ib. very] הוא in Heb.

Ib. is deſpicable] Their owning the Lord's Table was deſpicable, by their bringing polluted Bread to it, was owning they polluted the Lord's Preſence there, according to Mat. xxiii. 20, 21, 22.

Ver. 9. this] mentioned in the two foregoing Verſes.

Ib. being] which makes a good Connection.

Ver. 12. when &c.] as in Ver. 7.

Ver. 14. when] So Jun. and Trem. Munſt. Caſt. Leo Jud. and Druſ. tranſlate: for having a Male in the Flock was no Fault, ſuch being appointed for Sacrifice, Leo. xxii. 19.

6. The Law of Truth was in his Mouth, and Iniquity was not found in his Lips: in Peace and Uprightneſs did he walk with me, and turned many from Perverſeneſs.

7. For the Lips of the Prieſt ſhould keep Knowledge, that they may ſeek the Law from his Mouth; ſince he is the Meſſenger of the Lord of Armies.

8. But you are departed from the Way, and make many ſtumble in the Law: you corrupt the Covenant of Levi, ſays the Lord of Armies.

9. Therefore have I alſo made you deſpicable, and low to all People; according to the Manner as you did not keep my Ways, but reſpected the Face in the Law.

10. Have not all of us one Father? Has not one God created us? Why are we treacherous one to another, to profane the Covenant of our Fathers?

11. Judah is treacherous, and Abomination is done in Iſrael and Jeruſalem: for Judah has profaned the Holineſs of the Lord which he loves, and has married the Daughter of a ſtrange god.

12. The Lord will cut off the Man who does it, the Stirrer up and him that anſwers, from the Tents of Jacob, and him who brings an Offering to the Lord of Armies.

13. But this you do ſecondly, cover the Altar of the Lord with Tears, weeping and crying; by reaſon there is no looking to the Offering any more, nor receiving with Favour from your Hands.

14. And you ſay, For what? Becauſe the Lord bears Witneſs between thee and the Wife of thy Youth, to whom thou art treacherous; though ſhe is thy Companion, and the Wife of thy Covenant.

15. Nay did not he make one, though he had a Remainder of the Spirit? And why one? By reaſon of ſeeking a godly Offspring: ſo you ſhould be reſerved in your Spirit, and let it not be treacherous to the Wife of thy Youth.

16. For the Lord God of Iſrael ſays he hates ſending away, and him who covers Violence with his Cloaths, ſays the Lord of Armies: when you ſhould be reſerved in your Spirit, and not be treacherous.

17. You make the Lord weary with your Words; yet you ſay, In what do we make weary? When you ſay the Lord is pleaſed with every one that does Evil, and he delights in them; or, Where is the God of Judgment?

CHAP. III.

BEHOLD I will ſend my Meſſenger, who ſhall make ready the Way before me: and ſuddenly there ſhall come into his Temple the Lord whom you ſeek, and the Meſſenger of the Covenant in whom you delight; lo he ſhall come, ſays the Lord of Armies.

2. But who will bear the Day of his coming? And who will ſtand at his appearing? For he is like a Refiner's Fire, and like a Fuller's Soap.

3. And he ſhall ſit as a Refiner and Cleanſer of Silver; ſo that he ſhall cleanſe the Sons of Levi, and purify them like Gold and Silver: whereby they ſhall bring to the Lord an Offering in Righteouſneſs.

4. Thus ſhall the Offering of Judah and Jeruſalem be ſweet to the Lord; as at the ancient Days, and as at the Years of old Times.

5. However I will come near to you in Judgment, and will be a ſpeedy Witneſs againſt the Wizards, Adulterers, and Swearers of Falſehood; as alſo againſt them who oppreſs the hired one in Hire, the Widow and Fatherleſs, and turn aſide the Stranger, not fearing me, ſays the Lord of Armies.

6. Becauſe I the Lord do not change, therefore you Sons of Jacob are not conſumed.

7. Even from the Days of your Fathers you have departed from, and not kept my Ordinances; return to me, and I will return to you, ſays the Lord of Armies: yet you ſay, In what ſhall we return?

8. Will Men rob God? For you rob me; yet ſay, In what do we rob thee? In Tithe and Offering.

9. You are curſed with a Curſe, ſince you rob me; all the Nation it ſelf.

10. Bring all the Tithe into the Store-houſe, that there may be Food in my Houſe, and prove me now with this, ſays the Lord of Armies; whether I will not open to you the Flood-gates of Heaven, and empty to you a Bleſſing, till there is not Place ſufficient.

Ver. 7. ſhould] The Papiſts would have it be ſhall; but Ribera the Jeſuite writes hereon, Cuſtodient, which becauſe it may ſignify other than ſhould keep in Latin, he expreſſes his Meaning of by adding, id eſt, cuſtodire debent, that is ought to keep.

Ver. 13. by reaſon] which ב ſignifies, as explained here by De Dieu, but I think never inſomuch that; and the Interpretation ſeems forced and obſcure to apply the Weeping, &c. to their Wives, and not to themſelves, as is done to make it out that Way: which is clear and conſiſtent, as I tranſlate; ſee alſo Ch. iii. 14.

Ver. 15. make one] but one Man and Woman for each other, when he might have made ſeveral of one Sex.

Ib. a Remainder] ſufficient for more Perſons.

Ib. Spirit] of which he breathed into Man, Gen. ii. 7.

Ib. godly Offspring] as the Children by one Wife might be better educated than thoſe by ſeveral Wives, eſpecially of ſuch as were divorced, of which this treats, Ver. 16.

Ib. ſhould be reſerved] very fitly, the Heb. being Paſſive, and not Imperative.

Ib. it] Jun. and Trem. have Spiritus tuus.

Ib. thy] not his.

11. And I will rebuke for you the Conſumer, ſo that he ſhall not ſpoil the Fruit of your Ground; nor ſhall the Vine miſcarry of its Grapes to you in the Field, ſays the Lord of Armies.

12. Moreover all Nations ſhall call you bleſſed: for you ſhall be a Country of Delight, ſays the Lord of Armies.

13. Your Words are ſtrong againſt me, ſays the Lord: yet you ſay, What are we ſpeaking againſt thee?

14. You ſay, It is in vain to ſerve God; and what Gain is it that we keep his Charge, and that we walk ſad before the Lord of Armies?

15. And now we call the Proud bleſſed: thoſe that do Wickedneſs are alſo built up, they even try God, and are delivered.

16. Then ſuch as fear the Lord will be ſpeaking one to another: and the Lord will hearken, and hear: nay a Book of Memorial will be written before him, for thoſe who fear the Lord, and think on his Name.

17. They ſhall further be mine, ſays the Lord of Armies, at the Day that I make up my Property; and I will ſpare them, as a Man does his Son who ſerves him.

18. So ſhall you return, and ſee the Difference of the Righteous and Wicked; the Difference of him who ſerves God, and him that does not.

CHAP. IV.

FOR behold the Day is coming that will burn like an Oven: and all the Proud, with every one who does Wickedneſs, ſhall be as Stubble; and the Day that is coming ſhall ſet them on fire, ſays the Lord of Armies, which ſhall not leave them Root or Branch.

2. But the Sun of Righteouſneſs ſhall riſe to you who fear my Name, with Healing in its Wings; ſo that you ſhall go forth, and abound like Calves of the Stall.

3. You ſhall then trample on the Wicked: for they ſhall be Aſhes under the Soles of your Feet, on the Day that I ſhall do it, ſays the Lord of Armies.

4. Remember the Law of Moſes my Servant: which I gave him in command at Horeb for all Iſrael, the Ordinances and Rules.

5. Behold I will ſend you Elijah the Prophet, before the coming of the great and terrible Day of the Lord.

6. And he ſhall turn back the Heart of the Fathers to the Children, and that of the Children to their Fathers; leſt I ſhould come, and ſmite the Country with a Curſe.

Ver. 6. to the Children] by having a right Regard for their doing well, giving them good Education, &c. which the Children then minding and acting according to, would have their Heart turned to their Fathers: much rather I think than as in the Aſſembly's Annotation, "to bring back "the Children of Iſrael to the Piety of their Forefathers, "whereby they ſhall reaccept them;" which prepoſterouſly makes what is laſt, the Means of the firſt; and in ſuch Caſe it would be God who would accept, inſtead of Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob, as there ſaid. The Application of it by Grot. to making up the Diſcords among the Jews, falls quite ſhort of the emphatical Diſtinction here, of Fathers and their Children.

Ib. the Country] of Iſrael or Judah; for all the Earth were not to mind the Law of Moſes, Ver. 4.

ADDITIONAL REMARKS

On the following PART of the TRANSLATION.

WHEN the former Introductory Remarks were firſt made, after the Books of the Old Teſtament were tranſlated, there was no Apprehenſion or Intent of doing thoſe of the New, concerning which therefore ſome Supplement may be neceſſary; but as what has been ſaid of them, may in great Meaſure alſo of theſe, without producing the like Inſtances of my Manner of tranſlating, I ſhall premiſe to the latter but the few ſubſequent Remarks.

1. Since the Greek Original is not uniform like the Hebrew, it may be fit to tell what Copy or Edition I tranſlated from, which was that printed by Wetſten at Amſterdam, 1711, conſulting others when needful, and Mills's large Notes, King James's Tranſlators being blamed in this Reſpect, though it is thought they followed that of Stephens at Paris, ſince which Time much Improvement has been made in collating various Exemplars.

2. Of Greek Words not tranſlated into the common Verſion, the Account in the following Appendix (I) is much more compleat than that from the Hebrew, this being made along with the Tranſlation; and the ſame may be ſaid of Words ſupplied without being diſtinguiſhed in Italick, as in the Catalogue (K) there ſubjoined.

3. Our preſent Tranſlation from the Greek, though that Language is ſo much eaſier, and nigher to ours, ſeems worſe worded than the other Part from the Hebrew, inſomuch that there are the following Words in the Appendix (L) to add to the Liſts already given at (D) and (E) of ſuch as are clowniſh, barbarous, hard, &c. and theſe not as all, as before from the Hebrew; ſeveral others in the former Liſts being alſo more frequent here than there.

For Words ill joined together, as in the other Introductory Remarks, take the following Inſtances in the Appendix (M).

4. As the Hebrew uſes very few Participles, and the Greek very many; it is needful in a Tranſlation, that the common Conjunction of the Hebrew ſhould in ſeveral Places be rendered by Participles in —ing, and a Verb ſometimes in the ſame Manner, where a Conjunction is wanting: on the other hand a Verſion from the Greek requires divers of the Participles to be occaſionally turned into various Particles, like ו Vau in the former Introductory Remarks, but leſs extenſively, viz. thoſe in the Appendix (N) as the principal.

The common Engliſh has ſeveral more, of which I have noted, as at (O).

5. Τότε then being more frequent than the Hebrew אָז and ἄρ therefore than לָכֵן and עַל־כֵּן I but rarely turn καὶ or δὲ ſo, which I did ו oftener in Hebrew.

6. If we confeſs that the Scripture was given by Divine Inſpiration, as we muſt if we believe what it ſays 2 Tim. iii. 16. there can ſcarce, one might think, be denied to it the leſſer Regard of Providence for its Preſervation, which alſo peculiarly appears in the Uniformity of the Hebrew Original Copies. But it may be enquired why then have there not been the like in the Greek? It really is more than enquired, there is ſo ill a Uſe made of it by ſome, as to diſown likewiſe the Hebrew being kept incorrupt, and ſuch a Providence allowed to neither. While this may be the Difference, which might paſs unnoticed, that the old Law lying in the Letter, required an Exactneſs there, which the new being ſpiritual does not require; though the latter has it ſufficiently in what is material, and different Readings I obſerve have been commonly made, eſpecially the larger Sort, to be conformable to other Texts. It is alſo undeniable that the Jews have uſed great Diligence to keep the Hebrew Scripture from being altered; whereas the Chriſtians were ſo negligent, as not to ſettle what Books of the Greek ſhould be counted Scripture, till long after the Time of Chriſt. Divine Providence however may plainly appear, in keeping the common Copies of the firſt ſo exceeding ſimilar, and of the latter ſo little varying materially. And a farther Reaſon for the Hebrew Scripture being providentially preſerved ſo exactly uniform, might well be the near Likeneſs of Letters and different Words in that Language, to the Danger of its being miſ-tranſcribed or corrupted, far beyond what there was in the Greek.

7. Scott, by correcting the Miſtakes, and ſupplying the Omiſſions of Mills, in Part of his Various Readings, and that only in Matthew, flattered himſelf, he ſays, and not unjuſtly, however in the latter, that he ſhould do his Countrymen a real Pleaſure, and Service, Preface to his New Verſion. What then may I hope, in detecting, and refuting the Errors of that great Man's Judgment; Errors of ſo high a Nature, as debaſing and mangling our Original Scripture, and withal exalting a very corrupt, not to ſay Popiſh Tranſlation; and theſe in other Books alſo? Whitby indeed anſwered Mills in that Matter, and ſome Things in his Anſwer are uſeful; but when he comes to Particulars, of what Uſe is it to tell us ſuch and ſuch Copies, &c. have the received Reading, which we may underſtand by Mills himſelf? And he but little attempts, and ſometimes poorly, to anſwer his Antagoniſt's Reaſons, the principal Matter to be done. Beſides his Examen Millii is ſo exceeding incorrect and falſe, that there is no truſting to it. I may add, that as they both wrote in Latin, and were never tranſlated, I may modeſtly preſume, that what I have faithfully and carefully done in this Reſpect, will not be altogether uſeleſs and unacceptable, to the Engliſh Readers, and Lovers of thoſe ſacred Books, if it were only for Information of the principal Various Readings, as ſome of it is; unleſs the Knowledge of the Scripture is to be concealed from them, on which I might expatiate much.

8. As to whence the Various Readings were collected, Mills (as I call him, having known ſeveral of that Name, but none Mill as ſome write it) in whom Learning, Induſtry, and good Senſe met, did, after what divers others had done from Time to Time, A. D. 1707. publiſh his Work of about thirty Years, in which he collated, beſides the ancient Copies of Euthalius, Arethas, and the Commentators of the firſt Ages, ninety three Manuſcripts, as I number them (being made before Printing was in Uſe, and that as Mattaire ſhews in his Annales Typographici, Vol. I. p. 4, 35. began 1457. ſo that thoſe MSS. are now 300 Years old ſince then) examining ſuch as he could procure himſelf, and taking the Account of the reſt from others, as alſo eight Collections from various MSS. chiefly the ſame with the foregoing, the moſt uncertain and doubtful of which were by Curcellæus and Veleſius, though the laſt is very often quoted by Mills; but few of the MSS. were of all the Books of the New Teſtament. I reckon only five, viz. the Copy from Alexandria (along with the Verſion of the Septuagint) that of Baroccius (which, beſides ſome wanting, is to Acts of a later and very bad Hand) one at Leiceſter (the Beginning and End loſt) Montfort's (collated but as far as the firſt Chapter of Romans, and not all Acts) and the ſixteenth of Stephens (that had only Part of three Chapters more than Revelation left, nor the latter entirely) none but the firſt MS. having the whole; to theſe I count eleven without the Revelation, forty ſeven to have only the four firſt Books, twenty ſix not them: a few are Duplicates, others nearly alike; and Part of ſome, moſt Part of few, is loſt or torn. Beſides theſe he gathered different Readings from twenty early printed Editions, and eight ancient Tranſlations; excluſive of thoſe called the Gothick and Saxon Goſpels, with all the Primitive Authors, and ſome Writers of the middle Age, of whom we have Commentaries, &c. on this Part of the Scripture, and even from whomſoever in ſeveral of the firſt Centuries he found to have quoted it otherwiſe than at preſent. To thoſe MSS. Kuſter in Holland added what Variations he met with in twelve more, that were publiſhed at Roterdam, An. 1710, which I have made uſe of together.

Of the forementioned MS. Copies the Alexandrian is reckoned the beſt, which Hammond calls the King's Manuſcript, and makes much uſe of; and the wideſt from our preſent common Copy goes under the Name of the firſt Cambridge, often quoted by Beza, and ſo eſteemed by Whiſton, that he publiſhed it in Engliſh according to our Tranſlation, where they agree, A. D. 1745. the Account of which and the reſt ſee in Mills's large Prolegomena.

For an Inſtance of a particular Account that, by a diligent Examination and Reckoning of the Notes throughout and the Prolegomena, might be taken, to judge thereby of the reſt; The Revelation, of which there appears to be the feweſt Manuſcripts, was compared with the following, ſo marked and diſtinguiſhed, Alex. Baroc. Cov. 2. L. M. (for M. 1.) Pet. 2 & 3. Hunt. 1. Sin. Steph. ιε & ις. being but eleven, and out of the Collections by others ſometimes Barb. 1, 2 & 4 (once 3.) Cur. (Guil. twice) Hervag. Vel. Wech. and another Copy, with Seidel. added by Kuſter; ſince Mills counts Steph. α. the ſame as the Complutenſian Edit. beſides which are uſed the Aldine Collation, and here more than in other Books the four firſt Editions of Eraſmus (or Froben the Printer) and the two firſt of Rob. Stephens; the ancient Edition of Arethas is alſo uſed, and that of Bebelius An. 1531. once, not to enumerate the Authors.

Ver. 1. The Book of &c.] Which is the true Title, the common being made ſince, Mills Prol. 347. and to a plain Reader interferes with Rom. i. 16. This Book is computed to have been written before the three next following, but after the two Epiſtles to the Theſſalonians, Corinthians, thoſe to the Romans and Galatians, with that of James and the firſt of Peter, about the common Year of our Lord 61, and in the firſt Year of Paul's Impriſonment at Rome, Act. xxviii. 30. tho' there has been a Subſcription at the End, which ſtated it 20 Years ſooner; ſee Mills's Prolegomena ad Lect. Var. Being firſt penned in Hebrew by general Conſent of the Primitive Writers (but then interpolated by the Ebionites, and long ago loſt) Mills, from the Author of Synopſis Sacr. Scripturæ, ſuppoſes it was ſoon after tranſlated into Greek by James the Leſs. The Editions of it in Heb. now, are Tranſlations made by Munſter, &c. to convert the Jews.

Ver. 6. King] the ſecond Mills would fling out, for the Deficiency of one Gr. Copy, &c. whereas it might be omitted becauſe of Rachab and of Ruth are in the Ver. before.

Ib. belonged to] as the gen. Caſe is rendered Heb. v. 14.

Ver. 11. Kinſmen] namely Jehoahaz, Jehoiakim and Zedekiah, 2 King. xxiii. & xxiv. as Gen. xiii. 8. and thus the Cavil drops, 'that theſe were the Brothers of Joakim (for Jehoiakim) and that there is a Defect of the com. Copy in the Original.

15. And Eliud begot Eleazar, and Eleazar begot Matthan, and Matthan begot Jacob,

16. And Jacob begot Joſeph, the Huſband of Mary; of whom was born Jeſus, called Chriſt.

17. Therefore all the Generations from Abraham to David are fourteen, from him to the carrying away to Babylon ſo many, and thence to Chriſt fourteen Generations.

18. Now the Birth of Jeſus Chriſt was thus: for his Mother Mary being eſpouſed to Joſeph, before they came together, ſhe was found with Child by the Holy Spirit.

19. And Joſeph her Huſband being righteous, and not willing to expoſe her to Shame, would have put her away privately.

20. But as he was thinking on theſe Things, behold an Angel of the Lord appeared to him in a Dream, and ſaid; Joſeph, Son of David, do not fear to take Mary thy Wife: for that which is conceived in her is by the Holy Spirit.

21. And ſhe will be delivered of a Son, whom thou ſhalt name Jeſus: for he will ſave his People from their Sins.

22. All this being done, that there might be fulfilled what was ſpoken from the Lord by the Prophet as follows,

23. Behold a Virgin ſhall be with Child, and bear a Son whoſe Name ſhall be called Emmanuel, which is, being interpreted, God with us.

24. Whereupon Joſeph being rouſed up from Sleep, did as the Angel of the Lord commanded him, and took his Wife;

25. But had not the knowledge of her, till ſhe was delivered of her firſt-born Son, whom he named Jeſus.

CHAP. II.

THUS Jeſus being born at Bethlehem of Judah, in the Time of King Herod, behold wiſe Men from the Eaſt came to Jeruſalem,

2. Enquiring, Where is he who is born the King of the Jews? For we have ſeen the Star of him in the Eaſt, and are come to worſhip him.

3. This King Herod hearing, was alarmed at, and all Jeruſalem with him.

4. He therefore gathered together all the chief Prieſts and Scribes of the People, and aſked of them where Chriſt would be born.

5. Whom they anſwered; In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the Prophet,

6. And thou Bethlehem in the Country of Juda, art not the leaſt among the Governors of Juda: for from thee will come forth the Governor, who will have the Management of my People Iſrael.

Ver. 15. Eleazar] Mills putting the Syr. to have Eliazar, the Readings of which Verſion, as likewiſe of the Perſ. Arab. and Ethiop. he took from the Latin, as he confeſſes, Prol. 1472. Scott in his Review aſks, How could this appear to him, when its Lat. Verſ. has Eleazar? The Caſe as I find was thus, that tho' Mills mentions his collecting the Readings of thoſe Verſions from the Lat. of them in the Polyglot Bible, yet he took that of the Syr. as the beſt I ſuppoſe, from the Tranſ. of Tremellius, where it is Eliazar. This has led Scott into ſeveral needleſs or wrong Criticiſms, being often on the Syr. for again at Ver. 17. he ſays, the Lat. Verſ. of Syr. omits et before from David, but that of Trem. does not; which has alſo thy Offering, Ch. viii. 4. where Scott ſays he has no Edition of the Syr. with thy; ſo Ch. xii. 32. &c.

Ver. 17. from Abraham to David] incluſive, as likewiſe the next, ſo that David is to be reckoned twice accordingly; for otherwiſe Jechonias muſt, which is not ſo likely, ſince the two latter Periods hinge together upon a certain Time, not a Perſon; and Jechonias being in the Captivity, and but a Youth before, 2 King. xxiv. 8, 15. & xxv. 27. is to be numbered there. Whereby the Pretence of a Corruption in Ver. 11. and the Shift of counting the Brethren of Jechonias for one Generation, both fall.

Ver. 18. Jeſus] This Word a few Copies have not, and is thought an Addition by ſome.

Ib. came together] were actually married, Hammond's Annot. fol. 1653.

Ib. Holy Spirit] as in the com. Tranſ. Luk. xi. 13. Eph. i. 13.

Ver. 19. put her away privately] by making the Eſpouſals or Marriage-contract void, and concealing that it had been.

Ver. 20. an Angel] not being mentioned before.

Ib. take] unto thee ſeems oddly added by the laſt Tranſlators, ſhe being then his eſpouſed Wife, as Luk. ii. 5. ſo unto him, Ver. 24.

Ib. conceived in her] Vulg. born in her, but Nary forcibly renders natum, begotten or conceived, and would torture that Meaning out of it in his Pref. to vindicate that Tranſlation.

Ver. 21. from their Sins] Doddridge in his Method by Paraphraſe of expounding Scripture, with a few others; which I look on not only as the dulleſt, but the worſt, ſince it repreſents the Text as merely obſcure and imperfect; paraphraſes this away to the Puniſhment and Dominion of their Sins, inſtead of the Sins themſelves.

Ver. 22. that] doth frequently denote the conſequent or event only, Ham. he inſtances in Rom. v. 20. and Wall on Joh. vii. 23. ſays this Gr. Particle is often to be rendered (or may be underſtood) ſo as that, inſtancing Mar. iv. 12. as alſo on Rom. v. 20. he brings Chryſoſtom ſpeaking of that as a clear Inſtance, where it notes not the final Cauſe, but the Event.

Ver. 24. commanded] Geneva Verſion, injoyned.

Ver. 1. Bethlehem] two Hours Travel from Jeruſalem ſouthward, Maundr. and Corten.

Ib. in the Time of King Herod] Mills mentioning four MSS without this, tho' with no Remark on it; Whitby falls on him, Exam. Lib. ii. C. 2. and accuſes him of ſuſpecting this, when he ſpeaks only of Mar. vii. 16. Prol. 1475.

Ib. wiſe Men] They were, writes Suidas, religious Philoſophers, Μάγοι ἐγένοντο φιλόσοφοι καὶ φιλόθεοι.

Ib. Men from] See Leuſden's Clavis Græca Nov. Teſt. and Camer. in Myroth. here.

Ver. 4. of them] which Mills doubted of, whether it did not creep from Ver. 7. Pr. 1421. but according to Whithy need not have done, Exam. L. ii. C. 2.

Ver. 6. art not the leaſt] Mills informs us he found two Manuſcripts and the vulg. Lat. at firſt had, art thou the

7. Then

7. Then Herod privately calling the wiſe Men, diligently enquired of them the Time when the Star appeared.

8. And ſending them to Bethlehem, he ſaid, Go, and diligently enquire concerning the Child; and after you have found, tell me, that I may alſo come, and worſhip him.

9. Upon hearing the King, they went, and behold the Star which they had ſeen in the Eaſt went before them, till it came, and ſtood over where the Child was.

10. And when they ſaw the Star, they rejoiced exceeding much.

11. Now entering into the Houſe, they ſaw the Child along with Mary his Mother, at which they fell down, and worſhipped him; as alſo opening their Treaſures, they brought to him Gifts, Gold, Frankincenſe and Myrrh.

12. And being divinely admoniſhed in a Dream, not to turn back to Herod, they departed into their Country by another Way.

13. Moreover when they were departed, behold an Angel of the Lord appears in a Dream to Joſeph, ſaying, Riſe up, and take the Child with his Mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there till I ſpeak to thee: for Herod is about to ſeek for the Child, to deſtroy him.

14. So riſing up, he took the Child with his Mother at Night, and departed into Egypt:

15. And was there till the Deceaſe of Herod: that the following might be fulfilled which was ſpoken from the Lord by the Prophet, I called my Son out of Egypt.

16. Herod then ſeeing that he was deluded by the wiſe Men, was in a Wrath, and ſending, killed all the Male-children in Bethlehem and in all the Borders of it, from two Years old downward, according to the Time which he had diligently enquired of the wiſe Men.

17. Then was fulfilled what was ſpoken by the Prophet Jeremias as follows,

18. A Voice has been heard at Ramah, Lamentation, Weeping, and much Mourning, Rachel weeping for her Children; and would not be comforted, becauſe they are not.

19. But Herod being deceaſed, behold an Angel of the Lord appears in a Dream to Joſeph in Egypt,

20. Saying, Riſe up, and take the Child with his Mother, and go into the Country of Iſrael: for they are dead who ſought the Child's Life.

21. Accordingly he riſing up, took the Child with his Mother, and came into the Country of Iſrael.

22. However hearing that Archelaus reigned in Judea, in the room of his Father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; ſo being divinely admoniſhed in a Dream, he went off into the Parts of Galilee:

23. Whither being come, he dwelt in a City called Nazareth; that there might be ful-

CHAP. III.

NOW in thoſe Days John the Baptizer came, preaching in the Wilderneſs of Judea,

2. And ſaying, Repent: for the Kingdom of Heaven draws near.

3. For this is he who was ſpoken of by the Prophet Eſaias, who ſays; There is the Voice of one crying out in the Wilderneſs, Prepare the Way of the Lord, make ſtraight Roads for him.

4. And John himſelf had on him Raiment of Camel's Hair, with a leathern Girdle about his Loins; moreover his Food was Locuſts and wild Honey.

5. Then there went out to him they of Jeruſalem, of all Judea, and all about the Country of Jordan;

6. And were baptized by him in Jordan, confeſſing their Sins.

7. But he ſeeing many of the Phariſees and Sadducees come to his Baptiſm, ſaid to them: Offspring of Vipers, who has ſhewn you to flee from the Wrath hereafter?

8. Therefore yield Fruit worthy of Repentance.

9. And do not think to ſay in your ſelves, We have Abraham for a Father; ſince I tell you, that God can from theſe Stones raiſe up Children to Abraham.

10. And now the Ax alſo is put to the Root of the Trees: therefore every Tree that does not yield good Fruit, is cut down, and thrown into the Fire.

11. I indeed baptize you with Water into Repentance; but one coming after me that is ſtronger than I, the Shoes of whom I am not fit to carry, will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and Fire.

12. Whoſe Fan is in his Hand, and he will cleanſe out his Floor; putting his Wheat together into the Granary, but will burn up the Chaff with unquenchable Fire.

13. Jeſus then came from Galilee, to John at Jordan, to be baptized by him.

14. But John thus forbade him, I have need to be baptized by thee, and doſt thou come to me?

15. And Jeſus made anſwer to him, Permit it now: for thus it is what becomes us to fulfil all Righteouſneſs; then he permitted him.

16. So Jeſus being baptized, went up preſently from the Water; when behold the Heavens were opened, and he ſaw the Spirit of God deſcend as a Dove, and come upon him.

17. When behold a Voice from the Heavens ſaid, This is my beloved Son, with whom I am pleaſed.

CHAP. IV.

THEN Jeſus was brought into the Wilderneſs by the Spirit, to be tempted by the Devil.

2. Where faſting forty Days and forty Nights, he afterwards was hungry.

3. With that the Tempter coming to him, ſaid, If thou art the Son of God, command that theſe Stones ſhould become Bread.

4. But he made anſwer; It is written, Man ſhall not live upon Bread alone, but upon every Word that proceeds out through the Mouth of God.

Ver. 3. for him] according to Iſa. xl. 3.

Ver. 6. in Jordan] But Weſley, as it ſeems from Guyſe, writes, 'It ſeems that they ſtood in Ranks on the Edge 'of the River, and that John caſt Water on their Heads 'or Faces.'

Ver. 10. is put to] Weſt. lieth at.

Ver. 11. into] as in Rom. vi. 3. 1 Cor. xii. 13. Gal. iii. 27. and Repentance being then begun, Ver. vi. 8.

Ib. one] as tranſlated Mark i. 7. Luke iii. 16.

Ib. and Fire] Mills at firſt took this to be genuine, but afterwards in different Places of his Proleg. his Mind was altered. A conſiderable Number of Copies are without it; but as Luke has it, Ch. iii. 16. it may be ſafeſt to retain it; and the Doubt of Mills about it in Luke is wholly extravagant, as there is no Appearance of its Omiſſion, Pr. 690.

Ib. Fire] The Geneva Tranſ. has this Note, When God haptizeth inwardly with the vertue of his ſpirit, he burneth and conſumeth the vices, and inflameth the hearts with love towards him; for if Scripture is to expound Scripture, according to the Proteſtant Doctrine, this Fire ſeems to be like the Water in John iii. 5. either natural or ſpiritual, not a Reſemblance only of the former, as that in Acts ii. 3, was; though Interpreters have ſo much fallen into that Senſe.

Ver. 16, 17. Jerome on Iſa. xi. gives us theſe two Verſes from the ancient Hebr. Goſpel thus, 'And it came 'to paſs when the Lord went up from the Water, all the 'Fountain of the Holy Spirit came down, and reſted 'upon him, and ſaid to him, "My Son, I waited for "thee in all the Prophets, that thou mighteſt come, and "I might reſt in thee: for thou art my Reſt, thou art "my Firſt-born, and reigneſt for ever."

Ver. 16. he] John, B. i. 32, 33. which is ſo expreſs, that it may be wondered it ſhould be made a Doubt of, as in Scott's late Notes, &c.

Ver. 1. tempted] which is very poetically deſcribed in Milton's Paradiſe Regain'd.

Ver. 2. faſting forty Days] Whithy ſpeaking againſt Imitation of this, ſays, Obligation to a more than ordinary Temperance for forty Days, is to place Morality in Numbers, &c. for by like reaſon we muſt ride upon an Aſs, &c.

Ver. 4. every Word &c.] In the Verſion of Beauſobre and Lenfant, done from French into Eng. 1727, in Way of Paraphraſe, every thing which the Mouth of God ſhall ordain.

5. Next the Devil takes him into the holy City, and ſetting him on a Turret of the Temple,

6. Says to him; If thou art the Son of God, throw thy ſelf down: for it is written, He will command his Angels concerning thee; and they will hold thee up in their Hands, leſt at any time thou ſhouldeſt ſtrike thy Foot againſt a Stone.

7. Jeſus anſwered him; It is written again, Thou ſhalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8. Again the Devil takes him to a very high Mountain, and ſhews him all the Kingdoms of the World, with the Glory of them;

9. And ſays to him, All theſe Things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down, and worſhip me.

10. Then Jeſus replies to him; Be gone, Satan: for it is written, Thou ſhalt worſhip the Lord thy God, and ſerve him alone.

11. The Devil then leaves him, and behold Angels came, and miniſtred to him.

12. At length Jeſus hearing that John was committed to Priſon, departed into Galilee.

13. And leaving Nazareth, he came, and dwelt in Capernaum by the Sea, in the Borders of Zabulun and Nephthalim;

14. That there might be fulfilled what was ſpoken by the Prophet Eſaias as follows;

15. In the Country of Zabulun, and that of Nephthalim, at the Way of the Sea, the Side of Jordan, in Galilee of the Gentiles,

16. The People that ſate in Darkneſs have ſeen a great Light; and to them who ſate in the Region and Shadow of Death, is Light riſen.

17. From that Time Jeſus began to preach, and ſay, Repent: for the Kingdom of Heaven draws near.

18. And Jeſus walking by the Sea of Galilee, ſaw two Brothers, Simon called Peter, and his Brother Andrew, throwing a Net into the Sea (for they were Fiſhermen)

19. At which he ſays to them, Come after me, and I will make you Fiſhers for Men.

20. Upon this they preſently left the Nets, and followed him.

21. And going on thence, he ſaw two other Brothers, James of Zebedee, and his Brother John, in a Ship with their Father Zebedee, mending their Nets; and he called them.

22. Whereupon they preſently leaving the Ship and their Father, followed him.

23. Beſides Jeſus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Goſpel of the Kingdom, as alſo curing every Diſeaſe and every Ailment among the People.

24. So that the Report of him went into all Syria, and they brought to him all who were ill with various Diſeaſes, and oppreſſed with Torments, and thoſe in whom the Devil was, with the Lunaticks, and them that had the Palſy; and he cured them.

25. Moreover a great Multitude followed him from Galilee, Decapolis, Jeruſalem, Judea, and the Side of Jordan.

CHAP. V.

NOW ſeeing the Multitude, he went up on a Mountain; where he ſitting down, his Diſciples came to him.

2. And opening his Mouth, he taught them as follows.

3. Bleſſed are they that are poor in Spirit; ſince the Kingdom of Heaven is theirs.

4. Bleſſed are thoſe who lament; ſince they will be comforted.

5. Bleſſed are the Meek; ſince they will inherit the Earth.

6. Bleſſed are ſuch as are hungry and thirſty for Righteouſneſs; ſince they will be filled.

7. Bleſſed are the Merciful; ſince they will obtain Mercy.

Ver. 5. Next] This being ſo by the Original; concurrent alſo with again to takes, Ver. 8. conſequently it is tranſpoſed in Luke iv. 5, &c. where a different Conjunction does not ſo reſtrict it. But Beza begins the 5th Ver. of both with Tunc, Then, which is contradictory.

Ib. Turret] This I make choice of, rather than the old French Pinacle, which may be miſtaken for a Spire.

Ver. 7. tempt] Though Hammond and Whithy ſay much to ſhew it means diſtruſt, I ſhould rather take it in its certain Meaning try, viz. to try whether God would ſave him in the Fall.

Ver. 12. At length] The Matters related from John i. 29. to Ch. iii. 24. incluſive, being at leaſt between, nay thoſe from John i. 15. to the End of the ivth Chap. as appears by John i. 15 & 33 comp. and Ver. 13. here with John iv. 46, 47. and by the Chronology a conſiderable while before.

Ib. Jeſus] Mills names 3 MSS and 2 Verſions in which it is wanting, unleſs Editions (which in Kuſter's reprinting his can ſcarce be) differ; and Whithy in defending it, ſays two of the former, and but one of the latter, Exam. L. ii. C. 2. however we need not ſcruple to keep it.

Ib. to Priſon] which, though committed ſignifies of it ſelf, I have added for Clearneſs, as Beza has in cuſtodiam, Ital.

Ver. 18. Sea of Galilee] the ſame as in John vi. 1. and Luke v. 1. ſaid, according to Corten, to be three German Miles long, and an Hour and a half wide; through which Jordan runs.

Ver. 20. preſently] inſerted from elſewhere according to Mills, Pr. 673. on the ſlight Grounds of a few omitting it.

Ver. 25. Decapolis] How flat our Tranſlators have made it, by adding thoſe needleſs froms! as they have alſo of people.

8. Bleſſed are they who are pure in Heart; ſince they will ſee God.

9. Bleſſed are the Peace-makers; ſince they will be called the Sons of God.

10. Bleſſed are thoſe that are perſecuted for the ſake of Righteouſneſs; ſince the Kingdom of Heaven is theirs.

11. Bleſſed will you be when People ſhall reproach you, perſecute, and ſay every wicked Word againſt you falſely for my ſake.

12. Be glad, and rejoice; ſince your Reward will be much in Heaven: for ſo they perſecuted the Prophets before you.

13. You are the Salt of the Earth; but if Salt is become inſipid, with what ſhall it be made of a ſalt Taſte? It is of force for Nothing further, excepting to be thrown out, and trod on by Men.

14. You are are the Light of the World. A City ſet upon a Mountain cannot be hid:

15. Nor do People light a Candle, and put it under a Buſhel; but in a Candleſtick, whereby it gives light to all in the Houſe.

16. Let your Light ſo ſhine before Men, that they may ſee your good Deeds, and glorify your Father who is in Heaven.

17. Do not ſuppoſe that I am come to deſtroy the Law, or the Prophets: I am not come to deſtroy, but to fulfil.

18. For I tell you certainly, Till Heaven and Earth paſs away one Jot or one Tittle ſhall not at all paſs away from the Law, till the Whole is done.

19. Whoever therefore ſhall diſannul one of the leaſt of theſe Commandments, and teach Men ſo, ſhall be called the leaſt in the Kingdom of Heaven; but whoſoever ſhall do and teach them, ſhall be called great there.

20. For I tell you, that except your Righteouſneſs ſhall ſurpaſs that of the Scribes and Phariſees, you will not at all enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

21. You have heard that it was ſaid long ago, Thou ſhalt not murder; and he who murders, ſhall be obnoxious to the Judgment.

22. But I tell you, that every one who is angry with his Brother without cauſe, ſhall be obnoxious to the Judgment; whoever ſays to him, Blockhead, ſhall be obnoxious to the Council; and whoever ſays, wicked Fool, be obnoxious to the Puniſhment of Fire.

23. If therefore thou bringeſt thy Gift to the Altar, and there remembreſt that thy Brother has any Thing againſt thee;

24. Leave there thy Gift before the Altar, and go away; firſt be reconciled to thy Brother, and then coming, offer thy Gift.

25. Agree with thy Adverſary quickly, whilſt thou art in the Way along with him; leſt at any time the Adverſary ſhould deliver thee to the Judge, and this to the Officer, ſo that thou ſhouldeſt be thrown into Priſon.

26. Verily I tell thee, Thou wilt not at all come out thence, until thou payeſt the laſt Farthing.

27. You have heard that it was ſaid long ago, Thou ſhalt not commit Adultery.

28. But I tell you, that every one who has been looking at a Wife ſo as to luſt after her, has already committed Adultery with her in his Heart.

29. And if thy right Eye offend thee, pull it out, and throw it from thee: for it is profitable to thee, that one of thy Members ſhould periſh, and not thy whole Body be thrown into Hell.

30. As likewiſe if thy right Hand offend thee, cut it off, and throw it from thee: for it is profitable to thee, that one of thy Members ſhould periſh, and not thy whole Body be thrown into Hell.

31. And it was ſaid, that whoever ſhall ſend away his Wife, let him give her a Writing of Divorce.

32. But I tell you, that whoever ſhall ſend away his Wife, beſides on the Account of Whoredom, makes her commit Adultery; and whoſoever ſhall marry her that is ſent away, commits Adultery.

Ver. 13. with what ſhall it] If that has not a ſalt Property in it ſelf, what elſe ſhall endue it with ſuch a Quality?

Ver. 19. diſannul] The Gr. leads me to interpret according to Ch. xv. 6. and Beza, not by Jam. ii. 10.

Ver. 21. long ago] or in ancient Times; while Guyſe from Whitby would have by in the com. Tr. be to.

Ver. 22. without cauſe] ſome have not; and it might be annexed by way of Comment, as Mills thought, ſince it may be queſtioned whether a Perſon can be angry without ſome Cauſe, ſo that there may ſeem ſtill the Word ſufficient wanting to it; yet rather perhaps none of it is wanting, but the Meaning, He that is angry with his Brother, is liable to give Account of it; ſee Prol. 1256. and as Whitby owns it not left out deſignedly, it was ſcarce accidentally.

Ib. Blockhead] properly; the original Word being Syr. there in Uſe.

Ib. wicked Fool] to be neceſſarily here what Fool in Scripture means.

Ib. Puniſhment of] as hinted by Beza, and with a Genitive.

Ver. 27. long ago] omitted by many; but ſince Irenæus, and others named by Whitby have it, with the Vulg. and the received Reading, we may be ſafeſt to retain it.

Ver. 28. Wife] for if a Woman unmarried, it could not be committing Adultery, and it is ſaid every one who &c. Moreover by Analogy, this will include every Huſband looking ſo at any Woman.

Ib. to luſt after her] Of this ſee an Inſtance in the early Treatiſe of Hermas mentioned at Rom. xvi. 14. Viſion 1.

Ver. 32. and whoſoever ſhall marry &c.] to the End, Mills names a Copy now, and another formerly which was without; but beſides all the reſt, and all the Verſions, Whitby produces Authors who have it, Ex. L. ii. 2.

33. Again you have heard that it was ſaid long ago, Thou ſhalt not be forſworn; but ſhalt perform to the Lord thy Oaths.

34. But I tell you; Do not ſwear at all: neither by Heaven, ſince it is the Throne of God;

35. Nor by the Earth, ſince it is his Foot-ſtool; nor by Jeruſalem, ſince it is the City of the great King:

36. Neither ſhalt thou ſwear by thy Head, ſince thou canſt not make one Hair white or black.

37. But let your Word be, Yes, yes; No, no: and what is over and above theſe, is from Evil.

38. You have heard that it was ſaid, An Eye for an Eye, and a Tooth for a Tooth.

39. Whereas I tell you; Do not reſiſt Wickedneſs; but to him who ſhall ſtrike thee on thy right Cheek, turn alſo the other.

40. And let him that will ſue thee, and take thy Coat, have alſo the Waiſtcoat.

41. Moreover with him who ſhall force thee to go one Mile, go two.

42. Give him who aſks of thee, and turn him not away that would borrow from thee.

43. You have heard that it was ſaid, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour, and hate thy Enemy.

44. But I tell you; Love your Enemies, bleſs thoſe who curſe you, do well to them that hate you, and pray for ſuch as moleſt you, and perſecute you:

45. That you may become the Sons of that Father who is in Heaven; ſince he makes his Sun riſe on the wicked and good, and cauſes it to rain on the righteous and unrighteous ones.

46. For if ye ſhould love but thoſe who love you, what Reward would ye have? Do not even Publicans the ſame?

47. And if ye ſhould ſalute your Brethren only, what would ye do more? Do not even Publicans ſo?

48. Be you therefore perfect, according as your Father who is in Heaven is perfect.

CHAP. VI.

TAKE heed not to beſtow your Alms before Men, to be ſeen by them; for otherwiſe you have no Reward with your Father who is in Heaven.

2. When therefore thou beſtoweſt Alms, thou ſhalt not ſound a Trumpet before thee; according as Hypocrites do at the Synagogues, and in the Streets, that they may be applauded by Men: I tell you certainly, They receive of them the Reward.

3. But as thou art beſtowing Alms, let not thy left Hand know what thy right Hand does:

4. That thy Alms may be in Secret; and thy Father who beholds in Secret, will himſelf recompenſe thee in Publick.

5. And when thou prayeſt, thou ſhalt not be as the Hypocrites; ſince they love to pray ſtanding in the Synagogues, and in the Corners of the Streets, that they may be ſeen by Men: I tell you certainly that they receive of them the Reward.

6. But when thou art to pray, enter into thy Cloſet, and ſhutting thy Door, worſhip thy Father who is in Secret; which Father who beholds in Secret, will recompenſe thee in Publick.

7. And as you pray, do not ſpeak impertinently, like the Heathen: for they think that they ſhall be hearkened to by their ſpeaking much.

8. Be not therefore like them; for your Father knows what Things you have need of, before you aſk of him.

Ver. 37. Word] by the ſtrongeſt Gr. Word for it.

Ib. is from Evil] now in the Purity of the Goſpel, as the Gr. Verb is of the preſent Tenſe, and Chriſt makes a Diſtinction from the Law.

Ver. 39. Do not reſiſt] wholly, Ptol. mentioned Ch. xv. 5. in his Epiſt. to Flora, a Woman of his Sect; which takes off from our Lord's Command, and is one of thoſe Refinements, uſed by many, that injure the ſacred Code.

Ver. 40. Waiſtcoat] Gr. Garment, any one, and without thy, and rationally the upper one firſt.

Ver. 41. to go] with thy Horſe, Wagon, &c. as was done on extraordinary Occaſions, by Officers eſpecially.

Ver. 42. turn him not away] active thus, not neuter with from.

Ver. 44. bleſs—hate you] Two or three Tranſlations not having all this, and ſome ancient Writers not quoting it; Mills ſays, he does not at all doubt, that it was brought hither from Luke vi. 28. but I doubt it much, for the two Members of the Sentence are tranſpoſed, and why muſt one Hiſtorian at firſt have more than the other? And why thoſe indirect Witneſſes turn the Cauſe againſt almoſt a hundred direct M S S Copies? Nor do the others, few as they are, agree together; ſee alſo Whitby.

Ver. 47. Publicans] Some have Gentiles, as a few in the foregoing Ver. but Mills diſapproves of it, tho' the Vulg. has it here, Pr. 888.

Ver. 48. according as] Since as alone may ſignify as—as, or as much as, which certainly is not here to be underſtood.

Ver. 1. Alms] Some having Righteouſneſs, Beza's and Mills's Approbation of it is the more extraordinary, as there is this in the three following Verſes, and the preſent is joined to the next by therefore; the latter's Remark alſo is ſingular, that Iſedakah, which he takes for granted Matthew wrote in Heb. ſignifying Righteouſneſs, was ſo rendered by his Tranſlator. A ſhort Way to end Diſputes, if allowed of; while he makes a pretty many Words beſide the Matter, or to very little Purpoſe; and ſee Whitby.

Ver. 2. be applauded] In the New Verſion of 1729, as likewiſe in that from Beauſ. and Lenf. have the applauſe.

Ver. 2, 5. of them] as their ſhould mean, however ſtupidly miſtaken perhaps by all; to which that in Ver. 6. is properly an Antitheſis.

Ver. 4, 6. in Publick] ſome have not, and more Copies the former; but ſee Whitby's Examen Millii.

9. Thus

9. Thus therefore do you pray: Our Father who art in Heaven, ſacredly reverenced be thy Name;

10. Let thy Kingdom come; may thy Will be done, even on the Earth according as in Heaven;

11. Give us our daily Bread to Day;

12. And forgive us our Treſpaſſes, as we alſo forgive thoſe that treſpaſs againſt us;

13. And do not bring us into Trial, but deliver us from Wickedneſs; ſince the Kingdom, Power, and Glory is thine for ever: ſo let it be.

14. For if you ſhall forgive Men their Offences, your heavenly Father will alſo forgive you:

15. Whereas if you forgive not Men their Offences, neither will your Father forgive yours.

16. And when you faſt, be not like the Hypocrites, with a ſorrowful Look: for they disfigure their Faces, that they may appear to Men to be faſting: I tell you certainly that they receive of them the Reward.

17. But as thou faſteſt, anoint thy Head, and waſh thy Face:

18. That thou mayeſt not appear to Men to be faſting, but to thy Father who is in Secret; which Father who beholds in Secret, will recompenſe thee in Publick.

19. Do not hoard up for you Treaſures on the Earth, where Moth and Ruſt defaces, and where Thieves break through, and ſteal.

20. But hoard up for you Treaſures in Heaven, where neither Moth nor Ruſt defaces, and where Thieves do not break through, nor ſteal.

21. For at the Place where your Treaſure is, your Heart alſo will be.

22. The Eye is the Lamp of the Body; if thy Eye therefore ſees diſtinctly, thy whole Body will be light:

23. Whereas if thy Eye is bad, thy whole Body will be dark; if the Light in thee therefore is Darkneſs, how much Darkneſs muſt there be!

24. None can ſerve different Maſters: for he will either hate one, and love the other; or cleave to one, and deſpiſe the other: you cannot ſerve God and Riches.

Ver. 9. our Father] The Lord's Prayer in above a hundred Languages was printed at London 1700; but with divers more, and much better by John Chamberlain an Engliſhman, and F. R. S. at Amſterd. 1715: yet might be ſtill improved; for I have obſerved in that of Madagaſcar, it very little, if at all, agrees with the Vocabulary of Robert Drury, who lived there 15 Years, and may be allowed a faithful and the moſt knowing Relater; and even the modern Engliſh is in the old Letter and Pointing, though all were to be expreſſed in their proper Characters. Jonſton in Lat. Verſe begins it,

Magne Pater! cæli qui cingis et incolis arces,

Great Father, who doſt ſurround and inhabit the Palaces of Heaven. This Deſcription of the Supreme Being, ſays a certain Author, ſurpaſſes all that can be found in any Pagan Writer.

Ib. ſacredly reverenced] with a holy Regard, and true Worſhip.

Ver. 10. Let thy Kingdom come] How the primitive Proteſtants underſtood this may appear by their Metre of it as follows, put at the End of the Pſalms,

Thy kingdome come even at this houre,
And henceforth everlaſtingly:
Thine holy Ghoſt into us powre,
With all his gifts moſt plenteouſly.

Ver. 12. Treſpaſſes] debts being what are owed, or to be paid, and the debtors thoſe who are to be forgiven, have no Right of Place here.

Ib. as] The Difficulty that has been apprehended in this will vaniſh, if we are to take it ſtrictly (which I do not determine) to forgive others on their deſiring us, as we here pray to God for it, and according to Luke xvii. 3, 4. when they repent, which alſo muſt be ſuppoſed ſincerely, not in Falſehood or Mockery.

Ver. 13. Trial] as rendered in the com. Tranſ. 1 Pet. iv. 12. and of which our curious and learned Dan. Scott has this Note, 'May not πειρασμὸς rather refer to Trials 'or Afflictions? as Jam. i. 2. rather than to Temptations, 'into which God, who tempteth no one, cannot pro-'perly be ſaid to bring any Man.' But herein he was not ſo accurate as uſual; ſince one rather is redundant, and the Note of Interrogation ſhould be either at Temptations or at the End, beſides that Jam. i. 13. would have been much more to the Purpoſe. The common Expreſſion lead us not into Temptation has been a Stumbling-block to ſeveral, whom I have heard ſpeak of it, and who not knowing the Original, did ſuppoſe it not rightly tranſlated by lead. Hammond has it ſtraights or difficulties, Annot.

Ib. ſince the Kingdom—for ever] Whitby owns that many Criticks, as well as Mills, adjudge the Riſe of this Doxology here to the Gr. Liturgies, Examen, Lib. ii. Cap. 1. but might it not rather paſs from hence thither? And the Vulg. not having it might have a great Effect for the Omiſſion in others. Beſides it might be left out becauſe not in Luke ii. 4. and if not here at firſt, would ſcarce have been added here, and not there. Of the Gr. Copies alſo, which are to be the Teſt of the Matter, Mills could muſter up but four without it, two of thoſe on Report, and another very erroneous in his own Account, Pr. 1272. and on Luke iii. 36. which in other Caſes would hardly be worth minding; for further Proof of it read Whitby.

Ver. 19. defaces] the ſame Verb with disfigure, Ver. 16.

Ver. 21. For your twice a very few have thy, yet Mills ſays your is of Luke, Pr. 385. but why not of Matthew too? And thy might be taken from the following. As to Whitby's bringing the plur. in Luke xii. 34. and here Ver. 19, 20. for it, Exam. Lib. ii. 2. it is that, if any Thing, makes it ſuſpected.

Ver. 22. Lamp] or Candle, which gives light while it is lighted, and ſupplied with Oil or Tallow, Chap. xxv. 3, 4, 8. ſuch is the Eye to the Body: and ſuch the ſpiritual Senſe of ſeeing to the Soul, in regard to which our Saviour muſt ſpeak.

Ib. diſtinctly] not doubly or confuſedly, as with bad Sight.

Ver. 23. Light in thee] Seneca by L'Eſtrange, p. 110. Every Man has a Light ſet up in him for a Guide; which we do all of us both ſee and acknowledge, tho' we do not purſue it.

Ib. is Darkneſs] If thy ſpiritual Senſation is darkened, how dark muſt thou be in other Reſpects!

Ver. 24. different] How came the Tranſlators to miſs this plain Meaning!

Ib. Riches] the allowed Meaning of mammon, and why

25. For

25. For this reaſon I ſay to you; Be not careful for your Life, what you ſhall eat, and what you ſhall drink; nor for your Body, what you ſhall wear: is not the Life it ſelf more than the Food, and the Body than the Apparel?

26. Look on the Fowls of the Air; ſince they do not ſow, reap, nor put together into Barns, but your heavenly Father feeds them: are you not more excellent than they?

27. Nay which of you in being careful, can add one Cubit to his Stature?

28. And why are you careful about Apparel? Conſider how the Lillies of the Field grow; they do not labour, nor ſpin:

29. Yet I tell you, that Solomon in all his Glory was not cloathed like one of theſe.

30. Now if God thus array the Herbage of the Field, that exiſts to Day, and to Morrow is thrown into the Oven, will he not you much more, O ye of little Faith?

31. Be therefore not careful, ſaying, What ſhall we eat? or, What ſhall we drink? or, What ſhall we be cloathed with?

32. Though all theſe Things the Gentiles ſeek for; ſince your heavenly Father knows, that you have Need of all theſe:

33. But ſeek firſt the Kingdom of God, and his Righteouſneſs; and they will all be added to you.

34. Be therefore not careful for the next Day; ſince that will be careful of its own Things: ſufficient for a Day is the Evil of it.

CHAP. VII.

DO not judge, that you may not be judged.

2. For with what Judgment you judge, you will be judged; and with what Meaſure you meaſure, there will be meaſured again to you.

3. And why doſt thou look at the Mote in thy Brother's Eye, and not obſerve the Piece in thy own?

4. Or how wilt thou ſay to him, Let me pull out the Mote from thy Eye; when behold there is a Piece in thy own?

5. O Hypocrite, pull firſt the Piece out of thy own Eye; and then thou wilt ſee throughly to pull the Mote out of thy Brother's.

6. Do not give Dogs a holy Thing, nor throw your Pearls before Hogs; leſt at any time theſe ſhould tread on them with their Feet, and thoſe turning about, ſhould tear you.

7. Aſk, and there will be given you; ſeek, and you will find; knock, and there will be opened to you.

8. For every one who aſks, receives; and he that ſeeks, does find; and to him who knocks, there will be opened.

9. Or what Man of you is there, whom if his Son aſk for Bread, will give him a Stone?

10. And if he aſk for a Fiſh, will he give him a Serpent?

11. If therefore you that are wicked, know how to give good Gifts to your Children; how much more will your Father who is in Heaven, give good Things to thoſe that aſk of him!

12. All Things therefore whatever ye are willing that Men ſhould do to you, ſo do ye alſo to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets.

13. Go in at the narrow Gate; becauſe the Gate is wide, and the Way broad which leads to Deſtruction, and many are they that enter in at it:

14. Since the Gate is narrow, and the Way ſtreight which leads to Life, and few are thoſe that enter in at it.

ſhould not that be tranſlated as well as other Words, and particularly philarguria, the Love of Money, 1 Tim. i. 6.

Ver. 25. He that buildeth a coſtly Houſe even to the Tyling, will not leave there, and loſe ſo great a Coſt for ſo ſmall a Trifle more. No more will he that gave thee ſo precious a Soul, and ſo beautiful a Body, let either of them periſh again before the Day, for ſo ſmall a Thing as Food and Raiment, Wm. Tyndall's Expoſition here, and how very excellent! So in that ancient Eng. Book The Viſion of Pierce Plowman,

For never was life, but Ipuelode were ſhapen, Step 4.

Ib. Be not careful] ſolicitous, or anxious; not Take no Thought.

Ib. and what you ſhall drink] omitted in the Vulg. Lat. &c. being, ſays Mills, Prol. 385. of Ver. 31. but I ſhould rather ſay on the contrary, omitted becauſe there, and becauſe not in Luke xii. 22. See alſo Whit.

Ver. 30. Herbage] being the Lillies, &c. Ver. 28.

Ver. 32. heavenly] not with the Vulgate, and a few, but it does not ſeem to me, as to Mills, inſerted from Ver. 26. ſee at Ver. 25. & Luke xii. 30.

Ver. 33. added to you] With Origen and Clemens Alexandrinus alſo, which Mills ſuppoſed might be from the Goſpel of the Nazarenes, Aſk for great Things, and little ones will be added to you; and aſk for heavenly Things, and earthly ones will be added to you.

Ver. 34. of its own Things] With ſome for it ſelf.

Ver. 2. again] Part of the Gr. Word, which many have not; but ſee Whitby, Exam. Lib. ii. 2.

Ver. 10. And] inſtead of which Or is wrong.

Ver. 11. wicked] The Note here to the Verſ. of Beau. and Len. gives it to be underſtood, that the Diſciples of Chriſt were thus, as compared with God; whereas it is but ſuppoſitive, and might mean only thoſe who were really wicked, and not his Diſciples.

Ver. 14. Since] Many have, How narrow is &c. by the Change of ὅτι into τί, and Mills ingeniouſly ſhews two Ways how it might be done. This rational Conjunction is to connect with narrow Gate before.

15. And take heed of falſe Prophets, who come to you in the Dreſs of Sheep, but within are ravening Wolves.

16. You will know them by their Fruits: do People pick off Grapes from Briers, or Figs from Brambles?

17. Thus every good Tree yields good Fruit, as a corrupt one does that which is bad.

18. A good Tree cannot yield bad Fruit, nor yet a corrupt one what is good.

19. Every Tree which yields not good Fruit, is cut down, and thrown into the Fire.

20. Well then by their Fruits you will know them.

21. Not every one that will ſay, Lord, Lord, ſhall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven; but he who does the Will of my Father who is in Heaven.

22. Many will ſay to me on that Day, Lord, Lord, have we not propheſied in thy Name, expelled Devils in it, and done many powerful Things in the ſame?

23. But then I ſhall profeſs to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you Workers of Iniquity.

24. Every one therefore who hears theſe Words of mine, and does them, I will liken him to a wiſe Man, who built his Houſe on a Rock:

25. So that when a Shower deſcended, Floods came, Winds blew, and ruſhed on that Houſe, it did not fall; ſince it was founded on a Rock.

26. As alſo every one that hears theſe Words of mine, and does them not, ſhall be likened to a fooliſh Man, who built his Houſe on the Sand:

27. And a Shower deſcended, Floods came, Winds blew, and ruſhed on that Houſe; ſo that it fell, and the Fall of it was great.

28. And when Jeſus finiſhed theſe Words, the Multitude were ſurprized at his Doctrine.

29. For he taught them as having Authority, and not as the Scribes.

CHAP VIII.

NOW he coming down from the Mountain, a great Multitude followed him.

2. And there was a Leper came, and worſhipped him, ſaying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canſt cleanſe me.

3. Whereupon Jeſus ſtretching forth the Hand, touched him, and ſaid, I will; be thou cleanſed: which his Leproſy preſently was.

4. And Jeſus ſays to him, See thou telleſt Nobody; but go, ſhew thy ſelf to the Prieſt, and offer the Gift which Moſes commanded, for a Teſtimony to them.

5. Next Jeſus entering into Capernaum, there came to him a Centurion, beſeeching him,

6. And ſaying, Lord, my Lad lies at home having the Palſy, vehemently tormented.

7. At which Jeſus ſays to him, I will come, and cure him.

8. And the Centurion made reply; Lord, I am not fit that thou ſhouldeſt enter under my Roof; but ſpeak the Word only, and my Lad will be healed:

9. For thus I, who am a Man in Authority, having Soldiers under me; ſay to one, Go, and he goes; to another, Come, and he comes; and to my Servant, Do this, and he does.

10. Which when Jeſus heard, he wondered at, and ſaid to them who followed; I tell you certainly, I have not found ſo much Faith in Iſrael.

11. Nay I ſay to you, that many will come from the Eaſt and Weſt, and ſit down with Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob in the Kingdom of Heaven.

12. But the Sons of the Kingdom will be caſt forth into outer Darkneſs; there Weeping and Gnaſhing of Teeth will be.

13. And Jeſus ſaid to the Centurion, Go away, and as thou haſt believed, let it be for thee: accordingly his Lad was healed the ſame Hour.

14. Moreover Jeſus coming into the Houſe of Peter, ſaw his Mother-in-law lie, and have a Fever.

Ver. 28. finiſhed] Why with had, as if after, rather than then?

Ver. 5. Jeſus] With many is read he, which might be made at firſt by writing αὐτῷ inadvertently from the following, and letting it remain, not to deface the Copy; what according to Canon 4. in Wetſten's Edit. the Tranſcribers often did. 15. Upon this he touched her Hand, and the Fever left her; inſomuch that ſhe roſe up, and waited on them.

16. And the Evening being come, People brought to him many in whom the Devil was; and he expelled the Spirits with a Word, and cured all who were ill;

17. That there might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the Prophet Eſaias thus; He himſelf took our Weakneſſes, and bore the Diſeaſes.

18. Now Jeſus ſeeing a great Multitude about him, commanded to go away to the farther Side.

19. And ſome Scribe coming near, ſaid to him, Maſter, I will follow thee, whitherſoever thou goeſt.

20. To whom Jeſus ſays, The Foxes have Holes, and the Fowls of the Air Neſts, but the Man has not where he may lay down the Head.

21. Another alſo of his Diſciples ſaid to him, Lord, permit me firſt to go away, and bury my Father.

22. But Jeſus anſwered him, Follow me, and leave the Dead to bury their own Dead.

23. So he going aboard a Ship, his Diſciples followed him.

24. And behold there was a great Tempeſt in the Sea, ſo that the Ship was covered under the Waves; but he was aſleep.

25. With that his Diſciples coming near, awaked him, and ſaid, Lord, ſave us; we are periſhing.

26. And he ſays to them, Why are you fearful, ye of little Faith? Then he roſe up, and rebuked the Winds, with the Sea; and there was a great Calm.

27. Therefore the Men wondered, ſaying, What Sort of a Perſon is this, that even the Winds and Sea obey him?

28. At length he coming to the farther Side, into the Country of the Gergeſenes, two Men in whom were Devils met him, as they came out from the Tombs, ſo very miſchievous, that none could paſs along that Way.

29. And behold they cried out as follows, What haſt thou to do with us, Jeſus, the Son of God? Art thou come hither to torment us before the Time?

30. Now far from them was a Herd of many Hogs feeding;

31. Whereupon the Devils beſought him thus, If thou doſt expel us, permit us to go away into the Herd of Hogs.

32. And he ſaid to them, Go: accordingly coming out, they went away into thoſe; when behold all the Herd of Hogs ran with violence down a ſteep Place into the Sea, and died in the Waters.

33. The Keepers then ran away, and getting into the City, told all the Things, particularly of them in whom the Devils were.

34. And lo all the City came out to meet Jeſus, and on ſeeing him, beſought that he would depart from their Borders.

CHAP. IX.

NOW going aboard the Ship, he paſſed over, and came into his own City.

2. And behold the People carried to him one that had the Palſy, lying on a Bed; and Jeſus at ſeeing their Faith, ſaid to him who had the Palſy, Take courage, Child, thy Sins are forgiven thee.

3. Upon this behold ſome of the Scribes ſaid in themſelves, He blaſphemes.

4. However Jeſus perceived their Thoughts, and ſaid; Why do ye think wicked Things in your Hearts?

5. For which is eaſier, to ſay, The Sins are forgiven thee; or to ſay, Ariſe, and walk?

6. But that you may perceive, the Man has Authority on the Earth to forgive Sins (then ſays he to him who had the Palſy,) Ariſe, take up thy Bed, and go away home.

7. Accordingly he aroſe, and went away thither.

8. This the Multitude ſeeing, wondered, and glorified God, who had given ſuch Authority to Men.

9. Afterwards Jeſus paſſing away thence, ſaw a Man ſitting at the Cuſtom-houſe, called Matthew, and ſays to him, Follow me: ſo he roſe up, and followed him.

10. Moreover as he was ſitting in the Houſe, behold many Publicans and Sinners came, and ſate down with Jeſus and his Diſciples.

11. Which the Phariſees ſeeing, ſaid to his Diſciples, For what reaſon does your Maſter eat with Publicans and Sinners?

12. This Jeſus hearing, anſwered them; Such as are in Health have no Need of a Phyſician, but thoſe who are ill.

13. Beſides go, and learn what is, I would have Mercy, and not Sacrifice: for I did not come to call the Righteous, but Sinners to Repentance.

14. Then the Diſciples of John come to him, ſaying, For what reaſon, when we and the Phariſees faſt much, do thy Diſciples not faſt?

15. And Jeſus ſaid to them; Can the Sons of the Bride-chamber lament, as long as the Bridegroom is with them? But the Days will come when he will be taken away from them, and then ſhall they faſt.

16. Nay none puts a Patch of freſh Cloth upon an old Garment; ſince a Piece of that pulls off ſome of the Garment, and the Rent is made worſe.

17. Nor do People put new Wine into old Bottles; for if ſo the Bottles break, the Wine is ſhed out, and the Bottles will periſh: but they put new Wine into new Bottles, and both are preſerved together.

18. While he was ſpeaking theſe Things to them, behold a Ruler came, and worſhipped him, ſaying, My Daughter is juſt dying; but come, and put thy Hand upon her, and ſhe will live.

19. At this Jeſus riſing up, followed him, as likewiſe his Diſciples.

20. And lo a Woman, that had a Flux of Blood twelve Years, came near behind, and touched the Skirt of his Garment.

21. For ſhe ſaid in her ſelf, If I only touch his Garment, I ſhall be made well.

22. Upon which Jeſus turned about, and ſeeing her, ſaid, Take courage, Daughter, thy Faith has made thee well: ſo the Woman was made well from that Hour.

23. At laſt when Jeſus came into the Ruler's Houſe, and ſaw the Pipers, with the Company making a Noiſe,

24. He ſaid to them, Get aſide; for the Maid is not dead, but aſleep: at which they derided him.

25. Nevertheleſs when the Company was put forth, he entering in, took hold of her Hand; and the Maid roſe up.

26. And this Fame went out into that whole Country.

27. Next as Jeſus went away thence, two blind Men followed him, crying out in this manner, Have mercy upon us, O Son of David.

28. And he being come into the Houſe, the blind Men came to him; to whom Jeſus ſays, Do you believe that I can do this? They anſwer him, Yes, Lord.

29. Then he touched their Eyes, ſaying, According to your Faith let it be to you.

Ib. to Repentance] This both here and in Mark ii. 17. being not in various MSS. and Tranſlations, has been thought fetched from Luke v. 32. and it is not unlikely that Luke writing after, might make the Addition to Mat. and Mark, what Auguſtine ſays, De Conſen. Evang. L. ii. 27. as in other Things, and it might be from the farther Remembrance of Somebody that Jeſus ſaid this; yet both Mat. and Mark having it may overballance that, and ſee Whitby's Exam. L. ii. 2.

30. And their Eyes were opened, but Jeſus ſtrictly charged them, as follows, See that none may know it.

31. Whereas they went out, and told his Fame about in that whole Country.

32. Now they being gone out, behold ſome brought to him a dumb Man in whom the Devil was.

33. And when the Devil was expelled, the dumb Perſon ſpoke; ſo that the Multitude wondered, ſaying, There was never ſeen ſuch a Thing in Iſrael.

34. Yet the Phariſees ſaid, He expels Devils by the Prince of them.

35. Jeſus too went about in all the Cities and Villages, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Goſpel of the Kingdom, as alſo curing every Diſeaſe and Ailment among the People.

36. And upon ſeeing the Multitude, he was moved with Affection for them, becauſe they were faint, and diſperſed about, as Sheep that had no Shepherd.

37. Then he ſays to his Diſciples; The Harveſt indeed is great, but the Workmen few;

38. Pray therefore to the Maſter of it, that he would ſend forth Workmen into his Harveſt.

CHAP. X.

AFTERWARDS calling thither his twelve Diſciples, he gave them Authority over unclean Spirits, ſo that they might expel them, as likewiſe cure every Diſeaſe and Ailment.

2. And theſe are the Names of the twelve Apoſtles; the firſt Simon called Peter, and his Brother Andrew, James of Zebedee, and his Brother John,

3. Philip, and Bartholomew, Thomas, and Matthew the Publican, James of Alpheaus, and Lebbeaus ſurnamed Thaddeaus.

4. Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iſcariot, that alſo delivered him up.

5. Theſe twelve Jeſus ſent, ordering them as follows: You ſhall go into no Road to the Gentiles, nor enter into a City of the Samaritans.

6. But go rather to the Sheep that are loſt of the Family of Iſrael.

7. And as you go, preach, ſaying, The Kingdom of Heaven is come near.

8. Cure the Sick, cleanſe the Lepers, raiſe up the Dead, expel Devils: you have received for Nothing, give in the ſame Manner.

9. You ſhall provide neither Gold, Silver, nor Braſs, in your Girdles;

10. Not a Bag for the Road, nor two Coats, nor Shoes, nor Sticks: for the Workman deſerves his Food.

11. Into whatever City or Village alſo you enter, diligently enquire who in it is worthy; and remain there, until you go out.

12. Beſides when you enter into a Family, ſalute it.

13. And if indeed the Family be worthy, let your Peace come on it; but if it be unworthy, let your Peace return to your ſelves.

14. And whoſoever will not receive you, nor hear your Words; come out of that Houſe or City, and ſhake off the Duſt of your Feet.

15. I tell you certainly, It will be more

Ver. 35. among the People] ſeems taken from Ch. iv. 23. ſays Mills, becauſe ſeveral have it not; but Mat. might likelier repeat his own whole Expreſſion than Part of it.

Ver. 8. raiſe up the Dead] About half of the Gr. MSS I think are without this, and Mills reckons it added from Ch. xi. 5. which is not likely, as being done by Jeſus himſelf; and rather omitted here, as not appearing done by the Apoſtles then.

16. Behold I ſend you like Sheep into the midſt of Wolves; be therefore as wiſe as Serpents, yet innocent as Doves.

17. Take heed now of Men: for they will deliver you up to the Councils, and whip you in their Synagogues;

18. And before Governors, nay even Kings will you be brought for my ſake, for Evidence to them and the Gentiles.

19. However when they deliver you up, be not careful how, or what you ſhall ſpeak; ſince this will be given you the ſame Hour.

20. For you are not they who ſpeak, but the Spirit of your Father is he that ſpeaks in you.

21. And a Brother will deliver up the Brother to Death, as likewiſe a Father the Child; Children too will riſe up againſt the Parents, and cauſe them to be put to death.

22. Nay you will be hated by all for my Name; but he who perſeveres to the End, ſhall be ſaved.

23. Yet when they perſecute you in one City, flee into another: for I tell you certainly, You will not at all finiſh the Cities of Iſrael, until the Man ſhall come.

24. A Scholar is not above the Teacher, nor a Servant above his Maſter.

25. It is ſufficient for a Scholar that he may be as his Teacher, and a Servant as his Maſter: if they have called the Houſholder Beelzebul, how much more thoſe of his Houſhold!

26. Do not therefore fear them: for there is Nothing covered, which will not be revealed; and hid, which will not be known.

27. What I tell you in the Darkneſs, ſpeak in the Light; and what you hear in the Ear, preach on the Houſe-tops.

28. So be not afraid of them that kill the Body, but cannot kill the Soul; but rather fear him who can deſtroy both Soul and Body in Hell.

29. Are not two Sparrows ſold for a Halfpenny, not one of which falls on the Ground without your Father?

30. Nay even the Hairs of your Head are all numbered.

31. Do not therefore fear; you excel many Sparrows.

32. Every one therefore that ſhall make confeſſion of me before men, I will alſo make confeſſion of him before my Father who is in Heaven.

33. But whoever denies me before Men, I will alſo deny him before my Father who is in Heaven.

34. Do not ſuppoſe, that I am come to put Peace upon the Earth: I am not come to put Peace, but the Sword.

35. For I am come to make a Man at diſſenſion againſt his Father, a Daughter againſt her Mother, and a Daughter-in-law againſt her Mother-in-law.

36. And a Man's Enemies will be thoſe of his own Family.

37. He who loves Father or Mother above me, is unworthy of me; as alſo he that loves Son or Daughter above me, is unworthy of me.

38. Moreover he who does not take his Croſs, and follow after me, is unworthy of me.

39. He that finds his Life, will loſe it; and he who loſes his Life for my ſake, will find it.

CHAP. XI.

AND when Jeſus had made an end of ordering his twelve Diſciples, he departed thence, to teach and preach in their Cities.

2. Now John having heard in Priſon the Works of Chriſt, ſent two of his Diſciples,

3. And ſaid to him, Art thou he who was to come, or are we to expect another?

4. Whereupon Jeſus made anſwer to them; Go, and tell John what Things you hear, and behold:

5. The Blind have ſight, and the Lame walk, the Lepers are cleanſed, and the Deaf hear, the Dead are raiſed up, and the Poor are preached to;

6. And whoever ſhall not be offended at me is bleſſed.

7. Beſides when they were gone, Jeſus began to ſay to the Multitude concerning John: What did you go out into the Wilderneſs to ſee? A Reed ſhaken by the Wind?

8. But what did you go out to look at? A Man dreſſed in ſoft Cloaths? Behold thoſe who wear ſuch are in Kings Houſes.

9. However what did you go out to look at? A Prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a Prophet.

10. For this is he of whom it is written, Behold I ſend my Meſſenger before thy Face, who ſhall make ready thy Way before thee.

11. I ſay to you certainly; There has not riſen up, among thoſe that are born of Women, a greater than John the Baptizer; yet the leaſt in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.

12. And from the Days of this John till now, the Kingdom of Heaven has been preſſed after, and they who preſs on take it by force.

13. For all the Prophets, and the Law till John, propheſied.

14. Moreover if you will receive it, this is Elias who ſhould come.

15. He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

16. To what alſo ſhall I liken this Generation? It is like Boys that ſit in the Markets, and calling to the Companions,

17. Say, We have piped to you, and ye have not danced: We have mourned to you, and ye not lamented.

18. For John came neither eating, nor drinking; and they ſay, He has a Devil.

19. The Man came eating, and drinking; and they ſay, Behold a Man who is a Glutton and a Wine-drinker, a Friend of Publicans and Sinners. Yet Wiſdom is juſtified by its Children.

20. Then he began to reproach the Cities, in which moſt of his powerful Things were done, becauſe they did not repent.

21. Wo is to thee, Chorazin, wo is to thee, Bethſaida; ſince if the powerful Things done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented of old in Sackcloth and Aſhes.

22. But I tell you, It will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon, on the Day of Judgment, than for you.

23. And thou, Capernaum, exalted as thou art to Heaven, wilt be caſt down to Hell; ſince if the powerful Things done in thee, had been done in Sodom, they would have remained until this Day.

24. But I tell you, that it will be more tolerable for the Country of Sodom on the Day of Judgment, than for thee.

25. At that Time Jeſus on this Occaſion ſaid; I make acknowledgment to thee, Father, Lord of Heaven and Earth, ſince thou haſt hid theſe Things from the wiſe and underſtanding ones, and revealed them to little Children:

Ver. 2. two of] Gr. δύο, but ſome of the Tranſlations have [by] as from διὰ, which Mills pleads ſtoutly for, after changing his Mind; that Diſciples would rather have been in another Caſe with δύο, when it is the ſame as in Luke ix. 19. that none would deſignedly change that into διὰ, leſs expreſſive; but might ſo corrupt it, as he thought before.

Ver. 5. and the Laime walk] This Mills would expunge on ſmall Authority, as if Matthew muſt leave out Something, Luke vii. 22. ſee alſo Whitby.

Ver. 7. were gone] as both Luke vii. 24. where the Gr. Word is of a paſt Tenſe, and Chriſt's ſpeaking to the Multitude inform me.

Ver. 8. wear ſuch] The Gr. repeating only the Adjec. in the plur. which makes the Expreſſion finer.

Ver. 13. Prophets] The Prophets ſpoke of what was to come; but John ſpeaks of what now is; of the preſent Time, and therefore of greater Import to the preſent Generation.

Ib. till John] which is before propheſied in the Original, and ſo bears a different Senſe from our com. Eng.

Ver. 19. Wiſdom &c.] q. d. The Wiſdom both of John's Diſpenſation and mine, can be vindicated by thoſe who are truly wiſe.

Ver. 21. wo is to thee, Bethſaida] Somebody having and Bethſaida, Mills catches it for the Archetypal Reading; but the common being preferable, and ſavouring more of Scripture Language, beſides Luke's telling us Jeſus ſaid ſo, Ch. x. 13. we may well aſcribe it to Matthew. But why then, may the Objector ſay, was it altered for the worſe? Perhaps becauſe the Repetition was thought needleſs. But why not too in Luke? Thoſe Books might not then be publiſhed together.

Ver. 23. exalted as thou art] A few have it interrogatively wilt thou be exalted, but enow for Mills to prefer it, tho' I find his Mind altered in Prol. 1251. ſee alſo Whitby's Exam. L. 2. C. 1. who not having Kuſter's Edit. of Mills anſwered it.

Ib. caſt down] according to the Relation of Travellers, there are not now above eight Cottages where it ſtood, Note to Beauſ. and Lenf. Verſ.

Ib. they] it neither according to the Gr. nor the Conſtruction.

26. Yes,

26. Yes, O Father; becauſe there has thus been good Will before thee.

27. All Things are delivered to me by my Father: and none knows the Son, excepting the Father; nor does any know the Father, excepting the Son, and he to whom the Son is minded to reveal him.

28. Come to me, all who labour, and are loaded, and I will refreſh you.

29. Take my Yoke on you, and learn of me; ſince I am of a meek and humble Mind; ſo you will find Refreſhment to your Souls.

30. For my Yoke is gentle, and my Load is light.

CHAP. XII.

AT that Time Jeſus went on the Sabbath through the ſtanding Corn; when his Diſciples being hungry, began to pluck the Ears, and eat.

2. Which the Phariſees ſeeing, ſaid to him, Behold thy Diſciples do that which is not lawful to do on the Sabbath.

3. But he anſwered them; Have you not read what David himſelf did, when he was hungry, and thoſe with him?

4. How he entered into the Houſe of God, and did eat the Preſence-bread; which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor thoſe with him, but for the Prieſts only?

5. Or have you not read in the Law, that on the Sabbath the Prieſts in the Temple profane the Sabbath, and are without Crime?

6. Whereas I ſay to you, that there is here one ſuperior to the Temple.

7. Beſides if you had known what is, I would have Mercy, and not Sacrifice; you would not have condemned thoſe without Crime.

8. For the Man is Lord even of the Sabbath.

9. Now departing thence, he went into their Synagogue;

10. And behold there was a Man had a withered Hand: ſo they aſked him thus, Is it lawful to cure on the Sabbath? that they might accuſe him.

11. To whom he ſaid; What Man will there be of you, who having a Sheep, if even that ſhall fall into a Pit on the Sabbath, will not take hold of it, and lift out?

12. How much then does a Man excel a Sheep! So that it is lawful to do well on the Sabbath.

13. Then he ſays to the Man, Stretch forth thy Hand; which he ſtretching, it was reſtored as ſound as the other.

14. Upon this the Phariſees went out, and took Counſel againſt him, how they might deſtroy him.

15. Which Jeſus knowing, went aſide thence; and a great Multitude followed him, all of whom he cured.

16. However he charged them, that they ſhould not make him manifeſt;

17. That it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the Prophet Eſaias as follows;

18. Lo my Servant whom I have choſen, my Beloved with whom my Soul is pleaſed; I will put my Spirit upon him, and he ſhall declare Judgment to the Gentiles.

19. He ſhall neither contend, cry out, nor ſhall any one hear his Voice in the Streets.

20. A bruiſed Reed ſhall he not break, nor quench the ſmoaking Flax, till he brings forth Judgment to Victory.

21. Moreover the Gentiles ſhall hope in his Name.

22. Then was brought to him a blind and dumb Man in whom there was a Devil; and he cured him, ſo that the blind and dumb one both ſpoke and ſaw.

23. At which all the Multitude were amazed, and ſaid, Is this the Son of David?

24. Nevertheleſs the Phariſees hearing, ſaid, He does not expel Devils but by Beelzebul the Prince of them.

25. But Jeſus perceiving their Thoughts, ſaid to them: Every Kingdom divided againſt it ſelf, is made deſolate; and every City or Houſe divided againſt it ſelf will not ſtand.

26. Thus if Satan expel Satan, he is divided againſt himſelf; how therefore will his Kingdom ſtand?

27. And if I by Beelzebul expel Devils, by whom do your Children expel them? For this reaſon they will be your Judges.

28. But

28. But if I by the Spirit of God expel Devils, then the Kingdom of God is come to you.

29. Or how can any one enter into a ſtrong Man's Houſe, and plunder his Goods, except he firſt bind the ſtrong Man? And then he may plunder his Houſe.

30. He who is not with me, is againſt me; and he that does not gather with me, diſperſes.

31. For this reaſon I ſay to you; All Sin and Blaſphemy will be forgiven Men, only the Blaſphemy of the Spirit will not be forgiven them.

32. And whoever ſpeaks a Word againſt the Man, it will be forgiven him; but whoever ſhall ſpeak againſt the Holy Spirit, it will neither be forgiven him in this World, nor in the future.

33. Either make a Tree and its Fruit both good, or make the one and the other both corrupt: for a Tree is known by the Fruit.

34. Offspring of Vipers, how can you ſpeak good Things, who are wicked? For the Mouth ſpeaks from the Abundance of the Heart.

35. A good Man from the good Treaſure of the Heart, puts forth good Things; and a wicked Man from the wicked Treaſure puts forth wicked Things.

36. But I tell you, that every idle Word whatever Men ſhall ſpeak, they will render Account concerning it on the Day of Judgment.

37. For by thy Words thou wilt be juſtified, and by thy Words wilt thou be condemned.

38. Then ſome of the Scribes and Phariſees made anſwer, Maſter, we would ſee a Sign from thee.

39. But he made reply to them: A wicked and adulterous Generation ſeeks for a Sign, and none will be given to it, excepting that of the Prophet Jonas.

40. For according as Jonas was three Days and three Nights in the Belly of the Whale, ſo will the Man be ſo many Days and Nights in the Heart of the Earth.

41. The Men of Nineveh will ariſe in Judgment with this Generation, and condemn it; becauſe they repented at the Preaching of Jonas, and behold one above Jonas is here.

42. The Queen of the South will riſe up in Judgment with this Generation, and condemn it; becauſe ſhe came from the Ends of the Earth to hear the Wiſdom of Solomon, and behold one above Solomon is here.

43. And when the unclean Spirit is gone forth from a Man, he goes through dry Places, ſeeking Refreſhment, and does not find.

44. He then ſays, I will return into my Houſe, whence I came forth; and coming, he finds it empty, ſwept and adorned.

45. Then goes he, and takes with him ſeven other Spirits, more wicked than himſelf; and they entering in, dwell there; ſo that the laſt Things of that Man become worſe than the firſt: thus will it alſo be to this wicked Generation.

46. And while he was ſpeaking to the Multitude, behold his Mother and Brethren ſtood without, ſeeking to ſpeak to him.

47. Whereupon one ſaid to him, Behold thy Mother and thy Brethren ſtand without, ſeeking to ſpeak to thee.

48. But he made anſwer to the Perſon that told him, Who is my Mother? And who are my Brethren?

49. Beſides ſtretching forth his Hand towards his Diſciples, he ſaid; Behold my Mother, and my Brethren!

50. For whoſoever ſhall do the Will of my Father who is in Heaven, this is my Brother, and Siſter, and Mother.

Ver. 35. of the Heart] many Copies and Verſions are without, ſo that Mills ſays it belongs to Luke; but then I ſhould think it would have been added twice, as it is there, Ch. vi. 45. however muſt needs think that his would have been with it; moreover it is neceſſary and wanting, and might be dropped to make this Part like the latter.

Ver. 46. his] but once in Gr.

Ver. 47. to ſpeak to] Mills upon the Faith of two or three Verſions, imagines this taken from Ver. 46. poor Conjecture! Prol. 388.

Ver. 50. and] hereby taking theſe together to be parallel to thoſe in the Ver. before, denoting that ſuch a Perſon was to him as each, and as much as every natural Relation; rather than to enervate it with or, as Doddr. does.

2. Where a great Multitude were gathered together to him, ſo that he went aboard a Ship, to ſit down; and all the Company ſtood upon the Shoar.

3. To whom he ſpoke many Things in Similitudes as follow: Behold a Sower went forth to ſow.

4. As he was doing this, ſome indeed fell by the Way, ſo that the Fowls came, and eat it up.

5. Other alſo fell in ſtony Places, where it had not much Earth; and preſently ſprung up, becauſe it had not Depth of Earth.

6. However when the Sun roſe, it was ſcorched; and becauſe it had not Root, it withered.

7. Other likewiſe fell in Briers; which came up, and choaked it.

8. Other too fell in good Land, and yielded Fruit, ſome indeed a hundred, ſome ſixty, and ſome thirty-fold.

9. He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

10. Upon this the Diſciples coming near, ſaid to him, For what reaſon doſt thou ſpeak to theſe People in Similitudes?

11. And he made anſwer to them: Becauſe it is given you, to know the Myſteries of the Kingdom of Heaven; but it is not given to them.

12. For to him who has ſhall be given, and it ſhall abound; but from him who has not, ſhall be taken even what he ſeemingly has.

13. For this reaſon I ſpeak to them in Similitudes; becauſe ſeeing they do not clearly ſee, and hearing they do not hear plainly, nor underſtand.

14. And the Prophecy of Eſaias is fulfilled in them, which ſays; You ſhall hear ſtill, though you will not at all underſtand, and behold ſtill, though you will not at all know.

15. For the Heart of this People is become fat, they hear heavily with the Ears, and wink their Eyes; leſt they ſhould at any time ſee with the Eyes, hear with the Ears, underſtand with the Heart, and when they are converted, I might heal them.

16. But your Eyes are bleſſed, becauſe they ſee; and your Ears, becauſe they hear.

17. For I tell you certainly, that many Prophets and righteous Men deſired to behold the Things which you ſee, and did not ſee; and to hear the Things which you hear, and did not hear.

18. Do you therefore hear the Similitude of the Sower.

19. When any Man hears the Word of the Kingdom, and does not underſtand, the wicked one comes, and catches away what was ſown in his Heart: this is he that was ſown on by the Way.

20. He alſo who was ſown on in ſtony Places, is this that hears the Word, and preſently receives it with Joy.

21. However he has not Root in himſelf, only exiſts for a Time; and there being Affliction or Perſecution for the Word, he is preſently offended.

22. He likewiſe that was ſown on among Briers, is this who hears the Word; and the Care of this World, with the Deceit of Riches, do together choak the Word, ſo that it becomes unfruitful.

23. He too who was ſown on in good Land, is this that hears the Word, and underſtands; who verily bears fruit, and yields, ſome indeed a hundred, ſome ſixty, and ſome thirty-fold.

24. Another Similitude he propounded thus to them: The Kingdom of Heaven is likened to a Man, who ſowed good Seed in his Field.

25. But when Men were aſleep, the Enemy came, and ſowed Cockle amongſt the Wheat, and went away.

26. So when the Blade ſprung forth, and yielded Fruit, then the Cockle alſo appeared.

Ver. 2. Company] So I tranſlate the Gr. Word when ſing. as Luke vi. 17. where it does not mean Multitude; but which I render it by when plur. as before in this Ver. where great Multitudes may be too many: elſewhere our Tranſlators turn it people, as Ch. ix. 23, 25.

Ver. 4. it] The Pronouns and Articles are indeed plural in the Original, but as the Verbs are ſing. and the others too in Mark iv. Luke viii. I choſe to keep to it here; and ſure we are not to underſtand one Seed (or rather Grain) only fell here, and another there, the Verb, as I ſaid, being ſingular.

Ver. 5. preſently ſprung up] inſtead of taking root down firſt, which it did not for Want of Earth.

Ver. 11. given you, to know] The critical Author of Letters concerning Poetical Tranſlations, pr. 1739, counts to give to do a thing one of the moſt beautiful Expreſſions in all the poetical Language, as in but in the Paſſive as here it may be rather more ſo, and ſee Rev. ii. 7.

Give you to level Priam's haughty Tow'rs, Let. 1.

Ver. 12. it ſhall] not he.

Ib. abound] according as in Ch. xxv. 29. without more.

Ib. from him &c.] which makes compleat Engliſh, and yet anſwers Word for Word to the Greek, being the only Way, I ſuppoſe, it is to be done.

Ib. ſeemingly has] which plain Senſe requires, and Luke viii. 18. confirms.

Ver. 14. in them] Several have not the Gr. Prepoſition, as the Meaning is the ſame without it.

Ver. 22. it becomes] the ſame being thus tranſlated Mark iv. 19.

Ver. 25. Cockle] well known as injurious to Wheat, ſo that ſome pick it out before that is threſhed.

27. With that the Servants of the Houſholder coming near, ſaid to him, Lord, didſt not thou ſow good Seed in thy Field? Whence therefore has it Cockle?

28. And he anſwered them, Some Enemy has done this. The Servants again aſked him, Wouldeſt thou have us therefore go, and pick it up?

29. To which he ſaid; No, leſt at any time by picking up the Cockle, you ſhould root out the Wheat along with it.

30. Permit both to grow together till Harveſt, and at the Time of Harveſt I will ſay to the Reapers, Pick up the Cockle firſt, and bind it into Bundles, to burn it; but gather together the Wheat into my Barn.

31. Another Similitude he propounded to them as follows; The Kingdom of Heaven is like a Grain of Muſtard, which a Man took, and ſowed in his Field.

32. Which is indeed the leaſt of all Seeds: but when it is grown up is the greateſt of Herbs, nay becomes a Tree; ſo that the Fowls of the Air come, and dwell in the Branches of it.

33. Another Similitude he ſpoke to them, The Kingdom of Heaven is like Leaven, which a Woman took, and hid in three Pecks of Flour, until the whole was leavened.

34. Jeſus ſpoke all theſe Things in Similitudes to the Multitude, and did not ſpeak to them without a Similitude;

35. That it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken thus by the Prophet, I will open my Mouth with Similitudes, utter Things hid from the founding of the World.

36. Then Jeſus leaving the Multitude, went into the Houſe; and his Diſciples came to him, ſaying, Declare to us the Similitude of the Cockle in the Field.

37. He made anſwer to them: The Sower of the good Seed is the Man,

38. And the Field is the World, as alſo the good Seed theſe who are the Sons of the Kingdom, and the Cockle is the Sons of the wicked one,

39. The Enemy likewiſe that ſowed it is the Devil, the Harveſt is the End of the World, and the Reapers are the Angels.

40. According as the Cockle therefore is picked up, and burnt in the Fire; ſo will it be at the End of this World:

41. The Man will ſend his Angels; and they will pick up out of his Kingdom all Things that offend, with thoſe who do Iniquity,

42. And will caſt them into a Hearth of Fire; there Weeping and Gnaſhing of Teeth will be.

43. Then the Righteous will ſhine out as the Sun, in their Father's Kingdom. He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

44. Again the Kingdom of Heaven is like Treaſure hid in a Field, which a Man finding, hides, and for Joy of it goes, and ſells all that ever he has, and buys that Field.

45. Again the Kingdom of Heaven is like a Man that was a Merchant, ſeeking for good Pearls;

46. Who having found one exceeding precious Pearl, went away, and ſold all that ever he had, and bought it.

47. Again the Kingdom of Heaven is like a Net caſt into the Sea, and gathering together ſome Fiſh of every Kind;

48. Which, when it was full, they bringing up on the Shoar, and ſitting down, picked the good into Veſſels, but caſt the corrupt out.

49. Thus will it be at the End of the World: the Angels will come forth, and ſeparate the Wicked from among the Righteous:

50. And will caſt them into a Hearth of Fire; there Weeping and Gnaſhing of Teeth will be.

51. Jeſus ſays to them, Have you underſtood all theſe Things? They anſwer him, Yes, Lord.

52. Upon which he replied to them, For this reaſon every Scribe that is taught for the Kingdom of Heaven, is like a Man that is a Houſholder, who brings out of his Treaſure new and old Things.

53. At length when Jeſus had made an end of theſe Similitudes, he departed thence.

54. And coming into his own Country, he taught them in their Synagogue; ſo that they were ſurprized, and ſaid; Whence has he this Wiſdom and the powerful Things?

55. Is not this the Carpenter's Son? Is not his Mother called Mary, and his Brethren James, Joſes, Simon and Judas?

Ver. 37. Sower] A Participle in the Gr. and not to be made the preſent Tenſe, Ver. 39.

Ver. 51. Jeſus ſays to them] Mills pretends, the following being a little too abrupt, this was put for the ſake of Perſpicuity, but he adds, before the Times of Chryſoſtome; ſo then we may beſt ſuppoſe by Matthew himſelf, notwithſtanding four or five have dropped it, and perhaps long after.

Ver. 55. his Brethren] Couſins, according to Hammond, &c. which this Word in Scripture is uſed for. But let us compute, their Mother being named Mary, Ch. xxvii. 56.

56. And are not his Sisters all with us? Whence therefore has he all these Things?

57. So they were offended at him. But Jesus said to them, A Prophet is not without Honour, excepting in his own Country, and in his own House.

58. And he did not do many powerful Things there, by reason of their Unbelief.

CHAP. XIV.

AT that Time Herod the Tetrarch heard the News of Jesus.

2. Whereupon he said to his Servants, This is John the Baptizer, he is risen from the Dead, and for this reason powerful Things operate in him.

3. For Herod had taken hold of John, and bound him, and put in Prison, by reason of Herodias the Wife of his Brother Philip.

4. For John said to him, It is not lawful for thee to have her.

5. And he being minded to kill him, was afraid of the Company, because they regarded him as a Prophet.

6. But when Herod's Birth-day was kept, the Daughter of Herodias danced in the midst of them, and pleased Herod.

7. He thereupon professed with an Oath, to give her whatever she should ask for.

8. And when she had been instructed before by her Mother, she said, Give me the Head of John the Baptizer, here on a Plate.

9. At which the King, sorry as he was, did by reason of the Oath, and of those who were sitting together, command it should be given.

10. Accordingly he sent, and had John beheaded in the Prison.

11. Moreover his Head was brought on a Plate, and given to the Maid; which she brought to her Mother.

12. And his Disciples coming thither, took up the Body, and buried it; then they came, and told Jesus.

13. Which Jesus hearing, departed thence in a Ship into a desart Place privately; this when the Multitude heard, they followed him on Foot from the Cities.

14. Upon that Jesus going out, saw much Company, and was moved with Affection to them, and cured their Sick.

15. At length when it was Evening, his Disciples came to him, saying, It is a desart Place, and the Hour is now past; send the Multitude away, that they may go hence into the Villages, and buy themselves Meat.

16. But Jesus answered them, They have no Need to go away; do ye give them some to eat.

17. And they say to him, We have none here, excepting five Loaves, and two Fishes.

18. Yet he replied, Bring these hither to me.

19. Next when he had commanded the Multitude to sit down on the Grass, taking the five Loaves and two Fishes, he looked up to Heaven, and blessed; then breaking, gave the Loaves to the Disciples, and they to the Multitude.

20. Who all did eat, and were filled: nay they took up what was over and above of Fragments twelve Baskets full.

21. Now those who eat were about five thousand Men, beside Women and Children.

22. Jesus then presently compelled his Disciples to go aboard a Ship, and to go before him to the farther Side, whilst he sent the Multitude away.

Mark xv. 40, 47. and she the Sister of Jesus's Mother, John xix. 25. how is it possible they could be his Brothers in the primary Meaning? see also Luke xxiv. 18. John xix. 25. And what Whithy pleads here so speciously to the contrary, is big with Absurdity: for their Mother being the Wife of Joseph before the Virgin Mary, they would not be Sisters by being his Wives, nor by Birth, as having the same Name, nay in Opposition to both these Things, they were then living together; and what he pitches on, for their Mother and the Mother of Jesus to be one Person, carries its own Improbability with it, and their Mother being put so often not first, Ch. xxvii. 56, 61. & xxviii. 1. Mark xv. 40, 47. & xvi. 1. &c. as the Mother of Jesus is, John xix. 25, 26. and for the three Women in Ch. xxvii. 56. Mark xv. 40. & John xix. 25. to be the same, Mary, Salome, &c. must be but one, and the Mother of Zebedee's Children be the Wife of Cleophas. Would it be related in such a strange confused Manner?

Ver. 2. powerful Things operate] West. these mighty powers exert themselves; as if the powers were animate Beings, with these added as the very Scripture.

Ver. 9. by reason of the Oath] Wesley in his Explanatory Notes upon the New Test. 2d and best Edit. has to it, So he murdered an innocent Man, from mere Tenderness of Conscience! But whatever other Motive of Conscience he might have, from Bigotry or Mistake, it appears to be different from Tenderness, as that is from Murder; and that it was not mere Tenderness, the next Words shew.

Ver. 10. had John beheaded] which Josephus tells of, Antiq. B. 18. Ch. 7.

Ver. 13. privately] so translated Chap. xxiv. 3.

Ver. 19. gave the Loaves] The Fishes, I suppose, are not mentioned here, being not broke, but probably cut; besides being done perhaps separately, Mark vi. 41.

Ver. 21. about] This, says Mills, is Luke's, not Matthew's, Pr. 1246. though he has no Copy, nor Author without it, and only the Syr. Transl. trusting also to the Lat. of that; yet he might have added Vulg. Pers. and Arab.

23. Which

23. Which when he had done, he went up on a Mountain privately to pray; and it being Evening, he was there alone.

24. But the Ship was already in the midſt of the Sea, toſſed about by the Waves: for the Wind was contrary.

25. And in the fourth Watch of the Night Jeſus went away to them, walking on the Sea.

26. This the Diſciples ſeeing, were troubled, ſaying, It is an Apparition; and cried out for Fear.

27. Whereas Jeſus ſpoke to them as follows, Take courage, it is I, do not fear.

28. And Peter made anſwer to him, Lord, if it be thou, command me to come to thee on the Water.

29. He accordingly ſaid, Come. So Peter went down from the Ship, and walked on the Water to come to Jeſus.

30. But ſeeing the Wind was ſtrong, he feared; and beginning to ſink, cried out thus, Lord, ſave me.

31. And preſently Jeſus ſtretching forth the Hand, took hold of him, and ſaid to him, Thou of little Faith, for what didſt thou doubt?

32. Beſides when they went aboard the Ship, the Wind ceaſed.

33. Upon which thoſe in the Ship came, and worſhipped him, ſaying, Truly thou art the Son of God.

34. At laſt paſſing over, they came into the Country of Genneſaret.

35. The Men alſo of that Place knowing him, ſent into that whole Region round about, and they brought to him all who were ill,

36. And beſought him, that theſe might only touch the Skirt of his Garment; and whoever touched, became ſafely well.

CHAP. XV.

THEN there came to Jeſus from Jeruſalem Scribes and Phariſees, who ſaid,

2. For what reaſon do thy Diſciples tranſgreſs the Tradition of the Elders? For they waſh not their Hands when they eat Victuals.

3. But he made anſwer to them: For what reaſon do you alſo tranſgreſs the Commandment of God by your Tradition?

4. For God commanded thus, Honour thy Father and Mother; and, Let him who curſes Father or Mother be quite put to Death.

5. Yet you ſay; Whoever ſhall tell Father or Mother, Whatſoever thou mighteſt be profited with by me is a Gift;

6. He may then not honour his Father or his Mother at all: ſo you have repealed the Commandment of God by your Tradition.

7. O Hypocrites, Eſaias propheſied well concerning you as follows;

8. This People come nigh me with their Mouth, and honour me with the Lips, but their Heart is far from me;

9. Thus they worſhip me in vain, teaching the Doctrines, the Commandments of Men.

10. Moreover he called thither the Company, and ſaid to them; Hear, and underſtand:

11. Not what enters into the Mouth pollutes a Man; but that which comes out thence, does it.

12. His Diſciples then coming, ſaid to him, Doſt thou know that the Phariſees at hearing the Speech were offended?

13. But he made anſwer; Every Plantation which my heavenly Father has not planted, will be rooted up.

14. Let them alone; they are blind Guides of the Blind: and if a blind Perſon guide a blind one, both will fall into a Pit.

15. Nevertheleſs Peter made reply to him, Declare to us this Similitude.

16. And Jeſus rejoined; Are you yet alſo ſimple?

17. Do not you yet underſtand, that every Thing which enters into the Mouth, goes into the Belly, and is caſt forth into the Vault?

And why any more here than in Mark? Why not made both alike, if they were ſo at firſt? Moreover he quoted commanded only in the Place of ſpoke, in his Note.

Ib. thy] ſeveral are without, but Whitby vindicates it in Examen, Lib. ii. C. 2. and in his Annot. between Ver. 13 and 14. of Edit. 4. yet as to his ſaying Mills rejects it, no ſuch Thing appears.

Ver. 9. teaching the Doctrines] as appears by the Tranſ. of the Septuag. whence this is taken, which has and between Doctrines and Commandments.

Ver. 17. not yet] How much eaſier is it to ſuppoſe οὔπω ſhrunk to οὖ, or nondum to non in ſome Copy, making only not; than with Mills, that the latter was firſt, and the former crept in from Chap. xvi. 9.

18. Whereas the Things which go out of the Mouth, come out of the Heart; and thoſe pollute a Man.

19. For out of the Heart come wicked Reaſonings, Slaughters, Adulteries, Whoredoms, Thefts, falſe Evidences, Blaſphemies.

20. Theſe are the Things that pollute a Man; but to eat with Hands unwaſhed does not.

21. Afterwards Jeſus going out thence, withdrew into the Parts of Tyre and Sidon.

22. And behold a Canaanite Woman coming forth from thoſe Borders, cried out to him, as follows, Have mercy upon me, Lord, Son of David, the Devil has poſſeſſion of my Daughter grievouſly.

23. However he did not anſwer her a Word; whereupon his Diſciples coming near, thus intreated him, Send her away, ſince ſhe cries after us.

24. But he made anſwer, I am not ſent but to the loſt Sheep of the Family of Iſrael.

25. Upon this ſhe coming, worſhipped him and ſaid, Lord, help me.

26. He again made anſwer, It is not well to take the Children's Bread, and throw to Puppies.

27. Yet ſhe replied, Yes, Lord; foraſmuch as Puppies eat of the Crumbs that fall from the Table of their Maſters.

28. Then Jeſus gave anſwer to her, O Woman, thy Faith is great; let it be to thee as thou wilt. Accordingly her Daughter was healed from that Hour.

29. And Jeſus departing thence, came nigh the Sea of Galilee, and going up on a Mountain, ſate down there.

30. Where a great Multitude came to him, having with them Lame, Blind, Dumb, Cripples and many others, whom they put down at the Feet of Jeſus, and he cured them.

31. So that the Multitude wondered, at ſeeing the Dumb ſpeak, the Cripples ſound, the Lame walk, and the Blind ſee; and glorified the God of Iſrael.

32. Jeſus alſo calling thither his Diſciples, ſaid, I am moved with Affection to the Company, beauſe they have remained with me now three Days, and have Nothing to eat; and I will not ſend them away faſting, leſt they ſhould any time faint in the Way.

33. At which his Diſciples ſay to him, Whence ſhould we have ſo much Bread in the Wilderneſs, that may fill ſo great a Company?

34. And Jeſus enquires of them, How many Loaves have you? To which they anſwered, Seven, and a few little Fiſhes.

35. So he commanded the Multitude to ſit down on the Ground.

36. Next he took the ſeven Loaves and the Fiſhes, and giving Thanks, broke, and gave to his Diſciples; and the Diſciples to the Company.

37. Who did all eat, and were filled; nay they took up of the Fragments that were over and above ſeven Baſkets full.

38. Now thoſe that eat were four thouſand Men, beſide Women and Children.

39. At laſt ſending away the Multitude, he went into a Ship, and came into the Borders of Magdala.

CHAP. XVI.

WHITHER ſome Phariſees and Sadducees came, who tempting, aſked him to ſhew them a Sign from Heaven.

2. And he made anſwer to them; It being Evening, you ſay, It will be fair Weather; for the Sky is red:

3. And at Morning, There will be a Tempeſt to Day; for the Sky is red and louring. You Hypocrites, know indeed how to judge of the Face of the Heaven; but can you not of the Signs of the Times?

4. A wicked and adulterous Generation ſeeks for a Sign, and no Sign will be given to it, excepting the Sign of the Prophet Jonas. Thus did he leave them, and went away.

5. And his Diſciples being come to the farther Side, had forgot to take Bread.

6. Now Jeſus ſaid to them, See, and take heed of the Leaven of the Phariſees and Sadducees.

7. With that they reaſoned thus among themſelves, It is becauſe we did not take Bread.

8. Which Jeſus knowing, ſaid to them; Why do ye reaſon among your ſelves, you of little Faith, becauſe you did not take Bread?

9. Do ye not yet underſtand, nor remem-

11. How do ye not underſtand, that I did not ſpeak to you concerning Bread, but to take heed of the Leaven of the Phariſees and Sadducees.

12. Then they underſtood, that he did not ſpeak to take heed of the Leaven of Bread, but of the Doctrine of the Phariſees and Sadducees.

13. Afterwards Jeſus coming into the Parts of Ceſarea Philippi, aſked his Diſciples as follows, Who do Men ſay that I the Man am?

14. And they ſaid, Some indeed, John the Baptizer; others, Elias; and the reſt, Jeremias, or one of the Prophets.

15. He enquires of them, But who do ye ſay that I am?

16. And Simon Peter made anſwer, Thou art Chriſt, the Son of the Living God.

17. Upon which Jeſus made reply to him; Thou art bleſſed, Simon Bar-jona; ſince Fleſh and Blood has not revealed to thee, but my Father who is in Heaven.

18. And I alſo tell thee, that thou art Peter, and on this Rock will I build my Church, and the Gates of Hell ſhall not prevail againſt it.

19. Nay I will give thee the Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven: ſo that whatever thou ſhalt bind on the Earth, will be bound in Heaven; and whatever thou ſhalt let looſe on the Earth, will be let looſe in Heaven.

20. Then he commanded his Diſciples, that they ſhould tell Nobody that he was Jeſus Chriſt.

21. Thenceforth Jeſus began to ſhew his Diſciples, that he muſt go to Jeruſalem, and ſuffer many Things from the Elders, high Prieſts, and Scribes, as alſo be killed, and the third Day be raiſed up.

22. At this Peter taking him aſide, began to rebuke him thus, Let there be mercy to thee, Lord; this ſhall not at all be to thee.

23. But he turned, and ſaid to Peter, Begone behind me, Satan, thou art an Offence to me; ſince thou doſt not mind the Things of God, but thoſe of Men.

24. Jeſus then ſaid to his Diſciples; If any one would come after me, let him deny himſelf, and take up his Croſs, and follow me.

25. For whoever would ſave his Life, will loſe it; and whoever ſhall loſe his Life for my ſake, will find it.

26. For what Profit would it be to a Man, if he ſhould gain the whloe World, but ſuffer the Loſs of his Soul? Or what ſhall a Man give for the Exchange of his Soul?

27. For the Man will come in the Glory of his Father, with his Angels; and then will render to each according to his Deeds.

28. I tell you certainly, There are ſome of them that ſtand here, who will not at all taſte Death, until they ſee the Man coming in his Kingdom.

CHAP. XVII.

AND after ſix Days Jeſus takes Peter, and James, with his Brother John, and brings them up on a high Mountain privately.

2. Where he was transformed before them, ſo that his Face ſhone like the Sun, and his Cloaths became as white as Light.

3. Moreover behold Moſes and Elias appeared to them, talking together with him.

4. Upon this Peter expreſſed himſelf thus to Jeſus, Lord, it is well that we ſhould be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three Tabernacles, one for thee, one for Moſes, and one for Elias.

5. While he was ſpeaking, behold a bright Cloud overſhadowed them; and lo a Voice out of the Cloud ſaid, This is my beloved Son, with whom I am pleaſed; hear him.

6. Which

18. Whereas the Things which go out of the Mouth, come out of the Heart; and thoſe pollute a Man.

19. For out of the Heart come wicked Reaſonings, Slaughters, Adulteries, Whoredoms, Thefts, falſe Evidences, Blaſphemies.

20. Theſe are the Things that pollute a Man; but to eat with Hands unwaſhed does not.

21. Afterwards Jeſus going out thence, withdrew into the Parts of Tyre and Sidon.

22. And behold a Canaanite Woman coming forth from thoſe Borders, cried out to him, as follows, Have mercy upon me, Lord, Son of David, the Devil has poſſeſſion of my Daughter grievouſly.

23. However he did not anſwer her a Word; whereupon his Diſciples coming near, thus intreated him, Send her away, ſince ſhe cries after us.

24. But he made anſwer, I am not ſent but to the loſt Sheep of the Family of Iſrael.

25. Upon this ſhe coming, worſhipped him and ſaid, Lord, help me.

26. He again made anſwer, It is not well to take the Children's Bread, and throw to Puppies.

27. Yet ſhe replied, Yes, Lord; foraſmuch as Puppies eat of the Crumbs that fall from the Table of their Maſters.

28. Then Jeſus gave anſwer to her, O Woman, thy Faith is great; let it be to thee as thou wilt. Accordingly her Daughter was healed from that Hour.

29. And Jeſus departing thence, came nigh the Sea of Galilee, and going up on a Mountain, ſate down there.

30. Where a great Multitude came to him, having with them Lame, Blind, Dumb, Cripples and many others, whom they put down at the Feet of Jeſus, and he cured them.

31. So that the Multitude wondered, at ſeeing the Dumb ſpeak, the Cripples ſound, the Lame walk, and the Blind ſee; and glorified the God of Iſrael.

32. Jeſus alſo calling thither his Diſciples, ſaid, I am moved with Affection to the Company, beauſe they have remained with me now three Days, and have Nothing to eat; and I will not ſend them away faſting, leſt they ſhould any time faint in the Way.

33. At which his Diſciples ſay to him, Whence ſhould we have ſo much Bread in the Wilderneſs, that may fill ſo great a Company?

34. And Jeſus enquires of them, How many Loaves have you? To which they anſwered, Seven, and a few little Fiſhes.

35. So he commanded the Multitude to ſit down on the Ground.

36. Next he took the ſeven Loaves and the Fiſhes, and giving Thanks, broke, and gave to his Diſciples; and the Diſciples to the Company.

37. Who did all eat, and were filled; nay they took up of the Fragments that were over and above ſeven Baſkets full.

38. Now thoſe that eat were four thouſand Men, beſide Women and Children.

39. At laſt ſending away the Multitude, he went into a Ship, and came into the Borders of Magdala.

CHAP. XVI.

WHITHER ſome Phariſees and Sadducees came, who tempting, aſked him to ſhew them a Sign from Heaven.

2. And he made anſwer to them; It being Evening, you ſay, It will be fair Weather; for the Sky is red:

3. And at Morning, There will be a Tempeſt to Day; for the Sky is red and louring. You Hypocrites, know indeed how to judge of the Face of the Heaven; but can you not of the Signs of the Times?

4. A wicked and adulterous Generation ſeeks for a Sign, and no Sign will be given to it, excepting the Sign of the Prophet Jonas. Thus did he leave them, and went away.

5. And his Diſciples being come to the farther Side, had forgot to take Bread.

6. Now Jeſus ſaid to them, See, and take heed of the Leaven of the Phariſees and Sadducees.

7. With that they reaſoned thus among themſelves, It is becauſe we did not take Bread.

8. Which Jeſus knowing, ſaid to them; Why do ye reaſon among your ſelves, you of little Faith, becauſe you did not take Bread?

9. Do ye not yet underſtand, nor remem-

11. How do ye not underſtand, that I did not ſpeak to you concerning Bread, but to take heed of the Leaven of the Phariſees and Sadducees.

12. Then they underſtood, that he did not ſpeak to take heed of the Leaven of Bread, but of the Doctrine of the Phariſees and Sadducees.

13. Afterwards Jeſus coming into the Parts of Ceſarea Philippi, aſked his Diſciples as follows, Who do Men ſay that I the Man am?

14. And they ſaid, Some indeed, John the Baptizer; others, Elias; and the reſt, Jeremias, or one of the Prophets.

15. He enquires of them, But who do ye ſay that I am?

16. And Simon Peter made anſwer, Thou art Chriſt, the Son of the Living God.

17. Upon which Jeſus made reply to him; Thou art bleſſed, Simon Bar-jona; ſince Fleſh and Blood has not revealed to thee, but my Father who is in Heaven.

18. And I alſo tell thee, that thou art Peter, and on this Rock will I build my Church, and the Gates of Hell ſhall not prevail againſt it.

19. Nay I will give thee the Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven: ſo that whatever thou ſhalt bind on the Earth, will be bound in Heaven; and whatever thou ſhalt let looſe on the Earth, will be let looſe in Heaven.

20. Then he commanded his Diſciples, that they ſhould tell Nobody that he was Jeſus Chriſt.

21. Thenceforth Jeſus began to ſhew his Diſciples, that he muſt go to Jeruſalem, and ſuffer many Things from the Elders, high Prieſts, and Scribes, as alſo be killed, and the third Day be raiſed up.

22. At this Peter taking him aſide, began to rebuke him thus, Let there be mercy to thee, Lord; this ſhall not at all be to thee.

23. But he turned, and ſaid to Peter, Begone behind me, Satan, thou art an Offence to me; ſince thou doſt not mind the Things of God, but thoſe of Men.

24. Jeſus then ſaid to his Diſciples; If any one would come after me, let him deny himſelf, and take up his Croſs, and follow me.

25. For whoever would ſave his Life, will loſe it; and whoever ſhall loſe his Life for my ſake, will find it.

26. For what Profit would it be to a Man, if he ſhould gain the whloe World, but ſuffer the Loſs of his Soul? Or what ſhall a Man give for the Exchange of his Soul?

27. For the Man will come in the Glory of his Father, with his Angels; and then will render to each according to his Deeds.

28. I tell you certainly, There are ſome of them that ſtand here, who will not at all taſte Death, until they ſee the Man coming in his Kingdom.

CHAP. XVII.

AND after ſix Days Jeſus takes Peter, and James, with his Brother John, and brings them up on a high Mountain privately.

2. Where he was transformed before them, ſo that his Face ſhone like the Sun, and his Cloaths became as white as Light.

3. Moreover behold Moſes and Elias appeared to them, talking together with him.

4. Upon this Peter expreſſed himſelf thus to Jeſus, Lord, it is well that we ſhould be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three Tabernacles, one for thee, one for Moſes, and one for Elias.

5. While he was ſpeaking, behold a bright Cloud overſhadowed them; and lo a Voice out of the Cloud ſaid, This is my beloved Son, with whom I am pleaſed; hear him.

7. But Jeſus came near, and touching them, ſaid, Riſe up, and be not afraid.

8. When looking up, they ſaw none, excepting Jeſus only.

9. And as they came down from the Mountain, Jeſus commanded them as follows, Tell the Sight to Nobody, until the Man ſhall ariſe from the Dead.

10. With that his Diſciples thus asked him, Why then do the Scribes ſay, that Elias muſt come firſt?

11. And Jeſus made anſwer to them; Elias indeed comes firſt, and will reſtore all Things.

12. But I ſay to you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but did to him whatever they would: ſo alſo the Man will ſuffer from them.

13. Then the Diſciples underſtood, that he ſpoke to them concerning John the Baptizer.

14. And when they were come to the Company, there came to him a Man, who kneeled down to him, and ſaid;

15. Lord, have mercy upon my Son; becauſe he is lunatick, and ſuffers grievouſly: for often he falls into the Fire, and often into the Water.

16. So I brought him to thy Diſciples, and they could not cure him.

17. But Jeſus made him anſwer, O unbelieving and perverſe Generation, how long ſhall I be with you? How long ſhall I bear with you? Bring him hither to me.

18. And when Jeſus rebuked the Devil, he went out from him; ſo that the Lad was cured from that Hour.

19. Then the Diſciples coming to Jeſus privately, ſaid, For what reaſon could not we expel him?

20. Whom Jeſus anſwered; By reaſon of your Unbelief: for I tell you certainly, If you have Faith as a Grain of Muſtard, you may ſay to this Mountain, Depart hence thither, and it will depart; nay Nothing will be impoſſible to you.

21. This Kind notwithſtanding does not go forth, but by Prayer and Faſting.

22. Now while they were converſant in Galilee, Jeſus ſaid to them, The Man is about to be delivered up into the Power of Men;

23. Who will kill him, and he will be raiſed up the third Day: upon which they were exceedingly grieved.

24. Afterwards they being come to Capernaum, thoſe who took the Tax came to Peter, and enquired, Does not your Maſter pay the Tax?

25. He ſays, Yes. But when he was entered into the Houſe, Jeſus prevented him, ſaying, What doſt thou think, Simon? Of whom do the Kings of the Earth take Revenue or Tribute? Of their Subjects, or of Strangers?

26. Peter ſays to him, Of Strangers. Jeſus replies to him; Then the Subjects are free.

27. Yet that we may not offend them, go to the Sea, and caſt a Hook, and take up the Fiſh which firſt comes up; then opening his Mouth, thou wilt find a Statēr; that take, and give to them for me and thee.

Reading* may, and ought to ſtand good, by the Multitude of Votes.

Ver. 17. unbelieving] faithleſs, like faithful being of different Uſe, and this ſuitable to that in Ver. 20.

Ver. 1. ſaying] not to him, but one to another, Mark ix. 33, 34. Luke ix. 46. ſo Whitby.

2. Upon this Jeſus called thither a little Child, and ſet him in the midſt of them,

3. And ſaid: I tell you certainly; Except you ſhall be converted, and become as little Children, you will not at all enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

4. The very ſame therefore that ſhall humble himſelf like this little Child, is greateſt in the Kingdom of Heaven.

5. Moreover whoſoever ſhall receive one ſuch little Child in my Name, receives me.

6. On the contrary whoever ſhall offend one of theſe little ones that believe in me, it would be more profitable for him that a Milſtone ſhould be hanged on his Neck, and he drowned in the Depth of the Sea.

7. Wo is to the World by Offences, though they muſt needs come; nevertheleſs wo is to that Man by whom Offence comes.

8. And if thy Hand or thy Foot offend thee, cut them off, and thrown them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into Life lame or a Cripple, than having two Hands or two Feet, to be thrown into everlaſting Fire.

9. As likewiſe if thy Eye offend thee, pull it out, and throw from thee: it is better for thee to enter into Life with one Eye, than having two Eyes to be thrown into Hell Fire.

10. See you do not deſpiſe one of theſe little ones: for I ſay to you, that their Angels in Heaven always behold the Face of my Father who is there.

11. For the Man is come to ſave that which is loſt.

12. What do ye think? If any Man has a hundred Sheep, and one of them go aſtray; does not he leave the ninety nine, and going on the Mountains, ſeek for that which went aſtray?

13. And if it come to paſs that he finds it, I tell you certainly, that he rejoices more for it, than for the ninety nine which did not go aſtray.

14. Thus it is not the Will with your Father who is in Heaven, that one of theſe little ones ſhould be loſt.

15. And if thy Brother ſins againſt thee, go, and convict him between thee and him alone: if he ſhould hearken to thee, thou haſt gained thy Brother.

16. But if he will not hearken, take with thee one or two more, that by the Mouth of two or three Witneſſes every Word may ſtand.

17. If he ſhall further refuſe to hearken to them, tell the Church; and if he ſhall alſo refuſe to hearken to the Church, let him be to thee as a Heathen and a Publican.

18. I ſay to you certainly, Whatſoever you ſhall bind on the Earth, will be bound in Heaven; and whatſoever you ſhall let looſe on the Earth, will be let looſe in Heaven.

19. Again I ſay to you, that if two of you ſhall agree on the Earth concerning any Matter whatſoever they ſhall ask for, it will be done for them by my Father who is in Heaven.

20. For where two or three are aſſembled together in my Name, there am I in the midſt of them.

21. Then Peter coming to him, ſaid, Lord, how often ſhall my Brother ſin againſt me, and I forgive him? Till ſeven times?

22. Jeſus anſwers him: I do not ſay to thee, Till ſeven times, but till ſeventy times ſeven.

23. For this reaſon the Kingdom of Heaven may be likened to a Man that was a King, who would take account of his Servants.

24. Which he beginning to take, there was brought to him one who owed ten thouſand Talents.

25. This he having not to pay, his Lord commanded that he ſhould be ſold, with his Wife and Children, and all that ever he had, and that it ſhould be paid.

26. The Servant therefore fell down, and reverenced him, ſaying, Lord, be forbearing to me, and I will pay thee all.

27. So the Lord of that Servant being moved with Affection, let him go, and forgave him the Debt.

28. Yet the ſame Servant went out, and found one of his Fellow-ſervants, that owed him a hundred Pence, whom he took hold of, and held by the Throat, demanding, Pay me what thou oweſt.

29. His Fellow-ſervant therefore falling down at his Feet, thus beſought him, Be forbearing to me, and I will pay thee all.

Ib. all] a pretty many Books omit, and the Reaſon that Whitby gives why it ſhould be retained, becauſe in Ver. 26. makes it more doubtful, as it might be taken from thence; yet it might be omitted too becauſe there, and Poſſeſſion may turn the Scale.

30. However he would not; but went away, and threw him into Priſon, till he ſhould pay the Debt.

31. But when his Fellow-ſervants ſaw what was done, they were grieved exceedingly; and coming, declared to their Lord all that was done.

32. Then his Lord calling him thither, ſays to him; O wicked Servant, I forgave thee all that Debt, ſince thou beſoughteſt me.

33. Oughteſt thou not alſo to have had mercy upon thy Fellow-ſervant, even as I had mercy upon thee?

34. Nay his Lord being angry, delivered him to the Tormentors, till he ſhould pay all that was due to him.

35. Even thus will my heavenly Father do to you, if ye do not each forgive his Brother from your Hearts their Offences.

CHAP. XIX.

AND when Jeſus had made an end of theſe Sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the Borders of Judea, along the farther Side of Jordan.

2. Moreover a great Multitude followed him, and he cured them there.

3. The Phariſees alſo came to him, who tempting him, ſaid to him, Is it lawful for a Man to ſend away his Wife for what Cauſe ſoever he will?

4. And he made anſwer to them; Have you not read, that he who made at the Beginning, made them Male and Female?

5. And ſaid, For this Cauſe let a Man forſake Father and Mother, that he may cleave to his Wife; ſince the two ſhall be one Fleſh.

6. So that they are no more two, but one Fleſh: what God therefore has yoked together, let not Man ſeparate.

7. They ſay to him, Why did Moſes then command to give a Bill of Divorce, and to ſend her away?

8. He replies to them; Moſes for your Hardheartedneſs permitted you to ſend away your Wives, but at the Beginning it was not ſo.

9. And I ſay to you, Whoever ſhall ſend away his Wife, excepting for Whoredom, and ſhall marry another, commits Adultery; and he who marries her that is ſent away, commits Adultery.

10. His Diſciples ſay to him further, If the Caſe of a Man with a Wife be ſo, it is not profitable to marry.

11. But he rejoined to them; All do not receive this Saying, but they to whom it is given.

12. For there are Eunuchs, who were born ſo from the Mother's Womb; and there are Eunuchs, who were made ſuch by Men; there are alſo others, who have made themſelves Eunuchs for the Kingdom of Heaven: he that can receive, let him.

13. Then little Children were brought to him, that he might put Hands on them, and pray; but the Diſciples rebuked them.

14. Whereas Jeſus ſaid, Permit little Children, and do not forbid them to come to me: for the Kingdom of Heaven is of ſuch.

15. So he put Hands on them, and went thence.

16. And behold one coming near, enquired of him, Good Maſter, what Good ſhall I do, that I may have everlaſting Life?

17. To whom he ſaid, Why doſt thou call me good? None is good, excepting one, even God: but if thou wouldeſt enter into Life, keep the Commandments.

18. He aſks him, Which? And Jeſus ſaid; Thou ſhalt not murder, thou ſhalt not commit Adultery, thou ſhalt not ſteal, thou ſhalt not give Evidence falſely,

19. Honour thy Father and Mother; and, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour as thy ſelf.

20. The young Man ſays to him, All theſe Things I have obſerved from my Youth; what am I in want of more?

21. Jeſus replied to him, If thou wouldeſt be perfect, go, ſell the Things which are thine,

Ver. 19. and, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour as thy ſelf] Origen relates was added in; but he might think ſo, becauſe it is not in Mark and Luke. As to Mills's Query, How could the young Man then want any Thing? Jeſus told him what he wanted beſides that.

Ver. 20. from my Youth] Added from Mark or Luke, Mills. Eaſily ſaid.

and give to the Poor, and thou wilt have Treasure in Heaven; and come, follow me.

22. But the young Man hearing the Saying, went away ſorry: for he was one who had many Poſſeſſions.

23. Whereupon Jeſus ſaid to his Diſciples; I tell you certainly, that it will be difficult for a rich Perſon to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

24. And again I ſay to you, It is eaſier for a Camel to go through the Eye of a Needle, than for a rich Perſon to enter into the Kingdom of God.

25. Which when his Diſciples heard, they were ſurprized exceedingly, ſaying, Who then can be ſaved?

26. However Jeſus looking on, replied to them, With Men this is impoſſible, but with God all Things are poſſible.

27. Then Peter made anſwer to him, Behold we have left all, and followed thee; what then will there be for us?

28. And Jeſus ſaid to them: I tell you certainly, that ye who have followed me in being born again, when the Man ſhall ſit upon the Throne of his Glory, ye will alſo ſit on twelve Thrones, judging the twelve Tribes of Iſrael.

29. Nay, every one who has left Houſes, Brothers, Siſters, Father, Mother, Wife, Children, or Land, for the ſake of my Name, will receive a hundred-fold, and inherit everlaſting Life.

30. But many firſt will be the laſt, and laſt the firſt.

CHAP. XX.

FOR the Kingdom of Heaven is like a Man that was a Houſholder, who went out early in the Morning, to hire Workmen into his Vineyard.

2. And agreeing with the Workmen for a Penny a Day, he ſent them into his Vineyard,

3. Going out alſo about the third Hour, he ſaw others ſtanding idle in the Market-place.

4. Upon which he ſaid to them, Go ye alſo into the Vineyard, and whatſoever is juſt I will give you: ſo they went.

5. Again he went out about the ſixth and ninth Hour, and did in like Manner.

6. About the eleventh Hour too going out, he found others ſtanding idle, and ſays to them, Why do ye ſtand here the whole Day idle?

7. They anſwer him, Becauſe Nobody has hired us. He replies to them, Go ye alſo into the Vineyard, and whatever is juſt you ſhall receive.

8. And when it was Evening the Maſter of the Vineyard ſays to his Steward, Call the Workmen, and pay them the Wages, beginning from the laſt to the firſt.

9. Accordingly thoſe coming who were about the eleventh Hour, received a Penny apiece.

10. But when the firſt came, they ſuppoſed that they ſhould receive more; whereas theſe alſo received a Penny apiece.

11. On receiving which, they murmured againſt the Houſholder as follows,

12. Theſe laſt have wrought one Hour, and thou haſt made them equal to us, who bore the Burden of the Day, and the Scorching.

13. However he made anſwer to one of them; Companion, I do thee no Injury; didſt not thou agree with me for a Penny?

14. Take thy own, and go; ſince I am minded to give to this laſt, even as to thee.

15. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with my own? Is thy Eye wicked, becauſe I am good?

Ver. 23. difficult] for hardly reads as if it was ſcarcely, in a more vague and obſcure Meaning.

Ver. 24. Camel] Had it been Cable, as Bochart and Whitby contend, there is no Probability it would have been altered to Camel; but the contrary is very probable, as two Copies have it ſo; yet not the Syr. nor Arab. though Whit. ſays it. I don't find it has been conſidered that a Needle might be made big enough for a Cable-rope, and ſo not impoſſible to Men, Ver. 26. and that it is go through act. not be put or pulled through paſſ. nor is this Saying of a Camel ſtrange, ſince the Jews had ſuch a Proverb of an Elephant; of which conſult Hammond, with the Miſtake made (and yet Whitby repeats it) of this Gr. Word ſignifying a Cable.

Ver. 26. poſſible] Weſley to impoſſible, which ſhould be to this, has, repreſenting the Salvation of a rich Man, as the utmoſt Effort of Omnipotence; and before, A poor Man; a Peaſant: a Beggar: ten thouſand of them; ſooner than one that is rich, can be ſaved.

Ver. 28. being born again] as regeneration ſignifies. Our Annotators ſeem inclined to have the Partition at me, for this to belong to the following; and Wall in Crit. Notes ſays, by it here is meant the ſame as by the reſtitution, Acts iii. 21. but Mills has only one MS. beſides ſome of Stephens's, ſo pointed, and it is a Force upon the Expreſſion to join it with when, to which if it belonged, it would properly be after.

Ver. 30. firſt] ſuch as thoſe ſpoken of in the foregoing Verſes: and thus, as well as by the Order of the Words in the Original, this Way of tranſlating is juſtified; rather than Scott's, But Many ſhall be Firſt, that are Laſt, where But ſeems inconſiſtent with the foregoing; beſides he makes this and that in Ch. xx. 16. alike, when they are oppoſite in the Gr.

Ver. 1. For] Scott, notwithſtanding his great and commendable (though but neceſſary) Attention, in his New Verſion and Notes, writes thus, It is difficult to ſee the Connection uſually expreſſed by this Particle, and ſeems to think it redundant here: yet it appears clear to me from Ver. 29. before; where the Bounty of God to his Servants is declared, which the following Similitude illuſtrates, Ver. 9, 14, 15.

Ver. 10. ſhould receive] The publick Eng. Tranſ. ſays Scott, is certainly improper, becauſe their Expectation was future.

Ver. 11. Houſholder] as Ver. 1.

Ver. 15. with my own] which Mills ſays is Commentary, not Text, Proleg. 397. a Tranſ. or two having miſſed or

16. Thus ſome laſt will be the firſt, and ſome firſt the laſt: for many are called, but few choſen.

17. And as Jeſus went up to Jeruſalem, he took the twelve Diſciples privately in the Way, and ſaid to them;

18. Behold we are going up to Jeruſalem, and the Man will be delivered up to the chief Prieſts and Scribes; and they will condemn him to Death;

19. As likewiſe deliver him up to the Gentiles, to mock, whip and crucify; and the third Day he will riſe up.

20. Then came to him the Mother of Zebedee's Sons, with her Sons, who worſhipped, and aſked for Something.

21. And he ſaid to her, What wouldeſt thou have? She replies to him, Say that theſe my two Sons ſhall ſit, one at thy right Hand, and one at thy left, in the Kingdom.

22. But Jeſus made anſwer, You know not what you aſk for: can you drink the Cup which I am about to drink, and be baptized with the Baptiſm that I am baptized with? They reply to him, We can.

23. With that he ſays to them, You will indeed drink my Cup, and be baptized with the Baptiſm that I am baptized with; nevertheleſs to ſit at my right Hand, and at my left, is not mine to give; but is for whom it is prepared by my Father.

24. This when the ten heard, they were enraged at the two Brothers.

25. But Jeſus calling them, ſaid; You know that the Princes of the Gentiles rule over them, and the Grandees have authority above them.

26. Yet it ſhall not be ſo among you; but whoſoever would become great among you, let him be your Waiting-man:

27. And whoſoever would be the firſt among you, let him be your Servant.

28. According as the Man is not come to be waited on, but to wait on, nay give his Life a Redemption for many.

29. As they went forth too from Jericho, a great Company followed him.

30. And behold two blind Men who ſate by the Way, when they heard that Jeſus paſſed along, cried out thus, Have mercy upon us, Lord, Son of David.

31. Whereas the Company rebuked them, that they ſhould be ſilent; but they cried out the louder, ſaying, Have mercy upon us, Lord, Son of David.

32. And Jeſus ſtanding ſtill, called them, and enquired, What would ye have me do to you?

33. They ſay to him, Lord, that our Eyes may be opened.

34. So Jeſus being moved with Affection, touched their Eyes; which preſently had Sight, and thoſe followed him.

CHAP. XXI.

AND when they came near to Jeruſalem, and were come to Bethphage, at the Mount of Olives, then Jeſus ſent two Diſciples, neglected it. But he repreſents it alſo needleſs, which is not to be allowed, as the Saying would be both imperfect and improper without it.

Ver. 17. in the Way] The vulg. Lat. not having this, Mills roundly affirms it is of Mark x. 32. notwithſtanding the Expreſſion there is different.

Ver. 18. delivered up] as in the next Verſe.

Ver. 20. aſked] Wither in Hymn 73. obſerves well on it,

Whereby we finde how much adoe,
The beſt men have this world to leave;
How, when they wealth and friends foregoe,
Ambitious aims to them will cleave.
And ſure this Angel-ſin aſpires,
In ſuch men chiefly to reſide,
That have exilde thoſe bruite deſires
Which in the vulgar ſort abide.
To thee, oh God, we therefore pray,
Thy humble minde in us may dwell;
And charme that Fiende of Pride away,
Which would thy Graces quite expell:
But of all other thoſe men keep,
From this Deluſion of the Foe,
Who are the Shepheards of thy Sheep,
And ſhould each good example ſhow.
For ſuch as ſtill purſuing be
That greatnes which the world reſpects,
Their ſervile baſeneſſe neither ſee,
Nor feele thy Spirits rare effects.

which may be too uſeful to be loſt, as it was too ſcarce to be referred to.

Ver. 22, 23. and be baptized—baptized with] All have not theſe, and more have not the latter, both which Mills therefore aſcribes to Mark, Pr. 674. but the Vulg. being one of them might promote it in the reſt, and it might be for Abridgment; ſee alſo Whitby.

Ver. 23. is for whom] Several would have it to whom; but the Gr. Particle for but ſeems to forbid it, ſuch a but ſignifying unleſs or excepting, for which the Gr. uſes εἰ μη.

Ver. 28. In a Manuſcript Copy of very great Antiquity, Gr. and Lat. which Beza made uſe of, mentioning it often in his Notes, and after gave it to the Univerſity of Cambridge, there follows after this Verſe, But you ſeek to be increaſed out of a little, and to be diminiſhed out of that which is greater. Yet being entered in and invited to dine, do not ſit down, &c. nearly as Luke xiv. 8, 9, 10. and the ſame in a Saxon MS. Lewis's Hiſt. of Eng. Tranſ. p. 9. and by Mills. I have thought concerning the ancient Copies, which vary from theſe commonly received, that they were kept for their Singularity, before they were for their Antiquity; and that the common ones, as being common, were not ſo preſerved: which Conſideration, that is quite likely, will turn out much to the Advantage of the latter; and do a great deal towards quieting what Whiſton, the Author of the State of printed Heb. Text, &c. have troubled themſelves and the World with, in preferring ſome old Copies to the preſent vulgar ones.

3. And

3. And if any one ſays any Thing to you, ye ſhall anſwer, that the Lord has Need of them; whereupon he will preſently ſend them.

4. Now the whole of this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the Prophet as follows;

5. Say to the Daughter of Sion, Behold thy King comes to thee, meek, and riding upon an Aſs, and a Colt the Foal of it.

6. Accordingly the Diſciples went, and doing as Jeſus commanded them;

7. Brought the Aſs and Colt, and upon them they put their Cloaths, and let him ſit upon theſe.

8. Moreover a very great Company ſpread their Cloaths in the Way; as alſo others cut off Branches from the Trees, and ſpread there.

9. The Multitude too that went before and followed, cried out thus, Pray ſave be to the Son of David; he is bleſſed who comes in the Name of the Lord; pray ſave be to him that is in the higheſt Places.

10. At length he entering into Jeruſalem, all the City was in a Commotion, aſking, Who is this?

11. Upon which the Multitude ſaid, This is the Prophet Jeſus, from Nazareth of Galilee.

12. Jeſus alſo entered into the Temple of God, and put forth all who ſold and bought in the Temple, and the Tables of the Money-changers he overthrew, as likewiſe the Seats of thoſe that ſold Doves.

13. And he ſays to them; It is written, my Houſe ſhall be called the Houſe of Prayer; but you have made it a Cave of Robbers.

14. Beſides there came to him the Blind and Lame in the Temple, and he cured them.

15. However the chief Prieſts and Scribes ſeeing the wonderful Things which he did, and the Children crying out in the Temple, and ſaying, Pray ſave be to the Son of David; they were enraged,

16. And aſked him, Doſt thou hear what theſe ſay? And Jeſus ſays to them, Yes; have you never read, Thou haſt compleated a Vindication by the Mouth of Infants and ſucking Babes?

17. Afterwards he left them, and went forth without the City to Bethany, and lodged there.

18. And in the Morning returning back to the City, he was hungry.

19. When ſeeing one Fig-tree in the Way, he came to it, and found Nothing on it but Leaves only; ſo he ſays to it, Let there no more be Fruit from thee for ever: with that the Fig-tree immediately withered.

20. Which the Diſciples ſeeing, wondered, and ſaid, How the Fig-tree is immediately withered!

21. But Jeſus made anſwer to them: I tell you certainly; If you have Faith, and do not doubt, you ſhall not only do what there is to the Fig-tree, but alſo if you ſay to this Mountain, Be thou lifted up, and caſt into the Sea; it ſhall be done.

22. Nay all Things whatever ye aſk for in Prayer, believing, ye ſhall receive.

23. Next he came into the Temple, and as he was teaching, there came to him the chief Prieſts, and Elders of the People, ſaying, By what Authority doeſt thou theſe Things? And who gave thee this Authority?

24. But Jeſus made anſwer to them; I will alſo aſk one Matter of you, which if ye tell me, I alſo will relate to you by what Authority I do theſe Things.

25. Whence was the Baptiſm of John?

Ver. 4. the whole of] not with ſome, and Mills ſays is aliunde, from ſome other Place; but it is fit we ſhould know where, before we diſcard it; ſee alſo Whit. Exam.

Ver. 6. doing] the Gr. being a Participle, while and brought is Tautology with did, Ver. 2.

Ver. 7. upon them] that he might ride on which he pleaſed, who choſe the Colt, Mark xi. 7. Luke xix. 35.

Ib. upon theſe] viz. the Cloaths.

Ver. 9. Pray ſave] by Hammond Save I beſeech thee.

Ver. 12. the Temple] which the Court for the People was ſometimes called, as Godwyn in his Moſes and Aaron ſays, B. ii. Ch. 1. eſpecially in the Writings of the New Teſtament; as the Tabernacle had alſo been called, 1 Sam. iii. 3.

Ib. put] not caſt or threw the Men. I have conſulted Commentators in vain for the true Time of this, and the withering of the Fig-tree, which Mat. and Mark alternately put firſt. They relate indeed, and agree from Mark xi. 11. that this was the ſecond Day of Jeſus's coming to Jeruſalem and the Temple, yet ſuppoſe he healed the Blind and Lame mentioned here Ver. 14. on the firſt of the Days; which latter I think unlikely as it ſtands here, and becauſe he ſeems to have gone thither in the Evening, Mark xi. 11. perhaps to Prayer according to Acts iii. 1. & Ver. 13. Now that Mark, writing after Mat. adjuſted Things more in Order, where they diſſent, is moſt likely; beſides the Affair of the Fig-tree being in the Morning, Ver. 18. and of the 2d Day, Mark xi. 12. this Tranſaction in the Temple will be after on the ſame Day, Mark xi. 15. as alſo what here begins at Ver. 23. on the 3d Day, Mark xi. 19, 20, 27, 28. Luke xx. 1, 2. from whence it appears that the Place of this Ver. 12, and to the 18, in Order of Time would be between the 22, & 23.

Ver. 16. a Vindication] This Quotation is from the Gr. Verſ. of Pſa. viii. 2. whoſe Tranſlator, I ſuppoſe thinking Strength not plain enough, would ſignify by αἶνον, as it means, a Vindication or ſtrong proverbial Saying, fitteſt for Children to utter; though the ſame Gr. Word otherwiſe denotes Praiſe, which the old Lat. Tranſ. adopting, others have taken it on Truſt from him, notwithſtanding the Stretch is quite too wide for Strength to mean Praiſe.

Ver. 20. withered!] Better expreſſed by a Note of Admiration, than of Interrogation, Scott's Note; which ſee farther.

From Heaven, or from Men? Whereupon they reaſoned thus with themſelves; If we ſay, From Heaven; he will retort to us, For what reaſon then did not you believe him?

26. But if we ſay, From Men; we fear the Company: for all hold John as a Prophet.

27. So they made anſwer to Jeſus, We do not know. He alſo ſaid to them: Neither tell I you by what Authority I do theſe Things.

28. But what do ye think? A Man had two Children, and going to the firſt, he ſaid, Son, go, work to Day in my Vineyard.

29. Whereas he made anſwer, I will not; yet afterwards repenting, he went.

30. And going to the ſecond, he ſaid in like manner. Whereas he made anſwer, I will, Lord; but went not.

31. Which of the two did the Will of the Father? They ſay to him, The firſt. Jeſus replies to them; Verily I ſay to you, that the Publicans and Harlots get into the Kingdom of God before you.

32. For John came to you in the Way of Righteouſneſs, and ye believed him not, but the Publicans and Harlots did; which you ſeeing, did not repent afterwards, to believe him.

33. Hear another Similitude; there was ſome Man a Houſholder, who planted a Vineyard, put a Hedge about it, dug in it a Winepreſs, built a Tower, let it out to Huſbandmen, and travelled away.

34. Now when the Time of the Fruits came near, he ſent his Servants to the Huſbandmen, to receive the Fruits of it:

35. And the Huſbandmen taking his Servants, beat indeed one, killed another, and ſtoned another.

36. Again he ſent other Servants, more than the firſt; and they did to them in like Manner.

37. At this he afterwards ſent to them his Son, ſaying, They will reverence my Son.

38. But the Huſbandmen ſeeing the Son, ſaid among themſelves, This is the Heir, come, let us kill him, and ſeize his Inheritance.

39. Him accordingly they took, and threw forth without the Vineyard, as well as killed.

40. When the Maſter of the Vineyard therefore ſhall come, what will he do to thoſe Huſbandmen?

41. They ſay to him, He will grievouſly deſtroy theſe evil ones, and let out the Vineyard to other Huſbandmen, who will render to him the Fruits in their Times.

42. Jeſus replies to them; Have you never read in the Scriptures, The ſame Stone that the Builders rejected, is become the Head of the Corner: this is come to paſs by the Lord, and it is wonderful in our Sight?

43. For this reaſon I tell you, that the Kingdom of God will be taken away from you, and be given to a Nation yielding the Fruits of it.

44. And he that falls on this Stone, will be broke to pieces; but it will daſh him, on whom it ſhall fall, to ſhivers.

45. Thus the chief Prieſts and Phariſees hearing his Parables, knew that he ſpoke concerning them.

46. Yet ſeeking to take hold of him, they feared the Multitude, ſince they eſteemed him as a Prophet.

CHAP. XXII.

MOREOVER Jeſus ſpoke to them again in Parables in the following manner:

2. The Kingdom of Heaven is likened to a Man that was a King, who made a Marriage for his Son.

3. And ſent his Servants to call thoſe who were invited to the Marriage, but they would not come.

4. Again he ſent other Servants, ſaying; Tell them that are invited, Behold I have got ready my Dinner; my Oxen and fat Beaſts are killed, and all Things are ready: come to the Marriage.

5. Yet they neglected, and went away, one indeed to his own Field, and another to his Merchandice.

6. Nay the Reſidue taking hold of his Servants, abuſed and ſtoned them.

7. Which when the King heard of, he was angry; afterwards ſending his Warriors, he deſtroyed thoſe Murderers, and burnt their City.

8. Then he ſays to his Servants; The Marriage indeed is ready, but thoſe who were invited, have been unworthy.

9. Go therefore to the High-ways, and whomſoever you ſhall find, call to the Marriage.

10. Accordingly thoſe Servants went out

Ver. 33. ſome] ſeveral being void of, Mills would have an Inſertion from Luke, Pr. 674. yet it might rather be pruned off, as more unneceſſary with Houſholder.

Ver. 39. Him they took] The him in the Original is with took as Mills has it, and with caſt after the falſe Complutenſian Copy, as in our Tranſ.

Ib. as well as] and in Luke xx. 15, it being far moſt likely that he was thrown forth after he was killed, as the Order is in Mark xii. 7. and as in Acts xiv. 19.

Ver. 42. Sight?] Our Bibles now have the End of the Queſtion here, but the early Editions had the Note at Corner, making the latter Part none of the Quotation from Pſa. cxviii. 22, 23. And Scott, though ſo exact a Tranſlator, has left that Point quite out.

into the Ways, and gathered together all that ever they found, both bad and good, whereby there were enow ſate down at the Marriage.

11. At length the King coming in, to ſee them that ſate down, beheld there a Man not dreſſed in Wedding-cloaths.

12. Whereupon he ſays to him, Companion, how didſt thou come in hither, without having Wedding-cloaths? And he was ſpeechleſs.

13. The King then ſaid to the Miniſters, Bind his Hands and Feet, and take him, and caſt forth into outer Darkneſs; there Weeping and Gnaſhing of Teeth will be.

14. For many are called, but few choſen.

15. Then the Phariſees went, and took counſel, how they might inſnare him in Diſcourſe.

16. So they ſent to him their Diſciples, with the Herodians, who ſaid; Maſter, we know that thou art true, and teacheſt the Way of God in Truth, and doſt not care for any: for thou lookeſt not at the Perſon of Men.

17. Tell us therefore, what doſt thou think? Is it lawful to give Tribute to Ceſar, or not?

18. But Jeſus knowing their Wickedneſs, ſaid; Why do ye tempt me, Hypocrites?

19. Shew me the Money of the Tribute. So they brought him a Penny.

20. And he aſks them, Whoſe Image and Superſcription is this?

21. They ſay to him, Ceſar's. Then he replies to them, Render therefore Ceſar's Things to Ceſar, and thoſe of God to God.

22. Which they hearing, wondered; and leaving him, went away.

23. On that Day came to him the Sadducees, who ſay there is no Reſurrection, and aſked him as follows:

24. Maſter, Moſes ſaid, If any Man dies, having no Children, his Brother ſhall marry his Wife, and raiſe Offſpring for him.

25. Now there were with us ſeven Brothers, and the firſt having married, deceaſed; and as he had no Offſpring, left his Wife to his Brother.

26. In like Manner alſo the ſecond, and the third, to the ſeventh.

27. Moreover laſt of all the Wife alſo died.

28. In the Reſurrection therefore whoſe Wife of the ſeven will ſhe be? For they all had her.

29. But Jeſus made anſwer to them; You err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the Power of God.

30. For in the Reſurrection they neither marry, nor are given in Marriage, but are as the Angels of God in Heaven.

31. And have not ye read concerning the Reſurrection of the Dead, what was ſpoken thus to you by God,

32. I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Iſaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the Dead, but of the Living.

33. Which the Multitude hearing, were ſurprized at his Doctrine.

34. Beſides when the Phariſees heard that he had made the Sadducees ſpeechleſs, they were gathered together.

35. And one of them, an Expounder of the Law, aſked, trying him in this manner,

36. Maſter, which is the great Commandment in the Law?

37. To whom Jeſus ſaid; Thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God in thy whole Heart, in thy whole Soul, and thy whole Mind;

38. This is the firſt and great Commandment.

39. The ſecond alſo is like it, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour as thy ſelf.

40. On theſe two Commandments all the Law and the Prophets hang.

41. Now the Phariſees being gathered together, Jeſus aſked them as follows,

42. What do ye think concerning Chriſt? Whoſe Son is he? They ſay to him, David's.

43. He replies to them; How then does David in Spirit call him Lord thus;

44. The Lord ſaid to my Lord, Sit at my right Hand, until I make thy Enemies thy Footſtool?

45. If David therefore calls him Lord, how is he his Son?

46. And none was able to anſwer him a Word, nor did any one dare from that Day any more to enquire of him.

Ver. 13. take him, and] is lacking in ſome Verſions, &c. whence Mills declares it put in for Copiouſneſs; but was rather put out, becauſe it was thought abſurd to take him after he was bound; which yet is not, as it was then to caſt him forth. Whitby omits anſwering this among others.

Ver. 35. an Expounder of the Law] being a Phariſee, Ver. 34. and a Scribe, Mark xii. 28. ſo rendered by Beza, Legis interpres, and our modern Lawyer has a different Senſe.

Ib. trying] not tempting wickedly, Mark xii.

Ver. 40. all] One Copy and 2 or 3 Verſions being without this, Mills took it not to be genuine; for Nobody, he ſays, would ever have eraſed out that Word: yet it is not altogether unlikely Somebody over ſcrupulous might, however it might be left out by Overſight, and the more probably as being like the End of the laſt Word. Whitby in his Manner oppoſes Mills with telling who have it, which is little to the Purpoſe, eſpecially as it is implied by Mills that the reſt have it.

CHAP.

CHAP. XXIII.

THEN Jeſus ſpoke to the Multitude, and to his Diſciples, as follows:

2. The Scribes and Phariſees ſit in the Seat of Moſes.

3. All Things therefore whatſoever they ſhall bid you to obſerve, obſerve and do; but do not according to their Deeds: for they ſay, and do not.

4. For they bind up Loads heavy and grievous to be born, which they lay upon Men's Shoulders; but will not move any of them with their own Finger.

5. Nay they do all their Deeds to be ſeen by Men: thus they enlarge their Labels, and make the Fringes of their Cloaths great.

6. They alſo love the firſt Places at Suppers, and the firſt Seats in the Synagogues;

7. As likewiſe Salutations in the Markets, and to be called by Men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8. But do not you be called Rabbi: for there is one your Maſter Chriſt, but you are all Brethren.

9. And do not call any your Father on the Earth: for there is one your Father in Heaven.

10. Nor be you called Maſters: for one is your Maſter Chriſt.

11. Whereas he that is the greateſt of you, ſhall be your Waiting-man.

12. He alſo who exalts himſelf, will be humbled; and he who humbles himſelf, will be exalted.

13. But wo is to you, Scribes, and Phariſees, Hypocrites; becauſe ye ſhut the Kingdom of Heaven before Men: for ye neither go in, nor permit thoſe who are going in to do it.

14. Wo is to you, Scribes, and Phariſees, Hypocrites; becauſe ye devour Widows Houſes, and pray long in Pretence: for this reaſon ye will receive more abundant Judgment.

15. Wo is to you, Scribes, and Phariſees, Hypocrites; becauſe ye go about Sea and Land, to make one Proſelyte; and when he is made, ye make him doubly more a Son of Hell than your ſelves.

16. Wo is to you, blind Guides, that ſay, Whoever ſhall ſwear by the Temple, it is Nothing; but whoever ſhall ſwear by the Gold of the Temple, is indebted.

17. Fooliſh and blind ones! for which is ſuperior, the Gold, or the Temple that ſanctifies the Gold?

18. And whoſoever ſhall ſwear by the Altar, it is Nothing; but whoever ſhall ſwear by the Gift upon it, is indebted.

19. Fooliſh and blind ones! for which is ſuperior, the Gift, or the Altar that ſanctifies the Gift?

20. He therefore that ſwears by the Altar, ſwears both by it and all Things upon it.

21. And he that ſwears by the Temple, ſwears both by it and him who dwells in it.

22. He likewiſe that ſwears by Heaven, ſwears by the Throne of God, and by him who ſits upon it.

23. Wo is to you, Scribes and Phariſees, Hypocrites; becauſe ye give tythe of Mint, Aniſe and Cummin, and have left the more weighty Things of the Law, Judgment, Mercy and Faith: ye ought to do theſe, though not leave them.

24. Blind Guides, that ſtrain out a Gnat, but ſwallow down a Camel!

Ver. 4. and grievous to be born] Mills ſays, it is Luke's, 4 or 5 Tranſlations being without it; a raſh Way of judging, when Luke too has not the ſame Expreſſion, Chap. xi. 46.

Ib. not move any of them] not put a Finger to them, Luk. xi. 46. to move ſo much as that could move. But alas what do thoſe make of Things who do not attend to the literal Senſe! The wiſer Part of them may well ſay Nothing. This whole Verſe ſome do not acknowledge, and is therefore adjudged by Mills to be fetched (he ſhould have ſaid made) from Mark xii. 40. or Luke xx. 47. it may better be thought, that in three or four Sentences beginning alike one was miſſed. In both Whitby's Examen and Annot. it is miſtaken for being no further than Hypocrites, though the Place of the Prol. cited, as well as Mills's Note has otherwiſe; but the whole is ſpoken of after Ver. 19. ſee alſo Scott's Reply in Review.

CHAP. XXIV.

AFTERWARDS Jeſus going out, went from the Temple, and his Diſciples came near to ſhew him the Buildings of it.

2. To whom Jeſus ſaid; Do not ye ſee all theſe? I ſay to you certainly, Here will not be left one Stone at all upon another, which will not be quite demoliſhed.

4. Upon which Jeſus made anſwer to them: See that none may ſeduce you.

5. For many will come in my Name, ſaying, I am Chriſt; and will ſeduce many.

6. Beſides you will hereafter hear of Wars, and News of Wars; ſee that you be not troubled: for all muſt come to paſs, but the End is not yet.

7. For one Nation will riſe up againſt another, and one Kingdom againſt another; and there will be Famines, with Peſtilences, and Earthquakes throughout the Places.

8. Yet all theſe will be the Beginning of Pangs.

9. Then will they deliver you up to Affliction, and kill you; and you will be hated by all Nations for my Name.

10. Nay then will many be offended, and deliver up one another, and hate one another.

11. Moreover divers falſe Prophets will riſe up, and ſeduce many.

12. And becauſe Iniquity will be increaſed, the Love of many will become cold;

13. But he who perſeveres to the End, ſhall be ſaved.

14. And this Goſpel of the Kingdom ſhall be preached in the whole World, for a Teſtimony to all Nations; and then the End will come.

15. When therefore you ſee the abominable Thing of Deſolation, ſpoken of by the Prophet Daniel, ſtand in the holy Place (let him who reads underſtand)

16. Then let thoſe in Judea flee to the Mountains;

17. Let him on the Houſe-top not come down, to take any Thing out of his Houſe;

18. And let him in the Field not return back, to take his Cloaths.

19. Wo alſo will be to them who are with Child, and to ſuch as give ſuck in thoſe Days.

20. But pray that your Flight may not be in the Winter, nor on the Sabbath.

21. For there will be then ſuch great Affliction, as has not been from the Beginning of the World till now, nor will be at all.

22. And if thoſe Days ſhould not be ſhortened, no Fleſh would be ſaved; but for the ſake of the choſen ones thoſe Days will be ſhortened.

23. Then if any one ſhall ſay to you, Behold here is Chriſt, or there; do not believe.

24. For falſe Chriſts and falſe Prophets will riſe up, and give great Signs and Wonders; ſo that they would ſeduce, if poſſible, even the choſen ones.

25. Behold I have foretold you.

26. If therefore they ſhall ſay to you, Lo he is in the Wilderneſs; do not go out: Lo in the Cloſets; do not believe.

27. For according as the Lightning comes out from the Eaſt, and ſhines to the Weſt; ſo will alſo the Coming of the Man be.

28. For whereſoever the dead Body is, thither will the Eagles be gathered together.

29. Preſently too after the Affliction of thoſe Days, the Sun will be darkened, the Moon not give its Light, the Stars fall from Heaven, and the Powers of the Heavens be ſhaken.

30. And then will appear the Sign of the Man in Heaven; ſo that then all the Tribes of the Earth will lament, when they ſee the Man come in the Clouds of Heaven, with Power and much Glory.

31. He will alſo ſend his Angels with a Trumpet of a loud Sound, and they will gather together his choſen ones from the four Winds, from one End of the Heavens to their other.

32. Moreover learn a Similitude from the Fig-tree; When its Branch is now tender, and ſprouts forth Leaves, you know that Summer is near:

Ver. 15. the abominable Thing of Deſolation] the Heathen Roman Army making deſolate, Luke xxi. 20.

Ver. 16. flee] Accordingly the Chriſtian Jews fled to Pella beyond Jordan, and were preſerved, as Euſebius and Epiphanius relate; and ſee Luke xxi. 21.

Ver. 22. for the ſake of the choſen ones] viz. the Chriſtian Jews perhaps, that they might be delivered from the Jewiſh Law by the Overthrow of the Temple, and be ſaved by the Goſpel, according to Gal. v. 2, 4. and particularly might be thoſe mentioned at Ver. 16. let it be tried whether any other Interpretation, with reſpect to that Time, is ſo ſuitable.

Ver. 24. falſe Chriſts] Wm. Tyndal ſays in his Obedience of a Chriſtian Man, Though I for a Conſideration have tranſlated falſe Chriſtes, keeping the Greek Word; yet ſignifieth it in the Engliſh falſe Anointed, and ought ſo to be tranſlated.

Ver. 28. the Eagles] which the Roman Army had for Enſigns.

Ver. 29, 30. Hammond and Whitby apply all in theſe Verſes to the Overthrow of the Jews by the Romans, as Lightfoot and the latter do that in the 31ſt to the gathering of the Chriſtian Church; which Ver. 34. may ſeem to confirm, eſpecially as it has all with theſe Things, and ſo Luke xxi. 32. But Wall diſtinguiſhes between theſe Ver. 34. and that Ver. 36. referring the firſt to all from Ver. 5. to Ver. 30. and the latter to Ver. 30, 31. yet [then] may again ſeem to combine Ver. 30, to Ver. 29. in Time, as alſo at Luke xxi. 27. However if I go ſo far in ſuch great Company, I muſt make a full Stop here, and not take Rev. i. 7. alſo in that Senſe, as both Ham. and Whit. do, nor 1 Theſ. v. 2. 2 Theſ. i. 7, 8, 9, 10. 2 Pet. iii. 10, 12. as Ham. not Whit. for ſo we might diſbelieve any future viſible Coming of Jeſus to Judgment, ſince Acts i. 11. might be expounded in the ſame Manner, and perhaps 1 Theſ. iv. 15, 16, 17. if the Clouds may be made metaphorical; beſides how did the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem and the Temple, concern or belong to the diſtant Chriſtians of Leſſer Aſia? Whitby beſides his Paraphraſe and Annotations, has an Appendix on this Chap. in Anſwer to Whiſton, and another to Grotius; which latter to the 3 Queſtions (or threefold Queſtion) of the Diſciples, Ver. 3. ſuppoſes Jeſus anſwering thus, to the firſt (Part) as far as to Ver. 23. to the ſecond, which he refers to the Time of Conſtantine, but others to the general Converſion of the Jews, from thence to Ver. 30. and to the laſt concerning the End of the World after; but Whitby aſſerts that at leaſt to Ver. 34. (I ſuppoſe he meant incluſive) it is only of the Deſtruction of the Jews, a little inconſiſtent with what he ſays of Ver. 31. and to me he diſcourſes more plainly and convincingly of it in his Gen. Pref. p. 29, 30, 31, 32.

Ver. 31. Trumpet of a loud Sound] according to the Gr. as alſo Scott's Tranſ.

33. So alſo when you ſee all theſe Things, know that it is near at the Doors.

34. I ſay to you certainly, This Generation will by no means paſs away, until all theſe Things are done.

35. Heaven and Earth will paſs away, but my Words will not at all.

36. Nevertheleſs concerning that Day and Hour none knows, not the Angels of Heaven, but my Father only.

37. Now according as the Days of Noe, ſo will alſo the Coming of the Man be.

38. For according as they were in the Days before the Flood, eating and drinking, marrying and giving in Marriage, till the Day that Noe entered into the Ark;

39. And did not know till the Flood came, and took them all away: ſo will alſo the Coming of the Man be.

40. Then two Men being in the Field, one will be taken, and one left.

41. Of two Women grinding at a Mill, one will be taken, and one left.

42. Watch therefore; ſince you know not in what Hour your Lord comes.

43. But this know, that if a Houſholder had known in what Watch the Thief would come, he would have watched, and not let his Houſe be broke through.

44. For this reaſon be you alſo ready; ſince the Man comes in an Hour which you do not think.

45. Who then is a faithful and wiſe Servant, whom his Lord has ſet over his Family, to give them Food in Seaſon?

46. That Servant will be bleſt, whom his Lord when he comes ſhall find doing ſo.

47. I tell you certainly, that he will ſet him over all the Things he has.

48. But if that Servant being evil ſays in his Heart, My Lord delays coming;

49. And begins to beat the Fellow-ſervants, and alſo to eat and drink with Drunkards:

50. The Lord of this Servant will come in a Day that he does not expect, and in an Hour that he does not know of;

51. And will cut him aſunder, and put his Part with Hypocrites; there Weeping and Gnaſhing of Teeth will be.

CHAP. XXV.

THEN will the Kingdom of Heaven be likened to ten Virgins, who took their Lamps, and went out to meet a Bridegroom;

2. Five of them being wiſe, and five fooliſh.

3. They who were fooliſh, taking their Lamps, did not take Oil with them.

4. Whereas the wiſe took Oil in their Veſſels with their Lamps.

5. And as the Bridegroom delayed, they all ſlumbered and ſlept.

6. But at Midnight there was a Cry made, Behold the Bridegroom is coming, go out to meet him.

7. Then all thoſe Virgins aroſe, and trimmed up their Lamps.

8. And the fooliſh ſaid to the wiſe, Give us ſome of your Oil, becauſe our Lamps are gone out.

9. But the wiſe anſwered thus, No, leſt at any time there ſhould not be ſufficient for us and you; but go rather to them that ſell, and buy for your ſelves.

10. Now while they were gone away to buy, the Bridegroom came; ſo thoſe who were ready went in with him to the Marriage, and the Door was ſhut.

11. But afterwards the reſt of the Virgins alſo come, ſaying, Lord, Lord, open to us.

12. Nevertheleſs he made anſwer; I ſay to you certainly, I do not know you.

13. Watch therefore, ſince you know not the Day nor Hour, in which the Man will come.

14. For it is according as a Man who travelling away, called his own Servants, and delivered to them the Things which he had.

15. And to one he gave five Talents, to another two, and to another one, to each according to his own Ability; and preſently travelled away.

Ver. 36. that Day and Hour] when Heaven and Earth will paſs away, Ver. 35. of a ſudden as the Flood of Noah came, Ver. 37, 38, 39. and the Deſtruction of Sodom, Luke xvii. 28, 29, 30. and being joined to the Chap. after this by then; yet Hammond applies it all to the Overthrow of the Jews by the Romans, which was doing ſome Years; and Whitby inconſiſtently Ver. 39, 40, 41. but not Ver. 36.

Ver. 38. they were] according to the Gr. and as in Scott's late Verſion.

Ver. 40, 41. taken] as Paul declares 1 Theſ. iv. 16, 17. but tallies poorly with the Deſtruction of the Jews, and particularly with on or in that Night, Luke xvii. 34. tho' Whitby praiſes Hammond for referring it thither.

Ib. one left] not the other here as in Luke xvii. 35, 36.

Ver. 48. coming] a Verb, not a Noun.

Ver. 11. come] the preſ. Tenſe, as in Mark ii. 3, 18. & xi. 15, 27.

Ver. 12. I do not know you] i. e. you are Strangers to me.

Ver. 13. in which the Man will come] taken from Ch. xxiv. and perhaps Ver. 44. ſays Mills, ſeveral Exemplars and Verſions being without it; but what great Matter is that, as ſo uſual, ſince many more are with it, and theſe Words are not there?

16. Where-

16. Whereupon he who had received five Talents going, wrought with them, and made other five Talents.

17. In like Manner alſo he with two, did himſelf alſo gain other two.

18. But he that had received one going away, dug in the Ground, and hid his Lord's Money.

19. And after much Time the Lord of thoſe Servants comes, and takes Account of them.

20. When he coming near who had received five Talents, brought ſo many more, ſaying, Lord, thou didſt deliver five Talents to me; lo I have gained to them other five.

21. Upon this his Lord anſwered him, Well, good and faithful Servant, thou haſt been faithful over a few Things, I will ſet thee over many; enter into the Joy of thy Lord.

22. And he alſo coming near who had received two Talents, ſaid, Lord, thou didſt deliver two Talents to me; lo I have gained to them other two.

23. His Lord anſwered him, Well, good and faithful Servant, thou haſt been faithful over a few Things, I will ſet thee over many; enter into the Joy of thy Lord.

24. Next he likewiſe came near, who received one Talent, and ſaid; Lord, I know thou art a hard Man, who reapeſt where thou haſt not ſown, and gathereſt together whence thou haſt not diſperſed.

25. So being afraid, I went away, and hid thy Talent in the Ground; behold thou haſt thy own.

26. But his Lord made anſwer to him; Wicked Servant and ſlothful, ſince thou knoweſt I reap where I did not ſow, and gather together whence I did not diſperſe;

27. Thou ſhouldeſt have put my Money to the Bankers; that on my coming I might have received what was mine with Intereſt.

28. Take therefore the Talent from him, and give to him that has the ten Talents.

29. For to every one who has ſhall be given, and it ſhall abound; but from him that has not, ſhall be taken away even what he ſeemingly has.

30. Moreover caſt forth the unprofitable Servant into outer Darkneſs; there Weeping and Gnaſhing of Teeth will be.

31. And at the Time when the Man ſhall come in his Glory, and all the holy Angels with him, he will ſit on his glorious Throne.

32. All Nations too will be gathered together before him; and them will he ſeparate one from another, according as a Shepherd does the Sheep from the Goats.

33. Beſides he will indeed make the Sheep ſtand at his right Hand, and the Goats at the left.

34. Then will the King ſay to thoſe at his right Hand; Come, O bleſſed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the founding of the World.

35. For I was hungry, and you gave me to eat; thirſty, and you made me drink; was a Stranger, and you took me in;

36. Naked, and you cloathed me; ſick, and you viſited me; was in Priſon, and you came to me.

37. Then will the Righteous anſwer him as follows; Lord, when did we ſee thee hungry, and fed; or thirſty, and made drink?

38. When alſo did we ſee thee a Stranger, and took in; or naked, and cloathed?

39. When likewiſe did we ſee thee ſick, or in Priſon, and come to thee?

40. And the King will make reply to them; I tell you certainly, Whatſoever you did to one of the leaſt of theſe my Brethren, you did to me.

41. Then will he ſay alſo to them on the left Hand; Go from me, O curſed, into everlaſting Fire prepared for the Devil and his Angels.

42. For I was hungry, and you did not give me to eat; thirſty, and you did not make me drink;

43. I was a Stranger, and you did not take me in; naked, and you did not cloath me; ſick, and in Priſon, and you did not viſit me.

44. Then will they alſo anſwer him as follows; Lord, when did we ſee thee hungry, thirſty, a Stranger, naked, ſick, or in Priſon, and did not miniſter to thee?

45. Then will he reply to them thus; I tell you certainly, Whatſoever you did not to one of the leaſt of theſe, you did not to me.

46. And the latter ſhall go away into everlaſting Torment; but the Righteous into everlaſting Life.

CHAP. XXVI.

AND when Jeſus had made an end of all theſe Speeches, he ſaid to his Diſciples,

2. You know that two Days hence the Paſſover is, and the Man is delivered up to be crucified.

3. Then the chief Prieſts, Scribes, and Elders of the People gathered together into the Hall of the high Prieſt, called Caiaphas;

4. And conſulted together, that they might take hold of Jeſus by Deceit, and kill.

5. However they ſaid, Not at the Feaſt, leſt there ſhould be a Tumult among the People.

6. Now Jeſus having been in Bethany, in the Houſe of Simon the Leper;

7. There came to him a Woman who had an Alabaſter-box of very precious Ointment, and poured upon his Head, as he ſate down.

8. Which when his Diſciples ſaw, they were enraged, ſaying; What is there this Waſte for?

9. Since that Ointment could have been ſold for much, and this given to the Poor.

10. That Jeſus knowing, ſaid to them; Why do ye give the Woman Trouble? For ſhe has wrought a good Work for me.

11. Since ye have always the Poor with you, but have not me always.

12. And ſhe putting this Ointment on my Body, did it for me to be buried.

13. I tell you certainly, Whereſoever this Goſpel is preached in the whole World, there ſhall be ſpoken alſo what ſhe has done, in Remembrance of her.

14. Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iſcariot, went to the chief Prieſts,

15. And ſaid, What are you willing to give me, that I may deliver him up to you? And they appointed for him thirty Pieces of Silver.

16. Thus from that Time he ſought an Opportunity, that he might deliver him up.

17. And on the firſt of unleavened Bread the Diſciples came to Jeſus, aſking him, Where wouldeſt thou have us get ready for thee to eat the Paſſover?

18. Whereupon he ſaid; Go into the City to ſuch a one, and tell him, Maſter ſays, My Time is near, with thee will I make the Paſſover along with my Diſciples.

19. And the Diſciples did as Jeſus appointed them, and got the Paſſover ready.

20. So while it was Evening, he ſat down with the twelve.

21. Moreover as they were eating, he ſaid, I tell you certainly, that one of you will deliver me up.

22. Upon this they being exceeding ſorry, began each of them to ſay to him, Is it I, Lord?

23. To which he made anſwer; The ſame who dipped the Hand with me in the Diſh, will deliver me up.

24. The Man indeed goes, as it is written concerning him; but wo will be to that Man by whom he himſelf is delivered up: it would have been well for that Man, if the ſame had not been born.

25. And Judas who delivered him up made anſwer, Is it I, Rabbi? He replied to him, Thou haſt ſaid it.

26. Now as they were eating, Jeſus took Bread, and bleſſing, broke; then gave to the Diſciples, and ſaid, Take, eat; this is my Body.

27. The Cup likewiſe he took, and giving thanks, gave to them, ſaying, Drink all of it.

28. For this is my Blood of the new Covenant, ſhed for many for the Forgiveneſs of Sins.

Ver. 1. all] Mills recites ſome that have it not; Whitby in Anſwer to it (which admitted none) or his Examination of the Various Readings of Mills, as he entitles his Book (which here amounted to Nothing) without culpating any Thing, produces a few others which have it, while we learn from Mills himſelf that they are many.

Ver. 3. Scribes] creeped from other Goſpels, ſays Mills, by the Abſence of it with ſome.

Ver. 6. having been] that is four Days before, Ver. 2. with Joh. xii. 1. and this may be referred back to Ch. xxi. 17. as it is alſo in Luk. vii. 36. and is a Participle of the 2 Aor. not of the preſ. Tenſe; overlooked by Scott, who tranſlates, Now Jeſus being.

Ver. 15. thirty Pieces] four pound ten ſhillings, Ham. tho' Whithy relates he ſays 3l. 15s. which is eaſily ſeen.

Ver. 17. on the firſt] after Sun-ſet, when it began; the Want of which Conſideration has created great Difficulty and Miſunderſtanding; look at Joh. xviii. 28. and in Luk. xxii. 7.

Ver. 20. while it was (or it being) Evening] not when Evening was come; ſee on Ver. 17.

Ver. 23. dipped] being not preſ. in Gr. but the 1 Aor. and rendered by our Tranſlators had dipped in its other Place, Joh. xiii. 26.

29. But I tell you, that I will not at all drink henceforth any of this Product of the Vine, till that Day when I ſhall drink it with you new in the Kingdom of my Father.

30. And having ſung praiſe, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

31. Then Jeſus ſays to them; All you will be offended at me this Night: for it is written, I will ſmite the Shepherd, and the Sheep of the Flock ſhall be diſperſed.

32. Nevertheleſs after I am riſen up, I will go before you into Galilee.

33. At which Peter made anſwer to him, If they ſhould even all be offended at thee, I never will.

34. Jeſus told him, I ſay to thee certainly, that this Night, before the Cock has crowed, thou wilt thrice deny me.

35. Peter replies to him, If I muſt even die with thee, I will not at all deny thee; and in like Manner ſaid all the Diſciples.

36. Then Jeſus comes with them into a Place, called Gethſemane, and ſays to the Diſciples, Sit here, whilſt I go away, and pray there.

37. So taking Peter, and the two Sons of Zebedee, he began to be ſorrowful and grieved.

38. He then ſays to them, My Mind is very ſorrowful to Death; remain here, and watch with me.

39. And going on a little, he fell on his Face, and praying, ſaid, My Father, if it is poſſible, let this Cup paſs away from me; nevertheleſs not as I would, but as thou.

40. Afterwards he comes to the Diſciples, and finds them aſleep, and ſays to Peter; So, were you not able to watch one Hour with me?

41. Watch, and pray, that you may not enter into Trial: the Spirit indeed is ready, but the Fleſh weak.

42. Again he went away the ſecond time, and prayed as follows, My Father, if this Cup cannot paſs from me, except I drink it, thy Will be done.

43. And when he came, he finds them aſleep again: for their Eyes were heavy.

44. Upon which he left them, and going away again, prayed the third time, ſpeaking the ſame Matter.

45. Then he comes to his Diſciples, and ſays to them; Sleep on, and be refreſhed; behold the Hour draws near, and the Man is delivered up into the Power of Sinners.

46. Riſe up, let us go along; behold he that delivers me up draws near.

47. And while he was ſpeaking, lo Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great Company, with Swords and Sticks, from the chief Prieſts and Elders of the People.

48. Now he that delivered him up gave them this Sign, Whomſoever I ſhall kiſs is he; take hold of him.

49. And preſently coming to Jeſus, he ſaid, Hail, Rabbi; and kiſſed him.

50. With that Jeſus ſaid to him, Companion, what art thou come for? Then coming near, they put Hands upon Jeſus, and took hold of him.

51. And lo one of thoſe with Jeſus ſtretching forth the Hand, drew out his Sword, and ſtriking a Servant of the high Prieſt, took off his Ear.

52. Then ſaid Jeſus to him; Turn back thy Sword into its Place: for all who take the Sword ſhall periſh by it.

53. Doſt thou think that I cannot beſeech my Father, and he would provide for me more than twelve Legions of Angels?

54. How then will the Scriptures be fulfilled, that it muſt ſo be?

55. At the ſame Time Jeſus ſaid to the Multitude; Are you come out as againſt a Robber, with Swords and Sticks to take me; I ſate daily with you teaching in the Temple, and you did not take hold of me.

56. But the whole of this has been done, that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the Diſciples left him, and fled.

57. And

57. And thoſe that took hold of Jeſus, had him away to Caiaphas the high Prieſt, where the Scribes and Elders were gathered together.

58. Peter notwithſtanding followed him far off, to the Hall of the high Prieſt; and entering in, ſate down with the Officers, to ſee the Concluſion.

59. Next the chief Prieſts, Elders, and the whole Council ſought for falſe Evidence againſt Jeſus, that they might put him to death.

60. Yet they found none; nay though many falſe Witneſſes came thither, they found none. However afterwards two falſe Witneſſes coming thither,

61. Declared; He ſaid, I can deſtroy the Temple of God, and in three Days rebuild it.

62. And the high Prieſt riſing up, ſaid to him, Doſt thou anſwer Nothing? What do they teſtify againſt thee?

63. But Jeſus was ſilent. Whereupon the high Prieſt made anſwer to him, I conjure thee by the Living God, that thou wilt tell us, whether thou art Chriſt the Son of God.

64. Jeſus ſays to him; Thou haſt ſpoken it: nevertheleſs I ſay to you, Hereafter you will ſee the Man ſit at the right Hand of Power, and come on the Clouds of Heaven.

65. The high Prieſt then tore his Cloaths aſunder, ſaying, He has blaſphemed; what Need have we of Witneſſes further? Lo now you have heard his Blaſphemy:

66. How does it ſeem to you? And they made anſwer, He is guilty for Death.

67. They then ſpit in his Face, and beat him; as likewiſe ſome ſtruck,

68. Saying, Propheſy to us, Chriſt, who it is ſmote thee.

69. Whilſt Peter too ſate without in the Hall, there came to him a young Woman, ſaying, Thou alſo waſt with Jeſus of Galilee.

70. Whereas he denied before them all as follows, I am ignorant of what thou ſayeſt.

71. Beſides when he was gone out into the Porch, another ſaw him, and ſays to thoſe there, He alſo was with Jeſus the Nazorite.

72 And again he denied with an Oath, I do not know the Man.

73. A little after likewiſe they who ſtood by coming near, ſaid to Peter, Truly thou art alſo one of them: for even thy Speaking makes thee manifeſt.

74. Then he began to curſe at it, and ſwear, I do not know the Man. And preſently the Cock crowed.

75. Upon this Peter remembred the Words of Jeſus, who ſaid to him, Before the Cock has crowed, thou wilt deny me thrice. And going out abroad, he wept bitterly.

CHAP. XXVII.

AND when it was Morning, all the chief Prieſts, and the Elders of the People took a Conſultation againſt Jeſus, ſo that they might put him to death.

2. Whom they bound, as alſo carried away, and delivered him up to Pontius Pilate the Governor.

3. Judas then who delivered him up, ſeeing that he was condemned, repented, and carried back the thirty Pieces of Silver, to the chief Prieſts and Elders,

4. Saying, I have ſinned, in delivering up innocent Blood. But they ſaid, What is it to us? Do thou look to it.

5. Whereupon throwing down the Pieces of Silver in the Temple, he departed; and being gone away, hanged himſelf.

6. And the chief Prieſts taking the Pieces of Silver, ſaid, It is not lawful to put them into the Treaſury, ſince it is the Price of Blood.

7. So taking Counſel, they bought with them the Potter's Field, for the Burial of Strangers.

8. Therefore that Field is called the Field of Blood to this Day.

Ver. 59. Elders] ſome want, but that it crept in from other Parts of this Chap. as Mills pronounces, Prol. 392. I am not forward to credit, and find no ſuch; for in Ver. 3, 47. it is with of the People, and Ver. 57. with Scribes.

Ver. 61. He] fellow is too irreverent to be added by the Tranſlators.

Ver. 64. Hammond and Whitby expound as Chap. xxiv. 30.

Ib. Thou haſt ſpoken it] viz. that which is ſo, as in Luk. xxii. 70. though both unintelligible in the com. Tranſ. while it, often underſtood in the Original, makes Senſe.

Ver. 66. for Death] By guilty of death, ſays Wells here, we commonly underſtand guilty of having killed another; and the Genitive rendered by for ſee in Ch. xvi. 26. Jude 11. Rom. viii. 36. 2 Theſ. iii. 5.

Ver. 67. ſtruck] the ſame Word as in Ch. v. 39. without the Meaning of, or any Thing for, with the palms of their hands.

Ver. 73. makes thee manifeſt] Look at Mar. xiv. 70.

Ver. 74. to curſe at it] to expreſs the Force of the Preposition (prefixed to the Verb, and that uſed in Mar. xiv. 71.) as Beza ſpeaks, though he does it otherwiſe; but in Kuſter's Edit. of Mills are enumerated ſixty MS Copies that have a different Reading, which Mills judged was the right, ſignifying, as I apprehend, to lay it down or affirm; beſides what Mills ſays, it might be left as being a ſtrange Word, and it ſeems to have a better Gradation to ſwear, Peter firſt affirming, then ſwearing, nay the more likely as ſeveral urged the Charge againſt him, Ver. 73.

Ver. 3. delivered—up] the Verb that is ſo rendered in the Ver. before.

9. Then was fulfilled what was ſpoken thus by the Prophet Jeremy; Accordingly they took the thirty Pieces of Silver, the Value of him that was valued, whom thoſe of the Iſraelites did value;

10. And gave them for the Potter's Field, as the Lord appointed me.

11. Now Jeſus ſtood before the Governor, who aſked him as follows, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jeſus ſaid to him, Thou ſayeſt it.

12. And when he was accuſed by the chief Prieſt and Elders, he anſwered Nothing.

13. Then Pilate ſaid to him, Doſt not thou hear how many Things they teſtify againſt thee?

14. However he did not anſwer him to any one Word; ſo that the Governor wondered very much.

15. Now at the Feaſt the Governor uſed to releaſe one Priſoner to the Company, whom they would.

16. They had alſo then a notorious Priſoner, called Barabbas.

17. Therefore they being gathered together, Pilate ſaid to them, Which would ye have me releaſe to you, Barabbas, or Jeſus called Chriſt?

18. For he had perceived that through Envy they had delivered him up.

19. Beſides as he ſate on the Judgment-ſeat, his Wife ſent Word to him, Have thou Nothing to do with that righteous Man: for I have ſuffered many Things to Day in a Dream by reaſon of him.

20. But the chief Prieſts and Elders perſuaded the Multitude, that they would aſk for Barabbas, and deſtroy Jeſus.

21. Accordingly when the Governor made Propoſal to them, which of the two would ye have me releaſe to you? They ſaid, Barabbas.

22. Pilate aſks them, What then ſhall I do with Jeſus called Chriſt? They all ſay to him, Let him be crucified.

23. Whereas the Governor replied, What Evil forſooth has he done? Yet they cried out exceedingly, ſaying, Let him be crucified.

24. Thus Pilate ſeeing that he profited Nothing, but that a Tumult was made the more, took Water, and waſhed the Hands before the Company, ſaying, I am innocent from the Blood of this righteous Man; do ye look to it.

25. Upon which all the People made anſwer, Let his Blood be charged on us, and on our Children.

26. Then he releaſed Barabbas to them; and having ſcourged Jeſus, delivered him up, that he might be crucified.

27. The Soldiers of the Governor then taking Jeſus into the Judgment-hall, gathered together the whole Regiment to him.

28. And ſtripping him, they put on him a ſcarlet Cloak.

29. As alſo plaiting a Crown of Briers, they put it upon his Head, and a Reed in his right Hand; then they kneeled down before him, and mocked him thus, Hail, the King of the Jews.

30. Moreover they ſpit upon him, nay took the Reed, and ſtruck him upon the Head.

Ver. 9. Jeremy] See the Note on Zech. xi. 12. But Weſley leaves it out; what a rare Example to others!

Ib. the Value] to be nearer the Original, though Hervey ſays no Tranſlation can equal it, Ther. and Aſp. V. 3.

Ver. 10. gave] The Gr. Word in the Ver. before for they took may as well ſignify I took, which the Heb. alſo is Zech. xi. 13. and the Verb ἔδωκαν here for they gave would without ν be I gave, as the Syr. too has it, and ſo agree nearer with I caſt in Zech. beſides that they does not ſeem to ſuit well with as the Lord appointed me: from all which the Reader may ſcarce but think with ſuch great Men as Mede here, and Hammond on Heb. viii. 9. that the ν is a Miſtake of the Scribe; and I will add how it might be, viz. either becauſe the Word of the Gr. Sept for I caſt may be they caſt, as well as the foregoing they took, and both end with ν like ἔδωκαν, or becauſe it is the Manner of Gr. to add ν at the End of Words with ε or ι when a Vowel begins the next, as it does here; however not as here after α, but that might be owing to the Ignorance of the Tranſcriber, and he might be the more induced to inſert ν, as there would elſe be a Gr. α and α together; moreover the Gr. Tranſlator of Matthew from the Heb. might make it thus, not he himſelf. Yet as Mills has no various Reading of I gave (having omitted the Syr.) nor any other, we ſhould, not to diſturb the Repoſe of the ſacred Scripture, tread ſoftly; and for it there may be ſaid, 1. that it is not likely the Blunder or Corruption of a ſingle Scribe would be received in all Copies; 2. Matthew might, nay did, paraphraſe on the Prophet, inſtead of quoting him literally; 3. their taking and giving would be as the Prophet was ordered, when they did it by his Order; 4. I took and gave would be improper here, ſince it is applied to the chief Prieſts, Ver. 6, 7. and it is plain Mat. adapted the Speech to them, foraſmuch as he changed caſt into gave; 5. though thoſe Greek Verbs are alike in Zech. yet the Context ſhews them to be of the 1ſt Perſ. ſing. 6. an univerſal Alteration is incredible, againſt both the firſt Original here, and the Sept. there; 7. this could not be a Miſtake as rendered from the Heb.

Ver. 14. not—any one] diſtinct like the Gr. ſo Scott; never being too vulgar, if that at all.

Ib. the Governor wondered] Though the Syr. only has he wondered, Mills concludes the Vulg. added it, Pr. 1251. which Whitby ſimply oppoſes with four others, if not two of them the ſame.

Ver. 16. notorious] So Gregory ſays it ſhould be, Notes on ſome Paſſages of Scripture.

Ver. 18. had perceived—delivered] the preterpluperfect Tenſe, and firſt Aoriſt; different thus from thoſe Verbs in Mar. xv. 10.

Ver. 24. righteous Man] Mills, from one very corrupt Copy alone, ſays this ſeems to have crept in from Acts or elſewhere, Pr. 1278.

Ver. 26. having ſcourged] before, not then, Joh. xix. 1, 16. and this tranſlating Ham. propoſes on Luk. xxiii. and Guyſe reaſons for.

31. And

31. And when they had mocked him, they ſtript him of the Cloak, and put his Cloaths on him; ſo had him away to be crucified.

32. And as they went out, finding a Cyrenean Man, named Simon, him they forced to take up his Croſs.

33. At length coming into a Place called Golgotha, which is called the Scull Place;

34. They gave him to drink Vinegar mixed with Gall; which he taſted, but would not drink.

35. Next they crucified him, and divided his Garments, caſting Lots; that it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the Prophet, They divided my Garments to themſelves, and caſt Lots for my Cloaths.

36. Afterwards ſitting down, they kept him there.

37. And they put over his Head his Crime written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38. Then were two Thieves crucified with him, one at the right Hand, and one at the left.

39. Nay thoſe who went by blaſphemed him, moving their Heads,

40. And ſaying, Thou who wouldeſt deſtroy the Temple, and in three Days build up, ſave thy ſelf: if thou art the Son of God, come down from the Croſs.

41. And in like Manner alſo the chief Prieſts mocking, with the Scribes and Elders; ſaid;

42. He who ſaved others, cannot ſave himſelf: if he is the King of Iſrael, let him come down now from the Croſs, and we will believe him.

43. He truſted on God, let him now deliver him, if he likes him: for he ſaid, I am the Son of God.

44. And the Thieves too who were crucified with him, reproached him with the ſame.

45. Now from the ſixth Hour there was Darkneſs in all the Country, till the ninth.

46. About which Hour Jeſus cried out thus aloud, Eli, Eli, lama ſabachthani; that is, My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me?

47. With that ſome of them who ſtood there hearing, ſaid, He calls Elias.

48. So preſently one of them running, took a Sponge, which filling with Vinegar, he put on a Reed, and gave him to drink.

Ver. 35. that it might &c.] All this to the End of the Verſe is not in above fifty MSS reckoned in Kuſter's Edit. of Mills, beſides Verſions and Authors, and is thought to be taken from Joh. xix. 24. but the Vulg. has it, which may have prevailed on the com. Reading and European Tranſlations.

Ver. 37. JESUS] a dozen omit.

Ver. 40. Croſs] If the Croſs were not, Chriſt would have Diſciples enough, Tyndal's Prologue to Exod.

Ver. 41. Elders] I find upwards of fifty Copies named that have added and Phariſees, but Mills ſaying no further, and Whitby Nothing about it. The Syr. too has it, with the Arab. and Perſ. as Scott writes in his Review of Dr. Mills's Various Readings in St. Mat. but the Vulg. not, ſo that it ſeems to be an ancient eaſtern Reading; and I ſuppoſe genuine, as being ſo diffuſive without or againſt the Vulg. three Copies alſo having Phariſees inſtead of Elders, and neither of them being mentioned by Mark, the laſt might be dropt here.

Ver. 42. he cannot ſave himſelf] Mills obſerves ſome Copies have it pointed interrogatively, and more in Mar. xv. 31. cannot he ſave himſelf?

Ib. believe him] More than fifty Copies have believe on him, but Mills objects to it; and it ſeems juſtly, according to Mar. xv. 32. i. e. they would believe he could ſave himſelf.

Ver. 43. now] omitted by ſome, as in Pſa. xxii. 8. which the Jews uſed inadvertently; and Mills ſays is by the Vulg. which is wrong, though put by it ſelf.

Ib. likes] This fulfilling Ver. 8. of the evangelical xxiid Pſalm, of which conſult Interpreters; whereas he will have is more properly referrible to Jeſus.

Ver. 44. the Thieves] What was done by one is ſometimes ſaid to be done by thoſe of which he was one, and may ſo much the better the fewer they are.

Ib. reproached] the very ſame Word with that in Mar. xv. 32. but our Tranſlators, like Hopkins particularly (as I have obſerved) in the Pſalms, ſeem fond of vulgar Idioms.

Ver. 46. Eli, Eli] The ſame as in the Heb. Pſa. xxii. 1. or the com. Syriack, which Jeſus here uſed, from the Chald. אֱלָהִי Elohi, and therefore Eloi, Mar. xv. 34.

Ib. lama] from לְמָא lema, as before.

Ib. ſabachthani] from the Verb שבק inſtead of the Heb. עזב

Ver. 47. ſaid] which may refute the Fancy of Hammond, that our Saviour ſaid over all the xxiid Pſa. or a conſiderable Part of it: for that would have put them out of their Miſtake; nor was all of it ſuitable, as David expected to recover, Ver. 20, 21, 22, 25, 31. and that from long Fatigue and Grief, or lingering Illneſs, Ver. 14, 15, 17. not even Ver. 2, 4, 5. and I cannot be perſuaded he would uſe any Expreſſion unſuitable to his Condition. The Author of Holy David clear'd, in the Pref. ſays, He choſe to perform his laſt Devotions on the Croſs in the Words of David, rather than his own; what this Writer might have been afraid to think, much more to teach others: he alſo inſtances in Luk. xxiii. 46. from Pſa. xxxi. 5. where Father being our Lord's own Word, overturns his Aſſertion; and I do not find our Tranſlators of that Mind, who render the Expreſſions different, as they are, and therefore not a Form, unleſs from the Seventy, if Chriſt rather choſe their Words than his own.

Ib. Elias] Alludunt iſti (ut ſolent irriſores) ad nomen Eli, non imperitia linguæ, ut nonnulli ſtultè opinati ſunt, ſed quòd profanus & crudelis animus huc eis impelleret, Beza in Annot. i. e. They mock, as Scoffers uſe to do; at the Name Eli, not through Ignorance of the Language, as ſome have fooliſhly thought, but becauſe they were ſet on to it by a profane and cruel Mind.

Ver. 48. running] The Greek ſo abounds with Participles active, that here are four together, n. running, taking, filling and putting; though our Tranſlators have not kept one. Thus there are three in Ch. xiv. 19. & xxvi. 26. with the Parallel of this Mar. xv. 36. Luk. xxiii. 36.

Ib. Vinegar] What an Imagination has J. Weſley here! 'It does not appear, that this was given Him in Deriſion, 'but rather with a friendly Deſign, that he might not 'die before Eliſah came.' Did they then who crucified him, believe that Prophet would come, and ſave him? And did they both endeavour to kill him, and to keep him alive, this being one of them? See alſo Luk. xxiii. 36.

49. And the reſt ſaid, Do thou let alone, let us ſee whether Elias will come to ſave him.

50. But Jeſus cried out again with a loud Voice, and yielded up the Spirit.

51. When behold the Veil of the Temple was divided into two, from Top to Bottom, nay the Earth quaked, and the Rocks were divided.

52. Moreover the Graves were opened, and many Bodies of Saints who ſlept were raiſed up;

53. And coming out of the Graves after his riſing up, went into the holy City, and appeared to many.

54. So that the Centurion, and thoſe with him who kept Jeſus, ſeeing the Earthquake and the Things which were done, were exceedingly afraid, ſaying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55. Many Women too were there, looking far off, who followed Jeſus from Galilee, and miniſtred to him;

56. Among whom was Mary Magdalene, with Mary the Mother of James and Joſes, as alſo the Mother of Zebedee's Sons.

57. And when it was Evening, there came a rich Man from Arimathea, named Joſeph, who was alſo himſelf a Diſciple to Jeſus;

58. He went to Pilate, and aſked for the Body of Jeſus; then Pilate commanded it to be delivered.

59. Thus Joſeph receiving the Body, wrapt it up in clean fine Linen;

60. And laid it in his new Grave, which he had cut out in a Rock; next rolling a great Stone to the Door of the Grave, he went away.

61. Mary Magdalene likewiſe was there, and the other Mary, ſitting over againſt the Sepulchre.

62. And the next Day, which was after the Preparation, the chief Prieſts and Phariſees were gathered together to Pilate,

63. Saying; Lord, we remember, that this Seducer ſaid while alive, Three Days after I ſhall riſe up.

64. Command the Sepulchre therefore to be made faſt till the third Day, leſt his Diſciples coming at any time by Night, ſhould ſteal him away, and ſay to the People, He is riſen up from the Dead; ſo the laſt Error will be worſe than the firſt.

65. And Pilate ſaid to them, You have a Watch; go, make it faſt, as you know how.

66. Accordingly they went, and made the Sepulchre faſt, ſealing the Stone, together with a Watch.

CHAP. XXVIII.

BUT in the Night after the Sabbath, at the dawning to the firſt Day after it, Mary Magdalene came, with the other Mary, to look at the Sepulchre.

2. And behold there had been a great Earthquake: for an Angel of the Lord coming down from Heaven, went thither, and rolled away the Stone from the Door, and ſate upon it.

3. Moreover his Look was as Lightning, and his Raiment as white as Snow:

4. Inſomuch that for Fear of him the Keepers ſhook, and became as if dead.

5. Whereas the Angel ſpoke in this manner to the Women; Do ye not fear; for I know that ye ſeek Jeſus who was crucified.

6. He is not here: for he is riſen up, according as he ſaid; come, ſee the Place where the Lord lay.

7. And going quickly, tell his Diſciples, that he is riſen up from the Dead: behold alſo he goes before you into Galilee, there ye ſhall ſee him; lo I have told you.

Ver. 49. let alone] as Mar. xv. 36. only plur. there.

8. Not more afraid than glad at this, they went out quickly from the Grave, and ran to tell his Diſciples.

9. Now as they were going to tell his Diſciples, behold Jeſus too met them, ſaying, Hail you; whereupon they came near, and took hold of his Feet, and worſhipped him.

10. Then ſays Jeſus to them, Do not fear; go, declare to my Brethren, that they ſhould go away into Galilee, and there ſhall they ſee me.

11. However as they were going, behold ſome of the Watch came into the City, and declared to the chief Prieſts all the Things that were done.

12. Upon which after being gathered together with the Elders, they took Counſel, and gave much Money to the Soldiers,

13. Saying; Tell, His Diſciples came at Night, and ſtole him away when we were aſleep.

14. And if this ſhould be heard by the Governor, we will perſuade him, and make you ſecure.

15. So taking the Money, they did as they were taught; and this Saying has been told about with the Jews till this Day.

16. Thus the eleven Diſciples went into Galilee, to a Mountain where Jeſus appointed them.

17. And on ſeeing him, they worſhipped him; yet ſome doubted.

18. To whom Jeſus came, and ſpoke to them as follows; There is given to me all Authority in Heaven and on Earth.

19. Go therefore, and teach all Nations, baptizing them into the Name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit;

20. Teaching them to keep all Things whatever I have commanded you: and behold I am with you every Day to the End of the World: ſo let it be.

Ver. 8. went out] of the Grave in which they were, Mar. xvi. 5. the very ſame as in Mar. xvi. 8.

Ver. 9. Now as they were going to tell his Diſciples] Mills ſays is of ſome Scholiaſt too careful about the Coherence, Pr. 875. though he thought otherwiſe before, and that of Eraſmus looks better, that it was miſſed as ending like the other before, the very Verb being the ſame.

Ver. 14. heard] ſo the Original.

Ver. 17. doubted] whether he was the very ſame Perſon who was crucified, which ſome not much acquainted with him might among ſo many; and ſo there be no Need to alter the Original into had doubted, as Doddr. propoſes, and renders it ſo.

Ver. 19. therefore] not in about fifty Copies; poſſibly the Vulg. might introduce it for Connection, as doubtleſs it ſwayed Stephens to inſert this when all his 16 MSS. were without it.

Ib. into] the proper Meaning of the Gr. whether Name be taken for Profeſſion or Power as Act. iv. 7.

NOTES

NOTES upon the BOOK of MARK.

CHAP. I.

THE Beginning of the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt, the Son of God:

2. As it is written in the Prophets; Behold I ſend my Meſſenger before thy Face, who ſhall make ready thy Way before thee:

3. There is the Voice of one crying out in the Wilderneſs, Prepare the Way of the Lord, make ſtraight Roads for him.

4. John was baptizing in the Wilderneſs, and preaching the Baptiſm of Repentance for the Forgiveneſs of Sins:

5. And there went out to him all they of the Country of Judea, with thoſe of Jeruſalem; and were all baptized by him in the River Jordan, confeſſing their Sins.

6. Now John was cloathed with Camel's Hair, and a leathern Girdle about his Loins; moreover he did eat Locuſts and wild Honey.

7. He alſo preached as follows; There comes one ſtronger than I after me, the Latchet of whoſe Shoes I am not fit to ſtoop down and undo.

8. I indeed have baptized you with Water; but he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit.

9. In thoſe Days too did Jeſus come from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized by John in Jordan.

10. Then preſently going up from the Water, he ſaw the Heavens parted, and the Spirit as a Dove come down on him.

11. When behold there was a Voice from Heaven, Thou art my beloved Son, with whom I am pleaſed.

12. Moreover the Spirit preſently takes him out into the Wilderneſs.

13. And he was there in the Wilderneſs forty Days, tempted by Satan; as alſo was with wild Beaſts, and Angels miniſtred to him.

14. At length after John was committed to

Tit. Mark] I put the Names of the Writers only for Titles, as to the Books of the Prophets, being ſufficient for Underſtanding and Diſtinction, as well as Quotation; eſpecially ſince more is all human, and may better be ſpared to theſe Sacred Records. Mark, by the beſt Account I find, wrote this about the Year of our preſent Reckoning 63, and as ſome Manuſcripts have it, with Theophylact and Epiphanius, at Rome. That he did not write it as a Compendium of Matthew's, which ſome have thought, I am entirely of the Mind with Mills, having obſerved in tranſlating, what I ſince ſee him producing Inſtances of, that Mark frequently enlarges on Matthew, while he omits divers other Matters. Nor will Mills allow that Mark wrote it in Latin. Though this Evangelical Hiſtory may be counted the leaſt valuable of the four, yet it ſeems the moſt exact and regular; ſince Mark makes Improvements on Matthew, moreover Luke places Things out of Order, as Ham. ſeveral times obſerves, and John does not only write a Sort of an Appendix to the others, but the leaſt grammatically, as it appears, of all the Penmen of the Scripture. This Mark was very probably, and as it is thought, the ſame that is mentioned 1 Pet. v. 13. and ſeems to be he alſo who is named in other Places, viz. Act. xii. 12, 25, & xv. 37, 39. Col. iv. 10. 2 Tim. iv. 11. Phil. xxiv. though rendered by our Tranſlators differently; no Wonder then that he largely heard from the Diſciples, what Jeſus did on Earth; of whom ſee alſo at Act. xiii. 5.

Ver. 2. the Prophets] to wit that of this Ver. in Mal. iii. 1. and of the next in Iſa. xl. 3. but the vulg. Lat. and ſeveral have it Eſaias the Prophet. Mills has a Notion, which he ſeemed fond of, mentioning it ſeveral times, though deſtitute of any Suffrage, as he confeſſes, of Copies or Fathers, that in Mark's Original Writing it was the Prophet, that Eſaias was added after, and theſe again changed to the Prophets; as if Mark did not know he quoted the following from more than one: for the Pretence that by the Prophet was meant the Book of the Prophets ſeems without Foundation, no ſuch Thing appearing to me elſewhere, and the Prophets being thus cited, Luk. xxiv. 44. Joh. vi. 45. Act. xiii. 40. & xxiv. 14. ſee alſo Whitby's Annot.

Ib. before thee] rejected by Mills on the Credit of a few, as it was, I imagine, by Somebody at firſt becauſe in Mal. is me; which has no Validity, however it might ſome Shew, againſt it, thee being neceſſary here by reaſon of thy; for this look Whit. Exam. L. 2.

Ver. 5. were all baptized] The Vulg. and eaſtern Verſions, with a few Copies, have this all to thoſe of Jeruſalem, and ſo Mills did not doubt it was at firſt; but perhaps all being thought needleſs here, was removed: a plainer Reaſon than Mills's to the contrary.

Ver. 7. Two different Specimens of very old Eng. in this and a few other Verſes, may be ſeen in Lewis's Hiſt. p. 16, 30, 31.

Ver. 8. indeed] This, ſays Mills, is Matthew's (viz. added thence by Somebody elſe to Mark) but how did he know that? Surely not by two or three Tranſlators neglecting it, as ours do commonly in other Places.

Ver. 9. was baptized] Ignatius in his Epiſt. to the Epheſians writes, ὃς ἐγεννήθη, καὶ ἐβαπτίσθη, ἵνα τῷ πάθει ὕδωρ καθαρίσῃ. Which Bp. Wake tranſlates, He was born, and baptized, that through his Paſſion (plainer Suffering) he might purifie Water (but better perhaps the Water) and adds into his Tranſ. to the waſhing away of Sin; which ſeems for an Improvement of that in the Office of Baptiſm, didſt ſanctify Water to the myſtical waſhing away of Sin, thus made real; and a Note of Expoſition would have been more candid, and might have been, for John's Baptiſm, as what Chriſt was to fulfil, Mat. iii. 15. & v. 17. and as the ſame Ignatius ſays in another Epiſtle to the Smyrneans, Sect. 1.

Ver. 10. parted] opened but in a few Copies.

Ver. 11. whom] Some have thee, rightly, ſays Mills (after changing his Mind) ſo Luke, an Imitator of Mark, Pr. 1196. but why not Mark as well an Imitator of Matthew, Ch. iii. 17. & xvii. 5? Whitby mentions, not anſwers, this and that at Ver. 5.

Ver. 13. there in the Wilderneſs] 7 leave out there, ſo many the other.

Priſon,

Priſon, Jeſus came into Galilee, preaching the Goſpel of the Kingdom of God,

15. And ſaying, The Time is fulfilled, that the Kingdom of God draws near; repent, and believe in the Goſpel.

16. And he walking by the Sea of Galilee, ſaw Simon, and his Brother Andrew, throwing a Net into the Sea (for they were Fiſhermen)

17. At which Jeſus ſaid to them, Come after me, and I will make you become Fiſhers for Men.

18. So they preſently left their Nets, and followed him.

19. And going on thence a little, he ſaw James of Zebedee, and his Brother John, who were in a Ship mending the Nets;

20. And he preſently called them: when they leaving their Father Zebedee in the Ship, along with thoſe that were hired, went away after him.

21. They go alſo into Capernaum; and preſently on the Sabbaths he entered into the Synagogue, and taught:

22. Inſomuch that they were ſurprized at his Doctrine: for he taught them as having Authority, and not as the Scribes.

23. Beſides there was in their Synagogue a Man with an unclean Spirit, and he cried out,

24. Saying, Let alone, what haſt thou to do with us, Jeſus of Nazareth? Art thou come to deſtroy us? I know who thou art, the Holy One of God.

25. However Jeſus rebuked him thus, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26. Accordingly the unclean Spirit tearing him, and crying aloud, came out of him.

27. And they were all aſtoniſhed, ſo that they queried with themſelves as follows, What is this? What new Doctrine this, that by Authority he even bids the unclean Spirits, and they obey him?

28. Whereupon the Report of him went out preſently into the whole Country about Galilee.

29. And preſently going out of the Synagogue, they came into the Houſe of Simon and Andrew, along with James and John.

30. But Simon's Mother-in-law lay having a Fever, and preſently they tell him concerning her.

31. Upon this he came near, and raiſed her up, taking hold of her Hand, and the Fever left her preſently; inſomuch that ſhe waited on them.

32. And the Evening being come, when the Sun ſet, People brought to him all who were ill, and them in whom the Devil was.

33. Nay the whole City was gathered together to the Door.

34. And he cured many who were ill with various Diſeaſes, and expelled many Devils; beſides he did not ſuffer the Devils to ſpeak, becauſe they knew him.

35. Afterwards at the Morning getting up long within Night, he went out, and away into a deſart Place, and there prayed.

36. Simon likewiſe and thoſe with him followed after him.

37. Whom finding, they ſay to him, All ſeek thee.

38. And he ſays to them, Let us go along into the next Towns, that I may alſo preach there; ſince I came for this.

39. Accordingly he preached in their Synagogues throughout all Galilee, and expelled Devils.

40. And there came to him a Leper, who beſeeching him, kneeled down to him, and ſaid, If thou wilt, thou canſt cleanſe me.

41. Jeſus then being moved with Affection, ſtretched forth the Hand, and touched him, as likewiſe ſays to him, I will; be thou cleanſed.

42. And when he had ſpoken, preſently the Leproſy went away from him, and he was cleanſed.

43. He alſo ſtrictly charging him, preſently ſent him forth;

44. And ſays to him, See thou telleſt Nobody any Thing; but go, ſhew thy ſelf to the

Ver. 16. walking] Some paſſing along, but ſince Mills took no farther Notice of it, why ſhould Whitby in his Anſwer to him; or tell us what we did not want to know, that it is without Difference? While the Brother of this Simon is found with many more (leſt we ſhould underſtand it, ſays Mills, to be Chriſt's) without any Notice from Whitby.

Ver. 21. Sabbaths] plural as Luk. iv. 31. which is the ſame Paſſage. The Geneva Tranſlators, whom the King's followed (but the Biſhops have as here) appear to take the ſing. from Beza, who reckons it apparent that the plur. Num. is put for the ſing. yet renders it plurally there.

Ver. 24. the Holy One of God] I queſtion whether Expoſitors have hit upon, what may notwithſtanding perhaps be allowed the Motive of the wicked Spirit's ſaying this. Addiſon on Milton's Poem in Spectat. 303. obſerves that the Devil there frequently confeſſes God's Omnipotence, as being the only Conſideration which could ſupport his Pride under the Shame of his Defeat; which if juſt, may fitly be applied here: as to the ſaying this Fiend was forced to it; who forced, him ſince Chriſt forbade him?

Ver. 31. raiſed] the Gr. being in this Order.

Ver. 34. to ſpeak] which the Gr. ſignifies rather than ſay, as Weſley has it; but his Note is ſmart and commendable, 'That is, according to Dr. Mead's Hypotheſis '(That the Scriptural Demoniacs were only diſeaſed Per-'ſons) He ſuffered not the Diſeaſes to ſay, that they knew 'him!

Ver. 35. deſart] as Mat. xiv. 13, 15. and rightly.

Ver. 42. when he had ſpoken] being left out, as what might be ſpared, by ſome Tranſcriber or Tranſlator, thence Mills would juſtify the Omiſſion of it.

Ver. 44. any Thing] Some Books wanting this, Mills ſuppoſes it transferred hither from, Ch. vii. 36. where it

Prieſt, and offer for thy Cleanſing the Things which Moſes commanded, for a Teſtimony to them.

45. Who nevertheleſs on going out, began to proclaim it much, and to tell the Matter about, ſo that he could no more openly enter into the City; but was without in deſart Places, and People came to him all round about.

CHAP. II.

NOW he went again into Capernaum in ſome Days, and it was heard that he was in the Houſe.

2. Upon which many were preſently gathered together, ſo that they could be received no more, even not at the Door; and he ſpoke the Word to them.

3. And the People came to him, carrying one who had the Palſy, held up by four.

4. When being not able to get near him by reaſon of the Company, they uncovered the Roof where he was; and pulling it off, let down the Couch on which he that had the Palſy lay.

5. And Jeſus at ſeeing their Faith, ſays to him who had the Palſy, Child, thy Sins are forgiven thee.

6. But there were ſome of the Scribes who ſate there, and reaſoned in their Hearts,

7. Why does he thus ſpeak Blaſphemies? Who can forgive Sins, excepting God only?

8. However Jeſus preſently knew in his Spirit, that they ſo reaſoned in themſelves, and ſaid to them, Why reaſon ye theſe Things in your Hearts?

9. Which is eaſier, to ſay to him who has the Palſy, The Sins are forgiven thee; or to ſay, Ariſe, and take up thy Couch, and walk?

10. But that you may perceive, the Man has Authority to forgive Sins on the Earth (ſays he to him who had the Palſy;)

11. I order thee, Ariſe, and take up thy Couch, and go home.

12. Accordingly he aroſe ſtraightways, and taking up the Couch, went out before them all; ſo that they were all amazed, and did glorify God, ſaying, We have never ſeen ſuch a Thing.

13. Afterwards he went out again by the Sea; and all the Company came to him, and he taught them.

14. Paſſing along alſo, he ſaw Levi of Alpheaus ſitting at the Cuſtom-houſe, and ſays to him, Follow me: ſo he roſe up, and followed him.

15. Moreover when he was ſitting in his Houſe, many Publicans and Sinners ſate down with Jeſus and his Diſciples: for there were many, who followed him.

16. So the Scribes and Phariſees ſeeing him eat with theſe, ſaid to his Diſciples, How is it that he eats and drinks with Publicans and Sinners?

17. Which Jeſus hearing, anſwers them, Such as are in health have no Need of a Phyſician, but thoſe who are ill: I did not come to call the Righteous, but Sinners to Repentance.

18. Next there were the Diſciples of John and of the Phariſees who faſt, and they come, and ſay to him, For what reaſon, when the Diſciples of John and of the Phariſees faſt, do thy Diſciples not faſt?

19. And Jeſus ſaid to them; Can the Sons of the Bride-chamber faſt, while the Bridegroom is with them? As long Time as they have him with them, they cannot faſt.

is but in fewer, i. e. he would have it be there, and not here, juſt contrary to the received Reading; which may be termed playing at croſs Purpoſes indeed!

Ver. 45. much] not in 3 or 4 Tranſ. and Copies together, but not therefore added, as Mills aſſerts, Prol. 410.

Ver. 1. ſome] A very few Latin Books have eight, which Mills however is for, as Mark's own: he ſuppoſes there was ἡ the Numeral for eight before ἡμερῶν Days, and being written cloſe together with the preceding Word, the Scribes thinking ημ ſhould not be together, ejected one; but if thoſe Scribes were ignorant of Greek, how ſhould they think a double Letter wrong, that is ſo frequent? If they underſtood it, they would have known thoſe two Letters were to be diſtinguiſhed, and the Uſe of the former. Beſides both the writing in one continued Word may be doubted, excepting in a few Copies, and alſo the putting numeral Letters for the Words at Length. Rather Somebody fancied, like Mills, there might have been 2 η's inſtead of one, and ſo put eight. If this Manner of Some is not a Hebraiſm, there is the like in Heb. Neh. i. 4. Dan. viii. 27. &c. Whitby only objects Mills's altering his Opinion, which is giving Strength to the latter, as ſuppoſing it better conſidered, inſtead of refuting it.

Ver. 4. get near] In 3 Copies and 4 Verſions, carry (him) to, which with Mills is genuine; but I want ſome Reaſon, and more Strength for it. Whitby anſwers by telling who has ours, yet wrong.

Ver. 7. ſpeak Blaſphemies?] Two or three have it ſpeak? He blaſphemes; but Mills vindicates this to be Mark's own Writing, by Luke's accommodating himſelf uſually to his Speaking (as Ch. v. 21.) and not Matthew's (in Ch. ix. 3.) as he calls him a little further a perpetual Follower of Mark.

Ib. only] One very odd Copy only being without this Word, Mills pronounces it to be put in from Mat. Prol. 410. Who would have been ſo raſh beſides himſelf? But where from Mat. There is no ſuch Thing in the parallel Place, Ch. ix. 3.

Ver. 11. go] the very ſame as in Mat. ix. 6.

Ver. 15. and Sinners] In one Verſion or two only omitted, and yet Mills had a vehement Suſpicion, he ſaid, that it was brought from Ver. 16. when much rather left out here, by ſo few alſo, becauſe twice there ſo near.

Ver. 17. to Repentance] See Mat. ix. 13.

Ver. 18. of the Phariſees] For the firſt ſome have the Phariſees nominatively without of.

20. But

20. But the Days will come when the Bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then ſhall they faſt in thoſe.

21. And none ſews a Patch of freſh Cloth upon an old Garment; for if thus a new Piece of that pulls off ſome of the old, and the Rent is made worſe.

22. None likewiſe puts new Wine into old Bottles; for if thus the new Wine breaks the Bottles, the Wine is ſhed out, and the Bottles will periſh: but new Wine is to be put into new Bottles.

23. He went along too on the Sabbath through the ſtanding Corn, and his Diſciples began to make the Journey with plucking the Ears.

24. With this the Phariſees ſaid to him, Lo why do they on the Sabbath that which is not lawful?

25. And he anſwered them; Have you never read what David himſelf did, when he had Need, and was hungry, and thoſe with him?

26. How he entered into the Houſe of God under Abiathar the high Prieſt, and did eat the Preſence-bread; which it is not lawful to eat, excepting for the Prieſt; and gave alſo to thoſe who were with him?

27. He ſaid further to them; The Sabbath was made for the ſake of Man, not Man for the ſake of the Sabbath.

28. So that the Man is Lord even of the Sabbath.

CHAP. III.

NOW he entered into the Synagogue; where there was a Man had a Hand withered up.

2. So they watched him, whether he would cure him on the Sabbath, that they might accuſe him.

3. Nevertheleſs he ſays to the Man who had the Hand withered up, Get up in the midſt of them.

4. He alſo ſays to them, Is it lawful to do good, or to do evil on the Sabbath? to ſave Life, or to kill? But they were ſilent.

5. When looking about at them with Anger, being ſorrowful at the Hardneſs of their Hearts, he ſays to the Man, Stretch forth thy Hand; which he ſtretching, that was reſtored as ſound as the other.

6. At which the Phariſees went out, and preſently conſulted the Herodians againſt him, how they might deſtroy him.

7. And Jeſus went aſide with his Diſciples to the Sea; and a great Multitude from Galilee followed him, as alſo from Judea;

8. From Jeruſalem too, and from Idumea, and the Side of Jordan, with thoſe about Tyre and Sidon, a great Multitude, hearing how many Things he did, came to him.

9. Upon this he ſaid to his Diſciples, that a little Ship ſhould continue with him, by reaſon of the Company, that they might not throng him.

10. For he cured many; ſo that whoever had Diſtempers preſſed on him, that they might touch him.

11. And unclean Spirits when they ſaw him, fell down to him, and cried out, ſaying, Thou art the Son of God.

12. However he charged them much, that they ſhould not make him manifeſt.

13. Moreover he went up on a Mountain, and called thither whom he himſelf would; whereupon they came to him.

14. And he appointed twelve, that they might be with him, and that he might ſend them to preach;

15. As likewiſe to have Authority to cure Diſeaſes, and to expel Devils:

16. To wit Simon on whom he put the Name Peter,

17. And James of Zebedee, and John the Brother of James (on whom he put the Names Boanerges, that is Sons of Thunder)

18. And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James of Alpheaus, and Thaddeaus, and Simon the Canaanite,

---

Ver. 20. thoſe] Some that Day, not worth our Notice, if it had not Whitby's.

Ver. 22. the new Wine breaks] Mills ſays this new crept in from the former Part of the Verſe; but far leſs likely than for it to be omitted, as it is by a few, becauſe there.

Ib. periſh] better than marred, and as the ſame is Mat. ix. 17.

Ver. 23. He went along too] Mills having found three with again, declares it entirely Mark's, and thinks it expunged by ſome audacious Amender, and ſo omitted by the Scribes, who compoſed themſelves to his Exemplar, that I may give it to the Eng. Reader almoſt in Latin. But is not this imaginary Man the Picture of himſelf, who would thruſt it in with ſo much Confidence? However he may not be ſo lucky with Scribes.

Ib. to make the Journey with plucking] literal.

Ver. 26. under Abiathar] not in the days of; ſee likewiſe Act. 11. 28.

Ib. the high Prieſt] not that he was ſo then, but ſoon after; which Whitby makes much Ado about.

Ver. 28. the Man] Chriſt himſelf, as diſtinguiſhed from Man in the Ver. before.

Ver. 5. as ſound as the other] ſome Manuſcripts and the ancient Verſions in general want, ſo is ſaid by Mills to be from Mat. but Mark uſes rather to add, than ſubſtract ſuch little Things from him. It is given by Whitby as if only ſound was wanting, but his Examen Millii is exceſſively incorrect, even the Edition ſaid to be more correct.

19. And

19. And Judas Iſcariot, who alſo did deliver him up; and they went into a Houſe.

20. Whereupon the Company come together again, ſo that they could not even eat any Victuals.

21. Which thoſe who belonged to him hearing, they went out to take hold of him: for they ſaid, that he was amazed.

22. Nay the Scribes who came down from Jeruſalem ſaid, that he had Beelzebul, and that he expelled Devils by the Prince of them.

23. And he calling them thither, ſaid to them in Similitudes; How can Satan caſt forth Satan?

24. If a Kingdom alſo be divided in it ſelf, that Kingdom cannot ſtand.

25. If a Family likewiſe be divided in it ſelf, that Family cannot ſtand.

26. Thus if Satan riſe up at himſelf, and is divided; he cannot ſtand, but has an End.

27. None can plunder a ſtrong Man's Goods, by entering into his Houſe, except he firſt bind the ſtrong Man; and then he may plunder his Houſe.

28. I ſay to you certainly, that all Sins will be forgiven Mankind, and Blaſphemies whatſoever they ſhall blaſpheme with;

29. Only whoever ſhall blaſpheme againſt the Holy Spirit, has not Forgiveneſs for ever, but is obnoxious to everlaſting Judgment:

30. Becauſe they ſaid, He has an unclean Spirit.

31. Therefore his Brethren and Mother come, and ſtanding without, ſent for him.

32. Now as the Company ſate about him, they ſaid to him, Behold thy Mother and thy Brethren without are ſeeking thee.

33. And he made them anſwer, Who is my Mother, or my Brethren?

34. Beſides looking about at thoſe who ſate around him, he ſaid; Lo my Mother, and my Brethren!

35. For whoever ſhall do the Will of God, that is my Brother, and my Siſter, and Mother.

CHAP. IV.

AND again he began to teach by the Sea: where a great Company was gathered together to him, ſo that he went aboard a Ship, to ſit down on the Sea; at which all the Company was, upon the Land.

2. Whom he taught many Things in Similitudes, and ſaid to them in his Doctrine:

3. Hearken; behold a Sower went forth to ſow.

4. As this was doing, ſome indeed fell by the Way, ſo that the Fowls of the Air came, and eat it up.

5. Other alſo fell in a ſtony Place, where it had not much Earth; and preſently ſprung up, becauſe it had not Depth of Earth.

6. However when the Sun roſe, it was ſcorched; and becauſe it had not Root, it withered.

7. Moreover other fell among Briers; which came up, and choaked it together, ſo that it yielded no Fruit.

8. And other fell into good Land, and yielded Fruit that came up and grew, nay bore one thirty, one ſixty, and one a hundredfold.

9. He further ſaid to them, He that has Ears to hear, let him hear.

10. And when he was alone, thoſe who attended him with the twelve, aſked him of the Similitude.

11. Upon this he ſaid to them; It is given you, to know the Myſtery of the Kingdom of God; but to them without all Things are done in Similitudes:

12. That they may behold ſtill, though they will not clearly ſee, and hear ſtill, though they will not underſtand; leſt they ſhould return at any time, and the Sins be forgiven them.

13. He likewiſe ſays to them: Do ye not know this Similitude? And how will ye know all Similitudes?

Ver. 20. come] plur. in the Gr.

Ver. 21. went out] as the Gr. is, viz. out of the Company, Ver. 20.

Ib. amazed] as Ch. ii. 12. & vi. 51, &c. by being here overhurried.

Ver. 27. a ſtrong Man's Goods] ſo the Greek.

Ver. 29. Judgment] Sin with Some; but though Grotius and Mills think it ſo written by Mark, another may think otherwiſe, and run no great Riſque of being expoſed: as to its being a Hebraiſm, for Sin to ſignify the Puniſhment of Sin; this was Greek, and Puniſhment is different, but Somebody might think ſo oddly before, and thereupon ſubſtituted Sin; ſee alſo Whit. Exam.

Ver. 31. Therefore] then conveys a different temporal Meaning, which the Gr. Particle has not.
